GERMANY SAYS U. S. SHIPS TO BE TORPEDOED

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—Nazi Germany today warned of a theoretical danger to United States shipping in a statement issued here which the right of German submarines to torpedo and sink United States ships were taken by Allied powers into patrol stations and searched for contraband cargoes.

The warning was theoretical inasmuch as American laws prevent United States ships from plying between ports of belligerent nations, but many ships are being seized by the Allies, in disregard of American protests, and are being searched for contraband.

The Nazi statement was more a warning to Allied powers than it was a threat against the United States, it was stated by high officials here, and was intended to throw the blame for any future disasters to neutral shipping directly up to the Allies.

Court Recessed To Put Out A Fire In Pocket Of Judge

EL PASO, Feb. 14.—Two lawyers were arguing a divorce case today, when one of the lawyers turned to the judge and said, "Your honor, the court is on fire."

Arguments in the case continued after the fire had been put out.

Yes, Its 1940 But Marriages Scarce During This Month

Eastland county girls, you're slipping. Something's wrong.

This is leap year, one in which is traditional for the "weaker" sex to be aggressive and pop the question.

Eastland county girls must have forgotten to look at their calendars, judging from the lack of marriage license records in the office of County Clerk R. V. Galloway.

So far this month only one marriage license has been issued. That was to a negro couple and was issued February 3.

January was a little better for cupid. Twenty-eight couples received licenses to wed.

President Hopes For Labor Peace

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—President Roosevelt announced here today before leaving for a 10-day fishing cruise, that he had not given up hopes for a labor peace between the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The president's plans on his vacation were kept secret, and it was not disclosed where he would board the vessel believed awaiting him at some unannounced seaport.

It was disclosed that only three speakers, each of the three major news gathering agencies, would be permitted to go along on the trip because of lack of facilities for more men.

Boy Released On Bond In Alleged Attack Attempt

A 15-year-old Ranger schoolboy has been placed under a $1,000 appearance bond after his alleged attempt to attack an 11-year-old Ranger schoolgirl Tuesday afternoon while she was on her way home from school, it was stated today by Guy Pledger, chief of police of Ranger.

According to Pledger the youth is alleged to have left the ward school he attends, and to have awaited the girl along the route he knew she took on her way home from school.

Some time later, the police officer said, she appeared at her home, about three quarters of a mile away, with her hands bound with baling wire and a gag made from a rag and a handkerchief still in her mouth. She was released by her mother and officers were notified.

As Patrolman Pounds rode in the police car with the girl, Pledger stated, the girl identified a boy riding along on his bicycle as the one who had allegedly attacked her. The boy emphatically denied any knowledge of the act.

Bond was made Tuesday evening, shortly after the boy's apprehension.

Names of the boy and the girl, were not revealed by police.

Nine German Ships Started From Port, Now They're Seven

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Nine German vessels, all freighters, are believed to be plying the Atlantic in an effort to run the British blockade against German shipping. One of the vessels is known to have been scuttled by her crew, and reports indicate that still another, the Wolfburg, might also have been scuttled.

Six of the vessels are reported to have put out to sea from Spanish ports, while three, including the two believed sunk, have left Brazil.

Gasoline Tax Is Now Of Age And Sets A New Record

WASHINGTON.—Today the gasoline tax becomes of age. It has an annual income of more than one billion dollars contributed by approximately 25,000,000 godfather motorists throughout the nation.

Twenty-one years ago today the first gasoline tax in the United States became effective. Oregon was the pioneer state. Several bond issues had been floated to build roads. The bonds were to be retired from motor vehicle license fees, but no provisions had been made for upkeep of the roads. The legislature looked around for a source of revenue for highway maintenance.

The solution was provided by W. B. Dennis of Carlton, Ore., chairman of the state's road committee, and others, who conceived the idea of imposing upon gasoline, whose price in those days was nearly 30c per gallon, a tax of 1c per gallon to create a road maintenance fund. The law was enacted, and the American gasoline tax was born.

