Reports To Fallen Commander

General Dwight D. Eisenhower reports to his fallen Commander-in-Chief. With Mrs. Roosevelt looking on, General Eisenhower places a wreath of flowers at the grave of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt on the Hyde Park estate in lieu of the report he could not make on V-E Day—"Half of the victory is ours." (NEA Telephoto).

AMENDMENT WOULD ADD SIX MEMBERS TO COURT

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP) — There is discussion among laymen as to necessity of a nine-judge State Supreme Court and the mechanics of election if voters adopt a constitutional amendment in the August 25 balloting.

As presently composed the Supreme Court has three justices who are elected for six-year terms. One term is up every two years. Their pay is $8,000 a year.

In addition, the Supreme Court is assisted by a six-member Commission of Appeals. They are appointed for six-year terms by the three justices. Salaries of commissioners are $7,500 a year.

Commissioners, as well as justices, write opinions on cases before the court. However, commissioners have no vote on adoption of these opinions. That is authority solely of the justices. In final analysis this means that two of the justices may override a decision which is agreed upon by seven others—a justice and six commissioners.

The amendment proposes that the court membership be composed of nine justices with equal authority. Decisions then would have to be at least five favorable votes before adoption.

The original commission was created in 1918. Its duties were to assist the three justices in the terrific amount of detailed, exacting legal work which had piled up.

It has taken this long to get the court's docket in order. It is in the best shape in many years attorneys say. Many believe that it can be kept in this desirable condition with the nine-judge court.

Some attorneys point out that states of comparable size have nine-judge supreme courts as does the United States.

As to mechanics of election, there would be no chance of a sudden change of personnel. Instead of electing one Supreme Court Justice in 1946, there would be three justices to be chosen every two years.

Under this plan, Justice John Sharp could be a candidate for re-election to a six-year term, and Commissioners J. E. Hickman and G. B. Smalley also could be candidates for court membership.

seven to 10 years as either a practicing attorney or judge of a court of record, or both. Justices' salaries would be $8,000 a year. Also the amendment would permit the court to sit in sections to hear arguments and attend to other business. Five members, instead of the present two, would be required to constitute a quorum.

For years the Texas State Bar has advocated increasing membership of the court. At a recent Dallas meeting members endorsed the amendment. No organized opposition to its adoption by the people is known here.

Bureau of Labor Statistics Is Slight Misnomer

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP) — Texans point to the state's Bureau of Labor Statistics as being one of the most outstanding misnomers in the Lone Star government's list of agencies.

Few are the duties of the Commissioner of the Bureau regarding labor statistics. Most of his work comes from additional authority granted by the legislature since the bureau was established in 1909.

These other chores require the Commissioner to be state boxing and wrestling commissioner, inspect steam boilers, inspect safety devices, machinery and equipment in oil and gas fields, regulate employment agencies, and hold hearings on labor union charters.

From counties the Commissioner is required to obtain data about the amount and condition of the mechanical, mining and manufacturing interests therein, and all sites offering natural or acquired advantage for the location and operation of industries.

While the bureau does compile labor statistics, regulate migratory labor agencies and hold hearings on labor charters, it does not have any regulatory authority over labor unions.

There are occasions, however, when the labor commissioner is asked to serve as a mediator in labor disputes.

Leonard Carlton, present commissioner, is a former legislator, worked as an employer in the bureau and has 16 years seniority as a railway brakeman and conductor. Salary of the position is $4,500 a year, having been $2,000 when the bureau was created. The Commissioner is appointed by the governor for a two-year term.

VAST INDUSTRY PLANNED FOR SOUTH INDIA

LONDON (UP) — Elaborate postwar plans for the industrial development of the states of southern India, involving an expenditure of more than $1,200,000,000 have been outlined by a former British official in the states to the Royal Society of Arts.

At a recent meeting of the India and Burma section of the society Sir William Barton, former British Resident in Baroda, Mysore, and Hyderabad, read a paper presenting the scheme.

In Hyderabad many new factories have been started for war production, and the authorities realizing that the expansion of industry depended on the prosperity of the whole country have put the improvement of agriculture foremost in their postwar policy, Sir William stated.

One project which was envisaged is the creation of an industrial city on the banks of the Godavari river, embracing an electrical development to bring water to nearly a million acres. It was estimated $64,000,000 would be required to start the city, which would produce steel, cement, textiles, rayon, calcium, carbide, fertilizers, and plastics.

"For the state as a whole, development planning, including the schemes for promoting educational, public health, road and railway construction, and slum clearance, the forecast is that some $1,180,000,000 ($720,000,000) will be available to finance the project," Sir William said.

