RAYBURN RAPS CRITICISM OF LABOR EFFORT

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, in an unusual press conference statement, warned today that the American people are permitting the war effort to be hampered by a growing tide of criticism against management, labor and government.

Rep. Rayburn called newsmen into his office a few minutes ahead of the regular press conference time and announced he had a statement to make for the record.

He observed that on March 17 there were between 7,000,000 and 7,500,000 men in the United States at work in war industries and fewer than 100 on strike.

Rep. Rayburn was asked if he intended the statement to be interpreted as his being directly in opposition to the drastic Smith war labor bill, now before two house committees. He declined to have his statement expanded.

The speaker said that congress is being swamped by letters and telegrams from every section of the country, "not from Republicans and Democrats," but from the people.

Indignation meetings have been held and are being scheduled all through the nation, he said, which usually result in a mass of criticism of the efforts of management, labor and government in the war.

Four Army Planes Crash in a Storm

LIMA, Ohio, March 18.—Four United States Army pursuit planes, flying blind in a "terrific snowstorm" crashed and burned five miles east of Lima today.

The burning wreckage of one of the planes was found on the farm of Byron Hefner. Hefner and his wife reported that they heard the plane circling above their home and then it "suddenly nosedived."

At a nearby farm, one half mile east of the Hefner place, the wreckage of two planes was found. The remains of the fourth plane were found in a wooded area a mile south of the Hefner farm.

Staff Club Holds Regular Meeting

The Staff Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Bertha Hazard. Roll call was answered with "One Way I Plan to Improve My Yard."

Movement of Men in Armed Forces Is Strict Secret

Newspapers have repeatedly been warned not to publish movement of men in service, either in troop movements or individuals, from one camp to another, unless authorized to do so.

In "Censorship Bulletin No. 3" papers are also urged not to divulge such information over the telephone, unless positive of the identification of the person making the call, as this practice is often used by spies to obtain information.

"In the event the soldier or sailor in question has been transferred, give the enemy valuable information on American troop movements," the bulletin warns.

"It is suggested," the bulletin continues, "that publishers give the necessary instructions to all employees not to divulge any information whatsoever over the telephone or to persons who come into the newspaper office unless they properly identify themselves."

Because of censorship restrictions this paper does not publish, unless authorized, movements of any person in the armed forces, in order to prevent information being obtained by spies or fifth columnists.

WPA Labor Will Be Shifted To The Farms Of State

SAN ANTONIO.—No man or woman who can earn a living as a farm laborer will remain employed on a WPA project in Texas, H. P. Drought, state administrator, declared today.

"This year, with the inroad which has been made in the farm labor supply by the draft and defense industry employment, farmers are already anticipating shortages in many parts of Texas. This agency is on the alert more than ever to make every man and woman on our rolls instantly available for farm work."

WPA's Texas employment quota has been reduced this month to 52,500 workers in Texas and another 28,600 persons are destitute, unable to find jobs, and awaiting assignment to WPA projects, he reported.

"Every man and woman among these 82,000 persons who is physically able to make a living on a farm is available right now and will continue to be available as long as he or she is registered with WPA."

"All that a farmer has to do to get as many of these workers as he can use is to apply to any WPA administrative or supervisory official in his vicinity or the United States Employment Service representative in his county."

Declaring that it has been the well-known policy of the Work Projects Administration since its inception that no person can be given employment by WPA if he refused a reasonable offer of employment from any other source, Drought pointed out that entire projects have been shut down when necessary to furnish farm workers in the past and that this will be done at any time that the need for such action is demonstrated.

Mrs. Perkins Named On a Committee For Needy Families

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland has accepted a place on the Texas Citizens committee of the Navy Relief society of which Attorney General Gerald C. Mann is state chairman, and which is putting on a drive for $210,000 towards a national total of $5,000,000 for aid to families of the navy, marines, and coast guard personnel.

Mrs. Perkins accepted the committee membership at the request of Attorney General Mann.

Lieut. Robert Greely, one of the United States officers taken prisoner at Wake Island by the Japs, is a cousin of Mrs. Perkins.

