RUSSIA AGAIN MAKES DEMAND FOR NEW FRONT

Germans In Occasion Second Anniversary of Reds Fight Against for Statement

LONDON, June 22 (Tuesday) (UP)—Russia made its strongest demand for a second front, as indispensable to Allied victory, in a confident special communique Tuesday on the second anniversary of the Russo-German war.

It said Germany and its satellites had lost 6,500,000 men killed and captured on the eastern front in two years, against 4,200,000 Russian killed or missing. It asserted the might of the German army had been fundamentally shattered and that Germany's capacity for waging war had been definitely crippled. But at its end the communique said:

"Without a second front in Europe, victory is impossible. The present situation depends on the manner in which the Allies will be able to exploit their present advantages. Postponement of the opening of a second front in Europe would cause serious setbacks to our common cause."

It said the "most forthright second front demand yet made."

The communique, however, emphasized Russian fighting power and the strength of "the anti-Hitlerite coalition of the great governments of the world—the Soviet Union, Great Britain and the United States."

In the two years since Germany launched its "treacherous and callous" attack on Russia June 22, 1942, the Germans have lost 56,500 guns, 42,400 tanks, and 43,000 planes, the special communique said, against Russian losses of 35,000 guns, 30,000 tanks and 23,000 planes.

Russian guerrillas, the communique said, alone killed 300,000 enemy troops.

Russia Stabbed in Back

The communique noted that Russia had improved its relations with Great Britain and said that the Russo-American agreement was in accordance with the principles of mutual help in waging war against aggressors.

"In a long review of the war, the communique recalled how Russia had been caught relatively unprepared by a stab in the back and was fighting for its life while trying to mobilize.

"At that time our Allies were busy preparing themselves and could not give speedy help to the Soviet Union," the communique said.

"It reviewed the Russian reverses and also its stubborn fight. By the end of the first summer it was clear that Germany could not inflict the lightning knock-out blow on which it had gambled, and then German hope of wearing down Russia wilted.

"The forces of the Soviet Union are developing from year to year," the communique said.

Bill Hinman Is Recovering After Accident, Illness

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hinman have received word that their son Bill Hinman, who was recently the victim of pneumonia following an accident in recovering in a hospital in Crowley, La.

Hinman was working on a boat near Point A La Hache, La. when he fell into the water striking his head in the fall. It was reported that he came to the surface and started swimming only to go under again. He was brought out of the water after sometime and given artificial respiration. Immediately after pneumonia set in and he was carried to a hospital in New Orleans later being sufficiently recovered to be removed to the Crowley Hospital.

Sicily: Triangular Target For Destruction

Bomb-battered Sicily is rich in fruit, mineral products, supplies sulphur for Italy's munition factories. The population, excluding the military, fish and farm. Northern coast is steep, cliff-bound, has fine harbors. Southern coast has flat beaches, made-to-order for landing barges. Numerous airfields dot the island, are allied bomb targets.

British and American bombers by the hundreds are blasting Sicily day and night in the current campaign to knock this next axis island out of the war as a pre-invasion move. Airfields are the principal targets as allies seek to destroy axis airpower here before making troop landings.

PAUL COFFIN DIES SUDDENLY THIS MORNING

Friends were advised this morning of the death of Paul Coffin, formerly of Ranger, at Amarillo about 10:30 o'clock. Death came suddenly as the result of a heart attack. Funeral arrangements were not complete.

During his residence in Ranger, the deceased was superintendent for the Ranger district of the Lone Star Gasoline Company, now the Lone Star Producing Co. From Ranger he went to Dallas as assistant to the late J. R. Jarvis who was then head of the company. A few years later he left the Lone Star company and at the time of his death was associated with the Shamrock Oil and Gas Company, stationed at Amarillo.

Rodeo To Be Held In Mineral Wells July 3rd, 4th

MINERAL WELLS.—The Palo Pinto County Livestock Association, a non-profit group of livestock raisers and sponsors of the big eighth annual Rodeo to be staged here on Saturday and Sunday, July 3 and 4, claims one of the world's "firsts"—a brand new arena event.

