

City tables water woes

City aldermen tabled several issues Monday at their regular meeting at the Dimmitt City Hall.

Among items the aldermen will consider later are water pressure problems in southwest Dimmitt; water drainage in northwest Dimmitt; and sewer and sanitation costs for the entire city.

According to figures compiled by city staff members Dimmitt residents are getting a break. Dimmitt residential rates are, per month, $1.50 for sewer and $3.25 for garbage. Most businesses pay from $8 to $15 per month for garbage and $1.50 to $3.50 per month for sewer.

The lowest rates among Littlefield, Friona, Hereford, Tulia and Muleshoe: $3.30 per month for residential sewer and $4.50 per month for residential garbage.

Both garbage and sewer ran deficits during the city's fiscal year which expired April 30—garbage by $30,000, sewer by about $20,000. Those figures, however, do not include costs for new equipment including a garbage truck that were paid for from other parts of the budget but will be included in the proper areas in the future, pledged City Manager Reeford Burrous.

"We're looking at a $15,000 landfill, building sewage ponds and other needs," Burrous said. "The costs are probably really higher because some items we use in sewer and sanitation were paid for from the general fund instead of utilities."

According to Burrous, sewer rates should be raised to $3 a month and trash services to $5 "to take care of the day-to-day operation needs—but that won't buy a new truck."

"The present is not the time to raise rates," said Alderman Harold Hyman. "We need to learn to live with our income. We might be charging too much taxes and not enough here. I think we should look at it all, do everything possible, before raising rates."

"But, we need to keep all of our services."

Aldermen agreed it would be prudent to look at the rates "in the context of the whole budget," said Mayor Wayne Collins. "Overall, we're not showing a deficit. We're in good shape, and I think we should look at the whole budget before we raise rates."

The rates will be reviewed before the aldermen approve their budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

About 25 northwest Dimmitt residents signed a letter asking that something be done to improve drainage along NW 11th.

The area is flood-prone during rains, and homeowners said in the letter they are unable to obtain flood insurance.

Aldermen agreed to again consult with City Engineer Bill McMorries to come up with a feasible plan to control excess water.

When McMorries met with the board about the problem several months ago, his least-expensive solution was to build up a dike in the alley between NW 10th and NW 11th, necessitating the movement of dumpsters to either the front side of the houses on NW 11th or to the east of the alleys. Residents complained about the dumpsters being either too far away or in front of their homes, and the project was never completed.

The next-cheapest alternative will cost the city about $60,000, according to estimates supplied by the engineer last year.

Aldermen were hoping to approve bids on a project to increase available water to residents in the Ruskin Circle and Sunset Circle areas, but a bid mix-up forced aldermen to table the issue until the next meeting, July 20.

Aldermen also held the first of two required hearings for re-allocation of Revenue Sharing funds; renewed their farmland lease with Ben Scott for three years; and approved, pending an Attorney General's ruling on the matter, giving $3,050 to The Texas Panhandle SSC, Inc., for help with their presentation to the Dept. of Energy on Aug. 3.

A SPARKLING SHOW—Roman candles and a showering fountain light up the July 4 sky at the annual Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce fireworks display, held Saturday across from Bobcat Stadium. Several hundred area residents gathered to watch the display, which was staged by Stan

McDaniel, Danny Newton, and a team of helpers. Executive Director Delores Heller said the response to the big fireworks show has been so positive that the Chamber is planning for a much bigger and better show next year.

Community celebrations set Friday, Saturday

Two of the county's communities will hold their biggest celebrations of the year with Hart Days Friday and Saturday and the annual German Festival in Nazareth all day Saturday.

The celebrations get underway tonight with the annual Bethel Chicken Fry at 7:30 at the Bethel Community Building.

The supper is open to all past and present Bethel residents. Everyone attending is asked to bring a chicken to the center by 5 p.m. today, and should bring a covered dish to the supper.

Hart's annual Hart Days celebration kicked off with a carnival Wednesday, which will remain open through Saturday.

Friday, the Little Miss Hart and Miss Hart pageants will be held at 7 p.m. at the Hart Elementary gymnasium. Saturday, events begin with the parade line-up at 9 a.m., with the Parade to wind through Hart at 10 a.m. Honored pioneers Judd Davis and Nell Swopes will lead the parade, which will feature a color guard and T-38 aircraft from Reese AFB in Lubbock; Hart Longhorn band; Castro County Health Club gymnastics team; the Bar-None Drill Team from Plainview; and the Khiva Kart Patrol from Lubbock.

Davis has lived in Hart since the fall of 1930. Mrs. Swopes was born in Hart, moved to Oklahoma from Hart in 1960, then moved back to Hart after the death of her husband, Sam, in 1985.

Other events include:

- Lionburgers, soft drinks and kids' games Friday night and all day Saturday;
- Bingo, Volunteer Fire Dept., Friday and Saturday;
- Zealot Club merchants' drawing and homemade ice cream in front of the barber shop;
- Chi Psi Arts and Crafts show and sale at the school cafeteria Saturday;
- Good Neighbors Club bake sale and hospitality Saturday morning at Hart City Hall;
- Hart Golden Group's food booth;
- Class reunions for the HHS classes of 1944, 1945 and 1946, Saturday at the school cafeteria;

• A jamboree Saturday from 2 to 6 p.m., and a square dance at 8:30 p.m., at the fire station.

Several new events and some of the most successful traditions will take place Saturday at the 15th annual German Festival in Nazareth.

The festival begins at 2 p.m. with the Gospel Singers; guided tours of Holy Family Church; histories of many of the community's families; a quilt display at the Nazareth Senior Citizens Center; and the Arts and Crafts Show, until 9 p.m., in the school cafeteria.

Also planned during the festival are:

- Sausage on a stick served from 1 to 3 p.m.;
- German dancers from Lubbock performing at 2:30, 4:30 and 6:30 p.m.;
- Fiddlers' Contest at 3 p.m., open to anyone who would like to enter with cash prizes and belt buckles awarded to the top fiddlers;
- A washer pitching tournament (entrants should call Joe Johnson at 945-2664);
- Children's activities from 3 to 5 p.m., with a $1 handstamp letting them take part in several activities;
- The German Sausage meal from 4 to 7 p.m., with sausage, potatoes, sauerkraut, green beans, relish tray, bread, German chocolate cake and apple streudel. Prices are $5 for adults and $3.50 for children 12 and under. Sausage will be for sale throughout the afternoon for $2.50 a pound, and cooked sausage will be available for $5 a pound after 7 p.m.
- Two dances—The Maines Brothers Band from 8:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. at the Community Hall and the Caprock Country Band from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the American Legion Hall.

Advance tickets, at $8 each for the Maines Brothers and $4 each for the Caprock Country Band, are available at Pro-Ag in Dimmitt and at Richard's Town Pump and Elmer's Package Store in Nazareth. Advance tickets will also be available at the festival. Tickets at the door will be $5 for Caprock Country and $10 for the Maines Brothers.

Proceeds from the events will go to retire the debt on the community hall.

Rider killed in accident

An Easter woman was killed Thursday when she was thrown from her horse and struck by an oncoming vehicle just west of Easter.

Lisa Jean Jobe, 26, of Easter, was pronounced dead at 6:20 p.m. at Deaf Smith General Hospital in Hereford.

According to the Dept. of Public Safety and other reports, Jobe was riding horseback along a county road west of Easter when a sudden thunderstorm dumped heavy rain. The horse, frightened by the storm, went out of control, and Jobe was thrown from the horse as she approached FM 2397.

She was thrown into the path of a vehicle driven by Kenneth Frye of Hereford, who was unable to stop.

Services for Jobe were held Monday in Grace Baptist Church of Canyon with the Rev. Jerry Liebert, pastor, and Rev. Max Baird officiating. Burial followed in Goodnight Cemetery in Goodnight by Rix Funeral Directors.

Mrs. Jobe was born in Borger and had lived in the Hereford area for over a year. She was a secretary for Jesko Insurance Co. of Hereford and was a member of Grace Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband, Preston; three sisters, Sis James of Amarillo, Betty Shields of Clarendon and Penny Melton of Mississippi; two brothers, Jack Downer of Amarillo and Chris Downer of Clarendon; her father, Tommy Woods of Borger; her mother, Floy Sexton of Amarillo; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.N. Sutton of Goodnight.

