MOTHER HELD IN MURDER OF HER DAUGHTER

By United Press
NEW YORK, May 17.—Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 28, confessed, today, police announced, to the slaying of her eight-year-old daughter, Helen, and tried to kill her five-year-old son, James, because she had no room for them in her three-room apartment.

By United Press
NEW YORK, May 17.—Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 28, attractive blonde, told police today that she was the mother of an eight-year-old girl found slain in the woods near Brookhaven on Long Island and told a story of an attack on herself and her two children by a "strange man."

Mrs. Tiernan was arrested at a West Side nursery, where she had kept the children for some time, after the superintendent identified a photograph of a five-year-old boy found semi-conscious near the dead girl as her son, James.

The young mother told officers she took the children to a picnic while they were picking flowers, she said, a strange man drove up in an automobile, got out and attacked her and the children.

Deputy Chief Inspector John Lyons said "This woman is being held. It looks bad."

The latest came after police had obtained a story of the crime from Jimmie, the dead girl's brother.

The boy was recovering from bruises on the head and a slashed throat.

He told officers his mother took him and his sister "on the train" and they were met by his "two daddies."

The "two daddies" drove them to the woods, the boy indicated, and there he "saw mommie hit Helen." He said he believed she also struck him.

THREE COURT PLANS GIVEN TO THE SENATE

By United Press

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Sen. M. M. Logan of Kentucky announced today that he would offer three modifications to President Roosevelt's judiciary reorganization bill, and predicted one would be reported favorably to the Senate.

Logan frankly took leadership of compromise efforts in a move which some believe may have been inspired by other leaders, although they insisted they were standing firm for an increase of six justices in the supreme court.

The Logan compromise proposals were made after James A. Farley had apparently taken command of the administration drive to enact the court plan, unaltered.

Farley was quoted as saying "The court bill is going through" and he indicated the administration will use the full strength of its patronage powers to push it through.

County Boys to Go to Encampment

By United Press

Assistant County Agent Hugh F. Barnhart stated Monday he expected approximately 40 Eastland county 4-H club members to attend the second annual district 7 extension service encampment at the state park at Lake Brownwood June 6-8.

Last year 20 attended from the county. One hundred and sixty-eight youths from the county, who are carrying demonstrations, and their fathers, are eligible to attend.

County Agent Elmo V. Cook is a member of the committee on arrangements for the encampment. The decision to hold the outing at the state park was made last week by the committee in session with District Agent W. I. Glass. Formerly it was to be held at Joe Weedon's ranch near the lake.

It will cost each person attending $1.60.

Approximately 600 are expected to attend the encampment from the following counties, said Cook: Mills, Eastland, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Shackelford, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Erath, Brown, Comanche, Coleman, Runnels, McCulloch, San Saba, Mason, Gillespie, Llano and Blanco.

Decisions Upon Social Security Are Assured by June 1

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The supreme court today virtually assured decisions on constitutionality of the unemployment insurance and old age pension phases of the New Deal social security act by June 1, when it announced that date as the end of its present term.

Decisions of the court today included:

An opinion in which the court declined to strike down the "windfall tax" provisions of the 1936 revenue act in which the court approved the procedure set up by Congress for bringing suits to recover taxes paid under the invalid AAA.

A decision upholding the far-reaching tax provisions of the Louisiana chain store act.

Miss Pearl Rogers Funeral Conducted

Funeral services were scheduled Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Hamner Undertaking company for Miss Lida Pearl Rogers, 53, who died at 8 o'clock Sunday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. Annie Rogers, at Eastland.

Miss Rogers' death climaxed a long illness.

Rev. J. I. Cartledge, pastor of the First Baptist church, was in charge of the rites, assisted by Rev. P. W. Walker, pastor of the First Methodist church. Interment was in Eastland cemetery.

Miss Rogers was born May 1, 1884, at Irton, O. She came to Texas 15 years ago. She had been a long time member of the Methodist church.

There was no other immediate relative other than Miss Rogers' mother.

Hamner Undertaking company was in charge of arrangements.

Employment and Payrolls Show An Increase for April

By United Press

AUSTIN, Texas.—Employment and payroll rolls in Texas during April increased moderately over the like month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reports to the Bureau from 1,634 representative establishments employing a total of 85,934 workers showed an increase of 1 per cent over the preceding month in the number of employees and an increase of 9 per cent over April last year. Weekly wages in these establishments totaled $2,134,000, an increase of 3.9 per cent over March and 20 per cent over April last year.

Cities in which the April percentage gain for both employment and payrolls exceeded the State average in comparison with the preceding month, the year to date, and the corresponding periods last year were: Corpus Christi, Lubbock, Sherman and Wichita Falls.

Industries making gains greater than the State average for all comparable periods included building materials, clothing and textiles, ice cream and petroleum refining.

