TRIO TAKE TRIP AROUND THE WORLD THE HARD WAY

McCloskey General Hospital, Temple, Texas. — Three Texans, Cpl. Donzil O. Shores of Abilene, Cpl. Herbert R. Morris of Cisco, and Sgt. Earl F. Baldock of Big Springs, all members of the 36th Division's ill-fated 2 "lost battalion" went around the world the "hard way." They even marched part of the way—at the point of a Japanese bayonet.

Here at McCloskey General Hospital, Temple, the three West Texans, who completed by air a trip begun late in 1941 and which carried them entirely around the world, talked over some of their days in Japanese prisons. "Burma was the roughest," they said, "our food consisted of rice and fishheads and never was hit. Usually they didn't bother Americans except to stop us and ask where we were going."

"And we got beat out of us," declared Shores. "The Japs beat you with anything—Baldock got beaten with a bull whip—19 out of 20 of us got it. The Nips were mad because some Yank fliers had strafed and shot 'em up the day before."

"But then, we all got plenty of whippings," countered Baldock. "You didn't have to do anything to get in trouble."

"Yes, and it was in Burma that the Japs told us the 36th Division had been annihilated by the Germans."

"In my camp we were glad to get dog and cat meat," said Cpl. Morris, "and we even ate snails. You learn how to take care of yourself or you just didn't live. But even so, I figure we lost 35 per cent of our men. Of course, I was lucky that they sent me to the Singapore hospital when I had diarrhea—they had serum there."

"We got rumors every once in a while, particularly after we got to Saigon," declared Baldock, "and we never lost hope."

"Hell no, we never lost hope."

Wins Congressional Medal of Honor

Doug Watson of Earle, Ark., hero and winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor pauses with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Watson and brothers Felton, 10, and Kenneth, 3, and sister, Gloria, 10 months. The medal was presented at a ceremony in Memphis. (NEA Telephoto.)

explained Shores. "I told 'em I had a one-way ticket. Then on the 11th of August the French told us it's over, it's over—we have been waiting for it. We all went over the fence to town when we heard it. All the guards ran off when we got out—it was a good thing, too. There must have been about 3,000 prisoners at Saigon when we were liberated."

"But in town, the trouble between the French and the Americans already had started," said Baldock. "As we walked down the streets the rifle bullets whizzed by, but the natives aren't very good shots. Once about 12 of them were shooting at a little French boy about 10 years old. That kid ran 25 yards and never was hit. Usually they didn't bother Americans except to stop us and ask where we were going."

Now the men from the 131st field artillery are resting. "We don't know what we'll do when we get out of the army," they said, "guess we'll think it over for a while, and really, we're looking forward to a good long rest—then too, there's our back pay—we haven't been paid since December 1941."

U. S. FOREIGN POLICY SET OUT NAVY DAY BY PRESIDENT

NEW YORK (UP) — President Truman in a forceful, 12-point denunciation of American foreign policy notified the world today that this country will refuse to recognize any government that is imposed on any nation by the force of a foreign power.

Issuing a blunt "hands-off" warning regarding the liberated and war-weakened countries, the president at the same time assailed the world that our possession of the atomic bomb constituted "no threat to any nation."

"The possession in our hands of this new power of destruction we regarded as a sacred trust," he said in a historic Navy Day speech. "Because of our love of peace, the thoughtful people of the world know that the trust will not be violated, that it will be faithfully executed."

The president used his Navy Day address to announce this country's intention to retain even in peace the "greatest naval power on earth." Together with our strong land and air forces, he said, it will be used to promote and protect a foreign policy of righteousness and justice.

Mr. Truman spoke in the sheep meadow of New York City's sprawling Central Park after a tour of the city.

Earlier he had said, as he spoke at the commissioning of the 48-000-ton aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, at Brooklyn Navy yard, that the United States is committed to fight international gangsterism anywhere in the world.

In his most vigorous definition of this country's foreign policy, the president minced no words in saying that the United States advocated self-government for all people who are prepared for it, and that their choice should be made without "interference from any foreign power."

"We shall," he said in a nationally broadcast address, "refuse to recognize any government imposed upon any nation by the force of any foreign power. In some cases it may be impossible to prevent forceful imposition of such a government. But the United States will not recognize a government which does not recognize a government."

Navy Training May Require 15 to 18 Months

KANSAS CITY (UP) — Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King said today that the Navy believes 15 to 18 months peacetime training might be necessary to prepare a trained reserve force with which the Navy could fill out its rolls in an emergency.