Calf roping, an old Western art, is going modern—yet, mechanized—at the association's coming two days show which will feature two performances daily at 2:30 and 8:30 o'clock p. m.

One of the many thrilling events of the PPCLA's 1943 presentation will be roping a calf from an Army jeep!

Two Men Being Held For Carbon Okra Burglaries

Walter Lesay and Collin M. Merchon, escaped convicts from the State Pen at Huntsville, are being held in connection with the burglary, April 1-8, last, of four stores at Carbon and one at Okra. They are also wanted on burglary charges in various other towns in the state including one at Burkett, in Coleman County, alleged to have been committed on the same night that the Okra and Carbon stores were looted.

The two men are being held in jail at Dallas and as soon as other counties get through with them they will be brought to Eastland county to face the charges against them here.

According to Eastland County officers one of the men has already confessed to the Eastland county burglaries and implicated others.

According to information gained by the officers the men first robbed the store at Burkett, west from there to Okra where the job there was pulled and then from Okra they drove to Carbon and, after looking about for a while in an effort to locate a nightwatchman, looted four stores and started for Dallas going via Ranger. Enroute from Carbon to Ranger they separated the cash, notes, bonds and other papers making up the loot secured from the Carbon, Okra and Burkett stores and threw much of it away near Ranger. This was later found by officers.

When told that they threw a $20 bill away with the discarded papers, the man doing the talking said, "Well, that is not so bad when you consider that we did the separating" as we drove and we were not playing along, either."

County School News and Notes

A report on the Eastland county scholastic census is due about July 1, according to County School Superintendent Homer O. Smith. Scholastic payments next year by the State Department of Education will be $24.00 or $25.00 per capita as against $22.50 per capita paid last year, Supt. Smith has advised.

The third payment on transportation aid, amounting to $3,300, has been received by the County School Superintendent's office from the State Department of Education, making a total of $15,108.58 received to date.

School teachers of Eastland county, along with those in other counties of the State, have been granted salary increases as follows, according to information sent County School Superintendent Smith by the State Department of Education:

Base pay for unaccredited schools is $95 per month. Base pay for accredited schools is $100.00 per month. To these, base payments $2.50 is added for each year of college work, beginning with the second year, the teacher has had until an increase of $10. is reached. Also $1.50 is added for each year of teaching experience until a total of $15.00 is reached. Thus it is possible for teachers in unaccredited schools to receive $120.00 per month and for those in accredited schools to receive $125.00 per month.

One Man Held For Burglary of Two Desdemona Stores

Eastland County officers have filed charges of burglary against John Wilson, 21, who has given his residence as Desdemona, in connection with the looting of two stores at Desdemona a few weeks ago.

Wilson is in the custody of the Eastland county sheriff awaiting action of the Eastland county grand jury.

Wilson is under sentence for burglary in Erath county.

Goats Help Some

EL CENTRO, Cal. (UP)—Imperial Valley goat raisers came to the rescue of meat-famished San Diegans and placed their goats on the butcher's blocks, where all goat meat was quickly taken. Unfortunately there were only 200 goats in the Imperial Valley and Imperial Valley can do nothing more about helping out San Diego and its meat shortage.

FIELD DAY FOR PECAN RAISERS TO BE JUNE 29

It has been announced by the county agents that a pecan field day has been arranged for Eastland county on June 29, and that the demonstration for Ranger will be held at the orchard of W. W. Paschall at 10 o'clock on the morning of that date.

The different methods of pecan budding will be demonstrated and pecan care and culture in general will be discussed by W. S. Price, pecan specialist of State Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas. Mr. Price has developed one of the outstanding native pecan orchards in the state and it very practical in his methods.

All pecan growers whether they have one tree or many are urged to attend one of these demonstrations. The demonstrations are as follows:

10:00 a. m.—W. W. Paschall, 341 Wayland Street, Ranger, Texas.

