Reports that Helen Wills Moody had passed screen tests and might sign a contract with Twentieth Century-Fox were recalled when the former world champion tennis star established herself in a Nevada resort near Reno and consulted a prominent divorce attorney. Attractive Mrs. Moody does not admit that she considered a film career. She and Frederick J. Moody, Jr., were married Dec. 23, 1929.

JAPAN GETTING READY FOR WAR WITH CHINESE

By United Press
TOKYO, Friday, July 16.—Emperor Hirohito today approved steps taken by the government which have placed Japan onto a war footing and sanctioned the sending of the 12th division of the imperial army from Japan to the North China war area.

One report was that the 12th division had landed and was moving toward Peiping. Dispatch of the troops from the home army followed announcement by the government at a conference of governors that 3,000,000 army reservists had been ordered to make ready for a call to duty.

Immediate instructions to Japanese commanders in the field, it was understood, are that they must force China to agree to a local settlement of the North China fighting rather than a national settlement between Nanking and Tokyo, which China demands.

Mob of Unemployed Storms WPA Office

By United Press
SAN ANTONIO, July 15.—A mob, estimated at 500, unemployed men, stormed the offices of a Works Progress Administration with rocks here today, demanding work and were driven off by police.

Cries of "break down the door" and "we want work" rang out as they surged against the building. Police were called as the mob advanced at the rear of the office where work applications are received.

The demonstration followed the acquittal of Emma Tenayuca, 21, radical labor leader, by a county court jury of charges of unlawful assembly and disturbing the peace in a similar demonstration a week ago.

Mad Dogs Reported Loose In the City

A warning was issued to the people of Ranger today by city officials of mad dogs in the city. It was mentioned that one dog had been killed and its head sent to Austin for examination. The dog was known to have bitten two other dogs in the city, but both had been previously vaccinated.

Those owning dogs were warned that they should have their dogs vaccinated as a precaution against rabies, which might be spread to other dogs or even to members of the family. It was pointed out that many believed that if their dogs had been vaccinated once or twice that it was immune from rabies in the future, but that dogs should be vaccinated each year.

The dog wagon is still picking up stray dogs and a concerted effort is being made to rid the town of strays, though an effort is being made not to molest dogs that have been properly vaccinated and licensed.

Next Group Session Of Lions Club to Come to Ranger

The Lion group meeting held at Graham Wednesday evening was reported a big success in every way. One hundred twenty-two members of group three were in attendance. There were visitors from Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Olney and Jackboro.

Lion Chauncey E. Penix of Graham was master of ceremonies and did a splendid job of it, having something doing all the time. The highlight of the entertainment part of the program was a floor show in which appeared some of the best talent from Fort Worth and Dallas shows.

There were three past district governors present, Dr. Danforth of Fort Worth, Horace Conley of Cisco, and D. T. Bowles of Breckenridge. Dr. Danforth delivered the main address of the evening. His subject was patriotism. He stressed the fact that the Lions clubs have a wonderful opportunity to assist in teaching patriotism and urged each club present to outline such a program for the coming year.

Group president, Lion Harry A. Logsdon, presided at the business session. A report of the secretary showed that Eastland again gets the goat, which carries with it the entertainment of the group three months hence. However, Ranger asked for the privilege of entertaining but will allow Eastland to take care of the goat. The next meeting will be held sometime in October.

Officers elected to serve during the ensuing year were Lion Horace Conley, president; Lion Chauncey E. Penix, first vice president; and Lion J. E. Meroney second vice president; Lion Russell Jones of Breckenridge.

Secretaries of the different clubs represented in the group were called on for an activities report and each responded with a nice report that indicated that the clubs in this part are up and doing.

YOUTH DECAPITATED BY TRAIN IN RANGER EARLY ON THURSDAY MORNING

An unidentified youth, about 18 years of age, was decapitated in Ranger Wednesday night or early Thursday morning. His body was found on the Texas & Pacific railway tracks about a quarter of a mile north of the passenger station about 6 o'clock Thursday morning. It was estimated that he had been dead about five or six hours.

It was believed that the youth was a transient who had fallen from an eastbound freight train sometime during the night, as bloodstains found near the body seemed to indicate that the train that killed him was moving east. Railway officials believed that he had fallen asleep and rolled from the freight, as the position of the body did not indicate that he was trying to catch the train at the time of the accident.

A small piece of paper in the boy's pocket contained the address 601 West Cedar Street, Deming, N. M., but bore no name. His shoes were marked in ink with the name Walton, and the number DG-36-N. He wore a CCC belt with the initials JDB and the number 1816 in an upper corner. The initials on the belt and the name in the shoes did not correspond.