He explained that the Navy planned to keep about 300 ships in active status, manned by about 70 to 75 per cent of their wartime crews. Another 100 ships would be in reserve status, manned by 20 to 25 per cent of their wartime personnel, while about 600 other vessels would be out of commission.

Every business man in Ranger who is interested in the future of football in Ranger is urged to be at the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON TAX CUT BILL

WASHINGTON (UP) — Congressional tax conferees agreed today on the final form of a $5,920,000,000 tax reduction bill.

The prospective relief for taxpayers next year exceeds by nearly $1,000,000,000 the limit asked by the administration.

The final version of the bill is expected to be adopted by the House and Senate next week.

House conferees accepted the Senate proposal for individual income tax reductions totaling $2,644,000,000 on 1946 income.

The corporate tax dispute was compromised by adoption of features proposed, including total repeal of the excess profits tax on January 1.

The individual income tax formula will give total exemption to 12,000,000 of the present taxpayers. This will be done by setting the normal tax exemption at $500 for each dependent. Under the present law, taxpayers were allowed an exemption of only $500 with no credit for dependents in computing the normal tax of three per cent.

In addition to the new exemptions, the combined normal and surtax rates would be cut five per cent for everybody.

Alley Loses Romance As Gas Is Turned Off

NEW YORK (UP) — The gas lamps along MacDougal Alley were dark today—because the gas company was no longer feeling romantic.

The lamps were retained along the Greenwich Village street in a nostalgic move when the rest of the town went electric. The gas company—the Consolidated Edison Gas and Electric—promised them they would supply gas forever.

During the war, the lamps were removed because of the blackout. From February, 1942, until Oct. 4, 1945, there were no gas lamps. Then, the lamps were replaced, but no gas was piped in.

The gas company said it thought somebody ought to pay for the gas. The residents along MacDougal Alley see no particular reason why they should pay. The Village authorities have not made up their mind yet.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Blacklock have received word that their son, Gayle Blacklock, seaman second class, is now stationed with the Navy in Guam. He is serving in the personnel office at the Navy Operating base.

W. F. Creager Out Of Hospital; At His Home Here

W. F. Creager, who has been in a Ft. Worth hospital for the past two and a half months, was brought to his home here Friday and shows little wear from the trip.

He is recovering as rapidly as possible from serious injuries received in a fall from an oil tank scaffold near Gorman on August 13. He stated Saturday that he is able to sit up for a short while and hopes to be able to get up before too long.

When visited by members of the Times staff he stated that was his first "press conference" since the accident.

Salesmanship Course To Be Presented Here

BUCKAROOS WIN GAME BY 34 TO 6

The Ranger Bulldogs who were slated for a tremendous defeat at the hands of Breckenridge Buckaroos, in a game played at Breckenridge Friday night, held them to a 34 to 6 score.

The Bulldogs kicked off to the Buckaroos and Breckenridge made her first touchdown when Frank White ran 45 yards to cross the goal for the first score.

Ranger did not play real football until the last part of the game. Jack Parrish knocked down a Breckenridge pass which would have been an easy touchdown.

In the fourth quarter Elder intercepted a Breckenridge pass and ran 35 yards which started Ranger on toward a touchdown. Ranger's score came as a result of a pass from Wright to Gray. This is the second time in ten years that Ranger has scored on Breckenridge.

The substitutes were: Jerry Gray, Bobby Balch, Andy Jackson, Sammie Elder and O. G. Lanier, Jr.

The starting lineup: center, Don Ford; guards Terry and Griffin; tackles, Worth Carlin and T. K. Hardy; ends, Howard Frasier and Paul MacDonald and backs, J. G. Wright, Junior Arterburn, Jack Parrish and Bob Williams.

The statistics are:
Ranger: first downs 12, yards of gains 199, 5 for 30 yds. of pass 5 for 69, passes attempted 11, passes intercepted 1, 7 for 207 punt no. yds. 4 for 113, 5 for 35 penalties 10 for 90

Freedom from want is yours for the purchase of Victory Loan Bonds.

HALL WALKER TO HEAD DRIVE FOR RANGER'S $108,100 GOAL

America's Victory Loan drive opens tomorrow, Monday October 29, with a national quota of $11,000,000,000 and a quota for Eastland County of $476,000 of which Ranger has been assessed 33 per cent or $158,100.00. The county's Series E quota is $230,000.

Hall Walker, has been named chairman of the drive to replace W. F. Creager who served as chairman of the seven War Loan drives and who is unable to serve in this drive because of injuries suffered in an accident.

