DEMOCRATS TO OPERATE TO ID O'DANIEL

By United Press
AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—An offer of cooperation with W. Lee O'Daniel in the state Democratic convention and an indirect enforcement of Governor Alfred for appointment to a federal court marked today's session of the Texas Democratic executive committee.
R. Hoppens of Houston, an active supporter, was seated at the head of the table, with James M. Looney, committee man, as his successor, and nomination of T. B. Hill, an active leader, as his successor, was objected.
Mr. Hill also objected to a motion to submit a slate of temporary convention officers and to promise that the committee would recommend them.
It was the official returns of the July 23 primary showed O'Daniel was the choice of 56 Democrats as their nominated governor.
O'Daniel had a majority of 31, over 11 opponents in the election, which 1,114,885 votes were cast. The vote was the biggest ever in a Texas primary.
The winner's total also was the highest ever received by any candidate for governor in a Texas primary.

Former Resident Here Joins Staff Of Candidate Mann

Boyce House, one of the best known newspapermen and magazine writers in the Southwest, and frequent contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, has joined the publicity organization of Gerald C. Mann in his campaign for attorney general.
A native Texan and former West Texas editor, House left the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram to handle the publicity of the Fort Worth Fiesta for a couple of years. He rejoined his newspaper and later obtained leave of absence to take charge of the campaign of Judge Ralph Yarborough, candidate for attorney general in the July primary. Following the Yarborough campaign, Mr. House is working for Gerald Mann, his duties keeping him in the field in close touch with the candidate.
"Like the majority of others who were in Judge Yarborough's organization, I feel that it is imperative that Gerald Mann be elected for the welfare of Texas," Mr. House stated. "Mann is a candidate fresh from the people, clean, capable and without the entangling alliances of 20 long years in office. Mann is opposed to political racketeers and professional politicians. So am I."

HOPE OF PRODUCTION IN TERRY TEST SHATTERED AS DEEP WELL PLUGGED

One of the major failures in West Central Texas of the year was recorded this week as Gallagher-Lawson et al No. 1 Mrs. Bobbie L. Terry, N. H. Kuykendall survey, Comanche county, was plugged at total depth of 5,291 1/2 feet.
Costly in drilling, the test had been in progress since May, 1937. Operators at the beginning of work saw a project which, if successful, would again open what was once a world-famous oil producing area.
It was located in the center of the famous Dedezona pool which in the boom years ago brought high production from a higher depth than that for which the No. 1 Terry was aimed.
Cuttings from stone at which depth the test was abandoned showed red, black and pink granite. It was stated that the test left the Ellenburger lime, lower Ordovician, at 5,183 feet which had been topped at 3,404 feet. Following the lime the drill, in a seven-inch pipe, encountered hard gray sand. Then followed the granite.
Only two shows, slight, were encountered. Shows of oil were found at 2,700 feet and 3,453 feet. Of continual trouble in the drilling of the test was water. At one time sulphur water found in great volume had temperature of 168 degrees.
Although a commercial failure, valuable geologic information is expected to result from the project.
Other developments in this area by counties included:
Eastland County
Lone Star Gas company No. 1 Jesse Penn, in the Ellenburger area northwest of Cisco, section 468, SPUR survey, 4,000 feet northwest of the Hickok Developing and Producing pool opener, was running six-inch casing at 3,983 feet.
Shutdowns past 600 feet were John L. Reeves No. 1 L. C. Downtown "B", section 2, ETRR survey, two and one-half miles southwest of Eastland.
Unconfirmed was a report that J. F. Baker No. 1 N. T. Mullory, section 1, Ahrenbeck survey, five miles north of Rising Star, encountered a gas show at 3,058 feet.
Stephens County
George Fagg of Fort Worth was reported to have staked location for No. 1 Richardson, northwest 40 acres of the southwest quarter in section 5, block 3, SP survey. Projected for 4,000 feet, the location is in the eastern part of the county.
Palo Pinto County
W. K. Gordon staked location for No. 3 W. R. Ringo, five miles north of Gordon, section 86, block 2, T&P survey, in the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of the section.