1:1

Just when I thought I had heard of everything, these two Dimmitt boys decided to swallow some frogs.

You can probably guess when it happened. What better time than the Fourth of July, on a warm summer Saturday night, amid the excitement of fireworks, revelry and a teen dance, to swallow frogs?

It was a contest—a challenge thrown out and accepted, a dare undertaken, a battle for frog-gulping supremacy, a duel to the last croak.

(I'll not use their names here. If they haven't told their mothers, I'm not going to be the one to fink on them. Suffice it to say that they're 17 and 18, well above the age of frog-swallowing consent.)

The way I heard it, the two lads swallowed more than 50 live baby frogs between them. I confirmed the story through two independent sources, but the totals differed. One account had the winner swallowing 30 to the loser's 23, and the other account placed the final victory margin at 30-28.

Anyway, the loser couldn't hold his frogs. He pitched his amphibians at least twice outside the teen dance.

At last report, the once-swallowed frogs were still hopping.

It grossed out some of the girls at the dance to see a boy toss up live frogs. But you know how girls are. There are some things they just don't understand.

I checked The Guinness Book of World Records, and could find no listing for frog-swallowing. It might be that Guinness doesn't encourage frog-swallowing. On the other hand, our two zany young stalwarts just might have a world record there.

Nonetheless, they have established for themselves a niche in the legends of our little corner of the world, and forged for themselves a truly memorable Fourth of July.

By Don Nelson

I wonder if they're going to make it an annual event.

The August issue of Country Home magazine devotes 30 pages to Castroville, Texas, with beautiful color photos and articles by three different writers on Castroville's history, town layout, home construction and restoration, architecture, furniture, antiques, lifestyle, and robust foods.

Castroville is unique. With a population of 2,030, it's the largest Alsatian community in the US.

Although our county was named for Henri Castro, he never set foot here. But he founded Castroville, and brought the original settlers there from Alsace-Lorraine.

In the lead article of the Castroville study in Country Home, Julie Catalano gives an interesting description of the man for whom our county was named:

"Nestled along the meandering bends of the Medina River (20 miles from San Antonio), Castroville represents an adventurous time, a period when the opportunity for colonization allowed a pioneer to leave a mark upon the world. For entrepreneur Henri Castro, a Jewish man born of noble Portuguese stock in St. Esprit, France, the time also presented a chance to flee the crumbling empire that Napoleon Bonaparte left behind after his death.

"Castro became a naturalized citizen of the United States in 1827 but returned to France in 1838 to become a partner in the prestigious banking house of Lafitte and Company. It was while he was trying to negotiate a loan for the young Republic of Texas that he became interested in its future. After Republic of Texas President Sam Houston appointed him consul general for Texas at Paris, Castro entered into an agreement with the Texas government to bring settlers from Europe in exchange for land grants.

"Castro launched an advertising campaign throughout Europe to lure prospective settlers to this untouched territory in southwest Texas, but he had the most success in his own backyard: the Alsace and Lorraine provinces of France and neighboring Germany. Between 1843 and 1847 — after enormous expense, hard labor, and frustrating delays — 27 ships crossed the Atlantic Ocean carrying

German problems could hurt DOE here

By JOHN BROOKS
News Editor

An accident in a high-level nuclear waste repository in West Germany could have implications for a similar site being sought about 30 miles north of Dimmitt in Deaf Smith County.

"The Dept. of Energy has made no mention of this accident in any of their weekly briefings, even though this accident occurred May 12 and they have liaison people at the Gorleben site," said Delbert Devin, head of the Nuclear Waste Task Force headquartered in Dimmitt. "Jeff Neff (manager of the Salt Repository Project being headquartered in Hereford) made no mention of this in his testimony before the Senate last week, and Sen. Bennett Johnston won't be happy with any kind of cover-up before his committee."

The West German shaft was designed by a division of Thyssen Mining. The company is partially responsible for the architectural design of the mining planned for Deaf Smith County. DOE is interested in the site because of Thyssen's involvement in plans for the site and because it is a salt host, with many of the same characteristics as the Deaf Smith County site.

The Gorleben shaft has been beset by problems almost since mining began at the site in northwestern West Germany. According to the World Information Service on Energy (WISE) communique issued June 12, "the cause of the accident was . . . a direct consequence of the geological conditions of which experts had warned . . . years ago."

The West German PTB (Federal Institute for Science and Technology) and shaft builders had considered several methods to overcome unexpectedly high underground pressures, including freezing the ground prior to sinking the shaft—a process DOE has considered for Deaf Smith County to counteract both high pressures and potential leakage from the Ogallala Aquifer and other porous tertiary sands and rock.

To freeze the ground at the Gorleben project, 43 boreholes were arranged in a circle around the mine shaft and were filled with calcium chloride brine at -42 degrees F and left for one year, then remain frozen for two years while the shaft was sunk.

However, when the mine shaft reached about 740 feet, the shaft became severely deformed as the boring reached a layer of subterranean clay "earlier than expected," according to a PTB official, creating extremely high pressure on the shaft.

To handle the pressure, PTB ordered 34, 3,300-pound steel rings to be implanted into the wall to shore up the shaft.

After the huge rings had been in place for a month, the twentieth ring sprang loose from the shaft and plummeted to the bottom, killing one worker and injuring six others.

Following the accident, PTB officials ordered the bottom 14 meters of the shaft filled with concrete to prevent the shaft from collapsing under pressure while deciding what steps to take in the future.

The May 12 accident was not the first at the Gorleben project. In March, three workers were injured in an accident in the same shaft, while freezing of the geological formation in another shaft at the project has not been successful because of heat buildup, according to

with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Nettie Graham was honored with a party in her home for her 95th birthday.

The lovely party was hosted by her daughter, Jean Kemp and her family, Andy and Teresa Kemp, Carla and Kelly Thompson and daughter Kate, all of Fort Worth; Camille Williams of Temple. Mary Cluck catered the party and Camille and Teresa served the party sandwiches, cake squares and punch.

Shirley Stephens registered the 100 guests.

Flowers were sent by friends from Fort Worth and flowers, gifts and cards were sent from friends from Dimmitt. A beautiful bouquet of roses was placed beside Mrs. Graham, who came to Dimmitt in 1919. She was widowed in 1946.

Joe Dunn and his wife, Thelma, came from Sonoro, Calif., to visit with the Texas relatives. While they are here, they will go to Canterbury Villa for a fun time of singing and playing instruments for the residents. Others joining them were Herbert Dunn, Grace and Weldon Findley of Littlefield; Don Atkins of Sudan; Alvin and Frances Frazier, Gene and Connie Ivey, Ed Freeman, Mary Lou Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Dunn, Geneva and Virgil Justice, Cleo Forson, Helen Richardson, Oleada Schumacher, Edith Graef and Mary Edna Hendrix, all of Dimmitt.

Since Joe Dunn plays the fiddle, he said he "fiddles around" every Tuesday in his home town.

Louise Mears and Cleo Forson honored Ferne Dickey and Helen Richardson with a birthday luncheon at the Calico Teapot Tearoom Tuesday. Mary Edna Hendrix was a guest.

Others seen at the Tearoom were Joanne Snider and her guests and Betty Vaughan, Sherri and Kevin Baldrige and a friend.

Virginia Hansen was hostess to the bridge club Tuesday at the Calico Teapot Tearoom. Her guests were Sandra Clark, Martha Jo Hyman, Patricia Braafladt, Stephanie Love of Plainview, Sandra Potts, Dorothy Gilbreath, Margaret Parsons and Nancy Ross.

Don and Sandra Robb of Idalou were in Dimmitt recently visiting friends and relatives including Don's mother, Madge Robb and his brother, Ted Robb and family.

Very few visitors from out of town at the museum this last week. Robert Benton brought his cousin Bill Smith of Longview and Darrell Hale came from Canyon. Darrell is my District Supervisor at the Museum.

