Germ-Killing Lamps-New Health Boon?

Experiments with the new germ-killing ultra-violet ray lamp continue successful and it seems entirely possible that humanity is calmly entering upon the era of healthful living science has dreamed of for so many years. The problem that faced the inventors-Dr. Harvey C. Rentschler and Dr. Robert F. James-was to produce an ultra-violet light that would not harm the eyes. Many tests indicate that after 10 years' work they have succeeded.

The lamps have been used successfully in hospitals, banks, drug stores, restaurants, bakeries and manufacturing plant-and also in dairies, hog pens, and nen houses. One of the lamps cut the death rate for chest operations in one hospital, for example, from 5.5 per cent to 2.9.

The ultra-violet light kills bacteria in less than a second. It attacks germs in the surrounding air and on the surface of exposed objects. Shining on shelves of clean glasses in a restaurant in one test, it reduced the number of germs on the rims from thousands to five or six.

The lamp itself usually takes the form of a long, horizontal tube of mercury vapor. A curtain of bluish light comes from this tube.

The tremendous potentialities of the invention should be apparent. If it becomes practical for everyday use it will affect the lives of every man, woman and child in the communities where the lamps are installed.

The greatest boon, of course, will be what the invention should do to such highly communicable diseases as the common cold. By use of the lamps in public eating establishments, street cars, meeting halls, and other places where a large number of people are thrown together, the spread of such diseases should be immeasurably reduced.

Another aspect is the economic angle. The lamps can war so evident everywhere are then we should not complain if be manufactured at comparatively low cost. ECONOMY is a FORD word

F THERE is one word in the dic-I tionary which the Ford Motor Company might rightfully reserve to its own use, that word is ECONOMY.

Thirty years ago, when the automobile was commonly called "a rich man's toy," Henry Ford set out alone to put the world on wheels.

THE FIRST FORD POLICY

It was then he said: "I will build a motor car for the multitude. It will be constructed of the best materials, by the best men to be hired, after the simplest designs that modern engineering can devise. But it will be so low in price that any man making ordinarily good wages can own one." That fundamental Ford policy has never changed.

In the early years, when it was necessary to build small 4-cylinder cars in order to assure economy. Henry Ford built and sold small 4cylinder cars - in large quantities.

But when the fast-growing facilities of the Ford Motor Company reached a point where it was possible to build larger, finer V-type 8-cylinder cars and keep small-car economy - Henry Ford did that - again alone. It is one reason why more 1937 Ford V-8 cars were bought than any other make.

TWO NEW FORD CARS

For 1938, two Ford cars are offered you. One is the De Luxe Ford with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine - still an economical car to own and operate. It has richer appointments, and the advantages born of 30 years of building automobiles. Closed sedans have longer bodies, with more room.

The other is the Standard Ford, with a choice of 85-horsepower or 60horsepower V-8 engine. It has the basic Ford advantages of the De Luxe, and it is built on the same 112-inch wheelbase chassis, to the same high standard of mechanical excellence, But it is lower priced, and with t '60" engine, it provides the lowest operating cost in all Ford history.

You are invited to see and drive he De Luxe and Standard Ford cars. now on display at your local Ford lealership - to prove for yourself hat ECONOMY is a Ford word.
