Callahan Discovery Flows 37 Barrels In One-Hour Test

The Abilene area's first Ordovician pool discovery, Hal Hughes et al No. 1 Tom Poindexter, north of Oplin, was opened Wednesday afternoon for a one-hour gauge to flow 37 barrels into tanks, ranking it as a promising producer.

On a 24-hour basis of flow, the well would rate a potential of 888 barrels per day, but owners do not consider it as an official gauge.

The well, during its one-hour flow, built up 120 pounds of back-pressure on the tubing as it was run into tanks.

The Hughes No. 1 Poindexter is the first Ordovician producing well to be discovered between the Eastland county Van Farmer pool and the Crane county Waddell area, discovered during the summer of 1937.

Production is from a sandy lime, tentatively identified as the Simpson, middle Ordovician at 4,368-89 feet.

OFFICERS SEEK TEXAS SLAYER NEAR M'KINNEY

MCKINNEY, Texas, March 3.—Officers searching today for the youth who killed motorcycle patrolman Marion Taylor last night, said they had identified him as an army deserter.

The killer, they said, was a Wolfe City youth, who was wanted in connection with a Greenville filling station robbery.

Bloodhounds were brought here from the Oklahoma Penitentiary at McAlester, to join the search, but they lost the trail several miles northeast of here. The killer was the object of one of the biggest man hunts in North Texas history.

A reward of $500 was posted for capture and conviction of the killer. The City of McKinney offered $250 and Collin County the same amount.

Henry Jackson, Dallas taxi driver, was kidnapped by the same gunman. He described the man whom he picked up in answer to a call at a residence in Dallas. He said the man ordered him to another address in the city, then drew a gun and told him to drive to Sherman.

In McKinney Taylor tried to stop the cab, then chased it on the motorcycle. The gunman ordered the taxi stopped and alighted then fired six shots at Taylor.

WAR MEASURES GET ATTENTION IN THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—The House naval affairs committee today favorably reported the $1,000,000,000 naval expansion bill as controversy broke out around another war measure, the May bill to take the profits out of war.

The favorable report on President Roosevelt's measure to strengthen American war fleets by 20 per cent, placed war profits and naval defense measures as major problems before the House.

Chairman Andrew May of the House military affairs committee, urging adoption of his bill, warned against seeking to write a measure making taxes in advance of conflicts. May's program urged a program of "pay as you fight."

The naval expansion program provides $1,113,546,000 for constructing 46 war vessels, 22 auxiliaries and 950 airplanes to give the navy an air force of 3,000 airplanes.

Before voting 20 to 3 to report President Roosevelt's program the committee adopted a "policy" amendment showing the intent of Congress that the United States shall have a fleet able to protect both coasts at once.

Beforehand the House debated the 1938 revenue act, which its sponsors admitted would reduce government income by 22 or 23 million dollars annually.

And So Europe Has Another Dictator:

Rumania's King Carol, who can turn more shades than the most versatile chameleon, has set himself up, finally, in a dictatorship as tight as any in Europe, and the outcome of his step promises to be more interesting to watch than the usual run of totalitarian strifes—if it isn't more tragic.

To understand Carol's doubtful position it will help to go back a few years and review the background.

Early in the days when oil was first found to have a value and effect upon the relationships of nations, Rumania was found to be rich in that natural resource, and several powers, including the United States, fought wholeheartedly if not too sportingly over it. Rumanian government officials were corrupted enthusiastically, right and left.

By 1918 the Germans had invaded part of Rumania and the government moved to Jessy. Carol was an officer in the army and fled his retreating troops out the country's back door. The troops, history tells us, were laden more heavily with champagne than arms.

In this inverse defense of his country, Carol met zealous Zizi Lambrino and married her, over the protests of Queen Marie who was so upset she sailed for America to arrange for a national loan. This marriage lasted until Carol met Princess Helena, daughter of the King of Greece. The first marriage was annulled and Carol married Helena.

Eighteen months later Carol met Magda Lupescu, the wife of a Rumanian officer, and was off again. Magda divorced her husband and when Queen Marie sent Carol to London to get him out of this new entanglement, he skipped off to Milan and was joined by Magda.

