

1939
FRANKS UNDER GUARD AFTER BREAK FAILS
FUNERAL SERVICES HELD AT CHAPEL FOR MRS. ANNA ROGERS
GERMAN MOTORIZED UNITS ON PARADE
T. J. PENDERGAST IS ILL IN PENITENTIARY
COUNTIES RECEIVING ALLOTMENTS ON WHEAT
FEDERAL PROJECTS IN RANGER WILL BE CLOSED AFTER TODAY
ARREST MADE AT SAN DIEGO BY OFFICIALS
BRITAIN SAYS SHE IS READY TO STOP NAZIS
PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES
RELIEF BILL FIGHT IS SEEN IN THE SENATE
GRADUATION FOR FIVE YEAR OLDS AT NURSERY HELD
EMPLOYMENT OFFICE TO CLOSE TUESDAY
JAPS TO BLOCKADE BRITISH CONCESSION
BRITISH SAILORS ARE LANDED AT SWATOW
NURSE INDICTED ON A NARCOTICS CHARGE
EASTLAND GIRL TO MANANA REHEARSALS
MISS HALE DUE TO REPRESENT EASTLAND
COURT JUSTICES AT ANNUAL BAR MEETING
DIVORCE GRANTED
RENDER JUDGMENT
BILLY KIEM
THE WEATHER
WEST TEXAS—Generally fair tonight and Saturday, warmer in Panhandle.

Buy It In Ranger
And Help Business

Ranger Times

UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS

Help Build Ranger
By Buying Here

VOLUME XXI

RANGER, TEXAS, FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 30, 1939

PRICE 3c DAILY (5c ON SUNDAY)

NO. 21

Texas Parole Violator From County Captured

FRANKS UNDER GUARD AFTER BREAK FAILS

By United Press
WAXAHACHIE, June 30.—Burton Franks, convicted murderer, was under close guard today in Ellis County jail, after authorities frustrated a planned jailbreak.

A note offering $1,000 to a person addressed as "J" was found concealed in the tongue of a shoe which Franks' mother attempted to take from the jail after bringing her son another pair of shoes.

The note requested "J" to bring a gun to the jail during visiting hours and slip it to Franks. Sheriff Joe Roy and Jailor R. F. Workman made the discovery.

Franks was convicted of the murder of W. D. Wilemon, president of the Maypearl bank, during a robbery. He was assessed the death penalty.

Lowdown on Tar and Feather

Holding hands with Austine McDonnell, Warrenton, Va., society girl, Count Igor Cassini, capital society columnist, tells her how he was abducted from country club dance, tarred and feathered.

RELIEF BILL FIGHT IS SEEN IN THE SENATE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 30.—Administration forces sailed over the house hurdle to enactment of relief and monetary legislation by midnight tonight, but the republican leaders of the senate openly declared the monetary bill would be talked to death in that chamber.

The house approved, with little debate, the compromise report on the $1,755,500,000 relief bill, and turned to work on the monetary bill.

In the senate, however, the specter grew of extended discussions, which would delay action on either bill until after the midnight deadline monetary powers expire and relief funds are exhausted.

President Roosevelt issued a press conference blank against would-be senate filibuster, asserting that, in his opinion, the country would react against any efforts to kill the monetary bill.

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

Industrious Senator Vandenberg—seldom absent from Senate.

ONE YEAR TO GO
THREE months ago Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan was hardly so much as mentioned as a presidential possibility. Today he is one of the top contenders for the Republican nomination.

This is partly because he is politically astute, and partly because he has made an excellent record in his job.

Few senators are more industrious. He seldom misses a Senate session or a committee hearing. Usually sits with crossed leg, one arm over the back of his chair, chewing gum—but paying close attention, always. He is good at the rough and tumble interchange of Senate debate. His colleagues like him.

Vandenberg was the first man to criticize the huge revolving fund which the social security act would have set up. It looked like bad business politically to criticize it, at the time; now Congress agrees with him and is cutting the fund down. Vandenberg led the fight that beat the Florida ship-canal project. He is one of the most energetic economy advocates in the Senate.

A former Michigan newspaper publisher, he has been in the Senate since 1928. He is 55 and has been active in Republican politics since his youth.

He pulled the canniest political coup of the year by announcing that the next president ought to clasp himself to one term, since he will have to do many unpopular things which a man seeking re-election would be loath to do. That announcement, plus a dawning realization that his Senate record is first-rate, has focused new attention on him as a possible nominee.

HIS ASSETS: Political shrewdness, along with considerable native ability; geographical availability; the probability that economy will be a popular issue in 1940; a consistent record in public office.

HIS LIABILITIES: A speaking voice which doesn't "radio" well; the fact that he has committed himself on many roll-calls; his solid conservatism (which, of course, will be an asset if the "swing to the right" continues).

HIS CHANCES: As of today, excellent.

BRITAIN SAYS SHE IS READY TO STOP NAZIS

By United Press
LONDON, June 30.—The government of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today led a campaign of official declarations and newspaper comment warning Germany against future aggressive expansion in Europe.

Speeches and editorials called for a firm stand against aggression, and asserted in strong terms that Britain is now re-armed and ready, if necessary, to fight.

The campaign appeared to be designed to convince the nazis that Britain was determined to accept any warlike German challenge and thus to ward off the possibility of an explosion at Danzig, although the British are not committed to protect Danzig, unless the Poles choose to go to her aid first.

ARREST MADE AT SAN DIEGO BY OFFICIALS

Gene Squires, Under Term For Murder, Had Been Sought Since '34.

Criminal District Attorney Earl Conner, Jr., at noon today stated that he will begin steps immediately for the extradition of Gene Squires, 31, of Ranger, Texas parole violator caught at San Diego, Calif.

Capture of Squires at San Diego ended a long search by Eastland county officials for his capture.

Squires was convicted in 88th district court at Eastland, May 13, 1933, on a charge of murder in connection with the death May 5, 1932, of Joe Pugh of Ranger at a country dance near Ranger. He was given a sentence of three years.

Squires, who had evinced a lively interest in the proceedings during the trial, was calm when the jury filed in at the conclusion of the 1933 case.

In the case Squires was charged with having killed Pugh in an altercation which occurred at a dance given in a home. The evidence indicated that Squires struck Pugh with his fist, possibly with knuckles, and then kicked him after Pugh had been thrown to the ground by another man.

Sheriff Loss Woods said that it was his understanding that Squires, alias J. D. Cox, had been working as a carpenter in California.

After Squires was convicted in the case at Eastland his attorney, the late Frank Judkins, immediately began an appeal. The Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin affirmed the case January 12, 1934, and the same day Gov. Miriam Ferguson granted a 90-day furlough.

On April 9, 1934, Mrs. Ferguson extended the furlough for 60 days. Failing to report on June 9, 1934, the name of Squires was entered as a parole violator.

Squires had been sought since District Attorney Conner and Sheriff Woods were conferring regarding the removal of Squires from California. Squires, said reports, refused to waive extradition.

Funeral Services Held At Chapel For Mrs. Anna Rogers

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Rogers, 83, who died Thursday afternoon in Eastland after a long illness, were conducted Friday afternoon.

Rev. P. W. Walker, pastor of the First Methodist church at Eastland, officiated for the services held at the Hamner Undertaking company chapel. Burial was in Eastland cemetery beside the grave of a daughter, Pearl Rogers.

Mrs. Rogers was born near Waverly, Ohio, and married in 1891 at Ironton, Ohio. Her husband, James Franklin Rogers, died in 1901.

There were four children in the family, Pearl, Elizabeth, Lillian and Allen, all of whom are now dead.

She moved to Eastland December 24, 1924. While at Eastland she operated a rooming house on South Seaman street. She was a member of the Pythian sisters organization, her husband having been a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Pallbearers were J. L. Johnson, K. C. White, J. R. Hunt, Herbert Reed, C. C. Street and Guy Robinson, all of Eastland.

Graduation For Five Year Olds At Nursery Held

Graduation exercises were held in the Ranger WPA Nursery School Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock for the children who had reached the age of five. Those graduating, Clara Lee Casey, Jimmy Ray Scott, Pansy Robinson, George James, and Sue Cox, were given diplomas tied with green and white ribbons—the school's colors.

The children receiving this honor were seated on their little nursery school chairs which were set apart and roped off with green and white ribbons.

The mothers, fathers and guests were entertained by the NYA girls and boys. Charles Sutton and his string band were in blackface, which intrigued the nursery school children. The music was so lively and gay that the audience demanded encore after encore.

Immediately following the NYA group's entertainment, some of the nursery school children sang songs which they had learned in the nursery school. Barbara Ann Healer sang "Won't You Come Over to My House"; Clara Lee Casey sang "Home On the Range"; and the entire graduating class sang "Beautiful Texas."

The guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Geraldine Hines of Fort Worth, who is District Supervisor of Nursery Schools. Mrs. Hines commended both the school and the staff and expressed her deep appreciation to the sponsors for their continued loyalty and unflinching support.

Miss Edna Mond, the manager of the nursery school, introduced the members of her staff, Mrs. Pearl Healer, Mrs. Alta James, Mrs. Naomi Cox, and Mrs. Julia Hanson, and explained to the guests what their duties are.