The boy is described as about 18 years of age, five feet 7 inches tall, weight about 130 pounds, medium brown hair. He apparently wore a black shirt, as a torn shirt was found near the body. He also wore khaki trousers. Officers have telegraphed to Deming in an effort to learn his identity. The body is being held at the Killingsworth, Cox funeral parlor, pending identification.

New Farm Bill Is Presented In Senate

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Senators James Pope of Idaho and George McGill, of Kansas, today introduced a bill embodying the administration's new comprehensive farm aid program, designed to replace the agricultural adjustment administration.

The senate meanwhile approved the conference report on the administration's farm tenancy bill and sent the $85,000,000 measure to the white house. Originally sponsored by the American Farm Bureau Federation, the farm aid program would embrace crop production control, parity prices for farm products and secretary of Agriculture Wallace's "ever normal granery" plan.

Bus Driver Killed, Passengers Injured

By United Press
GREENVILLE, Texas, July 15.—J. M. Holloway, 37, bus driver from Dallas, was injured fatally and two passengers suffered cuts and bruises today when a bus broke through a guard railing and overturned in a ditch 10 miles northeast of here.

The bus was enroute from Texarkana to Dallas with three passengers and Holloway aboard. The Lion group meeting held at Graham Wednesday evening was reported a big success in every way.

Eastland Gasoline Salesman's Truck Destroyed by Fire

A flaming gasoline truck, abandoned in haste by its driver when he glanced over his shoulder to discover the blaze, provided a spectacular all-night phenomenon on Highway 23 two miles north of Cisco Tuesday night. The driver drove the machine, with its 1,000 gallons of flaming fuel, off the highway at a point just north of the former Green Lantern Tea room, where it blocked traffic and threatened the power lines to Lake Cisco with geysers of fire that shot upward 50 to 70 feet. Heat and sheets of flame from the vehicle threw a barrier across the pavement, keeping all but the most daring drivers back.

A threatened explosion never materialized. The vents in the tops of the three compartments were sufficient to accommodate the pressure of gases generated by the heated gasoline. The Cisco fire department responded, but lacked the means to deal with the fire. A suggestion that the tanks be shot full of holes was abandoned, it being feared that streams of burning gasoline thus released might do great damage to fences, pastures and to the power line poles.

R. R. Gann, independent oil operator of Eastland, owned the truck and was driving it when he noticed the fire burning on the back of the huge truck. It was a 1937 International truck.

CONGRESS MAY DECIDE UPON COURT'S FATE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 15.—President Roosevelt, it was reported today, is willing to let Congress decide whether the court reorganization bill shall be shelved. That is the statement he reportedly made to four senators who called upon him at his White House living quarters.

Mr. Roosevelt held an early White House conference with Attorney General Homer Cummings, Cummings, one of his chief advisors in his battle for court reorganization, presumably was called by the President to discuss the situation arising from Sen. Joseph T. Robinson's death.

Court plan opponents considered presenting a motion Tuesday to recommit the judiciary bill to a committee, which, if approved, would be tantamount to killing the program. They claimed at least 50 votes for re-commitment. Administration forces speeded reorganization of their strength to carry on the battle after a state funeral service in the Senate Friday for Robinson and completion of Arkansas ceremonies in respect to the late leader.

One obstacle facing the leadership shaken by the loss of Robinson, was the growing demand for adjournment. It came chiefly from congressmen not in sympathy with the court program. A delicate problem is due of the warning of Sen. Royal S. Copeland, D. N. Y., a physician, that other senators were risking danger by working through the summer heat.

Eastland Host at Area Farm Session

County agents and agricultural workers of 16 counties met Thursday at Cornelia hotel in Eastland for discussion of compliance under the 1937 farm and range program.

B. F. Vance, in charge of AAA work in Texas, was the chief speaker. W. I. Glass, district 7 agent also attended. Attendance of approximately 75 was composed of the county agents, agriculture conservation assistants and county and community committees of agricultural associations.

Parker, Hood and Somervell counties were represented from the extension service district 4. District 7 counties represented were Jones, Shackelford, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Eastland, Taylor, Callahan, Rummel, Coleman, Comanche, Erath Mills and Brown.

Mrs. Medora S. Pitcock, area supervisor of women's projects for the Works Progress Administration, Eastland, and Mrs. Phoebe Warner, assistant district supervisor of women's work, were business visitors at Breckenridge Wednesday.

OIL MAN HELD IN ATTEMPT TO BURN CHILDREN

LANSLOWNE, Pa., July 15.—Albert Knight, 53, once wealthy oil company executive, was arrested at his home today on a charge of attempting to burn three of his children to death to collect $250,000 insurance on their lives.