The first gasoline tax law, as adopted by Oregon, provided that all revenue should be dedicated exclusively to highway maintenance. That incorporated the fair principle, which was followed by other states in enacting gasoline taxes—the principle that money derived from special gasoline taxes, levied on a single class of taxpayers, should be devoted only to highway work.

In providing that all gasoline tax receipts be used exclusively for road improvement, the Oregon legislators followed the traditional American principles of fair taxation. It has long been recognized that there are three broad types of taxes, namely: (1) levies on wealth, (2) taxes to control forces in the public interest, and (3) charges for special benefits provided by public undertakings. Taxes on real estate are examples of levies on wealth. They are collected according to the ability to pay. The man in the mansion pays more property taxes than does the man living in a cottage.

The second type of taxes are those to control forces in the public interest. Tariffs are imposed frequently upon imports to protect American labor from competition of low wages and low standards of living abroad. High taxes on certain products aim to discourage their use. But even such levies can be unfair if excessive.

The third broad type of taxes includes those levies for special benefits provided by the government. A city-dweller pays for the water he uses. The amount he pays depends upon the benefits received. Similarly, the federal government charges 3c postage on a letter. That charge covers the cost of the special service rendered.

Taxes on gasoline, and other special automotive taxes, fall into this third division of "benefit" levies. They were devised to provide funds to build roads to get America out of the mud.

Larger Navy Plan Before Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Congress was asked today to approve a $654,902,270 naval expansion program, including 21 new warships as the house navy committee warned that we must meet our war perils in a time when the future seems a "realm of fantasy."

SOVIETS MAKE SLIGHT GAINS IN INVASION

After 14 days of continued mass attacks by Russia's superior manpower, Finland today admitted that some gains had been made by the Red army, though they were claimed to be of no military importance. Counter attacks by the Finns were also reported to have been slowed up some, though there was no indication of weakening of the defenses. No Finnish losses have ever been released, but it is believed by observers that they have been heavier the last two weeks than at any time during the war.

From Berlin came reports that Summa had fallen to the invading Red army but this report was not even claimed at Moscow so it was given little attention. Finnish officers have reported that German officers are now aiding in directing the Russian attacks on the Mannerheim line and there are even hints of a German Expeditionary Force, which may come to the aid of the Russians.

In Britain and France it is believed that official sentiment is that Finland must be saved, even if it necessitates sending direct aid, and a declaration of war which the Allies have been against for some time.

An estimate has been made that the Russians are hurling 300,000 to 500,000 shells daily against the Mannerheim line in an attempt to break through toward Viipuri and Helsinki, and observers say that once the line is broken the Russians could not be stopped. The line, however, is 15 to 20 miles deep in most places, and designed so that an invader would have to fight every foot of the way to break through.

Hand-to-hand fighting has again been reported in some sectors, with the Finns using daggers in their encounters with the Russian forces.

79th Birthday Is Noted By Banker

STRAWN, Feb. 14.—Thomas Burton Stuart, prominent West Texas pioneer and president of the First National bank of Strawn, celebrated his 79th birthday quietly at his home on Wednesday.

Stuart, eldest of the four sons of the late J. N. Stuart, early settler and king of a vast cattle empire, was born in Erath county, five miles north of Stephenville, Feb. 14, 1861. Two years after his birth, however, he returned to the site of Strawn with his parents who had come here earlier from Missouri in 1859.

His father drove into Palo Pinto county in an ox-drawn wagon with his wife and young sons back in the pre-Civil War days when the picturesque Brazos valley was dominated by the warring Comanches, when the new frontier lands were swarming with wild, unbranded cattle.

From owner of 15,000 acres of ranch land and a 300-acre home site, Stuart and his four sons built one of the greatest cattle empires in the annals of early West Texas. Head of the firm of J. N. Stuart & Sons, he died in 1910 and his four sons—T. B. J. F., W. B. and S. J.—carried on. In recent years the value of the firm's many ranch holdings has been greatly increased by the discovery of oil and a great part of the old Hart pool was developed on the Stuart lands. More than 100 of those wells are still producing.

The pioneer banker, oil and cattlemen retired from active ranch life in 1921 when he was elected president of the First National bank of Strawn. And he optimistically looks forward to completing his 20th year in that capacity in 1941.