Miss Mond then handed each child of the graduating class his diploma and said she looked forward to the time when she would see them wearing caps and gowns and receiving their diplomas from Ranger High School.

Employment Office To Close Tuesday

The Texas State Employment Service office, located at Eastland and which serves Eastland county, will be closed Tuesday, according to an announcement issued today.

All unemployment compensation claims for Tuesday will be taken the following day, Wednesday.

Japs To Blockade British Concession

SHANGHAI, June 30.—A Domei News Agency report from Tientsin today said Japanese military officials had announced intensification of the blockade of the British Concession, effective at once.

British Sailors Are Landed At Swatow

LONDON, June 30.—The Exchange Telegraph reported today that British Bluejackets had been landed at Swatow, China, to protect British property.

British sailors also landed at Foochow, according to reports from Tientsin.

Eastland Girl To Manana Rehearsals

Betty Jo Brown, chosen recently as Miss Eastland, will leave Saturday for Fort Worth where with other members of the Casa Manana show begin rehearsals.

The show will open July 21. Miss Brown was selected at the Consolida theatre in Eastland by Lauretta Jefferson, Casa Manana director of dances, in an elimination contest.

Miss Hale Due To Represent Eastland

Announcement that Ima Ruth Hale of Eastland will represent Eastland at the Cisco July 4th bathing revue was issued today by H. J. Tanner, secretary-manager of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Court Justices At Annual Bar Meeting

Justices of the 11th court of civil appeals, W. F. Leslie, O. C. Punderburk and Clyde Grisson, are attending the annual session of the Texas Bar association at Austin.

No session of the appellate court was rendered for this week. Dan Childers, clerk court, accompanied the justices.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Divorce has been granted by 31st district court to Inez De Los Santos from Pedro De Los Santos. Custody of two children was awarded the plaintiff.

RENDER JUDGMENT

Judgment of $1,824.31 and a subsequent order for the plaintiff to have foreclosure on a vendor's and deed of trust lien were rendered Thursday by 91st district court in the case of G. M. Caldwell vs. W. L. Piller et al.

Throwing Away Radio Sets to Save Money For Bureau

By United Press
EL PASO, Tex.—Uncle Sam will start throwing radio sets away on July 1—and the purpose will be to save money.

On that date the U. S. weather bureau will stop using airplanes to record weather conditions above the ground, and instead will use tiny radio sets.

The sending sets, operated by a small battery, will broadcast to the ground on a frequency which operates a recording device to show temperature, humidity and air pressure as the balloon ascends.

When the balloon reaches a certain altitude it bursts, and the radio set parachutes back to earth.

Persons who find the sets, are asked to return them to the weather bureau, but even if the instruments are lost, officials figure they will be less expensive than maintaining airplanes for the daily flights.

Nurse Indicted On A Narcotics Charge

By United Press
FORT WORTH, June 30.—The Tarrant County grand jury today returned an indictment against Winifred Coker, Mineral Wells nurse, for obtaining narcotics under false names. May 13th and 15th.

Eleven other indictments were returned.

Crippled Children Work Is Outlined

B. E. McGlamery, supervisor of crippled children's work in this section for the State Department of Education, said today that his itinerary next week will include trips to Throckmorton, Seymour, Vernon, Quanah, Crowell, Munday, Haskell.

Stricken Umpire

Bill Klem, above, faces an operation in St. Louis to correct a serious and excruciatingly painful abdominal condition suffered 10 years ago. The National League's dean of umpires is 65.

Jack Dempsey In Critical Condition

By United Press
NEW YORK, June 30.—Jack Dempsey lay gravely ill in Poly-clinic Hospital today and from all over the nation came anxious telephone calls inquiring about one of the most popular boxers of all time.

The former heavyweight champion, now a prosperous business man, was operated upon last night for a gangrenous appendix. Early today peritonitis set in. His wife, the former Hannah Williams, a musical comedy actress, spent the night at the hospital, but went home today to try to rest.

Pioneer Resident Of Carbon Buried

Funeral services for M. C. Kuykendall, 70, resident of Carbon, 48 years, were conducted Thursday at Carbon.

Mr. Kuykendall, who was born in Winfield, Ala., died Tuesday at his Carbon home.

Burial was in the new Carbon cemetery.

Survivors are his wife; three brothers, Hugh Kuykendall of Eastland and Frank and Lewallen Kuykendall, both of Winfield, Ala.; and seven children, Mrs. Annie Seaborn of Eastland, Mrs. Johnnie King of Berger, Eldridge Kuykendall of Beaumont, Miss Margie Kuykendall of Shellytown, Mrs. Harry Francis of Skellytown, M. C. Kuykendall, Jr., of Pampa and Jack Kuykendall of Carbon.

Thanks Expressed For Meeting Help

Dick Weekes, manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, today expressed thanks to individuals and organizations who aided in the holding of the annual meeting Wednesday at Eastland.

He said the association especially was grateful for the assistance of the City of Eastland, the Chamber of Commerce at Eastland and members of the extension service in Eastland County.

Ranger Man Showing Rapid Improvement

Word has been received from Muskogee, Oklahoma, that J. B. Heister of Ranger, who was seriously injured in a fall from a ladder recently, was resting well at the hospital there. Heister sustained a compound fracture of one hip, a compound fracture of one left heel and other broken bones in the fall.

The broken hip, most serious of his injuries, is showing rapid improvement, it was stated. The hip has been set and the bones are now knitting rapidly.

German Motorized Units On Parade

By United Press
BERLIN, June 30.—German motorized army detachments and an air force division paraded through Unter den Linden, Berlin's main thoroughfare, unexpectedly today.

Traffic was interrupted as excited Berliners jammed cross streets and sidewalks.

The parade included motorized infantry, anti-tank guns, anti-aircraft guns, field kitchens and an ambulance.

T. J. Pendergast Is Ill In Penitentiary

By United Press
LEAVENWORTH, Kas., June 30.—T. J. Pendergast, fallen Kansas City political boss, suffered a heart attack today and was taken to the federal prison hospital in a serious condition.

It was the second attack Pendergast has suffered since he entered the prison a month ago.

Pendergast entered the prison last month to serve 15 months for income tax evasion.

Counties Receiving Allotments On Wheat

COLLEGE STATION, June 30.—Jess Watson, member of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, announced today that Fisher, Hutchinson, Nolan, Oldham, Roberts, Somervell and Young Counties had received the first wheat allotments issued by the AAA for 1940.

Watson emphasized that every farmer who seeded wheat for harvest in either 1937, 1938, or 1939 who intends to do so in 1940, must fill out a work sheet.

TO SKIP MEET

Knight of Pythias will not meet next Tuesday in Eastland because of July 4. The following week work is planned.

Ranger Legion To Be Represented On A Long Motorcade

A delegation from the Carl Barnes Post No. 69 from Ranger is expecting to make a trip with a motorcade which will visit each town along the American Legion Memorial Highway, which extends from Wichita Falls to Laredo, on Sunday and Monday, it was announced today.

Those who expect to make the trip are Post Commander Leo Dockery, R. H. Hansford, Mack Dutton and Amos Fice. Others may attend, it was said today.

The motorcade will be formed Sunday morning at Wichita Falls, though a banquet will be held there Saturday evening at 7:30.

Breakfast will be eaten at Mineral Wells, where the Ranger delegation will join the motorcade. Lunch Sunday will be at Hamilton, an all-overnight stop will be made at San Antonio.

Monday morning the motorcade will proceed to Alice where lunch will be eaten at noon, and then on to Laredo and Reynosa, Mexico. The motorcade will return to Edinburg in time for a meeting there at 7:30 Monday night.

Ranger Youth Being Selected To Reside In Community House

W. T. Walton is busy checking over records and aiding in selection of a boy from Ranger to be a resident of the American Legion Community House at Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College next year, it was announced today by officials of the Carl Barnes Post.

The youth to be selected must be outstanding in character and scholastic attainments, it was pointed out, and must have a good reputation throughout the community. He must also be a son of a World War veteran.

Last year Jack Palmer was selected as the Ranger resident in the community house. Only first year students at the A. & M. College are selected for this honor.

Ranger H. D. Club In Meeting Tuesday

The Ranger Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Cross Roads School, with five members and one visitor present.

In the absence of Miss Ruth Ramey, home demonstration agent, who was to give a refrigerator demonstration, only the business meeting was conducted. Plans for the club's participation in the Eastland County Fair were discussed as were plans for sending Mrs. J. B. Ferris as a delegate to the A. & M. College Short Course, July 11 to 13.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Joe Young, in the Cross Roads community.

Those attending were Mrs. J. B. Ferris, J. W. A. Cox, O. A. Hinman, Joe Young and G. C. Love.

Group Of Resort City Are Visitors

A group of Mineral Wells citizens, advertising the Texas Health Festival, were greeted by citizens Friday morning at Eastland.

An invitation for Eastland residents to attend the festival July 13-16 was extended.

Progress Is Seen In Freight Rate Fight by W.T.C.C.

"Remarkable progress" is being made by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in its campaign for freight rates adjustment, according to D. A. Bandeen, Abilene manager of the regional organization.

