SEABEES FASHION ARM FOR PACIFIC NATIVE

Somewhere in the Marianas—(UP)—Seabees are the most versatile constructionists in the world. Jesus Salas, 16 year old native boy, is sure of it because Jesus Salas wears an artificial arm the Seabees made him from the propeller blade of a J-4 p Zero.

Although none of the Seabees had ever examined an artificial limb, they tackled the task for the lad who lost his arm just below the elbow and his right eye in an explosion. After seven castings and several fittings of an aluminum propeller blade from a wrecked Jap Zero, the stainless steel struts and adequate lacings were completed.

A flesh colored paint job made the product a creditable replica comparable to artificial limbs manufactured by craftsmen with precision tools.

UNRRA STEPS UP RELIEF TO BALKAN LANDS

CAIRO (UP)—Thousands of tons of relief supplies are being ferried to Yugoslavia and Greece by ships setting out from Alexandria. These mercy cargoes include Balkan relief supplies arriving from South Africa, South America, the United States and Australia, according to UNRRA officials.

The Balkan stockpile in Alexandria, where UNRRA's main Cairo office has set up a branch office within the dock perimeter, handles everything from rolling stock to bridging, clothing and foodstuffs.

This UNRRA branch office is an off shoot of the Bureau of Requirements and Supply of UNRRA's Middle East Office, which has a South African, Col. J. M. Webb, as its director. Now that the Balkan stockpile is absorbing and shipping a considerable tonnage coming from American and British Army surpluses, as well as serving as a clearance station for Balkan relief supplies arriving from South Africa, South America, the United States and Australia, commodities covering a vast range are being typed on bills of lading as ships become available.

There are 1,000 tons of bridging and rolling stock awaiting shipment to Greece. Recently 200 tons of clothing from the Australian Red Cross were dispatched to the Balkans. Every effort is being made to send sufficient quantities of all commodities required before winter sets in, in order to have communications open in the Balkans, and the people clothed before the cold sets in.

Food and medical supplies, equally sorely needed by the badly battered Balkan populations, are being sent out as fast as possible. The term "foodstuffs" covers tinned meat, honey, baking powder, tinned milk, egg powder, sugar, salt—to mention a cross section of supplies already sent forward. Peetroot and carrot seeds, fertilizers such as calcium chloride, matches, crutches, second wool, surgical instruments and razors are some of the other items UNRRA's Bureau of Requirements and Supply has shipped to the Balkans through the Egyptian port during the last few weeks.

In the first two weeks of its existence, the UNRRA branch office at Alexandria dispatched to Greece 1,000 cases of sewing machines and their spare parts, 264 bales of cotton twine, 50 tons of electrical equipment, 57 cases of medical supplies, 247 drums of paris green—an insecticide for spraying on olive trees—900 bales of tentage donated by the Australian Red Cross, 750 tons of cotton seed cake brought in by the local market, and one case of boiler stay taps requested by the Greek government for maintenance work on the state railways.

Funeral For W. T. Johnson Held On Wednesday

Funeral services for W. T. Johnson were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Methodist church in Clairette, Texas. Killingsworth's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and interment was in the Clairette cemetery.

Mr. Johnson died at his home on North Marston street, Tuesday, August 21. He was born in Springfield, Mo., May 31, 1863, and had resided in Ranger for 27 years. He was a member of the Methodist church in Clairette.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. W. T. Johnson; four sons, W. F. Johnson of Clairette, F. J. Johnson, Dickinson; L. H. Johnson of Kingsville, and Staff Sgt. H. L. Johnson of the United States Army Air Corps stationed at Randolph Field; one daughter, Mrs. Pearl Harris of Cisco; two brothers, L. R. Johnson of Denton, and J. L. Johnson of Stephenville and one sister, Mrs. Alice Blackmond of Temple.

