Home From War

Tech. Sgt. Bond

T. SGT. BOND HOME AFTER 28 AIR MISSIONS

Technical Sgt. Charles R. Bond engineer and top turret gunner on a Flying Fortress of the 8th Air Force based in England, is home on furlough after completing 28 combat missions over enemy held territory. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Sgt. Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bond of Ranger, went overseas early in March of this year, and went into action soon after his arrival in England, making many missions over Germany and France before the invasion.

His group had the distinction of being the leading element on D-Day going in to bomb 20 minutes before the first landings started. They flew two missions on that day.

Sgt. Bond's crew all came through without a scratch with the exception of his pilot who received a flank wound in the arm on a raid over Berlin, but their ship was shot up on nearly every mission. His crew held the record in their group for the number of consecutive missions.

Sgt. Bond is credited with one Fokke-Wulf shot down and two shared with other gunners.

Field Day And Barbecue Held By Tudor Preserve

The Tudor Game Preserve held the 1st annual field day and barbecue at the Allen Ranch Saturday July 15th, where it is estimated that 150 people attended.

R. E. Callender, Wildlife Specialist of A&M College Extension Service presented an educational exhibit of mounted wildlife which included the useful as well as harmful wildlife. The most interesting part of Callender's exhibit was 4 different sheddings of horns of a deer, the 1st being the head of the 10 point buck mounted. He stressed the importance of selecting breeding stock of wild life that exhibit stamina. This is highly important in selecting wild life as it is in selecting our breeding stock of domestic animals. In some places, according to Callender, this phase of work has been overlooked and as a result, the deer are getting very small and lack vigor and vitality—subject to more diseases.

The theory that you can tell the age of a buck by the no. of points was questioned for bucks that are 1 year old may have as many as 3 or more points or spikers; whereas others may be a no. of years old and only have spikers.

W. L. Baum, Manager of Fish Hatchery at Cisco, stressed the importance of the part that fish production could play in helping furnish the necessary food for helping win the war. He urged that tanks be stocked properly. The average tank will produce 200 lbs of meat per acre of surface water if properly handled. Tanks may be properly fertilized with barnyard manure or commercial fertilizer. The fish recommended for stocking small tanks are bass and cat fish.

If an acre of water will produce 200 lbs. of fish per year, then 100 fish weighing 2 lbs. each would be far better than 400 fish weighing 1/2 lb. each. Fish applications may be made through the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission at Austin, Texas. The application blanks may be secured from the County Agents Office.

Other appearing on the Program were O. F. Etheridge, Biologist, of Game Fish & Oyster Commission, from Breckenridge; also Mr. Jackson, connected with this Dept.; Elmo V. Cook, County Agent at Abilene, Texas.

Livestock Men Asked To Meet At Desdemona

C. F. Erwin of Desdemona is calling a livestock meeting at Desdemona School Friday night July 21st, for the purpose of fixing a community dipping vat for use for dipping livestock for the control of external parasites.

There is a larger need for dipping vats now than ever due to the increased amount of parasites and the scarcity of feed to say nothing of the cost in money to the livestock producers.

Any community desiring to fix up or construct a vat should contact Floyd Lynch, County Agent.

The material used in charging one of the vats is rotenone and sulphur which will kill the sharp-nosed ox louse that the old type arsenical dip would not destroy.

Now is the time for each community to take some action on the matter.

Lions Club To Sponsor Showing Of Ranger Films

Tickets to the show will be sold by the scouts and the public is invited to come and see themselves in the movies. The theatre is being furnished through the courtesy of B. E. Garner, owner.

Japanese Escape Attempt Foiled by Accurate Marine Fire

UNITED STATES MARINES who successfully took the important island of Saipan in the Marianas from the Japs are shown above as they attacked a Jap position on that isle with a demolition charge. Simultaneously other Leathernecks pick the enemy off with rifle fire as they attempt to escape. At the instant this picture was made the Marines had just shot a Jap. (International Soundphoto)

Pvt. Young Now At U. S. Aircraft Plant In England

A USSTAF AIR SERVICE COMMAND DEPOT (somewhere in England)—Pvt Copeland Young of Ranger, Texas, is now serving in the Engine Testing Section of Uncle Sam's largest aircraft assembly and repair depot in the European Theater of Operations.