Bandeen was an Eastland visitor Thursday. He said he was in Eastland "to see my old boss." He referred to Milburn McCarty, past president of the WTCC.

The WTCC is conducting a hearing in progress at Austin before the Texas Railroad Commission. Last week, said Bandeen, the WTCC used 31 witnesses and submitted 46 exhibits.

On Thursday, he stated, the railroads were being their attorneys cross-examine witnesses. He said that Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, past president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, was one of the WTCC witnesses.

The WTCC believes that if freight rates are adjusted West Texas can compete more favorably with other industrial parts of the United States.

Accompanying Bandeen was J. A. Rix of Fort Worth, an assistant manager of the WTCC. Bandeen had just returned from Fort Worth where he discussed the freight subject at a luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Fort Worth.

While in Eastland the WTCC manager and Rix visited the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

RANGER, TIMES

TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY, Publishers

211-214 Elm Street, Ranger, Texas Telephone 224

Published every afternoon (except Thursday, Saturday and Sunday) and every Sunday morning.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Ranger, Texas, under Act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Ranger Times (One Year by Mail in Texas) $3.00
Ranger Times and Eastland County News $3.65

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

When Nations Put Their Best Foot Forward

Henry Ford is not an intellectual. The world of books, the realms of abstract thought, are not his world. The confusion he once showed in differentiating between Arnold Bennett and Benedict Arnold, his haziness about the exact dates of the American Revolution, revealed his unfamiliarity with the world of "book learning."

But the Ford mind has an uncanny realism, moments when it cuts through surface show and gets right down to the real thing. Such a moment came recently at the New York World's Fair. Ford surveyed the exhibits, remarked that they could scarcely fail to be an inspiration to young America, and then blurted out:

"Look at the nations represented here. These exhibits, and not their wars, show their real character. They have sent here the things they are really proud of, the things they want to be judged by. They haven't sent their bombs and poison gas and samples of their concentration camps—they're not really proud of those things; they wouldn't want to exhibit them."

Six million people have seen the New York exhibit, but Ford is the first one to cut through to that simple truth: no nation can really be proud of its progress in newer methods of killing more people quicker. The chest-thumping about things like that is restricted to a few officials.

And even those officials, when they plan an exhibit that is to show the world the best about their people, do not send the instruments of destruction on which so much of their energies is now centered.

They send the evidence of their progress in public health, in better houses for the people, in the creation of beautiful things and gracious living. They send the evidence of their progress and social vision, the fruit of science turned to man's good, not his hurt. They send their visions of a better, happier day when man shall really live in peace and dignity in a world made fruitful of life, not death.

Why do they not send their newest tanks, their newest bombers, their newest plans for the shattering of cities and the slaughter of whole populations? Ford has it right: subconsciously they are not proud of these things; it is not for these that they would be known to the rest of the world.

Ford has his faults, as all flesh has them. But to his honor let it always be said "he hated war." And when he faces the Recording Angel, it may be that all his millions of cars will be forgotten and the Angelic Voice will say, "They call your venture with the Oscar II quixotic and foolish, down there below, saying that you failed to get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas. But we have not so recorded it here. We have set down, "He tried to stop the slaughter once, and thereafter he never ceased to speak out against it."

It would be beneficial if every visitor to the World Fair would note what Ford noted—not only the presence of the exhibits which the nations have proudly assembled, but the absence of the things of which they were not proud, of which, perhaps, they were in their secret hearts ashamed.

BRUCE CATTON — IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—As an example of the way the New Deal can keep its right hand from knowing what its left hand is doing, consider the milk situation. With one hand—the Department of Agriculture—the government is trying to promote price-fixing and end "cut-throat competition" in the milk industry.

With the other—the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice—the government is trying to end price-fixing and restore competition in the milk industry. The Supreme Court the other day gave the Department of Agriculture a green light by okaying the federal milk marketing act, which makes legal the very performances which the anti-trust division proceeds against.

Meanwhile, there are pending, in Chicago, anti-trust indictments against a set of milk producers, handlers, labor leaders and health officials for doing just the sort of thing which the milk marketing act calls for. Just to make the merry chain complete — when the milk marketing act was being fought in the Boston courts, the government lawyer assigned to defend it—and thus to defend price-fixing and the ending of competition in milk—was a chap from the anti-trust division who previously had been spending his time assailing price-fixing and the ending of competition in milk.

The basic trouble, of course, is that the business of supplying a big city with its milk is an immensely complicated economic problem. A surplus of fluid milk in any given area is inevitable. The surplus goes processed—into butter, cream, cheese, or what-not—and brings a lower price than the fluid milk.

One handler will be able to put a greater proportion of the milk he buys from the farmer into the fluid milk market than another handler. At one season of the year, a greater proportion of the area's total production will be sold as fluid milk than at another season. Consequently, farmers and handlers alike tend to be at the mercy of unpredictable and often inequitable price shifts. What the milk marketing act does, in effect, is permit them to get together with the secretary of agriculture, work out basic prices for both fluid and processed milk, and then guarantee that all producers in that area will get those prices.

Thus, the farmer benefits through a fixed minimum price. The handler benefits through a stable market in which free competition for milk has been eliminated. But those two things—fixed minimum prices and the elimination of competition—were precisely the goals which the Chicago people were striving for and which the anti-trust division took them into court for. Says the anti-trust division, in brief: "Fixing things for the producer and the distributor is all very well—but how about the consumer? Who protects him? The tendency of these agreements is to raise the retail price. Consumer prices in Chicago fell about two cents a quart after we started our action there."

Broadly speaking, there are two ways to try to restore prosperity to an industry—by maintaining a stable, relatively high price level; or by driving prices down and looking for improvement through increased demand. The New Deal is trying both ways. Just to make the experiment interesting, it is trying them both in the same industry.

How Perfectly Brutal!

ROOSEVELT MAY KEEP US IN WASHINGTON ALL SUMMER TO GET THAT NEUTRALITY LEGISLATION STRAIGHTENED OUT!

AMERICANS IN FRANCE 1917-1918

Wandering Jews Reach Their Haven

Jubilant at finding temporary haven after five weeks aboard the German liner St. Louis, some of the 907 Jewish refugees, whom Cuba recently refused to take in, are pictured in Antwerp, where they debarked. Holland, Belgium, Britain and France agreed to admit them temporarily.

STORY WRITER

Crossword puzzle grid with clues for 'HORIZONTAL' and 'VERTICAL' words.

Another crossword puzzle grid with clues.

The Smithsonian Institution named a new species of starfish after FDR—"ophionereis roosevelti." The President might be honored, if he could only be sure about it.

SOVIET SHOWS FARM TO CITY MASS SHIFTING

MOSCOW—From 1926 to 1939, the population of Soviet Russia increased 15.9 per cent, a rate almost twice as high as the rest of Europe, according to figures from the latest census.

The population of the U.S.S.R. on Jan. 17, 1939, was 170,467,186, compared to 147,027,915 registered on Dec. 17, 1926. That is a growth of 1.25 per cent each year. During that period the death rate decreased more than 40 per cent in comparison with pre-revolutionary Russia.

Industrialization of the country resulted in a growth of urban population. In 1926 a total of 26,314,114 persons lived in towns, while in 1939 their number grew to 55,999,908. Thus in the course of 13 years the urban population increased by 112 per cent. The percentage of urban population, which amounted to 17.9 in 1926, reached 32.8 in 1939.

THE GLOBE OFFERS THESE Specials TO HELP YOU DRESS-UP for the 4TH

REGULAR STOCK SUMMER SUITS In This Group Are: Coat and Pants, Coat, Vest and Pants, Coat, Vest and 2 Pants. Were $25 - $30 - $35 NOW $19.85

ONE GROUP WHITE LINEN SUITS Special Close Out $9.85 These Were $13.85 to $17.50 No Alterations! GENUINE LORRAINE SEERSUCKER SUITS Special Close Out $7.85 These Were $12.75 No Alterations!

CLASSIFIED

7—SPECIAL NOTICES

FOR SALE: 3-room house, 6 lots, 10 fruit trees, outbuildings. Box 87, Oiden.

FOR SALE—Excellent building stone, ready quarried, $2.00 per square. In quarry, 25c square. Dr. A. K. Wier Place.

HAVE SERVICE STATION proposition open. Living quarters and cafe, on highway. See H. P. Egan, Ranger.

FOR SALE: Good Jersey milk cow.—528 MARSHBANK AVE.

PEACHES 50c per bushel; plums for sale. Breckenridge Highway, W. W. MITCHELL.

9—HOUSES FOR RENT

FOR RENT—5-room modern home, furnished. Best neighborhood. Mrs. Frank Champion, Sue Street.

17—WANTED TO RENT

WANTED TO BUY Used Lumber.—311 Walnut Street.

13—FOR SALE, Miscellaneous

FOR SALE: Large Horse, work or saddle.—A. J. RATLIFF.

FOR SALE: Several used windmills and one truck trailer.—L. E. CLARK, Desdemona.