Then King Ferdinand died and when Carol did not return, his 6-year-old son ascended the throne under a regency. But there was still oil in Rumania, the report goes, so Carol was financed, returned and nudged his son off the throne. The rest is more modern.

Lupescu followed Carol back and reportedly was the power behind the throne, but that didn't work so well. Half Jewess, Magda is hated by the Jews, feared by the Gentiles and resented by the army.

With the country's economic structure in had shape, Carol backed Goga as his premier. Goga started a pogrom against the Jews. They controlled 80 per cent of the nation's industry and simply quit work. All industry and business stopped. France, Czechoslovakia and Russia looked askance at the new government. Goga was a clay pigeon who had to go, and Carol now took the last step into a dictatorship.

His country is on the verge of economic disaster, his army hates his girl friend, his international friendships are estranged, his political parties are eyeing each other's throats and Carol's.

What happens can't help being interesting—if it isn't tragic.

The chairman of the National Labor Relations Board says the National Labor Relations Board is all right. Industry and some dissatisfied labor units, eyeing thousands of pages of testimony taken at NLRB hearings and still no decisions, says the NLRB is all write.

'GRANDMA—WHAT BIG EYES YOU HAVE!'

Wheat Growers Are Advised by E. Cook Of New Provision

In order to meet performance in the 1938 agricultural conservation program, wheat growers who have planted for harvest in 1938 an acreage of wheat as great or greater than their customary wheat acreage must file with the county agricultural committee not later than Mar. 15, an application for designating part of their acreage as a cover crop to be turned under before mature grain is produced, according to information received by County Agent Cook from the state A. A. office.

Such acreage of wheat designated by the application to the county committee cannot be harvested for grain or hay but may be pastured until a date approximately six weeks before the normal time of harvest, at which time an approved soil-building practice must be instituted.

Application forms for designating winter wheat as a cover crop can be gotten at the county agent's office. Wheat growers may either call or write for these. They cannot be filed after Mar. 15th.

"Since individual farm allotments may not be established for all farms by Mar. 15," says Cook, "it may be necessary for some producers to designate their excess wheat as a cover crop without definite knowledge of the acreage in their farm allotments. It is estimated that the general soil-depleting allotment for 1938 will be from 80 to 84 per cent of the normal general crop acreage for the farm, except that where restoration is designated, such allotment may be less than 80 per cent. Therefore, it is suggested that for farms where wheat seedings equal or exceed the normal general soil-depleting acreage, the acreage designated as a cover crop be an amount ranging from 16 to 29 per cent of the normal general soil-depleting acreage for the farm, plus any amount seeded in excess of the normal general soil-depleting acreage. The smaller percentage should be applied in areas where there is a low amount of abandonment, and a small percentage of normal idle cropland. A larger percentage should be designated in areas having higher abandonment and a greater per cent of normally idle cropland."

More Milk, Less Cost Results By Trench Silo Use

His trench silo has cut his feed costs at the same time it has increased his production of milk at least four pounds per cow per day, according to records reported to the county agent by S. O. Montgomery, Ranger dairyman.

Since Jan. 1, his 35 dairy cows have produced 24 pounds of milk per cow each day as compared with less than 20 pounds produced before silage was used. The grain ration he is using is costing $1.20 per hundred pounds as compared with a ration formerly fed costing $1.35 per hundred pounds. Montgomery's hay bill was also much higher in the past than is his silage cost.

Montgomery first filled his 130-ton trench silo in 1936 with whole bundles. In 1937, he floored and walled the trench with second-hand lumber and filled it with red top cane which was ground with a hammer mill powered with an old automobile motor. Before using the mill he removed the screen and hammers and left only blunt knives, with which the mill is equipped to cut the silage.