E. E. Garner, manager of Interstate Theatres in Ranger, has announced that the theatres will serve in this drive as they have in the past drives. Among other things planned by the theatres, will be a bond premier, a first showing of a picture with admission only by purchase of a bond and a "free movie" day at which admission will be by bond purchase.

Bonds will be for sale at the Commercial State Bank, the post-office and the Arcadia theatre and the people are urged to make their purchases as soon as possible in order to reach the goal before the deadline, December 8.

With reference to the drive Chairman Walker today issued the following statement:

"Ranger has been given a quota of $108,100.00 to raise in the Victory Loan Drive. We have always over-subscribed on all loan drives in the past, and are confident the people of this vicinity will respond as usual.

This will be the last drive put on by the government and it is our earnest desire that everyone try to purchase as many bonds as possible, in fact this should be over-subscribed more than a year other drive as this is the Victory Loan. The public should be happier knowing that the efforts they have put forth in the past has supplied the funds for the government to give our boys the necessary equipment to fight and win this war. The job has been well done abroad and this Victory Loan is the finishing touch. The enormous obligations incurred in the achievement of victory, including the cost of contract settlements, bringing our forces home, their mustering-out pay, hospitalization, care and rehabilitation, will be great. We must meet some of this obligation with our Victory Loan.

We trust in the very beginning of the drive each and everyone will support this drive and buy your bonds early and push Ranger over the top long before the time is over."

Governor Dewey Munches Popcorn Stumps Age Guesser At County Fair

COBLESKILL, N. Y. (UP) — Governor Thomas E. Dewey, 1944 Presidential candidate, has completed a tour of the state's circuit of county fairs, which he hopes will give him a "down to earth" understanding of the farmer's problems.

He ended his tour at Schoharie County's fair, where he inspected stables full of cattle, looked at displays of many colored specimens of the poultry family and walked through the midway eating popcorn.

In the cowbarn, Dewey exchanged opinions with dairymen on yearly milk yields, animal sickness and feed experimentation. A herd of Brown Swiss cows—a breed which was "new" to the governor, who really knows his cows, proved to be interesting. He found they were newcomers in this part of the country, were gaining a high rating and remarked they were the "friendliest cows I ever seen."

From there, the governor made an unscheduled visit to the midway, where he bought more popcorn, and had his age guessed and posed for pictures.

The governor didn't want his age guessed because he said it was "one of the most publicized ages of the year," but the Barker talked him into the game when he quipped, "I don't know your age governor, I'm a Canadian."

He guessed the governor's age at 45, two years too much, and as Dewey walked away, the sales wise Barker could be heard shouting—"Step right up, folks. Governor Dewey deals here."

He inspected farm machinery, freezing units, witnessed 4-H showmanship contests and finally ended up in the chicken house.

An occurrence which brought a chuckle from Governor Dewey happened when a boy brushing aside state and county fair officials, took charge of the governor as he neared the end of his tour.

Not until the poultry exhibit was reached was the youngster motive discovered. Taking Dewey by the arm, the boy drew him to a corner of the building where the only live pigeons in the showing were caged. The youth explained that he wanted to be sure the governor saw his prize pigeons which he had won high honors in Boston and New York shows.

Throughout the tours, the state's chief executive urged farmers to take advantage of wartime state agricultural agencies which, he said, would be continued until the emergency is ended.

Two big agricultural programs artificial breeding of cattle and underway are experiments in Pasteur development which Dewey said is aimed at better quality milk and higher milk yields.

Town Grew Big Without Help Of War Plants

NORFOLK, Neb. (UP) — Typical of many Midwestern towns is this city of some 13,000 located in the fertile Nebraska river valley of southern Nebraska.

Norfolk had no war plants to stimulate its population growth in the 1930's. It boasted no Army air field such as brought boom conditions to several other Nebraska communities. The nearest military installation was at Sioux City, 120 miles to the east across the Missouri river in Iowa.

But Norfolk's development has not lagged. It is a larger town today than before the war. Its housing and commercial facilities were crowded to the limit during the war. Today, with its postwar plans made and with material and labor once more available, Norfolk is starting out upon a five-year building program which includes civic improvements, new business enterprises, and many new homes.

An administration building for the city air port will be readied for occupation by the end of the year. The building will house the new weather bureau station as well as office facilities for airplane companies.

A new building to house the state safety patrol and one of its radio stations is planned for next year.

Mayor A. W. Freyer, with the assistance of the city engineer, has listed other improvements, including a new memorial stadium, sewage disposal plant, swimming pool and additional pavement in the residential section.