New Registrants To Be Called By This Next Summer

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—None of the men whose order numbers were determined in last night's selective service lottery, is expected to be called to the colors before next summer, it was stated here today.

After that the new registrants are expected to be called considerably faster than the men now on the local draft board roster.

British Cadets Win American Friends

GUNTER FIELD, Ala.—The British flying cadets here have won the "lasting friendship of their American co-pilots by their generosity."

When, Lieut. F. E. Green, post librarian, needed some extra money to make certain books available to the cadets and enlisted men, he was at a loss as to where to get it.

LADIES GOLF GROUP MEETS ON TUESDAY

The Oil Belt Golf Association held its spring meet in Ranger Tuesday, with an all day meeting in which golf was featured, and with an afternoon tea topping off the day's activities.

The group, representing Breckenridge, Cisco, Brownwood and Ranger, met at 9 o'clock at the clubhouse, when matched play started.

Winners were listed as Mmes. T. J. Powell, H. T. Schooley, Carl Heinlin Joe Weatherly of Brownwood, Glenn West, Mrs. Bettis of Brownwood and Mensley of Cisco.

Mrs. Weatherly was medalist, Mrs. Heinlin won the handicap medal; Mrs. Morris of Brownwood won the driving contest and Mrs. Walter Davis won the driving contest in the second division.

At the business meeting Mrs. Heinlin introduced Mrs. Charles S. Sandler of Cisco, president of the association, who presided at the meeting. It was voted not to hold the invitation tournament, as previously planned, because of war conditions.

The next meeting of the association will be at Brownwood.

He Got a Free Ride Back Home

P. L. Patterson (col.) decided that he wanted to leave Eastland and go to Marshall. He also must have decided that it was too far to walk as he is accused of taking a bicycle along with him on which to ride. And no doubt fearing that he might become weary and want to rest enroute, he is also accused of taking a bed, some bedding and a number of towels.

The bicycle, bedding and other items Patterson is accused of taking, are claimed by Lilly Bell Jordan (col.) of Eastland, who declares that she did not give Patterson permission to take them with him.

In an effort to "straighten things out between Patterson and the Jordan woman" Sheriff Loss Woods went to Marshall, armed with a warrant, to bring Patterson back to Eastland.

Ex-Service Men Invited to Feed Thursday Night

W. O. Walker, Jr., post commander of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion, has announced an old fashioned "come-and-get-it" feed at the Legion Hall Thursday night of this week, to which the members of the post and all ex-service men are invited. Families of all ex-service men are also invited, and the Ladies Auxiliary of the post will be hostesses.

A good program has also been arranged for the evening, with Mrs. Mable Thompson of Breckenridge, a Legionnaire and nurse in World War I, furnishing a part of the program. "Don't miss this—it is good," the announcements sent to all Legionnaires reads.

