EXTENT OF NEW DEAL POLICY IS SPECULATED

By United Press
President Roosevelt prepared for a fishing holiday today as the nation speculated on the extent to which he might accept Tuesday's political explosion as a mandate to adopt more liberal or radical policies.

Roosevelt is in command of the mightiest political army ever mobilized in this country. They invaded the polls, disregarding the advice of most of the nation's newspapers, ignoring the warning of Governor Landon, and refused to believe Mr. Roosevelt had failed to do as well as he could.

The President won 523 electoral votes, Landon 8. The President's plurality promises to exceed 10,000,000.

Tabulations by the United Press so far show Roosevelt 25,208,198, Landon 15,496,500, Lemke 568,660.

Democrats probably have increased their Senate strength from 70 to 74 votes, with a guarantee of control for several elections to come. In the House of Representatives the Administration will have a majority probably larger than the 200 rolled up in the election of 1934.

Monetary, relief, foreign affairs and other problems await immediate Presidential and Congressional attention.

Overshadowing these and other issues likely to arise in 1937 is the question raised by the New Deal that of proper division of authority and how the President intends to accelerate the pace of a "horse and buggy" supreme court.

There is speculation about cabinet changes. But the issue most clearly drawn between the President and his opponents in his first term dealt with New Deal efforts to stretch the Constitution.

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 1 p. m. from 219 of 254 counties, 47 complete, show the following totals on Tuesday's general election:

President: Landon 58,067, Lemke 1,359, Roosevelt 432,426, and Thomas 492.

Jazzing Up Her Career

"I can sing hot, too," was the deft of Mary Lewis, opera star, as she made her debut in a New York night club in her own interpretations of popular songs. Her audience agreed that she could indeed rival the torchiest of the torch singers.

Meroney is Given 'Bouquet' By the Lions Club Today

J. E. Meroney, secretary of the Lions club, was presented with a "beautiful" floral offering today at the regular meeting of the Lions club, by A. N. Larson.

The card accompanying the floral offering was signed by Gov. Alf M. Landon, recently defeated candidate for the presidency, and stated that the offering was in appreciation for services rendered to the dear old party.

The bouquet consisted of some frost-bitten sunflowers, thistles and maithe heads. Lion Larson stated that he judged that the thistles represented Al Smith and the maize heads the Jeffersonian Democrats.

In presenting the offering Lion Larson waved eloquently and the members enjoyed Meroney's embarrassment as he received the token from his dying party.

Chairman Logsdon was program chairman for today's meeting, and stated that he was absent from the club last week and had not prepared any program, but he took up the time allotted to him by telling of a trip he took last summer into Colorado and New Mexico.

Especially interesting was the story he told of attending a real Navajo Indian snake dance on the Indian Reservation of New Mexico.

President Kelly presided at the meeting today and expressed his appreciation for another 100 per cent attendance. Lion C. J. Moore will have charge of the program for next week, and Lion Saule Perlestein for the week following.

SEA STRIKE IS STILL HALTING MUCH INDUSTRY

By United Press
HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 5.—W. B. Follotte, Seaman strike leader, boarded a plane here today for New York City where he will represent his group in strike negotiations with shippers.

A police guard kept watch as the unofficial "sit down" strike of the rank and file of the international seamen's union began its sixth day.

The maritime situation elsewhere showed: Washington.—President Roosevelt returns to Washington tomorrow to be on hand during the critical industrial situation, indicating increased federal pressure to settle the strike.

New York.—Sympathy strike turns into a life and death struggle between the seamen's union and insurgent membership who criticize a secret agreement concluded with ship owners.

San Francisco.—The maritime strike dealt blows to western industry as peace waves fall 80,000 are jobless and factories closed because of shipping stagnation.

New Orleans.—Police intervene in the longshoremen's strike, rounding up strikers while the seamen's union put strike-breaking crews on ships.

