BRITISH AND GERMANS ARE STILL BATTLING OVER ISLAND OF CRETE

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
U. P. Foreign News Editor

Germany's aerial army—disregarding terrific casualties—smashed out from the western tip of Crete in an offensive against the British defenders today as reinforcements continued to reach the vital Mediterranean island by air and probably by small boats.

The British and Greek troops fought back with "resolute courage" despite continuous dive-bomber attacks on the Malemi front, according to British communiques, and mopped up Nazi air forces that landed at other points, while the Royal Air Force destroyed at least 14 and damaged many other Junkers troop transport planes.

But at Berlin, the first high command communique to mention the invasion of Crete claimed that the Luftwaffe was in complete control of the air over Crete, that the western part of the island was held firmly and that reinforcements were arriving continually to press the Nazi offensive.

Other German sources viewed the invasion as a "dress rehearsal" for a future invasion of the British Isles.

The German air force was credited by the high command with having broken up the attempts of the British navy to intervene in the battle, sinking many warcraft, including three destroyers. The British, while expecting some naval losses, said only a few small boats appeared to have broken through the naval screen around Crete and that about 6,000 Axis troops were lost when one convoy was smashed.

Dispatches from both sides, however, appeared to confirm earlier indications that the battle was going against the British, for the moment at least, on the Malemi front, where the Germans made their greatest effort.

The Royal Air Force, driven from Crete by the overwhelming Luftwaffe attack, still was supporting the defense land forces, however, and British dispatches indicated that counter-blow fighters had done much to break up the Nazi offensive.

The Germans were estimated to have landed some 20,000 men on Crete but the British believed they had accounted for half of them and at last reports were still holding out in defense of Suda Bay, probably the most important single objective of the Germans on the island.

The swift development of the battle coincided with announcement in Rome that King Victor Emmanuel had escaped assassination during his visit to Albania on May 17.

Opinion Is Given On New Auto Tax By Gerald Mann

By United Press

AUSTIN, Texas, May 24.—Another opinion to interpret the applications of the new omnibus tax law was given to State Comptroller George Sheppard today by Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann.

The Attorney General ruled that the stock transfer tax does not apply to stocks and certificates transferred to an estate administrator or executor unless the administrator or executor "is likewise a beneficiary of the estate."

Concerning the automobile sales tax, the opinion said:

1. It shall not apply to machines rebuilt and registered by the builder.
2. The tax shall apply to radios, heaters or other accessories on the car at the time of sale.
3. On a repossessed automobile, no tax is due when title passes back to the lien holder.
4. An automobile bought by a non-resident in another state and brought to Texas after being operated in another state is not taxable.
5. The tax shall not apply to truck trailers and semi-trailers, but only to the price of the truck chassis.
6. Automobile licensed by motor companies for the use of company officials for business purposes are not taxable until actually sold.

PROPRATION TO BE THE SAME DURING JUNE

AUSTIN, Tex., May 24.—June oil production in Texas will be exactly the same as for May except for a 12-barrel per well reduction in Old Ocean field, Brazoria county, the Railroad Commission announced today.

Commissioners Jerry Sadler and Olin Culbertson said that the June order, to be issued Monday, will include nine shutdown days, which will have four. The daily average allowable will be 1,411,782 barrels, which less the customary 3.5 per cent allowance for under-production will give a daily output of 1,362,280 barrels.

The June allowable will be 9,420 barrels a day less than the market demand for Texas oil estimated by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Sadler and Culbertson said that the Old Ocean reduction was requested by operators in that field.

Average daily production in Texas for the week ending May 17 was 1,426,584 barrels.

The commissioners noted that the month's total output will be diminished because June, a 30-day month, will have 21 production days over the state except for the Panhandle, which will have 26 production days. May, a 31-day month, will have one more producing day than June.

Details of the order will not be available until Monday.

Germans Claim To Have Hold On Western Crete

BERLIN, May 24.—The German high command, in its first mention of operations against Crete, said today in a special communique that the western part of Crete was firmly in German hands.

The high command said the German air force had gained domination of the air over Crete. Previously, authorized quarters said, the high command had declined to even comment on the German invasion of Crete on the grounds that any mention would provide helpful information to the British.