Letters From Our Readers

An open letter to the leaders of the move to legalize 4 per cent beer in Eastland county:

Gentlemen: Since now for the third time within the scope of two years the beer issue in practically the same form is before the voters of this county, it is evident that the elections in the past have not been decisive and that confusion or indifference exists in the minds of the voters as to the wisest course to follow; since, also, the basic principle of a democracy relies on an informed citizenship and ballot; since it is the American way to employ free speech and open discussion to clarify issues and persuade the populace; and since the time for the vote on March 12 is so short; therefore out of the due consideration to an issue of such import to the welfare of the county and out of interest helping present to the people facts and clarify the issues, invite you to meet us in discussion or presentation of sides of the issue now before voters of Eastland county.

More specific, we suggest first three nights of next one night each in Cisco, East and Ranger, speakers and speaking time to be arranged through the editor of the in which this request appears being willing thereto.

We invite you to this discussion on the principle that only aroused and informed elect is the will of the people made known on this recurring, and we sign as citizen-taxpayers of this county as our respective towns.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of getting rid of waste from the blood. Most people pass about 2 pints of urine daily. These poisons may attack backache, rheumatic pain, loss of energy, getting up nights, swelling, under the eye, headache and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, used successfully by millions for years. They give happy relief and will build up 15 miles of kidney tubes fresh out through main waste from the blood. THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ON Nov. 11, 1918, the "war to end wars" came to a close, and the world rejoiced. Yet, 20 years later, nations are fighting it out on two major fronts, and not one single year has passed since the World War Armistice without one or more conflicts.

CHAPTER XXVI
The war was not over before Christmas. Nor before the spring came. It grew fiercer and fiercer inland along the frontiers.

On the fighting approached the fantastic. Almost without a navy the United States was holding her own doing it by means of a few well-managed war sloops (you might count them on your fingers) and those little privateers that were pouring out of every American port to sting the proud British.

On the day that Polly's son was born in her father's house in Connecticut, the clipper Gray Gull was having a reckless try at an armed British merchantman almost twice her size.

The Gull was not without experience. Several times during the war she had intercepted British merchantmen coming up from the Gulf and had crippled them.

She was not without experience. Several times during the war she had intercepted British merchantmen coming up from the Gulf and had crippled them.

The question of money became acute to the Gull's officers. The crew was loyal, cheerfully accepting pay, but the matter of obtaining food for 75 hearty men was a problem that kept Cabell and Jerry awake and scheming through many a night when they should have been sleeping.

"I'd not have expected my father to be so pig-headed about it," Cabell said.

Soon after getting his letter of marque from President Madison he had asked his father for $5000 to outfit the ship.

"I'd not have expected my father to be so pig-headed about it," Cabell said.

When the Gull was launched, she was named for Polly, the daughter of the owner.

Excitement that had brought them to Texas.

Q. When did the government begin printing postage stamps?
A. The government did not begin printing postage stamps until 1846. Before that time postmasters in Texas and elsewhere collected cash for postage and either marked on mail packages the amount of postage, collected or attached stamps they had printed for the purpose.

Q. What were exchequer notes?
A. In Houston's second administration, without funds with which to pay current Republic expenses Congress authorized not more than $200,000 in exchequer notes to be paid out, along with gold and silver, only on specific appropriations from Congress. These notes were receivable for customs-dues, taxes and licenses.

entering the Channel. This much was to the Gray Gull's advantage.

AND now luck came at last. The hindmost ship was lagging. From her lanterns, fore and aft and quarterdeck, they could judge her size. A large merchant ship, about 500 tons, tall sparred, three masted and square sailed.

The Gray Gull, with Jerry at the helm, came up on her slowly and silently, sailed to larboard of her for a time, passed her and all but crossed her bows; wore ship and crossed her stern, then came up to starboard. Looking up, they could see that she was lightly manned and that those who sailed her were celebrating some event in the cup that cheers.

Jerry conferred with Cabell. He said, "I'll take her without firing a round if you'll give me a dozen men."

"We'll have to fire, of course. Just the carronades. A few rounds and she's ours. We'll have her before they can man the guns. We'll board her and run her off in record time." It was the method of the young Carolinian, applicable here to perfection.

"Give me 12 men and a long boat," Jerry said again, "and I'll take her. I'll board her by stealth."

