ALL WORLD IS AN ENEMY IS RUSSIA'S VIEW

MOSCOW, Nov. 30.—President Mikhail I. Kalinin of the Supreme Council of the Soviet Union said that Russia is a besieged fortress surrounded by convinced, irreconcilable enemies, according to the text of a speech which he made recently and publication of which was permitted only today.

Addressing the students and faculty of the Red army's political academy, it was disclosed, Kalinin called for "eternal vigilance," increased armed forces and improved discipline.

Kalinin urged mastery of Marxism and patriotic devotion to the Soviet state as the best means of promoting the general communist cause.

"The international situation demands intensification of the political consciousness of our soldiers," he said.

"We live in a beleaguered fortress. Of course, it is a tremendous fortress covering one-sixth of the world's surface. But the other five-sixths are held by our unprincipled, irreconcilable enemies. This recalcitrant hostility of the capitalist world does not need illustration. Illustrations occur abundantly in every issue of our newspapers—if one reads the newspapers more or less attentively."

"There never was nor can be a more honorable task in the world than the development and fortification of the Socialist State inasmuch as this is the direct path to communism. We do not know any other path. . . . Red soldiers and sailors are not only the members of a great army and navy but fighters of the most revolutionary fighting forces in the world's history."

Ten Cent Diet May Be Possible Professor States

AUSTIN, Tex.—Slicing in half the present 20-cents-a-day minimum adequate diet, a menu chart that will feed a man for a thin dime a day is being tested scientifically in University of Texas home economics laboratories.

University nutrition professor Jet Winters isn't ready to set the stamp of approval on the 18-cent diet yet, however. She's trying it out on a succession of generations of white rats—the usual dietary testing animals.

If the white rats fed the equivalent of the new diet—in dried form—grow as rapidly as do other rats in adjacent cages fed standard diets, "the first step in proving the diet's adequacy will have been taken," Dr. Winters said.

The new diet, it must be admitted, permits little variety, and depends largely on the selection of the cheapest types of necessary foods, she said. Meat and eggs have been eliminated, but the new diet is strong in turnip greens, uncooked cabbage and additional milk.

Menus for the trial diet over a week's time would run something like this:

Breakfast—Biscuit with molasses, one morning; fried corn meal mush with molasses, six mornings; cambric tea with sugar seven mornings.

Lunch—Irish potatoes, two days; sweet potatoes, two days (both flavored with salt pork); chopped cabbage seasoned with vinegar, salt and pepper, seven days.

Dinner—Beans, seven nights; turnip greens, two nights; turnips two nights; onions, two nights—all flavored with salt pork; and biscuit and molasses, seven nights.

Boat Replaces A Bus For Students

FLORENCE, Ore.—The children of one section of Douglas county, Ore., make their daily journey to school from rural districts in a boat instead of the usual school bus.

Boats are used almost entirely for transportation at Lake Tahkenth, 13 miles south of Florence on the Oregon coast highway between the Siuslaw and Umpqua rivers. The lake has numerous long arms which make transportation along its shores difficult.

For five years, a boat has carried the school children of Kroll, a railroad town on the east side of the lake, to the Ada road. They then walk two miles to the Five Mile school, district No. 98, in Douglas county.

The children like their mile and one-half boat ride back and forth from school. They swim over the water at about eight miles an hour past shores heavily timbered with spruce and Douglas fir.

The afternoon return trip usually finds the boat plowing through choppy, wave-swept water. Charlie Slomaker, who lives in a floathouse on the lake, owns the school boat. Between trips he loads boats and works at an auto camp.

The bus boat driver entertains the children with stories of far-off lands during the long trips. He is a skilled boatman and knows every inch of the lake shoreline.

Past Chaplain Of American Legion to Speak Here Mon.

Rev. Bryan H. Keathley, Past National Chaplain of the American Legion, will address the men's brotherhood of the First Baptist Church Monday night at 7:30.

Rev. Keathley, who has been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Mineral Wells for several years, has spoken in Ranger a few times and thrilled the audience on each occasion. He addressed the annual George Washington Banquet of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion two years ago, and spoke at the Baptist Brotherhood six months ago. Chaplain Keathley knows soldier life from all sides and he is one of the most interesting and forceful speakers in Texas. His humor, humanness, and eloquence delights, inspires, and lifts every group he addresses.

The Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion and a delegation from the National Guard are invited as special guests of the brotherhood.

Gardens Can Be Made To Produce The Year Round

AUSTIN, Tex.—Your vegetable garden can be made to furnish fresh vegetables the year round—University of Texas home economics student are proving it.

Under the direction of Miss Jennie S. Wilcox, associate professor, a class of co-eds currently at work on practical home problems has devised a "frame garden" to outwit Old Man Winter. Here are their directions:

In a plot of ground five feet wide and varying in length from 20 feet to suit the family's vegetable appetite, spade out a foot of the native soil later to be filled in with rich earth, 50 per cent loam and 50 per cent fertilizer.

Next step, however, is to construct a sub-irrigation system of "tin can" pipe. Parallel rows of medium-sized cans—laid end to end with tops and bottoms removed to form a makeshift water main—are connected with rubber tubing to an above-ground water source, a larger can at surface level. Either rubber tubing or paper can be used to connect one "pipe" to the next.

When covered with the fertilized soil, the irrigation system will furnish constant moisture from the water seeping between the cans to the roots of the plants.

Frames, about 24 inches high on the north and 18 inches high on the south are constructed. Over these go removable covers of burlap sacks or wall canvas for protection against icy weather.

Strictly a ruse to fool the gardener's bogies—weather, water and weeds—the frame garden has been used by West Texans for some time, Miss Wilcox said. The University Extension Division has available a plan for concrete and tile sub-irrigation from which the home-made version was concocted, she added.

Youths Released On An Extortion Charge

By United Press
GAINESVILLE, Ga., Nov. 30.—Two youths who had been held by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents for questioning in connection with a $200,000 extortion note sent to Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, wealthy Washington, D. C., social leader, were released today.

The youths were Donald Angel, 19, of Crown City, Ind., and Everett Wilson, 21, of Wichita, Kansas.

U.S.S. Tuscaloosa To Take President On Defense Tour

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The 10,960-ton Cruiser Tuscaloosa, equipped with special gear which may be used by President Roosevelt, was at sea under secret orders today, presumably heading for an undisclosed destination to pick up the president for his planned defense inspection tour.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday that he was preparing to leave early next week on an inspection trip that may take him beyond his self-imposed 12-hour train radius from the capital. He would not disclose his destination but the mysterious operations of the Tuscaloosa, which sailed from Norfolk, Va., yesterday, lent strength to reports that he plans to cruise in the Caribbean—possibly as far as the British West Indies. The president and his White House aides refused comment.

On his projected trip, Mr. Roosevelt expects to keep an airplane close at hand which could get him back to Washington quickly in event of an emergency.

War Department sources revealed that a 21-passenger army transport plane has been fully equipped with ramps and other special gear required by the president.

Speculation over the destination of the president's projected defense tour centered on the possibility he may cruise to Culebra, between the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, to witness maneuvers of the Atlantic Squadron about Dec. 7. Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox already has announced that he plans to fly to Panama for an inspection of naval defenses in the Canal Zone and then to join the Atlantic Squadron for the Culebra maneuvers.

The proximity of British West Indies Islands where the United States was granted the right to establish defense bases in exchange for 50 World War destroyers, suggested that the president might extend his cruise to inspect the new sites. Thus he may go to Kingston, Jamaica; St. Lucia, Antigua, or even Trinidad, off the coast of South America.

Such a cruise into the Caribbean would take him into zones where Britain is conducting a sporadic naval war with German raiders and submarines. The Tuscaloosa, with Mr. Roosevelt aboard, undoubtedly would be escorted by two or more fast destroyers, with gun crews on duty night and day at their gun mounts to insure his safety.

$12,000 And Lots Of Milk Needed for A Cheese Factory

AUSTIN, Tex.—Could your community use a cheese factory? For an investment of $12,000, you could build one and start operations, the University of Texas Bureau of Industrial Chemistry estimated.

In line with Governor O'Daniel's Texas Industrialization Program, Dr. Monroe W. Krieger, University research technologist, has prepared a bulletin on the fundamental considerations in "Establishing a Cheese Factory in Texas."

Containing information on manufacturing, promoting, financing, marketing, and a list of additional sources of related data, the pamphlet is the first of a University-authored series designed to make material on various industries more directly serviceable to prospective investors.