Several friends gathered at the home of Avie Lewis on Thursday evening for a "Tacky Party." They came wearing their tackiest clothes and they brought humorous gifts such as a big flower pot filled with dirt and one tiny green sprig of something. They didn't give a prize but I think Ysleta Ball could have won for being the tackiest. The guests brought food — chicken casserole, tossed vegetable salads, hot rolls, dip and chips, and blueberry cheesecake. Those enjoying the fun were Carol and Teresa Lantz, Ysleta and Debra Ball, Gracie and Faye Killough, Donna Stump, Mary Edna Hendrix, Avie Lewis and her mother, Geneva Justice. Virgil Justice stayed just long enough to take a few pictures.

Elizabeth Huckabay was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge. Era Heckerson won high score and Jo Gregory won second high score. Others playing were Dude McLaurin, Oleada Schumacker, Edith Graef, Neva Hickey, Virginia Crider and Louise Mears.

Guy and Oleta Walser went to Paducah recently to visit Weldon and Ann Rodgers and while there, they picked wild plums to make jelly. I can remember years ago when my parents went from Tulia to Matador to pick wild plums.

Bobby and Wanda Murdock went to Oklahoma City, Okla., over the July 4 weekend to watch their daughter, Debbie of Amarillo, play in a softball tournament. I went along to visit some cousins who live there. Another cousin and his wife came up from Norman, Okla. We had a good visit.

I watched the first game that Debbie and her team played Saturday morning. They don't cancel games anymore, so they played in the rain on a very muddy field. The players were slipping and sliding all over the field. They not only slid into a base, they were sliding between bases and in outer field.

Harold and Martha Jo Hyman and Leigh went to Carlsbad, N.M., to attend a wedding for a friend, Tom Blazer who married Christine Porter in St. Edward's Catholic Church.

Marty Benton's sister and family have been here visiting. Beth Benton came in for the weekend. Becky and Ben are in South Africa for the wedding of a former AFS exchange student, Kim Veruciel.

Wendy (Downing) and Jim Birdwell came in from Missouri for the July 4 holidays and their week of vacation. They live in Sikeston where Jim is a draftsman and Wendy is an associate minister.

Dorothy Hopson's niece and baby boy, Mark Anthony, were here for several days enroute to the family's new home in Dallas. Lee Ann's husband, Mark, will begin practicing internal medicine there in a few weeks.

The Methodist Women hosted a "Welcome Back" luncheon for Pastor Vernon O'Kelly and his family, Jane, Scott and Tye last week.

There was a full house for the pot luck lunch.

Shirley and Frank Wise are enjoying visiting with their daughter Susan and family here for the week.

The Jim Killingsworth family went to Angel Fire over the July 4 weekend.

The Woodrow Killingsworth family enjoyed visiting with their daughter, Kay Stafford and her family.

Joan and Bill Ballentine went to Phoenix, Ariz., to visit Joan's sister and family. Bill stayed over the weekend and Joan stayed a little longer.

The Van Earl Hughes family met in Santa Fe, N.M. They stopped in at the Haagen Daas Ice Cream Shop to visit Jeff Isaacs. Also visiting in Santa Fe this week is the Joe Schulz family and guests of the boys.

Boyd and Jitso Reedy, missionaries to Japan, visited the local Methodists. They are on furlough and Boyd gave a report/sermon Sunday morning. They stayed with the Bill Clarks and enjoyed the fireworks display at the High School July 4.

Joe King is back at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. His son, Johnny and family returned to Dallas and his daughter, Kim flew in. Judy, another of Joe's daughters, will be here soon. He is improving and will be home soon.

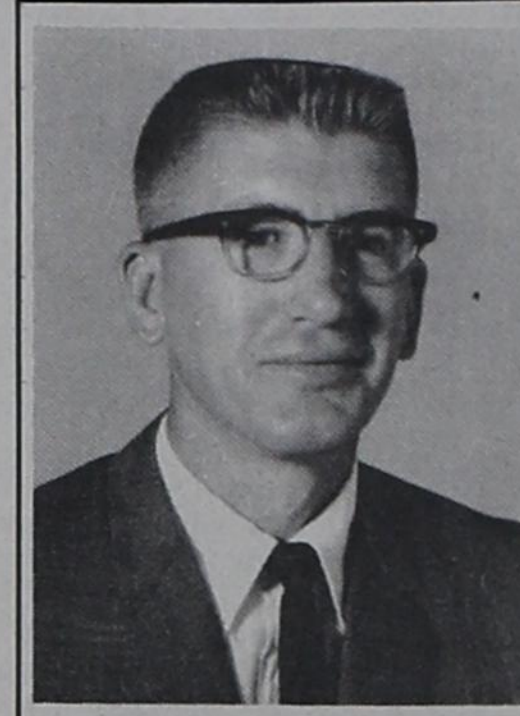

Dr. James Sims and Glenda and Tim went to visit Glenda's brother and family in El Paso.

Toni Hamilton of Seminole and Miguela Hamilton of Odessa spent the week with their grandparents, Don and Ann Ethington. Mike Murphy took the girls swimming several times and Don and Ann took them to Canyon one night. They went through the museum and on to Palo Duro Canyon to see "Texas".

Zona Vilas went to Odessa to attend the birthday party for her grandson, Austine Belcheff who was a year old last Sunday. Ann Ethington went with her along with her two granddaughters, Miguela and Toni Hamilton. They picked up Zona's mother, Lena Hinson in Lubbock. After enjoying lunch at Le Bistro and some shopping, they took Toni home to Seminole. Ann and Miguela went on to Odessa with Zona and her mother.

Guess who's turning the Big 5-0? With his gray hair beginning to show, He knew we'd remember, but he hoped that we wouldn't. The one and only — the school superintendent.

ICC Happenings

ICC is in the final planning stages of a program of church renewal.

Known as "RENEW," the program will be established in the fall as a three-year effort to guide the spiritual growth of the people as a vibrant faith community. Planning for this program will begin immediately and reach all parishioners early in October.

Rev. Norbert Choong explained that RENEW is aimed at renewed Christian living through teaching and witnessing to the word of God, developing vibrant faith communities, and establishing justice formation and action.

Joe Ortega, chairman of the RENEW Core Group, assisted by chairmen of various committees, will implement the program.

Focus has been placed on four areas of parish activities—Sunday mass celebration and a prayer network, large group events, take-home activities for families and shut-ins, and small sharing groups.

Heading the various groups is the core group of the parish and committee leaders. The leaders include Sotero Ramos, prayer network; Santos Perez, Sunday liturgy; Charles Richard, take-home materials; and Stella Mendez, large group activities.

Key to the RENEW program, and as a result of early tests of both concept and materials, is a small coordinating committee headed by Tony Garza. This group bears the overall responsibility for the selection, composition and training of group leaders.

Recruitment of participants will be the responsibility of the Telephone, Sign-Up Sunday, and Home Visit committees, led by Lucy Casares, Connie Martinez and Emilio Nino. Jose Yanez will head up the Publicity Committee.

RENEW's long-range goal is the building up of parish life. Its three goals are to enable people to preach and witness the word of God, to build the community, and provide information in the sphere of social justice.

There will be no sacrament of reconciliation or 5 p.m. Mass Saturday.

Formal ceremony unites McClung, Hunter in June

Sara Lee McClung and Rodney Carlton Hunter exchanged wedding vows June 5 in a formal, double ring afternoon ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Seymour with Thomas O. McClung of San Antonio officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. McClung of Seymour. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunter of Dimmitt and is the grandson of Rachel Hunter of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sutton of Happy.

Lyn Ann Robertson of Seymour sang "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do," and "To Me." She was accompanied by Mary Louise Teague of Seymour, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of lace and taffeta. The bodice of the gown featured an appliqued lace collar. The fitted bodice was fashioned of taffeta and featured a lace overlay. The long sleeves were made of taffeta and lace. The taffeta gathered above the elbow and the lace sleeves tapered to points over her wrists. The full skirt was created of taffeta.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses highlighted with peach rose buds. It was accented with small white flowers, ribbons and lace.

Maid of honor was Gena McClung of Seymour, sister of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Kelley Schulte of Lincoln, Neb., friend of the bride, and Charlynn Hunter and Sheri Lynn Hunter, both sisters of the groom from Dimmitt.

