TYLER, Oct. 18.—A. C. Hart, 30, Overton filling station operator, was held on a murder charge today in connection with the shooting of his brother-in-law, Elmo Wheeler, 54, wealthy oil royalty operator.

Hart surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Homer Gray after the shooting last night. Gray quoted Hart as saying, "I regret it, but I had to do it."

Funeral Held For Former Eastlandite

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at San Antonio for Jesse Harrison, 39, formerly of Eastland, who was fatally injured in an accident on an oil well near Corpus Christi Friday.

It was stated Harrison was a former employee of a gasoline company at Eastland.

Clews Lacking In Hit, Run Injuries of Eastland Man

Officials were clueless Monday to the identity of a hit-and-run driver whose auto-mobility seriously injured John Webb, Eastland resident, while walking to work at 4 a. m.

The prostrate form of Webb was discovered by a truck driver at 4:30 a. m. on the right side of the Bankhead Highway east of the Cactus Sandwich Shop.

The truck driver, Chief of Police W. J. Peters stated, reported he saw the body of Webb, whom he believed dead. An ambulance from Hamner Undertaking company, upon notification, carried Webb to the Payne hospital for treatment. Later he was removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Mattie Miller.

Attendants at the hospital reported Webb suffered "considerable bruises." Webb was unable to give an account of the accident.

The hit-and-run driver, from indications, was traveling eastward from Cisco. Webb had left the home of his sister at 4 o'clock to report for work at a cafe where he is a dishwasher.

Breck Youth Has Polymyolitis Case

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 18.—Dr. H. H. Cartwright returned Saturday from Abilene and reported Phillip McGeehan, son of the Baptist minister of Breckenridge, improved in his illness of infantile paralysis—polymyolitis.

Dr. Cartwright said that there are no sprays or specific remedies of that nature for prevention, but that if parents would keep their children at home if they are ill especially with sore throat, colds or have fever a great safeguard would be thrown up, not only for infantile paralysis—polymyolitis—but against other epidemics.

Teachers seeing children ill at school should send them home, he added.

Special May Be Run to Ranger

BIG SPRING, Oct. 18.—Plans were being forwarded here Monday to run a special section of cars over the Texas & Pacific railway to Ranger Thursday, when the Big Spring Steers will meet the Ranger Bulldogs that afternoon in a feature of the Ranger oil fete.

According to reports the special will leave here Thursday morning and return about midnight Thursday night.

Woman Pleads For Release of Husband

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Chas. S. Ross ignored kidnapers today to release her aged husband. She threatened to start a vigorous manhunt if her plea is not answered by 8 a. m. tomorrow.

She dictated an ultimatum, which said in substance:

- 1—The kidnapers' demands have been met.
- 2—Ross needs medical attention.
- 3—Federal and police officers have withdrawn to permit negotiations but will be ordered to act vigorously unless Ross is returned by 8 a. m. tomorrow.

Cotton Huddleston Believed Captured

ROSWELL, N. M., Oct. 18.—Sheriffs from three Texas counties were enroute here today to identify a man thought to be Cotton Huddleston, who escaped from jail at Waxahachie Sept. 12 and was captured in a hotel here yesterday.

He made no resistance when taken into custody.

Huddleston broke jail at Waxahachie after he was sentenced to terms totaling 210 years. He is wanted at Tahoka in connection with automobile theft and in Colorado for a holdup.

Traffic Ticket Seal On Car Door Urged

SEATTLE.—Seattle motorists who double park or otherwise violate city traffic rules will find on the door of their automobiles a lock, containing a traffic ticket—if the city council decides to approve a patented device designed by a local officer.

The device would be placed by policemen, and could only be removed by traffic authorities.

The lock may be removed by the automobile owner, but a warning against that is engraved on the device.

Facing Deportation and Nazi Ax

Baron von Karl Von Mauchenheim smiled in Detroit as this picture was made, despite his fears of being returned to Germany to face a Nazi executioner's ax. A. U. S. consul at Windsor, Ont., had just refused the couple's plea for visas to permit them to stay in the United States. The baron fled Germany with his wife in 1936 to escape compulsory army service. Unless the U. S. government intervenes they will be deported.