Carbon Man Loses $20 As Two Armed Men Hi-Jack Him

Officers stated Saturday that no arrest had been made in connection with the hi-jacking of Clarence Hastings, cafe owner at Carbon, Thursday night. Twenty dollars was the sum lost.
Hastings, operator of Doc's Cafe, was returning home from the cafe after 10 o'clock Thursday night when two men, one with a gun, held him up and took from him $20. Because of the darkness Hastings was unable to give a full description of the two.
Hastings was being accompanied home by John Parks, who resides at the Hastings home. They had walked two blocks when the two men appeared.
The money lost in the robbery had been taken by the cafe operator from the cash register before closing.

Tudor Scene of Reunion of Many Old-Time Citizens

By Ed T. Cox, Sr.
On Sunday, July 31st, the writer had the pleasure and privilege of accepting an invitation to attend a homecoming of former and present members of Prosperity Baptist Church at Tudor or "Gourd Neck" as it is familiarly known by old residents of the community.
People were present from various parts of the state as well as from other states, one former member and pastor coming from Kansas.
A splendid program was carried out which was enjoyed by all.
Four generations, descendants of W. M. Tudor, who owned the land in the early seventies and who is said to have dedicated that part now used for church, cemetery and school purposes for that use, were present.
Among the interesting features of the program were a sermon by Rev. Frank Pope whose father, the late John M. Pope, was pastor of the church from 1916 to 1929 and filled its pulpit intermittently from that time until 1929.
The placing of flowers on the graves of deceased members who were buried in the local graveyard by the oldest member and two youngest members; and addresses by members who had come from a distance to be at the homecoming.
Another interesting feature was a history of the church and its accomplishments by Mrs. Hester Wooten, a granddaughter of W. M. Wooten who dedicated the land to the service of those to come.
The church was organized in 1876 by Rev. John Lafson who was also its pastor in 1891-92.
None of the charter members of the church are now living but Mrs. Kate Houston, its oldest member, is eighty years old and has been a member of this church for fifty three years.
A splendid basket, dinner supplemented by an old fashioned barbecue and coffee was served to all present and much food was left in the tables to testify to its abundance.

Former Adversary Now Throws Aid to William McDonald

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—Calling attention to the huge vote given him by the home-folks, Land Commissioner William H. McDonald of Eastland county today pointed to the fact that he carried the 63 counties within a radius of 115 miles of his place of residence.
Eastland county, where McDonald was a district clerk for two terms and a practicing attorney for nine years, gave him a majority of three and one-half to one in his race for a second term.
McDonald, who led his nearest opponent by almost 200,000 votes in the first primary, has received the endorsement of Larry Mills, one of his opponents in the first race.
Noting that his runoff opponent is making four speeches weekly over a powerful broadcasting chain, McDonald said he would have to depend on his friends to pull for him in the runoff.
"My limited campaign fund won't allow me to go on the air four times a week—not even once a week," the commissioner said. "I haven't got that kind of money."
McDonald stated that his opponent is spending more money for radio time than the land commissioner's salary amounts to in a year.

SOVIETS AND JAPS FIGHT IN BORDER CLASH

By United Press
Continued border fighting, including Soviet airplane raids and tank and artillery attacks, were reported tonight as Tokyo strove for negotiations to settle the Siberian-Manchurian-Korean frontier dispute.
Publication of the conversations between Japan and Russia had no effect on hostilities. Fighting continued, including occasional raids by Soviet bombers in disputed areas.
Japanese claimed to have repulsed all attacks.
Soviet air raids on an extensive scale in Korea were reported by the Exchange Telegraph in London. The dispatch quoted the Japanese war office as saying that in Russian infantry, artillery and airplane attacks on Japanese positions, 40 planes were shot down.
A broadcast from Hhabarovsk quoted the Soviet Far Eastern army as saying, "we must be mobilized against those attempting to start war flames. The Japanese indicate they want war with the Soviet and the Soviet is ready to deal a death blow."
Japanese action on border negotiations will be discussed by cabinet members at Tokyo Tuesday. Russia remained firm in demands that Japan concede the Soviet right to the disputed territory and withdraw her troops.
In the Japanese-Chinese war, Chinese war heads indicated their belief that Hankow is doomed. The abandoned temporary capital was bombed by 54 Japanese airplanes in a span of several hours of casualties.
The war in Spain showed little change, but there were indications the loyalists, stubbornly resisting on the east coast, planned a drive on the upper Catalonian front.