Observers believed that today's special communique indicated belief by the high command that Germany would win the battle of Crete.

(During this week British Prime Minister Winston Churchill in London conceded German domination of the air over Crete when he disclosed that British Royal Air Force fighters had withdrawn from Crete because airfields on the island had been rendered unusable.)

Armament on the big British ship include eight 15-inch guns. Other arms include many smaller guns, torpedo tubes and anti-aircraft guns.

Grandmother Saves Child From A Fire

DALLAS, May 24.—A heroic grandmother who rescued her 20-month-old grand-daughter from a flame-swept kitchen was under treatment today for burns on the face and hands.

Mrs. Harry Bolton, 42, hearing an explosion in her kitchen yesterday, rushed into the kitchen and found her grand-daughter sitting in the wreckage. She scooped up the child and carried it to safety before it was burned.

The explosion of an oil-burning cook stove was blamed for the blaze.

Crazy Driver Was Really Insane Man

DALLAS, May 24.—City Judge Joe M. Hill has proof that some Dallas drivers conduct themselves like crazy people. Haled to court was a man against whom charges of negligent collision, driving on the wrong side of the street, running a red light, driving without proper brakes, and failure to have a driver's license were filed.

Judge Hill dismissed the charges when he learned the man was an inmate of the Austin State Hospital, an institution for the insane, and was on furlough.

Minister Charged In Automobile Death Of A Pedestrian

By United Press

HOUSTON, Texas, May 24.—Rev. Jerome A. Rapp, 50, rector of Sacred Heart Church here, was charged today before Justice of the Peace Tom Maes with assault by auto and failure to stop and render aid after an accident had critically injured Alec C. Roberts, 59-year-old night watchman.

The Reverend Rapp was released after $700 bond had been posted on the two charges. His examining trial was set for June 3 in district court here.

Roberts was struck early this morning while crossing a street. The driver of the car did not stop, witnesses said, and police later traced the automobile through its license number.

Taken to a local hospital, Roberts' condition was described as critical. He had suffered a fractured skull and right leg.

Old Jolopy On The Tracks Lands A Man In Fort Worth Jail

FORT WORTH, May 24.—Capt. Ed Lee and three other police officers were speeding to answer a "hot" burglary call. They came to a sudden stop when they reached a railroad crossing and heard the signal bell warning the approach of a train. They waited. Finally an old jolopy came rattling down the tracks. It horn honked smartly. The driver gave elaborate signals for a left turn.

Police today held a man on the drunken driving charges, who, officers said, felt fortunate he didn't hit the switch engine that followed him down the tracks.

Price Ceiling On Cotton Yarns Is 20 Per Cent Lower

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson today set maximum prices on combed cotton yarn, used in the manufacture of textiles, underwear, hosiery and other wearing apparel, at 20 per cent below figures now being quoted by the industry.

The price ceilings will be effective May 26 and will apply to all deliveries under old contracts as well as to new orders.

Prices on No. 30 single ply yarn, the largest volume grade, were set at a top of 42 cents a pound, as compared to 52 cents asked by the industry recently. Ceiling prices for all other grades were keyed to the number 30 yarn and bear the same relation as normally exists in the trade for the various grades, Henderson said.

He said that while there were no geographical price differentials, sales of special qualities of the combed cotton yarn may be made at premiums sufficient to cover raw material and manufacturing costs.

Henderson said that prices have been increasing for the yarn since 1938, when 30 cents was asked, and "have moved up steadily to the recent level of 52 cents."

"The ceiling prices established take full account of raw material and manufacturing costs at the present time," he said. "The mill margin for spread between cotton costs and yarn prices in recent weeks has been the highest for many years."

Price schedules previously had been established for iron and steel scrap, second-hand machine tools and on most secondary grades of metals used in the defense program.

Chairman Ellison D. (Cotton Ed) Smith, D., N. C., of the senate agriculture committee had threatened earlier this week to call Henderson before the group to explain his price-fixing authority if he established minimum prices for cotton yarn.

Henderson actually has no specific legal authority to fix prices, but has been seeking the cooperation of industry in the minimum prices which he has established.

