UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS

RANGER, TEXAS, TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 16, 1937

PRICE FIVE CENTS

NO. 244

THE WEATHER

West Texas: Mostly cloudy to night and Wednesday, warmer to night and in north and east portions Wednesday.

There might be some action, at that, in a Max Baer-Bab Pastor fight. With each bicycling backward, there are bound to be collisions.

PEACE SOUGHT IN AUTO WAR BY GOVERNOR

By United Press
DETROIT, Mar. 16.—Governor Frank Murphy strove to maintain peace in the strike-ridden industrial areas today, while 6,000 sit-down strikers indicated they would ignore an injunction ordering them to vacate nine Chrysler corporation plants by 8 a. m. on Wednesday.

Officials of the United Automobile Workers' union, who sanctioned a wave of sit-downs and walk-outs that have made more than 80,000 workers jobless in the automotive industry, declared the strikers must decide for themselves whether to obey the injunction.

Unless the plants are vacated, Circuit Judge Allen Campbell ruled that the strikers would be subject to a $10,000,000 fine levied against their liens, goods and chattels.

Pickets paraded in front of the Chrysler and Dodge factories where sit-downers are in possession, waving banners which said, "We are sticking."

Delicious Recipes Will Be Given at Cooking School

Delicious salads—savory meat dishes—complete plate dinners—new ways to prepare food and how to fix leftovers so they will taste as good if not better than the original dish, are a few of the many treats awaiting housewives of this city and vicinity when the Happy Kitchen Chautauqua comes to this city.

Prompt attendance is a request of the lecturer because after the cooking lectures and demonstrations are started, late comers necessarily interrupt and divert attention. There is no admission charge; the school is a courtesy of this newspaper to local women.

Attendants are especially requested to preserve the tickets which will be given to them each day at the door. Valuable attendance gifts will be awarded, and these prizes are all the contributions of local merchants and manufacturers participating.

There will be something in store for every woman attending the cooking school. The variety of the lecturers program speaks for itself. She has not confined her topics to those which would interest only one group of women—she has interesting information for the mother; the young married woman; the woman interested in balanced meals for their families; those seeking the "tid-bits" of cooking.

A marked sequence is noted in the outline of Miss Jessie Hogue's program, and while any one day of the school will be profitable, regular attendance is urged for the greatest benefits from the daily lectures.

The stage kitchen from which she works will also be of interest to those women who believe in "dressing up the kitchen as well as the front part of the home. Every convenience that goes to make it an attractive, restful workshop for the housewife, instead of a drab, dreaded one, will be utilized in producing a model beautiful kitchen, completely equipped.

WHAT A COME-DOWN!

For years the 100-foot chimney proudly reared its head above its surroundings in London. And, as pride goeth before a fall, it is in for a big come-down when the city fathers decide to put an extension on the nearby Bethnal Green Town Hall. You can see for yourself that the demolition was a cracking fine job.

Father Received Start in Large Business by Son

(Editor's Note: The cooperativeness of a father and son is reversed in this article, written by Hugh F. Barnhart, assistant county agent, who details the growth of a hog business owned by Rufus Cox, whose son, Clyde, started him in the enterprise.)

Clyde Cox, son of Rufus F. Cox, well-known Eastland county citizen, whose home is between Rising Star and Okra, may be said to be the first 4-H club boy in Eastland county to get his father started in the registered hog business. Senior Cox has always been a hog fancier, but he had only raised grade hogs, thinking perhaps that the cost of getting started in the registered hog business would prohibit him from doing so.

Clyde became interested in registered Poland China hogs after he joined the Okra boys' 4-H club in 1920. R. H. Rush, who is at present organization specialist of the extension service, was county agent of Eastland county at the time Clyde was a club member. Bush induced Clyde, among other 4-H club boys of Eastland county, to purchase a carload of bred registered Poland China girls. Young Cox secured his pig and cared for it under the supervision and direction of County Agent Bush, and his success was so marked that he prospered as a hog man. From this start Clyde developed quite a herd and his success was so marked that it attracted the attention of his father, Rufus Cox, who proposed a partnership.