1945-46 Edition Texas Almanac Is Off The Press

The new Texas Almanac is off the press, the 1945-46 edition being commemorative of the Centennial of Texas Statehood. Although print paper is still alarmingly scarce, the fact that the new book contains 608 pages—the largest in history—is considered adequate proof of its value to the public. In harmony with its dedication, a considerable portion of the book is devoted to historical matter. There is a revised history of Texas, from Cabeza de Vaca to Coke R. Stevenson, and there are additional chapters on events and places of historic interest, including an extensive current account of Texas' participation in World War I. As usual, data and statistics on rain fall, crops, mineral deposits, farm-demonstration, railroad mileage, rosters of state and county officials, Mayors and City Managers, sources of state revenue during the latest fiscal year and articles on Texas counties, with individual maps, are included in the current issue, together with revisions in up to date form, covering rail, highway, air and shipping commerce; banking and insurance; Texas athletic events, parks and tourist attractions, schools, libraries, health and hospitals.

In view of the postwar program of economic development, special attention is given to Texas manufacturing industries between 1940 and 1944, when pay rolls and volume of production more than doubled. There is full treatment also of Texas minerals, of which more than sixty kinds were produced last year, for a total value of more than a billion dollars—the greatest value of mineral production of any single state in the history of the nation. Included also, are late developments in soil and water conservation, telling of the construction of such new projects as Lake Texoma, near Denison, one of the largest reservoirs in America.

Approximately 85 per cent of the current edition of the Almanac had been sold before the first volume came from the press a few days ago.

EVACUATION OF INTERNEES, POWS SPEEDED

MANILA (UP)—The Allies announced plans today for the speedy evacuation of 32,000 prisoners and internees from Japan to the Philippines and confirmed that contact had been established, presumably in Manchuria, with Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright.

Allied nationals, including 7,000 Americans and 14,000 British will be repatriated from Japan by air and sea as rapidly as their health permits, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced.

An International Red Cross delegation radioed MacArthur from Tokyo that its representatives and delegates from the Swiss and Swedish legations will proceed tomorrow to the seven main prisoner camps in Japan to assist in the evacuation of inmates to embarkation points.

The spaces of those liberated and evacuated will be transmitted immediately to the war department in Washington. Immediately after they have been registered, headquarters said, internees and prisoners will be rushed to the Philippines, where two receiving depots have been established near Manila to handle them.

The American Red Cross alone will send almost 100 workers to Japan with the occupation forces. They will provide comfort articles and stationery while troops will provide medical supplies, food, clothing and other necessities.

THE WEATHER WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy in the west, cloudy east with showers and thunderstorms southeast and extreme east portions this afternoon and tonight, Friday partly cloudy interior.

Texas University Offers Course In Russian Tongue

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—The University of Texas is building a South-wide reputation in the field of Russian language instruction. The state university is the first institution of its class to offer Russian in the South, and enrollment in the courses continues to mount, Dr. Eduard Micek, associate professor of Slavonic languages said.

The University also offers another Slavonic language, Czech. More than a half dozen students who have received training in Russian during the three years it has been offered at the University now are employed in the U. S. Department of State, Dr. Micek said.

In addition to preparing students for diplomatic work, knowledge of Russian language is valuable for those who plan careers in international business and commerce or in journalism abroad, Dr. Micek pointed out.

"Our objective, too, is to afford Southern students the same opportunities as Northerners, Easterners and those at universities on the West Coast," Dr. Micek said.

TOKYO ASKS REVISIONS IN ALLIED TERMS OF SURRENDER

LONDON (UP) Gen. Josef Stalin tonight announced in an order of the day that Japan's Kwantung army has surrendered.

MANILA (UP)—Tokyo formerly asked for five revisions in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's surrender orders today and told the Japanese people that 50,000 to 60,000 Allied occupation troops would land in the capital area next week alone.

Tokyo requested changes in the surrender orders effective tomorrow immobilizing ships in Japanese home waters and requiring those at sea to head for Allied ports.

From Okinawa came word that 390 C-54 Transports and Liberator bombers will begin a shuttle service to Aitani airfield near Tokyo Tuesday with air borne occupation troops. Sea borne forces also will begin landing Tuesday.

MacArthur announced that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, will sign the Japanese surrender document for the United States aboard the American Battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay, August 21. MacArthur also will sign the document, but as supreme Allied commander.

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons today that a British commander will accept the surrender of the Japanese at Hongkong. Attlee made his statement in reply to an inquiry by opposition leader Winston Churchill.

Attlee's statement followed a flat statement by a foreign office spokesman saying that Britain "definitely has not agreed that the Chinese shall occupy Hongkong."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The story goes that Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes and Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson and their aides were conferring on the apparent shortage of coal to keep the United States and Europe warm next winter.

