BRITISH FLEET BLASTS FRENCH PORT OF DAKAR

The British fleet opened fire today on the French West African port of Dakar, and the Vichy government ordered the French defenders to "resist powerfully" the attempt of the British and the Free French Force under Gen. De Gaulle, to capture the port.

Three French cruisers and three destroyers recently sailed for Dakar, from France, it has been reported.

The British Ministry of Information confirmed that Gen. De Gaulle, with the French and British forces, had arrived at Dakar, and "seems to have encountered some resistance."

The ministry said that the British want control of Dakar before the Germans get it.

Great Britain's Royal Air Force meanwhile, drove Nazi bombers from London today, as the German high command in Berlin threatened "annihilation" of the British Isles.

Royal Air Force bombers ranged far over German-held territory last night and caused a two-hour alarm in Berlin and causing heavy damage to German-held channel ports in France, Belgium and in Germany.

Fighting ceased in French Indo-China after a brief border skirmish between the French and Japanese troops, and the Japanese began landing a force at Haiphong, chief Indo-China port, without resistance. The bases allowed the Japanese to Indo-China give that country another advantage in its war with China.

England was shocked by the torpedoing of a refugee ship en route to Canada, with 83 children among the 300 persons lost. Germans denied the torpedoing and said it was an attempt on the part of England to draw the United States into the war.

King George warned Britons must expect even grimmer times this winter, but that spring would bring an upturn in Britain's war fortunes. Two new civilian decorations for war heroes were announced by the king.

Defense Training School Is Doubled Since Last Spring

FORT WORTH, Tex.—This city's "behind-the-lines" defense program has quadrupled since it started last spring.

Expansion of the National Defense Training School, designed to train workers for the vital national defense industries, was announced by G. B. Trimble, director of the school here.

Trimble said the school would expand four times its present size by the first of October. Recently 75 students were graduated. It was the first class.

The expansion program will be financed by a federal appropriation of $40,000.

The school expects to offer 10 different courses and 25 classes after the program is completed. Classes offered included welding, machine shop, auto mechanics, cabinet making, pattern making, radio electricity, aircraft welding, advanced aircraft electricity, blue print reading and related mathematics.

Largest problem, Trimble said, was in securing competent instructors. Needed today were six instructors to teach machine shop, radio electricity, pattern making, cabinet making and welding. An instructor must have had at least seven years experience in the trade they are to teach to qualify.

