Germans Smash Forward On Balkan Fronts

A LIBERALIZATION OF SELECTIVE SERVICE TO BE IN FORCE IN DRAFT

AUSTIN, April 8.—Liberalization of Selective Service Regulations pertaining to appeals from local board classifications and inauguration of an extensive campaign to educate registrants in the full use of the appellate machinery designed to protect their individual rights were announced today by National Headquarters, Selective Service System.

With approximately 4,000,000 men classified by Local Boards on the basis of their availability for military service, relatively few appeals have been made to Selective Service boards of appeal, and only a minute number of requests for adjudication of decisions have been submitted to the President, it was said.

However, National Headquarters announced that as "Congress had realized that Local Boards are not infallible and individual rights are best protected when a check is made," it was its intention to make certain that all registrants, their dependents and others interested in their welfare have every opportunity to obtain review of classifications they consider unjust.

First major step in the liberalization program, an announced today, is an amendment to the Selective Service Regulations which extends the present five-day limitation of filing of appeals to the President to ten days. Additional time may be granted by a local board if it is satisfied that the failure of a registrant to appeal was due to lack of understanding of his rights or some cause beyond his control.

Plans are also being made, it was said, to increase the present five-day limit on appeals from local boards' decisions to boards of appeal.

Prior to issuance of the amendment relating to appeals to the President, the Regulations permitted such appeals as only on the basis of dependency. The amendment provides:

"When either the State Director of Selective Service or the Director of Selective Service deems it to be in the national interest or necessary to avoid an injustice he may at any time appeal to the President from any determination of a board of appeal."

For the registrant or his dependents to appeal to the President, the sole basis continues to be that of alleged dependency.

In announcing the new appeal policy and the plan to educate all registrants on the method of appealing decisions, National Headquarters said:

"There is an obligation upon all who come in contact with the registrant to make certain that he understands, not alone that he has the privilege of appeal but also when he must do it and how he must do it."

"The Selective Service System cannot afford to permit registrants who want to appeal to lose their opportunity merely because they do not understand the what, when and how of so doing. Furthermore, while National Headquarters does not want the appeal machinery clogged up with the claims of those who merely seek to delay their induction, it is equally important that no registrant be inducted until he has had ample opportunity to exercise all his legal rights."

The new appellate provisions of the Regulations became effective April 7.

Army Offers Big Opportunities In Its Air Division

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Texas.—Public attention has repeatedly been called to the increased pilot training program of the regular army and the opportunity it offers to unmarried men between the ages of twenty and twenty-seven years with at least two years of college training to enroll as flying cadets in the Army Air Corps with a view of receiving instructions to qualify them as airplane pilots.

The Army is now also stressing the many opportunities which are available to men without college training, who can qualify for enlistment in the U. S. Army Air Corps for non-flying duties. Such enlistments are now open to physically qualified unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 55 years who are interested in training for one of the numerous mechanical, technical or administrative positions in the Regular Army Air Corps.

While it is desirable that applicants for enlistment in the Air Corps have a high school education or its equivalent or two years of experience in some mechanical trade, these requirements may be lowered or waived in the case of men who are able to pass the Army's educational test at time of enlistment. All men who are accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Army Air Corps are eligible to compete for assignment to a course of instruction and training at one of the Air Corps technical schools.

At the present time, a recruiting campaign is in progress in this Corps Area which includes the States of Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas, which has for its goal the enlistment of approximately 3,500 men for assignment to air corps stations. The current expansion of the air corps and the establishment of many new air corps stations has made available the widest choice of assignments offered in many years. To mention a few of these assignments, there are Randolph Field, Kelly Field, Brooks Field, and Duncan Field, all located near San Antonio, Texas; Ellington Field at Houston, Texas; Post Field at Fort Sill, Oklahoma; Moffett Field, California; Hamilton Field, California; and a newly established field at Las Vegas, Nevada.

Further information regarding training and service with the Air Corps may be obtained by mail or in person and without obligation from Army Recruiting Officers who are located in all the principal cities throughout the corps area.

Low Cost Menus Varied By Army

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass.—Housewives looking for ways to reduce the family food budget should copy the 26th Division cooks, who prepare three meals a day at an average cost of 42 cents per man.