Young and Hodges Oak Park Play to A Scoreless Tie

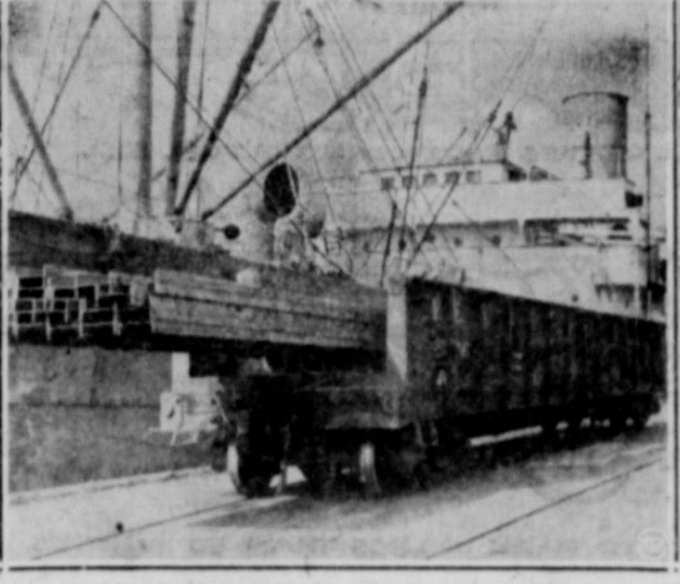

Hodges Oak Park and the Young School Youngmens played to a 0-0 tie at Bulldog Stadium Wednesday afternoon before a good sized crowd. The proceeds from the game went to help pay for uniforms for the Ranger Band.

Hodges Oak Park and Young schools have been evenly matched all season, both teams having a good record and have been waging a nip-and-tuck battle for the conference lead.

No report had been made this morning as to the amount of money received from the game.

Ciano's Salute—Mussolini Style
The Mussolini "snap" with which Count Galeazzo Ciano, above, swung his arm upward in the Fascist salute gave German officials at Berlin cause to wonder if Ciano really is being groomed to succeed his father-in-law as dictator of Italy. Ciano, brilliant young statesman who wed Mussolini's daughter, is shown visiting the German war memorial after concluding, with Adolf Hitler, an agreement calling for a common policy for Italy and Germany in European affairs.

Striking Scenes of Idleness in Maritime Walkout

While the man power to get cargo aboard and put ships to sea idly loafed around the docks on-picket duty, Pacific coast shipping was at a standstill following the strike of 37,000 longshoremen and sailors. Pictured (below) are strikers sitting on the dock edge at San Pedro harbor while union officials try to iron out the dispute with ship owners; and (top) a half unloaded freight car beside one of the hundreds of tied-up ships.

TYLER, Nov. 5.—Explosion of gas from a small heater was blamed today for the death of L. H. Gray, East Texas oil operator. Gray died in a hospital last night of burns. A negro porter who struck a match to light the stove also was burned seriously.

Girl Tells About Enjoyment From New Clothes Closet

"I enjoy taking care of my clothes since I have a closet in my room," says Johnnie Nix, wardrobe co-operator of the Girls 4-H club at Morton Valley. "I had to share my mother's closet which was in her room. Our rooms were adjoining, and the closet was on the side between the two rooms. We moved one end of the closet nearer the center, and a door was put in my closet. This was possible because the original closet was very large. A door that we could use was found at home. Shelves were built at the ends and top for storage space. A rod for hanging clothes was placed high enough to keep the dresses from touching the shoe rack. All the woodwork was painted. The total cost of my closet was about $1.00, but I feel like it is worth much more than that to me."

"From my club work I have learned how to make a silk dress," says Verda Jean Spurlen, wardrobe demonstrator of the girls 4-H club at Olden. "I had such good luck with my club dress that I thought I could make a silk dress, using the same pattern. I bought three yards of navy blue crepe and one-half yard of blue dotted crepe for trimming."

"As the material travelled I overcast the plain seams. The sleeves we made three-quarter length. By making my own clothes it will give my mother more time for other things."

"The total cost of my dress was $1.65."

Rose Culture Grows Rapidly in Texas

FORT WORTH.—Good soil and long growing season give Texas a beginning for dominance of America's rose industry, according to Dr. J. Horace McFarland, Erieburg, Pa., fancier. McFarland, editor of the "American Rose Annual," was a principal speaker at the recent national convention of the American Rose Society.

Between five and six million rose plants are grown in Texas now, McFarland said. "The state's long growing season could make it dominant in the rose industry," horticulturist advocated rose plants for every home in the state to add cheer—and make youngsters beautiful.

L. & A. TRAINS ON SCHEDULE IN LOUISIANA

By United Press
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—Passenger trains of the L. & A. railroad completed their north and south runs across a heavily guarded right-of-way without incident today.

Strike sympathizers who have beset the line with attacks for six weeks, made no appearance. Tuesday night one man was killed and two wounded when bullets poured into an engine cab.

Today the trains passed Winfield, where bullets fired yesterday killed a guard.