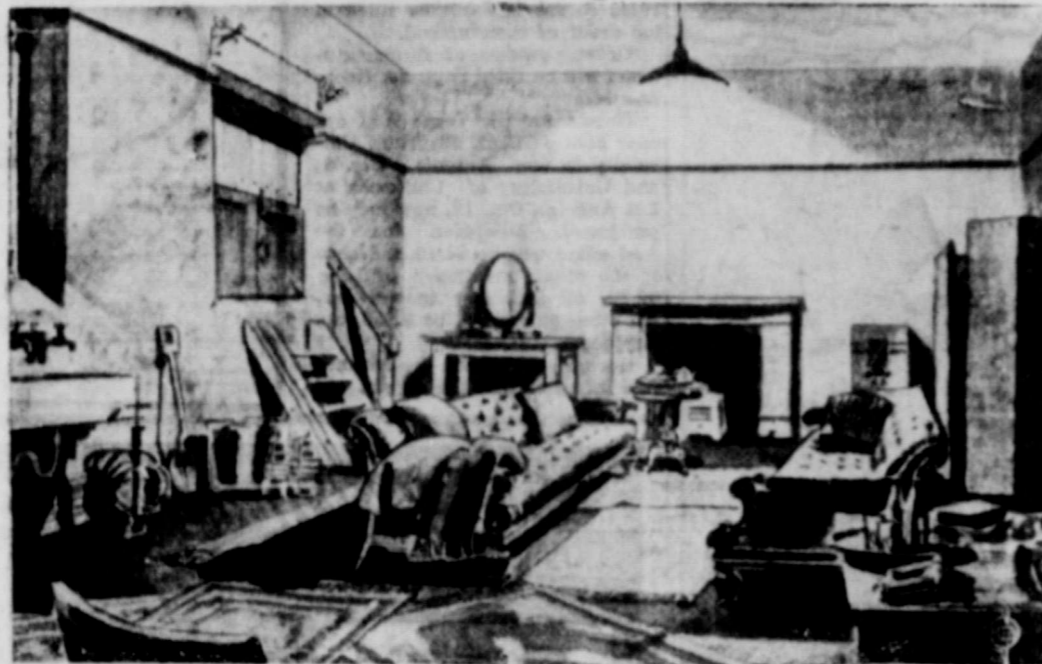

New phases included in the expansion program will be the trade expansion classes, open to men already working at the trade. These classes will be offered on a four-hour-a-week basis.

Pre-employment classes are conducted 10 hours weekly.

Fight On Proposed Price Fixing Is Being Planned

AUSTIN, Tex.—A fight to the finish against proposed retail price-fixing legislation was promised here today by Jim Carroll, executive secretary of the Texas Merchants Association.

"From recent developments in Texas and New York, it shouldn't be hard to expose the dangers of price-fixing as it is set up under the so-called Fair Trade Act," Mr. Carroll said.

"In New York, the Federal Trade Commission, according to Time Magazine, has scared the stuffing out of the directors of the Feld-Crawford law, and that is New York's name for Fair Trade.

"Right here in Austin it is being said by many who know that a vote for the Fair Trade act will be a vote against the anti-trust suits Attorney Gen. Gerald Mann has filed on the liquor interests and distillers. Mann's action complains of price-fixing methods which the so-called Fair Trade act would legalize, chief of which is allowing a manufacturer or distiller to force all retailers to sell his product as the price he names—or higher.

"Time's expose of price-fixing in New York shows it took five years for the authorities to catch on to the game being played by a combination of whisky distillers and retailers. They maintained 40 per cent markup and increased their gross profits by millions of dollars. In New York, this price-fixing 'game' has covered almost all branded items sold at retail.

"That means multiplied millions taken out of the consumers' pockets."

The other end of retail price-fixing is the Anti-Discrimination Act, a "cost plus" measure.

"Anybody who remembers the worst features of the old National Recovery Act (N. R. A.) should recognize at once the Anti-Discrimination Act and oppose it accordingly," said Carroll.

"There seems to be no earthly reason why anybody in Texas should want either of these laws. They merely make the rich richer and the poor poorer. Many merchants who in other states thought they wanted these laws and supported their passage today are trying to get rid of them before they go broke by being caught in their own trap.

"If a merchant wants to allow an out-of-state manufacturer to set the prices he must pay wholesale for his goods and allow the same manufacturer power to tell him what he must charge retail, then that Texas merchant is ready for price-fixing and also for a bankruptcy court. If, on the other hand, he wants to see his business grow as Texas grows, he ought to be against both the manufacturer's Fair Trade Act and the cost-plus Anti-Discrimination Act."

Mexican Troops and Rebels Fight Today

This Lad Didn't Miss the Buss

Texas Tech Tries Breed Experiment

LUBBOCK, Tex.—One hundred ewes recently purchased by the Texas Tech animal husbandry department will be used in a cross-breeding experiment for production of spring lambs suited to West Texas. Prof. W. J. Stangel said. Divided into lots of 25 head each, the range fine wool ewes will be crossed with pure-bred Corriedale, Hampshire, Rambouillet, and Southdown rams for production of spring lambs.

Records will be kept on each lot as to number of lambs dropped, the number raised, weight at birth, at weaning, and at time of marketing, and net returns. Progress reports will be made as information becomes available. Prof. Ray C. Mowery will supervise the experiment.

Ewes were purchased from Elton Mims of Water Valley, 1928 graduate of the Tech animal husbandry department.

YOUR ARMY A Series Describing the Arms and Services of the Regular Army

THE ARMORED FORCE
The striking power of mighty armored columns in modern warfare has resulted in the creation of an entirely new arm for the U. S. Army.