2:00 p. m.—F. M. Spurlen, place, 3 1/2 miles east of Eastland on the Staff Road.

President Sends Congratulations To Joseph Stalin

WASHINGTON, June 21 (UP)—President Roosevelt Monday night congratulated Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin on completing two years of history-making Russian resistance to the German invader and said the growing might of combined United Nations forces testifies to "the spirit of unity and sacrifice necessary for our ultimate victory."

He said he was sure this same spirit will "animate us in approaching the challenging tasks of peace which victory will present to the world."

Secretary of State Cordell Hull also noted the occasion in a statement saying that the Red army is ready not only to meet any summer offensive the Nazis may launch but also to hurl back the invader.

Mr. Roosevelt describing the invasion of Russia as an act of treachery in keeping with the long record of Nazi duplicity, said that when the Nazi leaders launched their brutal attack they underestimated the extent to which the Soviet Government and people had developed and strengthened their military power to defend their country.

Former Resident Buried Monday In Ft. Worth

Funeral services for Ray A. Reynolds of Ft. Worth, formerly of Ranger were held Monday afternoon at the Matthews Memorial Methodist church in Ft. Worth.

Reynolds, a consulting geologist, made his home in Ranger during the oil boom in 1918-19 and mapped much of the area around Ranger. During his residence here he resided in the M. H. Hagaman home while Mr. Hagaman and Mrs. Hagaman were in Austin where Hagaman was serving as representative in the Texas Legislature.

Survey Shows Absences Due To Illnesses

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The greatest drain on the United States working manpower is not accident but illness, according to a recent survey by the United States Department of Labor, the American College of Surgeons and the National Association of Manufacturers.

On the basis of the survey, 92 per cent of the absenteeism in war plants is attributed to illness and only 8 per cent to accidents. Colds and other respiratory diseases are responsible for almost half the reported absenteeism, accounting for 43 of every 100 absentee-days. Stomach disorders are second, accounting for 13 days. Miscellaneous reasons were given for the other days away from the job.

Conductors of the survey said "self-discipline" in following a well-regimented personal program was necessary to overcome this "bottleneck" in industry.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANT NEAR ANTWERP TARGET FOR INTENSE OFFENSIVE

MESSAGE TELLS OF DEATH OF LT. SCOTT NEAL

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Neal have received word that their son and husband, Lt. Scott Neal, was killed in action July 22, 1942 in the North American area. The confirmation of his death was received in a telegram from the adjutant general, Monday.

They had been notified last July that he was missing in action and no official confirmation of his death had been received until Monday. It was known that he and his bomber crew had been sent on a bombing mission in the area and according to information received it was in this action that he was killed. The message received Monday did not state how his death had been confirmed but did state that a letter would follow the telegram.

Lt. Neal entered the United States Air Corps on April 24, 1941 and was graduated from the advanced flying school at Phoenix, Arizona, on December 12, 1941. After graduating he was sent to the west coast for bomber training and also for coastal patrol. On June 7, 1942, he was sent to the North American area.

Lt. Neal was born and reared in Ranger where he attended Ranger Junior College. So far as is known he is the first native of Ranger to give his life for his country while serving in action.

Raid followed by few hours British attack on Krefeld, Nazi production center, by 700 RAF Fighters

Allied bombers waged one of the most intense air offensives of the war against Axis Europe today.

Concentrating on a synthetic rubber plant and the former General Motors Plant near Antwerp, the United States Eighth Air Force sent powerful forces of four-motored bombers against the German Ruhr and occupied Belgium a few hours after more than 700 British raiders hit the Nazi production center of Krefeld.

French Reported To Be In Accord

ALGIERS, (UP)—The French Committee for National Liberation, after a session of almost two hours today, reached what was on high authority as "a compromise agreement regarding the division of military powers between Generals Charles De Gaulle and Henri Giraud."

