RAH TAKES UP FIGHT ON COURT CHANGE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Sen. Borah, veteran Idahoan, today lead foes of President Roosevelt's court plan in an appeal to the judiciary committee upon attorney general Cummings' plea before the judiciary committee for action on the proposal. Borah listened intently to the attorney general's plea and then declared that action was premature to inject new blood in the nation's judicial system. Cummings declared the need for the plan rested upon the impossible situation by reckless use of injunctions in federal laws. Presence of the federal courts of aged judges. The crowded condition of federal dockets. The delays in the lower courts and the heavy burden on the supreme court. Need of an effective system to infuse new blood into the judiciary. Cummings denied sharply that the plan implied a dictatorship or set a dangerous precedent.

Chicago Cab Strike Parley

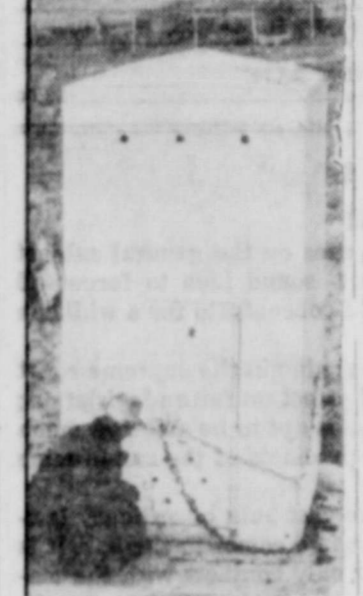

Shadowy silhouettes of Chicago's skyscrapers towered in the background of striking cab drivers, pictured above as they stopped another cabbie to "talk union" to him. Eight hundred drivers met, voted to strike, and set out to inform the city's 6,000 taxicab and clear the streets of all cabs if possible. They sought one union for all, company-paid gasoline and 40 per cent commission.

Modern 'Cooler' for Prisoners

When engineers at Chattanooga wanted a dungeon for the new county workhouse, they thought of "coolers," and evolved this modern mechanical refrigerator. It is 10 feet high, made of thick concrete, reinforced with steel. Nine holes admit air, but no light. It has no seat, no bed. Cornbread and water are shoveled through a double-locked door at the bottom. Inside it is dark, dry and night.

CONGRESS IS LAUNCHED ON COURT PLAN

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Roosevelt launched congress on consideration of judiciary reorganization today with a demand for action now "to save the constitution from the court and the court from itself." The white house reported 500 messages were received by Mr. Roosevelt on his "fireside chat." Aides said telegrams arriving after the broadcast were "three to one in favor of his program." The president appealed for speedy action. He warned that the disaster of 1929 may be repeated within a year or two if his policies are not enacted and approved by the courts. Mr. Roosevelt challenged those who charged "dictatorship." He denied intent to pack the court with puppets. Again he presented to the nation his desire to appoint six younger men to the supreme court, extending its membership to 15. If half a dozen justices beyond the 70 age retirement age refuses to retire.

Churches Given Power Water Rate by Commissioners

The regular meeting of the commission Tuesday night, it voted that water be furnished churches of Ranger at actual cost of purchase, pumping and piping the water for city consumption. The action was taken after representatives from the churches of Ranger appeared before the commission and requested a lower rate in order that the funds around the churches might be used in a better condition through the summer months. The order did include water used in the churches' parlors. At the same meeting the commission voted to purchase a new purifier for the water used in the city in order that it might meet standards of purification. The unit will pre-chlorinate the water in addition to the treating process that is now in use. The remainder of the commission meeting was taken up with business matters.

CIO BEGINS ORGANIZING OF TEXTILE MEN

By United Press
HOUSTON, March 10.—Efforts to bring representatives of 100 sit-down strikers and officials of the Emsco Derrick and Equipment Company together for a conference failed today. The Committee for Industrial Organization announced today it was beginning its drive to organize the textile mills with a $600,000 fund. This development came shortly after rivalry between the CIO and the American Federation of Labor was so clearly drawn that it appeared every union worker in the nation would have to choose between the two groups. The CIO prepared to establish a series of local unions. The AF of L move to combat the CIO in the steel industry was rejected today when the Carnegie, Ill., Steel Corp. Union vetoed a proposal to become affiliated with the federation. At Chicago 56 strikers who were arrested on disorderly conduct charges after first violence in the taxi drivers strike were released on bond. At San Francisco cab drivers who threatened a strike were guaranteed a minimum of $5 a day. While union leaders began negotiations with General Motors and Chrysler, Gov. Frank Murphy was speeding home to help settle sit-down strikes which have thrown 75,000 out of work. Meanwhile the plants of Chrysler and Hudson Motor Car company were picketed.

