APPEAL IS MADE TO AID FLOOD RELIEF

Ranger's quota toward the Red Cross fund to aid the flood victims along the Ohio River Valley and other sections where 1,000,000 people have been made homeless, has been raised rather slowly, it was stated here today by J. E. McCreary, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who is handling the voluntary contributions.

Mrs. W. D. Conway, chairman of the Ranger Chapter of the Red Cross, has sent out an urgent appeal to the people to make donations, no matter how small, in order that the suffering in the people in the flood area might be reduced as much as possible.

"It seems that Ranger's quota should be raised without any personal solicitation," Mrs. Conway stated, "because of the extent of disaster which has swept millions of homes. The people of Ranger should rally to this great cause and bring in voluntary donations instead of waiting for someone to remind them to do so, and I believe that they will not be found wanting. I am sure that many do not realize the necessity of rushing this money to the flood victims as rapidly as possible, or Ranger's quota would already be raised or surpassed."

The children of the three ward schools of Ranger presented a program with songs, dances, rhythmic bands and other specialty numbers being featured.

The proceeds from the entertainment will go toward purchase of new uniforms for the band, it was stated.

Benefit Show For Band Is Successful

A total of $55 was raised to ward payment of the band uniforms at a benefit performance at the Recreation building Thursday night. It was stated Friday, making a total of more than $100 that has been raised in two benefit performances.

Poll Tax List Is Growing In Ranger

Poll tax payments were speeded up considerably Thursday afternoon and Friday morning, it was announced today by C. E. Madocks, who is deputized to sell the poll taxes in Ranger.

With only one more day in which to make payments on poll taxes, it is expected that a large number will be sold Saturday. The office will remain open Saturday night in order to allow everyone an opportunity to pay a poll tax, it was stated today.

At noon Thursday 101 poll taxes had been paid, while at 9:30 Friday morning the number had increased to 183, and at the rate at which they were being written it was expected that a normal number would be sold before Saturday night.

PADUCAH FLOODED, RESIDENTS FLEE

Evacuation of Paducah's 33,500 inhabitants had just been ordered when the above air picture of the flooded Kentucky town was taken. Shown slightly at the left is the Paducah power plant, disabled by the lapping waters which crept over the ground floor. Notice the inundated railroad tracks and how the flood waters extend almost completely over the business and residential sections. The Kentucky river was reported at the highest stage in history.

Two Are Arrested For Burglary In Ranger Before Tavern Owner Discovers His Place Was Robbed

Trolley Tavern in Ranger was burglarized Thursday night and two suspects, who police say had a part of the loot when arrested, were placed in the Ranger jail and the loot recovered before the burglary was reported.

Late Thursday night Patrolman Johnny Boyd saw two men enter the Club cafe and order coffee. He went into the cafe and waited and soon one of them tried to pay for the coffee with a Canadian half dollar. When the cafe proprietor refused to accept the coin one of the men paid off in pennies.

Boyd became suspicious and took the two to the city jail, where it was found they had a large quantity of pennies, a number of slot machine slugs, a 21-jewel watch and several bunches of car keys. They were driving a 1936 model Chevrolet sedan, bearing license number A83-243, which is a number assigned to Young county.

The two gave their names as Burt James and Gerald Moore of Graham.

Friday morning J. W. Brooks, proprietor of the Trolley Tavern, reported to police that his place had been burglarized. He described a watch, which he said was stolen during the burglary, and it proved to be the one taken from the two suspects.

Entrance to the building was by means of a door which had been jimmied, police said today. It is believed that the two may be connected with a number of car thefts, since the key containers found on them were all filled with keys for automobiles. A checkup was being made today with the sheriff of Young county to determine if the two were wanted there and fingerprints and pictures of the pair were to be sent to other towns, it was stated by Chief of Police Jim Ingram.

Office to Remain Open On Sunday

The office of tax assessor-collector will remain open on Sunday for the issuance of poll taxes, C. H. O'Brien, head of the office announced today.

In the event that anyone cannot be in Eastland by Sunday they are advised to mail checks not later than that day.

"We had originally intended to accept payment on Monday since Sunday was the last day, but since that is impossible we will be open on Sunday, the last day for payment," O'Brien announced.

The following telegram to Mr. O'Brien in regard to Monday was received:

"Poll tax must be paid before midnight January 31 in order of holder to be allowed to vote."
"J. H. Brodhurst, assistant attorney general."

Texas Has More Hotels Than Three Adjoining States

WASHINGTON. — Hotels in Texas number more than the combined number in Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, William L. Austin, director of the Bureau of the Census, has revealed in his report on the Census of Business series on Hotels for 1935.

Texas hotel receipts, number of guest rooms, number of employees and total payroll also equalled the combined sum of the three other states.

