JAYCEES TO PROPOSE UNIT FOR RANGER

Wichita Falls, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Jimmy Partin, Jr., of San Angelo, regional president, a group of Abilene Jaycees will be in Ranger Wednesday night to discuss organization of a unit for the young business men of Ranger.

The meeting will be held at 8:00 o'clock in the Blue Room of the Chelton hotel and Price Crawley, who was contacted by the Abilene men, is urging that every young business man in Ranger make his plans to attend the meeting. Men between the ages of 21 and 35 are eligible for membership.

Dave L. Adams, secretary-treasurer of the Abilene unit, stated in a letter to Crawley that at least 15 or 20 officers and directors from Abilene and possibly a number of the lay members will be in Ranger for the meeting. Crawley is urging those interested to spread word about the meeting and hopes to have every young business man in Ranger at the meeting. Organization of a Ranger unit will be up to those attending but the visiting group will outline the work and plan of organization.

It was explained that work carried on by the Jaycees is of a civic nature and the Junior Chamber organization gives the younger business men of the community an opportunity to be of service to the town.

Ten benefits to members listed by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce include such items as service to the community, benefits from contacts with other young business men through the state and national organization, acceptance of responsibility, personal development through public appearance and work and social contacts through social activities program.

Pauley Asks For Return Hearing Before Committee

WASHINGTON (UP) — Edwin W. Pauley, broad-shouldered giant of the California oil fields, slugged his way today into another round of his apparently futile fight for confirmation as Navy undersecretary.

He arranged a return appearance before the Senate naval affairs committee after accusing his opponents of ignoring the "basic issues" of the six-week battle over his nomination. They have challenged the propriety of his oil dealings and the methods he used to collect democratic campaign contributions.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate naval affairs committee today called off a scheduled afternoon hearing on Edwin W. Pauley's nomination to be undersecretary of navy as democratic leaders sought a settlement of the controversy.

Sugar, Meat Coupon Black Market Exposed

NEW YORK (UP) — Huge black market operations in meat and sugar coupons were uncovered today as a federal grand jury indicted seven corporations and 245 individuals on charges of over-drawing their ration checking accounts.

The indictments charged that the defendants over-drew their accounts in the period between March 15, 1945, and V-J Day, August 16, by 75,000,000 red ration meat coupons, and sugar coupons worth 6,000,000,000 B-pounds of sugar.

CORDELL HULL URGES UNITY FOR BIG THREE

WASHINGTON (UP) — Cordell Hull, American elder statesman on foreign policy, sought today to pour oil on troubled Big Three waters.

But his frail voice, warning against "unspeakable disaster" if the Big Three can't get along, was all but drowned out by the tumult of Big Three denunciations of each other. Hull's statement was issued from his Wardman — Park hotel apartment where he leads a quiet life but follows international affairs almost as closely as when he was secretary of state. It was in sharp contrast to those of other Americans in the last two weeks. Others have directly or indirectly pointed the finger at Soviet Russia as the major culprit in the world's unsettled affairs.

INTENDED JAIL BREAK FOILED AT EASTLAND

A possible jail delivery was averted at the Eastland county jail Saturday when jailer Elton Reeves discovered that some of the inmates had hawkey blades and had been working to saw their way out of their cells.

From the jailer's living quarters on the ground floor of the jail, peculiar sounds were detected coming from the cell blocks on the upper floors. Jailer Reeves investigated and ascertained that the men, or at least some of them, were plotting to cut their way out with hawkeyes. When confronted by Reeves and told of their plot and the blades in their possession, the prisoners denied it, but thought better of it later and delivered the blade to him.

Thinks Goering Wished To Avoid World War II

NUERNBERG (UP) — Lord Halifax believes Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering would have prevented the second world war if he could have done so without cutting too deeply into Nazi policy, he said in an affidavit disclosed today by Goering's counsel.

An affidavit by Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, was prepared for submission to the war crimes tribunal. It dealt with pre-war contacts between Goering and Halifax at the Reichsmarshal's home and through Finger Dabberus, Swedish engineer.

