NEW REPRIEVE FOR VAUGHN IS LIKELY TODAY

AUSTIN, April 29.—A new reprieve for John Vaughn, three times saved from electrocution at Huntsville, likely will be issued today, Gov. James V. Allred said. Although he believed that an injunction against the execution is void, Allred said he would not ask the warden to ignore a court order. He thought if he did not issue a reprieve until the injunction is dissolved there might be a question of the legality of a later execution. Allred did not believe Vaughn's execution was prevented by divine intervention. The stay was issued for 24 hours last night shortly before Vaughn was to have been put to death at Huntsville Prison.

"We could have gone ahead and held the execution," the governor said, "but his people would have said they had a court writ and we should not have executed him."

Gov. Allred and Bruce Bryant, chairman of the Texas Pardon Board, criticized the injunction issued by District Judge Fountain Kirby of Groesbeck, whose action resulted in the stay of execution. "There is not the slightest doubt as to Vaughn's guilt," Allred said. "He has been convicted by two different juries and given the death penalty each time."

Vaughn gazed at a clock early today while the state executed his death row companion, Johnnie Banks, a negro preacher. Both were scheduled to die a week ago, but Vaughn's lives were saved when a motor generator failed twice.

Banks was asked whether he wanted to say anything. "Nothing, except that I am innocent," he replied. He was convicted of slaying his 13-year-old sister-in-law. He turned toward the chair and mumbled a hymn.

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Gray of Ranger left today for Dallas and Ferris. On next Sunday, the First Presbyterian Church of Ferris will celebrate its eightieth anniversary. Dr. Gray will preach the sermon at 11 a. m. An all day service has been arranged. It is expected that many hundreds of people will attend this home-coming. Here Dr. Gray was pastor for more than thirteen years; a beautiful brick church was built and a strong constituency was developed. He is the oldest living pastor of the church. It was his privilege to preach the sermon at the Diamond Jubilee in this church, five years ago. A joyful day is anticipated.

Sale of Property At Active Pace, Records Disclose

That Eastland real estate is changing hands rapidly is reflected in the large number of deeds being filed with the County Clerk Galloway, affecting Eastland property.

Earl Bender & Company, realtors, report the sale of three residence properties to Dr. C. C. Coghburn during the past week. These properties are located at 809 W. Moss, 600 South Daugherty, and 215 East Sadosa, and formerly owned by Geo. J. McManus of Dallas.

Another sale during the week reported by the same company was a large home located at 1293 South Seaman Street, acquired by E. C. Herron, of Cisco, who, with his wife and two children, are moving to Eastland to make their home. The latter property was owned by a loan company.

WAGES-HOURS BILL BOTTLED IN COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The house rules committee today disregarded a virtual mandate from President Roosevelt and voted to bottle up the new wage-hour bill in committee for the remainder of the session. The vote was 8 to 6.

The committee rebelled against demands from both the American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization for action at this session.

D Supporters of the measure, backed by the administration, plan immediately to file a petition to discharge the committee and force it to the floor.

Since congressional leaders are driving for adjournment by early June, success of the petition seemed doubtful.

The committee voted after two days of hearing, during which opponents and proponents of the legislation, clashed over the plan to establish a 40-cent an hour minimum for a 40-hour week within three years.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mamie H. Clark, mother of Mrs. W. D. Conway, of this city were held this afternoon at the family home 4:00 o'clock. Mrs. Clark passed away in San Antonio Wednesday morning, at 5:30 o'clock at Santa Rosa Infirmary.

Mrs. Helena Martin of Eastland read the Christian Science funeral service. Mrs. Gunn, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Kenneth Ambrose of Ranger, sang a solo from the Science hymnal.

Each club in the zone will be expected to furnish a part of the program and the club with the lowest attendance percentage will be awarded the booby prize of a live goat, which the club must keep until the next zone meeting.

Local Lions were being contacted today to secure as large a representation as possible as the meeting.

