Hobbies Useless? Ask Man Who Has One!

If we are slowly working our way into an era of great leisure, as a good many wise men seek to think we are, the ordinary citizen is going to have to do something about cultivation of a hobby.

One of the distinguishing marks of a good hobby is that it always looks slightly ridiculous to anyone who is not actively following it. He sees it as a needless expense, as a perverse return to childhood, or as a dreary waste of time—until he himself gets a hobby, whereupon he wonders how he ever before filled in his spare time.

That this business of hobbies is marvelously diverse and has some quaint subdivision was called to mind the other day by the new that hobby-riders have come to the rescue of storekeepers of Vancouver, B. C.

The storekeepers had stocked up with divers souvenirs of the expected coronation of King Edward VIII. A sample was a neat, glazed beer mug, bearing Edward's picture and the legend, "Edward VIII Crowned King." Came the abdication, and all this assorted junk looked like a total loss.

But the men who made a hobby of collecting useless bric-a-brac came to the rescue. These beer mugs and similar relics immediately became 'collectors' items. To the men who have that particular hobby, they assumed a value they never would have had if Edward had not abdicated. So these men charged in and bought them—enabling the Vancouver shopkeepers to heave a collective sigh of great relief.

Now if this business of collecting out-of-date beer mugs looks odd to you, that is only because nearly all hobbies look odd unless you actually follow them yourself.

Most honored of all hobbies, perhaps, is that of collecting stamps. Kings, presidents, and financiers have followed it. Yet to the non-collector, nothing could appear more supremely useless. Stamps, indeed! What can you do with them? What are they good for?

It is perhaps the least odd of all hobbies. We know of a man who devotes a good part of his time to collecting envelopes—not stamps and not letters, just envelopes—of the Civil War period.

