Defense Contends McBee Not Killed at Home

CHAIR AGAIN IS READY FOR HAUPTMANN

TRENTON, N. J., April 3.—Attorney David Wilentz today informed the warden of state prison Bruno Richard Hauptmann must be executed unless the governor grants a reprieve. The Attorney General advised he had informed the governor he was without authority to grant a reprieve. He told the head keeper, however, "if order of reprieve is served upon you by the chief executive it is your duty to execute it without parking stop, but to obey it."

Bitterness in Farewell Note

I feel that I have done my duty to the best of my ability. I am sorry that I have caused so much trouble to my family and my friends. For all your efforts to save my life and see that justice is done I am very grateful. I will always be proud of my country and my God bless you. Respectfully, Bruno Richard Hauptmann

Bitter vindictiveness for his accusers, new protestations of his innocence, and gratitude for Governor Hoffman's intervention in his behalf made a dramatic document of the crudely written "farewell note" which Bruno Richard Hauptmann sent New Jersey's chief executive on the eve of Hauptmann's scheduled execution. Beneath this picture of the Lindbergh baby's slayer in defiant mood is the closing paragraph of his last desperate appeal and farewell.

RANGER BOY HAS BEEN MISSING FROM HOME SINCE WEDNESDAY

Boyd Scott, 14, son of P. R. Scott, Mirror Lake Drive, Ranger, has been missing from his home since 10:30 Wednesday morning, it was revealed today by his father and no word has been heard of him from that time. The boy was at his home Wednesday, and there had never been any trouble between him and his father or any member of the family, the father stated today, and his disappearance is a mystery to the entire family. "We don't know whether he just left home or whether he has met with foul play," Scott said Friday morning, "but if anyone has seen anything of him, or has heard anything about him since Wednesday morning, I would appreciate it if they would let me know."

Renewed Hopes Have Vanished Again

Oscar White and Raymond Henry. White testified he saw a car about 70 yards from his home which was further developed by defense counsel Friday.

WITNESS TELLS OF A FIGHT ON MAY 1, 1933

Oscar White Tells of Hearing Man Say He Was Stabbed With a Knife.

Raymond Henry took the stand in his own defense late today and denied that he was present at the McBee home on the night of May 1, 1933, or that he had any knowledge of the crime. He stated from the stand that he was entirely innocent of any of the charges made against him.

The theory that H. L. McBee did not die at his home and Raymond Henry was not the slayer as charged by the state in the "hanging skeleton" trial at Eastland was further developed by defense counsel Friday.

Proceedings in the case were enlivened by a brief encounter between a state and defense witness outside the courtroom. M. E. "Sandy" Tyler and Dick Brown, a defense witness, were separated by A. D. McFarlane in the court hall after an exchange of blows, the latter reported.

Oscar White of near Rising Star described to a jury, over the protest of the prosecution, of events in front of his home May 1, 1933, the night on which the state contends and witnesses have testified Raymond Henry declared he inflicted stab wounds fatal to McBee.

Hearing a commotion, White testified he saw a car about 70 yards from his home which was further developed by defense counsel Friday.

White heard the baby's cry as he stepped from his home, he testified. A man's voice was heard in protest of the baby's cry and later was quiet after the woman addressed the person whom White indicated was her husband.

"You're a hell of a daddy," White quoted the woman as protesting to her husband. "Three men surged out before the lights."

White stated one man said, "You've wrecked my home." White stated he heard "moans and licks" and the car drove away. One person cried out to the departing group: "I never will be out with you again," White quoted the man.

"You stuck that knife in me two times," the man left behind told the road, White said he overheard the man as he stood on his porch. The car came back and picked up the man who exclaimed he was knifed.

"Shut your mouth and we'll get some whiskey before we get to town," the injured man was told, White testified. White said in his best judgment he recognized one of the voices at a later date as that of M. E. "Sandy" Tyler, whom the defense has by implication made accessory in the case.

This further developed the defense's theory that McBee left his home early Monday morning, obtained whiskey and was killed by another party than those charged by the state. The fight related by White was testified as occurring about 9:30 p. m., Monday, May 1, 1933.

