'Reconstruction and Germanization'

Already, while the guns still thunder at Warsaw and the people of that once-beautiful capital are still dying on their doorsteps, the civil occupation of the rest of German-conquered Poland is under way. Already the plans by which Germany is trying to Germanize the Czechs are being placed in effect in what was the Polish Corridor. Apparently the plans are being pushed even more ruthlessly, for there in conquered Poland not even a pretext of setting up a 'protectorate,' as was done in Czechoslovakia. German Poland is simply conquered territory, and apparently it is being dealt with as such.

Labor Service men, Nazi party leaders, and a host of civilians have been moved in to take over the property of the conquered Poles. German signs immediately replace Polish, school children must immediately begin learning the strange foreign language in their schools—all this feverish activity under a slogan of "Reconstruction and Germanization."

The intention evidently is to wipe Poland off the map not only as an independent country, but as a national people, and to do it within one generation, even faster than Bismarck was able to achieve it in East Prussia.

Thus the German minority which Hitler claimed was so oppressed by the Poles is able to turn and oppress its oppressors. Proof that such Germans belonged to Nazi organization before the conquest is now the road to profits and position.

And with this establishment of a "Poland Irredenta," the whole long, ghastly business begins all over again. Hitler himself is devoted to the idea that "A German is always a German," that racial blood is the foundation of all life. Yet it does not seem to have occurred to him, in spite of the repeated demonstration of history, that a Pole might also be always a Pole. Neither Russia, nor Austria, nor Germany has in the past been able to "Germanize" them.

But today's techniques of propaganda are better, and the ways of digging at the roots of men's minds are better understood than they were a century ago.

Perhaps it will prove literally possible to absorb people's minds and souls as well as their lands and property. That is a battle that is going on behind the fighting lines in China, in Czechoslovakia, in Poland. Its results even more important than the war of guns.

BULLDOGS SCORE EASY WEATHERFORD VICTORY BY SCORE OF 33 TO 0

Two linemen, a guard and a center, came in for unexpected thrills Friday night when they scored two of the Bulldogs' five touchdowns as the Bulldogs defeated Weatherford High School by a score of 33 to 0 at Bulldog Stadium.

Shot Gray, who plays at guard and backs up the line for the Bulldogs, was in on both plays. First he intercepted a Weatherford pass, then latered to Warden, who plays at center, and Warden galloped 45 yards for a score. This was the second time Warden had scored from a lateral, once before at Eastland in 1933 when Charley Martin took a pass, latered to Warden and he scored. Gray scored a touchdown for himself later in the game when he grabbed up a blocked Weatherford punt and raced 29 yards to pay dirt and a score.

Houghton made the other Ranger touchdowns, the first of the game being in the first quarter on a 59-yard gallop goalward when he twisted through his right tackle, picked up his blockers and raced to the goal line. Again in the second quarter he plunged over from the one-yard line after a pass to Arterburn had put the ball in scoring position. In the fourth he slipped over for 21 yards and the final score of the game.

Anderson kicked two extra points, and McKelvin plunged over for the third to bring the Ranger total to 33 points. Weatherford failed to produce a serious threat throughout the game, passing the 50-yard line but twice and then only to the Ranger 45.

Coach Bill Tipton sent in 11 substitutes in the game, giving 22 men an opportunity to show what they could do against real football opposition. And the way the reserves came through, both on offense and defense was particularly heartening to the fans, as they all showed up well while in the game.

The Bulldogs kept largely to a ground attack throughout most of the game, though in the last quarter they threw a number of passes, after piling up their 33 points.

Defensively the Bulldogs showed up much stronger against Weatherford than they did against Stephenville the week before and far outclassed their Class A rivals on the offense. Weatherford stiffened whenever their goal line was threatened, however, and on a number of occasions stopped the Bulldogs when they were within striking distance of the goal, which is indicated by the fact the Bulldogs were unable to score, with one exception, except on long runs.

Friday night the Bulldogs go to Brownwood for their second conference game of the season with the Brownwood Lions.

One of the most fascinating bits of reading we've had in a long time comes from the log of a U. S. Navy transport ship used during the World War. Written without regard for literary style it is an exciting and romantic as any best seller. And the owner of the log can hold you spellbound for hours telling of his experiences when he missed his ship at Bordeaux, France, was stranded there for a month without money and with no knowledge of the French language and literally thumbed his way across the Atlantic. . . . Mentioned recently as an American need was this suggestion that we give more thought and time to teaching American citizenship in our schools and instill into our boys and girls a definite respect for our flag. . . . One of the finest projects in Ranger is the Day Nursery. If you have never visited this institution make the effort to do so and perhaps you'll be inspired to help the Child Welfare Club keep it operating. It requires only $2.00 a month to keep one child in the day nursery. . . . Our hat's off to Charlie Moore for the fine work he has done in connection with the airport and the aviation school. . . . We heard a mother say the other day that she would be glad when her small daughter had passed the "dress-up" stage because she was never quite sure in what condition she would find her best evening dress when she got ready to wear it. The husband and father spoke up and said that he was of the opinion that after the bug bit them there was no end to the stage, at least his pocket book indicated that.

Guard Unit Taking In More Recruits

Lt. H. E. Angus of Company I, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guard, announced Saturday that 12 new men had been recruited into the company bringing its strength up to 77 at present. Orders received were to recruit 18 new men. Angus stated, and this goal will be reached by next drill night. However, Angus explained, there may possibly be room in the company for about 12