Trades Days To Be Planned At a Meeting Thursday

A. J. Ratliff, president of the Ranger Retail Merchants Association, has called a meeting of merchants of Ranger, to be held at the Paramount Cafe Tuesday morning at 6:45. The purpose of the meeting is to make plans for a series of Ranger Trades Days that will bring more people to the town.
Ratliff stated Saturday, in announcing the meeting, that he had contacted practically all the merchants in Ranger and that he had found a desire to conduct such trades days, and much interest had already been created in the movement.
"The merchants have begun to realize," Ratliff said, "that in order to induce trade, and to keep people coming to Ranger, something of the kind must be started, and after it is started it must be continued. Otherwise other towns will get a portion of the business away from Ranger."
Plans have been outlined to give each director of the Retail Merchants Association a number of names of merchants, and each director will be given the responsibility of seeing that each of the merchant he is to contact is present at the meeting.
"The trades day will cost each merchant very little," Ratliff stated, "and it has been proved that such methods, when they are consistently carried out on a long-range program, bear definite results. It is time Ranger took the lead in this part of the country and everyone is in a frame of mind to cooperate."

The Glamor Girls Don't Need to Worry Any More

Everybody ought to feel a lot better now. Things are all cleared up about glamor girls and gray matter. It seems people have been drawing the wrong conclusions. You have it now on the word of two men of science that being beautiful hasn't anything at all to do with the liveliness of the processes that go on inside the think-tank.

The two daring investigators interviewed 600 plain and fancy girl students at the University of California, and came up with the following findings: that the beautiful ones weren't as apt to cop good grades as their less fetching sisters, BUT that the reason wasn't dumbness, but popularity. The plain girl had plenty of time to concentrate on their studies; the beautiful girls were forced to do their studying on the fly, between sessions of attending to more important matters, such as dates, dances, drives in the country.

So, all you beautiful girls, you can take a new lease on life now. No more of that anguished worrying about the quality of your mental processes; no more of those long nights of crying into your pillow.

And, fellows, you don't have to duck behind a pillar when you see a beautiful girl coming now. You can go right ahead and date her and it'll be all right. You won't have to feel embarrassed at all.

One quart orange juice (freshly pressed), 1 quart vanilla ice cream, 1-4 cup heavy cream, 1 quart orange sherbet, 1 quart chilled pale ginger ale.
Beat juice, ice cream, cream and sherbet together until smooth and light. Then slowly beat in chilled ginger ale. Serve in large punch bowl.
If, however, all your guests are trying to keep down their weight, you will want a cold punch that is calorie-free. Here's a sparkling recipe.
Pineapple Punch
(18 glasses)
One and one-half quarts pineapple juice (fresh or canned), juice of 3 lemons, juice of 4 oranges, juice of 2 limes, 1 cup sugar, 1 bunch mint, 4 bottles carbonated water.
Mix fruit juices, sugar and mint. Set on ice for 2 hours. Add ginger ale, water and a block of ice. If fresh pineapple is used more sugar will be necessary.

TEEMING JAPANESE CITIES DARKENED AS RUSTLE OF RUSSIAN WINGS IS HEARD OVER THE ORIENT

Fearsome tenseness gripped the Japanese Islands, and cities in the southern part of the empire "blackened out" as belief grew that Soviet Russia would bomb population centers if fighting continued along the Siberia-Manchukuo-Korea border. Raids by Russian bombers—such as those pictured above during the recent maneuvers in the Far East—have already been reported in Korea, where the city of Kojo was bombed.

As a rain of death, the Japanese troops manned them to death, the Japanese troops man "ears"—such as those at the left above—to detect engine-roar of nearing planes, and swept the with powerful searchlights, like that at right above.