Ministers Plan a Fight On Sale of Liquor by Drink

The Ranger Ministerial Alliance announced today that it was planning a county-wide meeting of all pastors in the county, at which a fight would be started on the bill, now before the special session of the legislature, legalizing the sale of liquor by the drink.

Tentative plans call for a meeting to be held Friday afternoon at Eastland, it was stated today by members of the alliance.

Texas Co. Security Plan Aids Workers

More than 99 1-2 per cent of the 22,470 eligible employees of the Texas corporation and subsidiary companies in the United States and Canada have signed up under the corporation's group life insurance and pension plan, it was announced today by W. S. S. Rodgers, president of the Texas corporation.

The plan, which became effective on July 1, 1937, is supported by contributions on the part of individual employees and the company and provides for death benefits and pensions.

To date 113 employees have received pension checks and 26 death claims, amounting to $77,719.82, have been paid.

Bloodstained Car Claimed as Women Are Held In Murder

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18.—The bloodstained car in which A. M. Reily of Dallas was fatally stabbed when he accepted an invitation to take a ride last Tuesday night, was returned to Kansas City today after foreclosure by a mortgage company.

The erstwhile owner of the car, Billy Joe Palmeri, 29, and his companion, Betty Simpson, 22, both of Kansas City, will face examining trial tomorrow on a charge of murder.

The mortgage company representative found blood on the front seat and floorboards, where Reily struggled with the two women over a long-bladed pocket knife, finally being pushed from the car and left at the roadside.

Investigators sought to trace ownership of the knife.

U. T. Will Supply Logs of Oil Wells

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 18.—Mimeographed copies of the logs of early Texas wells drilled for oil are being made available to geologists and other interested persons by the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology. The Bureau has on file logs of many of the early wells, and is mimeographing those up to and including the year 1925.

Eldridge, Official Inspecting Schools

H. E. Robinson, Brownwood, deputy state school superintendent, Monday began an inspection of schools with County Superintendent C. E. Eldridge.

CHINESE FIGHT FIERCE BATTLE AT SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18.—1,400 Chinese infantrymen, an entire regiment sworn to die rather than retreat, were annihilated today of the Shanghai front.

For days Japanese had been attacking in their sector, trying to consolidate themselves on the Shanghai side of Woosung Creek. Each time they were thrown back. Today they sent a fleet of bombing planes over to attack the Chinese lines. Then infantry, marching behind tanks, were sent over the top.

The men of the Chinese regiment defending the position, had taken an oath not to retreat.

Wave after wave of Japanese went over to be thrown back. Each time the number of defenders was less. At 9 a. m., three hours after the attack started, there were 13 men left, including the commander, who was wounded. A few minutes later the last wave of Japanese reached the 13 and all died fighting.

Two hours after the death of the last man Chinese reinforcements arrived. They retook the point. The Japanese took it again. At 5 p. m. the point had been retaken several times, the last time by the Japanese.

High Court Refuses To Review a Case Under Security Act

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The Supreme Court today refused to review constitutionality of the security and exchange acts.

The action came when the court denied the petition of three Florida investment firms dealing in oil royalties participation of certificates from a decision from a civil appeals court upholding the act and refusing them an injunction against service against securities and exchange commission subpoenas for telegrams received by the company.

Fall Planting Is Delayed by Drouth

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—Coincidental with a favorable employment and payroll report by the University of Texas, the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics today issued an unfavorable report from its Austin office on the fall and winter crop planting conditions.

"Except for a few scattered areas," the report said, "practically no dry land planting has been done and growers in the irrigated sections had a hard time getting seed beds started. The fall planting will supply only a light production."

Group Sponsors A Miniature Auto Show

NEW YORK.—The First Miniature Automobile Show, with 500 different 1938 designs, has been held here in advance of the Automobile Show.

Replicas of the newest designs were reproduced by the toy industry, varying in size from 5 inches to 2 feet, for the exhibit, which was sponsored by the Boys' Brotherhood Republic, a charity which provides civic training for New York East Side youngsters.