During 1935 the report showed that Texas hotels had 110,102 guest rooms, employed 21,651 persons as well as 2,757 active proprietors and firm members, had receipts of $46,363,000, and paid employees $11,007, which did not include compensation for proprietors and firm members of unincorporated businesses.

Mass Plane Flight Is A Success

PEARL HARBOR, Honolulu, T. H., Jan. 29.—Twelve huge U. S. Navy bombing planes roared over Honolulu at 8:20 a. m. today, completing the largest mass flight in American naval history, from San Diego, in less than 22 hours.

The fliers were welcomed by a party consisting solely of the families of naval airmen.

Two patches of unsettled weather delayed the planes on the long hop.

The new bombers, carrying 78 officers and men, will be used to replace obsolete planes in service in the Hawaiian Islands area. They are the forerunners of a fleet of 216 planes to be used along the Pacific coast.

Gladewater Baseball Franchise Is Moved

GLADEWATER, Texas.—R. W. (Dick) Burnett, owner of the Gladewater baseball team of the East Texas League has announced that the franchise would definitely be moved to Texarkana for the coming season.

Gladewater has been a member of the East Texas League for the last two seasons and last year won the pennant in the playoffs.

The Texarkana franchise will be operated by a group of sportsmen and business men of that city.

Red Cross RUSHES Flood Relief

Special Red Cross trains, like that pictured about to depart from Chicago, loaded with food, blankets and medicine, rumbled over flood-menaced rail lines from a dozen points into the stricken Ohio River Valley. Plans for aid came from scores of points along the 1800-mile flooded sector where nearly a million were homeless. The death list climbed toward 300.

MEMPHIS SCHOOLS MAY BE USED TO HOUSE VICTIMS OF MISSISSIPPI RIVER FLOOD

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 29.—The Memphis board of education today announced schools would be closed if the buildings are needed to house flood refugees.

Half the schools are now closed and others are being prepared for use as sleeping quarters and hospitals.

The city was crowded with 30,000 refugees and their livestock. Chickens sold as low as five cents each.

Forecast of general rains over the Tennessee and Ohio valleys pushed 100,000 weary workers to greater speed today as the zero hour approached in the struggle to hold back the Mississippi.

W. J. Moxom of the weather bureau, warned that the rains would "prolong the flood" and swell to some extent the waters pouring into the Mississippi from tributary rivers.

The forecast added significance to the admission of engineers that they were fighting a treacherous enemy—the weather.

"The weather will decide it. If it doesn't rain we have the river licked," engineers said.

Moxom warned that engineers would have to keep up the fight for at least two months.

President Roosevelt appointed a committee on relief and reconstruction experts to survey the area from Memphis through the Ohio valley where floods have claimed at least 278 lives, driven 1,000,000 persons from their homes and caused damage which amounted to nearly half a billion dollars.

The Ohio river was falling in the upper valley, except below Louisville.

The Mississippi went near the top of levees in the four-states region where it receives the waters of the Ohio. Levees were weakening at several points.

Threatened with disaster should flood walls fail, were Cairo, Ill., Hickman, Ky., New Madrid and Charleston, Mo., and Tiptonville, Tenn.

Below Memphis, the Millwood, Ark., levee showed signs of weakening.

He was being helped by City Manager J. F. Little when a wrench he had slipped, pulling his arm backward and jarring his left arm.

Through the work of the city physician the arm is now in a plaster of Paris.

The accident occurred when the car in which the boys were riding struck a bridge about midnight.

With a tag to mark his identity, the aged man, above, waits in a refuge station at Memphis—waits for the waters to recede, waits for some relative to claim him and take him some place that is warm and dry and above the flooding waters of the Ohio river.

Funeral Service For Mrs. Kilborn Held at Eastland

Last rites for Mrs. Belzi Estel Cooper Kilborn, 61, of Eastland, were to be held today at 4 p. m. in her home, funeral oration by the Rev. Jared L. Cartledge of the First Baptist church. Interment was in the Eastland cemetery.

Mrs. Kilborn was the wife of E. P. Kilborn, county jailer for the past six years and a former Eastland county sheriff, which position he held for four years.

She was born on April 8, 1875 at Sullivan, Ill. She came to Texas at the age of eleven years, moving to Abilene in Taylor county. Marriage to Mr. Kilborn occurred on December 23, 1893.

Four children, two sons and two daughters survive. They are Elbert Edward of Chickasha, Oklahoma; Robert Earl, Mrs. Mally Quay Griffin, Mrs. A. W. Hennessee, all of Eastland.

Breckenridge to Be Host to Lions

Members of the Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge and Graham Lions clubs will meet in Breckenridge tonight for the first of a series of inter-city meetings, to be held in each of the five towns.