Senior Cox had been raising cotton and grade hogs for a livelihood, but his bank account was mostly in the red, so he proposed to his son that he be taken in as a partner, and a merger was effected, and a new business firm was established at Rising Star under the firm name of Clyde Cox & Father.

In a recent interview with Senior Cox, the following statements were made: "I was really mad when Clyde bought his first bred registered gilt, because of the high cost of the gilt. About the time I had finished paying for the gilt my banker informed me that a draft had arrived at the bank against my small bank account, involving a larger number of dollars for a poor man to pay for a breeding fee. I paid the draft off but I wished Clyde would never have bought the gilt. Since that time I have regretted that I ever made that statement. I sincerely believe that 4-H club work contributed a large part in the making of my son. He received training in agriculture under a trained agricultural man, that is, R. H. Bush, who was county agent at that time, and he has had an opportunity to use this training every day since he finished his 4-H club career.

In addition to this training, Clyde received many excellent trips as rewards for the outstanding achievements he did in his club work. Clyde made many friends in his 4-H club work and these friendships have lasted up to the present time. He taught me many good farming practices and gave me many good pointers on raising of hogs, and but not least he started me in the registered hog business.

Survey Reveals Heavy Traffic Is Cause of Accidents

TULSA, Okla.—Highway surveys being conducted by the Bureau of Public Roads and state highway departments disclose one of the main reasons for the high fatality rates on American highways, according to a report of the Western Petroleum Refiners association.

The highways surveys, from some preliminary reports already made, show that in many states 60 per cent or more of the total traffic is concentrated on the primary, trunk line roads. The primary road system ordinarily composes about 10 per cent of the total road system of most states.

The heavy volume of traffic is concentrated on that relatively small mileage because they are the best roads. Heavy investments have been made in them, they have the smoothest and most comfortable driving surfaces and motorists will detour far from the most direct route to drive on them. The result is a dangerous congestion of traffic on these few roads.

The condition is illustrated in New Jersey, according to a report of Arnold S. Vey, state traffic engineer, 21 per cent of the accidents occur on the expensive main highways of the state, which comprise only six per cent of the road mileage in the state. It appears from S. Vey's report that construction of super-highways of three or four lanes serves to increase the accident rate for it immediately increases the congestion. New Jersey's safest roads are the secondary, low-cost roads according to the report. The four lane roads have the worst accident record with 3.61 accidents per million vehicle miles; three lane roads 3.58 accidents per million vehicle miles and the two lane roads 2.75 accidents per million vehicle miles.

The highway surveys in most states are expected to show that the primary system carries 60 per cent or more of the total traffic. But, the refiners association cautions, this should not be taken as proof that 60 per cent or more of the total expenditure should be made on the main, trunk line highways.

Such a policy, as illustrated in New Jersey, results in piling up traffic on a few miles of roads and an increasing accident rate. The association suggests greater attention to the construction of low-cost surfaces on the secondary and farm-to-market system which will decentralize traffic and decrease the accident rate and result in greater service to a greater number of motorists.

C. OF C. WILL SPONSOR LEAGUE MEET, INDOOR COUNTRY CLUB PLANS

At a meeting of the directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, held at the Recreation building Monday night, the directors voted unanimously to sponsor the County Interscholastic meet, which is to be held here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 1, 2 and 3, and to endorse and support the movement to install grass greens on the Ranger Country Club golf course. A number of members of the country club were present at the meeting and outlined the plans for installing the new greens.

At the opening of the meeting a report upon the plans for a membership drive for the Chamber of Commerce was made by T. J. Anderson, chairman of the membership committee, and announcement was made of the breakfast to be served at 6.45 o'clock Wednesday morning, which will start the workers canvassing the town for members.

Dr. Ross Hodges, chairman of the livestock committee, made a report on the Ranger 4-H livestock show and upon the efforts being made to secure a good jack for this part of the county. His report showed that the show was far better than had been anticipated and that a large number of people were in attendance.

After some discussion the budget, as prepared by the budget committee, headed by Hall Walker, was adopted as it stood.