Eastland's Part In Ranger Fete Outlined Monday

The Eastland contribution to Ranger's Homecoming celebration program Thursday was outlined Monday by H. J. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Tanner stated that J. H. Gain, director of the Eastland High school band, and his musicians will participate in a parade at 9:30 the morning of the celebration.

Thursday night at a street program James Metcalf will play a clarinet solo, Mava Lou Crossley and Betty Wiegand saxophone duets. Clifton Horn, Jr., and Patsy Horn, children of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Horn, will take parts in a one-act skit.

Tanner said many from Eastland plan to attend the celebration.

'Royal' Invitations Sent for Celebration

A unique invitation conceived by County Clerk R. V. Galloway has attracted attention for Ranger's homecoming celebration on Thursday.

The invitations were in form of a "royalty deed." They were recorded Oct. 21, date of the celebration, in the book of "Good Deeds" in book two since the celebration is Ranger's second commemorating the discovery of oil. An oil jubilee was held 10 years ago.

"Recording Fee" is "your presence."

Signed by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, the deed reads: "That we, the citizens of Ranger and Eastland County, Texas, for and in consideration of your visit to Ranger on Oct. 21, 1937, do hereby bargain, insist and demand that you be with us on this, the 20th anniversary of the discovery of oil in the Ranger field, which started the greatest boom the world has ever known.

And we, the citizens of Ranger, Eastland County, Texas, do hereby bind ourselves to guarantee to you that we will give you the most enjoyable time you have ever had, and also further guarantee you that you will meet hundreds of your friends of former years.

We further bind ourselves and our citizens to the guarantee that you will thoroughly enjoy every minute of the program, and that you will never have reason to regret having come back to Ranger for a day and seeing your friends again.

Given under our hand and the signature of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the anniversary, joined by every man, woman and child in Ranger, this the 1st day of Oct., 1937.

Tiny Baby Wins Over Long Odds

NEW ORLEANS.—Tiny Jacquelyn Anne Clement sleeps out her days at Baptist hospital unaware of the history she is making for medical journals.

A corps of nurses and doctors hovers over her day and night, watching for any unusual development that may affect her growth.

"Eye dropper" baby weighs only 3 pounds, 7 1/2 ounces.

Jacquelyn was born two and a half months prematurely. At birth she weighed only 2 pounds 3 1/2 ounces. Doctors were ready to announce a still birth but Jacquelyn gave a little gasp and deft hands of physicians brought regular breathing. An incubator was rushed to a special room. In that room constant vigil has been kept and Jacquelyn has shown continued improvement.

At first nurses fed her four drops of milk every two hours from an eyedropper. Several days later the "meal" was increased to three drams at two-hour intervals. Then water was added to the diet. Later came iron and copper and cod liver oil in small concentrated doses.

When she has reached five pounds doctors will permit Jacquelyn to be removed from the incubator, and perhaps she will be taken home. That will be several more weeks, though.

With the exceptional care that has been given her, doctors think that the tiny baby, whose head was no larger than a small apple at birth, has a good chance to develop normally. She may even be healthier than most children because of the careful watch kept on her diet, they believe. The normal development may be attained in six months or five years. It all depends on how the tiny body reacts to the care being given.

Woman Loses Finger In Jail Cell Door

ARCHEER CITY, Texas.—Mrs. A. H. Gosler, wife of Sheriff Dutch Gosler of Archer county, amputated the first finger of her left hand when she closed a cell door on it after giving the prisoners their breakfast.

Mrs. Gosler calmly unlocked the door, retrieved her finger, unlocked and relocked two more doors before she called a physician to stop the flow of blood from the finger.

"I couldn't afford to get excited," Mrs. Gosler explained matter-of-factly. "Some of the prisoners might have tried to escape."

HOUSE VOTES TO ASK TOPIC ON ECONOMY

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—House members voted 75 to 53 today to ask Gov. Alfred to submit the matter of appropriations to this special session so economics can be made.

The senate had already voted overwhelmingly for a bill to cut the cost of state departments almost $5,000,000.

Speaker Robert W. Calvert told the United Press today that he will hold the senate appropriation reduction bill cannot be considered under the governor's call for the present tax session of the legislature.

