SAN FRANCISCO, May 2 — World peace as being worked out at the United Nations Conference is going to be just like a game of parcheesi, also spelled pachisi.

Missing In War

R. L. MCCLESKEY IS MISSING IN EUROPEAN WAR

Roy McCleskey received a message today at noon from the War Department that his son, Flight Officer Royce L. McCleskey, has been missing in action since April 22.

The young flyer who was piloting a P-47 fighter type plane and had been stationed in Italy. He was sent to foreign service about February first. After entering the service on January 29, 1945, he received training at Sheppard Field, Aviation Cadet Center, San Antonio, Stamford Army Air Field, Persimmon Field, Sherman, Foster Field, Strothers, Kansas, Baton Rouge, Galveston and New York.

He is a graduate of Ranger high school and before entering service was employed by the Gulf Pipeline Company.

His wife is the former Miss Merline Miller and their 18 months old son, Ronnie, are making their home in Odessa while Flight Officer McCleskey is in service.

GI's Get Taste Of Life Of Ease On The Riviera

NICE (UP)—Thousands of GI's live like die luxe tourists on the French Riviera during a seven-day leave, with all the trimmings of the life of ease provided by the United States Riviera Recreational Area.

In the hotels and on the beaches where in prewar days the world's richest idlers whirled away their time in money, American soldiers now take a well earned rest.

The GI spending leave in the area, which extends from Saint Raphael to Nice, is handled an envelope before he gets off the train in it he finds the name of his hotel, the room number, his mess card and his PX card.

He is conducted to the hotel and can then take his choice of recreations. Military and civilian guides are handy to take him on a sight seeing tour. The GI's can sunbathe, swim, fish, go to the movies, eat, dance, play tennis or indulge in their favorite kind of exercise.

Each hotel has a library, with recent issues of American magazines and Army newspapers. Meal hours are elastic and menus are varied. Arrangements are provided for those who wish to continue studies begun under Army educational programs. Classes in French are also provided. However, these are rather poorly attended, as it is generally understood that GI's prefer to learn the language through fraternization.

Casualties In Italy 950,472
WASHINGTON (UP)—The conquest of Italy cost the U. S. more than 109,000 combat casualties, Secretary of War Stimson disclosed today.

Succeeds Von Ribbentrop

British-educated Count Ludwig Schwerin von Krosigk, 58, nephew of the late Kaiser Wilhelm, named German foreign minister to succeed ousted Joachim von Ribbentrop in the first official act of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, which may be the first step in setting up a peace government. (NEA Telephoto.)

GI IN GERMANY FINDS PEOPLE LOVE TO BOSS

ATHACHA, N. Y. (UP)—The German people in Allied-occupied areas of their homeland are once more busy either "trying to shove somebody else around, or obsequiously being shoved around."

Forecasting occupational problems faced by the Allies, a writer Cornell University student writes that "the most impressive and irritating characteristic of the Germans in their almost complete lack of democratic feeling."

And, even the worst part of it, he continued, is that the drug addicts and criminals so that they can't tell where they have been or what they have been doing for as much as a week at a time.

He said barbiturates and alcohol are an extremely dangerous combination. One of the pills and a bottle of beer will produce a hypnotic state, which will take some individuals days to overcome.

He said many of the juvenile delinquency cases in this area have been traced to the misuse of barbiturates, and that many accidents have resulted from their use.

Narcotic addicts, he said, are turning daily to the use of the "roof pills" since the source of opium has been limited by the war.

He emphasized that closer control is necessary and said that barbiturates should be added to the list of dangerous drugs. At present the sleeping capsules are obtainable only on prescription, but an individual may have the prescription refilled.

Public Invited To Coronation Of College Queen
Officials of Ranger Junior College have extended an invitation to the public to attend the annual coronation of the college queen which will take place Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Recreation building.

POPE EXPECTED TO NAME NEW CARDINALS

ROME (UP)—With the death of Cardinal Justinian Serefi, Primate of Hungary who died of heart failure March 26, the number of living Cardinals has sunk to 40 out of a normal 70 and authoritative Vatican sources believe Pope Pius XII will soon call a Consistory to remedy the situation.