Billy Ray Elder Enroute To Camp To Get Discharge

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elder have received word that their son, Billy Ray Elder, who has been serving with the Navy is enroute to Camp Wallace to receive his discharge.

They expect him in Ranger some time this week. He has been in the service of the Navy 34 months and was overseas 32 months of that time. His overseas service was in the Pacific.

TEXANS TAKING PART IN TESTS WITH CORK OAK

Completing their fourth year of cork oak tests in the state, officials of the Texas Forest Service, A&M College report that acorns and seedlings of this species have been planted by private cooperators in more than half of the counties of Texas.

In his report on the project, D. A. Anderson, head of the silvicultural research division, said that a fair distribution of the seedlings and acorns had been made in all regions of the state, with heaviest concentrations in east and central Texas.

A total of 16,650 cork oak seedlings and about 85,000 acorns were distributed to 965 cooperators in more than 150 counties this past winter, he said. Reports will be filed with the Texas Forest Service on the growth and survival of the trees.

The cork oak project was conducted in 22 southern states this winter and Texas cooperators planted twice as many acorns as any of the other states, Mr. Anderson noted.

Cork oak is not a native tree of the United States, but is the source of commercial cork used in many trades. It is being successfully grown in California and Georgia. The acorns planted in Texas came from the California trees.

School Forms Parents Board On Delinquency

OMAHA, Neb. (UP) — Juvenile delinquency is not a national problem and should be dealt with in the home, according to the Rev. Joseph Micek. A special parish board of parents has been formed by Father Micek to get at the roots of the trouble in his parish.

"Juvenile delinquency is not a national problem," according to the pastor, "but a problem for every parent, every family, and every neighborhood. Until the problem and its prevention are so localized, the national figures will remain high."

Proposes Board For Control Of Atomic Power

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate Atomic Energy Committee today tentatively approved a plan to vest broad atomic control powers in a military board.

The proposal sponsored by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., would make the program all-powerful in national defense phases of the atomic program.

MAN WANTED IN OKLA. HELD IN EASTLAND

A young man about 22 years old and whom officers said gave the name of Vernon R. Simpson, was picked up at Cisco late Friday by Cisco police at the request of Sheriff John Hart of Eastland who was acting on a request from Officers at Oklahoma City.

The man, who was accompanied by a young woman, was said by the officers to be wanted on charges having to do with several deals involving the sale of trailer houses. When it became known that the pair were being held at Eastland, officers from Wichita Falls and Dallas put in their appearance at Eastland and claimed the man as their prisoner. He employed counsel, however, and Monday was still being held in the County jail. An automobile that he had in his possession was released to the Oklahoma City officers who carried it away with them.

According to the officers the man stated that although he and the young woman with him had been passing themselves off as man and wife, they were not really married, but desired to get married here.

A. W. Jackson In States After Pacific Service

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Jackson have received word that their son, A. W. (Albert) Jackson, SM 2-c, has arrived in the states and expects to be sent soon to Camp Wallace for his discharge.

Jackson has just recently received a promotion. He entered the service September 15, 1943 and has been in the Pacific since June 1944.

DREAM COMES PART TRUE

LINDOLN, Neb. (UP) — A young Lincoln couple several years ago planned for a world cruise in 1943. They now report they made it, as far as Europe—clad in olive drab, and separately.

Fifty years of existence will be marked by the port of New Orleans in July.

CHARGE BEVIN WITH INCITING SUSPICION AND CAUSING ALARM

LONDON (UP) — Soviet Russia warned the United States and Britain today that the atom bomb would not sway it from making its frontiers secure and charged British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin with "inciting suspicion against the Soviet state, fanning alarm concerning alleged Soviet aggressions and organizing hostile blocs."

The warning was contained in a blistering article in the government newspaper, Izvestia, written by the noted Soviet Historian, Eugene Tarle.

Directed primarily against Winston Churchill's Fulton, Mo., speech the article bracketed Bevin with Churchill for the first time. It declared that the British foreign secretary "dances the same dance" as the former prime minister.

In an apparent reference to the Iranian situation, Izvestia charged Bevin with "encouraging hostile neighboring tribes on our southern border where is being created — indeed has already been created — a blind alley."