In Mysore a similar development would cost $600,000,000 over a period of 10 years Sir William added. Vegetable dye-stuffs, radio sets, bicycles, tractors and plastics would be manufactured, educational facilities extended, 10,000 houses built in Bangalore, and $12,000,000 spent on railways and electrification.

"The states will generally look to Britain for the supply of the equipment and technique they will need for the carrying out of their industrial programs, and they would be reluctant to conclude with British India an agreement that might in any way impede British co-operation," Sir William concluded.

Navy To Use Glass Fiber In Life Jackets

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Navy plans to use large quantities of glass fiber as a substitute for kapok in navy life jackets.

It has signed a contract for the delivery of large quantities of that substance with the Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp., Toledo O. Delivery will begin Jan. 1, 1946, by which time it is estimated that available supplies of kapok will be exhausted.

The decision to use glass fiber, the Navy said, resulted from a series of tests of available materials undertaken when it became apparent many months ago that the supply of kapok would not meet the Navy's requirements for life jackets.

Most of the kapok used to date came from Java prior to the Japanese conquest. Other areas have furnished relatively small quantities, usually of an inferior grade the Navy said.

Glass fiber, in appearance and texture similar to cotton, will be inserted in the vest-type life jackets in much the same manner as kapok. While two pounds of glass fiber will be needed to replace one pound of kapok the new substance has several marked advantages. It is completely fireproof, where kapok is not it is highly resistant to fungus growth and other materials under extended immersion and can stand repeated wettings and dryings without buoyancy loss. In addition, it does not irritate the skin.

Teamed Up In Tokyo Attack

Teamed up again in delivering the devastating 1,000 plane attack on the Tokyo area are Admiral Wm. F. Halsey, right, and Vice-Admiral John S. McCain, left, carrier task-force commander, shown talking over strategy in a stateroom on Halsey's flagship during an early attack. The mightiest naval striking force in history moved to within 200 miles of Tokyo to launch the new attack. (U. S. Navy photo from NEA Telephoto).

More Than 1,000,000 Texans Will Vote On Constitutional Amendments

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP) — More than 1,000,000 Texans have voting privileges to go to the polls August 25 for popular expression on 25 constitutional amendments.

The last legislature adopted the amendments which must receive approval of voters before they can become a part of the state constitution.

More than the usual number of voters are expected at the polls in this "off election year" mainly because of an amendment which would permit the state to increase old age pensions.

Actually, the amendment has four main points.

1. It places a ceiling of $35,000,000 a year on state funds which may be appropriated for Federal matching and use for the welfare program of pensions, aid to dependent children and aid to needy blind.

2. It increases from $15 to $20 the amount which the state may allocate for Federal matching to pay old age pensions.

3. It abolishes the present $1,500,000 a year which the state may appropriate for aid to dependent children, raises the eligibility age of children from 14 to 16 years and makes one year's residence in the state by the child or the mother if the child is less than a year old conditional to receive aid.

4. It removes the ceiling of $15 a month which the state may grant to a needy blind person.

Fixing of the amounts is left to the legislature. If the amendment is adopted the 50th session convening in 1947, will have the duty of specifying new and increased amounts for welfare grants.

The present legislature appropriated a total of $28,720,000 for the three welfare projects. Of this $26,400,000 was for pensions $1,500,000 for dependent children and $820,000 for the blind.

The other three amendments are to permit members of the armed forces and component parts to vote without payment of poll taxes; to pay legislators an annual salary and to increase membership of the State Supreme Court to nine members.

Showdown Vote On FEPC Bill Is Due In House

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House appropriations committee today cleared the way for a showdown house vote on the Fair Employment Practice Committee by recommending a fund of $250,000 for its liquidation.

The committee action will permit a house vote on the FEPC item tomorrow and make possible final action on the $752,000,000 1946 war agencies appropriation bill which has been tied up in a legislative deadlock.

The House previously passed a war agencies appropriation bill without a provision for the FEPC. The Senate, however, added $250,000 for the agency and returned the measure to the house. The appropriations committee refused a second time to include FEPC funds, and the House again sent a bill to the Senate without an appropriation for that agency.

The measure had been tied up since despite the new fiscal year beginning 11 days ago.

Truman Confers With Advisors Aboard Augusta

Aboard U. S. Augusta on the Atlantic — President Truman held shipboard conferences with his top international advisers today as this powerful cruiser sped him toward Germany for the Big Three meeting next week.

The President, now five days out of Newport News, Va., will disembark from this warship at a northern European port and proceed by plane to Potsdam, the Berlin suburb where he will meet for the first time with his Big Three partners—Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Premier Josef Stalin.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, a member of the presidential party aboard the Augusta, said there would be no advance announcement of Mr. Truman's arrival date for security reasons.