He will follow the advice of the attorney general's department on the question.

"After taking their advice on a bill I have not submitted to them for an opinion the sale by drink liquor bill, I certainly will follow it as a question I had asked a ruling upon," Calvert said. "You will remember I ruled at the first special session an appropriation for the San Jacinto Monument could not be included in the mileage bill," Calvert said.

Gov. Alfred refused to say whether he will open the subject of economics to the session by submitting it in a message. He fenced with attempts to get a definite commitment.

Legion Auxiliary Will Sell Poppies At Homecoming

Mrs. Charles Surbrook, chairman of the poppy sale committee of the Auxiliary of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion, today completed plans for the sale.

A window on Main Street has been decorated in preparation for the sale, and it is to be one of the most attractive windows to be seen during the homecoming celebration.

Members of the auxiliary will sell poppies on the streets all day during the homecoming, it was announced today, and the patronage of the public has been solicited.

Souvenir Books to Be Sold Here Oct. 21

Attention was called again today to the fact that members of the Auxiliary of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion would sell souvenir copies of "Were You in Ranger?" the book about the Ranger oil boom, written by Boyce House.

The souvenir copies will be sold for 50 cents each, it was stated today by members of the committee in charge of the sale.

The Eastland contribution to Ranger's Homecoming celebration program Thursday was outlined Monday by H. J. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Tanner stated that J. H. Gain, director of the Eastland High school band, and his musicians will participate in a parade at 9:30 the morning of the celebration.

Thursday night at a street program James Metcalf will play a clarinet solo, Mava Lou Crossley and Betty Wiegand saxophone duets. Clifton Horn, Jr., and Patay Horn, children of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Horn, will take parts in a one-act skit.

Royal Invitations Sent for Celebration

A unique invitation conceived by County Clerk R. V. Galloway has attracted attention for Ranger's homecoming celebration on Thursday.

The invitations were in form of a "royalty deed." They were recorded Oct. 21, date of the celebration, in the book of "Good Deeds" in book two since the celebration is Ranger's second commemorating the discovery of oil.

Americans' Big Stake in a Powerful Navy

Even the most convinced pacifist must have moments, these days, in which he feels like thanking his God for the United States Navy.

We seem to have passed entirely out of the era in which international law or international treaties meant anything in particular. What makes the present so dark and the future so discouraging is the fact that the world has reverted to the rule of brute force.

A nation's only safeguard lies in its own strength; and it is extremely comforting to see that America's strength is fully implemented—sinewed and made ready in a way no one can mistake.

We have been one of the world's luckiest nations for a century and a half—lucky because of our isolation, because of our infinite supply of natural resources, because destiny fixed things so that we could work out our own salvation in our own way.

But lucky nations are on the spot nowadays. The nations which have not been lucky have set out to take the things which have been denied them. In Ethiopia, in Spain and in China we have had ample opportunity to see just how determined and ruthless this desire to get a better share of the good things of this earth can make a people.

It used to be supposed that simply to possess strong armaments put a nation on its muscle. Build a great fleet or a great army and you will sooner or later go looking for a chance to use it—so ran the argument. But our own recent experience disproves that. We have one of the two mightiest navies on earth—yet we have repeatedly kept our skirts clear of all entanglement in the Mediterranean, and have followed, in China, precisely the course we would have followed if our fleet were small and weak.

And as we do this we have the comfort of knowing that the war cannot be brought to our own shores. What happened to Nanking and Madrid won't happen to San Francisco or New York. Not until our navy is destroyed—and there exists today no power that could destroy it—can that be inflicted on us.

Our old pre-war outlook, which held that strong armaments were somehow incompatible with peace-loving democracy, has had to change. Democracy today is on trial as never before. It has to be strong enough to defend itself against powers which would destroy it.

Until this turbulent and uncertain era passes, it is hard to see how we can do anything else than keep our fleet as strong as the strongest and as ready as the readiest.

EASY ON CHARACTERS
PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney.
AMY KERR—Jim's roommate, murderer's victim.
JIM BLYTHE—city's famous strange visitor.
SEBASTIAN DOLAN—office assistant to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday Cilly was saved at the last possible second when Sergeant Dolan entered the Editor's room. She is returned to her apartment to await police protection for the night. And then three sharp rings at the door—Jim's ring.