Here's a typical day's menu:

Breakfast—Half grapefruit, oatmeal, fresh milk, hot cakes, fried bacon, butter, toast, syrup and beverage.

Dinner—Soup, stewed chicken, dumplings, mashed potatoes, celery, spinach and eggs, hot rolls, butter, ice cream, cookies and beverage.

Supper—Cold meats, sliced cheese, potato salad, pickles, cake, jam, bread, butter and beverage.

SUITS FILED
Clayton Williams vs. The Texas Company, damages.

Men Date Blondes, Marry Brunettes, Co-Eds Are Warned

WACO, Tex.—Blondes were given fair warning by Dr. Sandor B. Kovacs today:

"Don't take me seriously. They like to date blondes, but they marry brunettes, according to two surveys completed by the sociology professor at Baylor University. Students of his class on 'marriage and the family' supplied the testimony.

Kovacs also learned: That men prefer girl friends with 'common sense' rather than brilliant intellects. Other attributes desired, in the order of preference: personality, attractiveness, sincerity, sportsmanship, faithfulness and education.

That girls like tall men, almost to a girl, and would rather catch a professional man than any other kind.

That most girls could appreciate a man with an average income of $3,000 a year. Preferred incomes ranged from $1,200 to $10,000 a year.

Youth Pays For A Hat Stolen From Store Year Before

JULESBURG, Colo.—Marvin Stalcup, store manager, said today that a young man who looked like "a traveler of the road," came into his store and confessed, "I'd like to speak to you privately."

When they were alone he handed Stalcup a dollar, saying, "That's for a hat I stole here last summer."

"My conscience has been bothering me," he said, "and I want to pay for the hat."

Stalcup accepted the payment and extended his forgiveness.

LEGISLATURE MISSES MANY ISSUES WHILE WORKING ON OTHERS

CONNALLY TO URGE DRAFTING OF INDUSTRIES

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Senator Tom Connally of Texas has had prepared and will introduce an amendment to the Selective Service Act, providing authority for the government to take over and operate during the period of the emergency any industrial plant, producing defense materials or convertible into a defense manufacturing plant, in which the national defense program may be impeded or delayed by an existing or threatened failure of production at such plant as a result of a strike or labor disturbance or other cause.

"The Selective Service Act," said Senator Connally, "now provides that the President is authorized to take over and operate any industrial plant, the owners or operators of which refuse or decline to make improvements of war or national defense articles, for the government upon reasonable terms. These provisions apply to the failure of employers to cooperate with the government program of national defense."

"The amendment which I have prepared and which I shall introduce adds another paragraph to Section 9 of the Selective Service Act and provides that the President, through the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy may take over and operate, for the period of the emergency, any plant equipped for the manufacture of any articles or materials required for the national defense, or any plant capable of being transformed into a plant for the manufacture of defense articles, and in which plant, the national defense program is impeded or delayed by an existing or threatened failure of production as a result of a strike or other labor disturbance or other cause. It provides that the government may operate the plant purely in the public interest."

"The prime and paramount objective of the government is to secure continuous and maximum production of war munitions and supplies. Anything which interferes with that kind of operation of all available plants, whether on the part of employers or on the part of employees, is against the public interest and the government ought to have the right and power under such circumstances to step into the plant and to take charge and operate the plant as a national defense project purely in the national interest."

Ohio Oil Company To Discontinue Its Purchase In Area

The Ohio Oil Company of Findlay, Ohio, has notified producers and royalty owners in this section of the state that effective May 10 it will discontinue purchase of crude oil in Eastland, Stephens, Palo Pinto and Erath counties.

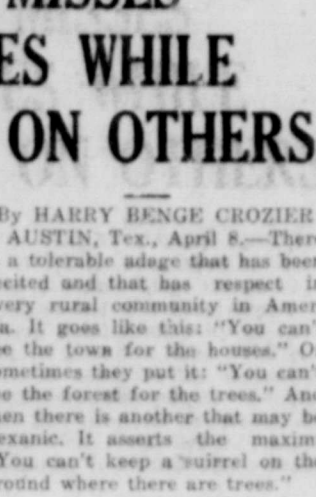

Oil purchased by the Ohio Oil Company in this area has been handled through the Illinois Pipe Line Company.

