A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

'Hot Check' seminar

A "Hot Check" seminar sponsored by the City of Muleshoe and the Chamber of Commerce is being held at 7 a.m., Friday, June 5 at First Baptist Activity Center at 219 E. Ave. B.

The Chamber is urging all business owners to attend. Breakfast will be served.

The seminar will cover preventative measures for accepting bad checks and also the legal steps to gain restitution.

Guest speakers include Bailey County attorney Cris Cleavinger, City Attorney Jean Shotts, Muleshoe Police Chief Don Carter and Bailey County Sheriff Coy Plott.

Holiday deaths decline

Fatigue and excessive speed were the culprits in an excessive number of single car collisions over the Memorial Day weekend that resulted in 19 fatalities across Texas.

According to DPS officer John Gonzales of Lubbock, most of the accidents from the 72-hour holiday weekend involved only one car.

Three of the fatalities occurred in the South Plains area, one near Friona and one accident resulting in two deaths near Wilson, south of Lubbock.

The 19 fatalities included nine people not wearing seat belts, three pedestrians, one bicyclist, and three under investigation as alcohol related.

Jones and the Beanstalk

Velma Jones of Muleshoe was surprised when a plant in her front yard suddenly started growing at an alarming rate.

The plant, called an American aloe, or century plant, usually only flowers once, between the ages of 10-25 years.

Shortly before it flowers, a long stalk grows rapidly upward to a height of about 30 feet.

Jones said she doesn't have any idea where she got the plant or how long ago she planted it.

Rottweiler attacks elderly woman

A 63-year-old Muleshoe woman suffered serious bite wounds Wednesday night in an unprovoked attack by a Rottweiler according to police reports.

Ethel Busby of 301 E. Sixth St. was treated and then released at Muleshoe Area Medical Center for several puncture wounds to her upper torso, according to a hospital spokeswoman.

Muleshoe Police Chief Don

Carter described Busby as a family member of the dog owner but would not elaborate.

After being contacted by the nursing staff at the hospital, Muleshoe police responded to a home at 305 W. Cedar to take the dog into custody.

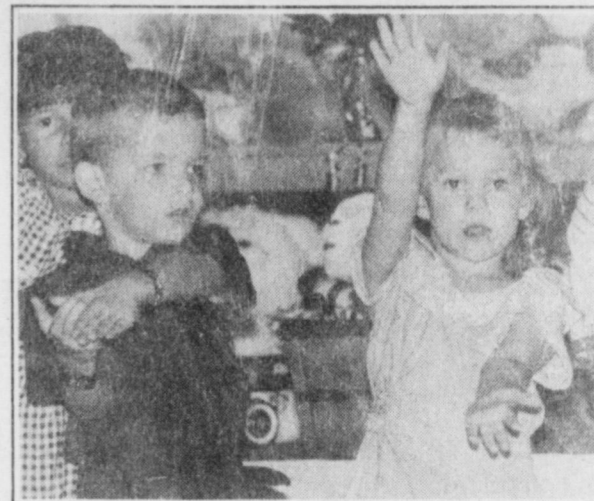

Police were forced to tranquilize the dog. Carter said the owner of the dog refused to help police capture the dog.

Carter said it took "a few shots" before police were able to handle the 100-pound dog.

Carter said police have declared the Rottweiler a dangerous dog, which means the owner will have to appear in court before the dog will be released from the Muleshoe animal shelter, where it is being quarantined for 10 days.

Carter said no charges have been filed against the owner and the case is still under investigation.

Muleshoe junior Matt Turney breaks a sweat last week while lifting at the high school weight room. Turney is one of 14 returning starters and is already drawing inquiries from several colleges.

SUCCESS starts in off-season

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

The ultimate success of an off-season conditioning program is measured in wins and losses.

The Muleshoe High School football team showed dramatic improvement last year, finishing at 5-5 in 1997 after winning just two games in the previous three years. The three high school programs combined for an 18-11 record.

But there are also other ways to gauge improvement.

A stop watch: four Mules ran 4.7s this spring in the 40-yard dash, the measuring stick of football speed. "We're not slow anymore," Muleshoe head coach David Wood said.

Last year, one player ran a 4.7.

The weight room: three Mules bench press 250 pounds or more. "Certain kids are just blossoming. The linemen are becoming men," Wood said.

