LARGE JAPANESE CONVOY SEEN MOVING TOWARD NEW GUINEA BY RECONNAISSANCE PLANES

Weather forms protective front for the 14 ships and prevents Allied planes from taking off to attack convoy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Feb. 2. (Tuesday) (UP)—Fourteen Japanese ships, including warships, one of the largest convoys ever sent by the enemy, were reported moving steadily toward the north coast of New Guinea Tuesday behind a weather front that grounded Allied planes and prevented them from attacking.

The convoy was sighted Monday afternoon west of New Britain, the large island north of New Guinea, by Allied reconnaissance planes. They sighted the convoy off Ubiil and followed it along the north side of New Britain off Talasa, on the peninsula that juts out from the island's north coast.

"Our air force is preparing to attack it if the weather permits," Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in his regular conference.

A headquarters spokesman, explaining the delay in attacking, said:

"The convoy is moving behind a storm front such as sometimes seems made to order for the Japs."

Meanwhile, allied ground patrols operating in New Guinea between the Buna-Gona and Lae-Salamaua areas surprised and destroyed four Japanese barges at the mouth of the Waria River.

It was not immediately determined whether these barges were related to the movement of the convoy, and headquarters could not predict where the fourteen enemy ships were heading, except that they were steaming in the general area of New Guinea.

The reconnaissance reports bore out MacArthur's warning of Monday that the Japanese were reinforcing the island perimeter surrounding northern Australia from Timor to the Solomons. A headquarters spokesman had said then that the Japanese maneuvers might have been a prelude for either offensive or defensive operations.

Civilian Defense Director Warns Of Possible Air Raid

WASHINGTON, D. C. (UP)—Civilian Defense Director James M. Landis warned today that Adolf Hitler may send his bombers against this country because "he wants pilot risk of burning American cities to show his people."

Commenting on a Berlin broadcast that Washington, New York, and Boston are not safe from air attack, Landis said Americans should not assume that only those three cities might be attacked.

Former Resident Given Commission

Word has been received that Tom McManus, recently of Washington, and formerly of Ranger, has received a commission as Senior Lieutenant in the Navy and will teach history at Annapolis.

For the past year Lt. McManus had been with the OPA in Washington and prior to that had been teaching in a New York school. While in Ranger he engaged in the insurance business.

West Texas C of C Will Broadcast On Cotton Program

ARILENE, Tex., Mar. 2.—For victory in war and peace, let's plant more cotton.

To its 150-county territory, for the next eight weeks, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be sounding that appeal. Wednesday morning the regional chamber will go on the air with the first of 16 broadcasts seeking to prove its all-out claim that a serious shortage is developing in supplies of cotton, ranking next to steel in war production needs. The only way to meet the shortage, contends the WTCC, is to produce a larger than average crop, mainly from increased planting.

The chamber will beam its message to cotton farmers of West Texas, urging them, both as a contribution to the war effort and as a plain piece of good business for themselves, to utilize to the fullest the 1943 acreage allotments handed down by the Department of Agriculture, and plant every legal allowable acre. The program will be carried on ten radio stations in the area. Scheduled are two broadcasts a week, the second being for next Sunday afternoon.

The after program will be on the air every Wednesday morning and Sunday afternoon.

All phases of the industry will be looked at by the WTCC commentators. Among the subjects handled will be West Texas' production facilities; costs of production here and elsewhere; relative percentages of quota underplanting; cotton's influence on West Texas life along with its contribution to war and the post-war world; and its accelerated new uses. Shown also will be the need of cotton products as clothing and shelter for the Armed forces, for munitions making and as necessary food for humans and high protein feed for animals.

MCCARTY GETS FEDERAL POST APPOINTMENT

EASTLAND, March 2.—Appointment of Milburn McCarty, Eastland attorney, as special assistant to the Attorney General of the United States was announced here Monday.

McCarty will be attached to the anti-trust division and assigned to the Dallas office to work on food cases in that area. He was recommended by Senator Connally. His salary will be $5,000 a year.

Raised at Granger, McCarty was educated at Baylor University and the University of Texas and first practiced law at San Angelo, where he served as county and district attorney. He moved to Eastland in 1932.

He has served as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in 1937 and 1938 and is a director of Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

He served four years on the Texas Democratic executive committee. He was active in 1931 in the formation of the Roosevelt-for-President organization in Texas, and was a presidential elector in 1932 and a delegate to the national Democratic convention in 1940.

A son, Milburn McCarty Jr., is a Marine combat correspondent, on duty somewhere in the Pacific, and formerly was chief of the press section of the defense savings staff of the Treasury Department. A daughter, Mrs. W. Dan Lattimer Jr., lives at Mt. Pleasant.

Production Of Ice Cream Soars In January 1943

AUSTIN, Texas, March 2.—Next time you want an ice cream sundae and find the soda fountain out of your favorite, just remember that the boys at a near by army camp probably had ice cream for dessert.

In January, ice cream production in Texas soared 83 per cent above that of the corresponding month of 1942. The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. A total of 1,554,000 gallons were manufactured, but the bulk of that amount went to military centers rather than for civilian buyers.

Mother Succeeds Son As Constable

ST. LOUIS 406.—Her son held the post before he was inducted into the Army, so Mrs. Nell H. Kennedy decided she could serve in the war effort by succeeding her son as constable.

She was appointed to the office by circuit judge after her son was inducted into the Army and is the first woman constable in St. Louis.

WORKERS GET $2,175.76 IN MONDAY DRIVE

Workers for the Red Cross War Fund Campaign, who started the drive here Monday have reported to headquarters the collection of a total of $2,175.76. This is not a complete report as some workers have not reported on their areas. It was also pointed out that this does not include the larger gifts from companies with headquarters in some other town.