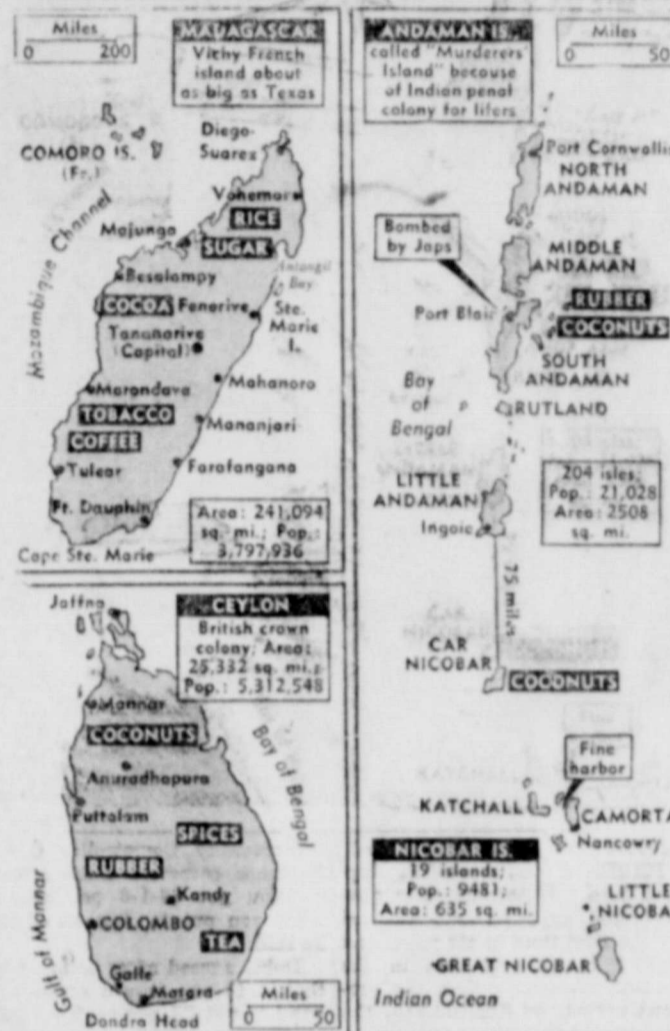

"Leave your pocket book at home," the letter continues, "and bring the whole family. Don't forget the date, Thursday night, March 19th, at the Legion Hall. About eight or eight fifteen will not be too late."

Most State Representatives Expected To Seek Re-Election This Year

By GORDON K. SHEAPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex. — Following the lead of most Texas office-holders, a majority of members of the House of Representatives is expected to seek re-election in this summer's campaign.

Only 57 Representatives of the 47th Legislature are holdovers from the 16th, when 93 new ones were elected, partly on the plea of W. Lee O'Daniel that he needed new men in the Legislature to vote money for social security.

Ten House seats now are vacant and they probably will not be filled unless a special session of the Legislature becomes necessary. That is NOT in prospect.

One of the 10, Rep. Taylor White of Odessa was killed in an automobile accident. Clayton Bray of Longview resigned to join the armed forces, and seven more resigned to take other work. Although not yet resigned, Rep. Leslie Lowry has been elected mayor of Beaumont.

Lon E. Alsop, experienced and well-liked blind legislator from Cartage, is seeking to be elected Panola County judge. He resigned from the Legislature to take a job with the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Other absentees are Woodrow Bean of El Paso, E. J. Cleveland of Ruda, P. L. Crossley of Eastland, Fagan Dickson of San Antonio, Fred Harris of Dallas, and Joe Skiles of Denton. Austin friends said that Crossley intends to run for Eastland County judge and Harris for Dallas County commissioner, at which he now is serving an unexpired term.

Word has come to Austin, officially or unofficially, that the following Representatives will not seek re-election:

Bruce Allen of Waxahachie, candidate for Ellis County judge; Lester Boone of Fort Worth, candidate for railroad commissioner.

E. A. Coker of Livingston, candidate for district attorney; Walter Ferguson of Overton, candidate for the Senate seat occupied by Joe Hill of Henderson.

The majority of the community was represented and signed pledges as Victory Demonstrators. County Supt. T. C. Williams presented three very interesting moving pictures, much to the enjoyment of all.

Man To Face Trial In Death Of Wife

CROCKETT, Tex., March 17 — Clifford T. Barnett, 34, goes on trial next Monday charged with the shotgun slaying of his wife, Julia.

It will be Barnett's second trial on the murder charge. The case was tried here last Fall and a jury failed to reach a verdict.

At the inquest after his wife's death Feb. 18, 1941, Barnett — the only witness to the shooting — testified he was cleaning his shotgun when it accidentally discharged a full load of bird-shot into his wife's back. He was held blameless then.

A month later, however, after certain evidence was revealed, Barnett, a chain store manager, was arrested and signed a statement admitting that he intentionally killed his wife.

At last Fall's trial, Barnett testified in his own defense that he was innocent, that the confession was signed by him only after he underwent several hours grilling and was threatened with bodily harm by two Texas Rangers who took him to Conroe for questioning.

Barnett is a native of Rising Star, Eastland county. A special venire of 100 has been summoned.

TWO U. S. SUBMARINES AND DESTROYER ARE LOST OR DESTROYED TO PREVENT CAPTURE BY THE ENEMY, NAVY ANNOUNCES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18. — United States and Australian warplanes sank or damaged 23 Japanese ships, including 12 warships, at the northern approaches to Australia, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur is preparing for a showdown battle in the Far Pacific, it was announced today.