W. T. Walton, superintendent of the Ranger public schools, appeared before organization and told of the coming Eastland county interscholastic meet. He prefaced his remarks by stating that he thanked the Chamber of Commerce for letters written to the

Warning Is Issued Against All Social Security Schools

SAN ANTONIO.—The Social Security Board today issued a warning against lavish promises made by self-styled "social security correspondence schools" and mail-order "training courses" which prepare you for social security jobs.

Oscar M. Powell regional director of the board, said such courses are being offered by mail and personal solicitation, in some cases by salesmen posing as government representatives.

"I should like to emphasize," Powell said, "that all positions of the types which are being advertised must be filled both by Washington and the field offices by persons who have civil service status. The permanent organization of the Board is now well established, yet I understand there are now on file more than 35,000 applications for positions.

"Civil service requirements must be met, regardless of the number or type of courses of instruction completed. Those who offer courses with a direct or implied promise that they will automatically lead to positions with the Board are either willfully deceiving their prospects or are unacquainted with the qualifications necessary for appointment," Powell declared.

The Civil Service Commission, it was said, is prepared to report instances in which there is unlawful misrepresentation of facts, to appropriate federal authorities.

Powell also pointed out that the Social Security Board does not make appointments to state agencies administering Federal-State programs under the Social Security Act. These appointments are made directly through the state agency itself.

members of the Oil Belt Education association, welcoming them to Ranger, and the Ranger Times for the special edition published prior to the convention and the copies of the Friday edition furnished the members after they arrived.

He pointed out that the coming interscholastic meet would bring more people to Ranger than did the Education association convention, and urged the organization to help sponsor the meet. It was voted that the Chamber of Commerce help defray the expenses and to work with the school officials in making it the best county meet ever held here.

Sam Brimberry, president of the country club, spoke on the plans for installing grass greens and urged the support of the organization in making it possible to build the new greens. It was mentioned by a number of speakers some of whom were not golf players, that the country club could be made one of the outstanding attractions of the town, with the installation of the greens, as Ranger has one of the sportiest courses, splendid fairways and a good clubhouse.

The directors went on record as favoring the movement and pledged their support in every way possible. Several announced that they would become members.

After the close of the discussion on the country club plans it was announced that the membership drive would start today, and committees began work this morning, visiting prospective members.

Those present at the meeting were J. J. Kelly, T. J. Anderson, Ken Ambrose, F. P. Braisher, C. D. Woods, Dr. Ross Hodges, D. Joseph, Hall Walker, A. J. Ratliff and J. E. Meroney. Visitors included H. H. Vaughn, Nath Pirkle, E. L. Norris, D. M. Cooper, H. P. Earnest, Pete Jensen, Sam Brimberry, Saul Perlestein, Gid Faircloth and Clois Phillips.

T. J. Anderson chairman of the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce, again called attention today to the breakfast to be given Wednesday morning at the Paramount Cafe, at which the campaign for membership will be formulated and the committees started on their rounds of the town securing new members.

A number of citizens, who are interested in the Chamber of Commerce, have been invited to attend the breakfast and to aid in the drive for members which is to follow. All who have been invited were urged to be present on time Wednesday morning for the breakfast.

Eastland Attorney Is Reported Better

Eastland friends who recently visited V. T. Seaberry in the Dallas Medical & Surgical clinic, 4105 Live Oak Street, report his condition satisfactory. Seaberry has been confined in the hospital ill of sciatica for a month.

Supt. P. B. Bittle Ill at Ft. Worth

P. B. Bittle, Eastland School superintendent, Tuesday was in Fort Worth for medical treatment. Bittle, ill two days, left Monday afternoon with Mrs. Bittle.

Slate Rabbit Drive at Cheaney Tomorrow

Several county officials and Eastland residents are planning to participate in an all-day rabbit drive beginning at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning from the Cheaney school house.

DIVORCES GRANTED
Divorce was granted Tuesday by 38th district court to Fay Clark and Blair Clark. Her maiden name Fay Henderson, was restored.

CO-EDS SOLVE H. C. L. STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—A co-ed can live on an average of $5.25 a week, 34 Pennsylvania State College girls proved. They live in two co-operative dormitories provided at the college.