President Roosevelt, with Henderson, is studying some legislation to give federal price-fixing orders legal status. In its present form, the legislative proposal would contain criminal penalties for violators of price orders.

Germans Launch Big Attack On Western Crete

By United Press

CAIRO, May 24.—German troops launched their main attack from their foothold on the western end of Crete at Malemi but suffered heavy casualties in a day-long battle with British forces, a general headquarters communique said today.

The empire troops fought with "resolute courage" in a fierce engagement that lasted all day, the communique said, and the Germans lost a high proportion of their troop-carrying planes.

Fighting at Malemi was intensive throughout Friday and the Germans also made "determined efforts" to reinforce their airborne troops at other points in Crete.

"At Candia and Retimo detachments landed by air were decisively dealt with," the communique said.

"Other parties," it added, "landed farther afield and are being mopped up by Empire forces, ably assisted by the Greeks."

Empire troops in the Malemi sector were intensively attacked all day Friday by German dive-bombers, it added.

Army Issues 16th And 17th Call For Additional Men

State Selective Service Headquarters today announced the Army's sixteenth and seventeenth calls on Texas' 351 local boards for 2,219 trainees to be delivered for induction during the period June 11 through June 19.

General J. Watt Page, State Director, said that 214 negroes have been selected to meet the sixteenth call on June 11, and on the seventeenth call 2,105 white men will be inducted between June 12 and June 19.

When these two calls have been completed, Texas will have 29,704 men in training under the Selective Service Act. Texas is credited with 825,429 men registered last October, and the quota assigned by the War Department for the first year of the program ending June 30 is approximately 85,312 trainees.

General Page said that Texas leads the nation in number of men furnished the armed forces. In addition to the 29,704 men called under the Selective Service, Texas has more than 80,000 men—all volunteers—serving in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, National Guard and Coast Guard.

Stroking the Dragon

Now in these days, when each new dawn brings a new sensation and no man knows what new situation he may face when he wakes in the morning, comes the possibility that Japan may back off and take stock of its China war. Bear in mind that this adventure began 10 years ago. Since that time Japan has been, if not always at war, always living under war conditions. Since July 7, 1937, the war has been continual; four years of an expensive foreign war, costly in manpower, in money, in morale. The Chinese have been beaten, steadily and repeatedly beaten, yet they have not been conquered. In one of the most heroic migrations of all history, they simply withdrew westward, to lay the foundations of a new China. Building from the bottom, a new nation has been created almost literally, which has fought on for nearly four years, unconquered.

Comes now the Japan Advertiser, an influential newspaper, which would scarcely dare to speak so without official sanction, suggesting that Japan give up some of the territory its military have gained in China, consolidate the rest, and seek peace. The task this paper proposes is no less than that "the Japanese army should prove that its presence in China means no encroachment on China's political and territorial integrity but instead means peaceful, friendly intentions." One hears a great deal about the "Oriental mind" and its subtleties. Perhaps it will be possible for the Japanese to prove to the Chinese their essentially peaceful intentions, though there are a million and a half Chinese dead, thirty million homeless, and fifty million who have had to make new homes in the interior. Their testimony may influence China's feeling about Japanese friendship.

Probably the Japanese newspaper's proposal is a trial balloon. But suppose the Japanese peace plan is a success. Suppose China agrees to stop fighting, yielding vast territories and concessions.

What, even then, would Japan have gained by 10 years of war on China? Simply the creation of a new, progressive, militarized westernized China as a neighbor, instead of the old, sleepy, disorganized, bandit-and-tradition-ridden pushover which was her neighbor in the past. Time and China can both wait to see just how great a gain this will have been for Japan in the long run.

Japan has awakened the sleeping dragon. It will not be easy, by stroking it, to lull it back to sleep.

Men will have their choice of 300 new straw hat models this summer—and then wear the one the wife picks.

Now is the time for all business men to take a good look at the last syllable in industry.

Oil Production Shows a Drop in Nation for Week

HOUSTON, May 24.— Domestic crude oil production dropped about 25,000 barrels below indicated daily market demand as estimated by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for the week ending May 24, according to the Oil Weekly magazine, which reported that output averaged 3,773,075 barrels daily for the week. Production had conformed almost exactly with demand during the previous week.