Although the cheese industry has grown very rapidly during the past twelve years, the University report shows that there is still room for development. In 1938 Texas produced 22,910,000 pounds of cheese, 2.16 per cent of the nation's total; but since Texas has about 5 per cent of the population, production is still less than consumption within the state.

Conditions in Texas favor cheese making, Krieger points out, as cattle can be pastured most of the year, and the fertile land can be used for feed raising. Pasteurization and cold storage facilities necessary, however, result in a larger investment in equipment, the report shows.

STATE PAY OF ARMY OFFICERS IS HELD OUT

AUSTIN, Tex.—Pay for state officials who are also officers in the Texas National Guard was again held up today when Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann requested State Comptroller George Sheppard not to issue warrants until a decision is made if litigation over the pay shall be carried to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Involved is the pay of Adj. Gen. J. Watt Page, on active duty as state selective officer; of Col. Ernest O. Thompson, commander of the 111th Quartermaster Regiment, 36th Division, who is state railroad commissioner; back pay of Major Orville Carpenter who was executive director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, and the pay of a half dozen state employees who are in military service in connection with induction of the National Guard or operation of the selective service law.

The attorney general has 90 days in which to perfect an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court but is expected to decide within a few weeks if appeal shall be made.

Major Carpenter's pay already had been issued by Comptroller Sheppard in warrant form, after the Supreme Court refused a rehearing on Nov. 22 and granted a mandamus ordering the payment. National Guard officers here declined to be quoted but contended there is no federal question involved.

They pointed out that the question of eligibility to hold both places was raised before Federal Judge Robert McMillan in San Antonio yesterday.

In an attempt to enjoin a bus permit hearing there yesterday it was contended that because Colonel Thompson is in military service now, he was disqualified to conduct a hearing as railroad commissioner. Judge McMillan said that the Texas Supreme Court having decided that a state officer could also hold military office, there was no federal question involved, attendants at the hearing said.

Members of the State Army Board were not immediately affected by Mann's request that they be withheld as they do not receive any compensation. Their right to hold both offices, however, would be involved in an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court. Member of the army board is Maj. Gen. Claude V. Birkhead of San Antonio, commander of the 36th Division.

Rugged Digging Of Gold Has Ended

By United Press
PINOS ALTOS, N. M.—The ruins of only one "rastra" remain as a reminder of the days when free gold was found in abundance in the sands of this section and 75 of the ore-grinding machines dotted the hills of the Pinos Altos mining country.

Here in this wild, mountainous area of New Mexico gold mining still goes on, but the yellow metal is brought out by modern Diesel-powered shovels cross-cutting the gravelly creek bottoms.

The ring of the hammer on the drill steel and the blast of giant powder no longer disturbs the otherwise peaceful countryside, for modern science has come to redeem the pay dirt which once was thought to have been exhausted.

In 1860, free gold was panned in the sands, rocked in cradles, or lumped in sluice boxes, and treated as hand placers. Quartz veins were worked and a stamp mill was freighted in over the 1,000-mile Indian-infested trail from Missouri. The mill was worn out, however, and the miners went back to the "rastra," which became the mainstay, though it was slow and none too efficient.

The rastra was an example of man's ingenuity to overcome natural handicaps. A round hole—2 feet deep and 10 feet in diameter—was dug in the ground. It was lined with flat rock, both at the wall and on the bottom, and in the center the miners placed a heavy pole of juniper. Two cross-members of oak were used to make a pair of "Ts" from which dragged four or more large stones.

A burro was hitched to each of the four ends of the "Ts" and they walked slowly around in merry-go-round fashion. Thus they dragged the rock-draws around the rock-lined pit, crushing the ore in to a mash which was run over quicksilver to recover the gold.

This crude crusher was used for many years until 1872 Skillern and Company, using the rastra principle, perfected a steam-powered mill which usurped the place of the crusher instrument.

Two G-Men Are Probing Methods Of Anti-Sabotage

BY FRANK McNAUGHTON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has had a two-man mission in London for several weeks studying methods used by the British government to combat sabotage and espionage, it was learned today.

The agents, not expected to return until after the first of the year, were said to have been dispatched by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover so that tested European anti-sabotage methods may be incorporated in this country's protective program.