WASHINGTON — (UP) —

The Navy announced today that American fliers hammered at three Japanese air bases in the South Pacific, continuing an aerial drive that is believed to prestage a full dress offensive by the U. S. Fleet.

Red Air Force bombers started large fires and touched off heavy explosions in raids on railway stations supplying the Balkan front in the Ukraine.

Meanwhile in the Pacific Allied fliers added 23 more Japanese planes to the growing toll exacted from enemy air fleets in a steady series of combats over the islands of the Pacific north of Australia.

Battling two to one odds American Lightning brought down 14 for certain and probably nine others in a force of 36 intercepted yesterday over the Lac area of the New Guinea northeast coastline. Not an Allied plane was lost.

1,304 Bodies Are Found In Ruins

ANKARA, (UP)—The bodies of 1,304 persons were reported to have been recovered today from the ruins of the earthquake that struck Adapazari on Sunday and it was believed that many more bodies remained in the wreckage of homes and buildings.

He Makes Good His Belief In Old Adage

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—It doesn't rain, but what it pours, some people say. A well dressed Houston man spent all Tuesday night in the City Jail for being drunk. When he released the man Wednesday morning, the police chief asked: "Why did you get drunk? You look like a nice respectable man." "Well, it's like this," the man explained. "My son is in an army training camp. "I just saw my wife off to the WAAC training camp. "Then I got turned down for the Seabees, so I went on a drunk."

Suggestions Made For Harvest Of Potato Crops

Some suggestions for storing potatoes as given by Gladys Martin, County Home Demonstration Agent are as follows: Potatoes can be dug before the tops die, but they should be mature if they are to be stored. Where heavy rains have occurred, water blisters are likely to appear on the potatoes. Water blisters are small, elevated white spots, which you will notice scattered over the surface of the potatoes. When you have dug a few hills and notice this condition, delay harvesting until the tops have pretty well died out, at which time you will notice that some of the water blisters have disappeared. If harvesting is done while the potatoes are supple or blistery, heavy losses by rot may occur.

Irish potatoes should not be handled like stacks of sawwood, they are to be kept. Remember to handle them almost as carefully as you would an egg. A turning plow or middle buster run eight to ten inches deep may be used to dig the crop. Separate all skinned and bruised potatoes from the good ones, and use them first. If the storage conditions are right, the good ones will wait patiently for their turn on the table. As soon as the potatoes are dug, place them in the shade so that they will not blight.

A cool, well-ventilated cellar is satisfactory for potato storage provided it has an overhead ventilation to escape. If out-buildings, or the area under the farm house, are to be used for storage purposes, cross ventilation is essential. Potatoes will turn green if exposed to light for long periods of time. Avoid spreading the potatoes out on the ground or floor. Provide a slatted glass floor with at least four inches of air space under the potatoes. Poles or even hay on which the potatoes are spread will allow air to completely circle the potatoes.

Remember that potatoes breathe and sweat—even as you and I. Good ventilation picks up the moisture and keeps them dry, which tends to reduce rot.