Best Man was Greg Burleson of Dimmitt, friend of the groom.

Groomsmen were Tim Wales, Scott Simpson and Steven Bagley, all friends of the groom from Dimmitt.

Guests were seated by Trey McClung of Seymour, brother of the bride, Shane Smithson of Dimmitt and Greg Odom of Lubbock, friends of the groom.

MR. AND MRS. RODNEY CARLTON HUNTER
...She's the former Sara Lee McClung

A reception, hosted by the bride's parents, was held following the wedding in Fellowship Hall of the church.

After enjoying a wedding trip to Lubbock, the couple are residing in Dimmitt where the groom is engaged in farming.

The bride is a 1986 graduate of Texas A&M University with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education.

The groom is a 1983 graduate of Dimmitt High School and holds a degree in ag economics from Texas A&M University.

Couple exchange wedding vows in western ceremony at ranch

The Cecil Gill ranch overlooking Red Deer Creek Canyon was the scene for the wedding uniting Alice Gaylene Vuicich and Charles Wayne Grimsley June 26.

Dr. Larry Gill, education minister of the Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ in Pampa officiated at the double ring old-time cowboy ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Joyce Vuicich of Dimmitt and is the granddaughter of Alice I. Webb of Miami. The groom is the son of Waunita Grimsley of Pampa.

The bride and her attendants rode up the canyon in a surrey and were met by the groom and groomsmen, who rode up on horses from the opposite canyon.

The bride wore a three-tiered tea length off white lace dress and an off white western hat with a waist-length lace veil.

She carried a bridal bouquet of white daisies.

Bridal attendants were Rebecca Hoffer of Oklahoma City and Carol Rhodes of Amarillo.

They wore prairie denim skirts with white shirts featuring royal blue western trim made by the bride.

Groomsmen were John Grimsley of Colorado and Chad Grimsley of Lefors.

They wore white shirts with royal blue western trim. The shirts were also made by the bride.

Rick King of Miami, guitar soloist, sang "Forever and Ever, Amen," "I Can't Help Falling in Love with You," and "In the Misty Moonlight."

A reception followed in the ranch home of Cecil and Marie Gill.

The serving table was accented with blue bandana bows made by the bride.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was patterned after two linked horseshoes to match the wedding rings which were designed by the bride and groom. The topspice was a miniature cowboy and his bride.

Jeannie Fulgham of Amarillo and Tiffany Fill served cake and punch.

Guests were registered by Rita Kincannon of Pampa.

The couple enjoyed a wedding trip Taos, Angel Fire, N.M., and Grand Junction, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of Miami High School and Abilene Christian University. She is employed as a kindergarten teacher with the Denver City School District.

The groom is a graduate of S.A.G.C. and is self employed.

'Survival' course is set tonight

"Basic Survival for Young Men" will be held today from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Assembly Room of the Castro County Courthouse in Dimmitt.

The program, open to the public, is designed for young men ages eight through 19 and is sponsored by the Castro County Extension Service.

The program will include hat care, how to tie a tie, survival sewing and personal clothing care from Don Sheffy of Sheffy's Western and Casual Wear; hair, nail and skin care from June Norman of Headhunters; shopping smart, and what's in and what's not, from Mickey Oglesby of C.R. Anthony's; boot and shoe care by Don Moke of Running M Boot Shop; and "laundry lingo" by County Agent Deana Sageser.

There is no charge for the program, but interested persons are urged to register in advance by calling 647-4115.

Presbyterian happenings

There is a Sunday Church school class every Sunday for everyone at 10 a.m. The Adult Bible class meets at the manse, and all other classes meet at the church.

"A Parable About the Rural Church" will be the subject of Pastor Edward D. Freeman's sermon at the morning church worship service at 11 a.m.

The Synod of the Sun will meet at Mo-Ranch in Hunt July 13 through 15.

Armstrongs establish home in Irving after April wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Trent Armstrong are home in Irving following their April 25 wedding and a wedding trip to Cozumel, Mexico.

The bride is the former Cynthia Marie Schaper, daughter of Janet Schaper of St. Louis, Mo. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Armstrong of Dimmitt.

The couple exchanged wedding vows in the Oak View Baptist Church in Irving with Rev. John Street, formerly of Dimmitt, officiating at the formal, double ring ceremony.

The couple stood before an altar featuring a 15 branch candelabra flanked by two spiral candelabras entwined with greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Bryan Schaper, wore a long white wedding gown of satin and lace. It was designed with a Victorian neckline of silk Venise lace. The bodice was created of Chantilly lace accented with drop pearls and large seed pearls in the middle of each set. The long sleeves were designed of Chantilly lace with silk Venise lace appliqued on the sides and featured cuffs of silk Venise lace. The skirt was made of heavy satin with appliques of silk lace edging the bottom of the skirt and waistline.

She carried a cascading bouquet of burgundy and white flowers.

Maid of honor was Kristi Schaper, sister of the bride.

She wore a burgundy gown of taffeta with drop waistlines and puffed sleeves.

Two bridesmaids also attended the bride. They wore dust rose gowns matching the maid of honor's.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of pink and burgundy roses.

Best man was Bryan Armstrong, brother of the groom. He was joined by two groomsmen.

The couple were honored with a reception at the church's reception hall following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a pink tablecloth and a lace cloth overlay. The three-tiered wedding cake was separated with clear column pillars atop a punch fountain. The table also held a centerpiece of pink and burgundy carnations and a silver punch bowl.

MRS. TRENT ARMSTRONG
...nee Cynthia Marie Schaper

The groom's table was covered with a burgundy cloth and lace overlay. The groom's cake was a chocolate cake topped with burgundy frosting and decorated with the Aggie Band Bugle Rank Banner in white icing. A centerpiece of burgundy and pink decorated the table along with a silver tea service. The bride attended Texas A&M

University and is employed by Fidelity Investments.

The groom is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and Texas A&M University and is also employed at Fidelity Investments.

'HERE'S HOW WE DO IT'—Tollie Nel (left) and Hennie Swanepoel of South Africa stand at an irrigation ditch between crops to inspect one of Truman Touchstone's field onions with their Dimmitt hosts, Ray and Jeff Robertson and Ray's grandsons, Ty Mitchell, 12, and Todd Huffman, 11, both of Dumas.

South Africans study area's farming, living

Two South African farmers, visiting Dimmitt on a tour through the United States, said most of their country's problems are centered around blacks fighting blacks and won't be easily solved.

Tollie Nel and Hennie Swanepoel, both of Newcastle, South Africa (about 2 1/2 hours southeast of Johannesburg), are spending several days with the Ray Robertsons.

"They've been running our tractors and Jeff's (Robertson, Ray's son) combine and helping with repairs," Ray said. "Their farming area is pretty similar to this. They are both pretty large farmers — mainly livestock, sheep and goats, but they also raise wheat, corn, oats and grain sorghum.

"It was a very enjoyable week for us. I don't know when I've enjoyed visitors more than these two guys."

While Tollie and Hennie are away, Tollie's dad and brother and Hennie's dad and brother-in-law are minding their family farms. They began corn harvest last week — it's now the third week of winter in South Africa. "The big corn farmers are probably finished by now," Tollie said.

Tollie acts as the main spokesman for the two, since he speaks fluent English. Their main language is Afrikaans, but if they were to speak to a black, educated tribesman, Tollie said, they would speak in English—the "bridge" language. One of the men also speaks Zulu, one of the main African languages.

"Our combines are almost identical," Tollie said in comparing farm machinery here and in South Africa. "We don't use as many big tractors as you do. We use tractors from all over the world, and American tractors are popular." They also use sprinkler systems and similar irrigation practices, although the area receives up to 40 inches of rain a year.

"We work from dawn to dark, just like the farmers here. We get up at 5 or 6 in the morning in the summertime (during our winter). I'd say we spend 30% of our time with crops and nearly all the rest with our livestock. We also have a sawmill, which is run as a separate entity from the rest of the farming operation."

Nel and Swanepoel landed in New York, "bought a camping van in New Jersey, and we've driven about 8,000 miles so far. We've been to Florida and Disney World, Mississippi, Missouri, down to Houston and up here. From here we're heading toward California, and hopefully we'll get to Canada." They have also spent a month in Europe. Robertson, through his contacts with fellow directors in the Farm Credit System, has set them up with several places to stay between Dimmitt and California.