PRINCIPALS IN FLORIDA PRIMARY

J. Mark Wilcox

Claude Pepper

Dave Sholtz

National interest centers on the Florida Democratic senatorial primary May 3 because that election will be the first test of the administration House-defeated reorganization bill as a campaign issue. Congressman J. Mark Wilcox, who is opposing the incumbent, Senator Claude Pepper, voted with anti-Roosevelt forces to recommit the reorganization bill and voted similarly against the wage-hour bill last December. Pepper was in Florida when the reorganization measure passed the Senate, but he has been a down-the-line New Dealer and has been personally endorsed by Jimmy Roosevelt, former Gov. Dave Sholtz is another strong candidate and there is the possibility that a run-off primary will be necessary between the two top vote-getters.

Roosevelt Proposes To Broaden Social Security Benefits

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—President Roosevelt today proposed a broadening of social security benefits and provisions to start old age insurance payments before 1942, as now scheduled.

The president suggested drafting a sound pension system to make payments possible earlier than 1942, and provide payment of large benefits to the aged, to aged wives and widows, and to children of persons who die before reaching pension age.

Jello, fruit punch and peanut cookies were served the guests.

The pastor praised the school officials of Morton Valley for providing such a good school for the children of the community, and told the students that they should feel fortunate in having such a wonderful rural school to attend.

Eastland Court Upeld Friday By Higher Tribunal

Judgment of 91st district court was affirmed Friday by the 11th court of civil appeals in the suit of Exchange National Bank upon a note against J. D. Parsons and others.

Judgment had been rendered generally in a non-jury trial for the defendant, Parsons, from which the bank appealed. O. C. Funderburk, associated justice, wrote the opinion in the case.

The bank had sought to recover against Parsons upon a note dated May 8th, 1929, for the principal sum of $3,000 (upon which $1,000 was acknowledged as a credit) payable on demand; and against Parsons, his wife, Mrs. M. A. Parsons, and their three daughters, Rebecca, Luda May and Clemmie Parsons, for cancellation of a deed to the daughters of 253 acres of land in Eastland county and 240 acres of land in Jones county, alleged to constitute a conveyance with the intention to defraud, hinder and defraud the plaintiff as a creditor. The plaintiff alleged that the note was renewed from a former note dated January 17, 1929; that at the time of the execution of the original note Parsons had made a written statement to the appellant to the effect he owned a 240-acre tract in Jones county valued at $12,000 and a 253-acre tract in Eastland county valued at $4,000, all of which were free of encumbrances and "will remain so until the indebtedness to the bank is unpaid.

It was alleged the two tracts were conveyed to the daughters in violation of the statement. The defendant, Parsons, in addition to general demurrer and general denial, specially pleaded to the effect he was an accommodation surety on the original note given to take up an overdraft due by principals consisting of C. C. Lowe and Jodie Parsons (the latter a son) and that he signed the same upon an agreed condition that the principals C. C. Lowe and Jodie Parsons should sign notes; that by reason of failure of the bank to have such principals sign, the defendant and his wife pleaded indebtedness to the daughters of the sum of $3,500. The land was conveyed because of a debt. It was further pleaded that 253 acres in Eastland county was a homestead exempt to the claims of creditors and had therefore the right to convey it to the daughters.

In a supplemental petition the plaintiff pleaded Parsons by paying $1,000 ratified and confirmed the debt and was estopped to assert he was not liable to pay the note.

He began immediately a state-by-state organization campaign by which he hopes to mold his following into a political power, a party he said is destined to provide more abundant living for the masses.

Italian Paper Is All Disturbed Over Treaty Statement

ROME, April 29.—Stirred by the United States naming of Italy as a treaty violator, Virginia Gayda, editor of the Journal of Italy charged today in an editorial that an "anti-Italian wave" was sweeping America and asked if the U. S. wanted war.

Gayda wrote that anti-Italian sentiment is being festered by politicians and the press.

"What do they want against Italy in the United States, War?" Gayda asked. His paper often reflects official opinion.