One new business building has been completed in the commercial district, two others are under construction, and still another is in the blueprint stage.

Construction of new homes to relieve the housing shortage is expected to extend over a five-year period. Lack of material and a scarcity of labor has slowed new housing construction.

Cooperative To Sell Products Made By Blind

HOUSTON, Texas (UP) — Houston delegates of the Harris County association for the Blind report that a statewide cooperative sales plan for the products of the blind has been set up. All products handled by the blind will be sold through a statewide cooperative plan.

Thus if a city has already established clients for products made by the blind and cannot fill all the orders, other cities will complete the orders through the new system. Toys, rugs, maps, loom work and pillow cases, together with many other products, are manufactured by the blind workers.

Crippled Boys, Girls Provided For By Schools

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Crippled children will be able to attend a school with ramps for a r wheel chairs, doors which are four feet wide and other extra facilities by the second term of this year according to an announcement of the Dallas Board of Education. Architect Maurice Peterman, who drew the plans for the school, was authorized to complete the specifications preparatory to advertising for bids.

Bryan Adams, business manager, said an estimate of $23,000 was given earlier, but improvements in the plans and the increase in construction costs raised this estimate to approximately $50,000 or $60,000.

INDIANS TELL HOW JAPS ATE HUMAN FLESH

WASHINGTON (UP)—A corroborating account of Japanese cannibalism in New Guinea is told by the Indian information service here.

The report came from a Gurkha subedar (commissioned junior officer) and a lance-naik (corporal) who are now recuperating in Ceylon from months spent as Japanese prisoners of war in New Guinea.

This was the account related by the two Gurkha subedar and lance-naik. At a time when food supplies were short on the island, an American plane was shot down. The crew of five were shot and bayoneted. The skull of one man was split from behind.

When the bodies were given to the prisoners for burial it was noted that fleshy parts of the bodies had been cut off.

TULSA, Okla. (UP)—Mr. R. K. Lane of Sapulpa, Okla., was checking through his collection of stamps recently when he came across a letter which had been sent to her uncle, E. W. Metz of Cushing, Okla., late in 1937. Metz was owner of the Cushing Machine and Tool Co.

The letter had but one sentence: "Will you kindly send two copies of your latest catalogs."

It was signed "Kobei Takamura," whose address was "2566 5-Chome Kamimeguro Meguro-Ku, Tokyo."

Metz didn't have any catalogs at that time.

KEEP HIM SAFE

his 250,000 Godfathers no longer can!

Yes, he's a war baby, born after December 7, 1941, the date that will live in infamy. Since then some 250,000 American men have died that he might live and grow in a world of peace—that he may never have to take up arms to defend his country and his loved ones.

Our heroic dead have left us a legacy—and a trust. To us they have given the knowledge that free men will fight, and die, to preserve that freedom, not only for themselves but also for those who come after them.

To us, too, they leave the solemn duty of making certain that America will remain spiritually, economically and financially sound... truly a land of freedom and opportunity for little children, rich and poor, in a world at peace.

Think of those who fought and died—and then join with a generous heart and an open pocketbook in this last great Victory Loan. The money we lend will help to lay the groundwork of a finer, better America. It's our last great fight. Let's stand shoulder to shoulder till it's won.

Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E. F. & G. U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through Payroll Savings Plan.

OVERSEAS MEN TAKE COURSES IN PACIFIC U.

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (UP)—The navy announced recently that the "University of the Pacific" in the Central Pacific Ocean Area offers courses to 8,800 naval officers and enlisted men, the largest overseas educational program in the U. S. Navy.

There are 597 classes conducted in the Fourteenth Naval District, giving its personnel an opportunity to better their ratings and to prepare for a postwar vocation. A faculty of over 300 qualified teachers cover subjects ranging from mathematics, the sciences, economics, history, and art to business subjects, aviation, engineering, English, foreign languages, naval science and psychology. The "University" curriculum depends on the desires of the personnel and is limited only by the availability of text materials.

There are ten education service centers operating throughout the district, with the center at Pearl Harbor offering the most extensive program. Over 4,800 officers and men currently are enrolled here in 155 off-duty classes, meeting twice weekly for 90 minutes. Examinations are given at the end of each course and credit is usually granted by civilian educational institutions.

Believes Good Farm Prices Will Protect Economy

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Adequate prices for farm products is the best safeguard for assuring economically sound purchasing power among all groups, according to Nebraska's agricultural director, Rufus M. Howard.