Numbers: The Mules have 63 football players in grades 10-12 in off-season programs, compared to 50 last year. "We're right where we need to be," Wood said.

Attitude: "The biggest area is 'in-house cleaning' as far as commitment to the program and adhering to the rules," Wood said. "We've tried to weed out the problems."

Wood said it is much easier to sell the kids on the program now that they've tasted success.

The momentum of the Mules' season-ending 38-31 overtime win against playoff contender River Road has carried over through the whole off-season.

"I don't think it could have come at a better time," said Wood, whose team finished 1-9 in his first year at Muleshoe. "It showed them what they could accomplish if they set their minds to it."

The Mules worked out five days a week during the off-season, four days of lifting and agility drills and one day of competitions, with the emphasis on gaining strength and quickness.

"Building a winning program starts in the off-season," Wood said.

MHS joins vocational program at Clovis CC

By TERESA STONE
Journal staff writer

Muleshoe students will have even more opportunities to prepare for the work force in a new vocational program offered in collaboration with Clovis Community College.

During its regular bi-monthly meeting Tuesday, the Muleshoe Independent School District school board approved a new program that will offer students an opportunity to take vocational classes at the New Mexico junior college.

Muleshoe will be joining Farwell, Clovis, Portales, N.M. and other local schools in the program specifically designed for high school students.

Students will have the opportunity to take courses that can lead to certification and immediate employment upon graduation.

Courses include air conditioning and heating, allied health, graphics art, building trades, secretarial skills, cosmetology, and welding.

Students will not be charged for the course if they abide by the agreement made between themselves, the high school and the college, as well as successfully pass the course.

Students participating will attend the vocational courses in the afternoon. Ten students have already been chosen to participate in the program next fall.

In other business the board discussed combining election places with the City of Muleshoe and Muleshoe Area Hospital District.

The three voting entities are working together to make voting easier for local constituents.

Officials are trying to organize one voting site for early voting and one voting site on election day. Currently voters have to make three stops in order to participate in local elections.

Superintendent Bill Moore added that representatives from the three entities are going to approach the Bailey County officials and ask that all voting precincts and places be placed on voter registration cards.

In final business, the board accepted resignations from

Longtime MISD educators retire

By TERESA STONE
Journal staff writer

The Muleshoe Independent School District this week said good-bye to more than 100 years of experience as three longtime educators retired.

Georgia Pena, director of special programs, and high school teachers Marquita Adamson and Johanna Wrinkle are starting a new phase of their life as they close the doors of their classrooms and open the doors of retirement.

For the past 44 years, Marquita Adamson has dedicated her life to teaching.

The 1950 Muleshoe High

School graduate first began working for the district in the early 60s. She soon made her mark, starting the first girls physical education and health program at the high school in 1961.

Adamson did leave Muleshoe for a several years, teaching home economics throughout New Mexico and Texas. She returned to Muleshoe in 1983.

Now that she's retired, Adamson has plans to travel and spend time with family, but definitely has no plans of leaving Muleshoe.

"I will fly away and visit people, but I will always come back. I love this small town."

Adamson, who has a master's degree in home economics, also plans to write a cookbook combining favorite family recipes with stories of the past.

Pena has been helping Muleshoe students succeed for over 32 years.

Pena started her career in Muleshoe as a junior high reading teacher and high school English teacher.

For the past 25 years, she has been the director of special programs for the district, find-

Crook cook overestimates his girth

MIAMISBURG, Ohio — Police say a cook trying to break into a fast-food restaurant where he worked overestimated the size of an exhaust vent in the kitchen - or underestimated his own size. Anthony Heath, 35, was pulled from the vent after being stuck for about an hour. He was in critical but stable condition and will face charges when he's released. "It was a ridiculous thing to do," said Alan Veach, a manager at the Captain D's Seafood Restaurant. "All cash funds are taken out of our stores." Heath was stuck in a vent over a deep fryer. If he had lost consciousness and had gone undetected, Veach said, someone might have turned on the heat and "in 30 minutes he would have been toast."

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these appeal procedures if you have a concern about:

- the market or special appraised value placed on your property
- the unequal appraisal of your property
- the inclusion of your property on the appraisal roll
- any exemptions that may apply to you
- the qualification for an agricultural or timber appraisal
- the taxable status of your property
- the local governments which should be taxing your property
- the ownership of property
- the change of use of land receiving special appraisal
- any action taken by the chief appraiser, appraisal district or appraisal review board that applies to and adversely affected you.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board

If you can't resolve your problem informally with the county appraisal district (CAD) staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board (ARB).