Quered regarding his work, Private Young had this to say: "After plane engines are completely overhauled at this base they are set on engine blocks in test beds and started up at the comparatively low speed of 1000 RPMs and gradually stepped up to higher speeds over a period of four hours. The engines are tested for proper carburetion, ignition, horsepower, and possible oil leaks. After these exhaustive tests are completed the engines are either accepted as ready for flight or rejected and returned to the shop where the defects are remedied. Our tests blocks are operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and engines are undergoing tests at all times."

Since being stationed in England, Private Young has visited historical places in England, Scotland, and Wales in addition to having visited the house of parliament in London and other landmarks in that city.

Boy Scouts Back From Weeks Stay At Scout Camp

Members of Boy Scout Troop 12 have returned from a weeks stay at Camp Billy Gibbons in San Saba County and from all reports the boys did all the stunts that could be thought up in a week.

M. S. Wade, scoutmaster, who was with the boys at the camp for part of the week reported that Jimmie Martin was made senior patrol leader and under his leadership the boys discovered some very interesting facts about the country they were in. For one thing, they found a spring which they promptly named Ranger Springs and also found some Indian writing on cliffs that had never been discovered. They investigated the contents of an eagle's nest as well as that of a buzzard.

On one hike the boys were privileged to see a herd of deer numbering in all 32, and also a flock of wild turkeys.

Those from Ranger who attended the camp were: Gilbert Lanier, Jerry Gray, James McGowan, Jimmie Martin, Kenneth Hargraves, Jimmie Smith, Joe Max Stiles, Virgil Stiles, Billy Ray Bollinger, W. G. Davenport, Jimmie Lee, R. C. Smith, and Max Ross Wade.

UTAH DRIVES ON POPPIES

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah (UP)—D-Day has made numerous casualties of the Flanders poppies in Box Elder county, Utah. With the need for wheat on the battlefronts becoming greater, the state agricultural commission discovered that production was being cut down because red poppies were over running as much as 60 per cent of the wheat fields near here. Consequently, poppies have been declared a noxious weed and are being exterminated.

RANGER LEADS COUNTY IN LOW BOND SALES

According to Cyrus B. Frost of Eastland, county chairman for the sales of war bonds and stamps Ranger is farther behind in the sales of the series E bonds to be credited on the Fifth War Loan than any other town in the county.

Only 13 more days remain in which to meet the quota which at the close of the Fifth War Loan was $17,000 behind the quota. An extension was made on the series E deadline, making it fall on July 31 and according to those who are handling the sales in Ranger hardly any bonds have been sold since the close of the loan drive.

Bankers have stated that there is plenty of money on individual deposits to meet the quota if the people of Ranger will but awake to the fact that the deadline is close at hand and Ranger threatens to be the only town in the county not meeting the quota in the series E bonds.

The Aravia Theatre is making another effort to aid in the sale by staging another Bond Premiere at the Theatre Thursday night July 20 at 11 o'clock. Admission will be through the purchase of war bonds only and the picture to be shown is the Story of Dr. Wassell.

The war bond committee in Ranger has issued an urgent appeal to the people to buy more Series E Bonds and help Ranger save face by meeting their quota of the amount allotted to the county. If Ranger falls below the quota then the whole county is affected and the clean state of cooperation which has been Ranger's is no longer.

HIGHWAY WEST NAZI DEFENSE STRONGHOLD, IS UNDER FIRE

The Americans in Normandy have fought their way back into St. Lo for the second time in two days. Supreme headquarters announces that American forces now firmly hold the eastern suburbs of St. Lo and have captured St. Croix De Lo.

Northward to Periers under small arms fire from a ridge 200 yards above it and about midway between the towns. The highway is the spine of the present German defense line in the American sector and a drive across it would split the Nazi defense against the Yanks.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today that the capture of Gen. Hideki Tojo as chief of the Japanese General Staff probably could be regarded as a desperate sign as it relates to Japanese military operations.

The London radio says French interior forces have killed between 1500 and 3000 Nazis since D-Day.

An estimated 1250 American bombers and fighters attacked northwestern Germany today. The assaults centered on two experimental air stations—one of them the birthplace of the flying bomb. Crewmen reported good results and a number of German fighter planes were shot down.