The unusually small number of Cardinals combined with the fact that the war in Europe seems to be approaching its end are the two factors which seem to have influenced the Pope to make his decision.

Of the 40 living Cardinals 24 are Italians and the average age is fairly high. Two of them are 90 or more and most are well over 70.

The Vatican expects that while travel facilities will be slim for some time to come the interested governments will nevertheless take steps to enable the newly appointed Cardinals to make the trip to Rome.

Another problem facing the new Cardinals is the prohibitive cost of purchasing a new outfit at the present prices in Italy. The entry of a new Cardinal into the Sacred College is regulated by well-refined rules and much traditional ceremonial. Even the exact amount of the tips he must give to attendants at the ceremony is carefully fixed.

These tips, called "propine" amount in normal times to $2,000 but at present cost of living a new Cardinal would have to give at least 10 times as much.

The major expense, however, would be that of dressing a Cardinal. Red velvet material is practically unobtainable—even on the black market—as are ermine fur, gold rings and chains.

If things are done on a very reduced scale the entry of a Cardinal into the Sacred College would cost about 2,000,000 lire according to conservative estimates.

As the Pope will have to appoint about 30 Cardinals he will have to spend around 60,000,000 lire, a severe drain on Vatican resources.

In view of this difficult situation it was believed the Pope will dispense the new Cardinals from the traditional pomp and ceremony and that the appointments will be carried through on a real war-time scale.

Home Canning Sugar Allotment Is Announced

The Eastland county War Price and Rationing Board has received the following telegram relative to the changes in allotment of home canning sugar for 1945:

"Sugar supply available for balance of 1945 seriously curtailed due to decrease in Cuban production and other factors. The following changes in home canning program have been made in amendment effective May 1, 1945 and should be followed from this date:

"Consumer may obtain maximum allowance for home canning not to exceed 15 lbs. instead of 20 lbs. and the family unit consisting of more than 8 persons may not obtain more than 120 lbs. instead of 160 lbs."

Progress On The Polish Question Reported Today
SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Progress toward solution of the Polish problem was reported today at the United Nations conference as it buckled down to the job of writing a charter for enduring peace.

The United Press was informed that the deadlock in negotiations on reorganization of the Warsaw provisional Polish government had been broken on the basis of a new proposal from the Soviet Union.

Literacy Rise Seen Cutting Strife In India

CHICAGO (UP) Political strife in India will diminish with greater industrialization and education, according to Shiva Rao, New Delhi, India, Journalist.

"In a sense, the condition of the Indian worker is improving," he said in an interview here. "But with economic betterment, based on mutual programs submitted by party groups, political attitudes are bound to evolve into some sort of agreement."

Rao, a correspondent for the Madras Hindu and the Manchester Guardian, said the rate of literacy in India's industrialized areas had risen "at least 50 per cent" since World War I. The rise he predicted "would evolve a more intelligent people and, consequently, smoother political relations."

In Bombay City, a textile center he said 58 per cent of the residents were literate, compared with only one out of five before World War I.

"Progress in India since World War I has been great, mostly due to industrialization of the state," he declared. "The trade union movement also has done a great deal toward awakening the industrial movement, which, in turn, has involuntarily raised the state of literacy."

He attributed the rise in literacy to: 1. The growth of education, which he described as "almost phenomenal" since the last world war.

2. The rise in industry wages, which has drawn peasants and middle-class youths to the cities where educational facilities are available.

Rao said Mahatma Gandhi's Congress Party and the Muslims had formulated an economic program which usually was being accepted by the masses.

Seaman Pepper Pacific Veteran Visiting Here
James E. Pepper, Jr., S. 2-4, Torpedoman, is in Ranger on a 30 day leave visiting in the home of his sister, Mrs. Loyd Landt and his mother, Mrs. J. E. Pepper who is making her home here temporarily.

Seaman Pepper has just recently returned from duty in the Pacific. He is the grandson of Mrs. W. H. Nichols of Ranger and his brother, Sgt. Wm. H. Savage, also of Ranger is a prisoner of war in Germany.

He will return to San Francisco before returning to active duty. Seaman Pepper is a former resident of Weatherford where he attended school.