All members of the local club were urged to attend, if possible, as the club which has the smallest percentage of attendance present at the meeting will be given a booby prize. A live nanny goat has been selected as the prize, which must be kept by the club winning it until it can be passed on to some other town on an attendance contest.

Each town in the group will present a part of the program at the meeting, it was stated here.

'MESS' SEEN OVER GAME, FISH BOARD

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—Rapid developments occurred today in what Gov. Alfred described as a "mess" in the state game, fish and oyster department.

First, the governor accepted the resignation of Commissioner Jack O'Brien, San Antonio News sports editor, for what he considered disrespect for the governor's office. O'Brien refused to treat his sports column threat as a resignation and rejected the governor's acceptance.

The game commission proposed to meet at Fort Worth Feb. 2 to name an executive secretary to succeed Will Tucker, Caesar Kleberg of Kingsville, a member, telegraphed Alfred that because of illness he would not attend the Fort Worth meeting, but was not in accord with a request for Tucker's resignation. This apparently left the commission divided three and three.

POWER IS QUESTIONED IN CONTEST

A question if the legislature has the authority to go back of a general election to investigate the primary, was referred today to Attorney General William McCraw.

An opinion on jurisdiction in the 99th district contest in which E. E. Hunter of Cleburne is challenging J. K. Russell of Cleburne was asked by the Texas House committee on elections.

The committee Thursday heard Hunter's petition charging that polls at Keene, in Johnson county, were kept open late last August, 22, to allow Seventh Day Adventists to vote after the close of their sabbath.

He also cited more than 200 alleged illegal votes, cast by persons without poll taxes or exemptions in rural precincts, or without franchises.

Russell's attorney filed a general demurrer and then questioned the jurisdiction of the committee.

One committeeman believed that should the committee be given jurisdiction the result would be thrown out and a new election ordered.

BREAK IS EXPECTED IN STRIKE

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 29.—Gov. Frank Murphy today told non-union General Motors workers from Detroit that he expected a "break" in the corporation strike at 3 p. m.

The governor said the expected action would be in Washington.

The announcement came as the Detroit delegation was admitted to his office after threatening to "sit down" in the executive suite unless the governor gave a "yes or no" answer of his intentions of removing sit down strikers from closed General Motors plants.

Navy Can Guard U. S., So Why Expand Army?

Some time in February a subcommittee of the House of Representatives will sit down to figure out how much money the U. S. army ought to be given during the coming year.

The army is asking slightly more than $410,000,000, and the chances are that it will get it. What's the army going to do with it all?

The answer, of course, is that it is going to make itself bigger and better. It will add 18,000 enlisted men, bringing total enlistment to 165,000. It will bring its officer strength up to 12,175.

It will add 5000 to the strength of the national guard. The number of reserve officers who will get two weeks' summer training will be boosted by 5000. Five hundred new fighting planes will be built. Flying fields, barracks, ordnance, and the like will be improved.

So far, well and good. The officers who have devoted their lives to the army contend that it needs these things to be efficient, and it is hard for a civilian to argue with them. What civilians might very properly do, however, is ask just what the government proposes to do with this fine army after it gets it perfected.

We can't judge the army without also taking a look at the navy. We need to remember that our navy—in theory at least—is one of the two most powerful navies in existence.

We are spending enormous sums to make it in actual fact what it is in the theory. And we may safely say that the navy already is so strong that no nation or combination of nations would dream of trying to invade our shores.

That being so, what do we want with a $410,000,000 army?

We are fond of saying that we will fight no more wars on foreign soil. We will stay at home and mind our own business, instead; if anyone wants to fight us, he will have to come over here to do it. We will make our defense impregnable and keep our collective nose out of affairs that do not concern us.

That is a nice resolve to make, but it looks very much as if someone down in Washington hasn't heard about it.

For when you consider the strength of our navy and the tremendous strategic importance of our isolated position, you will find it very hard to believe that we need such an expensive army purely for defensive purposes.

Someone must be working on the theory that we are going to be fighting another overseas war some day. The army program doesn't make sense on any other basis.

This isn't said in criticism of the army authorities. They don't shape policy; they shape the military program to fit policies laid down by their civilian superiors.

And those superiors must have tipped them off to the fact that the administration isn't casting our army for a purely defensive role. Let's hope the congressional subcommittee takes time to find out about it.

The brainless old-timer who "didn't know it was loaded" has been replaced by the drinking driver who didn't know he had been.

KINDRED FEELING

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Mr. Roosevelt, as he moves toward some action to curb the powers he feels have been usurped by the U. S. Supreme Court, will undertake to show that his attitude toward the Constitution is similar to that of the founding fathers who wrote it, and that members of the court are the ones who have misinterpreted that document.