The total collected so far is a little more than $1,300 short of the quota set for Rangers and workers will likely be called upon to make another drive to finish up the quota. A meeting of the workers will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Friday morning at 10 o'clock at which time a report on work to date will be made. All workers are urged to attend this meeting and try to complete reports.

Persons who have not been contacted may turn in their contributions at the Red Cross headquarters on Main street, located in the building formerly occupied by the Grace Taylor Beauty Shop. If unable to go to the headquarters, persons may call the headquarters at phone 81, and a worker will be sent for the contribution.

BOND SALES FOR FEBRUARY ARE HIGHER

W. F. Creager, Ranger chairman for the sale of War Bonds and Stamps, stated this morning that Ranger bought $38,000 worth of bonds and stamps in the month of February. January sales were $15,207.50.

It was pointed out that this does not include the bonds bought through the salary deduction plan and since companies using this plan are averaging about 10 per cent deductions, it is believed that several thousand dollars worth are purchased in this manner. With the addition of the salary deduction bonds Ranger's sales for February will likely pass the $40,000 mark.

In speaking of the February sales Creager said that the schools should have credit for part of the month's sales as schools were sponsoring the sales during this month.

Fires Started By American Air Attack On Munda

WASHINGTON, D. C. (UP)—The Navy announced today that fires were started by another American air attack on Munda, main Japanese air base in the Central Solomons. It was the 80th raid on Munda.

The attack was made on Monday—sixth time—by fighter escorted Douglas dive bombers. No U. S. planes were lost.

Merchant Marine Wins Distinguished Medal for Services

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2 (UP)—It was in the early morning hours and George Thornthwaite, of Post Arthur, Tex., was standing watch on a tanker on which he was second assistant engineer.

A torpedo struck into the ship and started a train of developments which won Thornthwaite the Merchant Distinguished Service Medal.

With two dynamo wrecked by the explosion and all light below extinguished, the assistant engineer:

Ordered all men on deck and saw to it that lifeboats were launched safely.

Guided an engine man across the engineroom blazing with oil, dragged him to the first grating and was forced to drop him because his own clothing was in flames.

Went back into the blazing engineroom to rescue the wounded man who had fallen back into the room and brought him to safety.

Quelled panic among some of the 21 occupants of his lifeboat when it was thrown against the burning ship and into the path of oil burning on the water.

Said the official citation from the U. S. Maritime commission of Thornthwaite's actions:

"His extraordinary courage and disregard of his own safety in his efforts to save the lives of his shipmates constitutes a display of heroism that will be an enduring inspiration to seamen of the U. S. Merchant Marine everywhere."

Funeral Service Held Here For Mrs. D. H. Long

Funeral services for Mrs. D. H. Long were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist Church with Rev. H. J. Starnes of the First Baptist church at Eastland in charge of the services. Arrangements were by the Killingsworth Funeral Home. Interment was in the Thoma cemetery near DeLeon.

Death occurred here Sunday at the home of her son, Waver, Aishman, with whom she had made her home for the past month. Born in Wilson county October 11, 1887, the deceased had made her home in Houston for a number of years before coming to Ranger. She was a member of the Thoma Baptist church.

Survivors include the husband, three sons, Loys Aishman Houston; Charles Aishman, Houston; and Waver Aishman of Ranger; her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Wheat; two grand children, Gailva Aishman, Houston and James Thomas Aishman, Ranger; a niece, Frances Wheat, Houston; and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. C. W. Keith, Eagle Lake; T. L. Wheat, Merton Valley; C. E. Wheat, Ranger; Joe Wheat, Ranger; Merchant Wheat, Ranger; Mrs. Virgie Fulcher, Lufkin; and Mrs. Gerdie Shahan, Morton Valley.

Pallbearers were V. V. Cooper Jr., Felton Brasher, O. F. Sides, Lloyd Bruce One Littlefield and A. E. Crawley.

New Program Is Offered Junior Senior Students

LUBBOCK, Tex., Mar. 2.—Junior and senior engineers who have passed their eighteenth birthday, but not their twenty-eighth, may enter the Navy and remain in school until graduation, the office of the President of Texas Technological College has been advised.

The program, it was said, offers opportunity for students meeting requirements to be voluntarily inducted into the Navy through selective service. After induction they would remain in college on inactive duty until, or unless, placed on active duty in college orders of the Navy.

The same opportunity is open to Arts and Science students, provided they are majoring in physics, mathematics or electronics.

RAID SAID TO BE CLIMAX OF AERIAL OFFENSIVE TO OPEN WAY FOR INVASION OF EUROPE

LONDON, Eng. (UP)—Berlin quaked and blazed last night under its heaviest air raid of the war, the climax of a mighty Allied aerial offensive described officially today as preparing the way for an invasion of Europe.

Royal Air Force bombers apparently numbering in the hundreds blasted the German capital for half an hour. Big fires sprang up, visible to the airmen when they were nearly 200 miles on the way home.

RAID SAID TO BE CLIMAX OF AERIAL OFFENSIVE TO OPEN WAY FOR INVASION OF EUROPE

As the sustained air offensive softened up Europe, Allied forces fared well in Tunisia. They recaptured the key town of Sbeitla and pushed three miles beyond it, harrying the retreating Germans. Axis attacks in north Tunisia lost their punch, 27 Axis planes were destroyed yesterday and the preceding night, while the Allies lost only four.

A new test of strength apparently was shaping up in the southwest Pacific. Fourteen Jap ships, one of the biggest convoys spotted in those waters, were moving toward New Guinea under cover of storm weather delaying an Allied air attack on them. By all signs the Japanese were getting ready for big scale action, offensive or defensive.