The Germans report that the Russians are developing a big pincer against the Polish city of Brest-Litovsk, the gateway to the plains before Warsaw. Berlin radio says the Soviets have opened an offensive against the city from the south. Russian columns north of Brest-Litovsk are less than 10 miles away.

American troops advancing up the Italian western front, have rolled out of hill territory. Fresh advances have put them in position to encircle the prize port of Livorno as well as drive toward the city of Pisa, 11 miles north-westward.

SLIGHTLY EXTRAVAGANT

Mr. Omar Burkett, candidate for a 4th term to the legislature, is distributing a circular throughout the District, which, among other things, contains this remarkable statement:

"I have sponsored and was co-author of the following: * * * Reduction of our State Tax rate 30 cents on the $100 valuation."

This claim, to put it mildly, is slightly extravagant. As a matter of fact the Legislature has no authority whatever to raise or lower the State Tax Rate. The State Tax Rate is set, not by the Legislature, but by the State Tax Board, composed of the Governor, Comptroller and State Treasurer. The State Tax Board has had exclusive jurisdiction over the matter of setting the State Tax Rate since the creation of the board over thirty years ago.

In the same written statement, Mr. Burkett claims he was "co-author" of a number of other bills passed by the Legislature. The "House Journal" is the official report of the proceedings of the House of Representatives and shows the authors of all bills introduced in the House. We have checked a copy of the House Journal, a copy of which is available in the County Judge's Office, and we fail to find that Mr. Burkett's name is listed as "co-author" of any of the bills mentioned in the circular.

The circular also proclaims in large type, "I AM NOT A LAWYER" this editor, too is not a lawyer, but we, and a host of other laymen, know that the State Tax Board, and not the Legislature, has exclusive jurisdiction when it comes to setting the State Tax Rate. Also, this editor, and a host of other laymen know that the "co-author" racket has been overworked by members of the Legislature who want to perpetuate themselves on the payroll.

Inside WASHINGTON

Now Over Vice Presidency | Dixie Democrat Against May Enliven Demo Meeting | Another Term for Wallace

By HELEN ESSARY Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—The Democratic national convention will be really exciting. There's going to be a big row over the vice-presidential nominee.

You hear this said almost verbatim in every group that gathers in the capital newsdays to talk about the next big goings-on in Chicago.

"Of course, President Roosevelt will try to make the convention nominate Henry Wallace a second time. . . . But the southern Democrats are up in arms. . . . And Secretary of Commerce . . ."

Uncle Jesse is not going to the convention. He will stay behind in Washington surrounded by even more long distance phones than usual and tell the southern boys and girls how to keep Henry out! That vice presidency row will be a swell show. . . ."

And so the talk goes. Yet another possibility of excitement is added to the convention forecasts. . . . Who has the Democrats got to do a Clare Luce for them? The Democrats will just naturally have to have SOMEBODY to rival the Lady from Connecticut. For whether you liked her speech or not Mrs. Luce did supply the drama of the Republican convention. She was the theater of the meeting.

Will Helen Gahagan, Congressional candidate from California, be put on the speaker's rostrum to sway the delegates, to make them weep or rage while she uses her gifts as an actress in the Luce manner? Possibly so, Miss Gahagan (or Mrs. Melvyn Douglas, if you prefer) may be asked to turn the tide for Mr. Wallace. Miss Gahagan will be completely Rooseveltian in her convention behavior.

Or the wife of the president may descend upon the stadium as she did once before. What a superb job Mrs. Roosevelt did then! She calmed the delegates who didn't want Henry Wallace.

I have been critical sometimes of Mrs. Roosevelt's activities. Not because I thought she did not have the right to do what she pleased as a woman, but because I have never thought it possible to differentiate between Eleanor Roosevelt, the individual, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president of the United States. Yet I cannot forget how clever and effective the composite woman was at the last Democratic convention. She had those seething delegates smoothed down into submission a few minutes after she began with, "Mr. Chairman and members of the convention. . . ."

Looking back on the vice presidency of yesterday, it appears that about all the vice presidents can be anyhow is slightly humorous one way or another. Jack Garner was a popular vice president. He gave the role a certain dash. But he is best remembered by his nickname of "Cactus Jack," the devotion of his wife, "Miss Ettie," the whang of his gavel and the sharpness of his poker game.