Knight, at liberty on $5,000 bail, on an arson charge, was arraigned before the second warrant was issued. He was ordered held for $10,000 additional bail. The three children, Ruth, 23, Sue, 19, and Mary, 17, were in their home here last May 28 when Knight allegedly set fire to the house. David, 15, another child, also was in the house at the time of the fire, but he was mentioned as one of the intended victims. The fire was started, police said, by a candle which ignited an oil-soaked rope.

Girls' Teams of Cisco and Ranger Due In Eastland

Well Known Farmer Is Seriously Ill

Word has been received here of the serious illness of Houston Brashears, 82, who lives about five miles south of Ranger on the Staff road. Mr. Brashears has been confined to his bed about a week or 10 days, the report stated, and his condition has become so serious that relatives have been summoned.

Close relatives include two sons, Joe Brashears of San Saba, and Frank Brashears of Kermit; one brother, Hulen Brashears of Graham and other relatives in Parker county. Brashears is an old-time resident of Eastland county and is well known throughout this section of the state. He is owner of a large farm, on which he lives, and is one of the most prosperous men in his section of the county.

Start Ball Going For Fair Catalog

Plans for solicitation of advertising for the county fair catalog, the funds from which are used to stage the event, were mapped at a meeting of the advertising and publicity committee at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning. Committee members planned to immediately start the drive for the catalog advertising. The fair, to be held at Eastland, will be in September.

T. E. Richardson and Mrs. W. A. Martin compose one committee; Mrs. J. M. Perkins and C. W. Hoffmann another. C. J. Rhodes, the chairman of a third committee, has not selected his assistant. Also attending the meeting was secretary of the Chamber of Commerce H. J. Tanner.

Taking the Hard Way Back to Recovery
As the first six months of a new year pass into history, it is customary to take a general look around to see how far the nation has gone forward—or slid back—during the period.

On the bright side of the picture, the Department of Agriculture presents proof of a "traditional sign of prosperity"—a decline in farm population. This decrease, the first since 1930, shows that during 1936, the number of persons living on farms dropped 80,000.

In another government statement, it is estimated that the cotton carry-over on July 31 will be a million bales less than the carryover for that date last year. The assumption here is that that many more bales will have been sold.

By themselves, these figures indicate that our undernourished economic problem-child is putting on weight. But to understand the real portent of the gains, it is necessary to consider the difficulties under which they were accomplished.

During the first four months of the year there were 2058 strikes, involving more than a million workers. The number of mandays lost for the period reached nearly 11 million.

And when the figures for production and wages lost in the seven-state steel strike and the innumerable side-strikes are added, the total economic loss for the first six months will be no less than staggering.

In the face of terrific and widespread industrial disturbances, it is remarkable that business indexes show any improvement at all. But the fact remains that they do, and or this, the United States has every right to pat itself on the back and strut its prowess before less successful nations.

But then, as far as the strikes have gone, the nation hasn't done itself so proud. In the light of our other improvement, they pose this sobering thought:

How much farther along the Depression corner would we have been if industry and labor could have resolved their differences before the strikes instead of after them?
"A. F. L.? I don't know what those letters mean," says Henry Ford, who, is however, an authority on F. O. B.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer
SEVERAL readers want a recipe for stuffed tomatoes that is different. How's this:

Tomatoes With Mushrooms and Bacon
(4 to 6 servings)

Three firm tomatoes, 1-2 cup canned mushrooms, 2 slices bacon, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon parsley, grated hard cheese.

Chop mushrooms, bacon, parsley very fine. Mix with onion. Cut tomatoes in half. Remove most of the pulp. Fill pockets with mushroom mixture. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dust with grated cheese. Broil under hot flame for about 10 minutes. Serve with broiled steak.

Ham loaf seems to be another unknown quantity in some kitchens. So here's a way out of that lark:

Veal and Ham Loaf
(4 to 6 servings)

One pound ground ham, 1-2 pound ground pork, 1-2 pound ground veal, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1-4 cup butter, 1-2 cup minced onion, 1-2 cup milk, 1 egg.

Ham, veal and pork should be ground twice by butcher. Brown onion in butter, add milk, add bread crumbs and seasoning to

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Stewed blackberries, dry rice cereal, currant jelly omelet, toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes with mushrooms, whole wheat toast, orange and banana cups, tea, milk.

DINNER: Veal and ham loaf, cheese sauce, buttered beets, boiled potatoes, cucumber and onion salad, raspberry Bavarian cream, coffee, milk.

meat. Beat eggs into milk mixture, then add to meat mixture and combine well. Pack in buttered bread pan. Arrange strips of bacon over top. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 1 1/4 hours.

And a new way to serve pears? Alice Bradley does this away in her latest Menu-Cook Book:

Baked Pears With Ice Cream Sauce
(4 to 6 servings)

Four pears, 1-3 cup sugar, 1-4 cup water, ice cream.