A water survey of Eastland county, scheduled to require two months' work, will be started Thursday, March 25, by Howard Samuels, engineer for the U. S. Geological survey. Arrangements have been completed by Eastland city officials through the Chamber of Commerce to furnish transportation to the men and from their work. Samuels is coming to Eastland from Breckenridge, where a similar project has been completed in Stephens county.

Rigid Enforcement of Eastland Speed Limit of 20 Miles An Hour is Slated

Traffic safety regulatory measures will be strictly enforced in Eastland, Police Chief W. J. Peters pointed out to motorists on Wednesday. Said the police chief: "The speed limit in Eastland is 20 miles an hour. The speed of an automobile must not exceed that limit. The department is prepared to enforce the speed limit. Speed many times is the cause of fatal automobile accidents. "Public opinion is backing officers throughout the nation for the strict enforcement of laws in an effort to reduce the alarming increase in fatal automobile accidents. "Last year over 36,000 were killed in the United States in automobile accidents. The vast majority of that number was certainly preventable. "The officers solicit your cooperation." Chief Peters also called attention to the disregard of some motorists to stop signs. The signs "mean just that" and must be observed, he warned.

It seems to me there is a real possibility an amendment of this nature could be ratified now," Sen. Mahoney said.

Two hundred and forty-one gallons of liquor seized recently by the sheriff's department, acting as an agent for the Texas Liquor Control board, has been returned under the same authority to the Red Front Drug store at Cisco. The liquor was returned to the drug store after receipt of an explanatory telegram to Sheriff Woods from C. A. Paxon, chief supervisor for the board at Austin. A copy of was as follows: "Since there is grave doubt and delay in court rulings on right of seizures of liquors under nuisance complaint and that seizure of liquor was probably unlawful would suggest return of same to drug store and that such action not subsequently taken until courts have decided issue involved." SHERIFF AT JEFFERSON IS SLAIN TODAY

By United Press
JEFFERSON, March 10.—Sheriff J. A. Brown of Marion County was killed today by an unidentified assailant who fired through the window of the officer's home. Sheriff Brown was preparing to retire when a charge of buckshot killed him. He was partly undressed. His wife, sitting on a bed and chatting with him, saw him fall. A posse was hastily formed and bloodhounds brought to the Brown home in an attempt to pick up the trail of the slayer. The dogs followed a scent for a distance of three blocks. It was believed the assassin escaped in an automobile. Sheriff Brown had been leading a drive against bootlegging and punning in this East Texas town, which during the past two months has experienced an oil boom. The 42 year old peace officer had patrolled the streets of Jefferson until midnight, then went to his home on the ground floor of the jail building. O. B. Beard, a prisoner in the jail, said he saw a man approach the building. He heard a shot and saw the man running. State Rangers hurried to Jefferson during the morning to assist in the search.

State, County Courts Could Stand Reform

While the country has its eyes on the general subject of court reform, it might be a sound idea to forget all about the federal judiciary and concentrate for a while on the courts nearer home.

What happens to the august nine in the supreme court building may have a profound effect on future legislation; but the life of the average man is apt to be affected much more by what happens in the precincts of the run-of-mine state and county courts.

It is in these courts that the vast bulk of ordinary lawsuits are tried. It is here that crime comes to the bar. It is here that most of us make our only contacts with the machinery of justice.

What about these courts? Are they in line for a little of this much discussed reform?

They vary, of course, from state to state. But the most obvious thing about them is that most of them have a striking resemblance to the mills of the gods, in that they grind exceedingly slow.

The typical state court is clogged with legislation. Judges and lawyers fall over their own feet. Outworn procedure claps hand with the quaint custom of giving judges a three-month holiday every summer.

If the spirit moves you to go to law with your neighbor, you may wait all of two years before the case comes to trial—by which time, unless you are a stout fellow, you are apt to forget what you had in mind when you filed the action.

Most states elect their judges, thereby making certain that the average occupant of the bench will be a time-serving politician rather than a learned jurist.

The average court's dignity rests almost solely on the judge's power to fine anyone present for contempt of court—a power which some judges exercise with all the ferocity of a Bloody Jeffreys.

Of that dignity which arises from unquestioned probity, single-minded devotion to abstract justice, and a profound familiarity with the problems of life and law, the ordinary state court has barely a trace.

What we get out of all this—with certain distinguished exceptions, of course—is a dreary tangle in which justice is all too apt to get bogged down by the roadside.

It is a tangle in which the rich litigant has every conceivable advantage over the poor one. The man who is equipped with a smart or a politically influential lawyer has every advantage over the man who is not.

The big criminal—big in the sense that he has money, brains and "connections"—is practically certain to slip through the meshes; the little one, on the other hand, is apt to get a punishment severe beyond his deserts.