REFRIGERATORS

6 Cu. ft. Refrigerator Works extra good $30.00

6 1/2 Cu. ft., 1937 MW porcelain inside and out Refrigerator $79.95

6 1/2 Cu. ft., 1937 MW Refrigerator, perfect condition $79.00

5 1/2 Cu. ft. Refrigerator, Works like new, good condition $40.00

5 1/2 Cu. ft., MW Refrigerator. Last year's model. Like new. 4-Year guarantee. Sold new $150.00. A real buy $98.50

Ice Boxes from $2.50 up.

RADIOS

10-Tube Majestic Radio, perfect condition. Plays like new $5.00

8-Tube Battery Set—Mantel. Less batteries, 1938 Model. 3 band. $16.88

5-Tube, Two band automatic tuning. Sells new $29.95. A buy for $26.50

5-Tube, 3 band Airline mantel. Plays extra good, Only $7.50

MONTGOMERY WARD Ranger, Texas.

AUTOMOBILES

FOR SALE—Good Chevrolet coupe, cheap. See Jack Williams, 1020 Young Street.

Baseball men forgot to commemorate one of the game's most prominent incidents at Cooperstown, N. Y. They didn't give a bottle of shower for the umpires.

In looking for a job, graduates should not forget that it's summer. And it would be best to have one not requiring a fellow to wear a tie.

IMPORTANT! Good personal appearance means so much in every way to a man these days. And neatly trimmed hair is necessary to good appearance. Have your hair trimmed frequently—and have it done here where we know how to make it look its best.—GHOLSON BARBER SHOP, L. E. Gray, Owner.

"TO OWNER'S OF LIVESTOCK"

WARNING

Due to the large number of complaints, that have been received by the City Office, regarding cattle, pigs and other animals being kept in the city limits, and said animals allowed to stray, and others tethered or penned near the living quarters of neighbors constitutes a public nuisance, and is prohibited by City Ordinance. The City Commission, in executive session, on Tuesday, June 27th, 1939, after hearing these complaints, instructed the City Pound Officer to make 100 per cent enforcement of this ordinance. This will mean the removal of all pig pens, and other obnoxious nuisances that are a detriment to the Health, Happiness and Contentment of our citizens. We ask the cooperation of all livestock owner's... that this condition may be speedily remedied. By Order of The Commission, E. T. Eubank, Sec'y.

Chiropractic Service By Aid of the New Radio-Clear Instrument! We can easily find and... are perfectly your trouble; also what organism is involved. No guess-work, but everything is scientifically measured. E. R. GREEN Chiropractor 209 MAIN STREET

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES Texas Electric Service Co.

BROWN'S Transfer and Storage FOR MOVING & STORAGE Agents for T. & P. TRANSPORT

ALL TEXAS BEER 10c Southern Select. Stag.. Grand Prize.. Falstaff.. Superior.. Faust GHOLSON COFFEE SHOP TONI TOTI, Prop.

THESE PRICES IN EFFECT FRIDAY 30TH, SATURDAY 1ST AND MONDAY 3RD

STORE CLOSED TUESDAY 4TH

PIPKIN'S

We Reserve
The Right
To Limit
Quantities

RANGER, TEXAS
PIGGY WIGGLY

Special VALUE GIVING Event

This is the last week of a nation-wide sales contest among home-owned, independent Piggly Wiggly—and what a windup WE are staging! Bargains—and we MEAN LOTS OF 'EM and BIG ones. Help us to win high honors in this contest—and we'll help you save in a big way!

Libby's
Crushed
Sliced PINEAPPLE 3 Flat Cans 25c

ASPARAGUS LIBBY'S ALL GREEN PICNIC CANS 15c

PEACHES Libby's Smilax Halves Sliced 2 Extra Large No. 2 1/2 Can 29c

CORN Scott Co. Evergreen 2 No. 2 Cans 15c

PURE CANE
SUGAR 10 Lb. Bag 47c

PET
MILK 3 Tall or 6 Small 18c

REAL QUALITY MEATS

BUY BRANDED BEEF WITH CONFIDENCE

CHUCK ROAST Branded Pound . . . 20c
TENDER, FINE FLAVOR—A FAVORITE WITH THE FAMILY!

Prime Rib ROAST Branded Beef Pound 25c

Armour's Star BACON Sliced Pound 28c

Swiss STEAK Do Not Heat Your Oven—Lb. 25c

Boneless—Ready to Eat HAMS Half or Whole Pound 25c

Sugar Cured BACON 5 Lbs. $1

FRYERS Dressed and Drawn EACH 49c

LARGE BOLOGNA Per Lb. . . 10c

SHORT RIBS Lb. 15c
Delicious Baked with Potatoes

Sliced Pig LIVER Pound 15c

Branded Beef Sirloin STEAK To Broil or Fry Pound 29c

Salt JOWLS Pound 10c

No. 1 SALT PORK Lb. 12 1/2c

Skillfully blended, creamier, richer!
PLYMOUTH gives you more for your money in SALAD DRESSING 25c Quart

CRISCO 3 Pound Can 51c
PIGGY WIGGLY BEVERAGES

8 DELIGHTFULLY DELICIOUS FLAVORS

2 24 Oz. Bottles 15c
Plus Deposit on Bottles

COMPOUND TOMATOES 4 NO. 2 CANS 25c

PORK & BEANS Scott Co. 3 16 Oz. Cans . . . 14c

LIBBY'S BARTLETT PEARS 2 No. 1 Tall Cans 23c

TEXAS KING FLOUR 24 LB. BAG . . . 59c
12 LB. BAG . . . 34c

GOLD MEDAL COFFEE POUND CAN 23c

SOUR OR DILL PICKLES HALF-GALLON JAR 25c

APPLE SAUCE 2 303 Cans . . . 15c

GREEN BEANS . . .
KRAUT
SPINACH 2 NO. 2 CAN 15c

CRYSTAL WHITE SOAP 5 GIANT BARS 18c

PALM OLIVE SOAP 3 BARS 17c

SUPERSUDS CONCENTRATED LARGE SIZE . . . 19c

SHRIVER'S A 1 PEAS Extra Sifted Tender Early June 2 No. 2 Cans 23c

New Crop Thompson Seedless GRAPES PER POUND . . . 15c

FRESH VINE RIPENED, HOME GROWN TOMATOES 4 Lbs. . . . 25c

ICEBERG LETTUCE Head 5c FRESH FRESH PINEAPPLE EACH 10c

CARROTS
BEETS
RADISHES 3 Bunches 10c

NO. 1 NEW RED POTATOES 10 Lbs. 19c

FRESH CALIFORNIA PEACHES Extra Good Lb. 10c
APRICOTS

FRESH HOME GROWN CORN 6 For 13c WATERMELONS

DREFT Large Pkg. 2.1c

PLYMOUTH COFFEE
The Taste Tells the Story
Rich, full delicate flavor—leads the way to a new delight in coffee drinking. 2 Lbs. 29c

SERIAL STORY

PAR IS LOVE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT 1933, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Roynton meets the girls and decides to give Wilfrid lessons in anticipation of his match for Barbara's hand, on one condition.

CHAPTER VI

WILFRID did a little dance of pure joy.

"Boy, oh boy!" he cried enthusiastically. "This is great. Name the condition. Just name it."

"Well," said Roy, "it's simply this: You will have to do just as I tell you."

"Of course I will," Wilfrid said cordially. "Anything you like."

"Well then, I'll give you a lesson at 4 o'clock. But you've got to promise to go to bed early to-night."

"Bed early? Why?"

"Any golfer on the verge of a big match," said Roy weightily, "needs sleep. You won't get it tomorrow night. You'll be worrying about the match. So you've got to get it tonight. And—" he extended an accusing finger—"you went out dancing last night and came home and played the banjo. Do you think Sammy Snead would act like that. Do you?"

"Humph! Well, you just give me a lesson or two and I'll go to bed at sundown if you want."

"Okay," said Roy.

"Good," said Wilfrid gratefully. "Now I'm going in. I want to see Barbara. Never can tell what my brother might be up to, the dirty house."

He gathered up his golfing materials and stalked away.

"Hullo," he said abstractedly. "Hello, my son."

"Hello yourself," said the boy. "And I'm not your son."

Roy stood corrected. "No, of course not. Whose son are you?"

"The old man's," said the boy irreverently.

This, reflected Roy, must be the kid brother Billy of whom Babs had spoken. Strongly endeared to the lad by this thought, he scrutinized him more closely. He saw a dark-haired youngster with big black eyes which peered mischievously out of a shrewd elfin face.

The boy indicated the figure of Wilfrid retreating into the distance.

"That guy," he said disdainfully, "can't play golf for nuts. And I've got 10 bucks on him."

"You've got what?"

"When they first started," explained the boy, "Wilfrid looked better to me. But now—he shook his head sadly—"he's gone rotten."

"And you think you may lose your 10 bucks?"

The boy nodded. "That's what I'm afraid of."

"Who are you betting with?" asked Roy suddenly.

"Baskerville. He gave me my choice. And—he bit his lip in mortification—"like a sap, I took Wilfrid."

"Well, if it were I," said Roy, "I wouldn't know which I had bet on. I can't tell 'em apart."

The boy scoffed. "Aw, that's a cinch. Wilfrid's got a mole on the third finger of his right hand. That's how you do it."

"I see," said Roy, filing the information carefully.