The ARB is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals or other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the CAD to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notice of the time, date, and place of the hearing. If necessary, you may request a hearing in the evening, Saturday or Sunday. Prior to your hearing, you may ask to review the evidence the CAD will use to uphold their determination. The CAD may ask you for a copy of the evidence you plan to present. The hearing will be informal. You or a designated agent may appear in person to present evidence or you may send notarized evidence for the ARB to review at your hearing. The CAD representative will present evidence about your case. You may cross-examine the CAD representative. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. The CAD has the burden of establishing the property's value by a preponderance of the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office

Bailey Central Appraisal District
302 Main Muleshoe, TX 79347
806-272-5501

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires ARB members to sign an affidavit saying that they haven't talked about your case before the ARB hears it.

Review by the District Court

After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision, you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

Tax Payment

If you appeal and your case is pending, you must pay the lesser of the amount of taxes due on the portion of the taxable value not in dispute or the amount of taxes due on the property under the order from which the appeal is taken.

More Information

You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at (Bailey Central Appraisal District, 302 Main Muleshoe, TX 79347 • 806-272-5501). You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division at P.O. Box 13528, Austin, Texas 78711-3528.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the ARB*

Usual Deadline
On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves record for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines
For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the used of your land), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, or you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

* The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

AARP driver's ed program helps saves on auto insurance

An AARP driver's education course aimed at improving driving skills of older motorists can also earn them discounts on automobile insurance.

The 55 ALIVE Mature/Driving program helps older motorists to improve driving skills, prevent car crashes, and avoid traffic violations. The program is the first and most recognized classroom driver refresher course for motorists 50 years of age and older who have years of driving experience.

Texas state law requires auto insurance companies to give discounts to drivers who have successfully completed the program. The course must be completed every three years. The program is taught by trained volunteers and is open to AARP members and non-members.

The eight-hour course is being offered in Muleshoe June 5-6 at the Harmon Elliott Senior Citizen Complex. Charlene Treider of Muleshoe is the course instructor.

The course is split into two four-hour sessions; from 1-5 p.m. Friday, June 5, and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday, June 6. The cost is $8.

For more information and to pre-register, call Charlene Treider at 272-5738. Class size is limited to 30.

Treider will also teach classes in Earth and Friona.

Developed by AARP in 1979, 55 ALIVE offers instruction aimed at reminding older motorists of driving skills and techniques they once learned but perhaps fail to use regularly. The course also is uniquely designed to address the physical changes that accompany aging and affect driving ability, and suggests approaches that can compensate for those changes.

The 55 ALIVE course covers the problems of impaired vision, hearing, and reaction time that impacts the driving ability of older motorists, and the affects of alcohol and medications on driving.

Local driving problems and ways to prevent car crashes are discussed, including what should be done in adverse driving conditions such as bad weather and rush hour congestion.

Sudan teacher honored

SUDAN — A Sudan Elementary School teacher has been cited for outstanding performance in reading education by the Institute for Academic Excellence.

Joyce Carr was awarded Reading Renaissance Model Classroom Level I certification by the Wisconsin-based institute. Model Classroom certification indicates that Joyce's efforts to adopt Reading Renaissance methods have resulted in measurable increases in student reading performance.

"Joyce exemplifies the kind of commitment to the success of every student that is at the heart of effective teaching," Institute President Stuart Udell said in making the award.

To receive Reading Renaissance Model Classroom certification, a teacher must demonstrate that their students receive a minimum of 60 minutes of reading practice time daily.

Teachers also must be actively working with individual students to meet Institute-recommended standards for reading achievement.

In addition to national recognition, Sudan Elementary School will receive a grant of $100.

Sudan has reading program

SUDAN — The Sudan Independent School District is holding a six-week summer reading program.

The Reading Renaissance program is for students who have completed kindergarten through seventh grade and will be held from June 8 through July 15 at the school library. Sessions run from 9 a.m. to noon Mondays and Tuesdays and 1-4 p.m. on Wednesdays.

The program will be staffed with school personnel who are familiar with the student's reading level and can help them pick up where they left off at the end of school.