The railroad offered a $5,000 reward for the conviction of the snipers who killed the guard. This supplemented a $5,000 reward posted for snipers who fired on "the Hustler" two weeks ago, and $2,500 for the vandals who pulled spikes from the right-of-way near Monroe last week.

Legion Post Will Plan Program for Armistice Tonight

All Legionnaires were urged today to attend the regular meeting of the Carl Barnes Post tonight at the American Legion Hall.

Plans for a program for Armistice Day will be completed at the meeting, it was stated today, and Judge L. H. Flewelling, who was scheduled to speak at the meeting last week, but who was unable to be present, will deliver his address tonight.

Explosion Kills An Oil Operator

Stork Racer 'C's' Chance

The French-Canadian inclination to spell Kenny with a "C" instead of a "K" is the thread on which Mrs. Lilly Kenny hangs her hopes of being awarded the entire $500,000 stork derby prize. One of six mothers credited with nine registered children each, Mrs. Kenny says her brood numbers 11, two having been registered "Cenny" by clerical error.

Prize Alsatian Is No Dumbell

Even a high wall couldn't prevent Simi de Gourdal, one of the blue-blooded dogs at the London Alsatian show, from bringing a hidden dumbbell to his master. With the dumbbell clutched firmly between jaws, Simi clears the wall with room to spare.

REBELS ARE MET WITH FORCE AT MADRID GATES

Citizens of Madrid spurred to renewed frenzy by rebel armies at the city's gates, poured out to the outskirts of the capitol in a desperate attack today.

The tattered loyalists bluffed a terrific offensive on rebel positions. The rebels, surprised by the intensity of the loyalist attack, returned the onslaught with machine guns and field pieces. They sent a fleet of bombers over the capitol. One rebel bomber fell in flame after an air battle over the city.

To complete the picture of desolation, Madrid faced a hunger siege. There was urgent need of food for its people. What the city faced no one could tell. The only alternative to possible mass slaughter by Moors and foreign legionnaires was to fly or face starvation.

The rebel radio at Burgos today broadcast that "General Francisco Franco may order the insurgent army to enter Madrid tomorrow."

The rebels also announced an aerial battle over Madrid in which seven government war planes were shot down.

LONDON.—"Great Britain has no desire to threaten nor any intention to attack the Italian interests in the Mediterranean," Captain Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, told the house of commons today.

Eden responded to a speech by Premier Mussolini last Sunday saying Rome was prepared to sponsor an "armed peace" if necessary. He accepted Mussolini's olive branch of peace, but warned Italy that for Britain the Mediterranean is a vital main route to her possessions.

WITNESSES FOR STATE HEARD IN HENRY CASE

G. L. McBee of Mangum, 81, father of H. L. McBee, for whose death Mrs. Della Henry is being tried on a murder charge in Eighty-eighth District Court at Eastland, testified Thursday his former daughter-in-law had expressed an opinion "he was tied out to a tree suffering for water" shortly after his disappearance May 1, 1933.

The witness testified he was summoned to his son's home by Mrs. McBee after her husband's disappearance. He said Mrs. McBee had remarked to him she "knew he was dead."

The witness denied knowledge of any statement by Mrs. McBee that her husband might be in jail. "I don't remember it," the elder McBee told Defense Attorney J. Frank Sparks.

Earl McBee, now of Wink, who accompanied his father to his brother's home after the disappearance, said he observed strange movements of a door opening and closing while they talked with Mrs. McBee.

Earl testified Mrs. McBee told him an automobile came up to the home May 2 and one of its occupants said they saw her husband near Cisco. Mrs. McBee explained to him, the witness testified, that she knew he had enemies who lived near Cisco. The witness further testified his sister-in-law said that her husband left on the morning of May 1 and had been sick. She denied to him that she and her husband had any troubles.

The sheriff was notified after the visit of Earl and his father, it was testified.

Ben Graves of Rising Star testified he noticed a "scarerow" in November and December of 1934 in the same vicinity in which McBee's skeleton was found.

W. H. Fore of near Pioneer and Cross Plains, recalled overhearing Mr. and Mrs. McBee quarreling when they lived near him in 1932. He said Mrs. Henry, the former Mrs. McBee, told him Wednesday of this week, "If it wasn't for my past life I'd make it alright."

A. D. Carroll, who in 1934 was a city marshal at Rising Star, stated a badge offered as evidence by the state corresponded with the one removed from clothing on the skeleton. He identified a coat which Mrs. McBee brought him while the skeleton was at the Rising Star undertaking parlor. He said the garment matched trousers found on the skeleton.