Edson

"Do you want more coal?" asked Ickes. When the Army nodded assent, Ickes said, "It's out there in the hills. Go dig it."

After that crack Judge Patterson rose and walked over to a wall map of the Pacific.

"Do you want to win the war in a hurry?" he asked. "Well, there it is out in the Pacific. Go win it."

This story gets right at the heart of the argument over next winter's coal shortage. August is a terrible season to have to worry about February's frosts, and Washington officials aren't supposed to have feuds. But somebody in charge around here had better start worrying about this, hard and fast, or there will be a lot of freezing and a lot of agonizing six months hence.

The dispute over how to get more coal out of the ground narrows down to nothing more than a question of shaping a manpower policy for the period of reconversion and demobilization.

ON April 1, beginning of the 1945 coal-year, there were 453,000 people working in hard and soft coal mines combined. On April 1, 1941, there were 345,000. The drop in 92,000 miners daily? Of the prewar mine labor force, an estimated 90,000 enlisted and 40,000 were drafted. An additional 75,000 to 100,000 prewar miners left the mines to work in other war industries where the jobs were pleasanter and the pay higher.

Army spokesmen say why not hire those people to go back to the mines or why not hire people from the 200,000 soldiers already released from the Army or the 400,000 now being demobilized daily? Well, the mine operators and the U. S. Employment Service have put on numerous drives and they have succeeded in recruiting over 100,000 less efficient new workers and older retired miners. But most of the people who left the coal country don't want to go back and the veterans don't want to go into the mines either.

In the course of the war the Army has granted temporary furloughs to skilled tire makers, foundrymen, copper miners and munitions, textile, aircraft and railroad workers. That is the precedent Ickes builds his case on. But today the War Department says it would be a mistake to release men from the Army just because they have a special skill and a job is waiting for them.

Reason given is that the Army has committed itself to a policy of discharging men on the point system. Soldiers with most points for active service and men with families, regardless of their prewar occupation, are designated for first release. The men in the Army were polled on this question and this is the way they wanted it.

"YOU can make a lot of mistakes fooling around with time in a race," says John B. Campbell in the chapter on handicapping in Thoroughbred Racing and Breeding, the privately circulated volume so well gotten up by TRA.

John B. Campbell is racing secretary and handicapper for all New York tracks. He is one of the lit-seconds are lost on the second turn.

"Where time is unimportant in the handicapping of horses, comparative performances count for everything. This is different from football, basketball and baseball, where comparative scores mean very little.

"Adjustment of weights on horses for handicaps is the backbone of modern horse racing, and is more scientific than many suppose. We try to equalize races by placing higher weights on the better horses. This is done by the use of thin strips of lead slipped into the pockets of a weight pad under the saddle."

Of course, ideal handicapping would make all the horses finish even—if all have the same luck. Campbell did a masterly job in last year's Carter Handicap, which resulted in a triple dead heat among Bosmet, 127 pounds, Wait-a-Bit, 118 and Brownie, 115. The next four, with weights ranging from 132 to 109 pounds, were bunched within a length and three-quarters of the triple dead heaters.

Two weeks later Campbell had 10 horses bunched at the end, with eight in a photograph finish for first. He considers that his greatest handicapping feat.

But no matter how good the handicapping, racing still is a matter of luck.

Firemen Answer Call But Can't Pick Apricots

ST. LOUIS, (UP) — Mrs. Ralph Crowder of St. Louis almost solved the problem of getting in the fruit crop.

A large and productive tree in her backyard was laden with apricots. Unable to cope with the harvest herself, she called the fire department.

"There's an apricot tree in my backyard," she told the fireman who answered the telephone. But the connection was cut off and a few moments later Mrs. Crowder was startled by the arrival of a ladder truck, which roared to a stop in front of her home.

"Where is that tree?" one of the firemen asked breathlessly. Then he was told that Mrs. Crowder was offering to let the firemen pick fruit, he shook his head.

"We have no time to pick apricots," he explained. "There might be a fire somewhere," he pointed out, and it wouldn't look well for the fire department to be up in a tree picking fruit.

Atom Bomb Proves Worse Than Earthquake

HIROSHIMA. Estimated 100,000 to 150,000 persons thought killed by one atom bomb.