Altogether, it must be said that few American institutions cry to heaven for reform more loudly than do our state courts and the procedure under which they operate. When we get this supreme court business settled, can't we give these local courts a little of our attention?

What we get out of all this—with certain distinguished exceptions, of course—is a dreary tangle in which justice is all too apt to get bogged down by the roadside.

It is a tangle in which the rich litigant has every conceivable advantage over the poor one. The man who is equipped with a smart or a politically influential lawyer has every advantage over the man who is not.

The big criminal—big in the sense that he has money, brains and "connections"—is practically certain to slip through the meshes; the little one, on the other hand, is apt to get a punishment severe beyond his deserts.

Altogether, it must be said that few American institutions cry to heaven for reform more loudly than do our state courts and the procedure under which they operate. When we get this supreme court business settled, can't we give these local courts a little of our attention?

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

MOST of the moon's mountains are ring-shaped, surrounding the mysterious circular craters, and they may rise anywhere from 1000 to 20,000 feet above the neighboring trees. The craters are so similar in appearance to terrestrial volcanoes that it is assumed they have the same origin. However, this theory does not stand up under all tests.

OUT OUR WAY" - - - - - By William

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

By MARIE BLIZARD

BEGIN HERE TODAY DAPHNE BRETT, charming young New York advertising executive, visits her father's Connecticut estate to LAURIE MITCHELL, attractive young bachelor architect, and promptly likes him tremendously. Daphne has one sister, six years younger, JENNIFER, just out of college and at her best job. Jennifer, resenting Daphne's attempts to guide her and proceed to date a certain ARKLE WINSLEY, wealthy playboy. Next she meets Larry and, finding he is not married, makes a play for his attentions. This develops a struggle between the sisters for the same man. One night Larry dates Daphne. At the same time Jennifer, against Daphne's orders, dates one of Tuck's set and comes home at dawn incandescent. The sisters come to a showdown, reconcile, but Daphne, it is clear, is bound to live her own life, marry Tuck. Anyway, she had set her heart on a slick husband from the beginning. Meanwhile Larry proposes to Daphne and she, after a night of bliss, falls asleep that night, deliciously happy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII HURRY UP, Jennifer. Your breakfast is ready. "I've loads of time," Jennifer, with her hat and coat on, stood in the doorway to the small kitchen. "Neat trick of yours, Miss Brett, setting the clock ahead." She pulled a chair up to the table of the cabinet which served as her morning breakfast table. "Well, you don't want to lose your job, do you?" Daphne poured cocoa into two cups and snapped off the switch on the toaster. "I don't care much if I do." "Oh, Jennifer, please don't! Thirty-five a week is the best you've done, and we're getting along so nicely." "There isn't much future in being a model," Jennifer went on hopefully. "There might be. Some day you might get to be a photographer's model and, who knows, maybe the movies will be next." "Oh, no! Wouldn't that be wonderful?" Daphne buttered the toast. Yes, it would, but I wouldn't entertain the idea. Tell me about it tonight. Your girl friends usually have a lot of news. Daphne was playing for time. She didn't want Jennifer to ask her what she had said. Jennifer, looking at her sister under a cloud, said casually, "I remember you heard that Jerry and Betty were married at Armonk Wednesday." "That's closed," I think that's probably going to do." "I don't put her cup down," Jennifer said. "Why was it?" "It's not like you to do that."

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Hayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Where was "Torry's Trading House"?

A. "Torry's Trading House," where Texas Indians, mostly To-washes, took dressed skins to exchange for cloth and other things in the 1840's, was about seven miles east of Waco and three miles northeast of the Brazos river, on "Trading House Tehuacana."

Q. What is the thickness of the adobe walls of the old church of San Antonio at Yalesa, Texas?

A. When built the walls (108 ft. long) were 10 feet thick, but erosion has reduced them to six feet.

Q. Where did LaSalle establish Fort St. Louis?

A. There is no conclusive proof of the location except that it was either on Lavaca bay or on Lavaca river some miles up. LaSalle explored Matagorda bay in 1685 while seeking the mouth of the Mississippi, suffered ship wreck and set up at least a temporary camp there.

Q. Was Indianola ever the county seat of Calhoun county?

A. It was, from the organization of the county in 1846 until after the storm of Sept. 16, 1875, that destroyed the town. The courthouse that stood some 50 or 60 feet from the shore has almost entirely crumbled away. Port Lavaca is now the county seat.

Q. How many truck accidents have occurred in Texas in the last five years and with what results?

A. Figures compiled from newspaper clippings by the Railway and Express employees association show that from 1932 to 1936 inclusive there were 8,416 accidents in which trucks on highways were involved, in which 2,190 were killed and 11,963 were injured. Property loss is not reported.