British Race Through Broken Lines In North

LONDON (UP)—British troops fanned out northwest of Hamburg within 15 miles of the Cuxhaven Naval Base today and struck south toward the Danzig frontier, Swedish reports said they crossed the Kiel Canal and reached Eckeneferde, only 30 miles from the Danish border.

The disintegration of the German southern armies was emphasized by the appearance of numerous German generals inside the British lines, all clamoring for an opportunity to surrender their forces separately.

An estimated 500,000 prisoners have been taken in the last 24 hours by British Second Army troops.

House Asks Full Reparation From Japan, Germany

AUSTIN (UP)—Members of the Texas House today adopted a resolution asking that Germany and Japan be made to pay the full price of world war two.

The resolution by Rep. E. F. Harrell, Paris, brought hot opposition from Rep. F. G. Swanson, Tyler.

"I'm opposed to the resolution because it is rash action," said Swanson. "It is mass hysteria without logic, reason and common sense. There is no power on earth that can collect the entire debt from Germany and unborn generations."

President Vetoes Bill To Defer Agricultural Men

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman today vetoed legislation to defer large numbers of agricultural workers. He said it would be an injustice to those already inducted or about to be inducted.

The joint resolution, introduced by Rep. John A. Flanagan, D., Va., chairman of the house agriculture committee, was designed to halt induction of farm workers who are deemed necessary to agriculture.

President Truman said this would be a marked departure from the sound principles that have adhered to under the original selective service provision, barring deferments for occupational groups.

15th Army Named For Occupation

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today he believes Hitler is dead and that "the war against Germany has not long to run."

Stimson also told his press conference that the 15th U. S. Army has been designated as an occupational force in Europe.

HAMBURG FALLS WITHOUT FIGHT; PRAGUE NAMED HOSPITAL CITY

HAMBURG 36—The end of the war with Germany drew rapidly near today as the collapse of resistance spread from the borders of Denmark to Czechoslovakia and the remnants of the southern rebuff in Austria.

Fast-breaking developments included— "Hamburg fell without a fight". The Germans began a wholesale evacuation of Schleswig-Holstein, the Reich's northernmost province, pulling out to sea in all manner of craft.

The Hamburg radio, in its last broadcast before the British entered, read a decree by Grand Admiral Doenitz's new government declaring Prague, Czech, a hospital city. The decree presumably meant Prague would not be defended and the Germans in Czech would surrender.

London reported, without confirmation, the imminent surrender of the Germans in Holland and Denmark, totaling perhaps 100,000 men. The Paris radio broadcast a similarly unconfirmed report that the Quisling government of Norway was negotiating surrender of the Germans there.

The New Zealand troops of the Eighth Army entered the Adriatic port of Trieste, previously reported occupied by Marshal Tito's Yugoslavians and peace settled down on the remainder of the Italian front.

The Third and Seventh Armies pushed steadily ahead through Austria and the last corner of Bavaria. The Third Army, which took Hitler's birthplace at Braunau, sped on toward Berchtesgaden without meeting resistance.

Amidst all the confusion, the whereabouts of the new Fuehrer, Adm. Doenitz, was not clear. London believed he was seeking a new refuge somewhere in the north now that Hamburg and Luebeck are gone. There was a like mystery about other leading Nazis, including Himmler.

In the Pacific, Allied troops entered Rangoon, Japanese occupied capital of Burma, in the final phase of the three year campaign to liberate the enemy from the British colony.

On Haskani Island to the east, Australian invasion forces fanned out in a direct bid to recover Borneo oil and rubber sources stolen by the Japanese.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When all the arguments are reduced to simplest terms, the present State Department-Senate Foreign Relations Committee mix-up over postwar international aviation rights boils down to this:

Edson

Will the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board continue to have control over foreign airlines coming into the United States?

Or will the freedom of the air executive agreements, drafted at Chicago and now declared binding on this government, reduce the Civil Aeronautics Board to a mere rubber stamp, requiring it automatically to approve the application of any foreign airline wanting to fly to the United States?

Sen. Joseph W. Bailey of North Carolina, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee and a delegate to the Chicago civil aeronautics conference last fall, believes the executive agreement would give CAB jurisdiction to the State Department.