"What I want to know is," said the boy, looking at Roy, "what was he talking to you about?"

"Oh! About a course of instructions in the fascinating game of golf."

"You mean lessons that?"

"Something like that. But—"

Roy shook his head—"there isn't time to do much. I guess you might as well kiss your 10 bucks goodbye."

"Gosh," said the lad, in alarm. "I can't do that."

"No? What's 10 bucks to a financier like you?"

"The thing is," Billy said patiently, "I haven't got 10 bucks."

ROY took out a cigaret.

"There's one way you could win sure," he said, surprised at the depravity of his own brain.

"That is, if Ron didn't show up for the match. If he forfeited, you know. Didn't play."

"How do you mean?" asked Billy.

"Oh, I haven't thought out the details yet. It simply occurred to me that would be one way to save you from—"

from national disgrace.

"Well, what do you want me to do?" Billy demanded.

"Nothing yet. But if I think of something, are you game to help out?"

"Am I? I should hope to tell you."

"Well then, not a word to anybody. Just stand by and be ready to rally round, that's all."

Billy scamped off and for the second time Roy started for the garage. But for the second time he was marked for interruption.

The figure of Mr. J. Pemberton Ganning was advancing toward him across the lawn. Mr. Ganning had exchanged the gray blanket for a blue flannel coat and dark trousers. He walked sprightly, purposefully.

"Ah, there you are, Herring," he called. "Been looking all over the place for you. Come and see some artist's representations of glyptodons that just came from New York."

"Delighted, sir," said Roy, wondering what the proper cracks to make about glyptodons might be.

A GOOD general will pause sometimes and review the situation before plunging blindly ahead. A good general sees that his plans are sound, airtight, foolproof. And, much after the manner of a general pausing to consider the position of things, Roynton Augustus Herring sat on the grass near the swimming pool reviewing the accomplishments of the morning.

As he saw things, this much had been achieved: He was in the good graces of J. Pemberton Ganning due to his avowed interest in paleontology. He had had dealings with Wilfrid and had assured the absence of that gentleman for tonight. He had enlisted the services of young Billy. And, greatest of all, he was beginning to feel sure that a certain girl whose long black lashes had the most charming way of dropping over sea-at-sundown eyes, was not averse to seeing him clutter up the premises. Remained: To interview Ronald, Wilfrid's counterpart, and see what, if anything, might be done about him for the evening. Roy had come to regard this night as vital. There seemed little opportunity of holding prolonged converse with the fair Barbara during the daytime.

Barbara? He straightened up, smazed at the thought of how much devastation a pair of big violet eyes had accomplished. Gosh, it had been quick work. Only yesterday he had been a gay footloose young blade. And today . . . well, he was down for the count. That first glimpse of her, he realized, had affected him much as a stiff sock in the solar plexus. Subsequent sights had rendered him punch-drunk. Now, every time she looked his way he felt like a deflated balloon. He gazed across the great lawn and his heart began the first movement of a loop-the-loop. Barbara was approaching with one of the twins. Roy got to his feet and prepared himself for deflation.

(To Be Continued)

"Hah! The swine is practicing."

"Yes. He told me that the way to win golf matches was to practice and go to bed early. We had practice and long talk. And I must say I agree with him. To be honest with you, Wilfrid looks good to me."

RON shot him a look from beneath beetling brows. "You think he can beat me?"

"Uh-huh," said Roy negligently. Ron seemed upset by the news. He resumed his pacing.

"What makes them so sure?" he asked, in a slightly distraught voice.

"Attitude," said Roy firmly. "They like the way Wilfrid's going about it. They go for his grim determination. And you can't blame them. Look here!—Your brother Wilfrid spends his days perfecting his shots and his nights in sleeping. He's earnest, he's determined, he's in the pink of condition. Now you, what do you do? You go gallivanting off with girls during the day and dance and carouse half the night. No, you can't blame the servants' quarters. The advance dope seems to favor your brother."

Ron stopped pacing and stood with his eyes on the ground.

"Gosh," he said slowly, "I never thought of that. I figured Wilfrid was just a dub like I am."

Roy shook his head. "Don't kid yourself. He's no dub and no dummy, either. He's a smart guy. In fact, he's taking golf lessons, too."

It was as if someone had suddenly stuck Ronald with a pin. He jumped a foot in the air. "Golf lessons? Wh-what-why-why? When? Where? Who from?"

"From me," said Roy meekly. Ronald executed a dance of pure wrath. "Well, of all the low-down, dirty, rotten, sneaking, un-sportsmanlike things I've ever heard of, that takes the cake. Did he bring you here to teach him?"

"Oh, no," said Roy. "I just dropped in to visit Baskerville."

Ronald was not interested in the whys and wherefores. He made no comment on this and got down to brass tacks.

"Is he paying you for it?" he demanded.

"Not a red cent. I'm doing it just for the fun of it."

Ronald made a decision.

"Well," he said, "you've got to cut these lessons out at once."

"They haven't started yet," Roy informed him.

"Oh. Relief swept over Ron's face. "Well then, they can't start. It isn't fair. Not fair in any sense of the word."

(To Be Continued)

But for the second time he was marked for interruption.

The figure of Mr. J. Pemberton Ganning was advancing toward him across the lawn. Mr. Ganning had exchanged the gray blanket for a blue flannel coat and dark trousers. He walked sprightly, purposefully.

"Ah, there you are, Herring," he called. "Been looking all over the place for you. Come and see some artist's representations of glyptodons that just came from New York."

"Delighted, sir," said Roy, wondering what the proper cracks to make about glyptodons might be.

A GOOD general will pause sometimes and review the situation before plunging blindly ahead. A good general sees that his plans are sound, airtight, foolproof. And, much after the manner of a general pausing to consider the position of things, Roynton Augustus Herring sat on the grass near the swimming pool reviewing the accomplishments of the morning.

As he saw things, this much had been achieved: He was in the good graces of J. Pemberton Ganning due to his avowed interest in paleontology. He had had dealings with Wilfrid and had assured the absence of that gentleman for tonight. He had enlisted the services of young Billy. And, greatest of all, he was beginning to feel sure that a certain girl whose long black lashes had the most charming way of dropping over sea-at-sundown eyes, was not averse to seeing him clutter up the premises. Remained: To interview Ronald, Wilfrid's counterpart, and see what, if anything, might be done about him for the evening. Roy had come to regard this night as vital. There seemed little opportunity of holding prolonged converse with the fair Barbara during the daytime.

Barbara? He straightened up, smazed at the thought of how much devastation a pair of big violet eyes had accomplished. Gosh, it had been quick work. Only yesterday he had been a gay footloose young blade. And today . . . well, he was down for the count. That first glimpse of her, he realized, had affected him much as a stiff sock in the solar plexus. Subsequent sights had rendered him punch-drunk. Now, every time she looked his way he felt like a deflated balloon. He gazed across the great lawn and his heart began the first movement of a loop-the-loop. Barbara was approaching with one of the twins. Roy got to his feet and prepared himself for deflation.

(To Be Continued)

"Hah! The swine is practicing."

"Yes. He told me that the way to win golf matches was to practice and go to bed early. We had practice and long talk. And I must say I agree with him. To be honest with you, Wilfrid looks good to me."

RON shot him a look from beneath beetling brows. "You think he can beat me?"

"Uh-huh," said Roy negligently. Ron seemed upset by the news. He resumed his pacing.

"What makes them so sure?" he asked, in a slightly distraught voice.

"Attitude," said Roy firmly. "They like the way Wilfrid's going about it. They go for his grim determination. And you can't blame them. Look here!—Your brother Wilfrid spends his days perfecting his shots and his nights in sleeping. He's earnest, he's determined, he's in the pink of condition. Now you, what do you do? You go gallivanting off with girls during the day and dance and carouse half the night. No, you can't blame the servants' quarters. The advance dope seems to favor your brother."

Ron stopped pacing and stood with his eyes on the ground.

"Gosh," he said slowly, "I never thought of that. I figured Wilfrid was just a dub like I am."

Roy shook his head. "Don't kid yourself. He's no dub and no dummy, either. He's a smart guy. In fact, he's taking golf lessons, too."

It was as if someone had suddenly stuck Ronald with a pin. He jumped a foot in the air. "Golf lessons? Wh-what-why-why? When? Where? Who from?"

"From me," said Roy meekly. Ronald executed a dance of pure wrath. "Well, of all the low-down, dirty, rotten, sneaking, un-sportsmanlike things I've ever heard of, that takes the cake. Did he bring you here to teach him?"

"Oh, no," said Roy. "I just dropped in to visit Baskerville."

Ronald was not interested in the whys and wherefores. He made no comment on this and got down to brass tacks.

"Is he paying you for it?" he demanded.

"Not a red cent. I'm doing it just for the fun of it."

Ronald made a decision.

"Well," he said, "you've got to cut these lessons out at once."

"They haven't started yet," Roy informed him.

"Oh. Relief swept over Ron's face. "Well then, they can't start. It isn't fair. Not fair in any sense of the word."

(To Be Continued)

RED RYDER By Fred Harman

Advertisement for NORGE refrigerators, gas ranges, washers, ironers, and hot water heaters, featuring the C. I. Hyatt logo and contact information.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS

Advertisement for the Cowboy Band to play at Stamford at an annual meeting, including details about the band and a Kool-Aid logo.