'Can't' Says They, 'She Did', Says She And Offers Proof

By United Press
MIAMI, March 16.—Veterinarians said impossible, but Laura Dedford insisted today that her maltese cat had given birth to three kittens and two puppies. She offered the litter as proof and defied anyone to deny its authenticity.

Said the veterinarians, "It never happens. We never heard of such a thing."

One veterinarian said the little animals looked enough like to be one of the family. The kittens and puppies all appeared to be of the same age.

SHOT IS FIRED AT STRIKE IN DETROIT HOTEL

By United Press
DETROIT, March 16.—One shot was fired today in a short fight at the closed Book-Cadillac Hotel between strikers and a guard.

Four of Detroit's largest hotel have closed their doors to incoming guests, today in a sudden move to thwart sit down strike plans of waiters and waitresses unions.

William Walker, president of the Hotel Association, announced that 2,500 guests now occupying rooms in the Book-Cadillac, Fort Shelby, Detroit-Leland and the Statler Hotels probably would be advised to leave. At least, he said, they would be warned that all service would be discontinued.

The shutdown came after a night-long conference between Mayor Frank Couzens, four hotel managers and union officials. Conferences had been called to seek a settlement of a sit down strike of the Statler employes that had disrupted service to 700 guests.

Ranger Woman Is Buried on Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Anna Peery of Ranger, who died at her home after a long illness, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Christian church of Ranger. Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the church, conducted the services, assisted by Dr. L. B. Gray. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery, with Killingsworth, Cox in charge.

The decedent, who was born in Road Mountain, Texas, had been a resident of Ranger for 15 years, and was a member of the Methodist church and the Eastern Star. Survivors include her husband, Mack Jones Peery, three sons, N. L. Lloyd and Cecil, two daughters, Mrs. Robert Barr and Mrs. Roney Jones, and four grandchildren, Mary Ann Jones, and Barton, George Mack and Robert Eugene Peery.

Man Being Held In Sweetwater in the Jefferson Slaying

By United Press
SWEETWATER, Mar. 16.—A man was being held here in the county jail in connection with the slaying of Sheriff J. A. Brown of Marion County, who was slain at his home in Jefferson.

The man was taken into custody by city police in the local railroad yards.

At police headquarters the man appeared irrational and continually repeated that he was "wanted in Jefferson for the sheriff's slaying."

Local police were inclined to doubt the value of the man's remarks.

RENDER JUDGMENT
Judgment for $602.15 was rendered Monday by 91st district court in favor of El Reno Mill & Elevator company from W. Egbert. The defendant defaulted.

Picture Co-ed's Embarrassment!

Heloise Martin, former Broadway chorus girl, became the sensation of the Drake University campus at Des Moines, Ia., with the publication by College Humor of a series of pictures illustrating "A Day in the Life of a Co-ed." The abbreviated costume in which Heloise dances around above was one of them. Others revealed her in pajamas, kissing her boy friend, and taking a shower bath.

Auto Registration Progresses Slowly

Still at a lagging pace, automobile registration for 1937 totaled approximately 800 at the assessor-collector office Tuesday.

There are at least 6,200 more vehicles to register before April 1, date after which automobile owners are penalized, reminded C. H. O'Brien, assessor-collector.

The official pointed out the plates may be secured quicker if owners apply at the office now. Long lines and delays because of the rush are certain at the end of the month.

However, said O'Brien, the office will remain open as long as necessary when the rush begins.

140-Foot Stack to Be Pulled Down at Thurber March 28

Announcement was made here today by Ed Eubanks of the Texas & Pacific Coal and Oil Company, that the big, 140-foot brick smokestack at the former location of the Thurber Earthen Products Company would be pulled down Sunday, Mar. 28.

The announcement was made because it was thought that a number of people would like to be present when the big stack was toppled over and fell to the ground.

Practically everyone has seen pictures in the newspapers and in newsreels at the theatres of large smokestacks being felled, but few have actually seen one brought to the ground, and it was believed that it might prove a sight worth driving to Thurber to see.