A co-defendant in the case and a man charged as an accessory in the case delivered testimony for the record with the jury withdrawn earlier. The court held Della Henry, 28, former wife of McBee and co-defendant in the case, and Lynn Smith, 29, charged as accessory, were not competent witnesses because of their charges in the defendant's litigation.

The testimony of Mrs. Henry and Smith was allowed for incorporation in the defense's bill of exception. Mrs. Henry, who has been at her husband's side throughout the case, testified McBee was not at home (Continued on page 2)

STATE PRISON, Trenton, N. J., April 3.—Bruno Hauptmann prepared himself to die in the electric chair tonight at 8 p. m.

TRENTON, N. J., April 3.—Prosecutor Anthony Hauck of Hunterdon county today refused to take action against Paul Wendell because of his confession that he committed the Lindbergh baby slaying.

TRENTON, N. J., April 3.—The electric chair was made ready for Bruno Hauptmann again today.

Hauptmann's reserve of good will began running low at midday when the Mercer county grand jury recessed without taking any action in the case of Paul Wendell, whose repudiated confession caused Kimberling to postpone the execution last Tuesday.

Allene Freeman, foreman of the jury, told Kimberling this morning that the jury had no reason for sitting further delay.

Kimberling then went to Erwin S. A. F. county, after talking with him for April 2, the head keeper announced he would go ahead with plans for execution, but would check with Attorney General David Ladd.

Although Wilentz is this state's chief legal authority, his word may not be enough to send Hauptmann to the chair. Wilentz told Gov. Harold Hoffman are hit political enemies. Hoffman wants to save Hauptmann and Wilentz wants him to be killed.

The governor may again inject himself into the case at the last minute. Observers believed that an event of a disagreement Kimberling would follow Hoffman's instructions against Wilentz's. C. Lloyd Fisher, counsel for Hauptmann, today sent a telegram to Justice Thomas W. Trechard commanding submission of the Wendell case to the Hunterdon county grand jury in a last move to save his condemned man.

The government determined to go ahead with the meeting, despite German protests. A joint defensive plan for air, sea and land action is to be worked out.

Britain made a reservation in arranging the meeting, that no political aspects must arise and the staff shall consider only technical military matters, specified on a program drawn up in advance and approved by the cabinet.

Germany Again Proves Value of U. S. Vote

A great many bowls of soup have been slid across the counter since this country began feeding its depression victims. Billions of dollars have been spent to keep people from starvation. But somehow, with all this, we do not seem to have come very much closer to a realization of our common brotherhood.

Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen of New York touched on this point very sensibly in a recent Lenten sermon in the Metropolis.

To him the dismaying thing about our relief expenditures has been the fact that men are being urged to care for the poor, not for the salvation of their souls, but "in order to save their hides."

"In England," he remarked, "you hear frequently the admonition to support the unemployed classes to ward off a revolution which would be disastrous to the affluent. And the same philosophy is heard increasingly in America. No word is spoken about man's responsibility to man, nor about the solidarity of society under God."

In other words, our relief work represents a policy of applied selfishness rather than one of brotherly compassion. Give the jobless man a bowl of soup—not because he is your brother man, and is suffering in a way to touch your heart, but because, if he goes hungry too long, he is apt to get up on his hind legs and start smashing things; that seems to be the theory on which it works.

All this may make little difference to the man who is on relief. A bowl of soup probably tastes about the same when it is given because of fear as it does when a genuine feeling of social responsibility prompts the gift. It is the giver who suffers.

For this kind of, giving—life insurance giving, you might call it—is merely a reflection of a society which somehow has managed to mislay its soul. The decade of the '20s was a time of out-and-out materialism. Its watchword was the traditional jibe of the hungry sailor at the mess kit—"Blow you, Jack, I got mine."

Good things don't come out of an atmosphere such as that. As Monsignor Sheen pointed out, in that era it was only natural that "the wealthy should exploit the masses, and that communistic governments should attempt to remedy the maldistribution of wealth under capitalism by taking away wealth from everybody."

The depression ought to have been enough to jar us loose from that materialistic outlook. It should have brought us to the joint where we would help our brother man because he is our brother man, and not because we are afraid of what he may do if we don't help him.

Until we do in fact get to that point, we shan't be able to say that we have recovered from the blighting psychology of the boom era.

Europe might consider the use of cellophane in which cigarettes and gum are wrapped, in drawing up new treaties.

