PREACHERS IN NORWAY PLAN NAZI DEFIANCE

LONDON, Eng., April 8.—The Axis puppet regime, headed by Vidkun Quisling in Norway, is resorting to drastic measures in an effort to crush opposition led by clergymen and teachers, the Norwegian Refugee Government said tonight through one of its spokesmen.

Nazi storm troopers are reported ready to aid in preventing demonstrations scheduled for next Sunday, according to intelligence reports received here.

Quisling is said to have issued a proclamation permitting "laymen" to take over the duties of 1,100 clergymen, who have been in protest against government dictation.

According to the reports received here many clergymen are planning to defy the Nazi rulers of Norway by conducting religious services in the regular and free manner to which Norway was accustomed before the conquest by Germany.

Registered Men Urged To List Skills, Experience

Announcing the distribution of occupational questionnaires (Form 311) to men who registered on February 16, Gen. J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, urged that they give careful thought to their skills, experience and aptitudes when filling out these forms so that the best possible use of their services may be made in the nation's war effort.

The questionnaire, which is being distributed to Feb. 16 registrants by their local boards, later will be sent to registrants of the First and Second Registrations and those of future registrations, General Page said. Its purpose is an inventory of the present employment activities of registrants and of their skills and abilities. It has no connection with, and is not to be confused with, the regular Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40) which is sent to all registrants to obtain data on which Selective Service classification is based, General Page emphasized.

The data obtained through the occupational questionnaire, Gen. Page said, will be forwarded through State Headquarters to the National Roster of Scientific and Specialized Personnel and to the United States Employment Service. It will be used by these federal agencies, respectively, to locate persons with certain professional and scientific qualifications and those who have skills or aptitudes in critical or essential occupations for the ultimate purpose of achieving a more complete and efficient utilization of the Nation's manpower in the war production program.

This Week, April 5 to 11 Has Been Designated National 4-H Club Week

This week the nation is saluting its million and a half 4-H Club members who are doing war service on the rural front. About 75,000 of these boys and girls are Texans and 385 of these are Eastland County boys while 340 are Eastland County girls, according to figures from the State 4-H headquarters.

National 4-H Club Week, April 6-11, is a good time to give recognition to the thousands of other people who are contributing to the success of the 4-H movement, in the opinion of H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

He explains that there are 2,386 men who are giving their services as adult leaders for the 1,971 boys' 4-H Clubs in the state plus 2,233 women who are serving as adult leaders for the 2,010 girls' clubs. Eastland County has eight thousand sponsors for its eighteen 4-H Club (girls) and there are two older 4-H Club girls who sponsor a Junior Club. The boys' have 20 adult leaders for twenty 4-H Clubs of Eastland County. "It's all volunteer work. These local leaders get no financial compensation but the satisfaction of helping build future leaders and of community service," Director Williamson explains.

Food For Victory Plans Calls For Additional Milk

The government is calling for a 10 per cent increase in milk production in 1942 over 1941. Eastland county dairyman will reach or exceed that goal. Why not adopt the Texas Slogan, "To get the job done and to get it done now we need another pint of milk per day per cow."

A word of warning—The War Boards want most of that increase to go into dried or evaporated milk in cheese. Therefore, the farmer who has no milk outlet will do well to first increase his milk production to take care of his needs, that is to have plenty of milk and butter for his family, also poultry flock and maybe one brood sow. To produce commercial milk where there is no market is not the purpose.

To increase milk production according to the Extension Service Dairy Specialists, E. R. Eudaly and G. G. Gibson;

1. Feed all the good roughage that cows will clean up. Feed a balanced grain mixture according to production.
2. Milk at regular 12 hour intervals, milk fast, milk utter out clean.
3. For greater cow efficiency, aim for a 10 months lactation and a 2 months dry period.
4. Keep plenty of good water available at all times.
5. Contented cows give more milk. Anything that adds to the comfort of the cows, adds to the profits of the dairymen.

Further information can be secured from your county agent.

Scrolls To Be Given To Two Legislators

AUSTIN.—Testimonial scrolls of appreciation will be presented to House Speaker Homer Leonard of McAllen and to Sen. H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton, president pro-tem of the Texas Senate at the fourth annual meeting of the Texas Safety Conference in Dallas April 13-14.