Tanks formerly were associated with the Infantry and Combat Cars with the Cavalry. But the new U. S. Armored Force now combines elements of both and takes its place along with the Infantry, the Cavalry, the Air Corps and the Coast and Field Artillery Corps as combat units of the Regular Army.

The Armored Corps will represent concentrated, mechanized attacking power, as well as defense against similar enemy columns. It will be able to strike at the terrific speed of fifty miles or more per hour with hundreds or thousands of tanks at one time.

While new as a separate arm of the Service, few people realize that the U. S. Army has been a pioneer in the development of armored vehicles of remarkable speed, power and efficiency. The natural American genius for mechanical creation places this country in a position to lead the entire world in this important phase of modern war.

Great industrial plants are now speeding production of the most modern types. Soldiers who love the thrill of pioneering a new arm—who are interested in mechanical training—are needed to man them.

The opportunity is open to thousands of qualified young Americans—ambitious to play a part in the development of a great new Army tradition.

These "Hell Buggies," popular name for modern tanks, are equipped with radio; with machine guns and rapid firing cannon up to 77 mm. size. They are miniature power plants in operation—swift, deadly—and the nearest approach to the fabulous "irrepressible force" yet developed in warfare.

With the broad expanses of the United States to protect (in contrast with the more concentrated regions of Europe)—our Armored Force must plan for swift transportation—roads and bridges that are strong enough to withstand the terrific weight of 70-ton tanks—maneuvering in all kinds of climates and over all types of ground.

There is a thrilling, inspiring task ahead for the men who will mould this new arm into the same efficiency that characterizes the other and longer established branches of the Service. And the opportunity for advancement and promotion for enlisted personnel is unusually bright and promising.

Machinery Set Up For Draft Oct. 16

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt today formally set up the machinery for registering 16,500 American men between the ages of 21 and 36 years of age. Registration will start on October 16, under the new draft act for military training.

Wages Up Slightly For the Past Month

AUSTIN, Tex.—Average wages for Texas workers rose slightly during August, as payrolls gained 4.3 per cent over August, 1939, compared with a 2.2 per cent gain in the number employed, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research officials report.

Both employment and payrolls remained about the same as in July.

Wages in manufacturing industries, however, failed to keep pace with the gain in workers over August a year ago. The Bureau estimated 134,359 workers were employed, 4.9 per cent more than a year earlier, while wages rose only 4.4 per cent.

Employment in non-agricultural business and government establishments is considerably higher than at the beginning of 1940, the Bureau estimates. Although the estimate for August is not yet available, this figure for July was 960,000, compared with 941,000 for January. The peak thus far occurred in May, when 967,000 workers were employed.

822 High Schools Take the Field In Football Season

AUSTIN, Tex.—There are 822 high school football squads in action this month as the University of Texas-sponsored Interscholastic League gets its 21st annual tournament under way.

With 79 new teams in the running, the League's football roster shows a 25 per cent increase in four years and clinches for 1940 Texas' long undisputed claim to the No. 1 schoolboy league in the country.

The new line-up, exhibited by R. J. Kidd, league athletics director, boasted a total of 104 teams in Class AA, the schoolboy circuit's major league. Class A, with two new teams counted 291 entries; Class B, increased 86 schools to total 276. Six-man football, a fast-growing Texas-pioneered sport, increased 41 teams to a total of 152.

Kidd pointed out that of the State's accredited high schools boasting an enrollment of 200 or more students, all but two schools are placing football teams on the field this month. In the list of schools of 100 students or more, only 84 schools are not yet participating.

Class AA counted four new faces this fall: District 10's Temple, ineligible last year; Burkhardt, District 2; Arlington, District 6; and Bevelville, District 16. The last three schools all played Class A ball last year.

In Class A competition, only Vidor and Hot Wells of San Antonio were completely new faces on the list. Several other schools moved up from "B" competition last year, while the Livingston Lions dropped back from "AA" tournaments.