In his first message to this Congress, the president urged all hands to read the constitutional debates. You can do that with surprising results, because the history of the Constitution's origins is still unknown to the great bulk of Americans.

Just how interesting such study can be was demonstrated in Washington the other day by Irving Brant of the St. Louis Star-Times, an authority whose "Storm Over the Constitution" is kept in the People's Lobby, it would follow that the government had constitutional power to go far beyond anything found in the New Deal.

No answer to Brant's effort to prove that government monopolies are constitutional is available, because the American Liberty League, which was asked to send the chairman of its lawyers' committee or somebody else to debate the point, didn't accept the invitation.

Three days before the Constitution was signed, Brant pointed out, one James Wilson of Pennsylvania told the convention, "As to mercantile monopolies, they are already included in the power to regulate trade."

Wilson was the outstanding legal scholar of his time and Washington later made him one of the original justices of the supreme court.

BRANT finds further evidence in the fact that George Mason of Virginia gave as one reason for his refusal to sign the Constitution that "the Congress may grant monopolies in trade and commerce."

Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts, also refusing to sign, complained that "under the power of commerce, monopolies may be established."

James Madison, often called the Constitution's "father," said that "the power to regulate commerce is indivisible and ought to be wholly under one authority."

Madison also proposed in letters to Washington and Edmund Randolph of Virginia: "Let the national government . . . have a negative in all cases whatsoever on the legislative acts of the states as the king of Great Britain heretofore had. This I conceive to be essential and the least possible abridgment of the state sovereignties."

Madison further recommended that states be reduced to "the condition of counties." Alexander Hamilton, meanwhile, was saying that states, as states, "ought to be abolished."

There were seven staunch defenders of state sovereignty at the convention, Brant said, and all seven took a walk or refused to sign. So how, he asks, can anyone consider the Constitution a states' rights document? (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Letters From Our Readers

To the Editor:

Harry Graves of Georgetown, one of the ablest, fairest-minded leaders of the Texas legislature, has introduced, presumably by request of some of his constituents, a bill forbidding "any person, firm or corporation," engaged in supplying the public with heat, water, gas or electricity, to sell the appliances which have to be employed in using these services. The bill has been referred to the House committee on municipal and private corporations. Its merits and demerits should be and no doubt will be thoroughly and publicly discussed before that committee acts upon it.

The bill, by the way, does not prohibit municipally-owned utilities to sell appliances.

The argument for the bill, stated in its Section 8, is that the sale of appliances by utilities tends to create a monopoly of the appliance trade for the utilities and is therefore unfair to the public.

The history of the utility industry, with which I am probably as fully acquainted as any man in Texas, proves the contrary is true.

Electric and gas utilities, trying legitimately to increase the sales of their product, have encouraged the development, and have pioneered the introduction into general use, of every single one of the appliances now employed in homes to lighten the labor of American women. They have invested many millions of dollars in creating this trade from which the bill under discussion proposes arbitrarily, and without compensation, to exclude them. They employ special staffs of expert workmen to "service" these appliances, in every emergency, 24 hours a day, 365 days in the year, so that homes using them may be assured of continuous efficient operation.

As this trade in gas and electric appliances, thus developed by the utilities, grew in volume, tens of thousands of other merchants entered into it, in competition with the utilities, buying appliances at wholesale from the same manufacturers who supply the utilities.

Today these competing merchants handle a very much larger share of the appliance business than the utilities.

The utilities have never questioned the lawful right of other merchants thus to compete with them. To the contrary, with few if any exceptions, they have welcomed such competition as an additional spur to increased sales of gas and electricity. They have never, so far as I ever heard, refused to supply emergency service for appliances bought from other merchants, exactly as they do for their own appliance customers,—service which their competitors are not equipped to give.

Thus under the existing system, which the bill proposes to change, the public enjoys real and com-

Farmers of Eastland County Have Organized Pools to Buy Fertilizer

Recent meetings of farmers in Rising Star, Gorman and Cisco to discuss fertilizers have resulted in committees being appointed to secure car lot prices and make plans to pool orders in each respective section of the county, according to Rhno V. Cook, County Agent. Cook thinks other results of the meetings will be that more fertilizers will be bought from retail dealers in the county and higher analysis fertilizers will be demanded by farmers, which will mean a big saving in the cost per pound of plant food bought.

A fertilizer pool in the Cisco territory will be in charge of W. B. Starr, Herman Schaefer and W. K. Prange, which committee will have prices and other information at the Cisco Chamber of Commerce not later than Saturday, January 30th. Those wishing to order through the Cisco pool may leave their order with J. E. Spencer, Secretary, or T. G. Caudle, Agricultural Director, Cisco Chamber of Commerce, between Saturday, January 30th and Saturday, Feb. 6th.