Cobb To Race Car On Salt Flats In '47

WENDOVER, Utah, (UP) — Racing Driver John R. Cobb, British holder of the world's land speed record, notified friends here that he would definitely race on the near-by Bonneville Salt Flats in 1947.

Cobb's new assault on the speed record will be made as part of the Utah Centennial Celebration. The busy London wool broker set the present record of 368.85 miles per hour in 1939.

BEARD GETS RESPIRE

FITCHBURG, Mass. (UP) — Although he resolved to shave off his long red beard as soon as he was discharged from the Army, Victor P. Gallant now says he'll keep it "because my mother likes it."

Gardiner General Hospital in Chicago is the only Army general hospital named after a woman.

Like Father - Like Son

Well...
Dunno,
But...

A goat shearing crew is at work in the Ranger area and fascinating it is to watch the mohair fly as the clippers vie with each other for speed.

The crew was working on the Hagaman ranch during the week end and great stacks of mohair were stacking up fast. The crew travels as a unit, complete with camping equipment and a chuck wagon, from which typical chuck wagon meals are served, including sourdough bread.

The shearers work with electric clippers, six of which are attached to the machine and in the space of only a few seconds the goats are caught, hind feet tied and stripped of their heavy coats. They take it very laconically, if goats can be said to be laconic. Anyway they don't object too much.

About the busiest person on the ranch was the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, John Leslie, who alternately was feeding baby goats from a nipples bottle and helping his father round up goats for the shearing.

Another Fish Story
W. B. Whitehead in his "This 'n' That" column in the Chico Review tells the story of two fishermen whose luck was poor. The first fisherman said "It's getting late and we haven't caught a fish."

"Well, let's let two more big ones get away and then go home," countered the second fisherman.

And a Paper to Be Published
Earnest F. Healy has outlined a typical week in his column in the Saint Jo Tribune. One wonders when he gets out his newspaper, but let him describe his week.

"Monday night was lodge night. Tuesday night the school board was called together to have pictures made for the high school annual, there was a special meeting of the fire department and the Feeders - Breeders Association held their first meeting in Saint Jo—all the same evening. Of course we couldn't attend them all. Wednesday the fire department was again in special session pertaining to the new fire engine delivered last week. The fire department calls were repeated Thursday, but let's go back to Wednesday. There was the Men's Luncheon Club and in the evening the Intra-City Council banquet was held. If it wasn't for making a living at the office we might do a better job of keeping up with these outside obligations. Now, where is that asparin jar?"

First of Ranger's war bride to arrive is Mrs. E. J. (Bob) Wisen who reached Ranger Sunday from her native Australia.

Mrs. Wisen made the voyage on the Mariposa along with 886 other brides and their babies. She describes the crossing as a wonderful trip with stops at Sarva in the Fiji Islands and at Honolulu.

At Los Angeles she stated that the Red Cross took them on a "wonderful" tour of the city and Hollywood, with transportation furnished by the Red Cross.

When they docked at San Francisco she stated that a ferry boat loaded with husbands of the brides went out to meet them. When she discovered that her husband, who unknown to her had been advised by the Red Cross not to meet her in San Francisco for several reasons, was not present, she said that she was "very disappointed and a little angry" but soon realized that the decision had been a wise one.

Mrs. Wisen met her in Big Spring Sunday, the first time he had seen her in 17 months. The pair were married in Sidney, Australia, October 4, 1944. They met through their duties, his as supply sergeant and hers as secretary.

SAM RUSSELL GIVES REASONS FOR RETIRING

The following statement has been received from Representative Sam Russell, relative to his announcement that he will not seek re-election to the office he now holds.

Dear Editor and Friends:
It has been my privilege to serve you in the National Congress for the last five years, during the most critical period in our Country's history since its foundation. It has been my heart's desire to render you the best service possible; and in doing so I have considered it a privilege and an honor to serve as your Representative in the greatest legislative body in the world.

