FBI Shows Fiery Pencil, Hot Cotton

An incendiary bomb disguised as a pencil, above, and exploding gun cotton, right, were two of saboteur's weapons exposed by D. J. Parsons, FBI technician, in New York demonstration. Pencil contains ordinary lead, and also capsules of acid and incendiary powder, which flame up when mixed. Small piece of gun cotton, like that on table explodes so fast when burned it does not hurt the hand.

RISE IN STRIKES HAS CAUSED A BOTTLENECK IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

The total number of man-days lost from strikes in the first three months of 1941 was more than three and one-third times as great as the figure for the same quarter last year, a study by the National Association of Manufacturers showed today.

The comparative figures were 3,022,918 man-days lost in January, February and March of this year; 905,000 for the same three months of 1940. Defense industry strikes showed a sharp increase in March over February.

"Strikes in strategic industries are a major bottleneck in defense production," the Association stated in releasing its analysis.

The first six months of actual defense production—the latter half of 1940—were accompanied by a 64 per cent increase in loss from strikes, the study revealed. The figures were broken down as follows: During the first six months of 1940, 202,000 workers lost 2,469,000 days by strikes; in the second half of the year, the figures were 373,000 workers and 4,031,000 days lost.

Meanwhile, it was stated, manufacturing was up only seven per cent, and manufacturing production increased 12 per cent.

Thus, it was pointed out, for each day lost from strikes in the first quarter of 1940, there were more than three days lost in the same period of 1941. And 64 per cent more man-days were lost in strikes, in the single month of March, 1941, than were lost in the first quarter of last year.

Berlin Warns U. S. Of Using Convoy Plan

BERLIN, April 29.—Germany's spring offensive against Great Britain was reported today to be moving with increasing momentum and the Nazi press bluntly warned the United States that naval protection for British convoys would have "but one effect—rapid sinking of American vessels."

LEGISLATURE APPEARS CALM BUT TURBULENT TIMES ARE IN OFFING

BONDS, STAMPS FOR DEFENSE TO GO ON SALE

By HARRY BENGE CROZIER
AUSTIN, Tex., April 29.—A bystander could never get the idea this week in Austin that the state is confronted with one of the most sensational political contests in a fairly turbulent political history. Insofar as the two Houses of the legislature is concerned, the senatorial race that impends is distinctly taking a bad second place to legislative matters.

The United States Defense Savings Bonds and Postal Savings Stamps will be placed on sale in the main Post Office at the opening of business on Thursday, May 1, as part of the national effort to make America impregnable.

Postmaster A. E. Crawley announced today that plans are nearly completed for this community, along with thousands of others from coast to coast, to do its full part at the opening of the savings program.

Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, in a letter to Postmasters throughout the country, said that the help of local postmasters would be "a real service to the country."

The new Defense Savings Bond is similar to the familiar "Baby Bond," of which more than five billion dollars worth have been bought by more than two and a half million Americans since 1935.

A Defense Bond may be purchased May 1, or thereafter, for $18.75. In ten years, this bond will be worth $25.00. This is an increase of 33 1-3 per cent, equal to an annual interest return of 2.9 per cent, compounded semi-annually. Any time after sixty days from the date of purchase, the bond may be redeemed for cash, in accordance with a table of redemption values printed on the face of the bond.

To spread investments widely among all the people in America, a limit of $5,000 has been set on the amount of these bonds to be bought by any one person in one year. The bonds are in denominations of $25, $50, $100 and $1,000, all of which are sold for 75 per cent of their maturity value and all of which mature in ten years.

For larger investors who can afford to purchase up to $50,000 worth of bonds a year, the Treasury Department has issued two additional kinds of Defense Savings Bonds, but these will be sold only through banks and by direct mail from Washington, D. C. They are intended for associations, trustees and corporations, as well as individual purchasers.

For the smaller investor who wants to buy a Government Bond on an easy payment plan, the post office will have a new series of Postal Savings Stamps, at 10c, 25c, 50c, $1 and $5. Each purchaser of any Savings Stamp higher than 10c will be given, free of charge, an attractive pocket album in which to paste his stamps until he has enough to buy a $25 bond or one of higher denomination. Thirty million of these albums are now being prepared.

The cover design of the album is in color, featuring a United States battleship and an eagle bearing the American flag. On the back cover is a painting of the Minute Man statue by Daniel Chester French, which symbolizes the American citizen ever alert in defense of his country. The inscription is "America on Guard."

Secretary Morgenthau said that even a boy or girl who saved 10c to buy a Savings Stamp would help the national defense, by helping United States Savings Bonds now.