RANGER BOY GETS WINGS ON SATURDAY

MOODY FIELD, Ga., Mar. 2.—Aviation student George W. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cox of 207 Grand Street, Ranger, Texas, graduated Saturday from this Army Air Force Advanced Flying School. At his graduation, Aviation Student Cox received his "wings." He is now a flight officer in the United States Army Air Force.

The ceremonies yesterday marked the first anniversary for Moody Field as an Advanced Flying School. During its first year of operations the Twin-Engine school has turned out about 1800 pilots, British and American, to be assigned to various commands in their respective air forces. The United Kingdom members of the graduating class will be the first to train at Moody Field and henceforth, the cadet compliment will be entirely American. The United Kingdom aviation training program carried on in this country until now will be shifted to Canada.

Ground was first broken for Moody Field in 1941, and one year ago in February, the first cadets entered to begin the final phase of their flying training. Students in training at Moody Field receive an intensive course of instruction in all phases of flying twin-engine aircraft. Moody Field, which is an important part of the Army Air Force Southeast Training Center, also serves as headquarters of the 29th Flying Training Wing.

Gov. Governor Smith Hits Strikes In Senate Address

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Sam Houston would not tolerate disloyalty in time of war. Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith told the Senate today in an impromptu address on the Anniversary of the birth of Texas and of General Houston.

"I can well imagine that if Houston were in charge of the destinies of the nation today that after Pearl Harbor he would have been no strikers," Smith said.

University Library Gets 32 Years Of Adventure Mag.

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 2.—Thirty-two years of adventure—what the latest addition to the Library of the University of Texas.

Recently catalogued as a part of the library's collection of songbook and adventure literature is a complete file of "Adventure," a pulp magazine, from its first issue in 1910 through August, 1942.

The file is a gift from Harry D. Dusen of Berkeley, Calif., who advertised through the magazine's columns that he would give his file to any library willing to pay freight on the 107 volumes.

"We consider this file important also, though it is a pulp magazine it contains the early writings of such authors as Edgar Wallace, Damon Runyon, Peter B. Kyne, and Wilbur Daniel Steele," Librarian Donald Coney has explained.

Knox Says We Will 'Utterly Destroy' Japanese Fleet

WASHINGTON, D. C. (UP)—Secretary of Navy Knox told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today that we will "utterly destroy" the Japanese fleet before the war is ended.

Knox, urging acceleration of the lend-lease act, told the committee about the use of lend-lease funds to build and maintain naval bases in the Pacific. He said they would prove of strategic value in the post-war period.

Censorship Troubles

SPECIFIC criticism against censorship has not been frequent. This is a tribute to Byron Price's good will and efficiency in a very difficult task, and confirms the President's wisdom in selecting a working newspaperman for the job.

Mr. Price's lifetime training as a press association reporter and editor was aimed at getting facts and presenting them objectively, regardless of who was hurt. As his ranking assistants he chose practical newsmen with the same approach.

As a result, the Office of Censorship aims not to see how much genuine news it can suppress, but rather to find ways to make legitimate news available without injuring our war efforts or aiding the enemy's. Some details of this have been told by Peter Edson in a recent NEA article.

Because Mr. Price is doing such capable work in the sole justifiable field for censorship, it is doubly unfortunate his office has been pushed into adding duties that are utterly inexcusable—that is, into serving as what the less restrained like to describe as an American Gestapo.

Gov. Ernest Gruening of Alaska first called attention publicly to the fact that Censorship was acting as a gossip medium, extracting items from correspondence and passing them around among government departments.

These were not confined to material in indicating unlawful or military harmful situations, but covered political and personal affairs, Dr. Gruening claimed.

The Alaska executive's charges were identical with those made from Puerto Rico in a recent NEA article. It is notable that both complaints arise in connection with internal mail, not international.

Censorship to keep the enemy from getting useful information is legitimate beyond dispute, even when there are disputes as to what would be valuable to the enemy or as to what he already knows.

Censorship to inform law-enforcement, anti-espionage or military harmful situations, but covered political and gaged effectively.

But censorship to let Secretary X know that Mr. Y dislikes him personally, opposes his policies, and is out after his official scalp, is one thing we are fighting to keep to tatarianism from bringing here.

The only monument that will be appropriate for Hitler will be a bust.