WINE AND BEER ELECTION MIGHT BE ON MAR. 2

Opinion is Awaited From Department

Petitions asking for calling of a county-wide election on a proposal that the sale of light wines and beer be legalized will be passed upon Friday or Saturday of this week.

County Judge W. S. Adamson and members of commissioners' court, at Eastland Wednesday morning, stated that an opinion has been asked of the attorney general's department whether the election as proposed is legal.

The officials want to make the proposed election, if held, "bomb-proof" or one in which there will be little likelihood of legal squabbles after the voting. The request for the advice of the attorney general's department was sent by Criminal District Attorney Earl Connor, Jr.

It is apparent that March 2, which falls on Saturday, is a likely date for the proposed election and the earliest on which the election could be held. It will be that time before the office of Assessor-Collector C. H. O'Brien can furnish poll tax lists to voting precinct officials.

The petitions submitted to the county officials contain, it was stated, 847 signatures. Commissioners and the county judge and Assessor-Collector O'Brien worked many hours all day Tuesday and even until late at night Tuesday night checking the signatures on the petitions.

It has been found that the number of qualified citizen signatures on the petitions is well in excess of the number required, 238. In order for an election of this type to be called it is necessary that at least a number equivalent to 10 per cent of those voting for the governor in the last general election to have signed the petitions.

The proposal on which Eastland countians are asking to vote this time is different from that of the last alcoholic election. Since the 14 per cent beverages fall in a different classification from the issue in the election last year, it is possible to have the proposed election in a period less than a year from the other, attorneys declare.

In the election last year the sale of beer was outlawed. Election judges for the year were being appointed Wednesday afternoon. Majority of the judges serving last year will again be appointed to the posts, it appeared.

At Ranger, however, it was proposed to place C. E. May as an election judge in the place of Ray Campbell, who no longer lives in that city.

College Paid $20 After Half Century

By United Press

WARRENSBURG, Mo.—An old woman has paid Central Missouri State Teachers College a debt she made 50 years ago.

The letter, in which was enclosed a $20 money order, was written by a trembling hand.

Browder Runs for Congress

Neither his Communist proclivities nor his recent conviction for violation of passport laws bars Earl Browder from the right to run for Congress in the 14th New York district. The state supreme court's decision is entirely consonant with the law: Even though conviction in a state court may bar a man from seeking office, federal conviction does not; and renunciation of a candidate's political faith is not a requisite for entering a campaign.

Despite the license granted Corrado Browder, New York's 14th district residents are losing little sleep over the possibility of being represented by a Stalinist agent. Unless something goes definitely haywire, Mr. Browder is not likely to become the Gentleman from New York.

If, by some unprecedented quirk of fate, he should be elected, he will be compelled to set up shop in a cell, unless the federal district court's finding of guilty is reversed in the pending appeal. Under any circumstances, the election should give 14th district voters an excellent chance to inform Stalin and Disciple Browder what they think of Soviet principles.

Freedom Must Be Guarded

Despite assurances by government officials at odd moments since the European war began, the American press would not be permitted to go on unchecked if this country ever became involved in war, Prof. Harold L. Cross of Columbia University and special counsel to the American Publishers' Association, predicted recently.

Professor Cross contended that emergencies, even those as great as war itself, do not justify curtailment of press freedom; that the very liberty under which newspapers operate today was obtained during an emergency.

It is unlikely that any section of the press would turn to treason during a war involving this country. Freedom of the press remains a precious American heritage. The United States can never afford to dispense with it, even temporarily.

A woman, who charged her husband with non-support, was herself jailed until she paid the cost of the court action. Gentlemen are advised not to mistake this as a sign of the approaching millennium.

There are reports that Russia may change its tactics in the Finnish invasion. Does that mean Soviet troops will begin moving sideways instead of backwards?

Collie Speaks At A Banquet At Rule

RULE, Texas, Feb. 14.—Senator Wilbourne Collie of Eastland addressed the annual banquet of the Rule Chamber of Commerce, here last night, and told the gathering of the issues that have arisen in the eight years he has served as state senator from the district.