"We're basically just traveling around," Tollie said. "We're mainly sticking to the farming communities."

The two are among the oldest white families in the nation. Like many of our American ancestors, their ancestors fled to South Africa in the 1600's, Huguenots facing persecution in The Netherlands and France. They're worried about their country, what others think about it, and what could happen, using Zimbabwe (formerly Rhodesia) and outside agitators as examples.

Both men served their two-year compulsory military service. Hennie's duty was to track terrorists who invaded South Africa from Angola, who have helped create turmoil in the Republic.

"We would track them, find where their ammunition was, then confiscate it and use it to fight them," Hennie said.

"In Zimbabwe, the living conditions for the white farmers were unbearable there during the bush wars," Tollie said. "Most of the whites left, and the blacks gained control of the government. But now the black factions are fighting among themselves. The various leaders are at each other's throats all of the time. Zimbabwe basically is heading toward a one-party state — a Marxist government. It hasn't declared it yet, but it appears to be inevitable.

"There's a lot of poverty, yes, but I'm afraid the people here are getting an inflated view of what's going on there," Tollie said. "In South Africa, there are about 18 or 20 different dialects. Much of the strife is blacks fighting blacks, not whites fighting blacks.

"It's a complex problem, and no one knows how to solve it."

Fashion show set Saturday

4-H'ers from Castro County will model apparel they have created and purchased Saturday at 11:30 a.m. at the First Baptist Church fellowship Hall in the annual Castro County Fashion Show.

County contestants will be vying for places in the District II show Aug. 3 in Lubbock.

The county show's theme is "Safari," and contestants will be judged on construction skills or comparison shopping as well as overall appearance.

Junior I (ages 9 and 10) and Junior II (11 through 13) will compete in casual, dressy, sports, specialty and buying categories.

Senior (14 through 19) will compete in construction or buying divisions in tailored daywear, non-tailored daywear, active sports and specialty wear, and evening wear.

The public is invited to attend.

Durham opts for baseball

Todd Durham, a 1987 Dimmitt High School graduate, has been awarded a baseball scholarship at College of the Southwest in Hobbs, N.M.

The NAIA team has a 20-game fall season and a 60-game spring schedule, including national NAIA power Lubbock Christian College.

CSW is a four-year private college.

Long, Watts, Brooks win

The team of Jeff Watts, Jason Long and John Brooks fired an eight-under 136 to take the championship in the Fourth of July Scramble at the Castro County Country Club Sunday.

The team edged the foursome of Johnny Mason, Dr. James Wohlge-muth, Rex Wooten and Larry Bills by one stroke after trailing them by a stroke after Saturday's 18 holes.

Boosters to meet tonight

Social Security in Castro County
By TERRY J. CLEMENTS

People who change their name, whether because of marriage, divorce or other reasons, should be certain to contact Social Security to apply for a new Social Security card.

Employers report earnings covered by social Security under the name by which employees are known and the Social Security number. If the worker's name is not listed correctly, their earnings may not be properly entered on their Social Security record, and they may not receive all credit due them.

A marriage itself does not have to be reported. Many women continue to use their maiden names after they marry. If this is the case, Social Security need not be informed of the marriage. However, women should make certain to use the same name consistently throughout their employment.

Even women who are not employed should report any name change so their Social Security records will contain the correct name when they apply for benefits.

To apply for a new social Security card, which will show the new name and the old number, contact any Social Security office and ask for an Application for Social Security Number card (Form SS-5). Proof of identity under both the old and new names is required — a marriage license, for example.

More information about Social Security numbers can be obtained at the Social Security office at 1401-B West Fifth in Plainview, or you may call 293-9623. Appointments can be arranged if desired.

In a smart move, the Texas Legislature has repealed the sales taxes you pay on newspapers.

You, as a reader, and us'ns, in the bidness, are both happy. You ain't gotta pay it, and we ain't gotta collect it. It means you get another cup of coffee or so over the year, and we get to cut our aspirin consumption.

In a dumb move, the legislature is thinking about sticking sales taxes on insurance premiums.

Boo! Unless you've had a wreck lately, you know Texas drivers are insured. Moreover, every homeowner, some renters, well, everybody has insurance. Everybody pays premiums, whether it's auto, home, life, or health. And, like a good neighbor, Bill Clements it there, with a hand out, wanting a little more money.

Already, you are paying taxes on your insurance—3.5% on property and casualty insurance. It's a premium tax paid by companies and passed through, of course, to consumers.

Stick the sales tax on there, and you're talking about a 9.5% state tax on your property and casualty insurance premiums.

If we allow this tax to be tacked on, Texas would have another first—we would be the only state to levy a sales tax on insurance premiums. We would also pay almost three times more tax on insurance than anywhere else in the US.

If you don't like the insurance tax, call Pete Laney and Bill Sarpalius TODAY.

Besides, they love to hear from you.

(Thanks to Fred Annen and Associated Insurance for the figures).

Insects of interest

By ALLEN KNUTSON
County Entomologist

COTTON

With much of the cotton now, or soon to be, setting squares, it is important to begin scouting for fleahoppers.

Adult fleahoppers were readily found in cotton field last week, although numbers were low (5 to 10 per 100 plants). Fleahoppers are small, pale green insects that feed on tiny squares, causing the squares to shrivel and fall from the plant. Squares set during the first three to four weeks represent about 65% of the harvested cotton, and certainly are the best quality.

Fleahoppers do not commonly reach damaging levels in this area. However, individual fields suffer significant injury each year, so scouting does pay. Late-planted fields near alternate hosts, like silverleaf nightshade, especially require close attention to avoid damage from fleahoppers.

Correction

In last week's story about the plant clinic sponsored by the Extension Service, the date was listed as July 6.

The date is actually July 16.

Persons requesting assistance from Extension Service representatives for looking at problem plants in their house or garden should call the Extension office at 647-4115. The News regrets the error.

Begin looking for squares once the plant has five to six leaves. Squares are located near the base of a leaf's stem. They are surrounded by tiny leaves (bract) giving them a triangular shape. The pale green, flower bud or square can be seen by removing the bract. Dead or blasted squares are discolored and often fall from the plant, leaving a scar. By recording the number of healthy and blasted or missing squares on a sample of plants, one can determine:

Percent square set equals
Number of healthy squares
Total number of healthy, blasted and missing squares x 100.

The percent square set should be 90% or better the first week of squaring. As squaring proceeds, square set should be 80% the second week and 75% the third and fourth week.

Environmental factors can also result in square shed. Therefore, control decisions should be based upon percent square set and fleahopper numbers. Fleahopper control is recommended if squares set is less than 75 to 80% during the first three weeks of squaring and 25 to 30 fleahoppers are found per 100 plants.

More information is available in the June 26 Pest Management Newsletter available from the Extension office.

CORN

Catches of southwestern corn

borers declined this week, indicating the spring flight is coming to an end. A few fields were treated for first generation borers. Weekly trap catches were much higher this spring than last year. The mild winter and large number of untilled stubble fields are no doubt responsible for the large number of corn borer moths. Expect to see a lot of second generation corn borers in late July and August.

Spider mites are very uncommon in corn at this time. Apparently the wet weather has slowed down their reproduction and spread.

Home pesticides require safety

Pesticide use isn't limited just to farmers: homeowners use them for everything from roses and pecan trees to indoor ant and roach sprays to flea shampoo for Fido.

Familiarity, however, can breed carelessness, because consumers have become so used to toxic chemicals that sometimes the power to damage and destroy can be overlooked, according to Mike Moeller, Deputy Commissioner of the Texas Dept. of Agriculture.

"Even the places we buy pesticides can lull us into overlooking their potential danger," Moeller said. "We buy pesticides not just at nurseries and garden shops but in grocery stores, hardware stores and other places, shelved side-by-side with other commonplace but non-toxic products."

"For your own protection, read labels carefully. A pesticide label is a legal document that tells you what pests the chemical kills and what plants you can treat." Labels tell you how to mix, apply, store and dispose of pesticides. And, labels say how long you have to wait before it's safe to pick, and enjoy, a treated crop.