Pare pears, leaving on the stems. Place in baking dish. Cook sugar and water 2 minutes, then pour over pears. Bake until tender in moderate oven. Serve with ice cream beaten until thick like custard.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS By Blosser

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Hayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Where was "Billy" Dixon, the famous scout, born, where did he spend his life after his buffalo hunting and Indian fighting days, and where did he die?

A. He was born in Ohio County, W. Va., Sept. 25, 1850. He lost both his parents when 12 years of age, and lived a short time with an uncle in Missouri before he ran away "to go west and fight Indians." After several years of this life he served as a scout under Gen. Nelson A. Miles, from August 6, 1874 to Feb. 10, 1883, and in 1883 acquired a ranch on Bent Creek at the original "Old Adobe Walls." He then moved to Plemont, Texas, and from there to Beaver County, Oklahoma, where he died of pneumonia, March 6, 1913, and was buried at Texline, Texas.

Q. How did Laredo get its name?

A. When founded, May 15, 1755 by Thomas Sanchez, under a grant from the explorer, Escandon's request, San Augustin de Laredo, for a city in the province of Santander, Spain. The first part of the name was dropped years later.

Q. Who was Matthew Caldwell and why was he called the "Paul Reverse of Texas?"

A. A native of North Carolina he came to Texas in 1835 in time to take part in the consultation of that year and to serve in various capacities in the Texas Army.

He was in the Santa Fe expedition in which he was dubbed "Old Paint" by Kendall, the expedition's historian. He was referred to as the Paul Reverse of Texas because of a dashing ride of 48 miles he made to summon Texans to the aid of Gonzales. He died at Gonzales Dec. 8, 1842.

Q. What Texan served under his son in the "Grass Fight" of 1837?

A. Capt. James Burleson, (born May 4, 1758, died Jan. 3, 1836) who had been commissary under Gen. Andrew Jackson in the war of 1812, (his son, Edward Burleson then being his bookkeeper) and who fought in the Battle of New Orleans in 1815, served under his son, Gen. Edward Burleson in the early part of the Texas Revolution and participated in the "Grass Fight" near San Jacinto.

Q. Why has Texas erected a monument to R. L. Reding at Bastrop as a Centennial project?

A. R. L. Reding was in the Army of Texas in 1835; fought in the Battle of Gonzales; was a signer of the Goliad declaration of independence of Dec. 20, 1835; was chief justice (county judge) at Bastrop; assisted in drafting Bastrop annexation resolution May 14, 1845. He lived at Bastrop from 1837 until his death in 1849.

Q. What is meant by the term "Balcones Escarpment?"

A. Ages ago there was a split in the earth in this section, part of the limestone formation falling away and gradually dissolving into what is now the prairie and coastal regions of Texas, leaving the steep, limestone escarpments which in places have washed to gradual hillsides. These splits or faults irregularly mark the general division in line between the coastal and the hill countries of Texas and in places extend far below the earth's surface.

Q. What proportion of the carbon black of this county is produced in Texas?

A. In 1936, Texas produced 82 per cent, or 333,906,000 of the 411,000,000 pounds, the value of the Texas production being about $14,000,000, about 40 per cent of it being exported. Most of it is produced in the Panhandle district.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The White House press conference probably is an institution unique in the world. At least, in no other foreign capital do correspondents stand up twice a week and fire questions at "Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, the King or Prime Minister of England or whoever else the big shot may be.

The new style press conference is four years old now—is Roosevelt's own, Coolidge and Hoover used to have a system whereby you wrote your questions and slipped them to a secretary. The President picked out the ones he felt like answering and ignored the rest. Roosevelt, however, decided he would submit to verbal questions and give direct answers, information for background or strictly "off the record" replies.

Sometimes! Roosevelt says he doesn't want to or isn't ready to answer a question, that he doesn't know the answer, that he hasn't ready the statements, report or newspaper story to which the questioner refers, that the question is an "if question," or that the question is best answered by another question which he thereupon propounds.

BUT most important questions get asked sooner or later—embarrassing or not—and so it was with the question whether he would accept a third term nomination if it were offered. Back in 1927 newsmen kept slipping written questions to Coolidge asking if he were a candidate for re-nomination. Coolidge ignored them consistently. Then one day the fellows ganged up and each individually wrote the same question and saw to it there wasn't another in the pile.

Coolidge turned them over, one after another, until he reached the end of them. And then he began a 15-minute rambling, disquisition on the subject—unless this progress slowly and carefully." The People's Congress, to be held in Nanking in November is only a step toward democracy, he said.

"Nobody will pretend that every delegate attending the People's Congress has been really elected by the people, yet the Congress does represent an important step in the right direction.

"The Nanking authorities are still reluctant to give the people in the provinces and all the political parties equal rights in a truly democratic system, fearing that the voters might reject the policies of the Kuomintang, the single legal party in China.

