JAP CONVOYS ARE REPORTED HEADING FOR THE SOLOMONS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in Southwest Pacific, Nov. 7. (UP)—Big Japanese convoys, including as many as 15 warships, were reported headed toward Rabaul and the Solomons today for what may develop into the showdown phase of the Southern Pacific struggle. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiqué said long lines of enemy ships were sighted near Kavieng, New Ireland. Some of them were from the big Japanese naval base at Truk, in the Carolines.

A spokesman said the enemy's purpose was not known, but the communiqué reported that the Japanese apparently were "endeavoring to retrieve the situation at Rabaul" and were "utilizing to the full their capacity for rapid replacement."

Rabaul, on New Britain Island, has been the object of heavy Allied aerial assaults. Last Tuesday, 28 ships, including five destroyers or cruisers, were sunk or damaged and 108 planes destroyed or crippled in a heavy raid.

Three convoys of 20 ships were seen between Rabaul and Truk, which is 830 miles northward, on the hub of the enemy's advanced Thursday and Friday. Rabaul is outposts and Truk the strongest naval base in the Southern Pacific area. One of these convoys was reported heading toward Bougainville.

Elevators dropped 57 tons of explosives Wednesday on a six-ship group, including three destroyers, sighted 135 miles northeast of Kavieng, 150 miles above Rabaul, and left one cargo vessel listing and a second "afire. Four to seven out of 20 Japanese fighters trying to protect the convoy were shot down. One bomber was lost.

A single plane bombed a destroyer in a convoy seen near Manus Island, 160 miles from Kavieng. This convoy was in two sections, including one heavy cruiser, five destroyers, three merchantmen and a tanker. Three medium merchantmen were attacked off New Hanover, north of Kavieng, by night planes.

Bougainville, northernmost of the Solomons 250 miles south of Rabaul, U. S. Marines who landed last Monday were pushing Japanese troops eastward down the coast from Empress Augusta Bay in minor patrol actions—dispatched by United Press Correspondent Frank Tremain at South Pacific advanced headquarters.

The local School of Music, at Second Baptist church sponsored by the citizenship of Ranger, and conducted by Rev. Ernest Rippert, of Stephenville, closed Friday evening with a record crowd present.

This marks the termination of the fifth school taught by this instructor in this city. There were crowds present at each session.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the music, and fellowship, the company, and cooperation.

And leading citizens in the community, in brief, were present, expressing themselves as being highly pleased with the school.

With reference to the school the committee on arrangements said they wish to thank the public, various committees, and all who contributed to the success of this school, especially are we grateful to Second Baptist church which so generously tendered its facilities. Mrs. Anna F. Johnson, chairman of Miss Ruth of the Women's Missionaries, and others, for their cooperation and assistance during the entire session.

BECOMING FAVORITE PASTIME OF GERMAN CITIZENS

LONG HOURS OF HUDDLING in air raid shelters while bombs crash overhead are becoming very familiar to the citizens of German cities. They liked it when the Luftwaffe sent Londoners to shelters every night, but the many times multiplied vengeance of the R. A. F. and U. S. Army Eighth Air Force is a different story. Germans are shown in this photo, received from a neutral source, as they huddle in a shelter while the R. A. F. bombed a northern German city. (International Soundphoto)

Rev. English will speak at both services of the church Sunday. At the 11 o'clock service he will speak on the subject "Cross Bearing" and in the evening at 6 o'clock he will speak on "This Changing World."

Lt. Col. Dyess Silent On How He Escaped Japs

ALBANY, Tex. Nov. 7. (UP)— Newly arrived reinforcements helped army troops maintain a heavy guard on internees at the Tule Lake Japanese segregation center today while witnesses described an attempted Japanese uprising which led to army seizure of the camp Thursday.

The uprising started, witnesses said, when youthful Japanese attempted to abduct Camp Director Ray Best. One group of internees marched up to the porch of Best's home and ordered him to accompany them, witnesses said. Another group went to the camp switchboard to cut off communications with the outside.