Woodrow Wilson's vice president—Thomas Marshall—was also an able and honorable fellow. But those people who recall his name remember him best for his famous remark, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar." Being vice president is a rocky hour of duty generally and dull and unrewarding.

It is desperately important, however, that earnest prayer and study be put upon the character of the man chosen to run second on a presidential ticket. Six times a vice president has been called upon to fill a vacancy in the presidency left by the death of the president. The office of vice president is therefore one of great potential importance. In selecting a vice president we ought to be almost as careful as when we select a president.

It is so obvious it hardly seems worth while to say it—but it is worth while—a party convention when nominating a candidate for the vice presidency should keep in mind the interests of the country as well as the interests of the party and refuse to name a candidate for the vice presidency any man who would not be likely to acquit himself well in the presidential chair.

Yet the joker in this lovely plan is this—few presidential candidates want as a running mate any man who is likely to be a rival in brains, influence or showmanship. The chief wants to steal the show, always!

Maj. Gen. Walker Commends Men of 36th Division

CLEBURNE, Tex. (UP)—Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, commander of the 36th (Texas) Infantry Division, paid a stirring tribute to his men in a letter written June 16 and given to each man.

Mrs. Wilson Horton of this city received a copy of the letter from her brother, Pfc. Robert L. Paine. Addressed to the men of the division, the letter said in part:

"It is with great pride that I congratulate you on your magnificent achievements in battle to date.

"Nine months ago you landed on the hostile beaches of Paestum, the vanguard of your country's Army, to crash the gates of Hitler's European Fortresses. In that your first action of the war, fighting courageously against well trained enemy forces of long combat experience, you established the first American beachhead on the European continent, the first to be established anywhere by American forces against German opposition.

"For this achievement alone you have a right to feel justly proud."

The general then related the further achievements of the division, listing such well-known war names as Camino, Summuro, Mt. Maggiore, Mt. Lungo, Mt. Rotundo, San Pietro, the Rapido, Cassino and Castellone Ridge and others. And in conclusion he wrote:

"Your brilliant performance on that famous battlefield (referring to the division driving the enemy across the Tiber) was a major contribution in the capture of the first European capital to be recovered from Nazi occupation. For your magnificent accomplishment here, Gen. Marshall sent a personal message of congratulations to you and me. The German Army is still reeling from your blows. The relentless pressure of your attacks will substantially shorten the duration of the war. Your victorious march through the streets of the cities of your enemy cannot be long delayed."

Research Encouraged

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—A laboratory unit for advanced scientific research is to be established at Incarnate Word College in affiliation with the Institution Divi Thomae, Cincinnati research center.

The unit will participate in war research projects in which the Institution is now engaged. The faculty will carry on experiments in Bio-chemistry, parasitology and physiology.

Garden First Aid Suggestions Are Given By Agent

Now that summer's here with a vengeance, gardens may need some first aid.

What can be done to keep peppers, egg plants, okra . . . and the like . . . in production? Here's an answer from Loma Faye Hearn, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent. Keep the soil stirred by shallow cultivation. That way the most good can be had from rain . . . or from irrigation. Water doesn't penetrate the soil if it's crusted over.

Next it's important to keep weeds down and grass out that's a good garden commandment for any time of the year or kind of weather.

Now if tomato plants don't grow off in a hurry, they may need a little stimulant! Tomato plants will enjoy a fertilizer pick-up just as one enjoys a cold drink in the middle of a long hot afternoon. Give it in liquid form. Dissolve one-fourth of a pound of commercial garden fertilizer in five gallons of water . . . Get that again now . . . a fourth of a pound in five gallons of water . . . Then give each plant a drink of half-gallon. Incidentally, it is better to throw up a little dam of soil around each plant so none of this half gallon will be lost.

One more word of wisdom. . . . Make certain tomato plants aren't too close together. There should be from three to four feet between each plant. That will promote good roots, easy irrigation, and thorough cultivation.

A MESSAGE TO MOTHERS ABOUT THE FLETCHER'S CASTORIA NOW ON SALE

ON EACH BOTTLE of the Fletcher's Castoria you buy today, you will see a Serial Control Number.