The smashing aerial assaults, adding up to the greatest Allied air-sea victory of the war, claimed a two-for-one vengeance for the Japanese victory over the United Nations fleet in the Java Sea three weeks ago.

In the Java Sea battle the Allies lost 12 warships. The Navy Department communique today announced the shattering of 23 Japanese ships in New Guinea ports, which are expected to be "springboards" for the threatened invasion of Australia.

It also was disclosed that the United States Submarine Shark was missing for a month, and was presumed to have been sunk in the Far Pacific, and another submarine, the Sea Lion, had been destroyed to prevent its capture, and the damaged destroyer Stewart had been demolished in the dry dock at Soreboja to prevent its capture. The Stewart was an old, four stacker, of the World War period.

The 23 Japanese ships were sunk or damaged near the New Guinea ports of Salamona and Lae, on Australia's northern flank, in grim assaults of United States and Australian airmen, which were aimed at breaking the spearheads of Japan's sea-borne invaders.

Against the heavy toll of Japanese ships the Australian and American Air Forces lost but a single plane.

Six Japanese warships and five other ships were "sunk or probably sunk."

Two Japanese destroyers were "possibly sunk."

Four Japanese warships and six other ships were damaged.

Many small boats, probably motor boats, were sunk and three enemy seaplanes were shot down.

Four From County Are Enrolled In The Flying Corps

RANDOLPH FIELD, Texas. — Giving Texas the heaviest representation of a synthentation of any state with sons in Class 42-F at the West Point of the Air, 69 young Texans — of the same Bowie-knife swinging breed of 1836 Texans — are practicing up on their generation's most lethal weapon: the airplane.

In this history-making class, first to come to Randolph in the new olive drab uniforms, fifth wartime class to live in Cadet Barracks are these youths from Eastland County:

Eastland — Aviation Cadet William J. Peters, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Peters, 1501 South Seaman Street, Eastland, who was two years on the Oklahoma A & M rifle team, a student at Oklahoma A. & M., Stillwater, Okla., between 1938 and 1941.

Ranger — Aviation Cadet J. D. Letton, 22, son of Mrs. A. J. Letton, Route 3, Ranger, was a member of the college chorus at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, in 1941.

Rising Star — Leaving his office of City Attorney of Cisco behind him, Aviation Cadet Clark F. Roberts, 25, University of Texas law school graduate, was in the Army from July 8, until last November when he poached the cadets. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Roberts of Rising Star.

A former telegraph operator for the Katy railroad, Aviation Cadet Billie C. Welch, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Welch, of Rising Star, attended school at John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville, and Southwestern State Teachers College, San Marcos.

Cripps Comes Back

He looks like an assistant cashier who has given up all hope of becoming cashier, or perhaps an undistinguished associate professor in an undistinguished midwestern college. He is partly bald. His teeth are partly bad. At his best, he might remind you of Woodrow Wilson.

He is no Churchill as an orator. His manner of speaking is anstere and he does not bother to leaven the bad news with good glib generalities.

Yet Sir Stafford Cripps today has totally captured the imagination of the English masses. In his opening speech as war cabinet member and new leader of the House of Commons he told the English that all extravagances—including popular amusements—would have to go, naming specifically such people's favorites as racing and boxing. They loved it.

He is a political misfit. His father, the first Baron Parmoor, was a prominent lawyer. Sir Stafford is a lawyer and a good one, good enough that he has earned $100,000 a year. In 1927 he was appointed king's counselor, in 1930 solicitor general.

But he is a "radical" too. Four years ago the British Socialists expelled him. He was consorting with left wingers, said they, and pushing too strongly for a popular front with Russia. He insisted then that a combination between democratic England and communistic Russia was a natural alliance to stop the dynamic political aggressions of Hitler and his threatened military conquests.

He is still a misfit politically. But he is fitting neatly into the fighting mad Britain of today, the Britain that is demanding an end to the long series of Dunkirks, the Britain that is demanding positive offensive action to help the Russia that Cripps has been so right about.