WHAT'S IN A ROSE? To know what's in a rose is to know God. For some the roses seemingly bloom merely to show their petals to an inorganic lifeless world. To others they scatter the gloom and erase the park shadows to let in the sunshine. Roses must be beautiful for they are God's great handiwork. They are received as an expression of love at birth and at death they cover the clay mound. Through hours of distress and trouble they are handed as a token of cheer. They speak. They are priceless. What do we see in rose? We see love, beauty, friendship, and all the bondless qualities which cheer and revive. We never look upon a rose without pondering the thought of its existence. One morning last week one of my students approached me while I was busy about my duty getting ready for opening exercises. This student remarked, "Here is a bouquet for you." Will such a gift die in my memory? No, shall survive above the thoughts of wealth. It shall have an eternal existence in my treasure chest of memory.

Let us scatter life's pathway with roses which bloom into cheer and hope. Let us give our roses now and do not wait to plant them on the lifeless mound. LITERARY NEWS Our school will present on Friday night, April 3, a two-act comedy entitled "An Awful Aunt." This play contains humor. Also teaches a moral. All are cordially invited. We would appreciate it if there are those in the community who desire to render special numbers on this occasion to come prepared. There will be space for special songs, or any other number which you may desire to render.

TO PATRONS We have informed all that we have been able to see about the government singing school, which is to be in progress in the near future. This singing school will cost you nothing except your attention.

This is an opportunity that the community cannot afford not to take advantage of. This school is to be conducted by J. F. Connell and Mrs. Florence Bundick, both of Ranger, who are both competent and efficient music teachers. Mr. Connell has offered us the school as a special favor. Other communities are desiring this opportunity and his services but he promised us this school several months back, providing he had time.

Now is your opportunity to build a community singing class and to reestablish a community center. I would like to add, if you desire this school you must express a definite interest for the government requires an attendance of 20 adults in order that classes can continue. The classes will be conducted two hours meeting one night out of each week.

Let's all get in the harness and put this thing over. ORIGIN OF APRIL FOOL Various explanations have been given for the origin of April Fool. However, they all seem to lack the stamp of authenticity. The most convincing theory is the one which gives its birthplace in France. The French, who used the Gregorian calendar, were accustomed to formal visits to friends on April 1 of this calendar. When the calendar was changed, these visits took place on Jan. 1. Mock visits, however, continued to be paid on April 1, especially on persons who might forget the new status of things. The French term for this sort of person is "poisson d'Auril," meaning an "April fish"—possibly the forerunner of the "poor fish" of modern lingo.

Since nobody knows exactly what seems as good an explanation as any. Anyway, for centuries throughout Christendom, this day has been the accepted time to play irresponsible tricks on one's neighbors.

exchanged between his father and Henry or between the former and Crosswhite. Crosswhite has testified he left the residence when he observed Henry and Mrs. McBee displaying affections behind her husband's back. The deceased's son stated Crosswhite and Henry left at the same time, Crosswhite testified for Henry and later his helper ran from the McBee residence with an ice-pick in his hand, his eyes "kind of glassy."

The young witness corroborated testimony of Raymond Brookshire, asphalt gang foreman at Rising Star for the highway department in 1933, when he said Brookshire came to the McBee residence May 1, 1933, and his father signed a paper on the fender of Brookshire's automobile.

While at the McBee residence, Crosswhite obtained a "rheumatism belt," Billy Ray testified. He said his mother handed Crosswhite the belt. While Mrs. McBee dressed in another room of the house, Crosswhite and Henry stood outside, Billy Ray answered Special Prosecutor Allen D. Dalbey.

The family ate breakfast as usual that morning, the witness continued. He said after the father left that morning his mother directed him to inquire if any town residents had seen McBee. None had seen his father, Billy Ray said he told Mrs. McBee after making inquiries.

The 12-year-old daughter and 11-year-old son of H. L. McBee for whose alleged murder Raymond Henry, 25, is on trial at Eastland, told jurors the last times they saw their father Thursday afternoon. His voice barely audible, Billy Ray McBee was transferred from the witness stand to a standing position in front of the jurors after Judge B. W. Patterson was informed the group experienced difficulty in hearing the youthful witnesses.