Let's Reconsider

Looking at Edna Lais, 19-year-old daughter of Admiral Alberto Lais, Italian embassy naval attaché in Washington, it might seem the U. S. was hasty in asking her father's recall.

New Approach To Safety Lights Made For a Blackout

MIDDLETOWN, Conn.—An Austrian refugee, Gerald J. Holton, now a senior at Wesleyan University, has constructed a street-lighting device for air-raid "blackouts" that he believes is superior to those now in use in England.

Holton said the present lights in Britain give a visibility comparable to starlight, which he contended was not sufficient for safety. He cited the fact that one thousand pedestrians a month were being killed in England by automobiles.

Holder of an engineering certificate from Oxford, Holton explained his blackout device makes streets appear dark from above while having enough light to guide street traffic and permit rapid filling of air-raid shelters.

Holton was born in Berlin of Viennese parents and reared in Vienna. He went to England in 1938 and went through Oxford in two years. He left for America the day Italy entered the war. His ambition is to teach, because "it is one's duty to try to preserve values in chaotic times as these."

Roosevelt Pledges Aid to Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Roosevelt, in a message to King Peter II of Yugoslavia, today pledged his determination to give the embattled Balkan nation material war aid under the lend-lease act.

No Trouble Seen At Bomber Plant

FORT WORTH, April 8.—Labor leaders and construction officials here today said they believe Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was "talking through his hat" when he charged that labor agitators were "camping here" to retard building of a giant bomber factory.

There is this important difference in the technique employed by the contending forces. Two years ago the members who would not be whipped into line by the persuading voice and the letters from home gave vent to their feelings in personal privilege speeches that were just popping words sounded off in a vaulted chamber before a few persons and carried on to a few hundreds of thousands in printed words. They were answering a voice beloved by millions. This year legislators are turning the other cheek again. The 1939 situation turned out for the governor had political effect.

Mrs. Tully Official Hostess To Student Leaders At Denton

Student government leaders met at Texas State College for Women at Denton, April 4-5 for the annual convention of the Texas Student Government Association and Mrs. Edith Tully of Eastland was an official hostess to the group.

Discussing democracy on the college campus and student government problems, delegates attended a series of meetings and clinics. V. I. Moore, dean of student life at the University of Texas, was the principal speaker of the two-day meeting.

JUGOSLAVIA MAY BE ALMOST CUT IN TWO BY DRIVE INTO NISH AND SKOPLJE SECTORS

GREEKS INFLICT ONE SEVERE DEFEAT UPON GERMAN COLUMNS CAUGHT IN NARROW GORGE BETWEEN CROSS FIRE

Adolf Hitler's southeastern Blitzkrieg cut through the narrow finger of Macedonia today, severing communications between Greece and Turkey and threatening to smash the Vardar Valley route between Greece and Yugoslavia.

Unconfirmed reports from Budapest, Hungary, said the Germans had smashed their way into Nish and Skoplje, chief centers in South Central Yugoslavia. This news would put the Germans astride the main north-south Yugoslav railroad in a position to drive quickly north against Belgrade, 125 miles away.

Occupation of the two towns almost cut Yugoslavia in two. There still is no authentic account of how the fighting is progressing along Yugoslavia's northern and central eastern frontiers. But reports from the south showed a major Nazi threat was building up fast in the mountains at Crozer, where Greece and Yugoslavia meet.

Workers Urged To Get Their Numbers For Social Security

ABILENE, Texas.—During the next twelve months thousands of additional workers will be required to carry on the defense projects now under way and in contemplation throughout the nation. There will be a heavy demand for machinists, mechanics, carpenters, and other skilled laborers, as well as common laborers, it was pointed out in a statement by Mr. W. O. King, manager of the Abilene office of the Social Security Board.

"Every worker entering a new job should apply immediately for a social security account number provided he does not already have one," King said. He emphasized the statement that the age of the worker makes no difference; he should have the social security account number regardless of whether he is 20 or over 70 years of age.

It was further pointed out by Mr. King that many women workers may replace men who are now employed in stores, offices, and factories. They should secure social security account numbers just the same as male workers, and, if possible, should get them before entering upon a job. Women workers are classified just like men, receive the same credits, and get the same benefits. The same law applies to women as to all other workers.