"On the other hand some provincial authorities are also reluctant to place the power in the hands of the people or of giving up the armed struggle against the government, fearing that the Central government will oust them from their offices.

"The people themselves do not yet know how to wage a peaceful political struggle for their rights. Even the Chinese Communist party has not had sufficient training in methods of peaceful struggling for victories at the ballot box.

"All of us have much to learn and we must start our political education immediately. China has been caught between two fires, the fires of feudalism and of imperialism. We do not intend to fight our way out of this situation by sword and gun, but by peaceful political means. The Chinese fascists and the Chinese Communists will find the middle peaceful ground in democracy."

But then the first correspondent came back and asked if the situation were covered by the February Victory Dinner speech in which Roosevelt said he wanted to turn the country over to his successor in 1941 in better shape than it was when Buchanan handed it to Lincoln. Roosevelt then made his second duck nomination.

The two correspondents joined the general laughter. Mr. Roosevelt is usually conceded the right to razz at these conferences—or even to fib if he does it only to duck a question, not misinform. Just the same there's a certain restraint in questioning, inspired by the average correspondent's desire not to be criticized by colleagues or to "get in wrong" at the White House. This has nothing to do with the "Roosevelt charm," which attracts some newsmen, is ignored by many and definitely annoys others.

and difficult task to bring a true democracy to this country. We are not yet ready for a thorough democratic system and we must make

Equality Gains Are Slower In China

YENNANFU, China.—The most important task confronting Chinese leaders today is to make China a republic in fact as well as in name, Chou En-lai, vice chairman of the Chinese Soviet Military Council, told the United Press.

The Chinese people must be given some voice in the affairs of the government, he said, pointing out that in the Soviet areas every man over 18 is entitled to vote and to hold office. Even the landlords and other gentry who turn to the Soviet areas are given the privilege of the ballot box, Chou said.

"Yet China cannot plunge headlong into democracy such as America, England and other truly democratic countries enjoy. The people of China have been suppressed for so long that they will require long political training before they understand the significance and importance of an honest vote.

"Most of China is still in a feudal state and it will be a long

Sober Picketing in Name of Law

Smilingly sober, Frank Keeler creates a page from early New England history in front of his Yolo county home in California, at the "suggestion" of a justice of the peace. Keeler is one of three violators sentenced to test the justice's theory that self-advertising of "personal defects" might lessen drunkenness. The "picketing" shift amounted to an hour a day for a week.

CLEVELAND.—Trotters and pacers are much harder than running horses.

Thoroughbreds used as prompters or pacemakers for standardbreds in training usually are worn out by the three miles harness horses are brushed.

Gallopers are unaccustomed to such long stretches of comparatively high speed. Runners ordinarily rest a week or longer after hitting it up for a mile or slightly more in actual competition. Trotters travel three fast miles on race day and are ready to come back again three days later.

Runners prefer a plowed track. It protects their tender hoofs. Trotters are lashed into battle on a packed-down and vastly harder surface. A hardy packed sandy strip is ideal for the sulky variety.

THE newer school of standardbred trainers differs somewhat from the old.

Trotters long have been trained nearly nine months to race a little more than three.

Youth contends that, permitted to catch their breath with a few lapses in between, they could and should be raced the year around.

Such a plan would not work with 2 and 3-year-olds, however, because it usually takes three years for them to learn their gait so they won't forget it in a hard-fought race.

Those who held that trotting horses was an old man's game have to revise their ideas with Bill Fleming, Doc Parshall, Harry Pownall, Harry Whitney, Dunbar W. Bostwick, and Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., showing the old-timers tricks with fleet candidates.

Youth believes that training in the north in winter is about as beneficial as sunshine and coddling in the south. Walter Cox is one veteran who agrees. He insists that harness horses should be trained in ice and snow during the winter, and carries out his conviction by toughening his horses' muscles in the frigidty of Goshen, N. Y.

BOSTWICK'S theory that trotters can be trained harder and faster in April and May, instead of being brought along very slowly during the spring months, as they are by old-timers, is borne out by the success of his stable. Results attained with Bostwick's Hollywood Audrey, candidate for the rich Hambletonian at Goshen, Aug. 11, is a splendid example.

The 23-year-old Fleming sees no sense in all the warming up which the veterans, such as 57-year-old Billy Dickerson, put their charges through. The younger Billy believes that too much is taken out of colts by this strenuous exercise before a race.

The old-timers are happy to be convinced of the worth of drastic changes instituted by such youngsters as Bostwick, the amateur, and Fleming, the professional.

The veterans welcome new blood and ideas, for they recently passed through a protracted period during which so few of the younger generation evinced interest that it appeared as though the wholesome trotting horse game would die of old age.