As you know, the Congress has been in almost continuous session since I was elected as your representative which has required my constant and almost complete attention and presence. Also, you know that climatic conditions in this area are not as conducive to good health and well-being as in West Texas. As a result of these conditions, I feel that it is to my best interest, and to the interest of you whom I represent, that I not be a candidate for re-election. Therefore, I shall not be a candidate for re-election, and shall retire at the end of this year.

You have my sincerest thanks for your cooperation during the trying times I have served you. Your welfare, as well as my Country's welfare, has been the uppermost thought within my breast. I appreciate more than I can express to you in words the kindness you have shown me on all occasions. It shall be my duty and pleasure to cooperate with and assist any person you see fit to elect as your National Representative, and I shall always co-operate with you in maintaining our Constitutional system of Government which has meant so much to our people and which means so much to our future, provided it is preserved and maintained.

If I have made mistakes, I assure you now they have been of the head and not the heart as my Country's welfare has been my sole and sincere consideration. With thanks again to all of you for the honor you have bestowed upon me, for the kindness you have shown, and the cooperation you have so graciously given me during my tenure of service, I am, Your obedient servant,
Sam M. Russell

SENATOR ASKS FREQUENT BIG MEETINGS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Chairman Tom Connally, D. Tex., of the Senate foreign relations committee called today for possible big three or big five meetings to smooth international frictions before they jeopardize peace.

In a report to the Senate on the first UNO meeting, at which he was a U. S. delegate, Connally also called on Russia to avoid "acts that tend to provoke war."

Declaring that Russia can have both peace and security if she co-operates with the United Nations, Connally added —

"We fought the war together. We must maintain the peace together."
Concerning the big three or big five meetings, Connally said —

"It seems to me that the heads of state or the foreign ministers of the Big Three or Big Five might meet with considerable advantage to the cause of peace at stated intervals or appropriate times to discuss mutual problems."

BY PERSONS UNKNOWN

The Congressional Investigating Committee has completed its three-month inquiry into what happened at Pearl Harbor. It has taken some 4,500,000 words of testimony, accumulated some 20 pounds of exhibits. The net result seems to be utter confusion.

There will be a majority report that probably will clear the Administration of all blame. There will be a minority report that probably will place much blame in and near the White House.

Upon only one thing can an agreement be anticipated. Presumably both sides will concede that somebody blundered. Without partisanship or prejudice, solely on the committee's record, an objective analyst might well paraphrase the well-known coroner's jury verdict and say that "the American Navy was left to its death by a person or persons to us unknown."

The inquiry has been a disappointment. That is not merely because it did not find a scoundrel or even an acceptable goat. So many made such human mistakes, apparently, that even ultimate history may have trouble reaching categorical conclusions. What is hardest to forgive is the atmosphere of cheap partisanship in which the committee functioned from beginning to end.

To one who is at all familiar with political and propaganda methodologies, it was apparent throughout that each party had entered the inquiry with a bill of goods to be sold. Instead of seeking honestly to find out how our fleet came to be surprised and almost annihilated, so that we might guard against any repetition, each side spent its time trying to find or twist evidence to support its preconceptions.

If anybody yet has produced a conclusion that may hope to stand the test of time, perhaps it was Lt. Col. George W. Bicknell, who was General Short's assistant chief of intelligence, who said:

"I feel that we might expect another Pearl Harbor unless we can develop an intelligence service that is coordinated and efficient and made available to all agencies through one central point."

To which he added what seems a very fair summary of the 150,000-page hearings:

"It was not a question of personnel. It was the system that was wrong."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—With congressional elections now less than nine months away, politics is becoming a little more usual, and that explains much of the spring mud now being thrown around Washington.

If you're looking for bigger and better confusion about the issues, one of the more painless ways of keeping up is to read at the same sitting the monthly tabloid newspapers of the two principal political parties.

If you want the low-down on the Democrats, read "The Republican News," William C. Murphy, Jr., editor. If you want to know what's wrong with Republicanism, read "The Democrat." Sam O'Neal, editor. These two men are publicity chairmen for their respective parties. Both are experienced Washington correspondents and know their way around. Murphy was chief of bureau for the Philadelphia Inquirer, O'Neal for the Chicago Sun.