Alvin Johnson, With The Navy, Here For Visit

Alvin Johnson, a gunner's mate with the United States Navy, on 25 day leave from duties with the Navy, is here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson.

Johnson has been serving on a Destroyer Escort and has made a number of trips into enemy territory. He has been in the service since January 30, 1943 and received his training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. before being sent to Treasure Island, California.

Lt. Williams Of Caddo Slightly Wounded In War

Mrs. W. R. Williams of Caddo was notified this morning that her husband, First Lt. Williams, has been slightly wounded in action in the battle for the Philippines.

Lt. Williams, according to the message, was wounded on June 14, 1945 while fighting on Mindanao.

Pfc. Weaver Back In States From European Theatre

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Weaver received a telegram Tuesday informing them that their son, Pfc. Everett Weaver, has landed in the States and is expected in Ranger within a few days.

Pfc. Weaver has been in the European theatre of operations for the past 17 months and was in the thick of the battle for Germany. He went into France on D-Day and from then on his field artillery paced the battle lines.

His telegram to his parents stated that he had just landed and there would be no need for them to try to contact him in New York as he would see them in a few days.

HITLER LETTER AMAZES U. S. CAPTAIN'S WIFE

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The postman was curious and baffled. Mrs. Joseph T. Marnell, Philadelphia, was embarrassed. Both were relieved when a letter apparently from Der Fuehrer wasn't from Der Fuehrer at all.

It happened when Mrs. Marnell was handed an envelope bearing the great seal of the German Reich "Hohenzollern" — the great seal, appeared on the envelope. The printed name—Adolf Hitler—was below it. In the upper right hand corner was "Munich" — Munich.

Mrs. Marnell opened the envelope to read a letter from her husband, Capt. Joseph T. Marnell serving with a medical detachment of the U. S. 7th Army in Germany.

Where was Marnell? And what was he doing? The captain was having dinner at officers mess in the Fuehrer's Munich private apartment.

Marnell, writing on Hitler's private stationery, told his wife of the richness of the surroundings. "They are the most beautiful and modern I have ever seen. That is why we use the apartment for officer's mess. Nothing is too good for the U. S. Army," Marnell wrote. He told of two wine bottles from Spanish dictator Franco found on the desk.

The apartment presumably was at 16 Prinzregentplatz. Hitler bought the building in 1938 and rented apartments to other tenants.

The 25-year-old captain entered the Army in April, 1943 shortly after he was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania dental school. Mrs. Marnell is employed at the Philadelphia quarantine station.

ANTI-CHARTER TESTIMONY HEARD TODAY

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate foreign relations committee today heard a succession of witnesses against the United Nations charter, one of whom was escorted from the witness chair by two policemen.

The opposition witnesses variously assailed the charter as a "communist plot" and a plan for "empire rule" and protested the "sinister" speed with which it was being moved toward Senate ratification.

The committee put a general 15-minute limit on each witness appearing.

Mrs. Agnes Waters, Washington, D. C., described herself as representing the national blue star mothers, was the first witness. She called the charter "a fraud, deceit and an international conspiracy that will knock down this nation and overthrow this government." She charged it is part of a general communist plot to control the world.

Committee Chairmen Tom Connally, D., Tex., interrupted to warn her against "gratuitous insults to other governments."

ARMY RAIDERS FROM OKINAWA JOIN ASSAULT ON 36TH DAY

PEARL HARBOR (UP) — Tokyo said today the U. S. Third Fleet had finally broken off its carrier strike against Japan with a mighty final blast that wrecked at least 173 Japanese aircraft and 32 ships.

It was the 36th straight day of the pre-invasion bombing of Japan. Even as the Fleet withdrew Army Raiders from Okinawa took up the assault.

Tokyo reported a flight of about 150 American P-51s and P-47s attacked the suicide plane bases on eastern and southern Kyushu today.

Despite the fact that Halsey's Fleet steamed almost into the mouth of Tokyo bay, it was allowed to withdraw without as much as an answering shot from the stunned enemy.

Fires leaping through Tokyo and the 80 airfield surrounding the city testified to the havoc wrought.

Speaking from Washington, secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal said last night that the Third Fleet's strike had proved that the U. S. "Now controls the sea right up to Japan."

FEEDING OF BERLIN IS AGREED UPON

BERLIN (UP) — The Inter-Allied Berlin Command agreed at its first meeting today that for the time being each of the occupation forces in the capital will be responsible for feeding the German population of its own sector.

The food for Berlin will be provided from the respective Allied occupation zones, and importation for that purpose from the United States or Britain is no longer planned.