Orchid Growing At Home Is Urged

OAKLAND, Calif.—California's newly organized Orchid Society has adopted for its slogan, "Every backyard its own orchid."

This, the society explains, is not so much for the purpose of reducing the orchid to the status of a backyard production as it is to demonstrate that the orchid is within the reach of every person, instead of the exclusive property of the wealthy.

The society has gone into the study of the orchid and the means of its production and growth to an extent where it is now able to guarantee that any amateur with $2 capital can grow his own orchids, and all he wants, instead of paying $2 each, more or less.

For the benefit of those who would like to have orchids, the society has worked out the following information:

"There are three orchids which may be easily grown in a lath house and there are other orchids

VACATION DIARY

BY JEAN SEIVWRIGHT

Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER I

THURSDAY: It's all settled! Roger and I are going to be married in the Little Church Around the Corner a week from Friday. My "rising young designer of things modernistic" (to quote from an article about my fiancé and his work) says there's no sense in putting that off till we have made a million. It's happiness we're after and that's what we'll have when we get together. I agree with my darling. Life has been wonderful since we met.

I still smile when I think of that. It was the rush hour at Long's exclusive tearoom when he dashed in, demanding instant service. As chief hostess I scanned the room, found a small table with one vacant seat. He smiled . . . thanked me . . . became a regular patron . . . and at Christmas we were engaged.

Now I must think of my trousseau, where we're going to live and a host of other details. There's just one thing—but there, why think of that? Roger couldn't have been in earnest about it. Midnight! I mustn't write another word. Tomorrow will be here too soon.

Friday: A busy day. Two conventions in the city which is over-run with strangers. You'd know them in a minute, even if they left off those ridiculous badges that announce they're delegates from Tripp's Corners, or some other as exciting spot in the United States. Roger phoned in the afternoon. . . an unexpected conference with Rocco this evening, so he won't be able to make our date. I wonder why Roger bothers with him now. He's such a cocky, insufferable sort of chap. Still I suppose I shouldn't cavil about any of his clients . . . better remember it was Rocco who gave my darling his first chance (Roger started as an architect, but always wanted to design interiors and all their accessories). Every one knows Rocco's "club" is nothing more than a gambling joint; but Roger's work made a hit . . . got lots of publicity for the place and some good contracts for my dearest. I did want to see him tonight. I'm afraid I don't see eye to eye about Peter.

SATURDAY: Had dinner with Roger. He's tremendously encouraged . . . got a call to go to Washington tonight about decorating the directors' rooms in some new office building. That will mean a handsome check! Hadn't any time to discuss our wedding plans, as he had to catch the nine o'clock train. Roger wanted to escort me home. I said I would rather go to Grand Central and see him off. I love stations with all the people coming and going. They always make me long to be up and away too! Hated to go home. Stuck around for a bit. Then, remembering Peter, dashed into the subway.

Monday: Lovely Parma violets from Roger . . . and two telegrams. He may be home tomorrow. I've missed him dreadfully. Even if I don't see him every day when he is in the city, there are always his phone calls.

Told Peter what Roger and I are going to do. He wrinkled his freckled nose and shrugged his shoulders just like Mimi. Then, flinging his sturdy self against me, he hugged me with all the enthusiasm of a seven-year-old . . .

said Roger was a grand guy (I wish he wouldn't use such words . . . I wonder where he learns them) and that it would be all right with him. I'm glad he took it like that. But then Roger has always hit it off with my small stepbrother—Dad's and Mimi's legacy to me when the poor dears passed out after their tragic accident. Oh, dear, how sleepy I am! Guess I'll write "anis" for tonight.

Tuesday: Roger won't be home till tomorrow. Maybe we'll have a celebration. I'm glad I got Peter's stockings all mended. Sally's a good little maid, but evidently darling's beyond her.

Writing of Peter reminds me of what Roger said about him. The idea of packing him off to boarding school when we got married is ridiculous! Surely he didn't mean that. I was afraid he did . . . afraid too I showed my resentment . . . we almost had words about it. That would have been dreadful when we've never had a single moment of misunderstanding. Roger's a darling, but quick as Mercury. His dark hair has a glint of red in it, and people do say things about red-heads and tempers.

WEDNESDAY: Roger phoned me about five. Back from Washington . . . jubilant over a new contract . . . also met some important men. So long as it's men, that's all right with me. Called for me and we went dancing. Having a midnight snack. I picked up a newspaper, and read this paragraph from that notorious gossip column—The Crow's Nest: "Rumor says that our old friend R—'s angel(a) daughter is a flame about the clever young designer who did such interesting things to his 'club' that it's now smart society's favorite rendezvous." Handed it to Roger. His scowl showed me he resented the coupling of that girl's name with his. Then we laughed about it. I'll never have to worry about Roger and other women. He never sees them. How lucky I am! Peter was not mentioned, though we talked about looking for an apartment.