CHAPTER XXIX
 "Cilly! Oh, my darling, I never knew what happened. I never knew. I didn't see a newspaper until half an hour ago."
 Jim's arms were around her, a network against fear and uncertainty and death itself, and Cilly was sobbing hysterically on his shoulders. Sobbing with wild abandon because she was so utterly, supremely relieved. No matter what might occur now, Jim was here, at last.

"There's so much to explain, dear," he went on, "so much that I couldn't tell you before."
 "And so much that I wanted to tell you," Cilly replied.
 Her sobbing stopped abruptly. Briefly she recounted the developments of the last few days, the search for Jim.

"My God, Cilly," he cried desperately, "it terrifies me to think that the law can do to an innocent man. . . . Where would I be now if the Perrys had not met me? In jail, like my poor father, only I'd be a murderer. Listen to me, Cilly, I've got to tell you the whole story."
 "My father was an officer in the bank—you probably heard that much straight. You couldn't have heard that he was the squarrest man that ever lived. He never did a crooked thing, he never thought a crooked scheme. Never. He lost a great deal of money. It bothered him more than anything else. Then out of a clear sky, these bonds were stolen—negotiable bonds, which were as good as cash anywhere. . . . Well, Dad was convicted. We hadn't a shred of evidence to save him—at least nothing that would stand a chance in court. There was only one thing—my father's friend, our lawyer called it. Nevertheless, she stuck to it, she followed her one little clew right through—to the end, for her."
 "What was that clew, Jim?"
 "The day before the theft, she was visiting some friends in Ogden—that's about 30 miles from Bluefields. One of the girls was leaving for the East, and Amy went to the airport to see her off. There, in the ticket office, she heard a man order a ticket on the regular plane three days later—a ticket for Chicago. The man's voice sounded familiar to her. She remembered it as one which had answered Dad's wife at the bank. We decided it must have been a fellow named Worth—a new man at the bank—the only one Amy would not have recognized by sight. . . .

"Where is he now?"
 "That's the joke. The very night of the robbery, Worth's body was found in a ravine some few miles out of Bluefields, pinned under his overturned car. He'd been burned pretty badly, but the body was identified to the satisfaction of the court. Call it woman's intuition or what you will, Amy believed that Worth had taken the bonds and skipped to Chicago. True, the court said there was no sign of the stolen bonds in the burned car. And whose body was it, if not Worth's? People don't just disappear in a town like Bluefields.

"So Amy went to Chicago, on a wild goose chase, our lawyer said. Imagine tracing a voice! By the time my father was serving a sentence. He was badly shaken by the trial, and I seemed to be the one who disturbed him most. He begged, he pleaded with me to leave Utah and start life somewhere else, where I wouldn't be linked to him. The police were still watching me, day and night, trying to trace the bonds through me. They've never been found."

JIM caught his breath a second, then went on.
 "Naturally, I wouldn't listen to Dad at first, then it got to a point where he made such a fuss every time I visited him that the prison authorities refused me admission. Finally, our family doctor urged me to go away, for a time at least, if for no other reason than to set father's mind at rest. I did. Through a friend in Chicago, I got this job in New York. I disappeared completely. Not even Amy knew where I was. I kept in touch with Dad only through Dr. Blythe. That left Amy working on her own, but she wanted it that way."
 "Then you think Amy followed him here to New York?"
 "I'm sure of that. When you first spoke of Amy Kerr, I wondered if it could be my Amy, but it didn't seem likely. The world is a big place. . . . Then I saw her here Sunday night! Cilly, I can't but "a man without a country." He was granted a pardon two years ago on condition he be deported. His hopes were blasted, however, by Europe's changed geography which resulted from the World War.