4-H Boys Urged By Bamhart to Employ Fertilizers

Assistant County Agent Hugh F. Bamhart reported Friday that several Eastland county 4-H boys who used fertilizer on their demonstrations last year doubled their yield because of the practice.

The official this week is insisting on all 4-H boys who plan to use a crop for their demonstration this year to secure commercial fertilizer or apply barnyard fertilizer under their demonstrations.

"Youths who are using peanuts for their demonstrations are being encouraged by the agent, in addition to using fertilizer, to inoculate their seed peanuts with nitrogen before planting.

Farmer Is Slain, Wife Is Wounded From An Ambush

BURLESON, April 29.—W. E. Jarrell, 26, dairy farmer, was shot to death and his wife, 30, seriously wounded today by a shotgun blast, fired from a roadside home four miles southeast of here.

Sheriff Oran Smith of Johnson County was told by Mrs. Jarrell that they were driving to Burleson to sell produce and stopped to pick up an automobile grease gun they saw in the road. They were fired upon from the roadside, she said.

A short time later Smith arrested a 37-year-old man, whom she named as the assailant.

Probe of Industrial Power Is Sought By the President

WASHINGTON, April 29.—President Roosevelt today called upon congress to authorize a sweeping study of concentration of industrial economic power and revision of the nation's anti-monopoly laws.

Mr. Roosevelt asked $500,000 for a study of anti-trust problems. He said he would ask a special $200,000 for an expanded enforcement of the present trust laws.

Seven 4-H Teams Will Be Entered In State Events

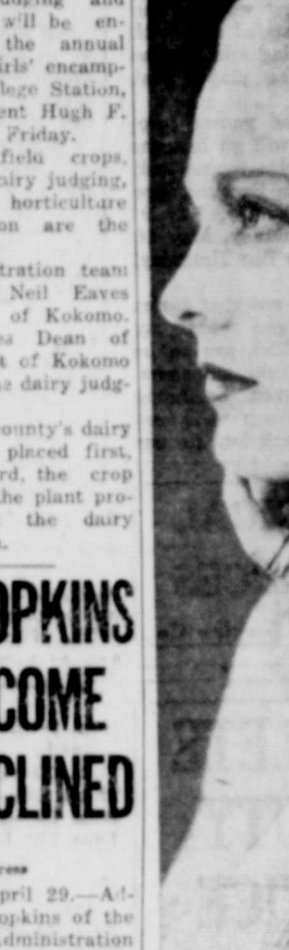

Seven 4-H club judging and demonstration teams will be entered in contests at the annual 4-H club boys' and girls' encampment July 6-8 at College Station, Assistant County Agent Hugh F. Bamhart announced Friday.

Poultry judging, field crops, meat identification, dairy judging, dairy demonstration, horticulture and plant propagation are the teams to be entered.

The dairy demonstration team will be composed of Neil Eaves and Elbert Bennett of Kokomo. L. C. Love and James Dean of Alameda and Bennett of Kokomo will be members of the dairy judging team.

In 1937 Eastland county's dairy demonstration team placed first, the poultry team third, the crop judging team third, the plant propagation fourth and the dairy judging team seventh.

Former Movie Star Divorced

Twice-wed Esther Ralston, former movie star, is single once again after winning a divorce in Los Angeles from Will Morgan, her actor husband. Miss Ralston testified that Morgan was impetuous, cruel, often abusive and sometimes choked her. They were married in 1935.

"We have witnessed the national income drop from $48,000,000,000 to $36,000,000,000 during the last six months," Hopkins said.

"We have in industry, however, the highest inventories we ever had. When the projected new lending-spending program goes into effect we will witness a tremendous turnover."

"We will have to spend more than we take in until national income begins moving uphill again."

Operating a wholesale and retail meat business in Dallas 40 years, he also had operated a market in Eastland several years ago.

Rites were conducted from the family residence, 1520 Beaumont, with Rabbi Gold of Temple Emanuel officiating. Burial was in White Rock cemetery.

