HOW 25 WOMEN LOST UGLY FAT In Special N. Y. Test

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read Every Word.
NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a test by a prominent N. Y. Physician and nationally known nutritionist, 25 women lost a total of 248 lbs. in 40 days. YOU too can follow this SAME SENSIBLE plan right at home and here it is!
First of all go light on fatty meats and sweets. Eat plentifully of lean meats, fish, fowl, fresh fruits and vegetables. And for proper functioning—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in hot water every morning. DON'T MISS A MORNING! And this is important!
Kruschen is NOT harmful. It is just just one salt as some people ignorantly believe. Rather it's a blend of 4 active mineral salts (formula right on box) which when dissolved in water make a healthful mineral drink similar to famous European Spa waters, where wealthy women have gone for years. A tin of Kruschen costs only a few cents and makes 5 gallons of a most highly efficient mineral drink.
Do you feel indigestion, gas, nervousness? MAKE UP YOUR MIND YOU'LL STICK to the above plan for 28 days—and just see if you don't lose fat and feel healthier and younger. (Note: You can get Kruschen at drugstore everywhere.)

The countryside grew more hilly, and Tait had to resort to time and again to the car's second gear.

Suddenly Tait held Anne from a further forward step. "This is foolish," he whispered.

CHAPTER V... would receive the news she had been a revolver...

In the next quarter of a mile Tait's lights picked out the fork, and his hand pulled the steering wheel abruptly to the left.

Anne nodded. There in the darkness she called Myrna's name clearly. It echoed and reached. But there was no answer from the cottage shrouded in blackness.

CHAPTER V... hope you're right. But shoot-

Tait nodded. "You won't be able to drive much further, anyhow. We'll come to a fence-line, and the rest of the way is along a footpath."

For a breathless second there was only silence. Then the threshing started again, wildly this time, and they saw a figure run down the hillside, away from the path.

CHAPTER V... I forgot there was coun-

Tait dared not shoot for fear of might be Myrna. "I'm—I'm afraid," whispered Anne with a queer catch in her voice.

CHAPTER V... I shuddered involuntarily. It was lonely. I wonder if I had been wrong, getting us here.

Tait nodded grimly, and slid out of the car behind Anne. They started through the blackness. Tait held firmly to Anne's arm to keep her from stumbling, but he had to let himself be guided.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth" (Revelation 19:6).

NEW YORK.—Willie Turnesa compares favorably with all of the great former national amateur golf champions.

Turnesa, youngest and only simon-pure of the seven famous others, is vastly superior as a stylist and a better all-round player than Lawson Little.

Turnesa, freshly graduated from Holy Cross, is 23 and handsome. He is a typical smiling American boy, even to a sweetheart, pretty Mae O'Connor of White Plains. He has no intention of turning professional, and should go a long way.

Pittsburgh's treacherous Oakmont course once more proved itself the hardest test in golf. Turnesa takes a long game and accurate putting to win there. Turnesa bagged the 42d national amateur championship with an exceptionally fine game around and on the greens, just as Sam Parks, Jr., prevailed in the United States Open of 1935, when he toured Oakmont four times without once three-putting a green.

WASHING TON WITH RODNEY DUTCH

BY WILLIS THORNTON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—While pension plans take the center of the stage in the fall campaigns in several states, the fact is notable that the federal government is making some provision for the needy aged.

Approval by the Social Security Board of Virginia's plan made it unanimous, and by the end of this month when the Virginia work begins, nearly 1,500,000 people over 65 years old will be getting aid from the jointly-financed state and federal program.

That is a sizeable block of people, and represents not a paper promise, but people actually receiving aid, inadequate though it is in many cases. It is an accomplishment which is the more amazing when one recalls that the act itself was passed only in 1935 and validated by the Supreme Court in 1937.

Many proposals for extending, improving, and increasing the old-age benefits of the act are pending in congressional pockets awaiting the session that opens Jan. 1. Extensive revision of the act at this session is unlikely, however, despite pressure from the Thirty Dollar and Townsend people.

The fact that you hear little about the La Follette Third Party movement (National Progressives) doesn't mean that it is entirely quiescent. It is moving, slowly but perceptibly, in the direction Governor Phil La Follette has already mapped.

The California Progressive Party has pledged its complete support and co-operation to the movement, and that may mean something in a state where local politics are so jumbled a condition that such a party has a better chance of coming out on top than in most states.

Quiet feelers are going out to progressive party organizations in several states, and no one need be surprised to see more of the gradual state-by-state build-up which Governor La Follette has predicted.

The campaign to break down the lack of American interest in European affairs which so shocks the international-minded has already begun. Vojta Beneš, brother of the president of unfortunate Czechoslovakia, has arrived from Prague to begin what probably will be an extensive speaking tour.

The 1,500,000 Americans of Czech and Slovak blood are already working on plans for a series of mass meetings such as they conducted 20 years ago when they were an important factor in establishment of the new state.