Presence of the mission in London was revealed in the midst of efforts to settle the heated controversy between the Justice Department and Chairman Martin Dies of the House Committee on un-American activities, who last week assailed the FBI's anti-fifth column efforts as inefficient and unsatisfactory.

Dies conferred yesterday for 50 minutes with President Roosevelt, and sought today to arrange a conference with Attorney General Robert H. Jackson.

If Dies and Jackson meet, they will seek to bury past mutual recriminations, and to devise means of coordinating the work of the committee with that of the FBI and other law enforcement agencies.

Dies said after his conference with Mr. Roosevelt that he had "every reason to believe that we will receive cooperation from government agencies, and there is every prospect that all of us can work in the closest harmony."

Dies said he would introduce a resolution, when the next congress meets, to continue the committee—as now constituted—for two years. He said he would ask "not less than $1,000,000" to finance its work.

Daily average production was 227,850 barrels below the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of market demand for November. The big decline resulted from three production shutdowns days in Texas fields.

This week's daily trend: Texas, 1,091,100, off 419,800; California, 592,200, off 14,500; Oklahoma, 403,500, up 2,575; Illinois, 331,700, off 9,950; Louisiana, 286,900, up 4,800; Kansas, 196,650, up 5,800; New Mexico, 101,100, off 100; Eastern States, 88,200, up 1,000; Mountain States, 94,900, off 100; Michigan, 47,200, off 300; Arkansas, 69,600, up 100; Indiana, 21,100, up 3,300; Mississippi, 15,500, off 100, and Nebraska, 2,500, off 250.

The report was submitted by Mrs. Lanny E. Mancill, special agent of the bureau of the census.

Germans Expelling French From Homes

VICHY, Nov. 30.—Premier Marshall Henri Philippe Petain said in a radio speech today that 70,000 French citizens of Lorraine have been expelled by German authorities in the last few weeks.

He appealed to the French nation to help the homeless from Lorraine as part of the national solidarity effort.

British Lifeline Periled by Nazis

War's perils seem far away as this conveyer, pictured from the deck of a protecting British warship, steams calmly along. But danger is ever present. Nazi planes and U-boats have taken such heavy toll of merchant vessels that Minister of Shipping Ronald Cross recently declared British shippers could not keep pace with sinkings.

One heavy bomb crashed into a building in the London area, trapping a number of persons. They later were rescued.

"It was a very heavy bomb," an eyewitness said. "It whizzed around like a spinning top."

NAZI ATTACK IS REPELLED NEAR LONDON

By NED RUSSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Nov. 30.—British fighters, diving to the attack despite poor visibility, broke up large formations of German fighter-bombers over South England today following an extremely heavy night attack on London's communications.

The attack last night by probably 300 enemy raiders rained a record number of incendiary bombs on London and appeared to be an attempt to "ring" the capital with bombs in an effort to create havoc in the communications system.

The weight of the onslaught was concentrated on the immediate districts of the capital. The German pilots used flares on a much larger scale than usual, apparently in an effort to make the best possible use of their bombs instead of dropping them indiscriminately.

The attacks continued during daylight hours today and about 100 German fighter-bombers dashed across the Kent coast in groups.

They were met by British fighters which broke up most of the formations but a few got through to London and dropped bombs. There were two alarms in the capital.

One heavy bomb crashed into a building in the London area, trapping a number of persons. They later were rescued.

"It was a very heavy bomb," an eyewitness said. "It whizzed around like a spinning top."

Iron Guardists In Rumania Given Elaborate Funeral

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 30.—Iron guardists held one of the most elaborate funeral services in Balkan history today over the bones of 14 of their "martyrs," disinterred this week from the prison yard at Jihlava where they were executed two years ago under the abdicated King Carol's regime.

Church bells tolled throughout the country from 10:30 to 11 a. m. In Bucharest, shops, schools, public offices and theatres were closed all day.

The boulevard along which the funeral procession passed from the Greek Orthodox Church in the center of the city to the suburb of Nof, five miles away, was decorated as if for the funeral of a king. Special masses were said in many churches. Foreign correspondents were taken to the funeral in a body.

The high Rumanian court, on the eve of the funeral had reversed its 1938 verdict and acquitted the 14 "martyrs" posthumously. They were Cornelia Zelea Codreanu, Iron Guard leader, convicted of treason, and 13 of his associates serving terms for political murders. Prison guards who shot them said they "tried to escape."