He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Jack Kames, Miss Jessie Engelberg of Dallas; Mrs. Pullman of Eastland; three sons, Ben and Paul Engelberg of Dallas; Louis Engelberg of Fort Worth; and a sister, Mrs. J. Lief, Dallas.

RAILWAYS VOTE A REDUCTION IN ALL WAGES

CHICAGO, April 29.—The American Association of Railroads today voted to cut wages 15 per cent, effective July 1.

John Pelley, chairman of the association, which represents 132 class 1 roads, estimated that the cut would effect a saving of $260,000,000 annually.

Notice of the decision will be served upon the Brotherhoods, with whom the roads have contracts. The reduction will apply to all classes of railroad labor.

Individual roads will begin negotiations with the brotherhoods, and if no agreement is reached, mediation under the railway labor act will be followed.

Pelley explained, "present conditions of the railway industry are matters of common knowledge and great national concern." He said the wage reduction was necessary because:

1. Loss of revenue, including decline in traffic, diversion of traffic to competing forms of transportation and inadequate recent freight decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

2. Increases in operating costs, including payroll expense on account of the 1937 wage increases and adjustments.

"The present financial condition of the railways is even more desperate than it was in 1932, when a reduction of 10 percent in pay checks was accepted voluntarily by the employees," Pelley said.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—President George Harrison of the Railway Labor Executives Association, today condemned the railroad wage reduction, after a whitehouse conference with President Roosevelt.

Harrison told the president flatly that the rail workers will not accept pay cuts.

"I told Mr. Roosevelt that we will resist the carriers' efforts," he said. He pointed out that no strike crisis could arise for several months because of mediation required by the railway labor act.

Dr. Logsdon Given Farewell by Legion

A large crowd was present and all ex-service men present expressed their regrets at losing Dr. Logsdon from their midst.

After the meeting refreshments were served.

Century Plant Will Bloom Soon In City Park In East Ranger

George Rhoades, who resides at Young Addition of Ranger, called attention today to the fact that the large century plant in the Ranger City Park, Harwell Avenue, was about to bloom.

"The plant started preparing to bloom about two weeks ago," Rhoades stated today, "and now the stem is about 10 feet high."

No doubt many who have passed the park daily have not been as observing as Rhoades, and will want to watch the progress of the mammoth bloom from day to day until it reaches maturity.

Softball Season Opening Delayed With Free Games All Next Week; Schedule for Year is Announced

Tom Yonker, president of the Ranger Softball League, today announced the schedule for the coming season, and at the same time announced that the opening of the schedule play would be postponed one week, until Monday night, May 9. All games next week will be played without any admission charge being made.

"To do good work, son, you must feel good. For instance, watch out for constipation. Experience has taught me to depend on all-vegetable Black-Draught for prompt, refreshing relief. My advice is—try Black-Draught tonight!"

"Due to the fact that the control committee has been inactive and the managers have never met to approve the schedule and other matters pertaining to the opening of the league season," Yonker said, "we are postponing the opening one week. The ticket sale, planned for the first week of the season, will be carried out with advance tickets being sold for the three games to be played that week."

"The first three games, proceeds from which will go into the pot from which prize money will be obtained, include Breckenridge vs Killingsworth Monday, May 9; Elks vs Gordon Tuesday, May 10 and Baptist vs Tee Pee Thursday, May 12."

Yonkers pointed out that teams entered in the league could play practice games, which are to be arranged by the team managers, throughout the week beginning Monday, May 2. Team managers should secure permission to use

Resting After Rush Operation

Stricken suddenly with acute appendicitis, Charles G. Dawes was rushed to a hospital in New York for an emergency operation. The 72-year-old former vice president of the United States went to New York for the wedding of F. Warren Pershing.