LEGION WILL GIVE AWARDS FOR STUDENTS

Announcement was made today by W. T. Walton, superintendent of the Ranger Schools, that one boy and one girl from each graduating class of the Ranger Ward Schools would be presented an American Legion School Award for the highest average in general citizenship.

The teachers or principals of the schools, nor the committee making the selection, will not know until the graduation exercises for the ward schools are held, who the winners of the awards will be. The teachers will turn in the rating of the pupils, and the committee will work out the percentages that will qualify one boy and one girl, whose names will not be on the tabulation sheets. At the exercises the committee will present a sealed envelope containing the number of the ones selected and this number will be compared with a list of names held by the superintendent and the winner announced.

The boys award will be a large, bronze medallion and a bronze lapel button. The girl will receive a similar medallion and a bronze pin. Both pins are reproductions of the medallions.

On the front, or obverse side of the medallion for the boys, bears, in bas-relief, the figures of a soldier and a sailor, with the words "For God and Country." The girls' medallions bear the same inscription but have the figure of a girl holding a United States flag.

The reverse side of the boys' medallions bear the words "Courage, Honor, Service, Leadership, Scholarship." The reverse side of the girls' medallion bears the words "Courage, Character, Service, Companionship, Scholarship."

The presentations of these awards will be made to the boy and girl selected from Hodges Oak Park at the commencement exercises for the school, which will be at the First Methodist church Thursday night and the awards for the Cooper and Young school boys and girls will be made at the respective schools when commencement exercises are held Friday night.

Ward Schools to Hold Exercises On Thursday, Friday

Graduating exercises for the three Ranger Ward Schools will be held Thursday and Friday evening of this week, it was announced today by Supt. W. T. Walton.

Exercises for the Hodges Oak Park School will be held Thursday evening at the First Methodist church with Superintendent Walton as the principal speaker.

The Young School exercises will be held Friday evening in the auditorium of the school. John L. Turpin, former principal of the school, will deliver the principal address.

The seventh grade class of the Cooper school will be graduated in exercises Friday evening at the school auditorium. No announcement has been made, as yet, as to who the principal speaker will be.

Senate Appropriates $1,200 To Complete Flood District Survey

W. B. Collie, Monday at Austin in a telephone conversation with this paper, announced the senate by unanimous vote passed a bill appropriating $1,200 to complete a survey begun recently by State Reclamation engineers of the Board of Water Engineers upon the Leon River Flood Control District. It had already passed the house.

The bill required approval by all but three senators since it was considered out of regular order, the senator stated, pointing out its unanimous approval.

Senator Collie also stated that Governor Allred has on his desk the bill designed initially for prohibition of dove and quail shooting for two years in Callahan and Eastland counties.

Senator Collie amended the bill to exclude Eastland county altogether.

The Leon River Flood Control District was created by the legislature, composed of Eastland and Callahan counties for the purpose of water conservation and irrigation. Plans of the district's directors include construction of a dam at Mangum, near Eastland.

The present survey is to complete data for presentation to U. S. Army engineers with the view of adoption by the federal government in its list of projects. A first survey, made by the district with funds appropriated by the legislature, was incomplete.

Fletcher couldn't help but smile. He bent down and took Rex's good right paw.

Rex returned to the feet of Dr. Claus. The doctor told how necessary his dog was to him, particularly in such strange places as a railway coaches. Rex turned over on his back and waved all four of his paws. His tail continued to thump.

Fletcher testified that he did not believe the bill was necessary. So did L. M. Greenlaw, general counsel for the Pullman company. They said—while Rex reached over and disconcertingly nuzzled their legs—that they wanted no large dogs in their cars, but that they believed they could work out informally a plan for the accommodation of the dogs of blind men.

Officially that was the end of the hearing. Really it was just the beginning. Dr. Claus unhooked Rex's leash and Rex bounded immediately to the head of the table. He licked Bulwinkle's hand. He strained upward and licked the congressman's chin.

Bulwinkle's frown long since had changed to a grin. Now it turned to a laugh as Rex frolicked around the room and pawed the knee of almost every man in it. Finally chairman Bulwinkle called his daughter in from the next office and introduced her to Rex.

Rex politely gave her his paw. By then the congressmen were smiling almost until tears were in their eyes. Rex returned to Dr. Claus and placed his head gently on his master's knee, while congressman Bulwinkle announced to the press:

"Gentlemen, we have changed our minds. (thump, thump, thump, went Rex's tail), you may rest assured that this committee will report the bill favorably."

Rex walked down the hall again with Dr. Claus. His tail still was wagging rhythmically over a good job, well done.

NEW SESSION MAY BEGIN AS OLD ONE ENDS

AUSTIN, May 17.—A special session the day after this one closes was Governor Allred's ultimatum to the Texas Senate today if it persists in failure to repeal the state racing law.