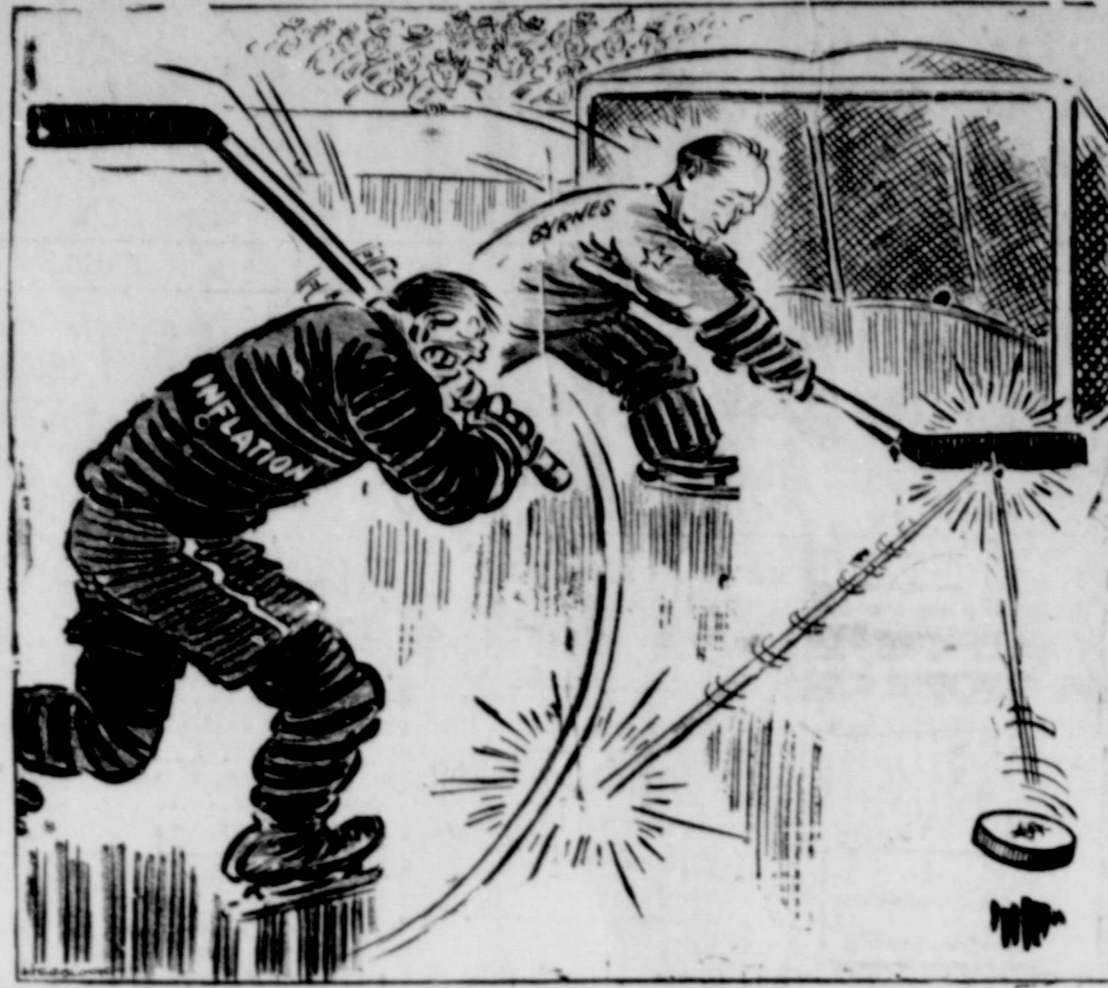

When you see the old swimming hole this spring it will be hard to keep your shirt on.

Imagine a soldier being assigned to assist the farmers, and then returning to the Army to peel the potatoes he helped to raise.

The fact that the government is pointing the way doesn't make it any easier to get all the canned food you want.

Army Q.M.C. Saving Much Needed Rubber

WASHINGTON, March 2 (U.P.)—By changing specifications and substitution of materials, the army quartermaster corps is saving vast quantities of highly critical rubber and in many cases is getting better articles, according to Col. George F. Dorist, in charge of the research and development branch. 73 per cent reduction in the use of rubber has been made below the amount of rubber which would have been used under specifications in effect Dec. 7, 1941—a saving of some 10,000 long tons of rubber by the Quartermaster Corps alone, Dorist said. And the Quartermaster Corps is not the largest user of rubber in the Army.

Army raincoats and rain suits now are made without any rubber. Synthetic resin—the same product used for the inner layer of safety glasses—is used instead, replacing about a pound of rubber in the raincoat. The raincoat is a better product, and weighs two pounds, eight ounces—about a pound less than the old rubber raincoat.

In some instances synthetic rubber is substituted satisfactorily for natural rubber. An example is in the new delousing bag. Infected clothing can be put inside with a capsule of chemical. The capsule is broken, and the resultant gas kills all lice and eggs. The synthetic rubber is better than natural rubber being less permeable by gas.

A reduction of approximately 60 per cent has been made in the consumption of natural raw rubber in footwear. For example, in the army overshoes, crude rubber has been reduced from about 1.5 to 0.65 pounds per pair. A cloth top, instead of rubber, effects an important part of this saving.

The standard service shoe of general issue now uses a reclaimed rubber half-sole and reclaimed rubber heel. The heel has a wooden core.

The quartermaster corps is developing a synthetic resin poncho, or rain cape. Two ponchos buttoned together will make a mountain or desert tent for two men.

The leather in an average-size woman's pocket book would make a pair of army aviator's gloves.

Pay-As-You-Go Is Working Well At Fort Bragg

FORT BRAGG, N. C. (U.P.)—It may be the increased pay of soldiers or better budgeting or a combination, but whatever it is, the pay-as-you-go credit system is working like a charm for the men at Fort Bragg.

The North Carolina Army post was the first in the nation to abolish time-honored canteen checks along with credit for soldiers in the barber shops, at movies and other places where their monthly pay envelopes usually "disappeared."

The system was inaugurated here in August, 1942, and after a successful trial, the entire Army adopted it in November. Now that they are accustomed to it, the soldiers prefer the new system. By paying cash for everything from movies to dry cleaning, the average enlisted man has worked out a new economy.

"It seems," one 21-year-old veteran with 14 months' service remarked, "that when you're spend-

Private Brooks Has His Ups and Downs

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (U.P.)—This is the Army, Mr. Brooks.

And Pvt. Robert M. Brooks of Fort Warren is learning only too well what that phrase means. Brooks thinks he is the unluckiest man in khaki. His story:

He went to the dentist to have a tooth pulled—the dentist told him 14 more would have to come out.

They did.

He went before an Officer Candidate Board and was rejected on physical grounds.

Last week Private Brooks was told the revocation was being revoked and that he was to enroll for officers' school. He got settled aboard the train when word came of the revocation of the revocation.