W. B. Starr has advised that there will be a final fertilizer meeting at the Cisco Chamber of Commerce at 2 p. m., Feb. 6th, at which time final orders in the pool will be accepted. Those wishing information on fertilizers before ordering may come to this final meeting prepared to leave their order and a deposit of approximately 25 per cent of their total order.

mittee, which is anxious to contact farmers in that territory, who will use fertilizers this year, is composed of Bill Tune, Pete Roach, George Goss and C. L. Wilson. J. J. Brown, George C. Snyder, W. F. Rogers and J. W. Wood are on the Gorman Fertilizer Committee and are making plans to help farmers of that territory on fertilizers.

Merchants in Ranger and Gorman, who usually stock fertilizers, have advised that they will receive orders as usual.

County Agricultural workers have been placing the latest information on fertilizers in the hands of those interested in order to prevent the usual mistakes made in buying and using them. The County Agent has been supplying copies of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin No. 329 "Commercial Fertilizers in 1935-36" which gives unbiased information on fertilizers. This bulletin is compiled annually by Dr. G. S. Fraps, State Chemist.

In a letter to W. B. Starr recently, Dr. Fraps stated:

"Our analysis of the soils of your section show that they are low in active phosphate acid, a little better in nitrogen, and still better in potash. The Windthorst fine sandy loam, the most expensive type, has a grade of 4 for nitrogen, 5 for active phosphoric acid, and 3 for active potash. Grade 5 is the lowest grade and Grade 1 is the highest. This means that your soils are quite likely to be deficient in nitrogen and phosphoric acid, but whether or not they are deficient in potash is doubtful."

W. B. Starr cites results he obtained several years ago on small plots of sweet potatoes fertilized with various fertilizers. Plots fertilized with nitrogen and phosphorus showed results in favor of using these elements, while plots fertilized with potash showed no increased yields. The above information added to opinions of farmers of the County who have fertilized for years leads to the assumption that potash is not badly needed by plants growing in Eastland County sandy soils.

News From 4-H Clubs of County

Plans for Closet Improvement.

"I plan to make two closets out of one," says Virginia Cordwell, demonstrator of the Flatwoods 4-H Club girls. "The closet is very large and is between the two bedrooms. There is only one door and by having a door at both ends but in different sides, it will be more convenient for all of us. I will put in two rods; one for me and one for my parents. The closet will be extended to the ceiling and a separate door put in. Now, that space is only a dust-catcher but will be used for storing quilts. I plan to add two shoe-racks."

Learning to Sew.

"I made my first apron, slip and dress when I joined the 4-H club," says Verna Eaves, wardrobe demonstrator of the Kokomo 4-H club girls. "I feel that I have learned a lot about sewing since I joined the club. I had less machine stitching to take out when I pinned and basted a seam. The first commercial pattern I used was very difficult but by studying the direction sheet, I was able to use it successfully. Putting in sleeves may be made quite simple by matching the notches carefully. I placed pins at the notches, holding the sleeve toward me so that I could ease in the fullness at the top. For a sleeve that has a great amount of fullness to ease in, run a gathering thread along seam allowance between notches."

Filling the Pantry.

"Since I was the garden demonstrator, I was to can for the entire family," says Essie Lou Marsh of the Romney Girls' 4-H Club. "I canned 26 quarts of English peas, 12 quarts of kraut, 32 quarts of cucumber pickles, 18 quarts of string beans, 12 quarts Irish potatoes, 46 pints tomatoes, 92 quarts

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It usually happens that the more sensational a Senate investigating committee digs up, the more sure certain interests are to seek to suppress the investigation.

This has been true in the cases of the Teapot Dome, Daugherty, munitions, lobby, Wall Street, silicosis and labor spy-civil liberties investigations. It is true today of the inquiry into railroad finance and reorganizations being conducted under Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana.

The committee has been disclosing such bizarre little secrets of high finance as how a fellow with $8000 might get control of railroad and other properties valued at $2,000,000,000, and how one great road is alleged to have "cooked" its books with the result that investors and the RFC lent it money under a misapprehension as to facts.

The story of how it was arranged that one man could buy control of $375,000 and its accompanying powers for each one dollar he put up was as astonishing as anything heard in Washington in a long time. Few get the significance of it even yet, for the detailed testimony was tiresome and hard to follow.

The committee's early hearings have touched on the affairs of only one system, that of the Van Sweringens, and the bookkeeping of one road, the Missouri Pacific. A Senate resolution, ordering it to inquire into relations between railroads and security houses and banks, provided that Railroad Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman should designate 25 roads or systems for investigation.