Howard predicted the 1945 Nebraska farm income will reach the record of $650,000,000 averaged during war years. Prices probably will not decline during the next two years, he said, by which time Congress will guarantee costs on the basis of 90 per cent parity for 1946 and 1947.

Japan Spurs Art Production In A Bid For Export, Tourist Trade

KYOTO, Japan (UP)—While most of Japan was busy with the manufacturing of war goods, the nation's art workers continued to keep alive the nucleus of her luxury art industry.

Production of silks, brocades and other textiles was limited during the war, but Japan was careful to keep the techniques of these industries did not die. Now that she is returning to peacetime production, such industries are being encouraged by government and individuals to regain a position in export and tourist trade.

I visited the city the day before the American occupation forces entered and it was evident that the city is strengthening its efforts to regain its prewar popularity for native beauty and for its products.

Wartime restrictions on production of industrial art works have been relaxed by the Commerce and Industry Ministry. The ministry, in addition to this move, has indicated willingness to assist manufacturers in obtaining materials for their production. With key workers who have continued their trade during the war, it is expected that manpower soon will be poured into these industries to build up a backlog of merchandise for sale to occupation forces and export.

Within the next year, the Japan Industrial Art Works association has predicted that production of industrial art works in Japan will be increased several times that of the war period. Their goal for this year is 50,000,000 yen and officials expressed the view that the prewar level of export of 200,000,000 yen will be far surpassed in two or three years.

In addition to the manufacture of luxury art objects, Japan apparently is intent upon increasing her production of "souvenir" items to be sold at home and abroad. While supplies of the more expensive and more intricate works of lacquer, silk and silk garments are limited on the market, amazing stores of imitations and mass produced items have appeared on counters for souvenir hungry occupation forces.

Kyoto's merchants were given a two day holiday to prepare their stores for the first occupation forces—to obtain interpreters and prepare English signs as well as, presumably, to get their stocks in order. Police said the holiday was to prevent "confusion" and to avoid misunderstandings, among salespeople and occupation forces.

Not in Nara, a pre war tourist city, I found much evidence that merchants had saved pre war stocks or had obtained at least limited supplies of new stocks for sale. I walked through a shopping district with a group of Allied correspondents and military personnel one afternoon and by the next morning at least a dozen shops had opened their doors with larger displays in hopes of attracting business.

Here we saw boxes of miniature carvings, ivory chopsticks, dolls, hair ornaments and fans. Other stores featured lacquer ware—much of it apparently a wartime production lacking in the quality of prewar luxury export. While every serviceman in Japan probably is interested in buying a kimono, he is finding the task difficult and expensive. The slim wartime supplies are being exhausted and increased production will take some time to satisfy the demand.

In Tokyo, where stocks are much lower than such cities as Kyoto and Nara, merchants say that brooches are the most popular article being purchased. This is probably due to the lack of other suitable souvenirs, since the brooch is not among the typical articles of Japan. Servicemen are finding a shortage of souvenirs of the type associated with Japan. Until the nation's art industries get rolling, this condition will continue, and despite all plans for export, there will be some lack in time before Japan's art objects are on the foreign markets.

For over sixty-two years it has been our privilege to render a service to this community.

WHAT DOES A VICTORY BOND LOOK LIKE?

- A funny question? Well, maybe. A Victory Bond looks like a Victory Bond. Like these...
- But wait a minute! Hold those Bonds till maturity, when "E" Bonds will pay back four dollars for every three you've invested—and keep buying more Bonds—and they can look like this! Your home—all yours!
- Or this. That rolled-up scroll is a college diploma for your boy. His assurance of a good start in life—and the opportunity to make himself into the kind of man you want him to be!
- How about this? That man, able to take it easy in his mature years, can be your. Your Victory Bonds can add on to a sizable nest egg. They're the safest investment on earth! Hang on to them!

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson - Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (James 1:12). Denver Cowboys Lack Regalia Of Old Tradition

DENVER (UP)—Some folks when herding cattle in mountainous regions, wearing shaggy cowboys, colorful satin shirts, and toting a gun and yoke.

In Denver there are a group of men who watch after cattle, but they don't wear the traditional attire. They herd cattle in city fashion.

These "not-so-rugged" cowboys care for the cattle at the Denver stock yards. For them there's no battling blizzards or sleeping with the herds. When five o'clock rolls around they catch a streetcar or jump into their cars and drive home.

Most of the men have done their share of cowponching in the open spaces, but on the whole they'll take their present set-up—minus the glamor.