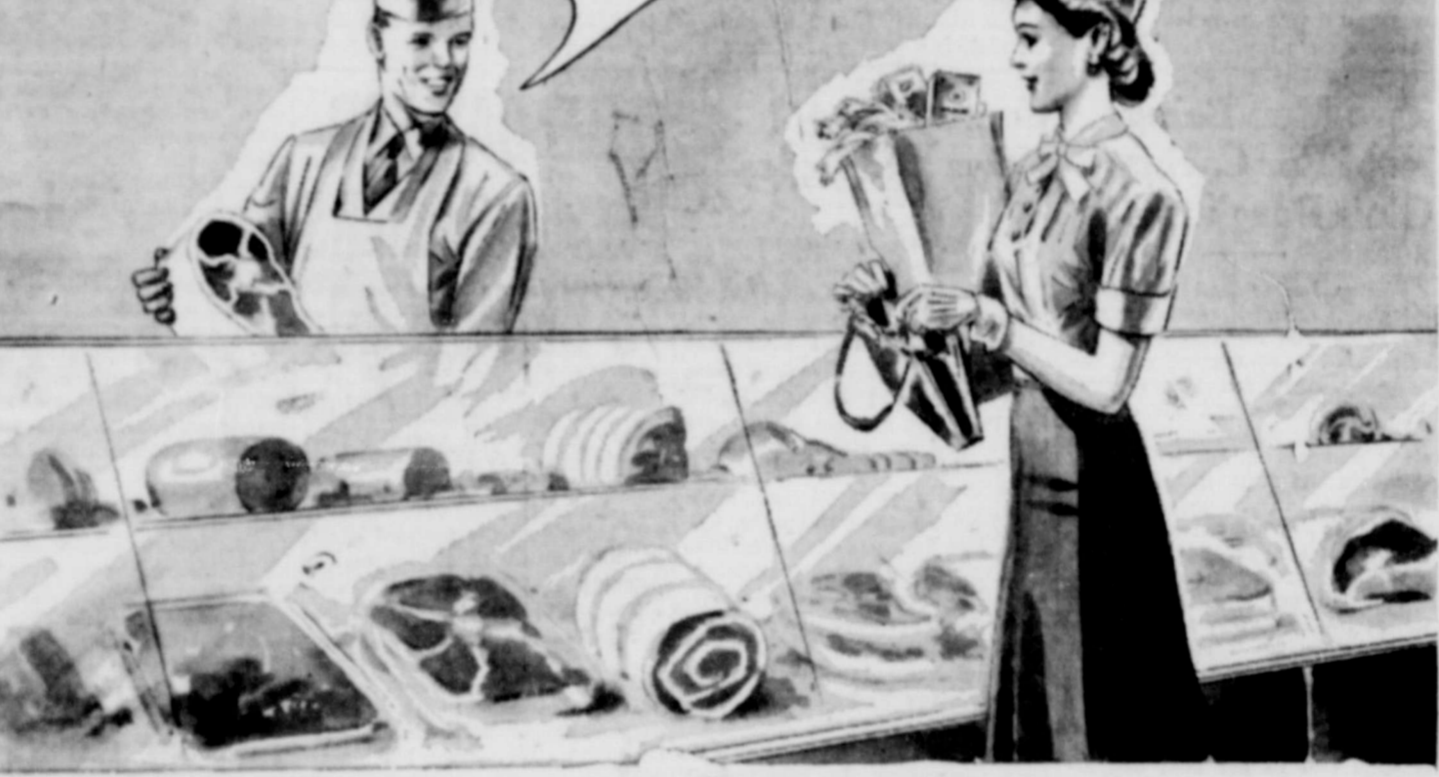

Back to Nature

When the fortunes of war landed him on a South Sea Island, ergt. Charles Gardoeki turned Robinson Crusoe and got the most out of a coconut tree in the way of food, shelter and clothing.

A WARTIME FOOD CONSERVATION HINT:

Your Food Will Stay Fresher if Put in Your Electric Refrigerator Promptly

The sooner you put perishable foods... milk, meats and vegetables... in the safe, cold interior of your electric refrigerator, the longer they will stay fresh and appetizing, and the less expensive and scarce food will be wasted. Your grocer and butcher refrigerate milk and meats until you buy them, but once they leave the store refrigerator, these perishable foods begin to lose the cold which protects them from spoiling.

The next time you buy perishable foods, or when milk is delivered to your home, shorten, if you can, the time it takes to get these foods into your refrigerator. Minutes saved will add hours to the time milk and other foods will keep.

Cat Barks Bulldog
LOS ANGELES, Cal (UP)—When Mizzi, a cat belonging to Mrs. Anna Silverman, became aware of the fact she was about to give birth to quints, she took precautions see that she and her offsprings would not be bothered by a neighbor's dog that chased her a good deal when she was still spry enough to look out for herself, to say nothing of the quints. Which wouldn't even be able to see for nine days. So she climbed to the roof of the house, chose a sheltered nook between the eaves of the house and from there she and the quints look down in peace at the barking and disgruntled bulldog.