For more information, contact the school at 227-2173.

MISD offering free summer lunch program

Children ages 1-18 can come to Muleshoe schools during the first month of the summer vacation for a free breakfast and lunch.

Muleshoe ISD will be holding the Summer Food Service Program from June 4 - July 1. All children are welcome to come. There are no applications or eligibility requirements.

Breakfast will be served from 7:30-8 a.m. Lunch will be served from noon-12:30 p.m.

The meals will be served at the Muleshoe High School cafeteria, DeShazo Elementary cafeteria, and Dillman Elementary.

Improvement on TAAS test continues

Muleshoe Independent School District students showed improvement in TAAS scores in most every area.

Leading the pack for improvements was the WJHS eighth graders with 99 percent passing the math test.

Fourth graders also made great strides in each subject area with 77 percent of the class passing all three, reading, math and writing, portions of the TAAS. This was a 39 percent increase from last year's performance.

The number of 10th-grade students passing all three tests has risen from 44 percent in 1993-94 to 79 percent this year.

Overall, students are still struggling with the test at the third grade level, with only 57 percent passing.

However, since 1993 the entry level scores have steadily risen. This year's scores being the highest yet.

MULESHOE AREA HOME HEALTH Agency

Featured Patient

Winnie Berry was born January 17, 1905 in Madison County, Arkansas which is in the beautiful Ozark Mountains. She lived in Madison County until she was 5 years old. Winnie, her parents and her siblings moved to Scranton, Ark. and then to Paris, Ark. where Winnie attended high school.

Winnie is one of twelve children. Three sisters and one brother are still living. Mrs. Berry was born "somewhere in the middle of the bunch." Winnie once read in the bible that a child saves a person's soul. She smiles when she says this because "she's sure her mother is in heaven!"

Winnie married Murphy Berry in 1927. Mr. and Mrs. Berry moved to Odessa, TX where he worked as an apprentice in a machine shop and Winnie worked in a photo studio retouching and painting photographs. Mrs. Berry later managed a mobile home park for her husband while he continued to work at the shop.

Winnie and Murphy stayed in Odessa until their retirement. They settled in Farwell until Mr. Berry was placed in the nursing home in Muleshoe in 1977.

Mr. Berry passed away in 1988. The couple did not have any children.

Mrs. Berry enjoys many hobbies. A picture of Eve's tomb painted by herself hangs on the wall in her living room. The actual tomb is a tourist site which was featured in a 1903 magazine that Winnie found. She also enjoys gardening, sewing, crocheting and reading.

Mrs. Berry is a member of the Muleshoe Church of Christ. She participates in their "55 and Alive" program. They visit, have luncheons and play cards.

Winnie says that the staff of M.A.H.H.A. is very nice. They are polite people who care a great deal. She adds that "they sure know what they're doing!"

Grants enhance public access to the library

The Muleshoe Area Public Library has been fortunate enough to receive three important grants this year.

The Telecommunications Infrastructure Fund enabled the library to purchase the equipment needed to bring the internet into the library. Any patron is welcome to use these computers and surf the World Wide Web. You must have a current library card and not have any fines or overdue books. Just come in and take the time to read the library's computer and internet policy and the library staff will introduce you to the Internet.

Another grant the library has received is the Texas Book Festival Award. This grant allowed the library to purchase some much needed reference tools.

The 1998 edition of the World Book Encyclopedia has changes on more than 3,300 pages. Over 80 new articles have been added and 55 entries were extensively revised. One thousand articles received a partial revision and cartographers created or revised over 130 maps since the 1997 edition. Prior to this, the 1994 World Book Encyclopedia the library had was the most recent edition available in this library.

The 1998 World Book Medical Encyclopedia has topics that range from child development, nutrition and exercise to general safety. It also includes step-by-step lifesaving procedures to help you through emergencies such as choking or poisoning. The newest Medical Encyclopedia the library had dated back to 1989.

The Grolier Encyclopedia of Diseases has topics from lymes disease to stomach problems, from cancer to headaches. This 8 volume set provides clear, comprehensible information on more than 1,000 diseases and the body systems or parts they affect. Each entry explains the sources symptoms, and stages of the disease, as well as its treatments, prevention, long-term effects, and related health-promotion approaches.