At Chicago, 65,000 attended the first such meeting. Incidentally, should war break out over the Czechoslovak crisis, the United States would be faced immediately with a problem of the raising of volunteer forces in this country which would exceed anything incident to the Spanish and Chinese wars.

Plans are being discussed for raising a regiment of Jewish volunteers in Detroit to fight under Canadian colors if Britain is invaded. Many Americans of Czech origin would make immediate efforts to raise both funds and troops here, which would mean a troublesome problem if the United States remained neutral.

Open the Mind and Let a Little Logic In American newspapers have had a good deal to say lately about the "betrayal" of Czechoslovakia. England and France, so the story goes, have sold the little country down the river, and have cravenly made peace with Hitler by ignoring their responsibilities.

Well, this all may be true enough. The Czechs have had a raw deal, and the big muscle-man of Europe is riding high, wide and handsome.

But it hardly becomes Americans to say too much about

Responsibilities in this Czech affair go back a long way—20 years or more, to the time when the nation was put together out of the wreckage of Austria-Hungary. And it just happens that it was the United States that was largely responsible for it.

The plan for a Czech nation was evolved in this country and was put over by President Wilson. The Czech constitution was framed in the United States. The League of Nations, devised to see that differences such as the one now raging between Czechoslovakia and Germany were settled peacefully, was pretty largely an American invention.

So if we are going to do any talking about responsibility for what happens to the Czechs, we can't escape taking a share of that responsibility ourselves.

It is nearly 20 years since we decided that we didn't want any of that responsibility. We stayed out of the League of Nations and refused to ratify the Versailles Treaty. Since then we have repeatedly insisted that we were going to follow a policy of isolation.

Certainly it is our privilege to act that way. Probably it is the wisest course we could follow.

But we ought to be consistent.

We can't logically blame other nations for making the same sort of decision that we made years ago, or for ducking a responsibility which we ourselves have ducked long since.

The trouble with us is that we want to have it both ways. We want to stay out of trouble in Europe—and let's pray that we succeed!—but we also want to hand out a lot of free advice to other nations on how they should act.

Such a course doesn't make sense. Isolation implies indifference to what happens abroad. If we are going to stick to isolation as a policy we might well start cultivating an attitude of indifference. For if Europe's quarrels are none of our concern—well then there isn't any logic in getting concerned about them.

Comes another lecturer with the news that we're going through a period of change. We're still waiting for a period of foldin' money.

'That's Quite a Surplus You Have There'

BULLDOGS AND LIONS PLAY 0-TO-0 TIE IN A THRILLING CONTEST

The Ranger Bulldogs and the Brownwood Lions met in a conference game Friday night at Bulldog Stadium in Ranger, and after two hours of hectic, colorful football, the two teams left the field deadlocked in a 0 to 0 score.

Except for a few brief intervals when the Lions ripped off long gains on tricky reverses and end sweeps, the Bulldogs were masters of the situation, playing the major portion of the game in Lion territory.

Statistics of the game, too, favored the Bulldogs, who accounted for 14 first downs to 10 for the Lions, gained a total of 285 yards from scrimmage on running and passing plays to 160 for Brownwood and penetrated the 20-yard line twice to once for the Lions.

The Lions outgained the Bulldogs on the ground by 45 yards, the total being 103 for Ranger and 148 for Brownwood, but Ranger completed 13 passes for a total of 182 yards while Brownwood completed only two, one for 12 yards and the other for a three-yard loss.

The Bulldogs' defense was too much for the Lions, with the entire line doing excellent defensive work and Ames, Shot Gray, Ray Gray and Anderson looking particularly good on most plays, while Bourdeau, Hargraves and Townzen played consistently good.

Ranger received the opening kickoff, McKelvin taking the kick on the 20 and returning to the 32. And there began a see-saw battle that saw the ball moved back and forth on the field, neither side showing decided advantage on the offense. Only five punts were made in the first half, two by Ranger and three by Brownwood, while the Bulldogs, though they had the ball most of the evening, were forced to punt but four times during the game.

Brownwood's offense, as predicted, showed plenty of speed and deceptive plays, which clicked for long gains at times on their own end of the field, but which bogged down once the mid-stripe was crossed. Chili Rice, speedy, elusive halfback, and Frank Murphy, about as fast and deceptive as Rice, did the majority of the ball carrying, while Dai Fish plunged the line successfully at times, but was bottled on many of his attempts to carry the ball.

Ranger threatened early in the first quarter when they carried to the 21 yard line on first down, where the ball went over. Again in the first they went to the 20 yard line, where Houghton lost 12, which was gained back on a pass from Whitefield to Bourdeau, but again Brownwood took over deep in their own territory, returning the ball to the Ranger 15 on their only penetration of the game.

Ranger's big thrill came in the closing minutes of the third quarter, when the deadly passing combination of Whitefield to Bourdeau carried down to deep Brownwood territory. On fourth down

Fort Worth Tech high school Bulldogs won their first game of the season over Eastland high school Mavericks Friday afternoon at Eastland by the score of 13 to 0.