Waters in a Michigan refinery fixed up a very low, false door leading to the pay office. On it is inscribed: "You will learn to duck lower if you don't Buy a Bond."

"Flying Nun" Spurs Courses In Aeronautics

MANITOWOC, Wis. (UP)—One of the most enthusiastic of student pilots is Manitowoc's flying nun, Sister Mary Aquinas of the Franciscan Sisters of Alverno Motherhouse near here. Sister Aquinas' interest in aviation has led her to establish an aeronautics course at St. Ambrose School, Ironwood, Mich.

The Franciscan nun learned to fly through the cooperation of officials and instructors at the Manitowoc airport. The war increased her interest in planes and after securing her master's degree in physics, she was given a teaching appointment to St. Ambrose school.

Her enthusiasm led her to learn not only flying technique but also mechanical details of airplane construction. She then took up meteorology and navigation at the Milwaukee meteorological station. After that comprehensive groundwork she established a class in aviation at the Ironwood school, plus her duties as physics instructor.

So successful did the course become with the high school youths that six public high school teachers requested a course in aeronautics, to be conducted by the nun. Now courses similar to the one the enterprising Sister Aquinas as introduced have been established in Ironwood.

Sister Aquinas maintains that aeronautics have greatly aided the boys in imparting general knowledge:

"The boys in my class read, spell and talk better, know more geography and history than they knew before . . . I have impressed upon them that I never worked with people with a broader knowledge than the men and women in the field of aviation. I believe that, next to religion, aspiring to that field is the best characted trainer in the curriculum."

Sister Aquinas received her bachelor of arts degree from Catholic University, Washington, D. C., and her master's in physics last year.

Texas Capitol Is Still Drawing Many Visitors

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP)—Despite restrictions on traveling, the state capitol continues to get its share of visitors from other states as well as Texas.

The majority of sight-seers now, however, are men in the armed forces. They come from several military encampments near Austin to view the granite building which was completed more than half a century ago.

Relatives and friends find that Austin is a suitable place to visit with the soldiers because of lack of accommodations closer to camp. Invariably, if time allows, the group will make a trip to the capitol.

One of the first things most visitors do when they reach the spacious rotunda is to gaze upward, with heads backward as far as possible, to see the blue-ceilinged dome interior. It is centered with a gold-painted star, with the letters "TEXAS" between the five points, and is seven feet higher than the dome of the U. S. capitol at Washington.

Though cameras are forbidden in military zones, many of the soldiers have cameras to snap pictures of the building and buddies—or girl friends—posed against one of the half-dozen statues which decorate the capitol grounds.

Recently one visitor was observed sprawled in the center of the rotunda floor, his camera pointed upward in an attempt to get a picture of the star in the dome.

The tree and grass covered capitol grounds offer inducement to those who just want to "sit for a spell" and enjoy nature. Frequently they are able to see squirrels dart from one tree to another.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gay and sons, Ralph and Johnnie, Miss Jo Oiler, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hall and son, J. C. of Elgin, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis spent Sunday in Wichita Falls, where they visited Pvt. Dewaine

Dennis, Pvt. Homer Gay, Jr. and AC Raymond Bryan, who are stationed at Sheppard Field, and also Mrs. Dewaine Dennis, who is making her home in Wichita Falls.

At noon the group met at the park for a picnic lunch, and the afternoon was devoted to sight-seeing and visiting.

Ladies Bible Class Meets On Monday

The Ladies Bible Class of the Church of Christ met Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the church.

At present the class is studying the Book of Hebrews, and on Monday Weslie Mickey, minister of the Church of Christ, taught the lesson, which was on the third chapter of Hebrews. Members enjoyed very much the round table discussion which was part of the lesson.

Following the meeting, the members paid their regular visits to the hospitals.