Sir Stafford's one-time detractors are jumping in bed with him. Many Britons—high and low—believe he may replace the colorful Churchill.

The Colonel Blimps who called Singapore impregnable said Russia would fold up under the Nazi army's first pressure. Sir Stafford didn't think so. He was in Russia as ambassador to the Kremlin when Hitler invaded. He stayed in Moscow when the Germans were almost within artillery range. He returned to England after the Red Army had hurled back the invader. He came back as a prophet with honor.

He is the man of today in England. And somehow to the British people—and to other peoples—his homely face is shining symbol of better days to come.

While it takes all kinds of people to make a world, some kinds seem to be entirely too many right now.

Farmers are going to do their part by raising a big wheat crop. Say it with flour.

Uncle Sam promises plenty of rubber rings for canning season—thereby keeping out of a jam.

Native American Fascists Remain at Large While Foreign Born are Being Rounded Up

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer

WASHINGTON.—While foreign Fifth Columnists are being rounded up, most of the leading native American Fascists remain at large.

They are either spreading violent propaganda to poison our patriotism and weaken our war efforts, or working into some sort of defense activity.

Two of the most able, George Deatherage and Lawrence Dennis, were found, one heading a $26,000,000 confidential Navy project, the other trying to become a captain in the Army's military police.

But that isn't half of it. It can now be revealed that Dennis, called "the brains of American fascism," is a friend of Baron Ulrich von Gienanth, who was second Secretary of the German Embassy in Washington, and the Nazis' local payoff man.

DENNIS SERVED WITH A. E. F. BUT

It was Von Gienanth who gave money to Laura Ingalls, the aviatrix, just convicted as an unregistered Nazi agent. Dennis also new and worked with Frederick Aubagen, convicted German agent. Dennis was in touch with the German propaganda service in Berlin and he and Deatherage were in touch with one another. Although Dennis served in the A. E. F., he has been a totalitarian since Hitler's rise, and attended the Nazi party Congress in Nuremberg in 1937. There he was photographed with Von Gienanth, who wore the Nazi party uniform.

Dennis is a Harvard graduate, former diplomat and Wall Street man, who writes and lectures cleverly, especially on the economic blessings of Fascism for America, but also on various aspects of Hitler's brand of politics. He is an idea man credited with helping or inspiring many Fascist speechmakers and writers. He has written two books, "The Coming American Fascism" and "Dynamics of War and Revolution."

He admits that in his two houses, one in West Englewood, N. J., and in the Berkshires, he has "treaty well stocked up" on tires for his two automobiles, on short-wave radios—he says he likes a radio in every room—and otherwise. He confesses to a tidy income from his "Weekly Foreign Letter" of confidential information with a Fascist slant which sells at $24 a year.

BRAZIL CREDIT IS FIRST STEP IN U. S. PLANS

By LAWRENCE S. HAAS
United Press Latin American Editor

A blueprint of United States' plans for post-war aid—a long range development of vast Latin American resources—may be seen in the recent Washington agreements extending an estimated $220,000,000 in credits to Brazil.

The agreements were negotiated by Brazilian Finance Minister Arthur de Souza Costa with Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles, Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr. and high commerce department officials.

The negotiations developed after preliminary talks during the conference of American foreign ministers at Rio de Janeiro in January, where the groundwork was laid for United States cooperation with the Latin American nations on a scale never previously imagined.

By virtue of the agreements with Brazil, United States financial aid will be one of the principal factors in bringing to reality one of the most ambitious plans of Brazil's President Getulio Vargas.

Rubber Restoration Probable

That plan envisages the opening of the great Amazon River basin, a source of untapped natural wealth, which has remained largely undeveloped for centuries because resources and initiative were lacking to bring modern protective methods to the territory.

If the projects now in mind are carried out, the Brazilian Amazon area will some day be restored to its previous eminence as a rubber-producing zone. Countless other products of inestimable value to modern civilization will become available for world markets. They include plants which are used in medicines, drugs and other chemicals; plants which furnish valuable oils for many industrial uses; tropical woods, and minerals.