WHAT particularly bothers Senator Bailey is the so-called fifth freedom—the right to pick up traffic along the route in a foreign state and carry it to another foreign state. Under this policy Senator Bailey believes U. S. foreign air commerce might be "shot all to pieces," so he considers it had policy.

The Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 has three sections which seem to bear on this issue:
Section 402 says that the Civil Aeronautics Board shall examine foreign airlines for fitness as a carrier in the U. S. public interest.

Section 403 says that the Department of State shall advise and consult with the Civil Aeronautics Board on any negotiations with a foreign airline for establishment of a route to this country. "Advise and consult" aren't defined, so there is no clear-cut responsibility.

Section 1102 says that the Civil Aeronautics Board, in exercising its powers, shall do so consistent with any obligation assumed by the United States in any treaty, convention or agreement.

Applying those stipulations to the present mix-up:
THE White House and the Department of State have put into effect an executive agreement granting the airlines of any foreign government which also approves this agreement, the right to operate in the United States. That is an obligation on the United States.

Under this interpretation CAB might be reduced to rubber-stamping any civil aviation deals made by the State Department, the degree of whose consulting and advising with CAB isn't prescribed.

But section 402 says CAB shall examine all these foreign airlines in the public interest. And if establishment of a British airline to Australia across the U. S. and by way of Hawaii were found to be against the public interest, CAB would be legally bound to repudiate by recommending to the President that he deny permit to operate.

ST. LOUIS—It is generally agreed that another token world series is headed for Sportsman's Park.
The success of the Cardinals and Browns with the poorest franchises in the majors is a striking commentary on how baseball is conducted in vastly more affluent surroundings. It is a tribute to superior organization. The St. Louis club may have been treated kindly by selective service than some other outfits, yet both have a full quota of remarkable athletes in uniform and war plants.

Among Red Blairs in the armed forces are pitchers Steve Sundra and Al Milnar, infielders Johnny Bernardino, John Lucadello and Bob Dillinger, the latter a highly regarded product of the American Association, and outfielders Walt Judnich, Al Zarilla, Glenn Moe, Quillen and Joe Grace. Pitchers Bob Muncrief and Denny Galehouse, third baseman Mark Christian and outfielder Chet Laabs are in war work.

Once more in this fourth war year, the Cardinals and the Browns have done a neat job of plugging the gaps—the blokes in the red blazers with youngsters, who can pitch and scout, the prize catch of whom is Red Schoendienst, a shortstop playing left field. The Browns loom back with pitching reinforcements, infielder Len Schulte and outfielders Babe Martin and Pete Gray.

The Cardinals' formula for sustained success—the farm system—was born of desperation in a city ill equipped to support two major league clubs. The Browns sought up with their co-tenants last year. Both are built for the long haul.

BRANCH RICKEY started with the Cardinals on a shoestring, and practical Sam Breadon has had them in the money since 1926. The American League was wondering what to do with the Browns when Bill DeWitt interested wealthy men in them in 1937. They showed a profit last year for the first time since Donald L. Barnes & Co. took over.

General manager DeWitt broke in as the Cardinals' office boy. Asked how it was that the Cardinals came up with so many fine young players, Sam Breadon replied, simply, "We look for them." Bill DeWitt has the same idea.

CAMP WOLTERS

(Editor's Note: Through the courtesy of the public relations office of Camp Wolters this column will appear once a week in the Ranger Daily Times.)

CAMP WOLTERS, Texas — For bravery in action against the Germans on two occasions, the Silver Star and one Oak Leaf Cluster were awarded posthumously last week to Sgt. Wayne Denham Weatherford, in a retreat ceremony here.

Colonel Earl C. Fliegel, Camp Commander, presented the award to Mrs. Beulah Denham, widow of Sgt. Denham, who was awarded the Silver Star for carrying wounded American soldiers to safety under heavy fire. Later Sgt. Denham was killed fighting a fire near his howitzer which had been caused by enemy action. For this he received the Oak Leaf Cluster.

Fifty-three soldiers, representing 12 different nations, were sworn into American citizenship at a ceremony held here last Saturday, by Judge William H. Ahsel Federal Judge of the Northern District of Texas. Major John C. Miller of Mineral Wells spoke to the new citizens, as did members of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Miss Ann Whitley of Mineral Wells was dressed as Miss Liberty, attended by Miss Rosemary Manns and Miss Mary Mackay, both of Mineral Wells.