Melancholy over it all, Brooks volunteered to work all night so he might have the next day to sleep away his woes.

In the morning, just as he was crawling into bed, he was swarmed by a crew of workmen armed with electric drills to work on transforming the beds into double-deckers and started an ear-splitting racket.

A railway tank car can haul only the fuel oil needed to heat four homes for a year.

ing real money, instead of canteen checks, you sorta watch yourself. Many advantages have developed from the system, among them one strictly "in the groove" so far as cutting down non-essentials is concerned.

Personnel formerly employed in keeping accounts now is free for other duties, while reduced paper work increases efficiency of the concerns.

And so it went for half an hour, with Mr. Channing proposing and Meath disposing. Then, all at once, there came a hiatus. "Wh-wh-wh-whine-eece," said a fearful voice, close to the window. Mr. Channing rose from his chair like a flushed partridge. "Good God! What's that?" "I think," said Meath dispassionately, "that it's the horse. The one that roams at large." SHE was correct. Bucephalus, a sprig of greenery depending from his muzzle, poked his head in at the window. Mr. Channing regained a measure of aplomb. "Beat it!" thundered the overlord of the Channings. He advanced to the window and promptly emitted an excited blast. "Hi! Get your feet out of those flowers." At that point Mr. Calvin Meggs loomed moonily on the horizon. "Calvin!" boomed Mr. Channing. "You, Calvin! Take this confounded setra out of my garden." Mr. Meggs drifted up in his whimsical way. "Tak, tak," breathed Mr. Meggs, like one who is privy to the desecration of a temple. "Zebra!" He placed a loving hand upon the nose of Bucephalus. "Come away from the flowers, dearie." "Henry," said Mr. Meggs, clearing his throat, "I am here to talk business. One way or another, I have amassed the sum of $13.75. Go away, Calvin!" Mr. Meggs shook his head. "No, Henry. I must remind you of our little agreement. You undertook to cover any further monies I might raise. At four to one." "Of, all right," Mr. Channing waved his hands exasperatingly. MR. CHANNING sank back into his chair. "Well, where was I?" Before Meath could tell him, there came another interruption. The door of the den opened discreetly. A plump, pretty woman in a kind of flowing house-gown stood on the threshold. She had a calm and pleasant face. "I'm sorry to disturb you, lovely," she said, in a somewhat detached way. "But I really must speak to you."

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 2.—Last January, month after the biggest Christmas mailings in history, Texas postal receipts were still booming—54.7 per cent above those for January of last year—the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. Postal receipts for January were 32.4 per cent less than for the month of December, however. Total receipts amounted to $1,938,046 as compared with $1,676,674 in January, 1942. Receipts in Dallas were far larger than those of any other city—$420,600.

Montgomery Ward's Statement TO THE NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD

February 27, 1943

National War Labor Board
Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen:

A National War Labor Board panel has recommended that the Board issue another order against Montgomery Ward and Co. imposing upon Wards' six large stores in Denver, Detroit and New York City:

1. A form of closed shop, called "maintenance of membership," together with a check-off of union dues from wages.
2. Compulsory arbitration of any question the union wishes to raise.

Wards objects to the proposed order for these reasons:

1. The War Labor Board is without authority. Congress, the only law-making authority under the Constitution, has not empowered the Board to order any employer to adopt these requirements.
2. The War Labor Board, by ordering a closed shop in this case, will be furthering disrespect for constitutional authority. The Board is attempting to assume a power to make rules and laws by executive fiat alone. The public is being deceived into believing that the Board's orders have the force of law, when in fact they have no such effect. Employees are being confused and deceived into believing that their government desires them to join labor unions when in fact the national policy as declared by Congress is that employees are free to join or not, as they wish. Thus the Board is destroying the very essence of democracy, the right of the people to make laws through those whom the people elect for that purpose.
3. The War Labor Board, by promiscuously granting some form of the closed shop, is destroying the laws constitutionally enacted by Congress. The National Labor Relations Act endorses, guarantees and encourages the process of collective bargaining. The orders of this Board, however, have led the unions to abandon collective bargaining. The union in this case has rushed to the War Labor Board in the conviction that the Board will grant more than it could obtain through collective bargaining, the procedure which Congress has sought to protect and encourage. Other unions are following the same course. Thus the Board, by this proceeding and by its policies as proclaimed in other proceedings of this nature, is nullifying the public policy of the nation as declared by Congress and set forth in the National Labor Relations Act. Laws passed by Congress, the only law-making authority under our Constitution, can not legally be repealed by executive decree.
4. The proposed order would require Wards to violate the law. It would require Wards, first, to interfere with the free choice of its employees to resign from the union; second, to give support to the union by a check-off of union dues; and third, to discriminate against employees if they resign their membership in the union, all in direct violation of the National Labor Relations Act.
5. Wards operates in a highly competitive field composed of one million seven hundred fifty thousand retail establishments. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is in competition. If the retail industry is to be subjected to the closed shop and arbitration requirements, they should be legislated by Congress and applied uniformly against all retail establishments.