Social security account numbers may be secured over the counter at any field office of the Social Security Board, or by securing Form SS-5 from any post office. After filling in the blank properly, mail it to the Abilene Social Security Board office at 200 Alexander Building.

Missing Bomber Seen Taxing To Station

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The Navy Department was advised today that an airplane, "apparently the missing PBV-1 bomber with 10 men aboard" had been sighted on the water, taxiing toward the coast guard station near Atlantic City, N. J.

Ford Strike To Go To Mediation Board

The week old Ford Motor Company strike was reported today to be prepared for submission to the new defense mediation board, because a United States conciliator was unable to bring together the representatives of the company and the United Automobile Workers of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

End of Appeasement Road — a Bullet

Count Paul Teleki trod the road of appeasement, unwillingly no doubt, hesitating and driven by the whips of necessity. At the end, as a proud man, he found there was nothing for his country but subjection, nothing for himself but a bullet.

Americans know little and care little for Hungarian politics as such. But Teleki's career is such an object lesson that it is worth study by anyone who loves freedom.

He was a proud man, Count Teleki, born in Budapest of an ancient and noble family. He served the Austro-Hungarian monarchy as a soldier on the Serbian and Italian fronts. After the war he helped to put down the Bela Kun Communist regime and to re-establish a real Hungarian independent state. He was personally fearless, and once walked unarmed up to a barricade concealing reactionary officers in revolt, demanded their surrender, and got it. He resolutely put down attempts to restore the monarchy. He was a scholar, and sought to retire to scholarship. He watched, as in 1938 and 1939, his government draw closer to Germany, seeking thereby to grab off its safety pieces of Ruthenia and Carpatho-Russia to which it felt entitled.

In early 1939 he was recalled to the premiership. With German help, Hungary finally got Transylvania, its slice of Rumania. By November of last year, Hungary's envelopment by the German colossus was such that it had no choice but to adhere to the Axis. At last came the reckoning. The orders came from Berlin: "You will now join in the attack on Yugoslavia!"

Teleki was a proud man and a brave man. In January of this year he had still been making pleas for "an independent Hungary," urging his people to "be unflinching Magyars, not be defeatists, not bow down in defeatism to anybody or anything."

But it came to be April, 1941, and his "independent Hungary" was ordered to make war on friendly peoples to serve the ambition of Berlin. World War and internal revolution had not daunted this man but this was somehow different.

Count Paul Teleki saw that the end of the road had come—the end of the independent Hungary he had served, the end of the road for him. He looked briefly into the muzzle of a pistol just before he died.

Many less prominent men in many countries have done the same, when they have found, as they all find sooner or later, that at the end of Appeasement Road there is death.

in the 1940 campaign. It could be that he is turning a political lathe to contrive an implement to be used in 1942.

There is resentment and restlessness among the legislators. Their restraint may not endure until the end of the session. Unquestionably, ears are bending homeward and members are reading their mail.

A representative who has voted consistently for the governor's appropriation bill told a critic the other day: "I'm a little ashamed of my vote for such an unstatesmanly act up here, but I'm danged proud of it down home."

Meanwhile, there are other and perhaps more important matters of legislation in the balance down here. There is a $30,000,000 tax bill nearing the floor in the Senate. The road bond assumption bill concerned with the disposition of millions of dollars of highway revenues now is up to the Senate. But it appears that wherever there is a microphone Governor O'Daniel will take to it—and when he does, it usually is for one fell purpose.

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

YESTERDAY: Bee sees the world she has earned in love crashing. She turns Clarence for calling in. The morning papers contain the news that the kidnaping of Toby and Vera had been solved. Surely they will recognize her. When they do not, she decides they have known her all the time, that they are just waiting to see what she will do.

BIG IDEA IS STOLEN

CHAPTER XXVI
WHAT'S the matter with you, Bee? Vera asked, as Beatrice rose from the table. "It's nothing," she said matter-of-factly. There was such a matter-of-factly in her tone, such a serene absence of undercurrent, that Beatrice knew at once she'd been wrong. These girls had not the faintest inkling of suspicion.

She must compose herself! She went into the bedroom, taking the maid with her. "Why don't they?" she asked herself. "There I am, and—? she looked into the mirror. "There I am again!"

But something in the mirror arrested her. She examined the face of the front page.
"It is different."