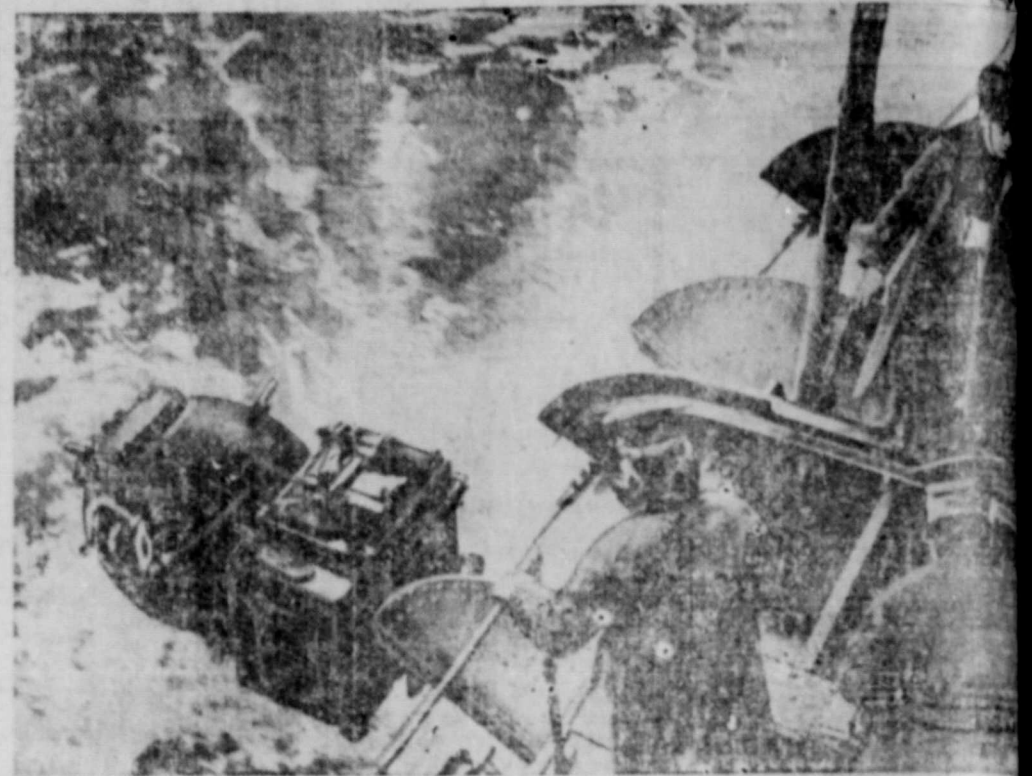

"Briefly," Collie said, "this period since January, 1933, has seen a gigantic industrial and social change, not only in Texas but throughout the nation. We have been a vital part of it and our lives have been intense, have been carried on at a very high pressure. That means, of course, that all the forces have been brought to bear—the forces of evil, and, thank heavens, also the forces of good.

"Planned recovery and rehabilitation has encouraged industrial development, secured for each community a just allocation of monies for unemployment relief and general aid of all worthy enterprises. Direct relief has helped the needy and distressed and so far as possible, the lofty, humanitarian aims of government have been secured.

"During the eight years, in addition to the many emergency laws passed by the Legislature, the people voted a considerable number of amendments to the constitution, including prohibition repeal, repeal of the fee system, providing old age assistance, authorized the Texas Centennial, provided for the blind, provided aid for destitute children, authorized appropriations for retired school teachers and authorized

Castor Plant Expert To Speak Friday At Cisco Meeting

CISCO, Tex.—M. D. L. Van Over, foremost authority on the castor plant and executive director of the farm industries bureau of the Woburn Degreasing company of Patterson, N. J., will address civic, business and agricultural leaders at a Cisco chamber of commerce forum Friday, February 16, at 7:30. Cisco chamber of commerce officials announced today.

Van Over, under whose direction thorough tests of castor plant production possibilities have resulted in large scale plantings at Brownsville, Texas, and in Florida said that a market exists for 5,000,000 acres of commercial castor hybrids from which paint drying oils, substituting for the imported tung oil; insecticides, rope, plastics and a great number of other products are made.