Billy Ray declared his father was home all-day Sunday and his disappearance was Monday morning May 1, 1933, the date which the state alleges Henry inflicted fatal stab wounds.

He testified T. R. Crosswhite and Henry were at the McBee residence early Monday morning before the family had risen. They were all in bed, Billy Ray told the jurors. He said no hard words were

Henry did not visit his mother on the day of McBee's disappearance, Billy Ray answered for the state. Skeleton Case

Lynn Smith he was home with his family Monday, May 1, 1933. Testimony of Fenwick and Tyler has been introduced by the state to show Lynn was present at the death of McBee and aided a group in the burial and exhumation.

Ray Smith, brother of Lynn and Jack, 40, also a defendant in the case who was adjudged a suicide after he slashed his throat in the county jail recently, stated he was at Rising Star May 1 and 2. He said his brothers were at home on those days.

Roy asserted he took the McBee children to their mother after Lynn was requested to go to Tyler's home and carry Mrs. Tyler to Mrs. McBee, who was ill. Smith said he took the children to their mother's home and remained there until sundown. Pete Fenwick and Terry Clark, who the witness stated were at the McBee residence that afternoon, left before his departure, the witness testified.

He declared only Mrs. McBee and her children were at home when he departed. Mrs. McBee informed him "My husband went off this morning and didn't leave any groceries," the defense witness quoted the present Mrs. Henry.

Smith could not approximate the number of times he has been indicted, after the state queried him. Mrs. Boss Terrell, reporter for 91st district court, was on the stand for the defense and testified the following in regard to taking of statements from Pete Fenwick for Frank Sparks, attorney for Mrs. Henry, and Frank Jenkins, attorney for Lynn Smith: (The witness stated this was Feb. 28, the day when a habeas corpus hearing was held for the Henrys).

Fenwick said he did not know who killed McBee. That he denied knowledge of Henry telling him he killed Mc-

Be. This was all in contrast to Fenwick's testimony for the state. The statements were not sworn to her, Mrs. Terrell testified. Dick Brown, Rising Star public weigher, said Pete Fenwick told him once, "I don't see how they can ever pin anything on Raymond (Henry) as he is innocent as he can be."

Jenkins and Sparks testified they had difficulty in talking to Fenwick until Judge George L. Davenport instructed officers at a habeas corpus hearing that attorneys have legal rights to converse with witnesses, either defense or prosecution. The 12-year-old daughter and 11-year-old son of H. L. McBee for whose alleged murder Raymond Henry, 25, is on trial at Eastland, told jurors the last times they saw their father Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bragg and son, Charles, went to De Leon Wednesday to be with his mother, Mrs. Greer, who was seriously ill and who passed away Saturday night.

Some of the Desdemona friends placed the name of Miss Virginia

Mrs. C. A. Skipping talked on "The Houston Family in Texas," Mrs. Clarence Jones and two children who formerly lived here but now live at Oliver Springs were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Key drove to Eastland on business Monday.

A large number of school children went to Cisco Thursday night to the county choral club contest. They were accompanied by Messrs. Moore and Preston Sparks, and Mrs. Mmes. Willis Mathis, Howard Williams, O. A. Brightwell, A. C. Moore and Preston Sparks, and Mrs. Mmes. W. H. Powers, Hugh Abel, Horace Lane, Lee Dabney, Horace Lane and Misses Johnnie Buchan, Alberta Martin, Ruby Mae Harbin and Delia Wall. While our singers did not win any of the honors we feel proud of them and are sure that Miss Wall who teaches public school music here has done good work.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Baptist church over the remains of Millard Franklin Rushing who had passed away Saturday night at his home near Richland Springs after having been in rather bad health for some time, though able to be up until the day before his death. The services were conducted by Rev. Ramsey, present pastor of the Richland Springs Baptist church, and Rev. Hunt, a former pastor, who gave the funeral oration and paid a splendid tribute to the upright life of the deceased, a man whose influence will live on through years to come. The floral offerings were numerous and very beautiful and were tokens of the love and respect of the many relatives and friends of the deceased.