SERIAL STORY

PAR IS LOVE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT 1933, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Roynton gets Wilfrid out of the garage and contacts Billy's help. Then, just as he is beginning to win, Barbara comes to one of the twins.

CHAPTER VII

"HELLO, Mr. Herring," Barbara called. "We're going to town. Want to come?"

He looked at her, unconscious of the twin. "I'd like nothing better."

"I don't know if you've met Ron Peyton," said Barbara, mindful of the social amenities. "This is Roy Herring, Ron."

"Glad to know you," said Mr. Peyton, extending a hand warm and moist like a fried fllet of sole.

"How do you do," Roy grasped the hand and squeezed it.

"You two amuse each other for a minute," said Barbara. "I've got to give Baskerville a message." She walked off toward the garage.

Roy regarded the fellow before him. No, he decided, it would be impossible to tell these twins apart from looking at their faces.

"I saw you talking to my brother this morning," said Ron, almost reproachfully. He spoke as if it pained him to have to refer to so gross an error against society.

"Why, yes," Roy said. "At least, I was talking to a fellow who looks something like you. In fact, enough like you to be you. It wasn't you was it?"

"No," said Ron with hauteur. "It was that snake Wilfrid."

"Oh, is he a snake? I didn't realize."

"He is," said Ron decisively. "He's worse. He's a viper. What were you talking to him about?"

"Oh, about golf."

"Golf?"

"Yes. You know. It's a game. You play it with . . ."

"I know how to play it," said Ron stonily.

"Oh, you do? Your brother didn't seem to think so."

"Hah! A wrathful expression appeared upon Ron's face. "He said something about me, did he? What did he say?"

"Well, as far as I could gather he's planning to take you to the cleaner's in a golf match."

"Did he say that? The louse. Roy's face lighted. "Why, that's the very word he used about you."

"You mean he had the unmitigated nerve to call me—"

"—a louse?" Ron demanded.

Roy nodded. "Yes. Now I come to think of it, it was dirty louse."

Ron peered the lawn. He seemed sadder the stress of some great emotion.

"I've got a mind," he said, at last, "to go back and bust him one in the eye."

"Oh, I wouldn't do that," said Roy. "You'd interfere with his action."

"Hah! The swine is practicing."

"Yes. He told me that the way to win golf matches was to practice and go to bed early. We had practice and long talk. And I must say I agree with him. To be honest with you, Wilfrid looks good to me."

RON shot him a look from beneath beetling brows. "You think he can beat me?"

"Uh-huh," said Roy negligently. Ron seemed upset by the news. He resumed his pacing.

"What makes them so sure?" he asked, in a slightly distraught voice.

"Attitude," said Roy firmly. "They like the way Wilfrid's going about it. They go for his grim determination. And you can't blame them. Look here!—Your brother Wilfrid spends his days perfecting his shots and his nights in sleeping. He's earnest, he's determined, he's in the pink of condition. Now you, what do you do? You go gallivanting off with girls during the day and dance and carouse half the night. No, you can't blame the servants' quarters. The advance dope seems to favor your brother."

Ron stopped pacing and stood with his eyes on the ground.

"Gosh," he said slowly, "I never thought of that. I figured Wilfrid was just a dub like I am."

Roy shook his head. "Don't kid yourself. He's no dub and no dummy, either. He's a smart guy. In fact, he's taking golf lessons, too."

It was as if someone had suddenly stuck Ronald with a pin. He jumped a foot in the air. "Golf lessons? Wh-what-why-why? When? Where? Who from?"

"From me," said Roy meekly. Ronald executed a dance of pure wrath. "Well, of all the low-down, dirty, rotten, sneaking, un-sportsmanlike things I've ever heard of, that takes the cake. Did he bring you here to teach him?"

"Oh, no," said Roy. "I just dropped in to visit Baskerville."

Ronald was not interested in the whys and wherefores. He made no comment on this and got down to brass tacks.

"Is he paying you for it?" he demanded.

"Not a red cent. I'm doing it just for the fun of it."

Ronald made a decision.

"Well," he said, "you've got to cut these lessons out at once."

"They haven't started yet," Roy informed him.

"Oh. Relief swept over Ron's face. "Well then, they can't start. It isn't fair. Not fair in any sense of the word."

(To Be Continued)

A WANT AD IN THIS PAPER WILL BRING QUICK RESULTS!

Arcadia's Appreciation Week Starts Sunday

OUTSTANDING PICTURES OF SEASON ARE BOOKED FOR THE WEEK OF JULY 2 THROUGH 8

"Juarez," "Kid From Kokomo," "Susannah of the Mounties," and "Young Mr. Lincoln" Selected for Week of Major Presentations at Local Theatre.

The local theatre season gets off to a good start for the summer with special attractions and features in both the Texas Consolidated Theatres here it was announced today by B. E. Garner, city manager for the Arcadia and Columbia theatres.

He has set aside the week of July 2-8 as Appreciation week, during which he and his employees are staging a special week showing their appreciation of the local showgoers' patronage during the year.

In addition to the regular fare for the theatres during this week special attractions and features will be added.

Appreciation Week was worked out by employees of the Texas Consolidated Theatres, in appreciation of the many benefits they have secured under the management of Karl Hohltzelle and R. J. O'Donnell. Among these are a 40-hour week, three weeks vacation each year and a Christmas bonus, equal, in most instances, to one week's pay, or more.

The best of pictures have been secured by the Arcadia Theatre for Appreciation Week, the bookings for that week having some of the most outstanding pictures of the year. The program for Appreciation Week July 2 through July 8, is as follows:

Sunday and Monday, July 2 and 3; "Juarez."
Tuesday, July 4, "The Kid from Kokomo."
Wednesday and Thursday, July 5 and 6, "Susannah of the Mounties."
Friday and Saturday, July 7 and 8, "Young Mr. Lincoln."

Pursuant with their course of presenting entertainment of the highest caliber, the Arcadia Theatre will have as their feature attraction Sunday and Monday, the first two days of Appreciation Week, Warner Bros.' magnificent new historical drama, "Juarez," starring Paul Muni and Bette Davis, and a supporting cast which truly deserves the much-abused term "all-star."

After two months of careful planning and selection, another month during which some seventy camera tests were made, director William Dieterle finally chose the forty-three players to support Paul Muni and Bette Davis.

That preliminary search for names and talent in itself was unusual. Ordinarily the casting office handles such details in work-a-day stride, seldom taking more than three or four days for the job. But neither Muni, nor Dieterle, would have it that way. When planning a picture of such tremendous scope you must count on competent workmen.

It is for this reason that, on the cast sheet for "Juarez," are listed such famous names as Brian Aherne, John Garfield, Claude Rains, Gale Sondergaard, Joseph Calleia, Donald Crisp, Gilbert Roland, Henry O'Neill, Louis Calhern, Montagu Love, and Vladimir Sokoloff heading a cast of 1188 people.

Aherne, reversing matters with the star in that he wears a beard while Muni gets clean-shaven, portrays the ill-fated "golden prince," Maximilian von Habsburg, who wore the phantom crown of Mexico. Bette Davis is his Empress, the lovely and fragile Carlota. Rains plays Napoleon III, his consort is Miss Sondergaard as the Empress Eugenie. Film-goers readily will recall their work together in "Anthony Adverse" and this is the first time they have been reunited since.

John Garfield, John Miljan and Gilbert Roland are included in the list. A Juarezian general also is Pedro de Cordoba as Riva Palencia and with him, on the staff, is Charles Middleton as Carbajal.

Donald Crisp, Louis Calhern, Irving Pichel and Monte Blue are other famous names in the cast. The veteran Montagu Love has an important supporting part, with other such roles going to Hugh Sothern, Harry Davenport, Alexander Leftwich, Gilbert Emory, Vladimir Sokoloff and Henry O'Neill.

Starring Wayne Morris and Pat O'Brien, with Joan Blondell, May Robson and Jane Wyman in the leading feminine roles, Warner Bros.' new comedy-romance, "The Kid From Kokomo," will play at the Arcadia Theatre on Tuesday, as part of Appreciation Week. A fast-moving story of the prize ring and its behind-the-scenes angles, "The Kid From Kokomo" was adapted for the screen by Michael Fessier. Richard Macauley and Jerry Wald from a novel by Dalton Trumbo. The picture was directed by Lewis Seiler and in addition to its headliners has a number of outstanding players in its cast, which includes Maxie Rosenbloom, Sidney Toler, Ed Brophy, Clem Bevans, Ward Bond, Stanley Fields, Winifred Harris, Morgan Conway and many other film funsters.

A thousand savage redmen sweep down on the Mounties' lonely outpost! A gallant garrison fights against overwhelming odds! A lone woman finds love amid peril on a primitive frontier! Believe it or not—this is what happens

Thrilling Moments In "Tarzan Finds a Son"

Maureen O'Sullivan, John Sheffield and Johnny Weissmuller playing in "Tarzan Finds a Son" now showing at the Arcadia Theatre.