WORLD WAR I. Americans killed in World War I totaled only 126,000 men.

Tokyo-Yokohama earthquake, 1923. Japan's greatest single catastrophic disaster (170) and the world's second worst earthquake, killed only 99,731.

Americans, scores of miles away, who felt the cataclysmic effect of the experimental atom bomb exploded in New Mexico last July thought it was an earthquake. And well they might, for reports from the Jap city of Hiroshima after its blasting by an atom bomb indicate that many more people were killed than died in the great Japanese earthquake of 1923, one of the worst single disasters in modern times. Another indication of the lethal power of atomic energy is the comparison of Hiroshima's death toll with total of Americans killed in World War I.

New Flower Designs For Wedding Bouquets

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (UP) — Brides of the near future can expect something new in the way of bouquets and floral arrangements for weddings, according to Horace J. Head.

Head is a flower stylist for the Florists Telegraph Delivery Assn. He has been making a tour of every state in the Union and every province of Canada the last 10 months, to give florists the latest ideas in flower styling.

In a demonstration before a meeting of central Illinois florists, Head showed some of the new uses for flowers in weddings. Among these designs was a hat for the bride fashioned from a corsage of calla-glads, a bit of black lace and some black ribbon. This hat can be made in about five minutes, "while the lady waits."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

When Michael Arlen, author of "The Green Hat," was introduced to someone as an Armenian, the other man exclaimed, "If you're an Armenian, where are your rugs?" And when your columnist was introduced recently as an author, the other party snorted, "If you're an author, where's your dog?"

And, come to think of it, nearly always the photograph of an author shows him with his dog. This deficiency—lack of canine—was overcome when some friends asked, "How would you like to own a dog?" And so Bessie came upon the scene. Bessie was then one month old, a fox terrier, black and white. Her mother had been killed and now she was separated from her little brothers and sisters, so life was very sad to the pup and she whined continually despite kind words and petting.

There were a few bright spots in the day for Bessie, however—meal times. She would start lapping up milk and, as this continued her short legs spread apart until her little body—now round as a leg—almost touched the floor. Then she would curl up and enjoy a nap.

Gradually, Bessie ceased to feel like a stranger and began to romp happily.

If someone objects that the isn't much of a dog, some good friend can be counted on to reply, "Well, but Boyce isn't much of an author, either."

Texasans feel honored in the selection by President Truman of a Texan for the high office of Attorney General of the United States Tom C. Clark of Dallas.

Many years ago, a humorously-inclined editor wrote an article in which he pointed out that in his city there were countless stray cats and that nearby was desert land which could be bought for a dollar an acre and that on the land were innumerable rats. He then proposed—just in jest, to by a large tract, round up the stray cats, skin them and sell the hides, and toss the carcasses to the rats. The cats would eat the rats, he said; thus there would be no overhead, everything would be clear profit and the whole thing self-perpetuating.

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY

Of four constitutional amendments to be voted upon in the special election on August 25, 1945, the importance of one of them, which happily involves no increase in the number of public officers, is quite naturally best known to and appreciated by lawyers and judges. This amendment is the one to convert the present Supreme Court of Texas, consisting of three judges elected by the people and six Commissioners appointed by the three Judges, into a Supreme Court of nine Judges of equal authority and responsibility and all elected by the people.

Many good reasons could be given to show the importance and desirability of this proposed change, and any of the undersigned will be glad to explain such reasons to interested inquirers. But for those who may be willing to back our judgment that this amendment is in the interest of the general welfare of our State, we take this means of urging you to vote and use your influence in behalf of its adoption.

Respectfully,
 J. E. Hickman,
 Supreme Court Commissioner.

The Promise of the Atom

Giant ocean liners will circle the world many times without refueling.

Automobiles will run a lifetime on a small amount of atomic energy-supplying matter furnished with car.