At the time of his death Millard Rushing was 51 years of age, had been born in Mason county, but at the age of 2 years came with his parents to Desdemona where he lived until grown. He was converted and joined the Baptist church when 12 years old. He is survived by his wife and four children, one brother, Roy Rushing, who recently moved from Desdemona to Freer, one sister and half brother, besides many nieces and nephews and other relatives to all of whom sincere sympathy is being extended by their hosts of friends. The Desdemona Masonic lodge assisted by the Ranger lodge conducted the services at the grave. Two nephews, our townsmen, J. H. Rushing Jr., and Weldon Rushing, with four other nephews served as pall bearers.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sloan of Stephenville came over on business and also to visit old friends Tuesday.

Mrs. J. E. Heeter and Miss Boyd Crenshaw drove up to Ranger Friday.

Miss Joe Caille Crenshaw and Miss Blanche Rouse attended the singing convention at Cisco Sunday afternoon.

G. N. Grice of Stephenville was among the number of friends who came over Monday to the funeral of Millard Rushing.

The meeting of the Methodist Missionary Society was postponed from Monday until Wednesday on account of the funeral of Millard Rushing held at the Baptist church here and the funeral of Miss Greer at De Leon as Mrs. Greer was the mother-in-law of Mrs. O. O. Bragg, vice president of the Missionary Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rushing who recently moved to Freer came over Monday to attend the funeral of his only brother, Millard Rushing. They remained for a short visit with their relatives and many friends who extended sincere sympathy to them.

COUNTRY DOCTOR PRESENTS DIONNE QUINTS AS DRAMA FILM STARS

The picture that is the entertainment scoop of the year, Darryl F. Zanuck makes movie stars of the rank of the world's front darlings, as he presents the quintuplets in their first length feature, "The Country Doctor," which comes Sunday to the Grand Theatre.

Based from an original story by E. Blake, Chicago newspaperman, "The Country Doctor" is a drama in the life and conflict that a physician wages in the Canadian wilderness in his unselfish work. It is a story with romance, brightly alive with delightful humorous touches, with the antics, the crown and the play of the world's famous babies.

Herholt, beloved character in the doctor of the picture, a self-sacrificing physician fights pain and ill in a Canadian fur-trading post with inadequate equipment. Because his nephew, Michael Lang, persists in his love for the doctor's daughter, the post's manager, because Herholt tactfully attempts to get what he needed supplies for the post, he incurs the displeasure of the company powers. With regard for his record or heroism, the post manager ousts him from his position.

is broken and dispirited when he is called to attend John Qualifer and goes to her, never realizing the phenomenon he is to witness. In a sequence which is the highspot of the picture, the five babies are brought to the post, and the doctor begins the long and arduous task of keeping them alive.

The film nears its close, we see the fame and rewards that are bestowed on the happy doctor as he charges prosper and grows to the height of his happiness, but manager relents and gives him the romance of the picture, and Miss Lang.

screen story of the picture, it was directed by Henry King, written by Sonya Levien. And extension Summerville, Dorothy Peterson and Robert Barratt, as members of the all-star cast, occupy the Southern roles.

Accidents Studied As a Safety Aid

MARTINEZ, Cal.—School and safety authorities here have adopted a school safety program which they hope to make a model for adoption in schools throughout the entire United States. The program adopted covers six phases as follows:

- First: Students must bring into class newspaper clippings of all automobile accidents.
Second: Class discussions will analyze the accident and decide the cause; whether through drunken driving, slippery streets, faulty mechanism, etc.
Third: Students then will decide what steps could have been or should have been taken to prevent the accident.
Fourth: Injuries resulting from the accident will be listed and the proper first aid or emergency treatment decided upon.
Fifth: The situation will then be analyzed to decide what laws and traffic regulations were involved and whether new ones are needed.
Sixth: A study will be made of local conditions, listing all hazards and deciding how such hazards can be overcome.

Yale Glee Club to Make European Tour

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — The Yale Glee Club will make a European tour this summer and will give concerts consisting chiefly of American folk music in seven countries.

Sixty men will make the trip, which will last three weeks and will include concerts in France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Norway, and Sweden. The concerts will be sponsored by the American ambassadors in the countries visited.

Toledo City Manager Holds Three Offices

TOLEDO.—John N. Edy, Toledo's first city manager, who previously said he would act as finance director, has assumed the office of safety director, replacing a resigned official. In addition, Edy said he would "have no use" for a $3,900-a-year secretary, but might use an executive assistant at a smaller salary. He may name a safety director, but will serve himself, temporarily.