The Detroit welfare load has been increasing for the past several weeks at the rate of 1,200 cases a day. G. R. Harris, director of welfare, reported to Mayor Reading that the relief load now is past 35,000 cases, with no indication of slackening. Another 47,000 persons are employed by WPA, according to Harris. "Relief cash is being handled in Detroit on a day-to-day basis because the means of raising money have been exhausted," Reading said. "The state is able to advance Detroit only $1,800,000 of an estimated $5,100,000 which is required between now and June." Harris explained that he did not see how the state and industrial cities could handle the situation with direct Federal aid. The statewide situation was indicated in welfare reports that one of every six persons in Michigan is on relief. In Flint, where the auto industry is the lifeblood of the city, one of every three families receives welfare aid.

Railroads Boost Texas Business

Texas benefited substantially from the expenditures of the railroads in 1937 for materials, supplies, fuel, new equipment and payrolls, it is revealed in a special study which has just been completed by the Bureau of Railway Economics of the Association of American Railroads.

Railway purchases in Texas last year totaled $23,074,728, the report shows. Of this sum, $23,070,759 was spent for materials, supplies and fuel, while $3,969 went for new equipment (not including that built in company shops). These purchases were made in 603 towns and cities located in 190 of the 254 counties of the state.

Wages paid to railway employes in Texas during 1937 amounted to $79,286,059.

The review discloses that, of the nation as a whole, the railroads last year paid $1,133,361,468 for the more than 70,000 different items which they use. Materials, supplies and fuel cost $966,383,000 and expenditures for all new equipment (except that constructed in railway shops) totaled $166,978,468. More than 12,000 towns and cities located in 2,638 of the 3,072 counties of the United States derived direct benefits from this large volume of railroad buying.

In 1937, the country's rail carriers also distributed $1,983,990,485 in wages to their employes, the report says.

"You can make plenty of ice in an Electric Refrigerator"

Buddy Kilwell Says:

"Pennies for electricity save dollars on your food bill."

You buy an electric refrigerator to save food and protect health. But you also get a refrigerator which is surplus-powered to make ice cubes and frozen desserts on short notice, even in the hottest Texas weather! Electric refrigerators are built to provide complete home refrigeration service, at a cost for electricity that averages only a few pennies a day, thanks to the cheapness of electricity.

Easter Cruise

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOY MILNER, heroine; she took an Easter Cruise.
DICK HAMILTON, hero; he bumped into the heroine.
ISOBEL PORTER, traveler; she sought a mate.

Yesterday Dick is stunned to learn that a jewel clip is found in Joyce's room. He hastens to the captain's quarters.

CHAPTER XXI

WHEN morning finally came and Dick had not appeared, one thing was clear in Joyce's mind. When the Empress stopped at Miami, she would leave the ship and take the bus home. She would ask Mrs. Bates to help her pack; the stewardess must be able to testify that she was not leaving the ship with the jewels tucked in her luggage. Mrs. Bates could search everything; on the pier she would ask the customs men to do the same. Despite their suspicions, these people would know that whether or not she had taken the things, she was leaving the ship without them.

However, before she could ring for the stewardess there was a knock at the door, and her heart jumped expectantly, hoping against hope...

"Is her steward, with a note. From the captain, miss."

"Oh," Her voice was lifeless. She closed the door before she read the message. "Miss Milner: Do not think it wise for you to try to leave the ship today."

The words danced before her eyes in shattering bewilderment. She sank down on the berth, and read it over a second time. Her hands were trembling so that the paper shook. The note could mean but one thing. She was unofficially under arrest!

She turned over, buried her head in the pillow and cried. Once started, the whole miserable heartache welled up in her throat, choking her, and she could not stop. She cried, first of all, for the injustice of it, that of all the people on the ship she should be accused of taking the woman's jewels, flashy, pretentious ornaments that she wouldn't be seen wearing to a three-ring circus in Fall River. She cried for the humiliation of it, that she should be made to appear a common thief before these people. But most of all she cried for Dick, because he had turned his back on her, because the affection he declared had been so shallow, so short-lived.