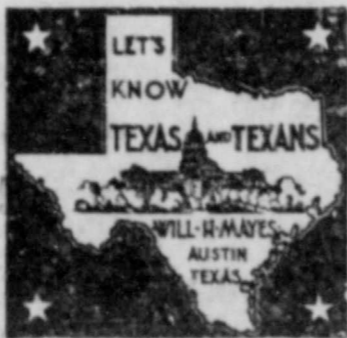

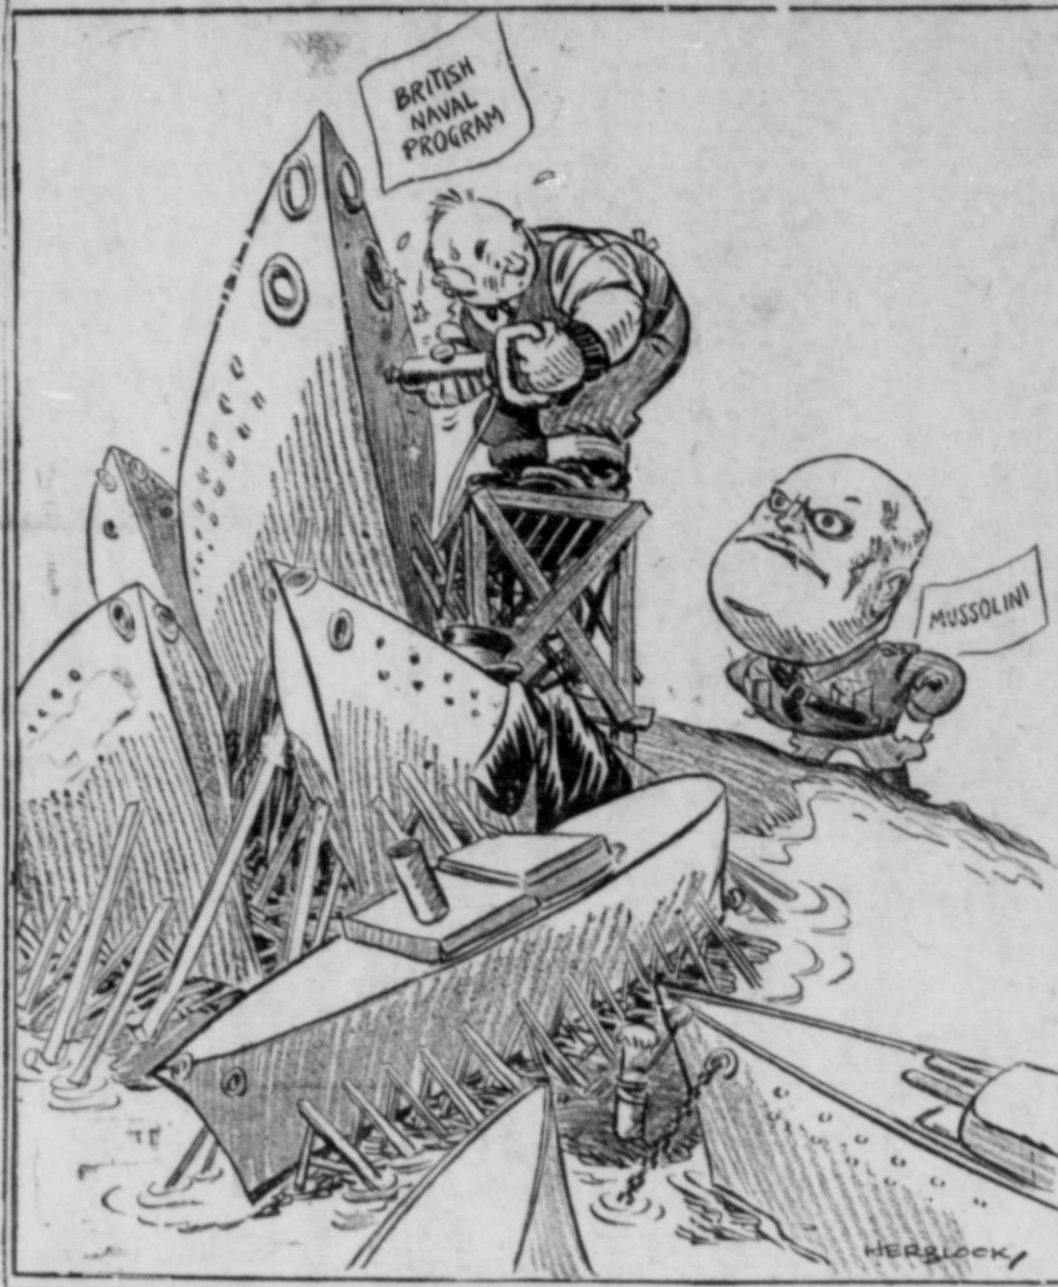

A fairly brisk business is done in the collecting of old-fashioned penny savings banks. Some men collect metal tokens—so much that a good share of the imitation money issued by cities and counties during the depression has simply vanished.

There are model railroaders, who build and operate marvelously ingenious reproductions of the real thing. There are men who spend days and months building cathedrals of glued-together match sticks. There are men who build working gasoline engines small enough to put in a vest pocket. There are men who collect old-time steamship time-tables.

Are these pursuits useless time-wasters? By no means. For the men who enjoy them, they are more like life-savers.

Any doctor will tell you that a hobby can mean better health—and any hobby-rider can tell you that it also means happiness and a humble but enduring personal satisfaction.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON—The new Congress and President Roosevelt are likely to do more about government reorganization than has been accomplished in the last 25 years of talk about it. But old-timers in Washington are keeping their fingers crossed. One of the most encouraging facts for those who hope for a rejiggering of the scores of federal departments, bureaus, commissions, and administrations (the latest count is 138) is that Roosevelt and his advisers openly recognize the fact that reorganization in itself is not a means of making important savings. This bit of realism has been absent in past discussions of the problem. Roosevelt makes clear that the primary purpose of reorganization is more business-like administration of government. Economies can be achieved only through cutting out government functions and Roosevelt isn't expected to recommend cutting out any major ones. At least one new principal function will become a federal responsibility, probably at the fourth coming session, when Congress passes a bill aimed at housing low income families with the aid of federal subsidies. ALTHOUGH a presidential committee, a Senate committee, a House committee, and the Brookings Institution are advising Roosevelt on reorganization, it is still likely that he will ask for power to put a rejiggering program into operation step by step, rather than present Congress with an expansive blueprint. THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ALMOST ONE THOUSAND MILES OF STANDARD GAUGE RAILROAD TRACK WAS LAID IN FRANCE DURING THE WORLD WAR, WITH MATERIALS SHIPPED FROM AMERICA. THE MOUNTAIN ZEBRA IS AFRICA'S RAREST ANIMAL! ONLY ABOUT FIFTY OF THESE ANIMALS NOW REMAIN ON EARTH. A BEE HAS TWO KINDS OF EYES... THREE SMALL ONES, AND TWO ENORMOUS ONES. SOUTH AFRICA'S beautiful mountain zebra seems doomed to quick extinction. A few years ago there were about 2000 of these animals alive, and a law was passed to save them. But the law has been ignored, and now only two small herds remain.