Cabell called him a madman, cursed him softly while the crew stood on the Gull's larboard deck and strained their eyes toward the merchantman. It was fantastic to be sailing beside the big ship in the darkness, just out of range of her lantern rays, unseen and unsuspected. Now and again the Gray Gull's sailors would take in more of her sail to keep pace with the laggard. The British ship was being so badly handled that her sailors were scarcely getting eight knots out of her.

Jerry said, "Give me my chance, Cabell! I want a ship of my own. I'll even let up by giving you 12 of your men. That'll leave you 60, and more. Bill Gill can replace me as mate. He's as good a seaman, any way you take him."

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON.—The likelihood that an anti-New Dealer will capture the governorship in Roosevelt's home state of New York, usually considered the second most important political job in the nation, is casting a shadow in Washington.

No one professes to be able to see very clearly into the future up there. But it is significant that Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, Roosevelt's candidate for the governorship who is about to become solicitor general of the United States, is making no active effort for the Democratic nomination.

Politicians here are increasingly inclined to believe that Gov. Herbert Lehman will seek renomination. This may sound queer to those who remember how Roosevelt had to beg him publicly to get on the ticket in 1936, but Lehman yearns to be a U. S. senator.

Efforts to persuade Senator Bob Wagner to run for governor and let Lehman have the senatorial nomination having failed, it now appears Lehman prefers to stay in Albany so as to be in a position to run against Senator Copeland in 1940.

Lehman broke formally with Roosevelt during the Court fight, but insiders know that this merely publicized a previous rift. With the possible exception of Jackson and Jim Farley, either of whom would receive full and whole-hearted support from Roosevelt, Lehman would be the only New York Democrat who would have a chance of beating racket-busting District Attorney Tom Dewey should the latter accept the Republican nomination. Dewey has said that he isn't interested, but he is very likely to be drafted by his party as its white hope.

Attorney General John Bennett is seeking the Democratic nomination and has so much support among county chairmen and other politicians that he is likely to be nominated by the Democratic convention if neither Lehman nor Farley step in. Few believe, however, that Bennett could beat Dewey.

Farley himself would like to be a candidate, it seems, but the bitterness between old line Tammanyites, the American Labor Party and his own Democratic group in New York discourages him as much as it confuses the whole picture.

Jackson, the only pro-Roosevelt New Dealer on the gubernatorial horizon, is receptive but not eager. He is speaking to the Young Democrats in New York City on the 24th, but has discouraged proposals from New Yorkers who sought to organize Jackson-for-Governor clubs. Well pleased with the important post of solicitor-general, he will have to be pushed by Roosevelt before he rolls up his sleeves and actively enters the messy New York fight.

THE Senate's filibuster on the anti-lynching bill cost more than $300,000, if one accepts the apparently reasonable estimate of $9000 a day made by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

It's just plain argument whether this period represented further cost or an actual saving to the country. Many filibusterers sat content in the thought that they were also filibustering against other legislative schemes.

MEN who dine without women do not starve. The "Friends of Escoffier" met for a simple but elegant dinner recently at the Waldorf—two hundred and ten men, most of them the outstanding chefs in the United States. There were also a few journalists of note present. The "simple but elegant dinner" closed with souffe chaud Escoffier, accompagné de fruits rafraichis aux liqueurs et de quelques gourmandises—being in English, a hot souffe served with fresh fruits, marmalade in liqueur and surrounded by raspberry and lemon ices.

Souffe Chaud
(Serves 8)
One-half cup flour, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-2 cup cold milk, 2 cups scalded milk, 1-4 cup butter, 5 egg yolks, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1-2 teaspoon almond extract, 5 egg whites, 1-8 teaspoon salt. In place of the vanilla and the almond extract, 2 teaspoons cognac may be used.

Sift flour and sugar together. Stir in cold milk and stir to smooth paste. Then add this mixture to the scalded milk and whisk until blended. Cook slowly until mixture begins to thicken. Remove from fire. Add butter. Beat egg yolks well, then stir into the cooling milk mixture. Add flavoring. Beat egg whites and salt until stiff and dry. Fold into the mixture. Be gentle about it. Use a 9-inch baking dish. Turn in the souffe. Set baking dish in pan of water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 1 hour. Serve immediately. Never keep a souffe or a lady waiting.