Conference B listed 36 schools playing football for the first time: Eola, Williams (May); Mansfield, Avery, Kiddare, McLeod, Roston, Spring Hill (De Kalb), Miller Grove, Rocky Mount (Overton), Spring Hill (Longview), Crandall, Evans, Collidge, Jewett, Neches, Rogers, Salado, Sharp (Buckholville), Cherokee, Pfingerville, Bloomington, Woodshore, Alvarado, Cedar Hill, Duncanville, Godley, Joshua, Red Oak, Venus, Blanket, Brooksmith, Indian Creek, Early (Brownwood), Sipe Springs and Sidney.

Biggest increase, however, came in the half-pint version of the game, six-man football. With a 41-per cent increase, Texas schools playing the six-man game climbed to 152, far in the lead of any other state. New schools were:

- League City, Louisa, Ogleby, Pottsville, Garwood, Morse, Bryson, La Vernia, Nordheim, Poth, Sutherland Springs, Benjamine, Knox City, Matson (Haskell), Sunset (Monday), Truett, Vera, Bradshaw, Eula (Clyde), Laws, Ovals, Tuscola, Trent, Wylie (Abilene), Elysian Fields, Harleton, Harmony, Indian Rock (Gilmer), Karnack, New Diana (James), Union Hill (Bettie), Waskom, Diboll, Hemp Hill, Embouse, Powell, Rice, Richland, Streetman.

THE WEATHER

Death Over Portsmouth

A Descendant Of Alfred Tennyson Will Enter Baylor

WACO, Tex.—Leaving behind an England where 98 years ago their distinguished ancestors, Alfred, Lord Tennyson, prophesied: "Heard the heavens filled with shouting.

And there rained a ghastly dew. From the nation's airy navies Grappling in the central glaze."

Mrs. Charles Arthur Tennyson, her college-aged daughter Patricia, and 11-year old son, David, are fleeing to America.

The Tennysons will be the guests of Dr. Christine Fall, professor of English at Baylor University at Waco, at the country home of her mother at McGregor. Dr. Fall said upon receiving a cable of acceptance from the descendants of England's great Poet Laureate.

They will be returning a visit, as Mrs. Fall spent a month at their elaborate home, The Hickory, in Essex, while preparing her doctorate dissertation on the life and works of Frederick Tennyson, older brother of Alfred Tennyson.

Major Charles Arthur Tennyson, grandson of Frederick and grand nephew of Alfred, and head of the house, is remaining behind to serve in the Royal Marines. John Tennyson, 18-year old son is a member of the Royal Air Force, and Phyllis, wife of an army officer and an ambulance driver, are also staying in England.

The family will bring with them the papers and manuscripts of Frederick Tennyson, which were discovered by Dr. Fall in almost forgotten family chests. Over 3000 letters, 2100 pages of manuscript, half of which is still unpublished, along with pictures, portraits and books, comprise the material. Most of Frederick's works have never been published and thus are still to be evaluated.

Patricia will enroll at Baylor University.

Good Rains Fall In Most of County Over Week End

Rain fell in Eastland county over Saturday night and Sunday total 95-100 of an inch, according to J. A. Beard, Eastland, weather observer for the government weather bureau. The fall, however, was such that it was all absorbed by the ground as it fell, and was sufficient to be of much help to growing gardens, crops and pastures.

Parties from Gorman stated that a good rain fell in that section Saturday night, while being of some possible damage to older peanuts, would be of assistance to late peanuts.

Enrollment In Junior College Is Still Growing

Junior College enrollment stands some 30 pupils above that of this corresponding date last year. There has been a substantial growth since the opening date, Sept. 9th.

The report available for the college examiner on his visit in November will be the highest on record in the 15 years' history of the college.

A fine spirit prevails among the student body. Enrollment is fairly well distributed among the various departments of the college. One condition noticeable is the number of towns represented and the distance from which many have come.

Ranger citizens have enrolled by scores, but it is to be regretted that many high school graduates have yet failed to enlist. It is possible many fail sometime, fail to fully utilize, that which is accessible so close at hand.

Terminal courses are available for adults who want to qualify themselves for office or clerical positions.

It is not too late to register, and it is hoped all who want a partial or full schedule of work will register at once.