The temporary agreement "in principle" was reached at a meeting of Col. Gen. Alexander Gorbatov of Russia, Maj. Gen. Floyd Parks of the U. S. and Maj. Gen. L. O. Lyne of Great Britain, Brig. Gen. Geoffrey De Beauchamp of France attended by invitation.

Lyne said that a group of experts representing the occupying powers will meet and work out details of the food program which will be announced later.

The British and American military governments will assume full command of their Berlin sectors at 9 a. m. tomorrow. All Russian military government troops will be withdrawn from these areas except a few guards to protect the Red Army supply depots.

CHIEF MURPHY SAYS HE'LL TAKE TEXAS FROM NOW ON

Chief George Murphy, back from a 50 day stay in California, is really rooting for Texas and indications are that he has changed his mind about possibly moving to California.

With Mrs. Murphy, Chief Murphy went to California to look the situation over, thinking perhaps they would settle there near relatives of Mrs. Murphy. Before his leave was up, he and Mrs. Murphy had decided it was Texas for them and instead of the relatives keeping them in California, they brought the relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Prill, home with them to have a look at Texas with an eye to making it their home.

Chief Murphy expects to resume his duties with the fire and police departments in the near future.

Sonja Finds Girls In Hospitals Are Homesick

PARIS (UP) — Americans are miserable in no longer gay France, Sonja Henis, who is cheering up GIs in hospitals here, told the United Press.

On her first visit to Europe since before the war, the blond-haired Sonja said, "Paris isn't Paris any more. The French no longer smile. I haven't seen anything in the food shops except bread."

She added, "The Yanks in hospital here are far lower in spirits than those I saw in San Francisco from the Pacific. They are homesick. Besides, Paris isn't much fun, sick or well. A meal for two costs $50. You can't even buy a bottle of perfume any more."

Sonja is visiting an average of 300 soldiers a day. She left her skates at home, but says the boys are glad just to talk to an American girl. She refuses to wear her USO army uniform on the theory they prefer to see a pretty dress and earrings.

After four weeks in France, where the great majority of American hospitals have been moved from Germany, Sonja hopes to visit Oslo.

"I have heard my home there is safe and I want to see my relative," she said.

Oil For Burners Lacking Says PAW

WASHINGTON (UP)—If you are planning to convert your home heating unit from coal to oil, don't do it. That's the advice of Petroleum Administration for War.

The reason is that more oil of the type used for home heating purposes will be needed to carry on the Pacific war than was needed prior to V-E Day, according to PAW.

The agency believes that there is a widespread but erroneous impression that fuel oil will be more plentiful as a result of the defeat of Germany. Actually, according to PAW, there will be no increase in the amount of fuel oil set aside for civilian use until we have whipped the Japanese.

Change In Jobs After Three Years Keeps GI In Army

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UP)—Sgt. Winifred D. Chaffin of Mineral Springs, Ark., has a gripe against the point system for discharges.

Chaffin served as an operations clerk in the South Pacific for three years and has more than enough points for discharge.

Upon his return to the United States, he was changed to an administrative clerk and must remain in the Army because his specialty is considered essential.

Ultimate Costs, Seen and Unseen—

... are all paid for by the consumer. The farmer sells his bale of cotton for $100.00, and we buy it back in suits of clothes for $1,000.00. Same old cotton except the looks, design, color, wage, transportation, rent, storage, interest, commission, profits and taxes—many kinds of them. Like the bale of cotton, the abstract, too, must bear its myriad of operating costs but well worth it as it is the basis of your title security and your protection against fraud.

Navy Writes Finis To Fleet Without A Ship

WASHINGTON (UP) — The "fleet without a ship" which spelled disaster to the German submarine menace in the Atlantic has been dissolved.

Adm. Ernest J. King's 10th Fleet was a highly specialized command organized to exercise unity of control against the U-boats.

It was under the immediate direction of the commander in chief of the entire U. S. Fleet and had as its chief of staff a submarine specialist—Rear Adm. Francis S.

Low, assistant chief of staff of the U. S. Fleet.

The job of the 10th Fleet, which could call upon the surface and air forces of the Atlantic Fleet and Sea Frontier forces, was directed at destroying enemy submarines, protecting Allied shipping in the U. S. sea frontiers supporting Allied anti-submarine forces operating in the Atlantic areas, and controlling U. S. convoys and shipping.

Through this specialized organization, 10th Fleet headquarters made instantly available latest intelligence information, anti-submarine developments and training and operating procedures to Adm. Royal E. Ingersoll, commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet. It was he who directed the 10th Fleet was organized on May 20, 1943. Low was succeeded as chief of staff by Rear Adm. A. R. McCann in January, 1945.