Tens of thousands lined the five mile route of the cortege from the church to cemetery. In every direction windows and balconies of homes were filled with onlookers. Before the procession left the church, priests said the mass of the resurrection, ordinarily said only on the Saturday before Easter Sunday.

Cleveland Has Two Disastrous Blazes

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—Two fires, one in an apartment building and the other in a warehouse, today drove 34 persons into the streets, caused the death of one man, and damages estimated at more than $50,000. Arson squad members began an investigation.

Thomas Adams, 42, a designer and builder of small boats, was found dead in the apartment building, apparently suffocated.

On Teaching the Dignity of Labor

Prof. Harry David Gideonse, head of the big Brooklyn College in New York, says a semester of planned labor camp activity somewhere in the country far from the students' normal environment would improve the curriculum of almost any school.

In the matter touched upon by Professor Gideonse, the Germans were wise. Even in pre-Nazi times, the republic instituted labor camps. They were not the harsh ones the Nazis have made of them. The republic saw in labor camps a chance to further the cause of democracy. Just as children of all classes and creeds are mixed up in the public schools, so young men from all kinds of homes were mixed up in the labor camps.

The sons of the wealthy, the boys who were some day to control industry in Germany, were taught by the tired back and the calloused hand to get some idea of the role millions of their fellow countrymen perform day by day and week by week in the necessary economy of the nation.

A man who has labored does not look down upon labor. The labor camps performed another function in Germany. They hardened the youths physically. The toughening process so necessary in a soldier was largely attended to before the young men were called up.

This matter happens to be very much in the thought of the officers now charged with training America's peacetime conscript army. A considerable number of college professors have asked army men whether it is not possible to give the draftees some form of vocational or specialized training. The answer has been a decided negative.

Col. W. H. Draper, Jr., of the General Staff emphasizes the fact that the primary purpose of the draft is to teach America's young men how to be soldiers, to train an army capable, if necessary, of meeting at least on equal terms the best troops any nation might throw against them.

Colonel Draper wisely said that after the draftees had spent a day partly in drill and marching, partly in a classroom getting military instruction, and partly in necessary chores such as kitchen police, the embryo soldiers would be in no mood to take up further class work.

So the matter comes back to the Gideonse suggestion. Some form of wise labor camp training would help to give American youths healthy bodies. The colleges could then seek to give them the healthy trained minds. The graduates would be an asset of the United States.

We won't be hearing so much about the employment problem when every home is without a man around the house during the day.

Michigan apartment landlord requested two families to move, basing it on the arrival of new babies. For crying out loud!

The Days Are Getting Shorter

Mavs Humbled by The Kangaroos

By Ed Freyschlag

Thursday night the Kangaroos turned in a performance which left them with an unblemished season and one of which any coach would have been proud. The Kangaroos outwitted the Mavericks considerably and had a team of experienced players, whereas the Mavericks were for the most of them inexperienced. From the first of the game the Eastland team was outplayed and their offense seemed never to be able to start a successful rally.

The Mavericks opened the game with the following players:

Ends—Simons, Hart.
Tackles—Treadwell, Lovelace.
Guards—Seif, Thomas.

Music Department Of Junior College Given Recognition

Elwood R. Priesing, head of the Fine Arts Department of Ranger Junior College, announced upon his return from the State Teachers meeting in Fort Worth that he represented the college at the meeting of the Texas Association of Music Schools.

This organization, which is composed of the leading senior and junior colleges as well as the best music schools in the State, received Ranger Junior College into its membership on the basis of the music courses offered by the school and the equipment of the department as well as the training and degrees held by the music faculty. Admission is governed by the board of directors and by the member schools.

The Association was formed two years ago under the leadership of Dr. Wm. E. Jones of T. S. C. W. to stabilize the music credits and raise the music standards throughout the state.

The admittance of the Junior College into the organization assures all students of the fine arts department that their credits will be acceptable in any school in the state and that their courses will be up-to-date and standardized. It also gives the college an opportunity to represent this section of the State and a voice in the planning of new courses.

Jones also urged all Legionnaires and ex-service men, as well as all members of the National Guard, to attend the special service for them at the First Baptist

The nation has enough wheat on hand, for example, to make 500 loaves of bread for every person.