Confidence Vote Is Asked By Churchill

LONDON, April 29.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain told the House of Commons today that the government will seek a vote of confidence upon its action in sending troops to Greece, and on other moves in the conduct of the war with Germany and Italy.

It would be foolish to assert that the political situation has not brought about a tenseness that one of these days and before long may break into splinters of anger and hate on the floor of one or both Houses. For the most part, however, members have themselves in control and they intend that nothing shall mar the serenity of the legislative scene. Indeed they have had much practice since January 13th ignoring the gubernatorial jibes that have attended the slow course of bills to levy taxes or appropriate monies for social security purposes.

The Senate worked arduously from Tuesday through Friday, putting the finishing touches on a tax bill calculated to raise a little more than $20,000,000 in new revenues annually. There were signs from the executive office that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel wanted even greater haste in the final passage of the bill and it was suspected that this desire for speed had something to do with his decision as to whether to offer himself as a candidate for vacancy in the United States Senate.

Ever mindful of the fact that citizens face new and heavy individual imposts from the Federal government for defense purposes, senators went about their task in solemn mien. The final handling of the Senate yet to encounter house scrutiny and more than likely an overhauling by a conference committee from both Houses, came through almost as it had been written by the Senate sub-committee on state affairs. There were minor concessions here and there but every major attack on the bill was repulsed by a comfortable working majority.

Both Houses are confronted with heavy decks of minor measures and there will be many overtime sessions between now and the middle of May but when the 120 days of the regular session have been concluded, all important measures, including tax and appropriation bills will have been sent to the governor.

Tension will be abated somewhat when the omnibus tax bill is sent to the governor and that should be well before the conclusion of next week. Then—and it matters not whether Governor O'Daniel is a candidate—keen interest will develop in the United States senatorial race. Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, and Representative Lyndon Johnson and Martin Dies are of years and physical well being equipped to put on as strenuous a drive as Texas ever witnessed and W. Lee O'Daniel is no weakling-boy sluggish of disposition.

One interesting political question has arisen. Will 10,000 national guardsmen now in training be permitted to vote in the election. Representative James Taylor has propounded the question to the Attorney General. The constitution denies a soldier of the United States the right to vote in a Texas election. The Supreme Court has held recently that men in the national guard may continue to hold public office under the state. Representative Taylor believes they likewise retain the right to vote.

Jones Says War May Mean Bigger Sacrifice Soon

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones warned today that defense programs of the United States and the British may require more sacrifice and cost than had been supposed by many because "this is almost certain to prove more than a battle of words and production."

He predicted that national debt would rise to more than $90,000,000,000.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY
N. I. Lott, charged with burglarizing the store of T. H. Key and son at Desdemona, was found not guilty by a jury in Judge Geo. L. Davenport's 91st district court Monday.

COAL STRIKE TO BE ENDED ON THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The United Mine Workers, an affiliate of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, announced today that production would be resumed in the nation's soft coal mines on Thursday morning.

The announcement came after more than three weeks of shutdown during negotiations for a new contract between miners and soft coal mine operators.

Southern operators, who had refused to agree to negotiations on the strike, agreed to end the 28-day shutdown and to start production immediately.

The soft coal shortage, due to the strike, was one of the causes for fear of a letup in defense production because of lack of fuel.

Blitz Is Speeded By a Greek Road Built By British

TULSA, Okla.—The high-flung highway into Greece through the Rupal pass from Bulgaria, used by Germany's blitzkrieg army was built by British engineers during the first World War.

One of the army engineers who helped build the twisting, narrow road back in 1917 will never forget what a job it was. He is William Dickinson, now a Tulsa school instructor. He was a "sapper," an explosive expert for the British Royal Engineers in the World War.

The mountainous terrain and with lowlands to make the job a nightmare, he recalled.

"For months, we blasted out the rock and slugged at the billions of mosquitoes. We sweated through an entire, hot Macedonian summer to clear the way for a big British push," he says.

"We had about a thousand Macedonian peasants working on the road with us."

"It's hot and its bad malarial country. Any army using the pass has a hard time of it."

Federal Prison In Texas Is Best at Producing Foods

LA TUNA, Tex.—La Tuna government-operated farm, 18 miles north of El Paso, a unit of the federal correctional institution, led all other federal prisons in the production of food during 1940 according to prison reports.

Warden T. B. White, directing officer of the institution, credited the sunny Southwest climate and the "well-trained employees" of the farm.

La Tuna produced almost all of the root and leaf vegetables the government figures are necessary for the proper diet of inmates, and was the only federal farm to produce a great variety, the report showed.

The average per capita production of vegetables, exclusive of potatoes, per day, was 1.06 pounds.