Communities beyond Ranger from which one or more students have come include: Breckenridge, Royalty, Carbon, Leonard, Eastland, Gorman, Straw, Alameda, Peacock, Olden, Plainview, Colony, Mineral Wells, Morton Valley, De Leon, Muleshoe and Caddo.

F. B. Whitehead Is Given A Fine And Prison Sentence

F. B. Whitehead entered pleas of guilty before Judge B. W. Patterson of the 88th district court, this morning in one case in which he was charged with forgery and in another case in which he was charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated.

In the forgery case he was given a sentence of two years in the state penitentiary and in the other he was given a sentence of five days in the county jail and a $50. fine.

Whitehead is about 26 years of age and has a wife and one child.

INTEREST IS GROWING IN NEW OIL WELL

C. L. Mahaney's No. 1 A. J. Jackson 2 1/2 Miles South of Carbon is Big Producer.

Growing interest is being manifested by oil operators and others in the Carbon territory, since the bringing in Saturday of the C. L. Mahaney No. 1 A. J. Jackson well for a potential flow of 1,200 barrels per day.

The Mahaney well is located on the S. H. Key survey one-fourth mile west of the Dobbs Oil Corporation's No. 1 Thomason, also on the Key survey, which has been producing for some time.

Pay in the Mahaney was encountered in the Caddo lime at a depth of 2,641 feet following a shot of 300 quarts of nitro. The well flowed 100 barrels in 47 minutes immediately following the shot, according to oil men who have been watching developments in that section and who were present at the time the shot was placed. The oil produced is of the highest grade.

The Mahaney well is two and one-half miles south of Carbon. O. D. Dillingham of Abilene, the McBride interests and others have lease interests in the vicinity of the new producer. Mahaney is a Dallas man.

Irrigation Belt In Panhandle Is Getting Attention

DALLHART, Tex.—Interest in Dallas county's shallow water irrigation belt, 35 miles northwest of Dalhart, has been sharply increased by C. A. Brown's 80-acre fields of potatoes which are going to yield an estimated 500 pounds per acre.

Brown, a former potato seed grower in Colorado, came to Dallas county last spring from the Plainview and Hereford areas where he has been raising potatoes.

This was learned from W. H. Fowler, Dallas-Hartley counties FSA supervisor of Dalhart, who has been particularly interested in the potato test since the FSA has a number of clients in the shallow water belt.

Fowler said Brown leased the 80 acres for two years at $5 per acre per year. He figures total cost of the venture from time of seed bed preparation to harvest and marketing, will be $90 per acre. If the yield is 1,500 pounds the gross per acre will be about $160, Fowler said.

Capt. Lock, commanding officer of Company K, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guard, accompanied by 15 or 20 members of his company, visited the Company I rifle range in Ranger, Sunday and shot a number of rounds over the range.

At noon the men from the Stamford company were hosts at a luncheon for a number of the members of Company I.

The rifle range has been worked over recently, it was stated today, with the targets and pits being in good condition. The range is reported, however, to be slightly brushy at present.

Resurrecting Life From the Past

An old favorite of laric' fictioneers, from A. Conan Doyle down through Dizzy Stories, is the device of bringing to life by means of magic potions the mummy of some Egyptian princess.

This one has always been good for a set of creeps and a thrill or two. But after we'd closed the book and gotten safely into bed, we always said, "Oh, tush, tush!" and relaxed to sleep, if any.

Now the German papers are full of reports that a Professor P. Busse-Grawitz, experimenting at Cordova, Spain, has actually done it. According to the German reports, this scientist with a name that sounds like a beer substitute, has actually taken tissue from 5300-year-old Egyptian mummies, placed it in certain solutions, whereupon this flesh which "died" thousands of years ago took on new life and began to wax and burgeon. Busse-Grawitz's theory seems to be that while the body dies, the cells that make it up do not die, but "hibernate," ready to live again.

Eminent American scientists comment: "We doubt it."

You may doubt it or not. But certainly some of the countries of Europe have been doing a lot of resurrecting these days. While they have seldom gone clearly back 5300 years, nevertheless the past 20 years have seen a lot of things dredged up out of the past which men had believed—and hoped—were dead.