She stared hungrily into the mirror. "It's thinner, that's what it is. I've lost that superior, haughty look. And—and I'm not morose any more."

In the photograph, she had been finished, assured, the glittering product of a deft hairdresser's art, superb make-up, a gifted model.

"And now, in this store dress, with my hair all wrong and my eyes . . . now I'm just another girl. I haven't had a facial in weeks. I've used up my expensive sticks. I've given up mascara, lipstick, freckle pads when I'm down. . . Her eyes smarted. "I've changed. I'm not me any more."

She knew a bewildering stab of pain. Then she thought, "Toby's right, it's easy to be beautiful when you have lots of money."

She understood now the savage contempt of the girls in the store against the well-fed, rested, exclusively served customers who kept them in the main floor. She understood why they said, "What's that dame lot that I haven't!"

No, Toby and Vera had not been blind, this morning. They might have noticed some fleeting resemblance, but probably even that as fantastic. When you looked at Beatrice Huntington Davenport's picture, you simply didn't think of Bee Davis.

"I'm Bee Davis. Just another girl." King Davis doesn't advocate "the road" for a career, even though next year he will celebrate his golden anniversary of rodding and hobnobbing. As a lad of 16, Davis ran away from his Chicago home to peddle papers through New York's Bowery.

"I'm against this wander lust," he said. "A rolling stone doesn't gather moss, see? It gathers mud and an awful lot of clinkers. The road is no place for anyone. The home is still the cornerstone of American society."

The migrant workers have a part in the war program, too, and Davis estimated that "counting the Australians, Canadians and British, there are a little more than 200,000 hoboes engaged in war activity right now. And we have at least 30,000 in the army, navy and marine corps of the United States—with many others working in ammunition factories."

"Of course, we aren't fighting so much to make the world safe for democracy, but rather to make the world—and America—safe for occupancy."

"You can see that the national defense program has enlisted the aid of hoboes by just riding the rods," Davis said. "There are fewer hoboes on the road now."

pretty, hard-working girl. Any girl?"

SHE was very silent, going to work with Toby. On the subway, every third person was reading about the kidnaping. Yet no one looked up from the paper to catch a fugitive likeness in the face of the girl across the aisle.

In the store, everybody was talking about the kidnaping. Even Miss Dane joined in. "It just goes to show you, being rich is no bed of roses. I'm glad Mr. Huntington's not alive to go through it. He thought the sun rose and set in that girl."

"Did you ever see her?" Beatrice asked.

"Once, when she was a little girl. He took her through the store. She had on a white bunny coat." The coat had been ermine, Beatrice remembered it sharply. She'd been 10 years old in "It just goes to show you, being rich is no bed of roses. I'm glad Mr. Huntington's not alive to go through it. He thought the sun rose and set in that girl."

"After an hour or two, Budget Fashions settled down to the business of selling dresses. I'm sure waited on customers, and the back of her mind there was a numbered wonder. Suppose she'd really been kidnaped? Who would care, would really grieve, except Clarence? "And he can always go back to Miami Frothingham!"

Mr. Weeming might care. He was fond of her, beneath his constant disapproval. "But who else?" No one. No one at all. The store wouldn't change. It would go right on the way Bruce Sheldrake and the trust company wanted it to go.

"Yet, if I disappeared as Bee Davis—" her eyes sought Anthony's, and he smiled at her over the head of a woman he was talking to. "Why, Bee Davis is more important than Beatrice Davenport! Toby would miss me, and Vera. Even Terry's loathsome wit might fall him, for a while. Miss Dane would care, I know she would! And Getzie. And Miss Ryan."

In six short weeks, she had made a warm place for herself in many hearts. "I had no money, no job, nothing but the clothes on my back. They don't know where I came from, or anything about me. But they like me. They love me. How wonderful that there were people in the world who could take a lone girl to their hearts, that way! "I was poorer when I was rich," she thought.

BUT sooner or later, if the papers kept on printing pictures, there'd be one picture that must check. Beatrice knew that. Despite the difference, someone must see. "Besides, the government men are searching for me."

King Davis doesn't advocate "the road" for a career, even though next year he will celebrate his golden anniversary of rodding and hobnobbing. As a lad of 16, Davis ran away from his Chicago home to peddle papers through New York's Bowery.