Chief products raised include alfalfa for the farm's dairy, corn for its hogs, carrots, beets, beans, spinach, turnips and a number of others.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The War Department today accepted the resignation of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as a member of the United States Army Air Corps Reserves. War Department officials refused to comment on the action.

Scarcely an hour prior to the action White House Secretary Stephen Early said that Lindbergh's resignation request "leads me to wonder whether he is returning the decoration given him by Adolf Hitler."

BATTLES IN AIR, SEA, AND ON LAND TAKE ON NEW BLITZKRIEG TEMPO

Britain and Germany maintained a battle of big guns, airplanes, armored units and warships today on the scattered battlefields from the English Channel to Egypt.

The sudden blitz tempo of the warfare blazing along the Straits of Dover and South English Coast attracted attention to the "invasion pattern" followed by Adolf Hitler in recent hammering of British naval bases, while reports coming through London renewed speculation on the possibility of a Nazi drive toward Gibraltar as well as toward Suez.

Whether Hitler was starting an all-out battle on several fronts or was feinting to hide a major blow at England or at British power in the Mediterranean was uncertain. But the rumble of war shook the south coast of Britain with greater fury than at any time since last fall.

For the fourth time in a week German planes pounced upon the great British naval base at Plymouth with such fury that it seemed they were determined to wipe it out. The raid appeared to be tremendously destructive at Portsmouth, Herwick and other cities which were attacked.

In the early morning German long range planes on the French coast began dropping shells on the Dover area. The bombardment mounted in intensity throughout the morning and British guns replied as the duel went on.

During the exchange of shellfire Royal Air Force planes flashed over the 45-mile-wide English Channel to meet an attack by 100 German planes and drove the enemy back after a sharp air battle.

The King home is at 1310 Peach street.

The Music Will Come Again

On Easter Sunday in Greece (the Greek Orthodox Easter) an American correspondent, weary and worn with two days of retreat with the Greek and British armies, climbed a high plateau in the plain of Thessaly and... there found a bucolic loveliness, heard the tinkling of bells of hundreds of sheep and the notes of a flute played by an aged, wrinkled shepherd sitting under a tree." Pressed for an opinion on the war, the old man said he had none, "and sadly went back to his flute-playing."
There is something eternal about Greece. Byron was not the only one who "dreamed that Greece might still be free." Greece shall be free again and the old man, piping his flute on a plateau in Thessaly, has a greater permanence there than any driver of a Nazi tank.

Does it look dark for Greece, for the world, for freedom? Perhaps it does. Yet go back a year. The British were then withdrawing from the fiasco in Norway. The fall of France was only weeks away, and there were people then who gave Britain only weeks to live. Yet Britain lives, and in the midst of the Greek tragedy, an old man can still pipe upon a mountain-top.

Did Yugoslavia fall? Yes, but Yugoslavia almost fell without a struggle, by the signing of a paper. It has cost Hitler more than that, and in conquering it he has incurred hatreds not easily quelled.

Has Greece fallen? Yes, but it has cost Hitler thousands of his finest youth. Last October, it looked as though Greece might fall within a few weeks to the Italians. Yet six months later both Mussolini and Hitler are paying a price for Greece—a heavy price to create one more house of hatred to be policed and held under by armed force.

Strongly and more strongly comes the realization that the struggle that shakes the world is no mere business of battles won and quick blitzkriegs, but a long grinding struggle which may consume years. For, just as modern war is a war on civilians and peoples, and not merely of armies, so conquest implies not only the beating of armies but the beating of peoples, the breaking or remolding of their spirit and their soul.

In this sense, Hitler has not yet conquered a single country, though his legions have achieved (at a price) many victories. His panzer divisions may drive Greek riflemen before them, but the shepherd is unconquered.

In every conquered country in Europe the people remain forever unconquered, because there is something within them that must remain forever free.

Britain must now pay a 50 per cent income tax. Bad. But look at France. It now pays a 100 per cent outgo tax. Advertising man calls for an aristocracy of brains. Ought to be easier to find than the brains of an aristocracy.

The Lone Eagle is getting lonelier every day.

Salad Season Is Here So Recipes Are Timely Now

It's open season on salads now. That means homemakers who like variety in their menus will be interested in several types of salad dressing to add flavor and zest to raw vegetable salads, salads made from fresh or home-canned fruits, cheese and egg combinations.

Some salad dressing recipes are given below:

Thick French Dressing
1 cup oil
1-2 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon mustard
1 tablespoon sugar
3 teaspoons paprika
1 teaspoon gelatine
Mix dry ingredients; add oil and vinegar. Beat thoroughly. Put the gelatine in 1 teaspoon cold water and dissolve in 2 teaspoons boiling water. Cool; add dressing. Beat thoroughly about 15 minutes and allow to stand until a good emulsion is formed.