Son of Franklins, Formerly Citizens Of Eastland, Dead

Taken from a recent issue of the Greenville Banner is the following story on the death of Clyde Franklin, 17-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Franklin, who until several years ago resided at Eastland.
Funeral services for Clyde Franklin, 17-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Franklin, who passed away early Sunday morning, were conducted from the Johnson Street Church of Christ by J. B. Nelson, superintendent of the Boles Orphan home, at 10 a. m., today.
"Pallbearers were Milford Goen, David Terry, W. C. Moffett, Jr., Randall Le Floure, Charles LeFann and Guy Scott. The body was carried in a Neer and Ly-Brand ambulance to Apache, Okla., for burial.
"Death followed an illness of two weeks' duration. Andrew Clyde Franklin was born in Anadarko, Oklahoma, Nov. 22, 1920. He moved to this city six years ago with his parents and enrolled in junior high school where he later graduated and entered senior high. As a member of the 1938 spring graduation class, he concluded his high school career the past May. Since, young Franklin had been employed in the print shop of his father. Following his graduation, he joined the National guards, becoming a member of Company M. 144th Infantry, under Captain Jack Saffold.
"In August, 1935, Clyde Franklin was baptized and joined his father's church, the Henry street Church of Christ, but his long and outstanding church career had begun much earlier. From the time he was first able to attend regular services until his death he was loyally interested in the church and its activities.
"Young Franklin was a quiet, modest and unassuming youth. His schoolmates always respected his opinion and cherished his friendship. From the time he enrolled in the local high school until the time he graduated, he accumulated a vast number of friends and was never too busy to turn his hand for any one of them. As for his school work, his report cards tell the story of a splendid scholastic achievement.
"He is survived by his parents, his brother, Cecil, of Greenville; four aunts, and three grandpar-ents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Franklin of Apache, Oklahoma and Mrs. Ida Batts of Anadarko, Okla."

Higher Load Limit Might Help Citrus Growers of Valley

EDINBURG, Tex.—The hope of Lower Rio Grande Valley citrus growers for repeal of the Texas truck load-limit law in time to derive benefits during movement of the 1938-39 crop has been lost, according to Hidalgo County Judge Oliver C. Aldrich. Aldrich conferred with Gov. James V. Allred at Austin recently regarding the calling of a special session of the legislature to consider repealing of the law. Allred refused to call a session. Aldrich based his appeal on prospects for another huge citrus crop in the Valley and the belief that the area would be hurt if the stringent truck regulations continued into another fruit season. 'Allred did not hesitate to call a special session to repeal the horse racing law,' Aldrich said, 'but he showed no interest in repealing the truck law which affects the prosperity of a tremendous number of citizens.' Aldrich said he intended to urge all Valley organizations to address requests to the governor, asking that he call a special session.

Temperance and Character

Text: Proverbs 4:10-23; I Thessalonians 5:6-8 BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance OLD Testament and New are intended to form a lesson on the relation of temperance to character, and the aspect of temperance in personal life. It is quite easy to make such a blending for many passages—both in Old Testament and in New— dwell upon the blight that comes to character as men have become degraded with indulgence in strong drink. Here, first of all, is the word of the wise man in Proverbs, possibly a collection of wisdom that represented more than the judgment of any one individual. At any rate, it is the judgment that is well enforced in the experience of man. What is the way of health and safety and true attainment in life? It is, first of all, the way of wisdom. It is the way of righteousness. It is the way of instruction in which one would be well equipped with knowledge. It is the way of goodness, avoiding evil, turning from it, and passing on. It is the way of honest toil, and eating the bread that comes from honest toil. It is the way of avoidance of violence and of all that would rob man of his senses, his judgment, and his will—particularly strong drink. In contrast to the way of evil is the path of the righteous, which is as 'the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.' The warn-