"I'm against this wander lust," he said. "A rolling stone doesn't gather moss, see? It gathers mud and an awful lot of clinkers. The road is no place for anyone. The home is still the cornerstone of American society."

The migrant workers have a part in the war program, too, and Davis estimated that "counting the Australians, Canadians and British, there are a little more than 200,000 hoboes engaged in war activity right now. And we have at least 30,000 in the army, navy and marine corps of the United States—with many others working in ammunition factories."

"Of course, we aren't fighting so much to make the world safe for democracy, but rather to make the world—and America—safe for occupancy."

"You can see that the national defense program has enlisted the aid of hoboes by just riding the rods," Davis said. "There are fewer hoboes on the road now."

They'll trace me. They have ways. They're so clever at finding people!"

She had to call the hunt off. It was her last morning in Budget Fashions.

She looked at Miss Ryan, who must stop work next month. "I'll send her baby clothes and a crib and lots of things."

She looked at Miss Getz. "I'll arrange that pension."

But she grew cold, looking at Anthony. "Will it mean the end of our love? Must it? Oh, how can I explain to him? How can I show him that I had to do it?"

Budget Fashions had never been dear to her, yet, in that moment, she wanted to gather it all up and hold it close to her heart. She wanted to keep all these girls for friends, she wanted to go on listening to the intimate details of their lives, she wanted to be just Bee Davis, another girl like themselves, instead of the heiress who was buying herself out of the store.

She'd never go back to Clarence, no matter what happened! "I don't want to even see him! I want is Anthony! Oh, how will I tell him!"

AMAN came into the department. A heavy man in a brown suit who stood beside a dummy in a lace dress and surveyed the department with shrewd, narrowed eyes.

"He's looking for me!" The humiliation of being trapped before she ended the masquerade herself crushed her. She shrunk behind a rack of dresses, "I must get out of here!"

But Miss Getz, bumping into her, said, "Look at that." The man had taken out a tape measure. "They're going to put new carpet down. First thing we know, they'll be modernizing all over. . . Her tone was thoughtful. When they modernized upstairs, they'd shove her down here. Now where could she go?"

Beatrice squeezed her hand, in an ecstasy of relief. "Don't worry, Getzie."

Anthony was standing at the wrapping desk, watching the men measure for the carpet. "I've seen went up to him. "First word about this."

"Yes," he ripped out. "First I heard, too. But Miss Dane just explained it. They're redecorating the department so they can use the idea!" His voice was bitter.

"Only, it has been reborn as the merchandise manager's bright little brain child!"

other-clogging matter. This is necessary because the modern radiator has been reduced in size, yet must do a much greater job of cooling, and clogging can dangerously reduce its efficiency. "Equally important in cooling modern motors with their close-fitting, precision-made parts and greatly increase operating temperatures is correct motor oil. "Winter motor oil is thin and not suited for adequate lubrication under summer operating temperatures. Correct summer-weight oil has a heavy body and can absorb much more heat without danger of breaking-down. "The need for correct lubrication is equally important for other working parts of a car, such as the transmission and differential. The transmission gears still transmit power from the motor to the drive shaft, regardless of how the gears are shifted, and the differential gears still supply this power to the wheels. "Both are vital points that need servicing with fresh lubricants in the spring to prepare them for summer driving conditions. "There are too many working parts of a car to describe the lubrication needs of each one. It is not necessary for motorists to know all of these parts because they get them all serviced by stopping at a friendly Magnolia Dealer for complete Summerize Service. "Magnolia Dealers throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico and Louisiana are co-operating in a sixty-day campaign to remind motorists that their cars need and deserve the "fresh start" that Summerize Service gives them. "In more ways than one you're safer getting health than wealth. No one tries to borrow it. "It's always easy to tell on which side your bread is buttered. Just drop it on the carpet.

PITTSBURGH.—Jeff Davis, one of the Hoboes, has added their "week"—a "Hobo Week" that Americans who are getting soft," can go out and rough Hobo Week," Davis proposed, and be held May 10 to 17, at the International Itinerant Hobbies Union, Hoboes of America, will stage its 33rd convention at Jersey City, N. J., six years ago, Davis was electing of the Hoboes of America.

During Hobo Week, everyone old forget his life of comfort and spend at least one night during that week roughing it a hobo," Davis said.