Bomb Blanks Cameraman's Mind---But He Gets Pic

These two pictures of a demonstration bombing attack at Chattanooga, Tenn., were snapped a few seconds of each other but the cameraman remembers taking only the first one. Photographers of the Chattanooga News snapped the picture, left above, of Major Al Williams flying the target building, quickly changed plates for the next "shot." Davis got the picture of Williams' direct hit, right, but he doesn't remember taking it. When the bomb exploded something in his head. When his brain cleared, Davis found he had made the picture, pulled the plate from the camera and waded two creeks in a mad scramble to safety.

To Force Elimination of A. & P. Stores Would Prove Costly to Land and To The Farmer

Annihilation without representation would seem the lot of chain stores in the United States, if the Honorable W. Patman, representative in Congress from the first district of Texas, introduces successfully a tax bill aimed to put such stores out of business unless these stores actively campaign in opposition to that bill.

Way back yonder when America was just emerging from a dling clothes, taxation without representation, became an issue, it resulted in a War for Liberty and the Declaration of Independence just because the young nation did not sit passively by and let imposed upon.

The dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, an event now a modern striking example of what can happen to a nation cannot have a voice in its own national affairs. Such things happen to companies or individuals who do not use their own power to stay unharmed and to uphold their own rights.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, has during years of existence built up its own great business empire, 85,000 employees, the consuming public, which has walked hand with it for over a half of a century, and the millions of whom they buy food products.

It could hardly be expected to sit idly by and see its empire dissolved, and try to stay Patman's efforts toward annihilation and other chain stores. The management realizes that the action must be taken if the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea is to stay in business and it is not thinking of itself or its stock alone, but of the many people to whom adverse legislation would bring dire results.

What Congressman Patman's side of the question is, is seen, but the side of the chain stores, especially that of Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company is as facet as a diamond, reaching in the lives and welfare of others, that it would define its scope... but leaving out the interests of the man there are the interests of its employees, the interest of the interest of the farmer, the interest of labor, and the interest of the government.

It does seem that it would be not even a penny wise, pounds foolish to enact any legislation that would increase employment situation in this country. The havoc that would be all these interests suddenly being dissolved would be catastrophic are some of the reasons.

The record of the last calendar year shows that the two George K. Hartford and John A. Hartford, whose father was er of the business, that out of any money earned annually business, 82 percent is paid to the government in taxes in of the former, and in the case of the latter, 83 percent is government in taxes.

In the interest of the employees it is simply a statement that the employees of this company generally throughout the States, receive the highest wages and have the shortest work in the grocery business, whether chain or individual stores.

have helped build up this great business, the elimination stores, would bring heartaches and problems. It would mean... eat less" for many of these consumers. Last year the Great & Pacific Tea Company distributed at retail $881,700,000 food at a net profit of 1%. What would happen to those 3,000,000 families on relief and the knowledge that if this becomes a bill, then almost another million would be added of the unemployed, thirty per cent of the distribution of all of the United States wiped out, and the cost of living of earners of America increased many fold.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company has a just as the power behind the throne of all these interests they they should raise a voice of protest against Mr. Patman's tory tax bill and by so doing protect those who are dependent directly or indirectly, and help prevent a labor chaos that come if that company and other chain stores, are legally ex-

Reshaping Lives of Narcotic Addicts Is Object of Hospital

By United Press FORT WORTH, Texas—Reshaping the lives of narcotic addicts is the purpose of the $4,000,000 United States Public Health Service hospital.

An initial roster of 250 patients will be housed on the narcotics "farm" when the complete new plant is put into service. It is located a few miles southeast of Fort Worth.

Directors announced that full freedom will be given to patients, who will be addicts classed as non-dangerous.

"It is the government's policy to treat addicts as patients instead of criminals," said Dr. W. S. Oassenfort, who will be in charge. "Our problem is making a healthy personality out of a warped and unstable personality."

Seventy-five per cent of the patients will be assigned to the "farm" by federal courts. They will be narcotic addicts believed to be harmless. The other 25 per cent will be voluntary patients wanting to cure themselves of dope addiction.

The farm finally will accommodate 1,000 patients and a full staff. Work will start this fall on $1,300,000 worth of additional buildings. The farm will have its own workshops and facilities for agricultural operations. Patients will be kept in dormitories, and the only restraint will be a wire fence about the premises. Doctors said they anticipate no trouble from patients leaving the farm without permission.

Several doctors and nurses will be transferred from the U. S. narcotic hospital at Lexington, Ky. Miss Mary Cunningham of San Francisco will be chief nurse; Allen Lucas of Lexington, chief supervising gardener; and Miss Marjorie Roberts, chief dietitian.

First arrivals among the physicians are Doctors Edgar Findlay of Denver, Colo., James Hill of New Orleans, James T. Zinn of Norfolk, Va. Federal prisoners at work, Kans., made furniture for the new farm. The farm is designed to date male patients only.