Output was 25,775 barrels daily below that for the previous week. In the eight prorated states, the report shows, production was about 10,000 barrels above estimated market requirements. Illinois, the Eastern and the Rocky Mountain states, however, produced approximately 37,000 barrels daily less than the markets would readily have absorbed.

The week's production trend, compared with last week's production: Texas 1,404,300 barrels daily, off 2,400; California, 621,700, off 17,700; Oklahoma 413,625, off 1,775; Illinois 322,400, off 5,600; Louisiana 319,600, up 6,300; Kansas 216,950, off 1,250; New Mexico 113,800, up 1,200; Eastern States 91,300, off 600; Mountain States 105,700, up 1,500; Michigan 88,100, up 500; Indiana 28,200, off 600; Arkansas 73,600, off 2,200; Mississippi 27,500, off 4,400; Nebraska 4,300, off 50 barrels.

4-H Club Girls "Talk" Curtains For the Bedroom

May meetings at the Ranger 4-H Club girls were spent in visiting frame gardens and discussing curtains suitable for the girls' bedrooms.

The Young Grade School club visited Patsy Hinman's garden. Patsy had her garden built with underground irrigation and was about ready to plant her garden. She had some very nice tomato plants growing in one end of her garden which she expects to transplant and sell. The girls also visited Mrs. Neal's garden.

Patsy also showed the girls how she and her mother had taken two iron beds and sawed off the head boards to make a more attractive piece of furniture. Patsy stated that after the beds were sawed down her room looked larger. From a large box in which a refrigerator had been packed, she had made a clothes chest. This club will have its June meeting on Wednesday, June 4 at nine o'clock at Patsy Hinman's home.

The Hodges club visited Marie Womack's frame garden. While there they ate fresh radishes from Marie's garden. Marie also had some mustard greens which she and her family were eating at meal time. Marie also showed the girls her brick play house which is equipped with stove, cabinets, tables, and chairs. In this house she uses her vegetables and tries out her own way of preparation.

The Hodges club will have a picnic in June at the city swimming pool. Each girl will bring her picnic lunch, attend the club meeting, and then go swimming if she desires. The meeting will be on Wednesday, June 4 at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, their sponsor, and Miss Alice Wheatley, assistant county home demonstration agent, will meet with the girls.

Senate Race

State's Attorney General Gerald Mann for the first time as "a non-professional politician who promised to give something, and the rest of the people that they would not have to pay for it."

The reference to O'Daniel was indirect. O'Daniel also was attacked by proxy for saying he "had got the job done" in taking credit for recently enacted laws.

"Governors do not pass laws; legislators do that," Mann said, sarcastically. "Governors have been known to urge transaction and sales tax laws, only to have legislatures pass omnibus tax bills."

Mann also resumed his innuendoes against "reckless attacks" on the fifth column by U. S. Rep. Martin Dies, saying that "the place to try foreign agents and mal-patriots is in the courtroom and not on the speaking platform."

A mimeographed itinerary released by Mann headquarters indicated he was paying much attention to the number of poll taxes sold in the territory he is covering. This sales record was printed opposite the name of each town and county.

Congressman Martin Dies, carrying his campaign to South Texas elements. His election to the U. S. Senate, he told a crowd at Alice, would be sending a message to the CIO to get rid of its communist leaders and stop strikes in defense industries.

BACK ROADS ARE "BOULEVARDS" TO THIS YEAR'S FORD!

ROUGH AND BUMPY ROADS are winning lots of buyers over to the big Ford car this year. Take a ride in one yourself and you soon see why!
The reason is a Ford ride that's new and really great. A soft, quiet kind of ride that you'd expect to find only in a high-priced car.
And while you ride, you can really stretch out and relax. In actual passenger space, this Ford tops its whole price field!
Now add to this the greatest engine in the low-price field. Add exceptional gasoline and oil economy as proved in this year's official Gilmore-Grand Canyon Economy Run. Add the biggest hydraulic brakes near the low Ford price. Add a lot of extra-quality fine-car details throughout the Ford car...
And we think you will agree that before anybody chooses a new car this year, he's just being wise when he drops around to talk "deal" with his nearest Ford dealer!