The scrolls will be a method of praising the 47th Texas legislature for its traffic control legislation. The acts included a stronger drivers' license law, more easily enforced penalties for drunken driving, a measure requiring uniform accident reporting and increased drivers' license fees to pay for an enlarged highway patrol.

Husband of 73 Years Is Dead At Abilene

ABILENE, Tex.—Death of George Washington Coughran of the nearby Dudley community separated a couple who were husband and wife for 73 years.

He died at a stroke at the age of 92 last week.

His wife, apparently in perfect health and looking far from her almost 90 years, survives, along with all 11 of the children. Coughran left 50 grandchildren, 40 great-grandchildren, and four great-great-grandchildren.

Coughran was born May 17, 1849, at Center Point, Arkansas.

War Pounds at the Gates of Mother India

Even as Britain debated with India the colony's future freedom, Japan threatened to take it away before it was achieved. Jap landings in Andaman Islands and at Akyab, Burma, put India in danger of direct attack by air and sea.

Waco NYA Opens Shops For Girls

AUSTIN.—NYA's War Work Center in Waco will open in April for 64 young women who will obtain experience in radio, sheet metal, machine shop, and production sewing machine work, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator. Later assignments to the Waco NYA Center will bring the total number of girls employed to 200.

End Is Seen For Unseasonable Rain

Rain that turned to ice and snow and which sent rivers surging out of their banks in the lowlands showed signs of ceasing over Texas Wednesday, although slow rains still fell in many sections.

Unseasonable, drought-breaking rains were accompanied by wind and electrical storms that raked the state from one end to another.

Juke Boxes To Go Into Bullets For War

DALLAS.—That noisy fixture, the juke box, is going to war too. After April 30, no more of them will be made—and there will be an end also of vending machines, pinball games and weighing machines.

Two More Vessels Attacked by Subs

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—The Navy Department announced today that two more merchant vessels had been attacked by enemy submarines off the Atlantic Coast.

Plenty To Sell

Good advertising is more than the selling of immediate supplies of merchandise.

The history of advertising in the United States shows that it has been the major cause of the promotion of the things of life that we now consider essentials rather than luxuries.

By its educational values, advertising made possible the American standard of life, the highest and best the world has ever known.

It was advertising that made the modern American home a thing of health, efficiency and comfort, from sanitary plumbing and bathing facilities, to lighting systems that save the eyes. The mechanically equipped kitchens, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, all became standard American household equipment through the educational power of advertising.

It was advertising that changed the diet of the Nation and made us all conscious of the need for better prepared and sanitarily packed foods. Advertising made us health conscious and clothes conscious.

It was advertising that made possible mass production in America by creating the desire for things in vast quantities. To supply them, the genius of mass production came into being.

Therefore it was advertising that created the modern great factories, the high wages, shorter hours and better working conditions of the American people.

It has been advertising that has made possible the development of the great American press, unique in all the history of the world for editorial freedom and its complete coverage of the world's news.

Therefore, advertising has not only been the life blood of American business, it has been the great bulwark of democracy in making possible news coverage of tremendous cost at a minimum price to the reader.

The great mass of the people can be fully informed every day of the world's activities: the raw product of fact, when digested, goes to make up the alert and alive public opinion which, in the final analysis, governs America.

Without advertising this service to democracy would be impossible because the cost of gathering such news would be so great that the price of newspapers and magazines would be prohibitive.

Wise students of history understand this, as do wise businessmen and the leaders of all shades of public opinion—from the extreme radical to the most conservative.

But good business men understand more. They realize that, as advertising is an integral part of the Nation's fabric of freedom, it is also vital to their own success and continuance.

It is an axiom now of business that if it does not advertise it dies.

When the depression was at its worst many companies thought they could save money by not advertising. The records show that these companies either went out of business entirely or lost even their depression sales volumes and had to right about face or merge with other companies that did continue to advertise.

With the war on, it is well for Americans to learn from the experience of our neighbor Canada which has been in the struggle for two and a half years. Concentrating on war orders, many large concerns in the Dominion cancelled advertising budgets on the argument that they had nothing immediate to sell.

Now a remarkable change has come about in the attitude, not only of Canadian business but of the government itself. It has been discovered that they had their good will to maintain with their customers and a patriotic cause to sell. They have resumed advertising to explain to the public their problems, to tell them why they are not making motor cars, washing machines, refrigerators and the multitude of standard products wartime demands have curtailed.