That's the trouble with America these days—we're getting too soft. Let's forget the sugar in the life for a day and eat thousand-plate (dish of beans), and it would do some good, to sleep on the floor for a night or get into your old clothes and sleep in a lodging house."

Popular Radio and Pulpit Evangelist of Texas and New Mexico says Hoyt's Compound Ended Torcher From Stomach Trouble.

Evangelist John R. Denning, 1904 26th St., Lubbock, Texas, says: "I was tormented for years with a stomach disorder caused by overwork. Nervousness and caused a contracted condition in my stomach, and I couldn't eat for as long as 72 hours at a time. I had headaches and severe spells of nausea. "But since taking Hoyt's Compound, I can eat comfortably, my headaches have gone, and I feel a great deal better. I enjoy my meals now as I haven't been able to do for years. I am well, though I still speak from once to five times a day, just as I did before." Evangelist Denning's constant mission in life is to help others, so why not be guided by his important statement? Try Hoyt's today! Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Texas Drug Store and by all leading druggists everywhere.

City Commission To Determine Date For A Runoff Election

The Ranger City Commission will meet in regular session tonight, it was announced today by E. T. Eubank, city secretary, at which time the date for the runoff election will be set.

The city charter provides that where a candidate for any city commission post does not have a majority vote in the city election that a runoff election must be held not less than 10 days or more than 20 days after the returns are canvassed. At the commission meeting Tuesday, April 10, at the close of the city election held that day the election returns were canvassed by the city commission. Mayor Hall Walker, Water Commissioner J. J. Kelly and Finance Commissioner Edw. J. George, Jr., were unopposed and were declared elected. L. H. Flewclen was elected fire and police commissioner and a run-off between Calvin Brown, former street commissioner and V. V. Cooper, Jr., must be set.

Behind the speaker's table climaxed the patriotic decorations. J. J. Kelly was the guest speaker of the evening and very appropriately and forcefully reminded those present of all the advantages and opportunities they enjoyed by being Americans.

Rev. R. C. Edwards of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation and benediction and L. R. Pearson Jr., acted as toastmaster for the evening. Musical selections included a baritone solo by Raymon Bryan, a vocal solo by Mary Ann Jones and a saxophone solo by Elbert Masten.

The success of the affair was due to the efforts of Mrs. H. C. Croom, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and Mesdames Cele, Rex, Pearson, Oyster, Mathena, Deaton, P. J. Reon, Jones, Hamrick, Periste, J. Roberts, Faircloth, and others, who in any way donated their services.

Also deserving credit are the Southern Ice Co., Piggly Wiggly Grocery, Ranger Bakery, Texas Drug Co., Ranger Times, C. P. Hartnett and the Board of Stewards of the Methodist church for use of the church.

Church of Christ Revival Drawing Good Attendance

The meeting being conducted at the Church of Christ of Ranger started off with fine interest, it was reported today, with the early morning services being well attended by business men who can attend before going to work.

Services are conducted each day at 7 a. m. and at 8 p. m. Paul Stevens of Victoria is doing the preaching at the services, and is bringing inspirational gospel messages. He has been minister of the Church of Christ in Victoria for two years, and because of the splendid work he has done in the church there he was selected to bring the messages at the Ranger church's revival, it was stated by members of the local church.

The public is issued a cordial invitation to attend either the morning or evening services.

Pentecostal Church Plans Two Services

Elder W. D. Albin will be at the Rocky Point Pentecostal Church, two miles north of Ranger on the Caddo Road, Thursday night, April 19 for services, it was announced here today.

Elder Albin is pastor of the Full Gospel Church of Fort Worth and is prominent in Pentecostal circles as a minister. He will preach Thursday night from a chart showing world conditions from a Biblical standpoint.

Friday night the Southern Vocational and Bible School, located between Cisco and Rising Star, will have a program at the Rocky Point Church.

The public is invited to attend both services.

Wildlife Show Will Be Shown Locally

T. C. Williams, county school superintendent, will conduct a free picture show, under the auspices of the Ranger Home Demonstration Club, at the Young School Friday evening, April 25, at 7:30. The film will show wildlife of Texas.

Frank Etheridge, game warden for this section of the country, will be present to aid in presenting the show and to answer any questions about local wildlife.

The public is invited to attend, and no admission will be charged.