The brand inspector does have one of the usual characteristics. He carries ropes—and uses them. Often it's hard to see the entire brand until the animal is roped, and the overgrown hair sprouts away from the identifying mark.

FWAAF Fliers Prefer To Stay On The Ground

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP)—A spot check of A. F. enlisted men at Fort Worth Army Air Field reveals that few seem to have any desire to become postwar commercial fliers.

"I flew some 2,104 hours for Uncle Sam, but I'll keep my feet on the ground as far as commercial flying is concerned," said Tech Sgt. Allan W. Hicks, 28, an Eighth Air Force veteran.

"I've had enough," was the reaction of Staff Sgt. George W. Walker, 25, another Eighth Air Force veteran with 925 hours of combat flying after the war.

"Not to flying after the war," was the comment of Staff Sgt. Oscar L. Dodd, 26-year-old veteran of the Fifteenth Air Force with 550 hours of flying time. "I'm interested in a new automobile."

Staff Sgt. Joseph J. Boice, 27, veteran of the Pacific Theater, said he's going back to work for the "hickam post office" but "I'd like to fly if the post office gets planes."

The "trem" "lynch law" is believed to have originated when residents of Franklin County, N. C. hanged Major Lynch, a royal tax collector in 1767 after a summary trial.

The war had given their all—your Victory Loan purchases are a loan—at a profit.

Nebraska has 47 birdweed districts comprising 9,375,360 acres. Twenty-four of the state's 93 counties are under district organization 100 per cent.

Out Our Way

By J. K. Williams

How much does The Purple Heart cost?

It's not just the initial cost, you see. It's the upkeep.

It costs billions, first, to mobilize the sulfa, the morphine, the plasma that went to war... those ingredients of mercy that relaxed death's clutch on hundreds of thousands of wounded.

Your War Bonds helped provide them.

Now the army of the legless, the armless, the sightless is on the road back. They're one of war's bleakest heritages, and to a man they're our responsibility.

That's one reason our country is asking us—and for the last time!—to invest in extra Bonds. In Victory Bonds this time—not War Bonds.

Again it isn't a question of giving—but of lending. For your Victory Bonds will pay off exactly as your War Bonds will.

So buy extra Victory Bonds—and hold them!

Here's one of two men whose future should interest you

Yesterday, this fellow was an American fighting man.

Today, he's an ex-soldier—wondering what kind of a future he'll find in the country he fought for.

We've all agreed that his future interests us—that we have an obligation here. Loans, education, a chance for a decent job—they're not too much to give a man who had the toughest end of this war.

The way to discharge your obligation to this fellow is to buy extra Bonds in the Victory Loan. And the nice part of it is that, when you do this, you're taking care of another fellow's future, too.

You're making sure that you, yourself, will have a financial anchor to windward. You're putting your money to work, earning more money for you. You're making sure you'll have extra cash, in a few short years, for the things you want.

For the ex-soldier's sake, and for your own, buy all the Victory Bonds you can.

his 250,000 Godfathers no longer can!

Yes, he's a war baby, born after December 7, 1941, the date that will live in infamy. Since then some 250,000 American men have died that he might live and grow in a world of peace—that he may never have to take up arms to defend his country and his loved ones.

Our heroic dead have left us a legacy—and a trust. To us they have given the knowledge that free men will fight, and die, to preserve that freedom, not only for themselves but also for those who come after them.

To us, too, they leave the solemn duty of making certain that America will remain spiritually, economically and financially sound... truly a land of freedom and opportunity for little children, rich and poor, in a world at peace.

Think of those who fought and died—and then join with a generous heart and an open pocketbook in this last great Victory Loan.* The money we lend will help to lay the groundwork of a finer, better America. It's our last great fight. Let's stand shoulder to shoulder till it's won.

*Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E, F & G U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

The Victory Loan counts on individuals more than ever before!
HOW WAR BONDS GROW IN VALUE YEARLY

IT'S SURPRISING—how War Bonds grow in value each year. If held until maturity they earn 3 1/2 per cent and they have a yearly added value. The chart tells its own story for a $1000 Series E Bond. The scale to the left shows how a $1,000 Series E Bond grows. The chart shows that the increase in value is greatest in the later years of the bond's life. Note how the rate of interest goes up in the second three years of the bond's life. Study the increase in the $1,000 bond. Holders of bonds the last few years, considering the above, would literally be throwing money away to cash them prior to maturity. The New York Stock Exchange in the more than 150 years of its existence has never recommended other bonds than those of the United States.