On examination by the defense he testified Justice of Peace W. M. Morris, who has died since, told him he saw McBee walk

PRESIDENT TO FISH; LANDON MAY RETIRE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Secret plans were being made for President Roosevelt to visit Buenos Aires during the inter-American conference for peace, it was learned from authoritative sources here today.

Although State Department officials continued to cast doubt on reports the President's announced plans for the fishing cruise would include a dash to the Argentine capital, from other quarters came new evidence preparations for such a trip are underway.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5.—Gov. Alf Landon may retire from the governorship of Kansas to a farm near Topeka, instead of his old home at Independence, it was believed today.

Landon would not discuss his plans. His political future after his defeat was not settled by any means, it was indicated.

Our Works May Vanish, but Our Spirit Lives On.

You can feel the cold winds out of empty space blow down the back of your neck—if you care for such an experience—by taking a look at an article written for the current Scientific American by Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University.

Dr. Jacobs suggests that we ought to build a crypt of stainless steel and fill it with records, working models, pictures, and descriptions of modern American civilization. Then, he says, we should seal it and leave it to be opened in the year 8113 A. D., so that remote posterity can have an idea of what sort of people its ancestors were and how they lived.

There is nothing especially creepy about that, of course. But Dr. Jacobs goes on to add that by 8113 it is more than probable that every other record of the civilization of 1936 will have vanished from the earth.

Our great steel and stone buildings, our vast engineering works, our libraries, and our archives—all will have disappeared.

If people remember that North America was populated in 1936 they will remember it hazily, as we remember that someone was living where Persia now is 6000 years ago.

It takes a scientist to put things like that. The rest of us go about our day-to-day business without thinking of the distant future at all; or, if we do think of it, we assume that what we are doing today is being done for all time—that there is a permanence to the society we live in which will outlast change.

We may be right but the odds are against it. When the scientist steps out of the procession and takes a long view, he can see that change in the one unending law.

The best things and the worst things we do today will inevitably be forgotten. The same obscurity will cover our triumphs and defeats. Our follies and our virtues will finally drop out of sight.

From the distance of 6000 years Woodrow Wilson and Bruno Hauptmann will be exactly alike in that both will be completely invisible.

Does all this, then, mean that it doesn't make much difference what we do with ourselves and with our civilization, since oblivion is awaiting all our achievements?

Not at all. Those hazy, far-off people of 8113 A. D. may not know one thing about us, but what they are and how they live will be shaped and molded by what we think and do.

For although what people make and do may dissolve in the acid of time, the spirit and the intelligence with which they make and do things become part of the undying heritage of the race.

The man who goes to the scaffold for justice and freedom may be forgotten; the scale of values which led him to the scaffold becomes absorbed and transmitted to the farthest generations. Nothing worth saving is lost.

A bit ponderous, all this? No doubt. But worth thinking about, even so. It is by understanding that the spirit lives on when the deed and its consequences dies that we can fit ourselves to make the world a better place for those who come after us.

The Last Roundup Before the Great Feast-Day

Blissfully unaware that the fatal date is nearing, this noble flock of turkeys is intent on only one thing—the rich feeding grounds toward which they're wending their way. With three fair "shepherders" guiding them, they're headed for their final fattening—the last roundup on a ranch near Salt Lake City. This flock is part of the thousands being prepared for the Thanksgiving market by northwest turkey growers, who supply a large percentage of the feast day birds.

Broughton said he was accompanied on the hunt by Herman Boyman, now of Los Angeles, California; Young Broughton said they notified his father, O. C. Broughton, who called Justice of Peace "Uncle" Billy Morrison, deceased. In the presence of the justice of the peace and City Marshal A. D. Carroll, it was testified, aspirins, cigarette papers and a badge were removed from clothing on the skeleton.

Broughton's father corroborated the first witness's testimony and on cross examination told of other discoveries which he thought unusual. He stated that after the skeleton was discovered he inspected a "booby" location near his home and found a hole had been dug. The hole, he testified, appeared to be a shallow grave.

The witness testified Sandy Tyler and his family lived near his home until 1935. Broughton stated he was under the impression Mrs. McBee, now Mrs. Henry, lived with the Tylers shortly after her husband's disappearance, alleged by the state to have been May 1, 1933. He stated Mrs. McBee and Henry were seen together shortly after her husband's disappearance and Henry was seen several times on his way to Tyler's residence.