 Forster was aided in obtaining his freedom by William S. Ervin, now state attorney general and a member of the state pardon board, who, as Pine country attorney, prosecuted him on a charge of slaying his common-law wife.
 Forster, unable to obtain permission to re-enter Germany or Poland, gained the sympathy of the pardon board, which decided to let the aging German spend his declining years in peace.
 But the German wants to return to his native land and George Zable, state patrol agent, is communicating with the Polish consulate and immigration authorities to obtain authority for Forster to return to his birthplace.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON. — Far-sighted Republican politicians, who couldn't keep their minds off 1940 even if they tried, cast frequent sidelong glances at Thomas E. Dewey of New York.
 Dewey is famous in the east as the special prosecutor who has broken up vice and other racket in New York City. He is now running for district attorney of New York on the same ticket with Mayor F. H. LaGuardia. A spectacular reform district attorney in the metropolis would be an obvious good Republican bet for the governorship, timber being as scarce as it is, and nearly any Republican governor of New York would be a strong candidate for presidential nomination.

All this would require some fast going, however, and Mr. Dewey is a long shot in an obstacle race. Famously still has many jobs and privileges and the nightmare of Mr. Dewey making hay for himself by busting up Tammany rackets in district after district is calculated to bring all the bickering groups in that once powerful machine together in an effort to smother him.
 Dewey runs only in the Tammany stronghold of Manhattan and not in the adjacent boroughs. Thus he is considered to have a poorer chance than LaGuardia. Furthermore, the Republicans figure, Postmaster General Jim Farley has his mind set on running for governor next year and can be depended upon to do all he can to keep Tammany from being discredited and Dewey from being built up. . . .

 ANY extent to which the Ku Klux Klan has gathered recruits in its reported membership drive of the last few weeks will be disclosed by the LaPollette Civil Liberties committee, according to present plans. Meanwhile, reports on attempts to revive the Klan here and there indicate results have been nothing to get excited about. The most conspicuous attempt, growing out of the rubber strike at Akron, O., was a complete flop.
 The committee is especially interested in efforts to use the Klan as a weapon against organized labor and its inquiry in that direction is part of a general study of "vigilante" organizations, their activities and financing. Preliminary check indicates that the Klan only appears occasionally now as a local phenomenon.
 The first local investigation will be at Tampa, Fla., where one labor organizer was killed by a tar and flogging which also was inflicted on two others.

CHAFING dish parties are not confined to college dormitories. Even mothers can give them on cold nights after a few rubbers of bridge. They are an education for any appetite.

Shrimp de Luxe
 (4 to 6 servings)
 One-quarter cup butter, 1-4 cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1-8 teaspoon paprika, 1-2 cups clear chicken broth, 3-4 tablespoon anchovy paste, 4 cups cooked or canned shrimp, 2 egg yolks, 1-2 cup cream, 3-4 tablespoon lemon juice.

Heat butter, work in flour to smooth paste, add salt and pepper and paprika. "Then slowly stir in chicken broth. Cook until smooth, then add anchovy paste and shrimp. Beat cream and egg yolks together and add. Heat thoroughly but do not boil. Stir in lemon juice. Stir and serve on small spears of hot unbuttered toast.

For a dramatic touch make this ham delicacy in a chafing dish before the delighted eyes of your guests. But it can be made equally delicious on the kitchen stove.

Ham a la Russe
 (4 to 6 servings)
 One large slice boiled or baked ham, 1-2 teaspoon French mustard, 1 teaspoon vinegar, salt and pepper, powdered sugar, 4 tablespoons sherry.

Cut ham into individual servings, season with salt, pepper and French mustard. Place in chafing dish over flame. Add vinegar. Eat ham quickly, then turn. Dust lightly with powdered sugar, add sherry, bring to boil and serve immediately.

Of course, we never grow too modern to relish an old-fashioned Welsh rarebit. George Recter supplies this recipe.

Welsh Rarebit with Ale
 (4 to 6 servings)
 One tablespoon butter, 1 pound soft American cheese, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, a few grains cayenne pepper, 1-2 cup ale, 1 egg.

Put butter in chafing dish. When melted, add cheese, broken into pieces, and ale. Combine egg, salt, mustard and cayenne and beat thoroughly. When cheese is melted, add this egg mixture and cook until it bubbles. Serve on strips of toast or on crackers.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Stewed plums, scrambled eggs with dried beef, gooseberry jam, muffins, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Shrimp de luxe, endive salad, hard rolls, sweet wafers, tea, milk.
DINNER: Curry of chopped round steak, mashed potatoes, brussels sprouts, tomato salad, apple Brown Betty, coffee, hard sauce, milk.