With the ultimatum went an offer of a tax delay.

"There will not be any other topics than race betting submitted, not even if appropriations are not passed at this session," Allred said.

"The folks back home who want to save $200,000 (cost of a session) should apprise their senators how they feel about it."

Allred added he did not consider a private carrier motor act to replace the one he vetoed is essential.

"There is no need to get excited over the truck bill," he said.

A resolution to extend the regular session to Wednesday, May 26, was placed before the House to be acted upon when it reconvenes after noon recess.

Three States Still Seek Brockelhurst On Murder Charge

By United Press

PLOUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 17.—Efforts of three states to obtain custody of 23-year-old Lester Brockelhurst, confessed triple slayer, were carried directly to Governor Herbert Lehman today.

An extradition hearing was scheduled for 5:30 p. m.

District Attorney John Schwartz announced the hearing after a conference with representatives of Arkansas, Illinois and Texas, who seek the youth on murder charges.

Arraignment of Brockelhurst and his companion, Bernice Felton, was adjourned pending Lehman's action on the extradition request from the three states.

Over $65,000 Is Brought County By Vehicle Fees

'Automobile registration fees to Eastland county's road and bridge fund upon 1937 plates total $65,831.45 thus far, reported, Assessor-Collector C. H. O'Brien, Monday.

The county receives the first $50,000 in collections and half of the collections above that figure are divided between the county and state. The state's share thus far is $15,839.47.

Figures upon registration show 96,91 automobiles licensed through April 17, says O'Brien, a slight increase over 1936 registration. A breakdown of the figure shows registration by types as follows: 5,540 passenger cars, 740 trucks, 465 farm trucks, three motorcycles, 151 trailers and 20 dealer licenses.

Bureaucracy Problem
Is Fault of States

Behind much of the demand for a stronger federal government there lies the simple and unpleasant fact that people no longer trust their state governments the way they once did.

There are some things, of course, that state governments cannot do at all. But a great many things which they can do seem utterly unable to do well; hence the growing tendency to ask Washington to do the things which ought to be done at the state capitals.

A revealing sidelight on this was provided the other day by Abraham Epstein, executive secretary of the American Association for Social Security, in an address before the association at New York.

Mr. Epstein was talking about old age pension systems, and he remarked that in too many states such systems have become "mere cogs in the state political machines."

"Grants are made frequently not on the basis of need, as the laws intend, but on the basis of political expediency," he said. "Politicians are outbidding each other with promises of bigger and better pensions in order to appease the appetite of organized selfish blocs."

Thus there is no uniformity between pension systems in the different states. Thus there are states in which the pension bureau is an acknowledged branch of political patronage. Thus there are states in which pensions are paid, not according to need, but according to what the winning candidates for office have felt it expedient to promise.

And as a result of all this, a great many people have come to feel that the old-age pension problem can be solved only by federal action.

Now this is typical of the situation in a great many other fields, and it is one of the most ominous signs in our whole political life. For while we have made real steps in the past generation toward making our federal governments remain what they were several decades ago—the prey of spoils politics as its worst.

Because of that fact, we are hamstrung when we approach any public issue. To suggest that such-and-such a problem be handled by the state instead of by Washington means, all too often, that it will not be handled at all. To advocate state instead of federal action frequently is equivalent to inviting self-seeking politicians to do their worst.

A great many people have been worried of late by the vast extension of the federal bureaucracy. The place to which such people should turn their alarmed gazes is the state capital.

The federal bureaucracy will continue to expand and grow until we succeed in making our state governments efficient and responsive. We could not do the federal government a better turn than to make our state governments capable of taking some of the work off its hands.

CHAMP HAS BLACK EYE

The actual fighting is confined to the courtroom these days, but James J. Braddock, world heavyweight champion, figures that he'll have to do some fighting himself in time to come. As shown here, he goes ahead with his training at the Golfmore resort in Grand Beach, Mich., for the proposed 15-round bout with Joe Louis, Detroit's Brown Bomber. Jimmy, sporting a black eye, takes it easy on the small bag to develop his timing, rusty after two years of idleness as champion.

EN GARDE!

Presenting Joanna de Tuscan—Ideal American Girl
Athlete—talented, attractive, fond of dancing, and WOMEN'S FENCING CHAMPION OF THE U. S.

DOROTHY KILGALLAN, girl reporter, was assigned to break the women's globe-circling record. She did—in 244 days! "I was glad to have Camels with me," she says. "I know they don't frazzle the nerves—ever!"

A THROTTLE MAN of the 20th Century Limited, C. J. Chase says: "I don't take chances with my nerves. I smoke Camels—smoke 'em all I have a mind to, day in and day out! Camels don't get on my nerves."