Q. Was Stephen F. Austin an ardent advocate of slavery?

A. He favored slavery because he believed that the only hopes to develop Texas was with the colonization of Southern farmers who would grow cotton extensively with slave labor and who would not locate in Texas unless permitted to retain their slaves and acquire more as might be needed under the existing farming system. He thought that to preclude or restrict slavery would prevent the settling of Texas.

Q. For what purpose did Geo. W. Kendall first come to Texas?

A. As a correspondent for the New Orleans Picayune to accompany and report the Santa Fe expedition of 1841. His "Narrative of the Texas Santa Fe Expedition" attracted international attention.

Q. What became of the court house at Blanco, when the county site was moved from there to Johnson City?

A. The building a structure of native stone of typical courthouse architecture of the 1880's, was sold to Charles Crist, a Blanco banker.

Q. How old is the Driskill Hotel at Austin?

A. It was opened for guests in December, 1886.

Q. How did gasoline taxes in Texas in 1936 compare with those of 1935?

A. The State received up to and through November $5,169,543 in gasoline taxes in excess of receipts for the same period of 1935, most of which was admittedly due to the Texas Centennial celebrations.

Q. I notice the word "moral" used in a Texas story. What does it mean?

A. A "moral" is a coarse bag open at one end with a carrying strap on the open end to fit the bag over a horse's mouth when it is being fed from the bag. The cowboy also uses the "moral" swung over the saddle horn to hold his "belongings" when on the road.

HARD WORK COMFORT IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE Lighting! Scientists have learned a lot about light that means much to people who use their eyes a great deal. They know that studying, reading a newspaper, sewing and other seeing tasks that require close concentration, consume body energy just like manual labor. They also know that seeing under the right kind of light requires less energy than seeing under a poor light. Here, then, is the answer to much of the fatigue, headaches and other troubles that result from studying or other eye work, and whether these discomforts are to be endured and eyesight endangered by constant strain, depends almost entirely on the lighting. To be sure that the lighting in your home, office or store is adequate for easy and comfortable seeing, call our office and a trained man will make a careful check with a light meter. This service is free and places you under no obligation. TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY A. N. LARSON, Manager

Outlook Is For Improvement Says Economics Bureau

COLLEGE STATION.—The outlook is for further improvement in the economic position of agriculture in 1937.

This is the opinion of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics which annually aids farmers with forecasts as to the trend of various agricultural commodities.

In general, farmers may expect 1937 to be similar in many respects to 1935.

Farm prices are expected to stay at higher levels in 1937, although some decline is probable in the last half of the year. Taxes may move up slightly, and costs of labor, building materials, machinery and fertilizer will probably be a little higher.

Some increase in cotton acreage is expected. Wheat production will be up, both in the United States and the rest of the world, and declining prices are in prospect.

Increased demand from consumers is expected to aid fruit growers. The stronger demand for vegetables will be largely nullified by increased plantings.

Unusually large stocks of rice are on hand and the rice outlook is unfavorable.

Hog prices will be high through 1937 and production will be short for several years. Cattle prices will be higher in 1937 than in 1936 and the outlook for several years is good.

Mrs. A. C. Brown enjoyed having with her during the holidays. All of her children except one came with their families were those from out of town who came Mrs. Newt Cogburn of Lubbock; Dr. A. A. Brown of Richardson; Arlie Brown of Dublin and J. A. Brown of Stephenville. The one who could not come was Mrs. C. T. Terrell of Harlingen. Besides the ones from out of town, she had R. A. Brown and family whose farm adjoins her's, and Miss Alva Brown, Alton Brown and Arch Brown, the three who live at home with her.

Rev. McClaine of Abilene filled his regular appointment at the Church of Christ on Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. John Cate of Colorado, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rouse during the holidays. Her sister, Mrs. Jesse Clark went home with her for a short visit.