New Duties with Company Returns Former Rangerite for Visit:
E. V. Pollard, who made this his home for a number of years when he was associated with Hassen company, as advertising director is again in Ranger for a short visit with the store for the purpose of supervising advertising layout work. Mr. Pollard goes from Ranger to Hamlin and Sulphur, Okla., where he will continue this type of work for the company.

Join Mr. Trussell For Trip to Oklahoma:
Mrs. Joe Trussell and daughter of Brownwood spent Sunday in Ranger with their husband and father who has acted as vocal soloist during the two weeks revival which closed at First Baptist church last night. From here the Trussells go to Tulsa, Okla., for a two weeks engagement.

In Ranger Sunday:
Mrs. H. E. Broome, of Dallas, spent Sunday in Ranger with her husband whose duties are in connection with the building of the new Post Office.

To Fort Worth for Day:
Mrs. C. H. Suits, who serves as hostess of Paramount coffee shop, spent Saturday in Fort Worth where business and pleasure rounded out the pleasant trip.

Sixty Paid Members Reported By Parent-Teacher Association:
The membership drive staged by the Parent-Teacher association committee of Young school gives the report of sixty paid memberships up to the present time which is quite gratifying according to the president, Mrs. Arthur Murrell.

Tuesday afternoon at exactly 3:30 o'clock, another meeting will be held in the auditorium and every member is asked to report for the session. Final plans, apart of which have been laid between closed doors are to be announced having to do with the King and Queen contest, a main feature of the Halloween carnival.

Son of Ranger Couple Remains at Fort Worth:
Robert James Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stevenson, who came to Ranger only a few months ago and are at home, Gholson hotel, remains at Fort Worth, the Stevenson's former home place where he is a Junior student at Paschal high school.

Mr. Stevenson is connected with the Illinois Pipeline company, and at one time was associated with the Prairie company. Mrs. Stevenson is the sister of Mrs. Tom Rawls.

Surprise in Store
That something in reserve — which according to an age-old adage, is wise — will be revealed Wednesday evening at the dance when members of the floor show are to demonstrate their ability as floor show entertainers.

In keeping with all the up-town dance affairs, the initial note to the homecoming offers or rather promises much for the many who are making their plans to be among those present for the gala hour.

Two reporters very much in love, despite the fact that they are professional rivals—these are the roles depicted by Gene Raymond and Ann Southern in their latest picture, "There Goes My Girl." This is the fourth production in which these two popular players have teamed and divided the starring honors.

Welding Is Being Completed On the Football Stadium

Work was started today on the steel work of the east stands on Bulldog Stadium, which have not as yet been completed, with the hopes that the work can be completed within 10 days or two weeks. When this work is finished all that will remain to be done to complete the project, started during the summer of 1936, will be to install the wooden seats.

One ramp, leading up to the seats, will be completed before the Big Spring-Ranger football game, to be played October 21, in connection with the Homecoming, and the welding will have progressed far enough that temporary seats can be erected on the first several rows, it was stated today, so that if the crowd is too large to fill the west stands there will be seats for nearly 1000 additional fans on the east side of the field.

ent, will no doubt be at their best and apparently the dance committee has done itself proud for its part on the celebration.

Mmes. F. E. Jacobs and Harry Bishop Honor Guests

Mrs. F. E. Jacobs and Mrs. Harry Bishop were honor guests when Child Study club No. 2 met for an unusually interesting program with hostess, Mrs. T. J. Powell, Gulf camp.

Mrs. Powell had as her cohostess Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, one who might well be called the mother of Ranger parent-teacher associations, since her influence and activities have taken her into every branch of the work. She discussed to the benefit of every mother present, "Safety," and Mrs. Ross Staton had for her topic, "Getting Acquainted With His World." Mrs. Roy McCleskey and Mrs. W. B. Emfinger were others having leading roles during the program.

A period of the hour was designated to the respective ceremony giving special honor to the association's birthday.