So it was that Dr. Gray found her, a long while afterward. "You don't mean to tell me you've been down here, crying your eyes out, all this lonely day?"

She blew her nose dolefully. "I'm not allowed to go out. I'm

"I'm a prisoner!" Her tears flowed anew. "The devil you are! What gave you that silly idea?"

She reached over to the table, picked up the captain's note and handed it to him. He read, it frowning ominously.

"Hmph! But it doesn't say anything about being a prisoner. That's nonsense." He slipped the note into his pocket, patted her shoulder with a kindly gesture.

"Now you dry your eyes, like a good girl, and wait until I come back. I'll look into this."

Five minutes later he was back with Captain Boyer.

She was more composed now; she had bathed her eyes with cold water and powdered her face carefully. Only the swollen puffs under her eyes remained, testifying to her misery.

"THE captain came into the room quickly, extending his hand to her.

"Miss Milner, I'm sorry!" he said in hearty apology. "You got me all wrong. But it's my fault. I was in such a rush when I wrote that note—"

She looked up at him, wondering. "Didn't you tell me not to leave the ship?"

He shook his head. "I didn't mean it to sound as hard as that. Matter of fact, I meant exactly what the note says: I didn't think it wise for you to go ashore."

"Oh." Still she didn't understand what the difference was.

"He means for your own good, my dear," the doctor explained kindly.

"Exactly. You know how this gossip gets around, Miss Milner. I don't know anything about this O'Hara woman, but she's vicious. There's no doubt of that. The whole affair is very peculiar. No woman with any intelligence would think of leaving a small fortune in jewels in her cabin, for anyone to pick up."

He was much more friendly than he had been last night, when he questioned her in his quarters. "She seems determined to implicate you in the matter," he went on, "I don't know why. But I didn't want her to have the chance, when we get to New York, to try and persuade the police that you took the things and disposed of them in Miami. See what I mean?"

She nodded quickly, and she breathed more freely than she had all day.

"Incidentally, the pair of them had their deck chairs drawn up alongside the gangplank. They never left the ship all day, and they watched every soul who went ashore, looking for bulges in their pockets, I suppose."

When he was gone, the doctor turned to her. "Now, then. You're going to get yourself all dressed up in that nice white frock and you're coming to dinner with me."

She protested quickly. "Please don't ask me to go up to the dining room, Dr. Gray. I'd much rather have dinner in my room."

"But why?"

"Because"—hesitantly—"everybody will gape at me."

"All the more reason you should be on hand, to prove that their gaping doesn't bother you in the least."

"It's more than that—"

It was more than that, very much more. But she couldn't explain to him. She couldn't tell him that the real reason she didn't want to go upstairs was because she couldn't sit through the meal with Dick across the table, drooping his eyes in uneasy regret. And she wouldn't have Mrs. Porter and Isobel smiling haughtily, patronizing her in graciously noble manner.

"Come on, now. Meet me up in the smoking room and we'll have a bottle of wine together first."

Still she shook her head. "I haven't the courage, doctor. That's the whole truth of it."

He put his hand on the doorknob. "Well, you're making it mighty lonely for me. I'll be at that big table with no better company than a few stalks of cold celery."

She looked up in quick surprise. "Where are the others?"

"Young Hamilton and Miss Porter left the ship this morning. He was in a hurry to catch the early plane for New York, so he told me. And Mrs. Porter has changed her seat so that she can be with that old couple from Detroit, you know the ones I mean..."

But she was scarcely hearing him. Dick had left the ship that morning! The words strummed in her mind, beating a sing-song which whirled about in a rising crescendo of frustration. He had taken the first plane to New York, without saying goodby, without leaving any word behind. And Isobel had gone with him.

She laughed, a nervous, toneless response.

"Then of course I can't leave you eating alone, Dr. Gray," she said with a hard, forced brightness. "I'll meet you in the smoking room, but tonight I'm sure I need something much stronger than wine!"