Best ignored the Japanese request, witnesses said, and went to the telephone and called army authorities, asking them to take over the center. Best's call clared a few moments before the internees commanded the switchboard.

The White Camp security guards engaged the recalcitrant inmates, witnesses said, and additional Japanese emerged from their quarters and ran through the administrative area yelling: "fight fight."

Elks Pledge $50,000 For Crippled Children's Work

MADRID, Nov. 7 (UP)— Reliable reports reaching Madrid from the Italian frontier said today that the Germans have dispatched an additional 20 divisions from their strategic reserves to Northern Italy as result of the Allied breakthrough of the "Little Rommel" line.

According to an announcement made today by E. F. Arterburn, coaled ruler of the Elks Lodge in Ranger, the lodge voted at the meeting Thursday evening to contribute $500 to the fund for the construction of the Texas Elks Crippled Children's Institution at the Warm Springs near Gonzales, Texas.

The Elks of Texas propose to raise $65,000 as the initial fund for the construction program at the springs, and each town has been assigned a quota based on the population of the town and the membership of the lodge in that town.

For the work locally the following committee has been appointed: E. F. Arterburn, M. I. King, W. L. Downton, Joe Dennis, W. A. Leith, and H. H. Vaughn.

ANNOUNCEMENT TOUCHES OFF ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

By United Press

Marshal Josef Stalin touched off Russia's celebration of the 26th Anniversary of the Red Revolution with the announcement today that the Soviets had captured Kiev, capital of th. Ukraine the biggest city taken by the Germans in their eastern campaign.

Stalin, in a ringing order of the day, hailed the troops who stormed Kiev at dawn and swiftly stormed out the last Nazi resistance. He said the great city and its military zone "has the greatest importance in the expulsion of the Germans from the Ukraine."

The victory capped a month-long battle which began when the Russians forced the wide-swift Dnieper at three points on either side of the city, sealing the high bank when least expected.

Beyond Kiev the open Ukrainian plains presented no formidable barrier to a sweep against Poland.

Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky organized the Dniester crossings and directed the initial phase of the battle for Kiev. Then he took over a new command and gave the honor of recapturing the city to Gen. Kikolai V. Vatutin.

Berlin admitted the loss of Kiev a city of 850,000 perched on the high west bank of the Middle Dnieper and there was every reason to believe Premier Josef Stalin would announce the capture of the city in victory pronouncements celebrating the 26th anniversary of the Red Revolution.

The loss of Kiev Adolf Hitler's greatest politico-military crisis of the war. His battered army crumpled the possibility of a gigantic encirclement and catastrophe, and Romania became shakier by the day as the likelihood developed that the Russians would establish the Dniester on the Dniester-Pis River.

Berlin said the German invasion was estimated at some 200,000 men, pulled out of Kiev yesterday to escape encirclement. Russian forces who had invested the city were streaming in from three sides. Massing said, and most of the westward transverse lines had been cut.

Reinforcements Sent To Help Quell Jap Revolt

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in Algiers, Nov. 7. (UP)—American troops have captured the Nazi defense hub at Venafro, beating back a division of German reinforcements, and British patrols have crossed the Garigliano River to test the new enemy defense line in a general advance toward Rome it was announced today.

The Germans threw in a fresh division, the 305th Infantry, in a futile effort to stop the American troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army. After taking Venafro, they drove into the hills to the north.

Plans call for completion of the dressings before Thanksgiving and there is now on hand the December quota. Work for the five days listed will be devoted to making 10,000 2x2 dressings which will be an average of 2,000 per day and will require a large corps of workers.

With the needs for the dressings increasing daily, it was pointed out that a greater effort than ever in this field will have to be made and every available woman in Ranger is needed if the needs of the boys at the front are met.