The dainty refreshment plate of sandwiches, pumpkin pie and coffee was served Mmes. Ross Staton, elected delegate to the state convention at Beaumont in November; and Ben Odum, Carl Heinlin, Harrison, Z. B. Morgan, H. D. Bishop, C. E. Maddocks, Saule Perlette, Preston Burks, Onis Littlefield, Lee Russell, J. B. Houghton, Finis King, L. E. White, Dorothy Williams, Weldon W. Webb, F. E. Jacobs, Carver and McCleskey.

A Halloween party will be given for members on the night of October 29, at the home of Mrs. Preston Burks, and committees to serve are composed of Mmes. McCleskey, Staton, Houghton, Heinlin, Williams and Powell.

The churches of this community are digging around that old stump and we rejoice to believe that the day is not far distant when he shall throw around it the great chain, whose links are made with Christian citizens, and with the team of righteousness we'll pull it from its place and toss it from this civilization; when in its place we will see thriving useful and helpful institutions.

"Every one is cordially invited to attend the services of the Church next Sunday, Oct. 24, and hear your local preachers denounce this public menace. There is only one way to oust for all time the evil of liquor and that is for every good citizen to rally to the support of those who are courageous enough to lead out in placing the stamp of disapproval on this traffic.

"Tomorrow's subject will be 'The righteousness of a cause.' 'Sincerely yours for higher living.' 'The Ministerial Alliance 'Ranger, Texas.'"

Baptist Revival Closed Sunday at Evening Service

One of the most successful revivals ever conducted in Ranger came to a close here Sunday night at the First Baptist church, with the large auditorium of the local church filled to overflowing, with chairs placed in the aisles to care for part of the overflow crowd, and still many were forced to stand throughout the services.

At the morning service Rev. Charles T. Tally, Jr., pastor of the church, spoke on the subject of "Who, Then, Can Be Saved," the text being taken from Mark 10:36. At the evening service he spoke on "Which Shall We Believe, God or Man?" The text for the morning sermon was taken from Romans 3-4.

Joe Trussell, the most outstanding evangelistic singer in the Baptist church, sang at both services and his contribution to the services, as was the case during

Imbibers Face a Test by Science

By United Press
PALO ALTO, Cal.—Scientific tests which will determine to a milligram the amount of alcohol in a patient's blood stream have replaced the old system of walking the straight line to detect intoxicated drivers in the Palo Alto police department. Apparatus for the blood test has been installed in the local station under the direction of Dr. Clement H. Arnold.

About 15 minutes is required for each test, using a method developed by Dr. Harry Newman of the Stanford Medical School. If the concentration is over two milligrams of alcohol to the cubic centimeter of tested materials, the subject is intoxicated, according to Dr. Arnold. If the concentration runs as high as five milligrams, the subject is "dead drunk," and if it reaches seven milligrams he is "more dead than alive," the doctor said.

Dr. Arnold discredited the theory that the habitual drinker is less susceptible to intoxication than the moderate drinker, when he said alcohol impairs reactions, movements and judgments long before outward effects are apparent.

POCKETBOOK IN GLOVE

By United Press
LEIPZIG. — At last a pocketbook cannot be lost or stolen. It is conveniently sewn into the palm of the glove and is opened or closed by a zipper. Without affecting the fit of the glove, it will hold keys, theatre or railroad ticket, notes or small change. The pocketbook was demonstrated at the Leipzig fair.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling the germ-laden phlegm. The Medical Profession has for many years recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist for blending Creosote with other ingredients and now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. When you get chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief that you want. FIVE MINUS TWO LEAVES FOUR

Wrong, Well, yes—and no. The arithmetic of your school days taught that "If Mary had five dollars and spent two ..." three dollars remained.

But that is mathematics—not shopping! In managing a home ... guarding a limited family income ... we've simply got to do better than Mary did. We must sharpen our buying wits ... ascertain where the dollars of extra value lurk ... take five dollars to town and get much more for the money spent.

Fortunately, there are ever-willing guides right at hand—the advertisements in this newspaper. Advertised merchandise is often exceptional value merchandise. It makes dollars S-T-R-E-T-C-H.