In all this they are serving a dual purpose. They are serving their Nation and they are keeping their people informed of their existence with a long vision of the days of peace to come. They are investing in the future of their country so that, when they can swing back to normal production, their old customers—and new—will not have forgotten them, and will respond once more to the intelligent presentation of their wares.

Any study of this type of advertising, either in the United States, Canada or Great Britain, reveals the dramatic, pictorial, imaginative and educational quality of their appeal—one that will remain in the minds of the people in the long years to come.

While this is sound business it is also splendid patriotism. Only men with high vision can understand both, each serving its proper purpose in the on-going of democracy.

Advertising is one of the indispensables to Victory.

Heading for Home

Mr. and Mrs. Pee Wee Reese are receiving congratulations on their marriage at Daytona Beach, Brooklyn shortstop and childhood sweetheart could keep secret only three days. She was Dorothy Walton of Louisville.

Mountainous Burma Battlefront

Oil fields of the Irrawaddy and Chindwin valleys, the strategic crossroads at Mandalay and eventually India are targets of twin Jap thrusts (arrows) northward in Burma. British and Chinese forces, aided by AVG and RAF flyers, are trying to stem the enemy's drives through this mountainous country.

THE PAY-OFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

THERE can be plenty in a name, Romance, for example. Take The Credo, a race for jumpers at Caliente in Old Mexico. It honors a past dynasty, which few can recall, but whose do revel in its brilliance.

The Credo commemorates the steeplechasing of Credo, and the incredible career of Tod Sloan.

Real old-timers tell you that Californians shouted about Credo from the top-most summit of the Sierras to San Francisco Bay. Credo lugged 170 pounds, and kept on winning.

Sloan brought his colors and Credo from the East in 1901 as a favor to Prince Poniatowski, who at Tanforan was up to his ears in a racing war. The Prince, Polish sportsman and commanding figure in California racing, was a direct descendant of Napoleon's marshal, who was drowned trying to swim a river during the retreat from Moscow.

SLOAN was paid $1000 a week, a lot of money in those days, just to appear once a day in the Tanforan clubhouse.

The little man of the world arrived in San Francisco aboard a special train. With Lillian Russell as his guest, he went to Tanforan in a special car, decorated with roses and attached to the crack train of the Southern Pacific.

Sloan was the most publicized man in the world at the time. Newspapers were full of him. They read about him in all magazines. His partner and friend was the King of England.

Sloan was vastly more than the greatest jockey of all time who revolutionized race riding with the monkey seat and who was famous around the world.

Spectacular Tod Sloan was one of the top men of all time in sports. And it seems strange that such an obscure race at an out-of-the-way track should be dedicated to such a fabulous figure.

Typhus Fever Now Menace To Health In State of Texas

AUSTIN.—Typhus fever is fast-developing into a serious health menace in Texas according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who today issued an appeal for every Texan to cooperate in the prevention of this dread disease.

"Last year, the greatest number of cases in the history of the state were reported, when there was a total of 733 cases of typhus fever in Texas. While there were only forty-six cases of typhus fever reported during the first twelve weeks of last year, during the same period of this present year, there have been 131 cases," Dr. Cox stated. "With the peak of this disease occurring in August, if the present trend is continued, we may expect serious conditions resulting from typhus by the end of the summer."

The time of typhus fever occurring in Texas is known as endemic or Brill's disease, and is transmitted to human beings from infected rats, by means of the rat flea. The eradication of rats greatly reduces this health hazard, and a consistent program of rat poisoning, rat trapping, and rat proofing will materially aid in the control of typhus in Texas.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that it is the patriotic duty of every Texan to cooperate in maintaining the highest possible health level, and the eradication of rats will promote the control of typhus among our civilian population as well as our armed forces.

Names Don't Worry Officials of Texas

AUSTIN.—Mark McGee, Texas rationing officer, was asked this week if dissatisfied tire applicants had found any new names to call him.

"No," he replied, "I do not recall any new names, but they are placing lots of emphasis on the old ones."

Governor Stevenson was not disturbed particularly at the prospect of entertaining a lord when he learned that Lord Halifax, the British Ambassador to the United States, might visit Austin.

"Have you looked up the proper way to address him?" the governor was asked.

"We had a Lord who lived in Kimble County," Stevenson replied. "He was Lord Hall. We called him Uncle Billy."