This number is plainly visible through a "window" in the package.

Here's what the Serial Control Number means to you:

The Fletcher's Castoria now being made is given three different kinds of rigid tests . . . chemical, bacteriological, and biological. The Serial Control Number on each bottle is your positive, visible proof that all these tests have been made.

In this way, you have full assurance of the quality and dependability of Fletcher's Castoria—long recognized as the ideal laxative for children.

Millions of mothers welcome the news that Fletcher's Castoria is now on sale at their druggists! This is the original and genuine Fletcher's Castoria . . . the laxative made especially for children.

The next time your child needs a laxative, ask for Fletcher's Castoria. It's mild and gentle, yet effective. And it's pleasant-tasting, so you don't have to "force" your child to take it.

THE MAKERS OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Look for these features on the new Fletcher's Castoria package:

1. The Green Band . . . around each package . . . quickly identifies the laboratory-tested Fletcher's Castoria now on sale.

2. The Serial Control Number . . . on the bottle label . . . is clearly visible through a "window" in the outside package.

NOTE: Until sufficient stocks can be made available, it may be that your druggist won't have enough Fletcher's Castoria to meet all demands. If he happens to be out of stock when you ask for Fletcher's Castoria, please be patient. He will have it for you shortly.

2 Minnesotans Show Ingenuity In Farm Devices

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—The brothers Gerten—Ed and Fred—are farmers. They are also nature-born tinkers, a knack which they utilize to make their farming both successful and interesting.

Only 30 acres of their farm are in cultivation, but they raise such items as celery, which grosses upward of $800 an acre in poor years, and maybe $1,200 to $1,500 in better years.

Hence, it was worth the Gertens' time and effort to improvise a six-row celery sprayer—a device which draws both the idly curious and the professionally interested from miles around. One of the things they did to create the contraption was to remove the rear part of a 1931 Ford, put it on backwards, and equip it with big tractor wheels, thus geared down to a speed of 1.1-2 to 3 miles an hour.

On the chassis are carried a barrel container for the spray solution, a pump to eject it at 50 pounds pressure per square inch, and a gasoline engine to power the pump. Underneath is along a pipe with six jets, one for each row.

For men of such bent it was no trick to reclaim a six-acre tract of low land which in dry years had been a slough and in wet years, a lake. With a power shovel, they threw up a dam 600 feet long to cut off drainage from above. The dam comprises about 30,000 cubic feet of clay and gravel, borrowed from a neighboring hill. Another of their improvisations is a manure loader, which in four or five scoops of a half ton each, loads a spreader.

WARTIME Electric Refrigeration TIPS

After you freeze foods or desserts that require fast freezing, turn the temperature control half-way back to normal. This temperature setting is sufficient on most refrigerators to hold the food at freezing. After removing the frozen food, turn the temperature control to normal position.

When the temperature control is kept for long periods at "cold" position, running time of your refrigerator is increased and you waste refrigeration.

If you're leaving home for several days, turn the temperature control to the warmest setting. Do not shut off the refrigerator completely, for very little current is used to keep the food and ice cubes until you return.

Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Use what you need, but need what you use.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words. Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it. This title is simply "Good Soldier." It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army. For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC... "They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

Nearly Million Make Living On Oil In Texas

DALLAS, Texas, July 17—Seven hundred and seventy-one thousand Texans obtained their living directly from the petroleum industry's 1943 payroll of $278,847,056, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association said today. "An additional $166,000,000 was paid out in the form of lease rentals and bonus and royalty payments—a second money crop to land owners in every county in the state," the association reported.

"Based on economists' estimates that a dollar put into circulation multiplies it benefits five times, the total of more than half a million dollars contributed substantially to the economic well being of the entire state.

"The average full-time pay per employee in the petroleum industry in Texas last year was $2,578 compared with $2,109 in 1942 and $1,858 in 1941. These figures cover all branches of the industry, including equipment and supply manufacturers.

"The total number of part-time and full-time employees in 1943 was 192,900. At four persons to the family, this represents 771,600 dependent upon the oil workers' pay check. In 1941 the industry employed 240,233 people; in 1942, 188,139. Many thousands of the present employees are newcomers helping to carry on for