Book About Texas Towns Is Written

By United Press. TERRELL, Texas.—By accident and postmaster, saw several bundles of shrubs addressed to three different Texas towns, all named Sweetwater. The coincidence started him on a hunt for interesting facts concerning Texas cities. The result is a book, "Texas Towns." The bundles of shrubs were addressed to recipients in Sweetwater, Agua Dulce and Mobeetie, Spanish and Indian words, respectively, but each mean Sweetwater.

"I haven't practiced since we've been without a piano—" But she half-closed her eyes and began to sing the old song experimentally. "Dere now!" Althy pronounced when she had finished. It was a sort of verdict, for the old woman's ear was true and critical. "All you need is a little polishing," was Kate's opinion. Caroline left them and went up to the store room. Half an hour later she came down amugged with dust and carrying a music book. "I've found the Foster songs," she said, "but I can't locate the dress. I've looked everywhere. Do you remember, Kate, where Grandmother kept it?" Kate said, "Leave the dress to me. I'm a good retriever. I can look for it later. Go write your acceptance to the committee and take it to town to mail. Take your music with you, too. Go to Cynthia's. Her piano's always in tune."

Brilliant Romantic Triumph Introduces Exciting New Star

A brilliant new screen star—talented, glamorous, beautiful—is revealed in "Girls' Dormitory," Twentieth Century-Fox picture which opened yesterday at the Arcadia theatre.

Hailed as the most important screen discovery in years, Simone Simon (pronounced See-MOAN See-MOAN) made her debut in a stirring and enthralling film that stands as one of Hollywood's outstanding achievements.

Herbert Marshall and Ruth Chatterton are starred in the production and their inspired performances aid in making "Girls' Dormitory" what it is—the most human, realistic and revealing story of a rigorous first love ever brought to the screen. Dorel F. Zanuck especially selected this film to introduce Simone Simon to the American screen, and the chief of the Twentieth Century-Fox studio also surrounded the famous continental star with an impressive cast which, in addition to Marshall and Miss Chatterton, features Constance Collier, J. Edward Bromberg, Dixie Dunbar, John Qualen and Shirley Deane.

Under Irving Cummings deft direction, Simone reveals the talents that stamped her the most brilliant star of the continent, while Marshall and Miss Chatterton are supported by their respective portrayals.

Young P.-T. A. Hears Encouraging Report from Standing Committee
Young school Parent-Teacher Association, headed by its president, Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, met this week in a session which brought encouraging reports from all standing committees. A nice sum was netted from the Halloween carnival, and all members are working in perfect harmony for the most successful school term since the organization of the association. Three delegates will attend the state convention at Fort Worth this month, in the persons of the president, Mrs. Maddocks, Mrs. Thurman Hill and Mrs. T. J. Anderson.

Year books were given out and from their outline members will continue to be well occupied with splendid programs and other mentionable projects.

The meeting announced as business session only, was attended by 25 members.

Lois Lindsay as the pleasure seeking rich girl in "The Pace That Kills."

"Drinking, necking, dope and jazz parties have struck a solar plexus blow in the new production of "The Pace That Kills" featuring Neel Madison and Lois Lindsay.

Youthful delinquency will always be with us; many a proud mother and father who, today, fears the embarrassment of straight-from-the-shoulder talks of their offsprings, would greatly benefit if they sent their sons and daughters to this eloquent pictorial sermon.

When the young girl or boy sees the scenes depicted in this picture, and how seemingly innocent flirtations and pleasures lead to tragedy, they will perhaps be inclined to "watch their step."

Jazz and gin, sex and sensuality, care packed on shady lanes, sporty roadhouses, wild parties, traffic in dope and human souls are among the highlights of this most unusual picture, which graphically illustrates the terrible results of parental neglect and ignorance in the handling of modern youth.

ed on the program at intervals during the meeting and many practice hours have been spent in perfecting their parts.

Julia Alexander gave No. 1954 of the order met in a busy Wednesday afternoon session and finished all details. Presents from pal members were distributed and letters were read from officers of the lodge, urging the local membership to report for the convention session. Time was taken for the draping of the charter in honor and memory of Miss Gahagan, national officer.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn.—Firemen figuratively killed two birds with one stone when they answered an alarm to extinguish a chimney fire. Finished with that job, they were called to the home of John Pelletier, two houses away, where a furnace explosion had occurred.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about a pint a day of about 3 pints of urine.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start causing backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

That's what! Ask your druggist for Doan's. Doan's used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Croscote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Croscote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Croscote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Croscote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)