The committee can't do the job on the $100,000 the Senate appropriated and of course the customary way for lobbyists to stop a Senate investigation is to persuade certain senators in a key position of corn, and 48 quarts of black-eyed peas. I valued my canned food at $50.00. My method enabled me to have an early garden and a surplus to sell. Besides the canned food and supply for the table, I sold 9 bushels of English peas, at $1.00 a bushel; 185 pounds of cabbage at 2 1-2 cents per pound; 50 pounds of onions at 3 1-2 cents per pound; 100 pounds of dried beans at 5 1-2c per pound; 200 ears of roasting corn at $1.00 per 100; and 150 pounds of tomatoes at 4c per pound. The total amount sold came to $28.87 which will buy my clothes for a year."

Closet Improvement.

"My closet improvement cost 35c," says Rosa Mae Harbin, wardrobe demonstrator of the Flatwoods 4-H Club Girls. "The wire on which I hung the coat hanger was replaced with a stick. Three more shelves were added at one end of the closet for storing folded garments. Often I had to hang two dresses on the same coat hanger. The dress on the bottom looked like it had never been ironed. I added six more coat hangers to avoid this. The top of the closet was fixed with a separate door and quilts were stored there."

"The shelves were painted

Black-Draught High In Quality Without Being High In Price

Black-Draught is "easy to pay for" because it is so economically packed and so reliable.

But as to quality, there's nothing "cheap" about it. For instance, its principal active ingredient is the leaves of a certain species of plant that are brought 10,000 miles from where they grow to the factory where the medicine is made. These leaves from far, far away, help to give Black-Draught its well-known "laxative reliability." They could not be left out, or substituted, without real loss of good medicinal quality.

For a good, purely vegetable laxative, insist on Black-Draught. About 25 doses in each 25-cent package.

LYING DOWN ON THE JOB

Automobile and glass industry workers aren't the only ones who can stage a sit-down strike. Knitting mill hands at Philadelphia have demonstrated. Lounging in coats set up in front of their machines, the group above tend to their "knitting" by holding the fort.

Arcadia Road Show Tuesday

Leslie Howard and Norma Shearer in "Romeo and Juliet"

The Wheeler committee has partly investigated the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Great Western, Kansas City Southern, Pennsylvania, Missouri Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Chicago & Eastern Illinois roads.

It has not yet touched the New England roads, Chicago & Northwestern, Southern, Central of Georgia, Seaboard, Illinois Central, Frisco, Erie, Pere Marquette, and one or two other roads.

THE way it was arranged for one dollar to control $375,000 was revealed in the story of Allegheny Corporation, holding company which headed up the three road empire. Control of Allegheny shares meant control of jobs of dozens of big railroad executives and tens of thousands of employees, with salaries and wages running into millions, of dozens of lawyers, of hundreds of millions in contracts and subsidiary corporations.

The shares, among collateral pledged to Morgan and other New York bankers for a loan, were sold to Midamerica, organized by the Van Sweringens, for $375,000. Controlling shares in Midamerica were owned by George Ball of Muncie, Republican national committeeman from Indiana.

Ball and his associate, George A. Tomlinson of Cleveland, gave their friends, the Van Sweringens brothers, a 10-year option under which they could buy the controlling shares of Midamerica for $8250. The Van Sweringens died. Does Mr. Ball still want to sell at that price?

spite of the drought," says Etoile Akers, garden cooperator of the Romney 4-H Club Girls. "I had a variety of vegetables in my garden such as beans, carrots, cabbages, English peas, lettuce, mustard, pepper, spinach, turnips, tomatoes and cucumbers. The total cost of the seeds was $3.60. A new wire for the garden and the fertilizer cost $14.10. The value of the garden was estimated at $100.70 with a net profit of $86.60. I canned 368 quarts of vegetables and fruits, dried 40 pounds of beans and put up 44 quarts of cucumber pickles."

Food Preservation.

"A demonstration is not completed until others are shown how to do it," says Johnnie Foster, garden cooperator of the Girls' 4-H club at Carbon. "My brother that borrow her sealer. With her help and equipment, I was able to can 250 quarts of vegetables."

"With the help of my brother we built a pantry in an oil field so we used scrap lumber, and the cost amounted to 15c."

CONSTIPATION MAY LEAD TO COLDS

Every doctor will tell you the first thing to do to avoid suffering from colds—is to be sure you are not constipated. Constipation clogs up the system. It weakens resistance, and infections take hold.

End common constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. This cereal supplies the "bulk" your system needs for normal, natural action. It also gives vitamin B to tone up the intestines—and iron for the blood.

In the body, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water. It forms a soft mass, which gently exercises and sponges out the intestines.