Heads of Theatre Group

Karl Hohltzelle, left, and R. J. O'Donnell, right, who head the Texas Consolidated Theatre group in this part of the state, who are being honored, July 2 through July 8, with "Appreciation Week" in their local theatres, the Arcadia and Columbia. This week was designed by employees to show their appreciation for the many benefits they have obtained through the efforts of these theatre heads.

In Shirley Temple's latest 20th Century-Fox picture, "Susannah of the Mounties"! The famous story of the old Northwest is a thrilling vehicle for the Number One star and it was selected by Production Chief Darryl F. Zanuck as a counterpoint to the fantasy of her last hit, "The Little Princess." Garbed in calico and buckskin, Shirley Temple's is a real dramatic role different from anything she has done previously on the screen. Randolph Scott and Margaret Lockwood, the lovely star of "The Lady Vanishes," are featured in the romantic leads, while others in the last are Martin Good Rider, 13-year-old Blackfeet discovery who makes his debut in the film, J. Farrell MacDonald, Maurice Moscovitch, Moroni Olsen, Victor Jory and Lester Matthews.

William A. Seiter directed "Susannah of the Mounties," which shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Arcadia Theatre, the third Appreciation Week feature. Shirley, the sole survivor of an Indian massacre, is adopted by Randolph Scott of the Mounties. The famous Police are trying to protect the construction of the great new railway from interference by the Indians.

Scott teaches the child a wonderful lesson in courage which bears her bravely through days of terrible danger. Kenneth Macgowan served as associate producer for the screen play written by Robert Ellis and Helen Logan, from the story by Fidel La Barba and Walter Ferris, based on the book by Marjorie Denison.

In preparation for more than a year, Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Young Mr. Lincoln" is a story that has never been told before.

With simplicity, wit and power, the story carries young Abe through approximately seven years of his youth, the years of his courtship of his first sweetheart, Ann Rutledge; his choice of law as a career (decided by a toss!) his meeting with Mary Todd; his thrilling "moonlight murder" case.

The dramatic highlight of this Cosmopolitan production for 20th Century-Fox is this famous murder trial—two boys charged with murder and between them and the gallows the attorney for the defense, young Abe Lincoln! When you see him fight for their lives you'll know why his strength was legend and his wit was famous!

The original story and screen play of the film, which is scheduled for the Arcadia Theatre on Friday and Saturday of Appreciation Week, was written by Lamar Trotti. Henry Fonda plays the important title role, with Alice Brady, Marjorie Weaver and Arleen Whelan co-featured.

Lincoln's yarns and witticisms are woven into the story,

Texas Scheduled To Share Expected U.S. Business Hike

AUSTIN, Tex.—Full shaving in the upward movement of the national business cycle may be expected of Texas, Dr. F. A. Buechel, University of Texas economist, said today.

The national gain is expected to be confined mainly to expansion in consumer goods industries during the next few months at least, Dr. Buechel, assistant Bureau of Business Research director, predicted in this movement, Texas will likely participate fully, he said.

"If sustained recovery is finally achieved throughout the country, and activity in the capital goods industries gains momentum, an additional impulse will be given to Texas business," he said.

Past experience, however, indicates that "the rise in the indexes of industry and trade in this state will be slower rate than in the North and East," he added.

The composite business index for Texas, compiled by the University Bureau from such factors as employment, pay rolls, miscellaneous freight-car loadings, runs of crude oil to stills, department store sales, and electric power consumption, stood at 96 during May, a substantial increase over the April index of 94.3. All of the factors except department store sales gained over the preceding month.

Raises Speed From 35 to 85 Miles

WATCH HILL, R. L.—Motorists rubbed their eyes in astonishment on confronting a police sign at the entrance to this community. It read:

"Speed Limit 85 miles per hour. Police Dept."

But law enforcers said the limit was "50 miles out of the way." They sought high and low for the culprit who, with paint, raised the numerals "35" to "85."

Schoolhouse Marker Of Old Mining Site

EUREKA, Utah.—Not a saloon nor a pool hall, but a school house is the lone remnant today of Knightville, Utah, ghost mining town of the old West.

Stipulations made by Jesse Knight, discoverer of the $10,000,000 Godiva claim and founder of the town, barred construction of either a pool hall or a saloon. Instead, he built a school, although the town of 500 persons lacked the needed students to meet state school grant standards. Undaunted, Knight went to Diamond, Utah, where he hired the father of 12 children. They swelled the school's enrollment to quota standards.

ARCADIA

THE COOLEST SPOT IN RANGER

APPRECIATION WEEK!

JULY 2nd TO 8th

In appreciation of your liberal patronage the past year we are bringing to you during the week of July 2nd the greatest array of pictures ever shown in the Arcadia in one single week—

SUNDAY and MONDAY

A MIGHTY MOTION PICTURE!

PAUL MUNI BETTE DAVIS

"JUAREZ"

with BRIAN AHERNE CLAUDE RAINS

MERRY MELODY CARTOON

LATE NEWS EVENTS

TUESDAY — 1 DAY ONLY!

IT'S A RIOT! Gals! Gags! Guffaws!

The KID from KOKOMO

PAT O'BRIEN - WAYNE MORRIS

JOAN BLONDELL

A FIRST NATIONAL PICTURE

ROBERT BENCHLEY in "How To Eat"

This Is Our First Foto Nite!

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY

GREATER GLORY TO THE SCREEN'S GREATEST STAR!

Shirley TEMPLE

in "SUSANNAH OF THE MOUNTIES"

with RANDOLPH SCOTT MARGARET LOCKWOOD

20th CENTURY-FOX PICTURE

MARCH OF TIME

Discussing "War, Peace and Propaganda"

Merry Melody Cartoon and Late News Events

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

Destiny IN THE MAKING!

YOUNG Mr. LINCOLN

HENRY FONDA

ALICE BRADY - MARJORIE WEAVER - ARLEEN WHELAN

A COSMOPOLITAN PRODUCTION

which faithfully and excitingly recreates Abe's romantic, thrilling and eventful youth.

When Kenneth Macgowan, associate producer, was assigned the supervision of the story by Production Chief Zanuck, every available historical document was obtained and studied before the story was placed in actual production. The National Museum in Washington supplied the studio with rare photographs and life masks of Lincoln as a young man—the beardless Lincoln so few people know.

The importance of the production is emphasized by Zanuck's choice of director—John Ford, the Academy Award winner.

The stellar cast also is a clue to the film's excellence; included are Eddie Collins, Pauline Moore, Richard Cromwell, Donald Meek, Dorris Bowdon and Eddie Quillan.

Tee Pee Gets Hot to Beat Strawn 22-0

The strong Tee Pee Softball team got hot Thursday night and lambasted the Strawn Softball club by the one-sided score of 22 to 0 in a nine inning game.

The Strawn club, which is much stronger than the score would indicate, will return Saturday night to play the Mingus club.

"We took in just exactly enough for the light bill," First Chief G. A. Murphy stated today. "That's all we want, but if a light globe ever burns out we are going to be up against it unless we start taking in a little more money at the games."

STORES TO CLOSE

Attention was called, again today, to the fact that all stores in Ranger would be closed all day Tuesday, July 4th.

ARCADIA

THE COOLEST SPOT IN RANGER

TODAY and SATURDAY

Titan of ALL TARZANS! Giant of THRILLS!

TARZAN Finds a SON

with JOHNNY WEISSMULLER MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN

JOHN SHEFFIELD IAN HUNTER

HENRY STEPHENSON

M.G.M. PICTURE

More Joy - DONALD DUCK TEAGARDEN'S BAND

LATE NEWS

Agnes Higginbotham Secretary

Bernice Reuser Cashier

Vivian Fulbright Cashier

J. D. Johnson Projectionist

James Adkins Projectionist

Robert Ray Hering Doorman

M. L. Agnew Asst. Manager

Scott Neal Doorman

Bob Palmer Doorman

J. C. Weaver Janitor

Killingsworth-Hearn Nuptials Are Solemnized On Thursday Evening

CEREMONY PERFORMED IN CANDLE LIT SETTING AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist church, Miss Edith Evelyn Hearn, daughter of Mrs. S. O. Hearn of Fort Worth, became the bride of Mr. James Floyd Killingsworth, son of Mrs. J. T. Killingsworth. The service was read by the Rev. G. Alfred Brown, pastor of the church.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Wilda Drago of Eastland and her violin ensemble played Gounod's "Ave Marie" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." They also played the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's wedding march, and "Love's Old Sweet Song" during the service. Members of the ensemble are: Misses Glenna Johnson, Marl Dean Murrell, Donice Parker, Jennie Tolbert, Evelyn Long, Clara June Kumble, Mrs. Albert Blanchard and Miss Drago.

Miss Jane Ferguson accompanied the violin. She also accompanied Mrs. D. T. Wier of Helen, New Mexico, who sang the pre-nuptial solo, "Calm as the Night," by Bohm.

The altar before which the marriage vows were taken was banked with fern and lighted by tapers in seven branch candelabra. Tall baskets of Pickardy gladioli, fancy leaf caudium and fern stood at each side and in the center of the altar.

Miss Madge Hearn was her sister.