Largest Income Tax Payment Canvassed
By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 16.—Treasury officials canvassed the greatest deluge of income tax reports today, confident they would total $540,000,000 almost twice the collections for the first quarter of 1936 and approximately $150,000,000 more than the collections of the property first quarter of 1929.

Jesse Jones Quiet On Judiciary Plan
By United Press
HOUSTON, March 16.—Jesse Jones, Chairman of the RFC, predicted today that President Roosevelt would win his fight to enlarge the supreme court. "I'm not in politics," Jones said. "Just leave the court to the president. He knows what to do."

MAYOR OF NEW YORK AGAIN IRES GERMANY

By United Press
NEW YORK, March 16.—Mayor LaGuardia's latest attack on Adolf Hitler was expected, today to intensify at Washington and Berlin strained diplomatic relations caused by his former denunciation of the German Chancellor.

Using a German phrase, LaGuardia said last night at an anti-Nazi meeting that Hitler was not worthy of being met on a field of honor "personally or diplomatically."

Those familiar with the language said it was the "worst possible insult." If uttered by a German to a German they said it would mean a challenge to a duel.

BERLIN March 16.—The Nazi organ "Der Angriff" demanded angrily today that President Roosevelt intervene to curb attacks in New York on Adolf Hitler and Nazism.

The paper carried under large headlines on its front page an account of an anti-Nazi meeting at Madison Square Garden in New York last night in which Mayor LaGuardia, John L. Lewis and Gen. Hugh S. Johnson were speakers.

The line across the page in big type read: "AMERICAN JEW LEADERS INSULT GERMAN NATION."

The heading underneath said, Will Roosevelt Intervene?

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Mayor LaGuardia renewed attack on Adolf Hitler today was received in silence in Washington diplomatic circles.

Oilmen Plan for Protest On Hike Of Oil Taxation

Plans for representation Thursday at a Senate committee hearing on a bill to increase taxation on gross oil production were formed Monday night by members of the legislative committee of the West Central Texas Oil & Gas association at Albany.

According to the plans, 30 members will protest the contemplated hike, which has been announced as from 2 3/4 cents a barrel to 10 cents a barrel.

The Albany session was called by James E. Allison, Breckenridge, chairman of the association's legislative group. C. W. Hoffmann, Eastland, a member of the committee, attended.

The association has suggested landowners and royalty owners join the group in protest. The oil men will attempt to show how not only much of the stripper production of the area will be rendered profitless by the tax, but also how exploration and development of new areas will be hindered by the new measure.

Hike High Amount For Farming Loans

The maximum loan limit per farm or tenant for crop and livestock feed has been increased from $1,000 to $2,500 in Eastland and sixty-one West Texas counties, the Farm Credit Administration announced Tuesday at Eastland through Murrah Nolte, Breckenridge, field representative.

The emergency loans are intended to assist farmers with spring planting and to enable them to keep their livestock fed. Only those who have exhausted all other sources of credit are eligible for such loans.

The Constitution is a Human Document

If we Americans could get over our national habit of speaking only in reverent whispers whenever the Constitution is mentioned, we might be able to approach our political problems more realistically and sensibly.

We have been discussing the Constitution lately, and we have been calling on the shades of the great presidents in our history to witness that this document is a sacred thing not to be spoken of lightly or approached without the most profound awe.

It might therefore be good to have a look at the way some of the great presidents behaved when circumstances compelled them to walk up and lay hands on the Constitution.

Henry W. Lawrence, professor of history and political science at Connecticut College, recently wrote a summary of the way Abraham Lincoln got the 13th amendment into the Constitution.

This was the amendment that forever outlawed chattel slavery. Lincoln started it through during the Civil War. There were at that time 35 states in the American Union, including those which were then enrolled in the Southern Confederacy. Approval of 27 states was necessary if the amendment were to be approved.

How did Lincoln accomplish his end? By laying aside all his reverence for the sacred document, taking off his gloves, and playing the ancient game of politics for all it was worth.

The simple fact was that there were not, at that moment, 27 states which could be counted on to approve the amendment. So the military governors of those seceding states which had been occupied by federal armies were put to work. They applied pressure at the points of their soldier's bayonets, and from these still unreconstructed states came the ratifications Lincoln needed.