Thursday: Spent the day in the country with Roger. How heavenly it was with all the flowers . . . and the birds singing so sweetly! Peter went picnicking with one of his schoolboy friends and his family. Said to Roger when we passed a lovely little house, "That's the sort of home I'd like." He agreed it was perfect, but said we'd have to live in the city for a bit. Not such a bright prospect with summer days ahead. Still I can see why my "rising young designer" cannot afford to leave the enchanted city yet with its opportunities to contact big business men and land fat contracts.

Well, we can have week-ends in the country and at the shore. Glad Roger loves swimming and golf. Guess his interest in outdoor sports is what keeps him "fit." He does look well, even if his fine skin is inclined to burn red instead of tanning. Well, there's "aye a something" as my old nurse used to say.

Friday: There's always a let-down toward the week-end but today was an exception . . . we were frightfully busy. More conventions . . . more and more visitors to increase the quota we serve. Gail, who carries on till I come on the floor, informed me a young man wanted to see me. She's such a crazy kid she didn't even have the sense to ask his name . . . wonder who he was?

Postoffice to Have Two Courtrooms

By United Press
SAN ANTONIO, Texas—Postmaster Dan Quill announced recently that the new postoffice building nearing completion here would have two courtrooms. The courtrooms will be designated as jury and non-jury federal courtrooms, Quill stated. Use of two courtrooms in San Antonio is accredited to the fact that there are two resident magistrates; Judge R. J. McMillan and Judge Duval West.

Attractive First Showing Of Fall Dresses Features College Campus

If you are interested in what is to be worn this fall, just take a visit to the ready-to-wear department at Hassen's where a very attractive line of College Campus frocks are to be viewed.

Black and black and black, as well as the newer shades of blue and brown, apparently are to hold the limelight. These more sombre colors taking us away from the lighter ones we grow tired of during the summer are striking with the accessories which have a tendency to turn to black and brown. A noted stylist has predicted more black and brown combinations will be seen this fall and winter than ever before. The College Campus group of dresses are quite popularly priced and carry smart lines. Hassen personnel invites you to pay them a visit.

Vote Carries to Change Name of Local Chapter

A group of members composing the personnel of Rebekah Lodge No. 244, held a Tuesday evening meeting and during the business session voted to change the name of Progressive Rebekah Lodge to Ranger Rebekah lodge. The vote carried by a large majority.

Meetings are to be held throughout the summer and members are manifesting unusual interest in work carried forward.

Delightful Outing Held at Scenic Point

A contest for attendance sponsored by the Intermediate group of First Methodist church terminated in a delightful outing held at Scenic Point when the losers complimented the winners with a watermelon and ice cream party.

Games rounded out the pleasant hour of fun under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. V. W. Becker. Among adults present who served as chaperones were General Superintendent of Sunday School class S. P. Boon and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Woods.

The party was attended by 35 members and a number of visitors.

Revival of Church Of God Is Drawing Large Congregation

A congregation of about 200 attended the open air revival of the Church of God, now being conducted at 215 North Austin street with Rev. John H. Moore in charge.

The message Wednesday night was on the subject, "Shall We Continue in Sin that Grace May Abound."

The evangelist said that if one would raise up a child in the way it should go, when it is old it will not depart from the ways of righteousness. He said that he knew of some not dressing their children as becoming holiness.

"As ye come in the light, walk ye in it," he said. "The Lord wants us to live right in this world."

The church extends a cordial welcome to all to attend the services, which are conducted each night. A number from Cisco and other towns in the county and some from outside the county were present at the services Wednesday night, it was reported by Rev. Roy J. Young, pastor of the local Church of God.

Dothan-Cottonwood Road Is Started

Under the sponsorship of Eastland county commissioner's court, a Works Progress Administration $28,000 project was begun Thursday morning on the Dothan and Cottonwood road in precinct 4.

Plans, explained County Engineer A. F. Taylor, call for graveling, widening of right of way, building of new drainage structures and regrading on the four miles of road in the project. The project serves as a supplement to a previous one.

One hundred and forty-four men will be employed for four months.

Ever see more than a million persons at one time? Just look at this throng (count 'em, if you're skeptical) and you'll have an idea of what such a multitude is like. More than a million swarmed onto the beach at Coney Island, fresh air mecca for New York's sweltering denizens, to set a new attendance record. A breezeless heat wave drove them out of their apartments in search of relief. It's apparent that there was standing room only on the beach.