Growing tests of the six hybrids developed by Mr. Van Over and his experts, are far different from the ordinary variety of castor. The hybrids grow to heights of 20 to 25 feet and produce different kinds of beans, stalk and leaves, all of which are utilized in the industry.

"I have nothing to sell," said Mr. Van Over. "We are interested in production and I shall come to

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON, NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—The Home Owners' Loan Corporation has taken a book loss of $78,600,000 on the sale of its foreclosed homes to date, and the loss eventually may be three times that much.

HOLC officials, in a book loss not strictly a cash-out-of-pocket loss. Into these losses are figured accrued interest and taxes—and the taxes usually run into hundreds of dollars—costs of repair and reconditioning, the cost of foreclosure, and of course the unpaid balance of the loans.
HOLC is getting rid of its real estate at the rate of 400 sales per month; at the same time, foreclosures have dropped way down—from 8000 a month, back in 1936, to about 400 a month today.

Doctor Believes Social Diseases Should Be Fought

AUSTIN, Tex.—E. F. Voyer of the Texas Social Hygiene Association is dissatisfied with the activity of Texas officials in the campaign against venereal diseases.
"There is entirely too much conversation and far too little action as regards endeavors to control the diseases among the rank and file of our state," Voyer said. He complains that health officials have not taken advantage of the disease prevention regulations passed by legislatures during the past 20 years.

SERIAL STORY THE CAPTAIN'S DAUGHTER BY HELEN WORDEN

YESTERDAY, Mike goes back to the Molly. He hopes to find some way to ease Dan's grief. He meets Tommy Ryan and they burst in on Kat together. But she throws Tommy out when the trucker declares Marie should marry him. The barge captain turns on Mike. Donovan tells him the affair is not finished yet.
CHAPTER XX
KATIE DONOVAN rang the front doorbell furiously. Where was Ling? Where was everybody? Here she had arrived ahead of time to surprise the family and none of them were here. She fished in her purse for a key, but couldn't find it. While she was still rummaging, Ling opened the door.
"I've been ringing 10 minutes," she exclaimed. "You and Henry, nodding to the chauffeur, 'bring in my bags.'
As a matter of fact she had been at the door less than three minutes when Ling opened it, but she made allowances. He had learned to take Mrs. Donovan philosophically.
"Your telegram came, Messah Donovan out," he explained. "His office here from the Captain. They have Henry meet you."

March Of Time Now At Arcadia

Daily newspaper accounts of the Finnish War are given new meaning and significance by the latest March of Time film now showing at the Arcadia Theatre. Entitled "The Republic of Finland," this issue of The March of Time presents a timely and enlightening story of the life and national character of the Finnish people, and contains many colorful scenes of Finnish ski troops and other military units in action.

Finland's well-armed and well-disciplined citizen army of less than half a million men, the March of Time shows, is today commanded by General Karl Mannerheim, Finland's famed old military strategist who in 1918 led the armed forces of his little nation against the overwhelmingly greater troops of Soviet Russia, and thus freed his people of Communist rule.

After winning the independence they had sought for centuries, the film shows, Finland's four million exhausted and starving people had to be helped by Herbert Hoover's American Relief Administration and on 8 1-4 million dollar loan from the U. S. Government. Through hard work alone, Finland has since become one of Europe's great little nations, living within its means, paying its debts regularly, and commanding the respect of the entire civilized world.

With American sympathy for the Finnish cause now running high, March of Time's entertaining story of "The Republic of Finland" comes as a distinct contribution to public understanding of the little country whose courageous people have been making more and more astounding news each day.

Coyote Points Quail Like a Bird Dog

AUSTIN, Tex.—Houston Lockheart, plow foreman for the huge King Ranch, is hoping he will be able to trap a certain coyote he saw in action recently. If he does, he may have the "most unusual bird dog" ever known.

Mr. Lockheart was going along a pasture fence near Kingsville one morning during the open season on quail when he saw a coyote come down on a point exactly like a bird dog. The coyote held the point for a full minute, then broke and pounced into the center of a covey of Bobwhites. He came up with one in his mouth and then slunk away in the brush.