For the "fruits rafraichis aux liqueurs" use fat ripe strawberries. Sprinkle with kirsch and chill. Serve in glass bowl. Arrange balls of water ice around the bowl and place in center. Pass the hot souffe and the cold berries on the same tray. Each serving consists of hot souffe and cold fruit on the same plate.

At his "Friends of Escoffier" dinner, 197 of the 210 men were married. A vote was taken, "should ladies be invited to the next meeting?" Three said yes, against 207 no's. This strictly male feast began with strong clear chicken soup. Great Lake trout with spinach purée folded into it served with Bermuda potato balls with chives was the entrée. Fat partridge, stuffed with liver and truffles, buttered celery knob and egg plant stuffed with tomatoes constituted the main course. For salad there was a bowl of dandelion and chery salad with fine herbs served with slices of Virginia ham. The hot souffe with fresh fruits, marmalade and cognac brandy brought this meal without women to a singularly happy close.

First Aid Contest
Work has been started by the scouts, with the help of all scoutmasters in Comanche Trail council on the first aid contest which is for all councils in region 9, including Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The main object of the local Boy Scout Council in participating in this program is to provide in an attractive way first aid training and experience to a maximum number of boys. Carbon Carbon scouts and scouters of troop 29 were entertained with a sumptuous feed by John Edward Trimble, chief of officers powwow, at the Wolf patrol den, located in Trimble's yard. Everyone had a good time, and a great deal of good resulted from the meeting. At that time plans were made for a court of honor to be held for this troop at the Methodist church Mar. 15.

San Saba
Citizens of San Saba have responded in a fine way to the call made by scouts and scouters for books for a scout library. Many books have been donated and money has been given to buy others needed. Rustic bookcases made of cedar will be constructed by the troop in which to keep the books.

Miss Milburn Named Drill Team Captain

The hour given to an interesting program held at the L.O.O.F. hall Wednesday afternoon for members of Julia Alexander Grove No. 1954 of the Woodman Circle chapter, carried a variety of matters handled under the direction of Guardian Eula Blackwell.

Impromptu talks of a constructive nature were first to be heard, after which Viola Cash was elected grove publicity chairman, replacing Margie Milburn, who tendered her resignation. The guardian offered the penny prize won by Thelma Bott.

Ruby Milburn, who has been an active member of the chapter for a long while, was named as drill team captain and announced the first practice for Monday morning at the hall promptly at 10 o'clock. The attendance count registered a little over that of last week.

Mrs. E. R. Green Elected Incoming Council President
Attractive was the home of Mrs. Homer Smith, 1115 South Oak street, Wednesday afternoon when she presided as house hostess together with members of Hodges Oak Park Parent-Teacher Association, in compliment to the City Council and president, Mrs. Paula Perlestein.

Greetings were graciously offered and the program proper was opened with a business period for the purpose of electing new officers for the ensuing year. Mrs. E. R. Green was elected president, first vice president, Mrs. Carl Clemmer, second vice president, Mrs. J. B. Houghton, recording secretary, Mrs. Ross Staton, corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, treasurer, Mrs. S. P. Boon.

With much having been accomplished along varied lines in this branch of work during the school year, Mrs. F. E. Jacobs, president of First District, Texas Congress of Parent-Teacher Association, gave a complete and interesting report of work.

Principal speaker for the afternoon was Dr. R. B. Warford, state supervisor of health presiding respectively over this district. His talk was centered about "Health," stressing important protective measures for adults and children as well.

Mrs. J. B. Houghton and Mrs. Odelle Cole, making up the hospitality committee, offered their assistance in serving the delicious plate of sandwiches, cookies and coffee to twenty guests.

Junior Music Club Entertained By Mary Jane Hicks

The Junior Music Club under the direction of Mrs. Weldon W. Webb, was delightfully entertained with Mary Jane Hicks acting as hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hicks, South Austin street, last evening.