Papago Indians of Arizona Have Had Own Security Plan

By United Press
TUCSON, Ariz.—Father Bonaventure Oblaser, a stocky, deep-tanned priest who has served among the Papago Indians more than 27 years, believes their solemnly obeyed oaths to care for their aged should exempt them from provisions of the national social security act.

"No Papago ever starves," he said in explaining the centuries-old Papago custom of relieving their people of worry about their closing years.

Virtually all Papagos are related, which fact, he says, binds them more rigidly to carry out their promises.

Father Bonaventure, who has learned to speak the Papago tongue and who understands the tribes customs, wants and aspirations, opposes the Indian's competition with the white man because of the Catholic aim to teach and foster independence.

Despite the fact the Papagos have 13 communities in their district, he insists they will remain intact.

"They want it known and recognized that they wish and are able to live independently in different communities," he says.

Father Bonaventure came to the Papagos when the work of the Catholic church and the Federal government still was in its "infancy."

He started working among the Indians at Topowa, where he directed them in construction of their first seven schools. His ac-

Sunday School Group Will Hold a Meeting

Sunday School officers of the First Baptist church of Ranger will meet tonight at the church in an important meeting, which has been called for 7:30 by Rev. Charles T. Tally, Jr., pastor of the church.

Thurman S. Hill, superintendent of the Sunday school, has urged that all officers be present for the meeting promptly at 7:30.

Activities now center about Ajo and Sonoita.

Eight priests serve the Papagos now, with 15 teachers, a large staff of Indians and 30 chapels.

Father Bonaventure has pleaded the Papagos' cause before Federal officials in Washington twice, and each time has accomplished his mission. He was a member of the committee that actually started the reservation.

He said the priests of the reservation have started everything but a road program. The government has responded readily to all suggestions, he said.

Father Bonaventure's early-day life among the Indians was packed with harrowing experiences—escapes, threats and hardships.

He has suffered from thirst for 24 hours while riding horseback over the hot desert sands. He has helped sheriffs track down horse thieves, and once barely escaped a gun battle between a band of thieves and a posse.

A native of Portland, Ore., Father Bonaventure came here from Oakland, Cal., in answer to a plea for priests to work among the Indians. He originally intended to do missionary work in China.

Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery Star in "Slave Ship," Mightiest of Sea Sagas

Mutiny and bloodshed redden the decks of the honeymoon ship of Warner Baxter (left) and Elizabeth Allan when Wallace Beery's villainy sends the last slaver to black doom in "Slave Ship," Twentieth Century-Fox's stormy saga of the sea.

Dramatic Spectacle, Storming in Epic Sweep Over Half the World Features Elizabeth Allan and Mickey Rooney

Storming in epic sweep over half the world, as the last slaver sails on its last desperate voyage, "Slave Ship" opens Thursday at the Arcadia Theatre, giving the screen a new claimant for the title of mightiest of all the sea sagas.

Twentieth Century-Fox's most spectacular production of the year, "Slave Ship" co-stars Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery in a pulsing tale of the slave-trading era, with Elizabeth Allan and Mickey Rooney among those on the boat, as with decks redden by mutiny, it roams the seas on its final fury-racked voyage.

In the most colorful role of a colorful career, Warner Baxter plays Captain Jim Lovett, romantic seourge of two seas, who defies the navies of the world, is betrayed by a shipmate, the fights at last for love in the greatest sea adventure of them all.

Wallace Beery, whose long list of shipboard roles reads like a veritable history of the salt-water cinema, sinks his teeth into a meaty role that presents him as the villainous mate of the slaver—big-fisted, bull-headed, genial, and treacherous to his dying breath, one minute a roasting beast, the next, a gentle child; friend and foe alike to the captain he serves—and betrays.

pestuous career of a swift bark engaged in the slave trade, and its courageous captain, Warner Baxter, who planned to retire from "blackbirding" to settle down to a new life with his young bride, Elizabeth Allan.

As they sail on Baxter's boat on the honeymoon cruise which is to mark the end of its days as a slaver, they find that they have been betrayed by the mate, Wallace Beery, and the crew, avid for more slaving profits. The honeymoon cruise is turned into a voyage in which they are continually brought face to face with danger and death.

Sought by the navies of every nation, and torn by mutiny aboard, the slave ship sails on through adventures on the high seas and along the African coast, and it is a dramatic climax which clears the future for the captive couple and sends the ill-fated slaver to his ominous destiny.

The story of "Slave Ship," which is based on the novel by George S. King, was written by William Faulkner, and the screen play is the work of Sam Hellman, Lamar Trotti and Gladys Lehman. George Sanders, Jane Darwell and Joseph Schildkraut are among those who appear in the huge cast.

Darryl F. Zanuck, vice-president in charge of production at Twentieth Century-Fox, chose Tay Garnett to direct, with Nunnally Johnson as associate producer.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatism, pain, lameness, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