Sweden's King III

Where RAF Opens Spring Air Offensive

Striking hard at the industries of Germany, the RAF has beat the Luftwaffe to the punch in the western air war. Raids on Essen and the Ruhr and Paris war factory areas presage a British spring air offensive against other industrial centers shown on map.

The development of this area does not merely mean employment of large forces of workers. It implies necessary preliminary surveys, comprehensive sanitation works, transportation of machinery and equipment construction of settlements so that those who will develop the field may live in a measure of modern comfort, and the organization of transportation systems to carry out the products.

Post-War Cushion

The first steps in the Amazon

Basin development plan come at an auspicious time. Several South American countries this year are celebrating the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Amazon River by Francisco de Orellana, the Spanish conquistador, a lieutenant of Francisco Pizarro. Orellana discovered the great fluvial waterway in February, 1542. President Vargas and United States government officials are virtually rediscovering the Amazon in 1942.

It might be said that Brazil is beginning to reap the fruits of close cooperation with the United States, based on an old and close friendship. United States aid to Brazil may soon be followed by similar help for other countries, poor in industry and cash, but wealthy in undeveloped resources. Of the highest value today in prosecuting the United States, these resources loom as highly valuable cushioning agents in the coming days of post-war reconstruction.

THE PAY-OFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

YOU would think the draft status of Theodore Williams would have been a quite trivial matter.

Ted Williams is the first 400 hitter in the majors in more than a decade, but the crying need at the moment for young 400 hitters on the battle front, not in baseball.

Yet the affair Williams was magnified and publicized until it became another unfortunate example of the unbelievable distortion of values that exist among an altogether too large a section of petty-minded Americans.

On the ground that he supported his mother, Williams was put in Class 3-A by his Minneapolis Draft Board.

But when some Middlesex Man mailed a copy of a San Diego interview with Williams' mother to the Draft Board, the Boston Red Sox slugger's status was changed to 1-A.

Like any other good American mother, Mrs. Williams said she'd be proud to have Ted go to war for his country. Williams later was put back in 3-A by the presidential appeal board.

A GREAT hue and cry were raised. Favoritism was charged. Col. J. E. Nelson, chief of the Minnesota draft setup, then took it upon himself to "just keep the records straight." He asserted that Williams requested deferment for the benefit of his newly divorced mother.

W. Estrom, the government appeal agent for the presidential appeal board, had previously stated that Williams had not done so. In the case and that he (Estrom) had taken the initiative in giving a deferment for a boy capable of hitting 406 in the American League. Estrom explained that while Williams consented to the setting of the appeal machinery in motion he thought the word "request" was too strong, "although technically he did request it. That is the only way an appeal can be taken."

Newspapers became sharply critical. Boston fans sent telegrams and wrote letters of indignation.

I'm emphatically in favor of young men joining the armed forces, but the main point of the Williams case seems to be that matters of selective service should be left in the hands of the government.

Why it behooves every little or big person having a hand in the case of a celebrity "to set the records straight" is beyond me. Williams was either entitled to exemption or he was not. No explanation was necessary. There would have been no explanation had Williams been Joe Bluv, the gas man.

Clippings From the Censorship Situation Indicate Almost 100 Per Cent Co-Operation

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Service Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—How's censorship doing? Press and radio censorship codes have operated about two months now, and with that much experience reeled off, it's possible to make an appraisal.

When the President announced creation of the Office of Censorship, the first words of his statement were, "All Americans abhor censorship." Byron Price, named director of censorship, has gone on from there. He admits that censorship of any kind is all wrong in principle, that it is contrary to everything that the American people have been taught, that it is a nuisance. It is, however, a wartime necessity, so the job is to make the best of it.

The censorship established is called voluntary. The general principle is that information cannot be printed or broadcast which will give aid or comfort to the enemy. It is then up to the newspapers and the radio stations to observe that principle. When in doubt, ask the censor.

The experience thus far seems to be that 99.8 or 99.9 per cent of the press and the radio are not only willing but eager to abide by this voluntary rule. In fact, they lean over backward to observe it, often voluntarily suppressing information to which the censors, if asked, might give approval. That's all to the good, for it's better to be safe than sorry.