Since labels are no good if they're missing, store pesticide containers in a dry, secure place, and follow label directions: don't figure double strength is better, because double strength is illegal, dangerous, and may harm your plants, you, and the environment.

"Notice how harvest intervals differ from crop to crop," Moeller said. "If a label says to allow a three-day pre-harvest interval on beans, that means it takes three days after spraying for the pesticide to break down chemically far enough that your beans are safe to pick. The same pesticide might break down in one day on asparagus or 14 days on parsley. Check the label before you pick."

Another important step is preventing exposure.

"There is a risk of exposure by three routes—breathing fumes, by taking residues by mouth, and by absorption through unprotected skin."

Sunnyside

By Teeny Bowden

Together We Can

The Sunnyside Lions Club sold barbecue sandwiches, homemade ice cream and fireworks at the Sunnyside Community Building July 4. Terry Ott cooked the barbecue and had enough for lunch and supper. Cookies and drinks were also sold.

About 25 people were served at noon and around 30 more ate Saturday night. The fireworks display was well attended, with some passing motorists stopping to enjoy the fireworks.

Juanita McGill attended funeral services Tuesday in Earth for Troy Blackburn. Rev. Murle Rogers of Lockney and Rev. Joe Vernon of Earth officiated. Many folks did not know about the services until too late to attend.

R.V. and Bess Bills attended the funeral services for his cousin, Zeph Robnett, Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church of Earth with Rev. Vernon officiating. Estil and Jessie Robnett of Klondike came last Saturday for the funeral and to visit with the family. They stayed with the Bills until Tuesday. Jessie and Bess are sisters, and Estil is a first cousin of Zeph.

Lloyd Blanton was admitted to Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt Thursday with more heart problems. He was still not feeling very well on Sunday.

Jack Bradley received a deep cut above the knee about eight inches long Tuesday afternoon in a collision with a small tractor and spray rig. He and Johnny Jaquess were on a three-wheeler and Jerry Jaquess was driving the small rig that sprays weed killer.

They were moving from one field to another and playing on the way when the foot rest on the outside seat of the rig fell down into the path of the three-wheeler.

Johnny received only a minor scratch on his elbow.

Jack was treated in Dimmitt, where 30 stitches were used to close the inside cut and 30 stitches were needed to close the outside. It almost cut into the muscle.

L.B. Bowden dialyzed at the Dialysis Center in Amarillo on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday while waiting for the new graft to heal. Only a small area, less than an inch, at the bend of his elbow is left of the old graft for access. If the new graft had been used before it gets well the blood would leak out into the tissue.

Shane and Nikki Walling, grandchildren of Slick and Toots Holbrooks, spent Friday night with them as they were on their way from Colorado Springs to Dallas. The Holbrooks have felt little better this week.

Teeny Bowden attended the dedication of the "Castro County Courthouses" Texas Historical Marker in Dimmitt Saturday, thanks to Rev. Bentley, Kathy, Christi and Holly Gwyn, who took L.B. to the dialysis center. They left about the time the dedication started so he could be ready to dialyze by 12 noon.

Teeny went on to Amarillo after the dedication. The Gwyn's spent the day in Amarillo just relaxing on the Fourth. They got home in time for the Lions' fireworks display and then another one with the Lance Loudder's.

Rex and Darlene Wooten found two baby rattlers under their window recently, but haven't found the den or the rest of the family. There are probably several more babies around. They were in the yard area where the grandchildren usually play.

Ed and Joni Stewart and children moved from the community to near Dodd Tuesday. They have been living in the Roy Phelan house and working for Bridges Feed Lot for some time.

Leslie Loudder went to San Angelo last Sunday to get Misty Odum, who will spend a few weeks with him, Lynn and Sharon Cox, and the M.B. Odom's of Dimmitt. Kyle has been here since their Wyoming vacation helping Lynn and Brandon with the farming.

Ezell and Verba Sadler and Randy Powell have been working in Hereford in recent weeks, putting up a wood fence around the lot of Ruth King. They like about two more weeks. While waiting for the cement around the posts to set, they went to Hubbard Creek Lake Friday evening to mow and water the trees, and came back Sunday afternoon. Ruth went with them.

Bruce, Phyllis, Erin, Robin and Jonathan Bridges celebrated July 4th with Jerry and Judy Beene and family in Earth.

Cindy Sadler and children arrived from Allen Saturday and are spending this week with Gale and Verna Sadler and Susan and Caleb. Gale conducted church services in the home of Embree Roy and Willie Mae Sadler for the family Sunday.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Jack Sanders and Dick Sorrell of S & S Properties in San Marcos, Texas, hereby provide public notification of a FmHA financed Senior Citizens' Housing Project.

S & S Properties currently has a proposal with Farmers Home Administration for twenty-four (24) Senior Citizens' Housing Units located southwest of the intersection of FM 3215 and Southwest 7th Street. The properties' legal description is as follows:

A 3.588 acre tract out of a ten acre option that extends half of the distance of the property along Butler Drive and south to make 10 acres out of the north half Section 17, Block M-10A, Castro County, Texas.

According to the Soil Conservation Service, the land in question has been classified as prime farm land. Ratings of Class II for irrigation and Class III for dry land have been issued for this property.

The 24 units will consist of 16 one-bedroom and eight two-bedroom units. The units will be constructed on slab, wood frame with brick veneer and composition shingle roof. The project will contain nine buildings comprised of three quadruplexes and six duplexes. Also a management/community/maintenance building will be built. All units will be plumbed for washer and dryer. Central heating and air conditioning will be provided. Carpet will be used in living areas and vinyl tile in high traffic areas. Storm windows and storm doors will be incorporated for energy conservation along with additional insulation. Paved off-street parking will be provided. All construction will be in accordance with FmHA/HUD Minimal Property Standards.

Preliminary application for this project is pending with the FmHA District Office in Plainview, Texas. Any person interested in commenting on the application or proposal's feasibility and alternative to it may do so by providing such comments to FmHA within 30 days following this publication. Comments shall be directed to the attention of:

Nazareth

By Uirgie Gerber, 945-2669

Many tennis fans and their families enjoyed the 7th annual "Skidrow" tennis tournament held at the home of Denny and Pill Heiman over the July 4 weekend. 27 mixed doubles teams participated with Art Brockman and Leona Gerber capturing first place. Wayne Heiman and Cince Schulte finished second, Rodney Schulte and Glenda Birkenfeld finished third and Joe Barnes and Sandy Heiman finished fourth.

Everyone enjoyed barbecued hot dogs, hamburgers, sausage and sandwiches and refreshments. After the last match on Saturday, everyone pooled their assortment of fireworks which resulted in a beautiful display. Our thanks to the Heimans and the tennis players for a fun weekend.

Philip, Dora and Rita Pohlmeier drove to Yukon, Okla., for a visit with the Ralph Pohlmeier family. Robert and Donya Pohlmeier of Oklahoma City, Okla., also came to Yukon where they joined the Philip Pohlmeiers and drove to Olpe, Kan., to visit with the Nub Hoelting families.

Carl Dean and Mary Kleman drove to Logan, N.M. to meet Bernard and Irene Kleman of Amarillo. They spent the weekend at Ute Lake.

Congratulations to Bryan and Mary Jo Huseman on the birth of a son, Colby Lee, last Thursday at the Childress Hospital. Grandparents are Arnold and Catherine Huseman of Nazareth and Bud and Pearl Hermesmeyer of Clarendon.

Terrell and Chris Bogle of Center, Colo., are here for a couple of weeks with their grandparents, LeRoy and Dorothy Pohlmeier.

A special "Welcome Home" to Darryl Birkenfeld who has completed his studies in Belgium and will be taking up his appointment at San Jose Church in Hereford Aug. 1.

Ed and Donna Brett and daughters Traci and Erin of Pittsburg, Pa., have been visiting the Herman Birkenfeld home. They are good friends of Darryl.

Joel and Mary Beth Gerber hosted the July 4 supper and fireworks display Saturday night. Those enjoying the evening were Francis, Connie, Russell and Wade Backus of Hereford, Leonard, Alvina, Paul and Roger Gerber of Nazareth and Zac, Josh and Caleb Hartman of Kansas who were here visiting relatives.