6. The proposed order would require Wards to surrender to outside arbitrators the final decision on all matters which the union may wish to treat as grievances. Thus Wards' sixty thousand shareholders would be deprived of the right to direct, through the management they select, the affairs of the corporation they own.
7. Under this "maintenance of membership" form of closed shop, employees are not free to resign from the union without losing their jobs. Wards is compelled to discharge every union member who fails to maintain his union membership in good standing (non-payment of dues, etc.). "Maintenance of membership" is the starting phase which inevitably leads to the full closed shop and a labor monopoly.
8. The proposed order violates the fundamental principles of liberty. Liberty requires that an employee be free to join, to refuse to join, or to resign from a union without losing his job. Liberty requires that an employer be free to employ the person best suited for the work.
9. Wards has consistently defended these principles of liberty. In times of peace, Wards successfully denied all demands for the closed shop in any form. Two years ago the Teamsters' Union, in an effort to force a closed shop, maintained a vicious seven months' strike against Wards' retail stores and mail order houses on the Pacific Coast. Two mail order houses and six retail stores were forced to close, forty-three other stores were picketed, and Wards suffered damages exceeding two million dollars. Employees were slugged, customers abused, and property destroyed. The railroads, the express companies, the truckers and finally the United States Post Office obeyed the demands of the union and, with total disregard for their obligations to the public and in violation of law, refused service to Wards and its customers. Nevertheless, Wards, while announcing its willingness to bargain and to contract with the union, refused to compromise the principles it was defending. The strike did not end until the union, in writing, withdrew its demand for a closed shop.

Even if the War Labor Board had the authority which it lacks, it should not, in time of war, when sacrifices are demanded of all, grant to any union a privilege it could not have obtained in time of peace.

Wards has no quarrel with legitimate union practices. However, Wards strongly opposes the War Labor Board's illegitimate attempts to sabotage our laws and to socialize all industry, ostensibly as a part of the war effort.

Wards desires to continue to obey the law, to preserve constitutional government, to maintain management by ownership, to remain competitive, and to leave its employees free to belong or not to belong to a union as they wish.

In accordance with these principles Wards must reject any proposals which require it to enter into contracts which it believes to be illegal, or to surrender principles which it considers to be fundamental. In so doing, Wards is taking the course which good citizenship requires.

Woman's Society Of Christian Service Has Business Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the church in a business and council meeting and also the monthly bulletin was given.

Mrs. C. E. May, president, presided over the meeting. Minutes were read by Mrs. G. C. Boswell in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Nicholson. Reports by all officers were good, and new items were discussed.

Mmes. May and Ratliff were elected delegate and alternate, respectively, to the conference meeting in Ft. Worth on March 30-31.

Mrs. C. C. Coalson gave the devotion which was taken from the 21st Chap. of Genesis, and the principal thought was thinking of others. This was followed by the song, "Others."

Mrs. Boswell had charge of the council program, which was based on the text book, "Uprooted Peoples," and the theme was, what is the church doing about this need.

Mrs. J. L. Turner spoke of the problems confronting defense workers and ways and means whereby these people might be aided spiritually.

Mrs. Mattie Davenport's subject was the agricultural migrant. The Lord's prayer given in unison, concluded the meeting.

Mar. Proclaimed WAAC Recruiting Month by Gov.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 2 (Sp.) Gov. Coke Stevenson of Texas has joined four other chief executives of states comprising the Eighth Service Command in proclaiming March as Women's Army Auxiliary Corps Recruiting Month.

The action followed an appeal for complete civilian co-operation in the WAAC recruiting drive issued by Major General Richard Donovan, Commanding General of the Eighth Service Command.

"Where as Major General Donovan has requested all patriotic citizens to observe March as WAAC Recruiting Month, and to bend every effort toward the stimulation of enrollments in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps," Governor Stevenson wrote.

"Whereas, Texas is an integral part of the Eighth Service Command, and charged with a large share of the responsibility of furnishing womanpower for the WAAC, and

"Whereas, Texas has always fulfilled its obligations to the nation, and its people recognize the need of utilizing the skills and aptitudes of women as well as men in the service of our country during this greatest of all emergencies;

"Now, therefore, I do hereby proclaim March as WAAC Recruiting Month in Texas, and call upon all citizens for sincere participation in, and wholehearted support of this vitally important effort."

Similar proclamations were signed by the governors of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

General Donovan's appeal came in the form of a statement addressed to all citizens in the Southwest.

"Units of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, at posts within the continental United States and overseas, have proved of inestimable value to the Army of the United States," he said in part.

"The President of the United States has ordered immediate expansion of this Corps to its full authorized strength of 150,000 as a vital part of this nation's war effort."

for the nation, and its people recognize the need of utilizing the skills and aptitudes of women as well as men in the service of our country during this greatest of all emergencies;

"Now, therefore, I do hereby proclaim March as WAAC Recruiting Month in Texas, and call upon all citizens for sincere participation in, and wholehearted support of this vitally important effort."

Similar proclamations were signed by the governors of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

Albert L. Walters Added to Texas War Saving Staff

AUSTIN, March 2. Honorable Frank Scofield, Administrator, Texas War Savings Staff, has announced the appointment of Albert L. Walters, Dallas, as Assistant.

Walters, who for the past six years has been Texas Manager of Braun & Company, Public Relations Consultants, has been a member of the War Savings Committee and chairman of the Retail Committee since before Pearl Harbor. Under his direction retail committees have been established in one hundred sixty-five points in Texas including all centers of 2,500 populations and more. He is now actively engaged in the prosecution of the 1943 program through which greatly increased sales of War Savings Bonds and Stamps retail outlets are expected.

In announcing his official appointment, Scofield said: "I am indeed pleased to have the assistance of Albert Walters in the supervision and direction of the Texas retail sales department. Walters has worked faithfully at this job since August, 1941, and his official appointment came in recognition of the fine work he is doing. On January 29, Walters was cited by the Honorable Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, 'For distinguished service rendered in behalf of the War Savings Program.' He was given comparable recognition by the Treasury Department for similar work in behalf of the sale of Liberty Bonds during World War I."