THERE have been mistakes. There will probably continue to be mistakes. Some information has slipped into general circulation which should have been censored. When these slips have been called to the attention of the editors and broadcasters, they have promised not to repeat. As one editor put it, he had installed an automatic throat-cutting machine in his office, for use if he was ever guilty of the offense again.

One of the most amazing manifestations of this voluntary censorship has been the way the general public has checked up on its favorite newspapers and radio announcers. Let a little news get out which some keen reader or listener thinks an aid or comfort to the enemy and, wham!—in come letters of protest accusing this or that dirty dog of being a spy. Even the Office of Censorship gets scores of these letters from self-appointed, volunteer censors. Some are from cranks who think they find hidden messages in crossword puzzles and so on. Others are useful tips, for no office could be set up to read all the newspapers or listen to all the broadcasts. Checkups of this kind from sharp-eyed and -eared citizens are pointed to as perfect examples of democracy functioning at its best.

As for the 1 or 2 per cent who won't play this war game according to these rules—"We will cross that bridge when we come to it," says Director of Censorship Byron Price,—"if we come to it." And he hopes and believes it won't be necessary to put on the screws.

As a matter of fact, anyone who wants to beat these voluntary censorship codes can probably do it. As far as publications are concerned, there is no law that can be applied save the espionage law, under which intent to give information to the enemy must be proved within the U. S. borders. Radio is different, for radio automatically enters the field of international communications. Some 40 high-powered stations can be heard as far as the Andes, so closer check is put on radio than on printed matter.

World Traveler Is Speaker At Ranger Meetings

Augustin Turner of Valparaiso, Chili, and a world traveler, who is here as the guest of the Rotary Club was the guest speaker at a special chapel service held at the High School this morning at 9:15 and the Rotary Club at noon.

Turner held the attention of the students with the interesting information which he gave with reference to Chili and other South American countries. Much of his talk was devoted to the schools of those countries and he particularly stressed the actual part students have had in promoting good will between the countries. He pointed out that the great Christ of the Andes is largely the result of student activity and that this monument to the Christian spirit has a very definite influence on the relations of the people.

Schools, he said, for the most part are organized for boys and girls separately and the buildings are not set apart, as in this country, but are adjoined by other buildings, giving them an appearance much the same as our business buildings. One enters the school through a door opening on a sidewalk and goes through a hall to a court around which are the class rooms. Classes are held from 8 to 12 o'clock then time is given for lunch and a siesta after which students return for classes from 2 to 5 o'clock. The speaker also told of the cooperation of the wealthier students in helping less fortunate ones to remain in school.

In response to questioning after his talk, Turner, explained that the Chilean navy consists of one battleship, 6 cruisers, 6 destroyers and 6 airplane carriers.

With reference to the present crisis, it was explained that the sympathies of the South American countries are definitely with the United States and that reports of fifth columnist activities and Nazi operations are purely propaganda and that there is less of such activities there than in our own country.

Turner was introduced at the school program by Dr. G. C. Boswell who told of the splendid opportunities the speaker has had to study world affairs.

Ray Kelley, W. L. Milner, Bonnie Vea Roark.

More Books Are Urged for Men In Armed Forces

Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall, local chairwoman of the Victory Book Campaign, has issued another appeal to the people of Ranger to contribute books that may be sent to the men in service for their entertainment.

Although a large number of books has been received at the center in the Paramount Hotel Building, many more are needed to meet Ranger's quota. Mrs. Kuykendall pointed out in asking that more contributions be made.

"While the response to the previous plea has been splendid, Ranger could do much more along this line than has already been done," Mrs. Kuykendall stated in urging that more books be donated.

No doubt there are still many books in the homes in Ranger which would be enjoyed by the men in service, but which are not now being put to any use. These would be appreciated, because the men in service, while they are working hard and spend many hours a day preparing for active service, still they need diversions, and reading is one of the best that can be found, and is one which is encouraged in all army camps, naval stations, on board ships and in every locality where soldiers, sailors or marines are gathered.

The book collection center, in the old Texas Electric Service Company office, is open each afternoon from one to four o'clock.