At a recent Los Angeles dance, free operations were offered as prizes. Wonder what the manager got in the way of a cut?

Four Objectives Guide TVA Along A 650-Mile Front

By United Press KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—The TVA program is advancing toward these four objectives:

- 1. To bring the Tennessee River and its tributaries under unified control through construction of six huge dams in addition to the original wartime Wilson Dam, to provide flood control, a navigable channel from Paducah to Knoxville and to generate electrical energy from the water resources. 2. To finance this program by sale of surplus power created by flood control and navigation dams to the greatest number of people, incidentally establishing a "yard-stick" by which the new deal can measure the actual cost of creation and distribution of electrical energy. 3. To provide for the national defense by maintaining the huge nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals in standby condition, ready to provide essential ingredients for munitions in case of war emergency. 4. To halt soil erosion which is devastating the once fertile hills of the valley; to develop facilities for cheap production and distribution of mineral fertilizers—soil food essential to reclaim hundreds of acres already depleted to the sub-marginal stage.

Undismayed by the monumental proportions of the task, an army of 12,750 workers actively is carrying the program toward these objectives along the 650-mile front of the New Deal's most gigantic enterprise.

Coronation Style May Revive Fad For Long Tresses

LONDON—London hairdressers are anticipating a new fad for long hair, particularly among young peeresses who will attend the coronation of King Edward VIII in Westminster Hall next year. The farewell to bobbed hair will be more of a necessity than conformity with a new fashion mode, they explain, for the coronets which must be worn at the crowning of a new monarch are not adapted to bobbed hair. The coronets, costing $90 and $100, rest on top of coiled-up hair.

OLDEN

Funeral services for Robert D. Sellers, who died early Saturday morning, were held Saturday afternoon at 8 p. m. at the Eastland Church of Christ. Interment was in the Eastland cemetery. Mr. Sellers was 59 years of age at the time of his death. He had been a resident of Eastland county for 30 years and had a host of friends in this section, who sympathize with his survivors because of his passing. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sellers, two sons, Owen and Bob, and their families, all of Olden.

AS A TEXAN, WHAT WOULD YOU SAY?

This Picture Tells the Story of the Massacre at Goliad, March 27, 1836. Col. James W. Fannin, with 371 Texans, surrendered to the Mexican army after a two-day fight on Cojedo Creek. The Texans were marched back to Goliad, where they were treacherously shot down en masse. Only 29 of the 371 escaped. If you had been one of these Texans what would you have said when told you were to be shot? See the small sketch to the right.

Last Week Night Revival Service to Be Held Tonight

We had another good service last night at the co-operative revival. Rev. H. B. Johnson preached a very helpful sermon. He used as a text: "And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain; and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying." The Sermon on the Mount was the basis of the message. He drew upon his own experience for many incidents which illustrated and enforced the vital truths of this immortal document. The service was enjoyed by all present.

Tonight is the last week night service of the meeting. We are hoping we may have a large crowd to climax this series of meetings that we believe has done lots of good. If you can possibly come, be there tonight. Of course the last service will be Sunday night. This is the last week night service. The prayer meetings start at 7 o'clock. Preaching at 7:30. A hearty welcome to all.

Origin of Many American Words Has Been Traced

CHICAGO.—A scholarly man with a Van Dyke beard has thumbed through many stacks of ancient manuscripts in search of a word. But Sir William Craigie isn't a man to give up quickly, and that's lucky. Sometimes it took a long time to find the word he wanted. It seemed as if one word led to another.

But now after 10 years the first section of his "Historical Dictionary of American English" is to be published and he feels he has a fair command of the "language."

For instance, "whoopee" is no babe in arms. It was in common use in England during the 15th century. "O. K." isn't quite as bad. The Boston Transcript used it first in 1840 as a term of political opprobrium. It took its present meaning the same year.

Davy Crockett was the first to use "blizzard" in the early 1800s. He used it to mean a rain of blows in the face. It was first used to designate a snowstorm in March, 1870.

The word "skiddaddie" came into being during the Civil War.

From other heaps of manuscripts came these:

Up until about 1800 the word "biscuit" meant any small piece of hard-cooked dough. Later, it came to mean soft-baked bread, and the term "hard biscuit" was coined to take its place.