The workrooms open promptly at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and remain open until 6 o'clock. If there are those who cannot devote the entire afternoon to the work, they are urged to give as much time as possible.

Mr. Bruce's headquarters will be here in Ranger but he will supervise a large number of agents in surrounding counties.

Well-known in Southwest area life insurance circles, Mr. Bruce began his life insurance career 13 years ago as personal producer here in Panier for the Great Southern Life Insurance Company of Houston, Texas. He continued with that company until his recent appointment with the Reserve Loan Life. During his past 13 years of life insurance experience, he has written a very substantial volume of business each and every year. He is well-known in this part of the state and is very active in civic affairs in this city, having been president of the Lions Club.

Bruce traveled for a local whole sale grocery firm and also of Libby McNeil and Libby out of Ranger for a number of years.

Mr. Bruce feels that the Reserve Loan Life is very fortunate in securing the services of a man of his qualifications and who has served thousands of policyholders in this community in the past.

U. S. Submarine Campaign Against Japs Is Big Success

Survey Shows There'll Be Plenty of Christmas Toys

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The Navy finally is beginning to tell the real story of the amazingly successful American submarine campaign against the Japanese shipping, but a lot of good news still is being held back for security reasons.

Newsmen in Washington for months knew that tabulations of Japanese sinkings based on Navy communiques were 30 to 50 per cent too low.

As of Sept. 9 a total of 312 enemy ships were listed as sunk or damaged.

The Navy finally came out with a backlog of unreported sinkings which boosted that figure by 148 ships to make the total 460.

To prevent information from reaching the enemy,

Subs Have the reports of American submarine successes are believed to be withheld by the Navy for from four to six months.

Jap Ships On this basis, the Navy undoubtedly still has a fair-sized backlog that would boost the total well over 500 ships.

This belief was underscored recently by President Roosevelt when he announced that during the past six months United States submarines have been sinking Japanese ships at a rate of 130 thousand tons a month.

Recent release of the Jap ship sinking roundup by the Navy should do much to boost that branch of the service in the eyes of Americans.

Hitherto, the Navy was criticized often because it allegedly gave out only good news and withheld bad news.

This all proves that sometimes even good news must be withheld.

FOUR LIBERATOR BOMBERS, formidable in their new desert warpaint, were drawn up on the concrete facing the main Bolling field hangar.

The newly-formed Yugoslavian air unit, clad in United States Army Air Forces uniforms, stood at attention in front of the planes as President Roosevelt gave them their wings and told them their future mission will be to bomb the Germans out of Yugoslavia.

Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, the president's genial military aide, was standing next to an airforce brigadier, watching the ceremonies.

Watson turned to the brigadier and inquired:

"What are those big things out there, general—bombers?"

WHITE CHRISTMAS or green Christmas—it'll be a war Christmas this year—with the heavy hand of Mars everywhere, even in the nurseries of the nation.

However, there is no reason why it shouldn't be a merry Christmas for the kids. Shortages will occur, but there will be substitutes to make a real Yule celebration possible.

For instance, wooden substitutes for metal toys will be commonplace even more than last year and an expected shortage of Christmas trees from the normally big centers of production may be partially made up for by the cutting of trees locally.

Here's the pre-Christmas picture as it appears to official Washington:

TOYS—No electrical or mechanical items such as trains, construction sets and other goods made of metal except those left over from last year's unsold stock. Plenty of wooden toys and games.

TREES—Labor and truck shortages will cut production by some regular dealers by 20 per cent and other dealers may not be in the market at all. But local farm families will help overcome this difficulty. Some commercial dealers in the Pacific Northwest have reported that they expect to cut trees as usual.

GIFTS—None that are made of war-precious metal, except holdovers from last year. Plenty of leather goods and an increased trend toward clothing and useful gifts.

GREETING CARDS—Plenty of them, but lighter in weight and smaller in size (to save paper), and fewer in design (to save the zinc and copper plates). Fewer box selections (to save boxes).