Candidates May Join Army to Prepare to Attend West Point

PORT SAM HOUSTON—Candidates for appointment to the United States Military Academy may enlist in the regular army for one year for the specific purpose of attending West Point preparatory schools, according to a new War Department ruling.

Candidates must have a high school education or its equivalent; must be between the ages of 19 and 22 years on July 1, 1939—

Previous enlistment rulings called for a three-year period of service, once a man enlisted, but with the possibility of "buying out" after one year of service.

Chemists Meet Will Give Texas Chance To Shine

DALLAS, Texas—With some 2,000 of the nation's leading chemical industry researchers and technicians "coming to Texas" for the annual meeting of the American Chemical Society here April 18-22, the state has new opportunities, says the All-South Development Council, for impressing leaders in this vital branch of modern industry with its attractions for plant location.

keen interest in Texas' potentialities for plants utilizing these materials, many of which are produced abundantly here.

That the society is aware of Texas' possibilities as a source of farm and forest products newly utilizable, through chemistry, as industrial materials, is seen in one of its own reports which refers to this utilization as "opening up a vast new field of development." It states that "in East Texas alone there are millions of acres which will produce sweet potatoes and other carbohydrate products convertible into starches, sugars, alcohol, plastics and paper products as well as food for men and animals." The industrial uses of cottonized are of course already well known.

In connection with opportunities for attracting new industries on the basis of physical qualifications, hand in hand with decentralization trends, the Council's report cites in part the analysis of other factors made by Charles Fenrose, famous consulting engineer of Philadelphia:

many other manufacturers out of their established locations or inducing them to build branch plants, are also influencing the management of chemical companies. Local taxes, notably on equipment and sales; labor supply, and cost of power are factors.

"With the passing of years, progressive development of our natural resources has created a problem of dual relationship between industry and the state, a problem of accepted importance to all states and to every industry. Chemical raw materials are found in every state in the Union. Every industry is a customer of the chemical industries. These relationships are notably important.

"It is an exceedingly interesting fact that the cities are much more aware of the value of new industries to their local community than are the states. It would seem that the smaller political units, closer to their people, nearer to the economic battlefield, are more appreciative of the work created and the capital invested, and the efforts of innumerable Chamber of Commerce to locate new manufacturing enterprises bear testimony to this conviction. Yet, today, it is often state regulations and state taxes which are the chief stumbling blocks in the road of industrial progress, while in other instances state inspection and state protection are strong magnets for industrial developments. It is my guess that industry, seeking peace, stability, and reasonable opportunity, will flock to that state where it is known

Cash Prize Plan For Softball Is Explained Today

Tom Yonker, president of the Ranger Softball League, today outlined the plan under which cash prizes are to be distributed to winning teams at the close of the season. Under the plan every team will win a prize except the team finishing in last place, and that team will get its $10 forfeit money back.

The Ranger Chamber of Commerce has guaranteed $150 for prize money, Yonker stated today. In addition each team will put up a $10 cash forfeit to insure it finishing the season in the league.

The team finishing the regular season's schedule will be awarded $60 in cash, the team finishing second will receive $50, third place team will receive $40, the team in fourth place will receive $30, the team finishing in fifth place will get $20 and the team finishing last will receive $10.

In addition to these cash prizes the four highest ranking teams will enter a play-off series, with the first and second place teams playing each other and the third and fourth place teams meeting. The winners of these two games will meet in a three-game series. Half the gate receipts from the five playoff games will be divided among the four teams entering the playoff series. The winner of the series will receive 50 percent of the money derived from the gate receipts, the runner-up will get 25 percent and the remaining 25 percent will be divided equally among the other two teams.

In this way, it was pointed out by Yonker, five of the six teams in the league will win cash prizes at the end of the season and one team will receive its forfeit money back, provided all teams finish the season's schedule.

Umpires for the first week of the season, which begins on Monday, May 9, will be B. S. Lemma, Dave Morgan and P. O. Hatley. K. C. Jones has been named official scorekeeper for the entire season.