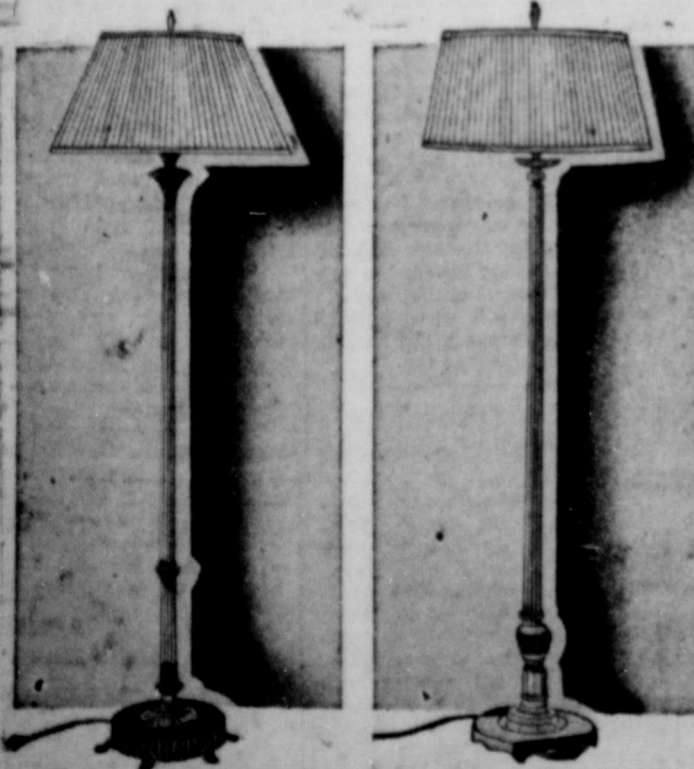

Lincoln had another trick in his wallet. He had the territory of Nevada admitted as a state so that it could vote for ratification. Nevada had an absurdly small population, and getting Congress to approve its admission was a tough job—so tough that Lincoln, needing every vote he could get, finally authorized the assistant secretary of war, Charles A. Dana, to go to three Democratic congressmen and promise them anything they wanted if they would vote for the measure.

As Professor Lawrence points out, this stratagem worked. The three congressmen named the appointments they wanted, Lincoln okayed them—and Nevada was admitted to the Union. Before Lincoln's death, the new state had ratified the pending 13th amendment.

This sort of thing is worth bearing in mind. If we can just realize that the Constitution as it stands is only another law—and as such is a product of human errors, political deals, and plain, every-day expediency—we may be able to discuss it intelligently instead of emotionally.

raising hogs." Seven years ago Clyde withdrew from the partnership and became the manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth corporation in Tyler. He recently stated that "I use the things I learned in 4-H club work every day in working with my farmer friends even though I am in the automobile business."

Clyde started with one bred gilt in 1920 and since that time more than 800 head of hogs have been registered in the herd books. He got his father started in a business which he had always had an ambition to start, but thought the initial cost would be too high. Senior Cox is now recognized as one of the leading hog raisers of the United States, and his hogs have been shipped to almost every state in the Union, including two foreign countries, Argentina and Venezuela. Clyde Cox showed his hogs at all of the major shows during his 4-H club career, winning two grand championships on his hogs before he was fifteen years old. According to Clyde, "Hogs were hogs and rasses were larger classes at all of these shows."

"In a way, it's easier to keep in condition as a dancer than as a singer. Exercise can keep the muscles in shape, but there are a lot of things that can go wrong with the voice and throat. It stands to reason, then, that any actress smokes a cigarette that is gentle and strikes the right note with her throat. I started smoking Luckies 4 years ago. They're a light smoke that treat a tender throat right."

Ranches Cling to Old Branding Iron

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — The old-fashioned driftwood fire and red-hot branding iron never will be replaced by applied science in the form of acid on Wyoming's extensive rangeland, according to Russell Thorp, executive secretary of the Wyoming Stock Growers' association. Thorp's viewpoint on the new methods presented a sharp contrast to reports that Idaho stockmen were using chemicals in marking their animals because the system is "much less painful."