"Lumber in England means rubbish," said Sir William, "but in America it means timber."

"Canoe," the dictionary makers found, was picked up by Spaniards from the Caribs, taken to Spain then to France and from there brought to America.

"Bakery" first was mentioned by English travelers in this country in 1800. This word, of purely American origin, was taken back to England, where it is now in general use.

Settlers in Oregon said they were "going back to America," when they meant returning to states east of the Mississippi. The incorrect use of "American" as applying to the United States, Sir William said, was due to inability to create an adjective from "United States."

"Some expressions, born in the new country, have since died and been buried," the professor said. "You never hear anyone refer to the protective tariff as the 'American System.' This expression was widely used between 1824 and 1850."

More than 4,000 volumes have been read by the hunters, and some 400,000 quotations collected, although only one letter of the dictionary has been completed. Sir William was knighted for his work as editor of the Oxford historical dictionary, which required nearly 50 years to produce.

Rev. Hugh Blair to Preach Here Sunday

EDMONTON, Alta. — Canada's military defense equipment is a "disgrace" to the country, Lieut. Col. H. F. Murdock, newly-elected president of the Canadian Infantry association, believes. The Dominion's defense, he said in an interview here, is in the "how and arrow" stage compared with that of other nations.

Eastern Visitors May See Cowboys At The Centennial

DALLAS.—Visitors from the east to whom Texas means cowboys will be able to see two of the nation's foremost rodeos at the Texas Centennial Exposition this summer.

W. A. Webb, general manager of the $25,000,000 world's fair, has announced contracts had been signed with both Col. W. T. Johnson's world championship professional rodeo and with the Stamford, Texas, Cowboy Reunion. Both will perform in the Cotton Bowl.

Col. Johnson's big show, the most famous in the world, is the rodeo that plays annually in Madison Square Garden in New York city.

It will perform daily from June

6 through June 21, and again twice daily from Sept. 8 through Sept. 15. At least 20 performances will be given during June, and perhaps more.

The seventh annual Cowboy Reunion will be held as usual at Stamford, July 2-4, then in August the reunion will be held for the first time away from the city of its origin. It will be at the Dallas world's fair from Aug. 1 through Aug. 9. One hundred performers and 100 cowboys and cowgirls off the ranges of West Texas will participate.

Col. Johnson has contracted to bring to the exposition during his two engagements at least 100 parade horses, 100 bucking horses, 50 Brahma bulls, 50 steers for bulldozing, 50 Brahma roping calves, 25 wild Brahma cows and calves for the wild cow milking contests, a chuck wagon and cowboys for a "Going back to Texas" act and "high school-educated" horses, in addition to more than 200 performers.

Water Testers, Cats And Fish Work for The City Of Paris

PARIS.—There are many unusual workers on the payroll of Paris. Take, for instance, the profession of water-taster.

Paris employs a considerable staff of water-tasters, and they work on a 24-hour basis. Night and day their job is to taste the water to make sure that the chloride used to purify it hasn't left any sign of its passage.

They do their tasting, not at the main Montsouris reservoir, but at the Porte d'Arcueil, where all the Paris aqueducts come together before being emptied into the common reservoir. Each separate stream is tasted once every hour, and if the taster detects any suspicious taste or odor, he telephones the chemical bureau, and on its order that particular aqueduct is cut off while the chemists analyze a sample of the water.

They also analyze samples even when there is no foreign taste, for each time the water-taster performs his duty, he takes a sample and sends it to the laboratories, which thus keep a check on the efficiency of the human sense of taste.

In the case of water-tasters, that sense is nearly infallible. They don't get the job until extensive tests, in some of which the chemists have prepared traps for the cheaters, have demonstrated that their palate for water is of the delicatest.

Among the queer fish employed by the city, also to detect the presence of chloride in the water, are what the water department calls the "truites-temoins"—the witness trout. The city water passes through their aquarium, and as trout are particularly sensitive to chloride, they serve, often at the cost of their own lives, as a check on the water-tasters.

But if they risk death in the municipal service, they are compensated for the risk by good food and easy living. The water department gets them from the Trocadero aquarium when they are young and frisky, and feeds them so generously that they quickly become large. When they reach that stage, they are shipped back to the department.