The SIRS Researcher CD is a general reference tool that contains full-text articles from nearly 1,500 U.S.

and international magazines, newspapers and journals. It has a wide variety of social, scientific, historic, economic, political and global issues; capsules of major news events tied to a timeline; background information on nearly 1,500 publications; and more than 100 colorful maps.

A grant from the Tocker Foundation will enable the library to purchase furniture. This will include a new circulation desk, new computer desks, children's chairs, new reference shelving, electrical wiring for the new computers, and signs that hang from the ceiling to mark the different sections in the library. The circulation desk and the computer desks have already arrived. A local carpenter, Marshal Cook, designed these desks.

It is my sincere hope that everyone will come into the library and enjoy the new materials and furniture these grants have provided.

Remember: The next Friends of the Library meeting is June 1st at 6 p.m. in the meeting room of the library. The Summer Reading Program starts June 8 and the last day will be July 9. Children who have finished Pre-K through the 5th grade are more than welcome to join.

A Father Speaks to His Graduate Son

So tonight, son, you graduate from high school. If it's hard for you to believe that time has come, believe me, you're not alone.

It seems it was just a few years ago that you were born. Your mom and I missed a baby shower given by a bunch of kind-hearted English professors. You surprised them, and us, by making your grand entrance into this world a bit early. They gave us the gifts anyway, but, by that time, we already had the best gift of all.

largest—and best—part of America) had so many stadiums and gyms, and that we'd set foot in just about every one of them. You know that I sometimes grumbled about the traveling. But you also know that I never got tired of seeing you run down the field or glide across the court. Whether you were running the ball or nailing a quarterback, popping the net or driving in for the lay-up, I loved watching you, and no dad was ever prouder.

I love what you do, son, and I love watching you do it. But most of all, this father loves the person you've allowed a far better Father to help you become. I loved you from the moment I saw you. You've never taken a breath, never opened your eyes on a new morning, in a world where your mother's and my love for you was not there. Real love can never be earned, and the saddest, most mistaken people in this world are those who think it can be. Real love can only be given and accepted—or not.

But respect is different. By its very nature, it has to be earned. Not by perfection (no one can give that or should have to try), but by honesty and integrity and a good heart.

Chris, you're the firstborn. We've gone through lots of firsts together, and tonight we'll go through one more. From the moment you were born, I knew that on the day you walked across the stage to receive your diploma, it would be with all of my love. What I didn't know, what I couldn't know, and would not have understood, was that it would also be with my sincere respect.

It seems you're still teaching me more than I could ever teach you.

I love you, son.

And then, just a couple of breaths later, we were in Muleshoe and you were starting kindergarten. Mom walked into Dillman Elementary with you, took you to your room, gave you a hug, started to leave, and heard you say, "There's something wrong with my eyes." She understood because pretty quickly there was something wrong with hers, too. Or maybe something very right, because an honest tear always helps us see more clearly.

Then, just a heartbeat later, I was walking through the hall with you at the junior high. You seemed a little tentative about the whole thing. Maybe you didn't notice the skid marks behind my feet, too, but you did great, and ten minutes later . . .

High school. A driver's license. Football. Basketball. Tennis. Even an occasional book. And life was a blur. A city kid, I had no idea that Small Town America (by far, the

Nevada town to capitalize on Spanish custom

MESQUITE, Nev. — The city council in this small town about 70 miles north-east of Las Vegas voted to allow a bull run down the main street during a Western festival in July.

Phil Immordino plans to charge 1,000 runners $50 each for the privilege of being chased, although he says he'll get more docile bulls than the ones that annually thunder through the streets of Pamplona, Spain. Animal rights groups weren't amused. "This ludicrous proposal and its originator should be run out of town," said Wayne Pacelle, a senior vice president of the Humane Society. At least 13 people have been killed in the runs in Pamplona since records were begun in 1924.

Prank has superintendent hissing

OTTAWA HILLS, Ohio - Schools Superintendent William Reimer says he's willing to laugh at a good senior class prank. Greased walls? Locks filled with glue? No problem.

Hundreds of Madagascar hissing cockroaches? Not funny at all. Classes at Ottawa Hills High School in this Toledo suburb have encountered the giant insects, many about 2 inches long and an inch wide, creeping the hallways.

"Sometimes, they've really been creative and good kinds of pranks, but they haven't been destructive and made us close down," Reimer said. "We will absolutely prosecute to the fullest."