Among the number who came to spend the holidays with relatives here were Mr. and Mrs. Edward May and children of Dimmitt, Texas, who visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter May and spent part of the time at Gorman with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Oldham. Their many friends here were delighted to see them again.

Electric Eye to Warn Speeders

Installed along the highway and operating like a railroad semaphore system, a newly perfected application of the electric eye could flash a warning signal to motorists who were driving at speeds menacing their and other motorists' lives. Frank Shepard is pictured demonstrating a model of the device at a scientific meeting in Atlantic City, N. J.

Granite and Marble Seen as Potential Industry in Texas

DALLAS.—The State of Texas building, outstanding architectural triumph of the Centennial exposition, not only survives the big show but may prove to have been the "discoverer" of a little-known but potentially great Texas industry—the quarrying of building and ornamental stone.

Texas, it is true, has been producing fine granite, marble and limestone for five decades or more but has never been widely known either for the volume of quality of its stones, it is pointed out by the All-South Development council.

However, the fact that this dominant and superbly eye-catching building of the Centennial is constructed mainly of native Texas stone has brought home to millions of visitors some of the great potentialities of these materials whose "appreciation" heretofore has been largely confined to academic geologists.

The exterior construction of the million-dollar edifice is of white Texas limestone and much of the interior of Texas shell limestone. The dazzling purity of these stones has combined with the modern, yet restrained, architecture of the building to produce an effect which has led many out-of-state visitors to proclaim it one of the handsomest buildings in the world.

According to C. L. Baker of the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas, the Lone Star State has "more granite and a larger variety of granite than Vermont, more marble and more varieties of marble than Georgia, and better and more beautiful limestones than the famed limestones of Indiana, yet it imports all these materials from these states which have done a better advertising job on these resources."

Texas does do some exporting of building stone, but its exports are confined to granite. It is the belief of Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the bureau, that Texas is destined to become one of the largest centers of the stone industry on this continent, because there is no other known area of comparable size that has so great a variety of commercial stone.

That the time is opportune for the expansion of this industry and the encouragement of outside capital which would create new wealth for Texas and give employment to many persons through the continued development and expansion of a new industry is seen by the council in the fact that building activity is increasing in all sections of the country.

said, 964 building permits were issued at a total construction cost of $4,394,382. He compared these statistics with the 6,116 permits issued in 1935 at a cost of $4,191,522.

The larger number of permits issued in 1935 Finchem and March of that year. Many repairs were necessary. August was the peak month in each year, figures revealed.

Cinnamon Buns
Two cups flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1 cup sour milk. For the filling: 3/4 cup raisins, 2 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 cup sugar. Men like more sugar.

Sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt and 1/2 tablespoon of sugar together. Add butter. With two knives, cut in the butter until it is all cut up into tiny pieces. Then with the finger tips, press into the flour. This part will make the male cook feel very professional. They love to talk about "using your hands instead of a lot of fancy equipment." Slowly add sour milk, mix well, and turn out dough to floured board. Dust with a little flour and roll to strip about 1/2 inch thick. Mix the sugar and cinnamon together, then spread over top of strip.

Sprinkle raisins over the sugar and cinnamon. Then begin to roll up the dough, embracing all these spices and fruit. Cut off buns about 1 inch wide. Arrange on a greased cookie layer and bake in hot oven for about 15 minutes. After 10 minutes of baking, bake top of each with a little cold milk. Return to fire. The milk will brown them nicely.

Museum Exhibits a 1776 Model Cake
By United Press
ROCHESTER, N. Y.—A black-berry cake, baked by an Iroquois squaw during pre-Revolutionary days, is being exhibited by the Rochester Municipal Museum.

The cake, now deteriorated to a mass of berry seeds, but still holding its original shape, was taken from the grave of an Iroquois brave, according to the museum's assistant archeologist, William A. Ritchie.

The cake was discovered in a closed copper kettle, which Ritchie said explained its long preservation.

Construction In San Antonio Grows

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Cost of construction in San Antonio in 1936 increased $202,860 over the previous year, although the number of building permits showed a decline, Charles T. Finchem, city building inspector has announced.

During the last year, Finchem denied theories that Booth escaped the manhunt that followed, later to die in Texas.

"He was trapped in a burning building," he said, "and perished in the flames."