A new instructor at the Infantry Replacement Training Center here is Sgt. Leo J. Powers, Alder, Montana, who "just got mad" and as a result, won the Medal of Honor. Sgt. Powers received the nation's highest award, the second Wolterite to be so decorated, for single-handedly knocking out three Nazi pill boxes below Cassino, Italy.

The Camp Boxing Finals are being held this week, to determine the camp champion in the various weight classes. The regional matches were completed last week.

Psychology May Induce Cows To Give More Milk

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—A cow is a self-conscious creature who may need a psychologist instead of a veterinarian when milk production lags.

Dr. William E. Peterson, professor of dairy husbandry at University of Minnesota and a recognized dairy research expert, suggests that research into the psychological reactions of cattle might reveal facts that would mean not only better milking cows, but healthier, more easily managed ones.

The Man Who Borrows Money—

... must have good security to offer the lending individual or agency before he can expect a loan. There is no better collateral than real estate provided the title is good. More money is loaned on real estate than any other commodity of value. The careful lender always insists on an abstract before advancing funds, for the abstracts reveal the condition of the title and upon the title depends the security of the loan.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or steady passage with starting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, useful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CITY COUNCIL HAS SPRING LUNCHEON

The Annual spring luncheon for members of the City Council of Parents and Teachers was held Wednesday at 12:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. O. C. Souther.

Attractive arrangements of spring flowers decorated the rooms and were used as centerpieces for the luncheon tables. Present presidents of units of the council and Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, past state president, were seated at the dining table.

Following the serving of the delicious luncheon a business session was held with the president, Mrs. O. G. Lanier, presiding. Mrs. Lanier who had been re-elected to the presidency of the council for another year was forced to resign when named first vice-president of the First District, and Mrs. Roy McCleskey was named to the council presidency.

Officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. Maddocks and are as follows: president, Mrs. Roy McCleskey; vice-president, Mrs. Lanier; secretary, Mrs. Earnest Latham; treasurer, Mrs. Saule Fyrlstein; publicity Mrs. R. C. Croon; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Maddocks.

Mrs. Onie Littlefield, president of the Hodges Oak Park Parent-Teacher Association was presented a life membership, having been selected for this honor by her group after the Hodges Association had won the right to bestow it upon one of their members. It was pointed out at the meeting that there were present one national member and five state members.

Those attending the luncheon were: Misses, Ellis Gregory, Onie Littlefield, George Rogers, M. S. Wade, E. R. Green, Carl Heinich, A. G. Langley, Arthur Deffenbach, Charles P. Ashcraft, C. E. Maddocks, M. L. Gray, J. A. Bates, Gordon L. Downing, Saule Fyrlstein, Earnest Latham, Roy McCleskey, O. C. Souther, O. G. Lanier, M. E. Lee and H. C. Croon.

REBEKAH LODGE HAS MEETING TUESDAY

The Ranger Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall for their regular meeting with Noble Grand Martha Craver presiding.

Roll call was answered by 14 members and reports of committees were heard. Mrs. Edith Hicks resigned as treasurer and Mrs. Laura Todd was elected to serve the remainder of the term.

It was announced at the meeting that members will have a quilting at the hall on Thursday and the joint meeting with the Odd Fellows will be set at the next regular meeting.

All team members are requested to be present at the next meeting on Tuesday night.

Y. W. A. MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Announcement has been made that the Y. W. A. will meet in the home of Catherine Adams Thursday evening, May 3 at 7:30 o'clock. All members are asked to be present.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW CLASS TO HAVE MEET

Members of the Child Study Club who are taking the course in parliamentary law are asked to meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Greer. Mrs. Earnest Latham will have charge of the study.

PETER EDSON

The security council may move your dispute along four green lines to either (a) recommended procedure for direct settlement between disputing nations, (b) refer dispute for legal settlement to regional security agency, (c) refer back to general assembly for recommendation, or (d) refer to international court of justice for advice.

What happens if none of these wickets, the elections can't say. But if along any of these lines your dispute reaches home and you achieve settlement, that's the best — also known as peace. "Ain't it wonderful?"