French Dressing
1 can tomato soup
1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup vinegar

Mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoon sugar
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1 to 1 1-2 cup salad oil
2 tablespoon vinegar
1 egg
Mix all dry ingredients, add egg and beat slightly, add oil, starting with a small amount at first, and beat vigorously until the mixture thickens. As soon as it begins to thicken add vinegar, then continue with oil, adding in larger amounts and beating after each addition.

Red Cross Seeks 1,000 U. S. Doctors To Aid Britain on Far-flung Front

Above, Britain's long lines of defense, crosses marking points where American doctors will serve. Right, a Royal Army Medical Corps physician, treating an emergency case, wears the uniform which American doctors may choose to wear in serving Britain.

Washington, D. C.—Out of the agony of bomb-ravaged Britain has come an appeal for American doctors.

Britain's request is being met. Already the American Red Cross, acting for her sister society in England, has carried the appeal to the nation's medical profession. Up to 1,000 American doctors will be needed by the British Red Cross to supplement the hard-pressed corps of doctors engaged in saving British lives from London to Singapore.

American Red Cross workers who have been in England since the outset of hostilities report the need is acute. Formerly a nation at war needed doctors to treat the sick and wounded on the battle front. Today, with aerial bombardment of civilians, Britain finds her doctors fighting against desperate odds.

American doctors will report to the British Red Cross where they will be allowed to choose service either in the Royal Army Medical Corps or in the civilian Emergency Medical Service, the valiant corps of physicians assigned to home defense.

Their service will be for one year, but if at the end of that period they wish to continue, they will be eligible for promotion. To be eligible for service with the RAMC, doctors must be 40 or younger, while the EMS will accept men up to 45.

Despite the cruel aspects of all-out hostilities, American physicians answering Britain's appeal will be protected by the Red Cross Treaty of Geneva, a 77-year-old international agreement still in force on the battlefields.

American doctors, as far as possible, will be allowed to choose where they will serve—whether it be in London, Rangoon, the Middle East or any point of emergency along the far-stretched lines of British defense.

The appeal of the British Red Cross has the endorsement of the President of the United States, the Secretary of War and the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service. Those doctors subject to military training under our own flag are being given special consideration by the Selective Service.

Putter Around the Country Club

By A. Poor Putter

Did you ever hear of a city-wide golf league in a town the size of Ranger? No—neither have we, but with golf at fever heat out at the Country Club, we are about to organize just such a league.

The Elks have already formed a golf team as they have a number of members who also belong to the Country Club and play golf regularly. The Elks, led by the veteran H. H. Vaughn, can put forth such men as Mickey Sloan, Dr. Downtain, Pleas Moore, Earl Swoveland, Morris Leveille and Ray Snyder. We have been informed that the Gulf people are forming a team and we should hear from Glen West about this soon. It should be an easy matter for Lone Star to form a team, so we should have from three to five teams in our city golf league. Perhaps the Lions and Rotary Clubs could form a team.

It looks as though we'll have to take it up with the weather man about these rainy Tuesdays. The ladies have been rained out the last few ladies days—so we'll have to kick about this for the ladies' sakes.

And now since all golf was rained out over Saturday and Sunday spoiling the entire weekend, the weather man is not very popular around the Country Club. This also makes news scarce, but if—and when, it ever clears up—things will begin to hum out for President Larson is getting all lined up to complete the remodeling in a hurry.

C. of C. Directors Discuss Problems Of Oil Industry

Directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, in session Monday evening, unanimously endorsed the resolution of the West-Central Texas Oil and Gas Association, which was drawn up and adopted at a meeting in Coleman April 24, and which was run in the Ranger Times Monday.

The entire time of the meeting was taken up with a discussion of oil matters, and particularly the decision of the Ohio Oil Company to discontinue purchases in this part of the state. Attendance at a meeting of oil men at Eastland this afternoon was urged in order that plans might be made for securing another purchaser for this oil.

There were selected for submission to the city commission, from which the commission will elect a director to replace E. H. Flewellen, who has been elected police and fire commissioner, and who is due to take over the duties of that office early in May.

Texas Can't Save On It's Elections

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas will be unable to save money by holding the election for United States Senator at the same time proposed constitutional amendments are submitted to the people for a vote.

The senatorial election had to be within 90 days after Sen. Morris Sheppard's death on April 9 and a constitutional amendment election cannot be held within 90 days.

No resolution for an amendment has yet been acted upon finally by the state legislature, so none could be voted upon by the people by June 28—date of the senatorial election.

The delay on constitutional amendments is to give time for public acquaintance with the proposals. Each must be published once a week for four weeks commencing at least three months before the election is held. The publication must be in one weekly paper of each county where there is a newspaper published.