DICTATE DESTINY OF CUBA

Evidence of the army's complete dominance in Cuba is the succession to the presidency of Laredo Bru (left), following impeachment of President Miguel Gomez for refusal to support a taxation measure sponsored by Colonel Fulgencio Batista, whose victory makes him virtual dictator. Bru is the ninth president of Cuba since Dictator Machado was deposed.

EVERY WOMAN FACES THIS QUESTION

How do I look to other people? So many women risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skin, dull eyes, poor complexions.

Yet common constipation can be ended so easily. Just eat two table-spoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or fruits every day, three times daily in severe cases. This delicious ready-to-eat cereal supplies the "bulk" needed to exercise the system—and vitamin B to help tone up the intestinal tract.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water, gently sponging out the intestines. It never causes the artificial action of pills and drugs, that often prove ineffective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, you see, is a food—not a medicine. It relieves common constipation the way Nature intended—so its results are safe. Buy it at your grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Ranger Represented in State Women's Clubs by Mrs. M. H. Hagaman
Ranger is well represented on the board of directors of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs which held its first board meeting since the new state officers took their places Thursday morning in Austin at the Women's club.
Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, new state chairman of higher education, was in attendance, accompanied by Mrs. Bula B. Connelley of Eastland, the appointee of Mrs. Turentine, president of the state federation, as state chairman of resolutions. Mrs. J. J. Butts of Cisco, recently appointed as state chairman of war veterans is included among the prominent officers of Eastland county.
Mrs. J. M. Perkins, recording secretary of the state federation, was also in attendance.

Cooper School Welcomes Cross Roads Faculty and Pupils With Entertaining Chapel Program
Several musical clubs of Cooper school presented a short but entertaining program during chapel hour, giving a warm welcome to pupils, patrons and teachers from Cross Roads community.

W. T. Walton, superintendent of Ranger schools, and J. E. Meroney, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, were present and made talks of interest. A number of the patrons were extended welcome, and in order to feel their presence is desired at any or all of the chapel periods.
The program was made up of the following miscellaneous numbers: "Long, Long Ago," harmonica band, "Drink to me only with Thine eyes," Boy's Glee club and harmonica band, "America" Boys Glee club, and band, "Happy New Year," Jack Frost and "Sing a Little Song," by members of the Junior Glee club, "Roses of Picardy" and "Organ Grinders Swing, Girls Glee club."
Mr. Baskin, principal of the school offered welcome to the new student body, and introduced teachers, Dutch Ervin and Miss Johnnie Young, who have become a part of the Cooper school faculty.

A very well balanced program for the remaining year's work has been planned. Plans also are in progress for much activity in regular courses, club work and the various athletic and interscholastic league events.

Contacts made with the student body and patrons of Cross Roads find them highly pleased with the present set up. Mr. Baskin's comment was this: "The teachers and pupils are in every way very congenial and they are all heartily taking hold with us for a successful term of work that is to follow."
One O'Clock Luncheon:
Covers were laid at neatly appointed tables for twenty-one guests, when the members of Dorcas Sunday school class of First Baptist church were entertained with a one o'clock luncheon, the affair listed with social happenings of Wednesday.

Highways to Be Safer But Driver Is Real Problem

WASHINGTON — The main highways of the future are pictured by Thomas H. MacDonald, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, as broad, unobstructed surfaces over which traffic can flow smoothly with safety and comfort.
In discussing the work the State and Federal governments are doing to make the main highways safe under modern traffic conditions, he says:
"There will be provided for motor vehicle operators of the future, roadways that can be used with safety by the reasonably careful drivers."
"The roads of the future will have traffic lanes wide enough for ample clearance. That means that at the speeds we now foresee we will want a 22-foot road for two-lane traffic. It will have shoulders wide enough for stopping; no deep side ditches. Its surface will be consistently smooth and non-skid. It will be so designed as to alignment, profile and cross section, that at no place will the traveler suddenly encounter the unexpected or come into traffic so slow that if impatient he will be tempted to take a chance."
"Where the traffic is so heavy that two lanes will not carry it, there will be four-lane roads. But there will be no chance to meet opposing traffic as there is in the present road with four contiguous lanes. Most engineers endorse the principle of separated-lane roads wherever more than two lanes must be provided to carry the traffic."
"More highways will be lighted, no doubt, but the amount of lighting will depend on the funds made available for highways and on whether we find that we can spend the money in any other way that is as effective in preventing accidents. Greater dividends in lives saved per thousand dollars of expenditure would result from construction of footpaths along heavily traveled routes and from separation of grades at intersections of main traffic arteries than from a general lighting program."
"However, lighting will have a place in the future program. Old methods of lighting are inefficient and of doubtful value, but marked improvements are being made. We must experiment to produce a thoroughly efficient system of lighting. We must also light experimental sections of highway and accumulate accident records as a guide in determining where the expense of lighting is justified. I think it is clear that looking for air roads is not possible now. Installation is not expensive, but operation would cost more than all the other items of highway maintenance put together. And, as it is, most highway departments do not have enough maintenance money to keep the highways in as good shape as they would like."
"We will have pedestrian walkways at a safe distance from the