Today the sport of fencing puts much the same value on healthy nerves and unfailing alertness as did the deadly duels of long ago.

ONLY slow motion movies could show you all the brilliance of Joanna de Tuscan's darting sword play. Attack—parry—riposte—happen too quickly for the eye to follow. In Joanna de Tuscan's own words: "A person who didn't have nerve control would never stand out in fencing. My No. 1 reason for smoking Camels is—they never jangle my nerves. Camels is the cigarette that I find permits me to smoke as often as I please. It's Camels for me 'for digestion's sake' too. They're so mild they never make my throat harsh."

HE BROKE the world's indoor record in the 440-yard dash twice in one day. Ray Ellinwood says: "Jittery nerves are a big bugaboo to a track man. Smoking Camels never jangles my nerves. I find that I can enjoy Camels without stint."

WRESTLINGACE, Joseph Green, absorbs plenty of punishment competing in his favorite sport. "A long-drawn-out training grind puts a strain on nerves," says Joe. "I enjoy Camels often—they help to ease tension and never jangle my nerves."

"JACK OAKIE'S COLLEGE"

Jack Oakie runs the "college"! Catchy music by Benny Goodman and George Scott! Hollywood comedians! Judy Garland sings! So join Jack Oakie's College. Tuesdays—8:30 p.m. E. S. T. (9:30 p.m. E. D. S. T.); 7:30 p.m. C. S. T., 6:30 p.m. M. S. T., 5:30 p.m. P. S. T., WABC-CBS.

Fashion to Go Out Of Business Here

The Fashion, which opened in Ranger almost a year ago, is announcing today that it is going out of business.

The store will be closed all day Tuesday, making preparations for their going-out-of-business sale, which is to start on Wednesday, May 19.

The sale will continue for only ten days, after which the store will be closed. All merchandise in the store is being offered at reduced prices during the ten-day sale.

They attended the celebration of Mrs. Webb's grandmother's 50th anniversary.

Spending Our Vacation

Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick will talk to members of Hodges Oak Park Parent-Teacher association Tuesday afternoon on "Spending Our Vacation." The meeting is the last program to be held this year and every member and mother interested in the outline of study for another season is asked to be present. Prizes are to be awarded different rooms as a climax to the attendance contest. Officers are to be installed and the meeting points to a very interesting one.

Just a Bit Personal

Mrs. Georgie Bumpass of Midland is visiting her sister, Mrs. Anna Mae Rippey, and son, North Rusk street. She is formerly of Ranger and gained many friends during her connection with the J. C. Smith store.

Miss Elizabeth McClister of Fort Worth spent the week-end in Ranger as the guest of Misses Lily Reuter and Elizabeth Turner.

Winston Castleberry of Dallas, who visited his parents at Eastland over the week-end, was a visitor in Ranger Saturday night. Wilson Owens, also of Eastland, was among out-of-town visitors forming a dance party at Skyline.

Miss Dutch Van Horn and her brother, George Van Horn, of Cisco, were Saturday night guests of Miss Esther Holyfield for an informal dinner party.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Taft left this morning for a ten-day visit to South Texas cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rainy of Big Spring were week-end guests of Mrs. H. E. Snyder and daughter, Opal, Strawn road.

From Pitcairn to Coronation

From Pitcairn Island to Southampton, where he is pictured on his arrival, David Young, 61, great-grandson of David Young, a midshipman on the famous ship Bounty, stepped out of a page of England's naval history into the coronation scene. The first descendant of the famed band of mutineers ever to visit England, Young was Pitcairn's official delegate to the crowning of King George VI.

Haile Selassie's umbrella carrier, who just died, must have been the envy of all poker players. He never made a mistake on a raise.

"Black Legion" to Be at Arcadia

The films write a page of current history in "Black Legion," a thrilling melodrama produced by Warner Bros., which comes to the Arcadia Theatre tomorrow.

Recently, in Michigan, a band of masked and hooded men took the law into their own hands and killed their chosen enemies without semblance of justice or mercy.

Newspaper accounts of its activities shocked the law-abiding elements of the entire country. Outraged opinions demanded swift justice and got in confession testimony of the chief suspect brought out incredible ruthlessness on the part of the night riders.

As a picture of an actual phase of America's complicated social struggle, "Black Legion" is said to be unusually interesting and possessed of greater dramatic force than any previous movie.

NEW HOTEL FOR WAIKIKI

HONOLULU.—Announcement has been made that Ben Finney of New York has acquired property in the Kapiolani section of Waikiki where an international club-hotel will be erected to be ready for occupancy in 1938.

For years Mrs. George McDougall, wife of a Ford Motor company employee, had no idea of the identity of the passenger who took off his own life preserver and handed it to her just before the vessel listed and sank.