Eat two tablespoonfuls a day, either as a cereal with milk or fruits, or in cooked dishes. Chronic cases, with each meal. Will help you stay regular without having to take pills and drugs—that often make conditions worse.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold at all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WE RUN OUR HOUSE ON THE Huddle System!

Maybe two can live as cheaply as one—on a desert island. But right after we married, Jim and I soon found out that running a house costs money—more, we first thought, than we could manage to scrape together.

Things are easier now. It took a while for us to learn, but we have the plan down pat. Jim calls it our "huddle system."

There really isn't any trick about it. We have a budget, of course—so much for food, clothes, amusements, luxuries, vacation. But having a budget is one thing. Making it work is another. There's where the system comes in.

Religiously, each day, we read the advertisements in this paper—together. Jim looks for the things he is most interested in—suits, shirts, golf equipment, books, smoking supplies. I look out for myself—shoes, dresses, winter coat, cosmetics. Both of us keep our eyes open for household needs—furniture, draperies, bathroom accessories, linens. Then we go into a "huddle"—report to each other—check over our budget—spend what we can for what we feel we need—and save!

Careful buying, Jim says, is the secret of saving money. But careful reading of advertising, we both agree, comes first!

Panhandle Oil Set Record in 1936

By United Press

MARILLO, Texas—Matching oil industry of the nation, it broke production records throughout 1936, the Panhandle field in Texas experienced the greatest year in dollars and cents in its history.

Products of the oil and gas industries in the Panhandle last brought $81,574,732, 12 1-2 cent more than the field's previous year, 1935.

An increase centered around gas industry, which spurred unprecedented heights. Gas and products for the first time greater in value than oil and products. The comparative figures were $30,723,000 for the industry and $29,851,000 for all industry.

The $20,000,000 payroll for the gas and companion industries, $4,000,000 in excess of 1935. During 1936 the sour gas belt into its own. Neglected for sour gas production was stepped up after legislation was limiting the manufacture of gas, after gasoline extraction, black to the residue of the sour gas areas at a sum. Sour gas development is continued into 1937 and for believe the incoming year surpass 1936.

BE- IN HERE TODAY
BO, THO BLANE, Hotel manager, proprietors from 7000 to 7100, CABLET ROCKSAVAGE, at 7100. A note found in Blane's cabin, addressed to his secretary NICHOLAS STODART, indicated a suite since he had booked a suite. A memo written by Stodart shows Blane's company stock, ARCHA SEEDS, closing at a new low that day.

Detective Officer KETTERING boards yacht at Miami for investigation. First examining Rock-savage, Stodart and Ringbottom, cabin steward. Stodart suggests a check of records.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER III
HAVING taken statements from Captain Derringham, Mr. Rock-savage, Mr. Stodart and the cabin steward, Ringbottom, I then proceeded to Suite C which had been allotted to Bolitho Blane. It consisted of a drawing room, a study and a private bathroom. On the other side of the drawing room there was a single stateroom, which, I am told, had been allotted to Stodart, in order that he might be near his employer.

THE PERSON WHO HAD DONE IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE BLOOD WAS SPILLED, AS PROBABLE, MOST OF THE BLOOD WOULD HAVE BEEN ABSORBED, HENCE THE FAINTNESS OF THE DISCOLORATION. THE PATCH IS STILL DAMP AND MEASURES ABOUT EIGHT INCHES BY FIVE, ALTHOUGH IT IS PROBABLE THAT, IF THE BLOOD WAS SPILLED HERE, IT WAS NO MORE THAN A FEW DROPS AND THE MAIN PATCH OF DAMP WAS CAUSED BY AN ENDEAVOR TO CLEAN THE CARPET AFTERWARDS.

MEMO
To Detective Officer Kettering:
First report on Bolitho Blane received. I note your view that there are no suspicious circumstances attached to the case. I agree that Blane's innuendoes against Rock-savage are apparently quite unfounded and due only to Blane's abnormal state of mind just before taking his own life.

Prints of the photographs taken by South-wold have just come to hand and are attached herewith. In print B, you will note two parallel lines across the carpet, running in a curve from the table to the porthole in the drawing room. Please make a close examination of these at once.
If, after examination of Blane's suite, you are satisfied that no circumstances point to his death having been framed you can give the occupants of the yacht a clear bill, but the Captain, Rock-savage, Stodart and the steward, Ringbottom, should be warned that they will be required to give evidence at the inquest.