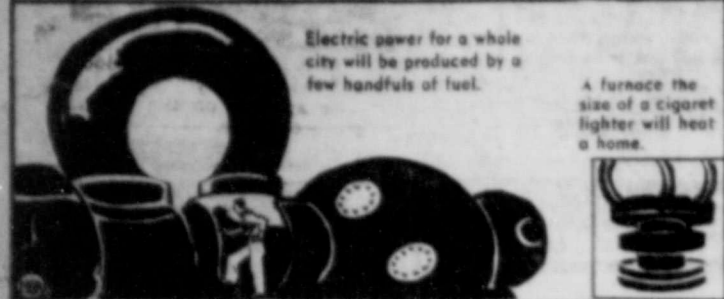

The problem of sufficient fuel to power jet airplanes and V-boats on long trips will be overcome by space-saving fuel.

Electric power for a whole city will be produced by a few handfuls of fuel.

A furnace the size of a cigarette lighter will heat a home.

The miracle of harnessed atomic energy can be the most destructive or most productive power yet known. Its lethal potency is being demonstrated now in the atom bomb. Some time in the peaceful future, scientists say it will be many years—the force will be turned to more constructive uses. Some of them, as imagined by scientists, are sketched above. But they are dreams that aren't likely to be fulfilled for present generations to see.

JAP PRISONERS TALK FREELY SAYS GENERAL

COLUMBUS (UP)—The Japanese say there's no such thing as surrender, therefore why waste time teaching security procedure?

Brig. Gen. Harold Haney, Columbus, said this teaching by the Japanese government is a great help to the U. S. The regular army Japanese officer or enlisted man would still rather die than surrender, Gen. Haney said, but the reserve officers and "better educated" soldiers willingly give up when they see no further use of fighting.

"Once a Japanese soldier surrenders," Haney said, "he's a valuable piece of military property because he'll talk freely on any subject. And it's simply that they haven't been taught differently."

Haney should know. He's been fighting with them in the Pacific since American troops invaded New Guinea in 1942 and has personally questioned hundreds of them.

He is assistant commanding officer of the 41st Infantry Division, which has chased the Japs all the way from New Guinea to Manila, including spectacular assault landings on Palawan and Biak Islands. "Informed Japanese officers have told me that if the emperor should order complete surrender all Japanese troops would capitulate."

"But if there is no such order from him, isolated Jap troops would continue fighting until annihilated or starved to death."

This could mean several years of mopping up operations, Haney pointed out. Haney entered the Army nearly 24 years ago as an enlisted man. His decorations include the Silver Star with an Oak Leaf Cluster, Legion of Merit, Air Medal and campaign ribbons for the Philippines liberation, Asia-Pacific Defense, World War and Army of Occupation and the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

The first town in San Francisco lay, Yuerba Buena, was founded in 1774 three miles from Mission Dolores. The two later grew together into the city of San Francisco.

U. S. DEVELOPS NEW VARIETY SUGAR CANE

PATON ROUGE, La. (UP)—It was one success out of hundreds of thousands of failures. More than a decade of work had gone into producing it, and scientists here believe they have the real thing this time.

They have named it CP36-105, but its name belies its nature. It's not an instrument of war, but a hardy, new variety of sugar cane that may go far in easing the current sugar shortage.

The work of producing CP36-105 actually goes back almost half a century and involves experimental work in distant areas, according to W. G. Tazgart, director of the Louisiana Agricultural Experiment Station.

Once research scientists in Java and India saved the Louisiana sugar cane industry, and this new successful variety has been derived in part from their work, which started around 1900.

It was to produce a variety of cane which should resist the diseases which have scourged the sugar cane industry that the Java scientists then started their breeding experiments. And oddly enough they produced a variety of cane which was successful in meeting the Louisiana crisis in the early 20s, but which wasn't satisfactory in Java. That was the POJ cane, which was introduced in Louisiana along with a cane from India after the almost complete crop failure in 1926, when the harvest was only one-tenth normal.

The POJ cane and the CO-290 from India provided a stop-gap in the middle '20s while the U. S. Department of Agriculture established an experiment station at Canal Point, Fla., which has the support of the Louisiana Agricultural Experiment Station.

tural Experiment Station and the American Sugar Cane League. Canal Point obtains seed from all over the world and tries to find or create, varieties which will do well in this state.

New varieties are never released until they have been tested thoroughly for resistance to mosaic and red rot, the two diseases which nearly ended the cane industry in the state.

The CP36-105 variety is a good general purpose cane, except for the Red River area, or for mucky soil. It is described as vigorous has good milling qualities and may be cheaper to harvest than some other varieties.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights