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—Mr. Herbert Hoover's decision to make a series of political speeches in September coincides with a wave of optimism among friends of the former President who hope to make him the Republican nominee in 1940. These friends find it rather easy to tick off other G. O. P. aspirants one by one, winding up with the conclusion that Hoover looks stronger each month and that the trend of events and Republican political settlement definitely favor him. Chiefly they are encouraged by the fact that the party and its constituents indicate a revival trend toward conservative candidates and conservative policies. They point to the Republican primary in Pennsylvania where the relatively liberal Gifford Pinchot was badly beaten by the conservative candidate for governor, Judge Arthur H. James, and that in Illinois, where arch-conservative Lester Dickinson was nominated for senator. Hoover will be out in front as the G. O. P.'s big spokesman, unless other party presidential aspirants can figure out how to dim his light. If no other Republican shows up as an oratorical big gun in the congressional campaign, Hoover is sure to receive much credit for any large Republican gains achieved in the November elections. Some of Mr. Hoover's friends even are beginning to suggest that Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, would make an ideal running mate for the sage of Palo Alto. BOTH friends and foes of Vice President John Nance Garner have arrived at the conclusion that the salty, white-haired Texan is hankering to succeedvelt in the White House story first stemmed from a friendly to Garner who attempted to gather in late afternoon Garmer's office when Congress is in session. The vice president's chary about talking to newspaper men that these senators about the only source of information as to what he really thinks. More recently the belief to spread around the White and upper reaches of the Deal that Garner had been by the presidential ticket, friends of RFC Chalmers Jones, who was bitten by and hard—profess to see presable signs of it and pressing themselves right. Current talk of a Garner ticket emanates from the inner side of the fence and no hit at all with the far Farley, although the general and the vice president on very good terms. ANTI-NEW DEAL Democrats are beginning press doubt as to whether Walter F. George or former Eugene Talmadge, campaign against the senator, has a chance to beat U. S. District Attorney Lawrence Camp, New candidate for George's seat. On the ground that presidential endorsement as against George may nomination of Talmadge, supporters have sent over Roosevelt urging him to his plans for anti-George. Camp speaks in the state far the answer has been Roosevelt endorsement is much more likely to Camp than the anti-Talmadge. Georgia New are beginning to see visit Camp landslide. SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX MRS. MADDOX likes to talk about Smithfield ham from "old Wagonny." Few know what they mean. Smithfield is not a trade name. Originally made from razorback hogs born and reared in Smithfield, the term now means a ham prepared with a dry salt cure and spiced and smoked in the way originated in Smithfield. Today, many Smithfield hams never saw Smithfield, but were cured in the "Smithfield way." And pure-bred razorback hogs just ain't no more. 'We boast of our Grade A hams,' says the pig. 'What does Grade A mean?' The pig must be corn fed, the ham cured very slowly and smoked longer than other hams. The result is firm, even-textured meat which is a rich pink but decidedly not red. Around the butt of Grade A ham there is a generous supply of fat. Corn feeding produces fat. Sweet feed pigs have soft and coarse flesh. Here's another fact to remember. Ham, does not keep indefinitely, despite belief to the contrary. Sometimes your butcher will offer Grade A hams at a great saving. Don't suspect him. He knows

Therefore, while they are still in a first class state, he wants to get rid of them. So watch for these genuine bargains. Let's end class with a sandwich and a glass of milk. Ham Spread (Makes 10 large sandwiches) Two cups ground baked ham, 1-2 cup ground tart pickle, 1-4 cup ground green pepper, 1 teaspoon chopped watercress, 1-4 cup ground celery, mayonnaise. Mix all ingredients. Spread on buttered bread.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Morning worship, 11 a. m. Wednesday, testimonial service, 8 p. m. Public cordially invited. 'Spirit' is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Aug. 7. The golden text is: 'The fruit of the spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth' (Ephesians 5:9). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: 'God is a spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth.' (John 4:24). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' by Mark Baker Eddy: 'The scriptures imply that God is all-in-all. . . . The scriptures also declare that God is spirit. . . . He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite spirit or mind. Hence all is spirit and spiritual' (page 331).

Goodwin Fans 19, 12 In a Row To Earn a Shutout

Joe Goodwin got hot Friday night and fanned 12 Killingsworth batters in a row, only one man reaching first, and that on an error. No hits were registered against Goodwin, the first man up for Killingsworth getting a life on Weekes' error. He died at first, however.

Not content with retiring the side for four consecutive innings by the strikeout route, Goodwin went on to fan two in the fifth, two more in the sixth, two in the eighth and one in the ninth for a total of 19 strikeouts. No ball was hit out of the infield.

Hendon did not fare much better in the first seven innings, however, as no man passed second until the eighth when Hart rapped out a home run to break the deadlock. Until that mighty blow only five had reached first and only one of these had reached second.

Hart, first up in the last of the eighth, smacked out a homer. Adams singled but was thrown out at home trying to score, after Williams had been thrown out at first and Wade walked. Cochran got a life on a fielder's choice when Adams was nipped at the plate. Simon also walked but Turner flew out to retire the side after three runs had been scored on two hits.

In addition to fanning 19 batters Goodwin accounted for three of the six Hanlon hits.