Charlotte Aldridge, Kim, Tina and Kolby Huseman of Houston were here to attend the wedding of Dana Ringo of Amarillo and spent some time with the Philip Huseman families.

Joe, Imogene, Kim, Wade, Tammy and Tracy Drerup and Martha Huseman drove to Dallas June 27 to attend the wedding of Leon Huseman and Lori Anderson. All the children and grandchildren of the Philip Huseman families met in Dallas for the wedding and lots of fun. Afterwards, all went to Six Flags.

Everyone came back to Nazareth to spend the July 4 holidays with the Philip Husemans and enjoyed dinner Sunday at Joe and Imogene's.

While in Dallas, the Joe Drerups spent a day with Arthur and Grace DeCardenas and family and enjoyed eating at the Hard Rock Cafe.

Keith and Elaine Huseman and children, Danny, Ricky, Kevin, Lisa, LeAnn and Jeffrey of Riverside, Calif., spent several days visiting the Philip Husemans and Joe Drerups.

Congratulations to Johnny and Kim Schmucker of Lubbock on the birth of a girl, Hayley Nicole, Friday at Lubbock General Hospital. Grandparents are Gale and Marilyn Wilson of Olton and Ray and Mary Lou Schmucker of Nazareth.

Math and Rozena Albracht of Amarillo visited Albracht and Gerber relatives in Nazareth Sunday afternoon.

PHCC schedules screening

Panhandle Health Care Coalition will sponsor a health screening for all county residents July 16 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the First State Bank of Dimmitt.

The screening will include blood tests for cholesterol and diabetes, blood pressure tests and educational information.

Fee for the blood tests is $3 each or $5 for both, and persons desiring blood tests should not eat or drink for at least eight hours prior to the test. No fee will be charged for persons who provide proof of indigency. Screenings will be directed at identifying persons at-risk for certain diseases, doing further testing, and suggesting medical supervision and follow-up.

Cholesterol is a risk factor for heart disease, and, according to the American Heart Association, one in four people will have high blood pressure, but only 33% of those will be aware of the problem.

The Panhandle area has the second-highest cardiovascular death rate in the state, and control of high blood pressure decreases risk of heart disease, strokes and kidney problems.

Diabetes can be a primary cause of death as well as leading to kidney disease, sight problems and infection.

All county residents are urged to take advantage of the screening.

SSC update set today

An update on the area's bid for the Superconducting Super Collider will be given during a noon public meeting Thursday at the Amarillo Civic Center.

Keynote speaker for the meeting is Dr. Ed Bingler, executive director of the Texas National Research Laboratory Commission in Austin. Also on the agenda are Amarillo Mayor Glen Parkey, SSC project chairman John Chandler and Amarillo Chamber of Commerce President Larry Milner.

Bingler is overseeing the process of preparing two Texas site proposals for submission to the Dept. of Energy on Aug. 3. The "Happy Site," east of Dimmitt, and a site near Waxahachie were chosen by the TRNLC.

Cotton growers grasp for alternate crops

Summer storms with hail and driving winds have dealt a heavy blow to thousands of acres of cotton across the Texas South Plains, forcing farmers to seek an alternate crop.

"It's too late to replant cotton," said Dr. James Supak, cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "There isn't enough time for even short season varieties to mature adequately," he added.

"This means that producers who suffered this damage must consider alternate crops such as sunflowers, grain sorghum or vegetables if they have to replant," he said.

Producers who incorporated pre-plant herbicides have generally eliminated the possibility of growing sorghum on that land this year unless they are able to get under the treated soil with buster type planters, said the specialist.

soon as possible to prevent further damage from blowing sand."

Check the plants carefully. If portions of leaves remain on the plants and the stems aren't badly damaged, the plants may recover quickly. "Even if leaf defoliation is nearly complete, as long as the bark on the stem is intact below the functional buds, the plants will recover," Supak said.

Research studies conducted on the High Plains have shown that nearly optimum yields can be obtained from plant populations ranging from about 25,000 to 60,000 plants an acre. This corresponds to approximately 2 to 4.5 plants per foot on 40-inch rows.

"As a general rule, if a stand averages two or more plants a foot of row and is fairly uniform without too many long skips, replanting isn't warranted," the specialist said.

When considering alternate crops to replace the hailed out cotton, consider potential markets for the new crop, said Dr. Roland E. Roberts, Extension vegetable specialist. "Check with local shippers or processing firms to make sure additional acreage of any crop is needed. It's extremely risky to put in any crop without having made marketing arrangements," Roberts said.

needed by a lender concerning financial, marketing and production information is even more important for the borrower to have if he is going to survive and manages his business successfully in today's economic environment."

Before visiting a lender, borrowers should learn how the lender decides whether the loan will be made and for what amount. Generally, borrowers should be prepared to answer these questions:

1. How much will you need to borrow during the year?
2. When will the money be needed?
3. For what is it going to be used?
4. How will the loan affect your financial position?
5. How will the loan be secured?
6. When will the loan be repaid?
7. How will it be repaid?
8. How will alternative possible outcomes affect repayment ability?
9. How will the loan be repaid if the first repayment plan fails?

Sorghum seed must be planted below the herbicide treated zone. The depth of the herbicide can be determined by examining the root system of damaged cotton plants. "The point at which feeder roots are found typically indicates the end of the herbicide treated zone," Supak explained.

The Extension agronomist urged farmers to carefully evaluate the condition of their crops before making the critical decision to plant something else.

"As we've said many times, don't make your final decision the morning after a storm," Supak said. "Wait at least two or three days to evaluate the prospects for recovery. Run a sandfighter or rotary hoe as

Ag changes mean more loan changes

More nonperforming loans, loans classified as high risk by external examiners and increases in loan losses have changed the lending practices and policies significantly of many ag lenders, according to Dr. Danny Klinefelter, management specialist with the Extension Service at College Station.

Most of the changes relate to the:

1. Need for more and better information for loan decision-making.
  2. More analysis and verification of information obtained from the borrower.
  3. Greater emphasis on projected cash flow and demonstrated repayment ability.
  4. Increased monitoring of the business performance after it is made.
  5. Stricter adherence to loan policy guidelines.
- "This means that to be successful in the loan application process, farmers and ranchers will be required to do more preparation and better planning," Klinefelter said. "While many farmers and ranchers may view the additional documentation as more red tape, the information

Carryover stocks lead to low prices

Why are market prices continuing to drop although Texas farmers are producing less grain?

Despite decreased production in 1986, carryover stocks for the 1986-87 marketing year are expected to be up 81% for wheat, 77% for corn and 69% for sorghum from the previous year, according to Dr. Ed Smith, Extension Service economist in college Station.

"Simply put, the market will have all the commodities it needs for the current year," Smith said, "plus about 80% of the needs for '87-'88, assuming demand remains relatively constant.

With a continued adequate supply of generic PIK certificates in 1986-87, feed grain prices could drop below Gramm-Rudman adjusted net loan rates by as much as 50 cents per bushel, Smith said. Wheat producers also could experience further market price pressure as the 1987 crop develops and producers become more familiar with all the potential advantages of using generic PIK certificates.

YES! We'll have fresh vegetables soon.

Our vegetable crops are looking great, but they'll be a little late because hail forced replanting.

Soon, we will have Super Sweet Corn, Summer and Winter Squash, Green Beans, Blackeyed Peas, Cucumbers, Cantaloupe, Watermelon and Okra—plus a few pleasant surprises for you.

Watch for the announcement of our opening the latter part of July!

Dimmitt Boy Scout Troop 266 won nine awards during their week at Camp Post, June 14 through 20. Zeke Cleavinger earned the top individual award—the Robin Hood Award for top archery score. Earning Tenderfoot rank were Michael Acevedo, Timothy Anes, Brian Conyers, Scott Heck, Guy Lewis, Justin Roberts, Brian Simpson and Jeremy Strickland. Those Scouts also earned leatherwork, basketry, canoeing and archery merit badges.

Scoutmasters Jackie Roberts and Lonnie Strickland completed a leaders' training program, while Adam Cline, Cory Mays and David West also attended the camp. Robert Moss, suffering from a broken arm, was able to attend closing ceremonies.