Society

News which is to appear in this column should be given to the editor not later than 12:00 o'clock noon of the day it is to appear. In order to avoid the possibility of any news being overlooked persons bringing in copy are requested to write their news on one side of the paper only.

Mrs. J. S. McDowell, Ira Wolford, and Miss Alla Ray Kaykendall.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a trip to Monterey and Mexico City, after which they will make their home in Ranger. The bride traveled in a brown and white ensemble with brown accessories.

The bride attended the Texas State College for Women where she was a member of the Mu Alpha Theta.

The groom, a prominent business man of Ranger, is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Doyle Don Squires Honored

Mrs. W. L. Squires, 514 N. Marston street, entertained a group of young friends June 29, from 5 to 6 p. m., honoring her son, Doyle Don, on his fourth birthday.

Games were played after which cake and punch were served to: Jimmie Summrow, Evelyn Carlyle, Yvonne Vinson, Frankie Vinson, Ellie Nora McGraw, Donice Lee McGraw, Elizabeth Howard, Edith Merlene Howard, Wayne Miller, Edwin Varner, Jurel Varner, Betty Ann Houghton, Linda Sue Houghton, William Ray Bratton, Breland Wallace, Loran Squires, Dorothy Squires, Doris Squires, also Sallie Lou Kiper of Breckenridge, and Farrel Gene Buchanan of Alice, Texas.

Intermediates of Baptist Church to Meet

The Intermediate Department of the First Baptist Sunday school

Used Tires

Most Any Size or Price. You can SAVE both time and money by coming here first when you need a Tire. Also a good allowance for your old tire on a new Gillette Tire at Bill's Used Tire Exchange 115 South Commerce Street RANGER, TEXAS

REWIRING

Let us look over your wiring system and make the necessary changes and repairs... at our low prices you can afford a complete new electrical system!

C. Y. BROWN Electrical Service Phone 415-J

Canadian Boy Murder Victim

Nude, trussed body of 13-year-old Henry Doda, above, was found in clump of bushes on outskirts of Fort Erie, Ont. Police hold 25-year-old Stuart Nighwander of Buffalo, N. Y., as suspect in slaying.

beaten string of pack mules, are winding out of civilization to streams where spring freshets have replenished sands with a meager supply of alluvial gold.

When the same fields were first placcered, gold had been collecting through the stream beds for thousands of years. But with most of the beds "worked out," the prospector of today is yet-hopeful he can wash out and recover little pieces of the yellow metal missed in the hurried operations of the are asked to meet at the church this evening at 6:30. From the church they will motor to Eastland for a picnic.

All members are requested to bring a basket supper.

Teachers of the Intermediate department will chaperone.

Mrs. Fengler Complimented

Mrs. Karl Harper honored Mrs. Ninawana Fengler, the former Miss Stafford with a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. W. R. Cole, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Harper presented the bride with a lovely pink and white wedding cake with the honored guests name on the cake.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following: Merle Branton, Jo Belknap, Frances Johnson, Rosella Nicholson, Pauline Bryan, Royce June Lyon, Mrs. Jack Cole and son, Jimmy Ray of Breckenridge and the hostess, Mrs. Karl Harper and son, Zane F. Harper of Eastland.

Placer Gold Lure Brings Grizzled Group to Rivers

By United Press PRESCOTT, Ariz.—The fevered days of Arizona's early '80's are being re-enacted on the frontiers of this part of the state as the summer months have revived again the lure of placer gold.

Prospectors, with their weather-

BOMBAY NOISIER THAN LONDON

The bits of gold were formerly known as "scalers"—today they mean the livelihood of an estimated 2,500 persons in the state. In Granite Creek, which runs through the western section of Prescott, a large number of men daily wash rocky gravels to earn a living. A short distance from the city's industrial plants, men and women alike are digging into the creek banks, removing big slices of earth to be either "panned" or "sluiced" for gold.

No "bonanza" of the early '80's is found now, but many unemployed men and women make a living in the placer beds. The possibility of a rich strike in an overlooked area still prevails.

Try Our Want-Ads

BASEBALL! STRAWN, TEXAS

Sun., July 2 - 2:30

Doubleheader STRAWN vs. BRAD vs. UNITY

LADIES and CHILDREN FREE!

General Admission 25c

July 4 - 2:30

Strawn vs. Fort Worth

Doubleheader

General Admission 25c

FOR RENT

2 - 3 and 4 Room Furnished or Unfurnished Apartments With Bath.

GHOLSON HOTEL

checks

666 Malaria in 2 days and relieves Colds

LIQUID, TABLETS SALVE, NOSE DROPS

Try "Rub-My-Tum"—a Wonderful Linctant

100% T-F Products SERVICE STATION

H. H. VAUGHN Distilled Water for Sale.

Washing—Greasing—Storage

ON A SUPER-SPEED GAS RANGE

EVERY up-to-date housewife will want one of these "fast workers" that save so much kitchen time.

With a new super-speed Gas Range you can make every minute count! Broilers and ovens heat in double-quick time. Top-of-stove burners have faster operation, too. And there's a new "giant" burner that's the speediest cooker you ever saw!

There are all kinds of exciting automatic devices—F control, temperature signals—that "put watch" for you!

Come in and look at these smart, stream-lined Gas Ranges. There are many different models—all handsome, all the last word in modernity.

AVOID ARGUMENTS HAVE GOOD AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY INSURANCE

C. E. MAY

Insurance In All Its Branches

315 Main St. - Phone 68

TRY PHILLIPS 66 Gasoline & Oils! We Know You Will Like It. "FILL UP WITH PHILLIPS" AL TUNE Service Station

A&P Food Stores

SUGAR 10 Lb. Paper Bag 47c
KRAFT'S CHEESE All Varieties 1/2-Lb. Pkg. 15c
SOAP 2 Bars 11c
NECTAR TEA 1/2-Lb. Box 15c
HOME GROWN TOMATOES Lb. 5c

CRUSTENE SHORTENING 4 Lb. Crt. 37c
IONA SALAD DRESSING Qt. Jar 19c
A. & P. Softest BREAD 1 1/2 Lb. Loaf 10c
VANILLA WAFERS 1 Lb. Pkg. 10c
NEW POTATOES 10 Lbs. 19c

COFFEE 8 o'clock Lb. 15c Folger's Lb. 25c Maxwell House Lb. 25c Bokar Lb. 20c

Watch Our Windows For Added Specials!!

HARRY WARNER'S MARKET Specials For Fri., Sat., - Monday!
RED FRYERS Dressed EACH 45c
DECKER'S SLICED BACON Lb. 21c
Pork SAUSAGE Lb. 15c
Veal Chuck ROAST Lb. 18c
Veal CHOPS Lb. 19c
DRY SALT JOWLS Lb. 10c
DRY SALT BACON 2 Lbs. 25c
Stamped Beef Chuck ROAST Lb. 20c
VEAL STEW MEAT 2 Lbs. 25c
SMOKED SAUSAGE Lb. 19c
Veal Sho - Round STEAK Lb. 23c
BOLOGNA 2 Lbs. 25c

Martin & Notgrass SUMMER SHOE SALE
All Summer Shoes reduced to clear quickly, except a few styles in low heel oxfords. These are all new, this season styles—
Reg. $2.95 Values $1.95
Reg. $3.85 Values $2.95
Reg. $5.95 Earth $3.95
Reg. $5.95 and $6.50 Whites $4.95
Patents, whites, tans—colors meshes.
CLOSE OUTS! BROKEN SIZES
33 Pairs open heel Shoes in patents, new earth and tan and white mesh—
Reg. $2.95 to $5.95 Values—Grouped . $1.95 and $2.95
U. S. Keddettes—Reg. $1.95—to clear at $1.29
Men's Kedsman—Reg. $2.45—to clear at $1.69
MARTIN & NOTGRASS CO.
Shoes - Hosiery - Bags - Expert Shoe Fitting and Repairing . . . Phone 79

STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION OF COMMERCIAL STATE BANK
Of Ranger, Texas
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS JUNE 30, 1939

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and Discounts	$290,142.96	Capital Stock	$ 35,000.00
Overdrafts	596.18	Surplus	15,000.00
Banking House	14,500.00	Undivided Profits	8,835.40
Furniture and Fixtures	2,500.00	Deposits	485,417.89
Other Real Estate	2,888.75	Cashier's Checks	3,670.44
Stocks & Bonds	$68,000.00	Res. for Depreciation and Taxes	1,244.32
Warrants	80,100.23
Cash & Exchange	90,439.93
	238,540.16
	$549,168.05		$549,168.05

MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION
The above statement is true and correct.
W. F. CREAGER, Cashier.

Try Schooley's New Thin Sliced CLUB LOAFBREAD For Delicious SANDWICHES
We Specialize in Party and Birthday Cakes!
Made To Your Specifications!
SCHOOLEY'S BAKERY
Phone 7 - Ranger

HOME KILLED MEAT Just As You Like It!
We can deliver the grocery order and guarantee promptness. A complete line of fresh and fancy vegetables and groceries at all times and the prices are in keeping with quality merchandise. Our meat market is known throughout the city for the choice of tender steaks. Try one and see for yourself.
A. H. POWELL GROCERY & MARKET
WE DELIVER PHONE 105