Ballot Still Polls Big Vote

George Bain, auctioneer of thoroughbreds, presents Ballot, oldest living race horse and sire in the United States, with a cake at Keeneland Racetrack, near Lexington, Ky., in celebration of the venerable runner's 35th birthday. Ballot, son of Imperial Viceroy, won 20 races in 37 starts over a period of nine years.

highway surface; also, on heavily traveled roads we will have surfaced areas where buses may pull out of the stream of traffic to receive and discharge passengers; and turnouts for the R. F. D. carriers to use in servicing the boxes which cannot be eliminated by reason of great expense will be plainly indicated by signs that will advise the motorist what speed is safe.
"The highway engineer's part in promoting highway safety is to design highways that are safe for reasonably careful drivers, that is — highways as safe as they can be built with the funds available. They will be highways on which you can pass an overtaken vehicle with safety, highways that will not confront a driver with hazardous conditions without ample notice or warning. When this has been accomplished, the highway will occupy its proper place in supporting the safety triangle of the road, the vehicle, and the driver. But, finally, safety will always rest with the driver."

Giving Away City Lots Proves Failure
By United Press
FORT WORTH — This city's plan to give away 195 vacant lots to persons who would build homes on them has gone down in inglorious defeat.
Opposition of real estate dealers, citizens, and members on the city council itself brought disaster to City Manager George D. Fairtrace's proposal. Fairtrace had advocated giving the lots free of charge to encourage home-building since the lots do not bring a penny revenue to the city.
Councilmen agreed that such action might reflect unfavorably on the value of Fort Worth real estate.
Said Councilman T. J. Harrell: "If we're going to give them to anyone, let's give them to the persons we took them away from."
Most of the lots were confiscated for non-payment of taxes.

Marriage Licenses in Dallas Increase
DALLAS, Texas—Leap year, prosperity and the Texas Centennial Exposition were given credit with breaking a 16-year record for marriage licenses issued in Dallas county.
County Clerk Ed Steger announced that 4,928 licenses had been issued during 1936. The previous record was two years after the World War when 4,924 certificates were signed.

Colored Revival To Start Tuesday

A revival meeting will begin at the St. Paul Baptist church, colored, on Tuesday, Jan. 12, with J. W. Bailey, D. D., of Marshall, doing the preaching. The Marshall preacher is a well known colored evangelist of the state, who has a reputation of being a splendid speaker.
Miles W. Jenkins, D. D., field secretary of missions of the home mission board of the National and Southern Baptist convention, will be general conductor of the revival.
Old time singing is planned for the meeting and the colored citizens of Ranger have been invited to attend the services, which will be conducted at 7.30 p. m.

Holy Land Lecture Will Be Delivered At Central Baptist
Announcement was made here today by Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of the Central Baptist church, that Rev. Coleman Craig, noted lecturer, would speak on the Holy Lands at the evening service of Central Baptist church Sunday.
Rev. Craig has made an extended trip through the Holy Lands, including a trip to Egypt, at which time he made a number of pictures, with which he will illustrate his talk.
The services will start promptly at 7.15 Sunday night, with the talk being made at the evening service only. No offering will be taken.

Cleburne Boy Has Novel Automobile
CLEBURNE, Texas—A makeshift "toy" automobile that real boys amazed grown-ups and children alike here recently when its young inventor, Dan Flynn, made a trial run through the business district.
Flynn's auto, among other things, has the following parts:
A washing machine engine for power; an apple box coaster wagon chassis; a pint fruit-jar for a gasoline tank; and a carboard motor hood.
The machine will travel 12 miles an hour and will go about six miles on its pint of fuel. Flynn built the car in his back yard in three days.