FOOD—Probably fewer turkeys on the Christmas table than usual because of military demands and decreased production, but more chicken from a bumper chicken crop.

TRIMMINGS—Such as cranberries, will be scarce because of military demands.

RANGER TIMES, RANGER, TEXAS

on Thursday with education for wartime citizenship. It is hard to adjust ourselves to war conditions because we are Americans, have already been a peace loving nation. We have had confidence we have had faith in our fellowmen. Now, we are fighting some of these people whom we have helped on many occasions because they did not appreciate our sympathy, our love and our bigness of heart.

Friday is the day that has been set apart for the meeting of emergency in education. Our American Congress, a few days ago, felt that the public schools throughout the nation do not have any claim upon the American congress for any appropriation for them to carry out a better program. Some of our own congressmen and senators in this great state of ours did not lend a helping hand to Senate Bill No. 637. Inadequate education in any part of the country makes itself felt in national affairs and is reflected in the laws under all of us must live.

Now, when we come to the last day of Education Week, which is Saturday, November 13, we as Americans people should educate our young health. We should minds and clean souls. We should see that every boy and every girl and every man and every woman has the advantage of cleanliness because this will provide happiness; while filth breeds disease and an unhealthy state of mind.

I believe all the citizens and patrons will assist us in this school week and we will make the American Education Week worthwhile in Ranger. We covet and crave your cooperation in making the week what it should be for all of our citizens.

We ask that you as a patron, citizen, or tax payer, visit at least one of the schools in our system during the week. Talk with the teachers who are teaching your child. Get a clear-cut picture of the teacher in the class room by visiting it.

We should open our program

CAPITALISTIC PRODUCT THEY LIKE

CHICAGO (UPI)—Interim committees to study postwar planning interstate co-operation, juvenile delinquency, future highway projects, aviation and public welfare have been set up this year by 40 state legislatures, the Council of State Governments announced.

Postwar planning committees were provided for in the following 11 states: California, Connecticut, Illinois, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin.

Illinois, Connecticut, California, Maryland, Massachusetts, North Carolina and Wisconsin assigned committees to study highway and state co-operation.

Committees to reorganize war emergency problems were set up in Arkansas, Colorado and Minnesota, while California and Oregon appointed committees on interstate co-operation.

Oklahoma has a small business committee, and New Hampshire has one to survey the possibility of federal aid for business or regional prosperity made imperative by war conditions.

California has a commission to study juvenile delinquency and New York has one to investigate court procedures with respect to youthful offenders. Texas will consider the problem in reformatory institutions while Illinois, Oregon and Wisconsin will study delinquents in state training schools.

"Impossible" Is Accomplished By Motor Company

FONTAIC Mich. (UPI)—Another case of doing the thing that "could not be done" has enabled Pontiac Motor Division to achieve a remarkable improvement in one phase of its war production.

The company has reduced by 80 per cent rejections on the difficult operation of machining teeth in the elevating arc of the Poforcan. This was accomplished by using a shaving machine in a manner that the machinist trade had said was "impossible."

The Poforcan elevating arc is a half-circle segment with saw teeth which lower and raise the sun. The best cutter available for the job has a "built-in" error of seven ten-thousandths of an inch. Sometimes this unavoidable error reached 14 ten-thousandths of an inch and made rejections high.

Alton J. Hole, assistant superintendent of the Poforcan plant, decided the situation might be helped if the elevator were put on a shaving machine after the cutter had done its work.

He thought of a 20-year-old boring mill which Pontiac had used in the die room in peace time to turn certain automotive castings. Then he designed an adaptor to hold the cutting tool on the head rigidly and at the proper angle.

This was where the "impossible" came in. The machinist trade says that a shaving machine cannot be operated unless the work is stationary while the cutting tool is driven into it.

But Hole went right ahead and did the driving work while leaving the cutting tool stationary.

The book said it wouldn't work—but it did.