Prior to his present appointment, Kellam served as assistant state director. He came to the National Youth Administration from the State Department of Education where he served for a number of years as Deputy State Superintendent and later as State Director of the Rural Aid Division.

He is 36 years old and a graduate of Southwest Texas State Teachers College and The University of Texas. While attending school at San Marcos, Kellam took an active part in student affairs, serving as business manager of the college paper and captain of the football team. Upon his graduation he taught and coached football at Lufkin High School for a number of years. During a summer school session he also taught at the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College at Nacogdoches.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. GAYNOR MADDOX

ONE splash of strawberry makes the whole world happier. They begin to arrive now in our markets—bright little baskets of earliest strawberries—to make us forget the gray skies of winter, to banish monotony from the family menu. Indulge your appetite—they are not expensive, especially when combined with other fruits.

Strawberry Juice Cocktail (serves 6) One-half pint strawberries, 2 cups water, 3 tablespoons sugar (or 1-1/2 tablespoons new honey) juice of 1-2 lemon and 1-2 fresh lime.

Clean and hull strawberries. Set a few aside for garnish. Add the berries to water, cook for about 15 minutes. Mash and strain through cheesecloth. Add sugar or honey and fruit juices. Chill. Serve in tall glasses with a whole berry in each as garnish.

Strawberry-Preserved Fig Pie (6 servings) Baked pastry shell, 3-4 pint strawberries, 1-4 cup cut-up preserved figs, 1-4 cups sugar, 1-2 cup water, 1-2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1-16 teaspoon salt, 3 egg whites, 1-2 teaspoon almond extract, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Fill pastry shell with cleaned strawberries and cut-up preserved figs. In saucepan, place sugar, water, cream of tartar. Cover and bring to boil. Uncover and continue to cook until it spins a thread. Beat egg whites until stiff, then slowly pour the syrup over them, continuing to beat until mixture forms in peaks. Add flavoring. Spread this white blessing over the filled pastry shell.

Plain cottage pudding plus a strawberry sauce becomes a Cinderella of a spring dessert. For simple custards, junkets and other such, this strawberry sauce has a de luxe manner that places dessert on the list of memorable events.

Strawberry Sauce (6 servings) Two cups sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 2 egg whites, 2 cups mashed strawberries, pinch salt, 1-4 teaspoon almond extract. Cream butter until light, then gradually add sugar and cream together until light and fluffy. Slowly stir in mashed strawberries and mix thoroughly. Add salt and almond extract. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into other mixture. Chill and serve on hot or cold desserts.

WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING

Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to soften scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no traces of free alkali, and is especially suited to tender skin. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub. Doctors recommend an oily ointment because it penetrates the outer layers of the skin more effectively. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For over 40 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve quickly the itching and burning of eczema. It contains nothing in ingredients that aid healing. Use Resinol Ointment today and enjoy comfort tomorrow. Get a jar, also a cake of Resinol Soap, at any drug store. Home County Demonstration Agent Makes Fine Talk at Club

"Never overdo the decoration of windows in small houses," said Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, who was presented as principal speaker Tuesday afternoon when members of the Co-Workers home demonstration club were entertained at the residence of Mrs. Owen Hinman.

The business session of the meeting also was of particular interest as constructive plans were made for coming meetings. The program was heard by a large group of members who were invited to meet in the home of hostess, Mrs. Louis Pitecock of Eastland, two weeks hence.

High point during the hour's program came when members of the 4-H club boys, laid fifty feet of tile for sub-irrigation benefiting a year round rose garden.

Much has been gained already this season by the club personnel who work harmoniously in every undertaking.

Once a month the members gather at the church for the rendition of a royal service program.

Mackenzie King, F.R. Plan Visit

Canada's Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, above, accepted an invitation from President Roosevelt to visit the White House for an informal discussion of matters of mutual interest to the United States and Canada. Probable topics were trade, the world situation and St. Lawrence seaway project.

Cooperation Urged In Cleanup Drive

Cooperation of the people of Ranger in cleaning up their premises was urged today by Mrs. John M. Gholson, chairman of the clean-up campaign and J. J. Kelly, co-chairman.

Trucks have been busy all this week hauling trash that has been collected by those who have already done their part in helping to clean up the city, and have hauled a large quantity of rubbish that has accumulated on vacant lots.

These trucks are supervised in the hauling by Wade Swift, who also urged that everyone help.

It was stressed that as far as possible tin cans and other trash left to be hauled should be put in sacks or boxes in order that it might be loaded with the least possible trouble and loss of time, as funds for hauling were running low and those in charge want to get all trash removed from the city, if possible.