"Acid marking of stock is cruel and inefficient," Thorp said. "On a visit to ten major stock-selling centers in the West, I saw scores of acid-branded cattle. On most of them the brands had turned into huge open sores. On others the brands were blurred." The method which Thorp criticized consists of application of a chemical with a cold iron. Its proponents declare that it does away with the nuisance of a fire, leaves a scar just as permanent as that of the red-hot iron and less painful. The scar produced by method is much more permanent according to Thorp, because acid keeps on eating into cow's hide until it forms a sore, while the injury made by branding iron soon heals. Liable brands are made by the method because it takes an iron for the chemical to leave a permanent imprint and in that it is often rubbed into a shallow blob on the cow's hide, mills around in the herd. "We've had no complaints half a century, so why complain now?" Thorp added, after stockmen to "stick to the iron view of the fact that Wyoming ranchers had tried "new-fangled" method with results.

To Visit Breckenridge Tonight:
 A group of members representing the local grove of the Royal Neighbors of America, are to pay a visit to the chapter at Breckenridge tonight for a program which pays honor to the State supervisors, Mrs. Eva Huskey, and past State wreath, Carrie Henry chapter. At this time all members of the hostess chapter will be extended invitations to be present for the Ranger meeting, Wednesday evening, March 17th, 10:00 P.M. A program has been well planned and the hall will carry a special color scheme of green and white, in observance of St. Patrick Day.

Room for Children at Day Nursery:
 Miss Moss, who is in charge of the Day Nursery, Pine street, next door to the C. J. Moore Auto Mart, calls to the attention of mothers that there is room for more children at the nursery, which is sponsored by the Child Welfare club of Ranger, for underprivileged children.

SUFFERED 40 YEARS FROM CONSTIPATION
 "For 40 years, I had been paying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its evils. Finally, I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since that time (nearly 10 years ago), I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation."—Mrs. I. H. Kendig, R. F. D. No. 2, Lancaster, Penna.

Don't let common constipation ruin your life. You can end it safely, without using drugs that soon lose their effectiveness. Just eat two tablespoonsful of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—with every meal in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruit, or cook into appetizing recipes. ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water and gently clears away the wastes that cause headache, tiredness and serious illness. The vitamin B in ALL-BRAN helps tone up the entire intestinal tract. Buy ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Sub Deb.
 Wednesday at eleven-thirty the Sub Deb girls met with their sponsor Mrs. Nell, and after the roll call and reading of minutes a committee to arrange a chapel program was appointed. The program "Ties to the Teens" was given by Alene Reuver, Priscilla Miller, Gladys Larson and Betty Gorman. After the program a "Problem Box" was passed and the girls wrote their problems on slips of paper and dropped them in the box. The club will endeavor to solve these problems.

Tennis
 Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Leo Healer, son of our own Mrs. Mae Healer, from Rising Star brought seven tennis teams to Ranger to play some practice games; fourteen sets were played and Ranger won five of these sets.

Welcome
 We wish to take this opportunity to welcome the new high school boys and girls and glad to see some of their names on the honor roll.

very nice style show given by the girls in the third year clothing class. The blue taffeta modeled by Ruth Hazard and the black net modeled by Inez Baker "took our eye." From what we hear Ranger is expecting many, many teachers Friday and Saturday.
 March 12—"Have you registered?" "Pay your fees at the other door." Banquet tickets for sale here?" "Yes ma'am, how many?" All of this spells "The Seventh Oil Belt Teachers' association," and even though I am tired of smiling and answering questions, I enjoyed the day and learned that teachers are as restless as students when they have to sit and listen to a speech they aren't the "least bit" interested in. Why, they got up right in the middle of the program and walked out. One speaker said that if the students tried that they would be severely reprimanded.

The attitude of the august justices probably is "Nine is company, 15's a crowd."

CARDUI
 In this modern time something wonderfully worth while can be done for practically every woman who suffers from functional pains of menstruation. Certain cases can be relieved by taking Cardui. Others may need a physician's treatment.
 Cardui has two widely demonstrated uses: (1) To ease the immediate pain and nervousness of the monthly period; and (2) to aid in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.