MONTGOMERY WARD

Three major steps in a program to win the peace have been outlined by University of Texas President P. Rainey: (1) restore legitimate governments — those receiving their powers from the people; (2) put democracy's house in order so that it will meet the needs of all peoples and nations; (3) organize some form of international control for the maintenance of permanent peace.

British Given Hints On Care Of Their Shoes

LONDON (AP)—Under the heading "Six Ways to Make Shoes Last Longer," the British Board of Trade is inserting the following official hints in a British newspaper:

1. Everyone who has more than one pair of shoes should wear them in turn and not keep to the same pair day after day. This gives the leather time to rest and dry thoroughly, and so makes your shoes last longer.
2. Clean shoes regularly. Remove dust and dirt before polishing and rub the polish well in. It "feeds" the leather and keeps it tough and pliable. Use dubbin (a heavy, oily, leather dressing) to preserve heavy leather boots and to keep them waterproof.
3. Choose a dry day for wearing: make spreads for the soldiers at Camp Bowie. A bottle of vanilla was sold to Mrs. E. E. Blackwell, and the money from this went to the Alameda Home Demonstration fund.

Alameda H.D. Club Meets In Home of Mrs. E. E. Blackwell

The Alameda Home Demonstration Club met Thursday Feb. 25th in the home of Mrs. E. E. Blackwell. Each member paid 5 cents for the Texas Home Demonstration Association fund. Scraps from the Red Cross were distributed to new (or newly-soled) shoes for the first time. Then they will pick up small grit which reinforces the sole surfaces and helps to doist wear.

4. Never put shoes close to a fire or radiator. Heat ruins leather. Don't sit your damp shoes on their sides and let them dry slowly.
5. Don't let your shoes wear out too much before having them repaired. It is a mistake to go on wearing shoes until they no longer protect your feet in wet weather. Heels worn badly at the edges will quickly spoil the shapes of the shoes. Have them built up directly the first layer of leather is worn down.
6. Watch how your shoes are wearing. When they need repair, take the advice of your shoe repairer—he knows what is needed and what repairs he is permitted to do.

The official notice also contains the suggestion that children's shoes, which are often outgrown without being outworn, be passed on to mothers with smaller children. Often the local school, welfare clinic or some exchange organization runs a shoe exchange where a mother could trade in her child's outgrown shoes for a larger pair.

DEEP MUD IN NORTH AFRICA TRIAL TO MEN

By REVEL S. MOORE

United Press Staff Correspondent
FORT BELVOIR, Va. (AP)—
Terrible rains and mud bogged down American forces in North Africa in the early weeks of the Allied occupation and rendered overland operations in many areas impossible, Maj. Gen. Eugene Reybold, chief of Army Engineers, told newsmen visiting Fort Belvoir.

Reybold recently returned from a visit to Britain and North Africa, on which he was accompanied by Maj. Gen. James C. Magee, surgeon general.

"It was the rainiest and muddiest place I ever saw in my life," he said. "There had been weeks of rain. Our troops were living in pup tents in the mud, though they had them boarded up until they were comfortable. Where they got the lumber is more than I know."

"The highways were good but if you got off the road you might bog down. They said it was the rainiest season in many years."

Indicates Action Soon
General Reybold did not discuss military operations but indicated the tempo of events likely will be accelerated soon when he said: "The bad weather tapers off in late February or early March."

Reybold declared the Army Engineers' biggest problem was maintaining roads, building new ones and construction and maintaining airbases. Regarding the latter, he said:

"There's nothing we can't accomplish as soon as the weather lets up. It's a good flat country with plenty of potential fields."

Describing communications, Reybold said the railroad from Casablanca to Tunis was a first-class single track. "It was beautifully constructed and is run by the French. I never saw a better roadbed. The bridges are of steel of standardized construction, in good shape, and are well guarded by the British, French and American troops. It is standard gauge, like ours, with narrow gauge lateral lines."

"The highway from Casablanca to Tunisia is a bit-top road, 18 to 20 feet wide, in good condition. I don't know whether it is built for such heavy traffic as it is now getting, but anyway, under such use any road would need considerable maintenance."

Engineers Operate Harbors
U. S. Army engineers are now operating the harbors of Casablanca and Oran, including unloading of ships. At Casablanca

Reybold watched them unload an amphibian command carried out the landings from small boats at Oran, while the Navy performed a similar job at Casablanca.

At Casablanca the docks were in good order, but many ships were sunk at the piers and in the harbor. General Reybold described damage to the French battleship Jean Bart. It had employed its forward turrets and had been subjected to intense naval and aerial bombardment.

"They blew the living hell out of her," Reybold said. "She was sunk but refloated and the holes sealed up with temporary plates. A French cruiser was badly hit and beached outside the harbor, also a destroyer."

General Reybold said the Amphibian command had rehabilitated the boats it used at Oran. He saw American assault boats, still on the beach at Fedala. The engineers in Africa were well drilled and equipped, he said.

OPA today announced an expanded eligibility list for rationing of all new passenger automobiles and liberalized rules for rationing of convertibles, 1941 models and cars in the higher price brackets. About 240,000 cars now are available for rationing. Among changes announced...

was the provision that any person who needs a car in a gainful occupation or work related to the war effort, or public welfare may buy a 1941 model car driven less than 1000 miles without applying to his local war price and rationing board.

By Boyce House

A roving correspondent meets lots of interesting people all over the State.

Remember ol' Billie Mayfield and "Mayfield's Weekly"? That was published some 25 years ago when Mayfield made the race for Lieutenant Governor, getting into the runoff. Now, he's editor of the County Chronicle. Met him not long ago and reminded him that there was one county in which he received just one vote and that he offered to buy that lone supporter a fine suit of clothes if he would make his identity known.