"There are several people we need to thank for making our trip to Camp Post a big success," Roberts said, "including the Dimmitt Lions Club, Boyd Collins and Wesley United Methodist Church, Dimmitt Ready Mix, Walt Hansen, Hays Implement, Higginbotham-Bartlett, Joe Cowen, American Fructose, First State Bank and the VFW. Five county students have been named to the honors list for the spring, 1987 semester at Texas Tech University.

Named to the Dean's List were Donna Behrends, Roxanne Gabel and John David King.

Named to the President's List were Kathy Lust and Johnny Schmucker.

Students named to the Dean's List had GPA's between 3.5 and 3.9. Students named to the President's List had perfect, 4.0 GPA's.

Wood preservatives need double-checking

Spring is paint-and-fix-up time, and that includes sprucing up naturally weathered wooden fences, decks, roofs and siding.

"Texans unhappy with their naturally weathered wood are giving the wood a facelift," said Chuck Stayton of Overton, an Extension Service wood products specialist. "Not only does the wood look new again, but it will last longer."

Stayton says wood should be cleaned and refinished. "Cleaning removes mildew and discoloration so that you can refinish uniformly and naturally." Cleaning is achieved by power washing or bleaching. A bleach solution should be applied only with a plastic garden sprayer, with expensive commercial sprayers useable only if designed for spraying chlorine. "Most folks want exterior wood to have a natural look. So, once it's cleaned, apply a primed natural wood finish. Most natural finishes provide inadequate protection against mildew and weathering. What you choose will dictate whether you refinish yearly or every three to five years.

"Most wood finishes fail within 7 to 18 months, showing pigment breakdown and mildew, but some finishes give three to five years protection." Stayton noted that some finishes have water repellants added, while others do not.

Kleman, the daughter of Mrs. Walter Kleman, received an MS in Nutrition and Food Sciences.

Kiwanis hear report

The Dimmitt Kiwanis club grossed about $3,200 from its July 4 fireworks sales, President Leroy Maxwell told the club Monday.

Maxwell said the club made donations to the Chamber of Commerce for the community fireworks display and to Canterbury Villa for a fireworks show there Friday.

Maxwell said the club's board is considering hosting a flea market during the Castro County Harvest Days celebration.

Club members are delivering Meals on Wheels this week.

AFTER THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE OUR FOUNDING FATHERS WROTE SOMETHING EVEN MORE IMPORTANT.

Ten years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence our founding fathers created what historians have called the greatest single document struck off by the hand and mind of man.

Our founding fathers created the Constitution of the United States.

For the first time in history, power was granted by the people to the government, and not by the government to the people.

The freedom unleashed by the Constitution allowed Americans to develop their talents and abilities to the fullest. And attain what is now known the world over as the American Dream.

As we commemorate the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution, there is no better way for you as an American to reaffirm the principles for which our country stands than to learn more about the Constitution.

 PTB officials, despite the attempt to freeze the ground.
 If DOE proceeds with current site characterization studies, two similar shafts would be bored at the Deaf Smith County site. According to the Annual Report To Congress, "plans call for two 12-foot diameter exploratory shafts to be excavated and lined with steel and concrete to withstand full hydrostatic pressure at a depth of 2,555 feet."

Meanwhile, the author of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982, the legislation designed to guide

DOE through the process of finding a suitable site for the permanent burial of high-level radioactive waste, said July 1 "the fact is, the DOE blew it," as he joined a dozen senators and over 40 fellow members of the House in proposing a moratorium on the program.

"At the first sign of public opposition they cast aside the entire second repository program to help a few office seekers," said Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., chairman of the House Interior Committee. "They have handled the screening effort so badly that the public and many of us in Congress have lost all faith in the integrity of the process." Udall said it is an "enormous problem" that will not go away.

"We cannot ignore this problem," Udall said. "It will not go away. If we close down all of the nuclear power plants in the country (today) and dismantle all of our nuclear weapons tomorrow, we would still have an enormous nuclear waste problem."

Virtually identical bills introduced in both houses call for the creation of an independent commission to reassess the five-year-old program over the next 18 months.

 During that time, DOE would be barred from site specific activities aimed at building a permanent repository or a Monitored Retrievable Storage facility.
 "These bills represent the most responsible legislative approach yet to emerge in the 100th Congress," said Caroline Petti of the National Nuclear Waste Task Force office in Washington. "We are hopeful that an independent commission review will yield positive recommendations for correcting DOE's technically flawed and politically motivated nuclear waste decision making."
 Udall, however, is considering separate legislation calling for the appointment of "a special negotiator who would be charged with finding a state willing to host a repository on reasonable terms, provided the site meets all safety and environmental qualifications."

485 families and 457 single men, mostly farmers and artisans. Many of them were poor peasants who, if not seeking the promised land, were at least seeking the promise of a new and better life. . . .

"Recognized by the federal government as a National Historic District and by the state as a Texas Historic District, the town includes many buildings that are recorded in the Library of Congress under the Historical American Building Survey taken in the 1930s."

John Gilbreath and I had a college roommate from Castroville—Joe L. Schott, who learned to speak Alsatian at home before he learned English in school, who would go home on weekends and come back with some of that great Alsatian venison sausage and a box of groceries from his dad's store. After receiving his journalism degree magna cum laude from UT, Joe went to work for The San Antonio Light so he could go back to living in Castroville. If you read the articles in Country Home about Castroville, you'll see what pulled him back to his unique hometown.

Latest great idea in a home doodad catalog: a clear vinyl shower curtain with eight built-in, open-top pockets "to hold shampoo, soap, sponges, brushes, etc." for handy reach while you're splashing and sudsing.

Think about it.
 On second thought, don't.

Obituaries

Victor Cardona

Victor Manuel Cardona, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cardona of Dimmitt, was stillborn June 30 in Lubbock.

Graveside services were held July 1 at the City of Lubbock Cemetery with Rev. Ruben Velasquez, pastor of La Asamblea Cristiana in Dimmitt, officiating.

Survivors include his parents; three sisters, Sonya, Meralla and Patricia, all of Dimmitt; his maternal grandfather, Juan Colomo of Mexico; and his maternal grandmother, Manuela Escobel of Mexico.

Grace Winters

Grace Winters, 90, of Dimmitt, died Wednesday in Littlefield.

Services were held Friday in First Baptist church with Rev. Ken Cole, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Vernon O'Kelly, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt. Burial followed in Littlefield Cemetery under the direction of Foskey-Fleming Funeral Home.

Mrs. Winters was born in Mount Enterprise and married Pirron Winters on Dec. 19, 1915 in Abilene. He died in June 7, 1963. A son, Tommy, died on Iwo Jima in Feb. 23, 1945.

She was a homemaker and a resident of Castro County since 1951. She was a Baptist.

Survivors include two daughters, Maxine Tidwell of Dimmitt and Joyce Dibert of Littlefield; six sisters, Willie Adams and Maude Duke, both of Hobbs, N.M., Eufa Regeon of Abilene, Betty Putman of Downey, Calif., Lorene Ball of Fredericksburg and Johnnie White of Kermit; two brothers, Donald Green of Los Angeles, Calif., and Altus Green of Santa Ana, Calif.; three grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Tommy Davis, Glenn, Todd and Tracy Hatla, Gary Wise and Brad Holcomb.

Crime Line

The Castro County Crime Line is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons responsible for the recent burglaries at the Castro County Country Club.

The Country Club was broken into June 21 and again on July 1.

In each incident, the burglars took large amounts of liquor and beer as well as several miscellaneous items and money.

The total value of the merchandise taken in the first burglary was valued at over $1,400 and the value in the second burglary was estimated at over $1,900.

On June 21, the burglars gained entry into the building by breaking the kitchen window.

The burglars responsible for the thefts on July 1 entered the building by breaking a window leading into the Pro Shop.

Officers said the thieves went through the offices, then made their way into the clubhouse where they removed the liquor and demolished a vending machine.

Anyone with information in connection with either case may contact the Crime Line at 647-4711. Persons calling the Crime Line do not have to reveal their name.