A professional photographer feels pleased if he or she gets one good shot on a roll of film.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader praises Rotary Club for bringing US senator to town

Dear editor:

I wish to commend the Muleshoe Rotary Club. Today, its leaders performed a uniquely useful public service to the community.

They provided us with a luncheon that was superbly delicious and a valuable guest speaker. Muleshoe Area citizens were privileged to have a Texas United States senator speak to us.

The Rotary Club was able to obtain Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison as a speaker. In the Town Hall meeting, Hutchison spoke of her concerns and actions on current Washington political problems and their possible resolutions through legislation.

In this meeting, Senator Hutchison heard questions on national issues that affect the Muleshoe area, and also, questions about the legislative actions taken on them.

We, as listeners, learned of possible, as well as actual, current political action in our nation's halls of government body.

I failed to get the floor to ask the question that is of up most in my mind.

Are we still a sovereign nation? Or did this nation lose that independence when it signed the United Nations Treaty in 1945? As a member, did the nation's states lose a state's right to order the death-penalty execution for a criminal? I understand that on May 28, Congress is to consider the question as to whether the United Nations has jurisdiction over a state's right to rule for the death penalty.

I am indebted to the Rotary Club leaders for providing the Town Hall meeting. Thankyou.

Satellite agriculture ventures into new territory

A French company plans to send two satellites into space specifically for agricultural use. The XTAR satellites will be launched in late 2001 and will start operating in 2002 with the purpose of making maps for farmers.

Spokesmen for the French company Matra Marconi

Space say it is diversifying into the private sector because government money is drying up. They add agriculture is the most promising venture because it renews itself every year.

Matra Marconi Space wants to establish relationships with agricultural companies, including ones in the United States and have conducted focus groups with farmers in Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota. The focus groups told them they could use clear, specific images that could be used to create maps for nutrient application, crop vigor, disease and others. Farmers who subscribe to the XTAR service will be able to get new images every 4.5

days. With most satellite services now available, farmers get new images every 16 to 26 days.

ing money to implement programs that keep Muleshoe schools on the cutting edge of education.

"We have worked with some kids that have come to the area with very limited English," said Pena reminiscing about her favorite aspects of her job. "I have been delighted to see them go on and do amazing things with their lives."

Pena, who has worked since she was 10 years old, isn't sure what she is going to do with all of her free time, but she said she is definitely going to try and stay busy.

Also saying farewell is Wrinkle, who is not only leaving the district, but also Muleshoe. For the past 22 years, Wrinkle has taught English at the high school.

"It's been great," said Wrinkle. "I'm going to miss the friendships I've made with the students and fellow teachers who have become very close friends."

Wrinkle said that she and her husband decided it was time to move closer to their family.

"We are moving to Victoria to be closer to our three children the district, but also Muleshoe. For the past 22 years, Wrinkle has taught English at the high school.

"It's been great," said Wrinkle. "I'm going to miss the friendships I've made with the students and fellow teachers who have become very close friends."

Wrinkle said that she and her husband decided it was time to move closer to their family.

"We are moving to Victoria to be closer to our three children and seven grandchildren. I'm looking forward to finally having some time to get involved in the community and church, and just spending time with my husband."

Hahn named MHS asst. principal

Next fall, Kevin Hahn of Lubbock will be walking the halls of Muleshoe High School as the new assistant principal.

Hahn was hired by the district Tuesday to replace Bill Bizzell who will be the new principal at Farwell High School.

Hahn is coming to Muleshoe from Evans Junior High School of Lubbock ISD where he has worked as a history teacher, ninth-grade football coach, and eighth-grade basketball coach.

He is a 1998 graduate of Wayland Baptist University's mid-management program, earning the credentials for the assistant principal position.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

HIGH PLACES
 IN BIBLICAL DAYS CITIES WERE BUILT ON HILLS, BECAUSE OF THE EASE OF DEFENSE. NATURALLY, THE CITIES WERE FORTIFIED WITH HIGH WALLS, GATES, AND BARS, AND FURTHER DEFENDED BY TOWERS, WALLS AS THICK AS TWENTY TO THIRTY FEET WERE NOT UNUSUAL. THESE HIGH PLACES MADE IT POSSIBLE FOR THE INHABITANTS TO LIVE A MORE PROTECTED LIFE FROM THE MARAUDING HORDES OF NATURAL ENEMIES.