"Yes," Colonel Billie laughed, "and 37 men wrote me, each claiming that he was the one who voted for me!"

Many war plant workers have temporarily moved into the cities from Texas towns and the country. Some of them have fallen into the clutches of loan sharks who levy 250 per cent interest and more and whose unscrupulous methods of collecting upset the morale of these war workers. There is a rising sentiment over the State that the Legislature protect them by enacting an injunction to put the loan sharks out of business.

The old-time hobo printer was one of the most romantic figures in newspaper annals. Harry Schwenker's "Sauce" column in the Brady Standard states:

The hobo printer was identified with the era in the printing universal use of the typesetting machine spelled the doom of the itinerant printer; he knew it, and how he did hate the typesetting machine. So much so, in fact, that he would rather starve than give up this type-setting by hand for the far faster method of setting type by machine.

The old-time hobo printer migrated just about like the birds south in the fall of the year; north in the spring. All along his route of travel back and forth, he had certain stopping places, where the town printer or publisher could be counted on to give him work for a day or two, or else a financial lift to enable him to get a bite to eat until he could make it to the next stop. Transportation was the least of his worries; riding the rods, or traveling by box-car (side-door pullman) was as good as the hobo printer wanted.

The marvelous defense of their "good earth" that the Chinese almost barehanded have waged for five years against Japanese armed with tanks, planes, machine-guns and artillery is one of the great, heroic achievements of history.

Everyone regarded the Chinese lightly as fighters before the Japanese invasion. Once I was interviewing Will Rogers and a famous airplane manufacturer. The cowboy you got recently. "That was a military order; maybe I'd better not say anything about it." But Rogers, with that wonderful grin, replied:

"Oh, you sold 'em to the Chinese—you wouldn't call that military." Pending in the Texas Senate are two bills already passed by the House—one unanimously, the other almost unanimously. Rep. Ben Sharpe's bill would make available at once a balance of $1,154,000 which was appropriated for old age assistance for the fiscal year of 1941-42 but was not spent then. The Sharpe bill will prevent a cut in the pension checks for the next few months. And if the Senate will adopt R-p. Ennis Favors' bill providing for lifting the present "ceiling," the danger of future cuts in the pension checks will end.

What Next?

Now we have the WIPS (Women's Industrial Production Services) whose aim is to promote safety for women war workers. WIPS chief Carol Shaughnessy here tries on a safety cap.

Deaths, Illness Caused By Careless Use of Medicines

AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 2 (The careless or uninformed use of medicines cause much serious illness and even many deaths in Texas every year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today in a statement urging the public to use caution in self-medication. "It is never safe to take medicine in the dark," Dr. Cox said. "Always read the label carefully to make sure the aspirin you expect to take is not a bichloride of mercury tablet. As a matter of fact, poisons and medicines containing poison should be kept together, well out of the reach of children and marked in some distinctive manner. Another thing to remember," Dr. Cox said, "is that medicines should ways be taken, exactly as directed by a physician because many beneficial medicines can do untold harm if taken too frequently or in too large quantities. It is well to stop and think that you may be taking your own life in your hands when you take medicines casually."

ed to diagnose and treat their own ills. Such persons are likely to guess wrong, he asserted, and while they may not take medicine that is actually harmful, they are nevertheless postponing an accurate diagnosis and the resulting proper treatment that could help their illness.

"The safest rule is never to use medicine, internally or externally that has not been prescribed by your doctor and for that particular illness with which you are suffering," Dr. Cox concluded.

Recruits for Pearl Harbor Navy Yard Are Being Sought

DALLAS, Mar. 1. A renewed drive to recruit skilled workmen and laborers for the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard has been launched in this region by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, to relieve the strain on the Hawaii base caused by the growth of the Pacific Fleet. Wages ranging from 82 cents to $1.79 an hour are offered qualified men between the ages of 20 and 62. Especially needed to help in the vital job of keeping the Navy's battlewagons fit to fight are electricians, sheetmetal workers, welders, pipefitters, auto and aircraft mechanics, laborers and helpers.

Applications are being received at Civil Service and U. S. Employment Service offices throughout the region. After getting his appointment, the worker is required to receive clearance from his local draft board. He is not permitted to take dependents with him, and he must accept appointment for a period of 18 months or longer. His travel and eating expenses, from home to Pearl Harbor, are paid by the govern-

Missing Hog Loses 250 Lbs. In Month

ALBION, N. Y. (AP)—How to reduce? That's easy. Just follow the system used by a hog on the farm of William J. Engall at nearby Lyndonville.

This particular hog lost 250 pounds in about a month. Recently Mr. Engall discovered an opening in a strawstack and investigated. He pitched away the straw and found a tunnel.

Imagine his surprise when he followed the tunnel and discovered two of his hogs so tightly wedged in that they were unable to turn around.

One hog had been missing for a few days. The other for a month. The former 300-pound animal tipped the scales at but 50 pounds—was still alive and responded to nourishment.

In Hawaii, all workers are assigned quarters in barracks at the Naval Cantonment or in new apartment units. For $10 a month each, six or seven men live together in quarters provided with all conveniences. More privacy can be had in apartments closer to Honolulu and Waikiki Beach. Adequate meals are available for 50 cents each.

Urges Study of Poison Gas

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A civilian study of safeguards against poisonous gases, used by the enemy in chemical warfare, would reduce the number of deaths from panic, shock and lack of knowledge of neutralizing agents and precautions, advises Dr. Arthur Keegan, OGD official. "The more the public knows about chemical warfare," said Keegan, "the less it can be disturbed and fewer will be the casualties."