A business session was first called to the attention of members presided over by the president, Dortha Jean Williams. A musical quiz was a feature responsible for Frances Ann Eubank making a grade of 98, for which she was presented a miniature Dresden shoe. Following games the winner of the novel gift and hostess Mary Jane, who are entering the Music Festival to be held at Abilene March 26, played their numbers which are to be offered at the Festival; Lillian Ruth Carter favored the club with a piano solo.

The hostess, assisted by her mother served a dainty refreshment plate carrying out St. Patrick's day colors in plate favor. Local Auxiliary Observing Community Service Month

As was promised, last night's meeting of the Legion Auxiliary was one well filled with matters of importance and unusual. Mrs. J. D. McClister, who is serving as president, called the meeting to order and immediately went into major subjects allowing more time for the ones of most interest. This is the month observed by the unit as community service month.

It has been learned by the president of the auxiliary that the colored school children of Ranger are in dire need of added comfort during study hours. The school building's roof is in need of repairs, together with the interior. A vote was made by the members to aid in this project. The remainder of the week finds the members displaying their culinary skill since Saturday brings a bake sale to be held at Piggy Wiggly store opening Saturday morning.

The Universal bill which has been foremost in interest and in the minds of many has been given added thought by the local members. Mrs. M. H. Hagaman serves as legislative chairman and as suggested letters and messages pertaining to the bill have been mailed to such influential persons as Congressman Clyde Garrett, Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connolly.

The president is endeavoring to enlist more members and is pursuing the method of offering the member who is responsible for the most members between now and April 1st, a 10-carat Legion pin. Another highlight for the month is the Post's birthday, which comes on March 16th, marking the 20th year. Letters are being received by each unit suggesting each post be honored with a birthday party. Mrs. Preston Burks and her committee will be busied with plans for this coming entertainment. Later on in the month, on March 24, the National President of Legion Auxiliary will pay a visit to Fort Worth, where a breakfast will be given in her honor at 8:09 o'clock at the Texas hotel. It is probable the local president will be present as well as other members of this unit.

It is the sincere desire of Mrs. McClister and members to make this a year of rare accomplishments and calendared for years to come. More interest collectively, being manifest at this time than for long and long, stress being paid cooperation, so all important in undertakings terminating in success.

Seniors Pledge To Fight Foes Of Nation's Freedom

Members of the senior class of the Ranger high school, in a meeting March 2, unanimously approved and signed a letter to Gov. Jams V. Allred, reaffirming their belief in the ideals of a democratic form of government and pledging themselves to defeat any force tending to destroy the ideals of freedom.

The letter to the governor, with the names of those who signed it, follows:
"Hon James V. Allred,
"Governor of the State of Texas,
"Austin.

"Dear Governor Allred:
"In memory of the pioneering work of Texas patriots 102 years ago, and to show our support of the ideas they favored, we, the senior class of the Ranger high school, have gathered here today.

"We wish first to state our belief in democracy as the form of government best suited to promote freedom among the people. And that is worthwhile. Then we wish to pledge our power to defeat any force, whether foreign or local, which might attempt to destroy these ideals of freedom.

"We make our pledge not in any sentimental or patriotic vein, but because of a deeper belief and a sharper realization of world affairs today.

"We extend our heartfelt greetings to you as our governor, and we hope that it will be your privilege to preserve the independence of spirit made possible by the political independence in 1836.

"With kindest regards we are,
"Respectfully yours,
"SENIOR CLASS, RANG-

Is This the Reason You Are Constipated?

If you're wondering why your bowels don't work right—stop and think about what you eat. Bread, meat, eggs and potatoes. All good nourishing foods—but all concentrated, lacking in "bulk." And you need "bulk"! Some food that forms a soft, spongy mass in the bowels—helps them move.

If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causing your constipation, Kellogg's All-Bran is just what you need. It soaks up water and softens like a sponge. And this soft mass helps your bowels move. In addition, All-Bran gives you Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. Eat this crisp-crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and enjoy happier days. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.