John Milton Schwab
Lieutenant,
Florida Police.
P.S. Sorry to get you out of bed so early, but if the marks on the carpet do mean anything you'll be in time to take special measures before the party are up and about. J.M.S.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS
WILL H. MAYES, AUSTIN, TEXAS
In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.
Q. Has the Texas Highway Patrol been an additional tax burden on the people of the State? H. B. A. Chief L. G. Phares has submitted a report for 1936, showing that the operation of the highway patrol cost $234,285, while collections from its enforcement program have been $539,178.
Q. Does the grapefruit leading industry of Florida lead Texas growers to believe it will be popular in Texas? L. C. M. A. Florida is now canning about half of its 16,000,000 box crop of this season, the former top record being 3,500,000 boxes in 1934. The canned product has become a strong competitor of the fresh fruit of this state and California.
Q. Several Texans would like for you to tell something of the Texas career of "Shanghai" Pierce L. N. A. A. H. ("Shanghai") Pierce was born June 29, 1834, at Little Compton, R. I., lived from 1847 to 1853 with an uncle in Virginia, when he came to Texas and landed at Fort Lavaca. In 1855, took a heard of cattle to New Orleans for W. B. Grimes; was in the Civil War under Col. Buehler; at close of war began buying and selling cattle, paying with gold which he had a negro take along with him, spreading the gold on the ground and counting it out as purchases were made. He operated a large ranch on the Colorado River south of El Campo.

Q. What became of the eight-pound cannon captured from the Mexicans at the Battle of San Jacinto? H. B. O. A. It was mounted on the "Independence" of the Texas navy and was recaptured with that ship by the Mexicans April 1, 1837. The vessel's crew and passengers, including William H. Whorton, who was returning from his diplomatic mission to the United States, were imprisoned in Mexico until July, when they all escaped. What became of the gun is not known.

SLOW DRIVER CHARGED
By United Press
CLEVELAND—Officials ordered arrest of Yvon Milre, 47, when he did not appear in police court to answer a charge of obstructing traffic. Milre, they said, reversed the usual traffic problem by driving down Euclid Avenue at 10 miles an hour drinking reflectively from a can of tomato juice.

FERNS CATCH COLD
By United Press
PASADENA, Calif. — William H. Nichols, park superintendent, has announced that ferns catch cold the same as human beings. If left in a draft, they turn yellow and watering or other means to restore them are useless. The only remedy he declares is to avoid too much draft.

Popeye Heads Bill At Local Theatre

There's something new under the sun and it's nothing but your old pal Popeye.

For years theatre managers have been telling their patrons through every known means of advertising of the merits of their feature pictures, and until a few years ago rarely mentioned their shorts subjects. However, here of late short reels have gained patronage by leaps and bounds and according to local theatre employe scores, of patrons call down daily asking for information regarding short subjects being shown in connection with the feature picture.

Today at the Ranger Arcadia the short really comes into its own, when Popeye the Sailor takes the top billing over one of the most entertaining features of the year, but, according to E. E. Garner, local theatre manager, Popeye is really entitled to the top spot as he will really sell more tickets at the box office than the very fine cast headed by Nino Martini, Leo Carrillo and Ida Lupino in "The Gay Desperado," the feature attraction on the same bill. One advantage of operating a motion picture theatre instead of a theatre with living actors, according to Garner, is that you can handle your advertising and publicity as you see fit, giving each actor or unit the billing spot it is entitled to. Garner offered for example the failure of an opera company in Fort Worth last Wednesday to put on a performance due to the fact that the leading lady refused to sing her role, since one of the smaller leads had received more publicity, according to people "in the know."

In the Popeye film today, incidentally, which is the longest cartoon ever to come out of Hollywood, Popeye meets "Sinbad the Sailor," and according to advance reports the going gets plenty tough.

Ranger Jr, College To Play Tarleton

STEPHENVILLE.—John Tarleton's record-making Plowboys will try for their sixty-ninth and seventieth straight wins tonight at Tarleton gymnasium when they play their first conference double header in years.

With 68 straight wins behind them, the Plowboys will take on the Hillsboro junior college five at 7:30 p. m., and immediately afterwards the Ranger junior college cagers. Coach Wisdom's men are in top condition and will be fighting to extend their unprecedented winning streak. Wisdom predicts a couple of good scraps, and a particularly good one with Coach Frank James' Hillsboro boys.

James, former all-Southwestern conference back from Baylor University, is rumored to have built up the best basketball team in the history of the Hillsboro school. They'd like to be the ones to push Tarleton off the top of the pile. Tarleton pushed their record winning streak to 68 games Tuesday night, when they defeated the Weatherford college, 41-22. Last Saturday night, they swamped the Decatur Baptists, 77-19. Leading the scoring is 6 ft. 5 in. Carl McConachie of El Paso, who has 88 points to his credit. Jude Smith has 77 points; Hull, 56; Tinker, 41; Carrigan, 28; and Killen 21.