Up from the Middle Ages they have dug racial hatreds, which, by careful fanning and cultivation, have been made to live again almost as they did in the Dark Ages.

Slaughter of innocent women and children, fatuously believed to have vanished with Genghis Khan and Attila, has been restored to grim reality. Hunger has been disinterred from a world of want to stalk again in a world of plenty.

Oh, yes, it is not so fantastic! Herr Busse-Grawitz may indeed have succeeded in rousing to life cells called dead for 5300 years.

It would be no more fantastic than the grim set of horrors which have been resurrected from the catacombs of the world and made to dance across its face in a carnage of racial hatred, religious and political intolerance, cold-blooded cruelty and ignorance.

Among certain Eskimo tribes marriage is compulsory, which might not be so bad as that. As we recall, those gloos have built-in-dog-houses.

The sun appears red at sunset because red light best penetrates murky atmosphere. Thus can the inebriate with the colorful proboscis find his way home easily on a foggy night.

SERIAL STORY

THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

All characters, organizations and incidents of this serial are entirely fictitious.

YESTERDAY: Returning from a baseball game, Sue Mary... Vera is using Sue Mary, just as Nick is using Vera...

DOUBTS BEGIN TO RISE

OUT on the dark street with the cool night air against her flushed face, Sue Mary walked slowly, trying to think...

Nick's interest, his newly displayed love, Vera's work at the office; the mislaid paper; Natalie's insistence that she come and live with her...

"Murders and divorces, I suppose," he had said with that crooked, half-cynical smile.

And when she had explained that the work was more with large corporations...

"You've been reading G-man stories," he had teased and she had laughed at her own seriousness.

Things began to add up. She walked and still trying to piece together the jigsaw puzzle.

Vera was in the office, apparently where she had meant to be from the beginning...

"You're being read G-man stories," he had teased and she had laughed at her own seriousness.

"You're being read G-man stories," he had teased and she had laughed at her own seriousness.

Things began to add up. She walked and still trying to piece together the jigsaw puzzle.

he wanted a hold over her. At least that was Vera's supposition...

Sue Mary felt a little sick. To be used, to be so blinded by her own shortsightedness...

She was awake now. She felt as though she had been beaten awake...

Leisure time, she told herself bitterly. It was being lonely and having nothing to do...

VERA was gone when she went back to the apartment and Natalie was in bed half asleep...

"Out with Nick?" she asked. "No. I went to a ball game; an old American custom."

"Hiding from me, little sweetheart?" "Just working, Nick. That's what you want us to do, isn't it?"

"I've seen his face when he's with her. He's in love." And now he was with her and his nearness...

She hated herself for being moved by his physical presence, tried to remember the people...

Nick covered her hand with one of his own, and pressed his shoulder against hers...

Someone laughed and Vera shook her head, smiling patiently.

Arguments boiled around her with every one trying to make her see the point.

"Just working, Nick. That's what you want us to do, isn't it?"

Cincinnati's Big Three

Seafaring Errol Flynn gets credit for his finest work in the Warner Brother screen version of "The Sea Hawk" which has been booked for screening at the Arcadia theatre today. Brenda Marshall is pictured with him in the leading feminine role. Alan Hale, Claude Rains and Flora Robson are also in the cast.

It begins to appear that the Cleveland Indians would have more push if they had less patch. Adolf is hollering that Britain's door of doom is ready to open, but none of his Italian henchmen has come close enough to help knock on it.

Says Frogs Are Potent

COACH LEO R. "DUTCH" MEYER
TEXAS CHRISTIAN

Coach Leo R. ("Dutch") Meyer of Texas Christian University reports that the 1940 Horned Frogs will be potent enough to deal out some real misery to the 10 teams on the current schedule. In six years Coach Meyer has placed his eleven in three bowl games, winning them all (Sugar Bowl twice; Cotton Bowl once). His teams have played 65 games, winning 47, losing 18 and tying four, for the best percentage in the Southwest Conference during the period 1934-39, inclusive. "We've got some pretty good boys this year although we rate down in the middle of the conference race," Meyer comments. "I think we have at least a chance of springing a surprise on somebody here and there."