Both have been president of the National Press Club. They are good friends, personally, so what they say about the other's politics must all be in fun. For instance, the names of oil man Ed Pauley and insurance man George Allen aren't mentioned at all in "The Democrat," which you would normally expect to find bragging about its great leaders. It's to "The Democrat," however, that you have to turn to read all about Republican oil man Joe Few and steel man Ernest T. Weir.

In "The Republican News," Pauley is referred to lovingly as "Oily Ed" and Allen is "Jolly George, Truman's court jester." In "The Democrat," Weir is praised as "a labor-baiting steel magnate and leavy sugar daddy of the G. O. P." This pretty exchange of compliments merely shows us what a high plane U. S. politics is conducted. Front page space is given in "The Republican News" to all the Lincoln Day banquets while "The Democrat" heralds President Truman's forthcoming Jackson Day dinner speech on March 23. Abe Lincoln and Andy Jackson are of course the leading candidates for election in November. At least a lot of the money to finance the campaigns is raised at their birthday anniversary frolics.

INFLATION comes in for a big play in both sheets, but, oh, with what different emphasis. According to "The Democrat" the administration's program will protect the public from runaway inflation and keep prices under "reasonable" control. According to "The Republican News," it's the "C. I. O.-Truman Inflation Plan" which is setting the stage for higher prices.

Both papers have religious corners, and seem to endorse prayer through cartoons. In "The Republican News," the Democratic donkey is shown kneeling at his bed praying, "What'll I do? Harry's just spilled the budget!" In "The Democrat," it's the Republican elephant that is shown praying, "Oh, Lord, tell me what those Democrats have that I haven't got."

That Would Be Different, Wouldn't It?

Q's and A's

Q—Which are greater, federal, state, or local taxes?
A—Figures for 1941 show $7,818,000,000 federal, $4,606,000,000 local, $4,449,000,000 state taxes. Federal taxes have risen enormously since.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

THAT WIN Harridge, next card, all right. Putting on his dearest deadpan expression, the frozen-faced president of the American League, who's been out-bustering Buster Keston for years, emits the following gem of erudite logic explaining why the Yankees and White Sox raised admission prices.

Neither club had the slightest intention of increasing profits. They only did it to make the change come out even.

Last year box seats were $2.40. Now they're $2.50. Grandstand seats were $1.20, so Larry MacPhail tucked on a nickel, so the purchaser can hand the bucks office man a dollar and a quarter and have the correct change, or $2 and not have to handle a mess of chicken feed in return.

"I am sure," says the American League savant, "that there are more fans who would just as soon pay a little more and get into the park quickly than there are those who would rather wait under congested circumstances at ticket booths."

So, you see, the prices are hoisted only for the public's convenience. Mr. Harridge wouldn't want the New York and Chicago clubs misunderstood.

Although he abhors race tracks, like all tried and true Judge Landis men, Mr. Harridge takes a leaf from their book "protecting" the paying guests from small change. Because they don't want the rank suckers bothered by pennies, the tracks annually split millions in breakage with the states. It's mighty good business when you get away with it.

STAR SEARCHER FIDDLER WANTS TRIP TO MOON

SANTA MONICA, Cal. (UP)—When and if the first atomic-powered rocket ship takes off for the moon, violin teacher Millard Williams wants to go along.

He would like to get firsthand proof for his theory that the moon once had air, water and life. Williams fiddles by day but star gazes at night. Through three long telescopes, mounted on the lawn of his home, he has been studying the solar system for 15 years.

"I've got proof of life on the moon," he said, "but most astronomers won't believe the moon had oceans and rivers in ancient times until they get up there and pick up a sea shell."

Now that scientists have contacted the moon by radar, Williams believes the next step will be a lunar expedition. He said scientists will find a soundless, dustless, odorless and lifeless world. They'll also discover what caused the "face" of the "man in the moon."

Williams interprets these evidences of erosion as great gray plains that once were seas and lakes. Many astronomers consider them the result of crashing meteors.

William said many authorities

SCHOOL TESTS ALUMINUM FOR SILICOSIS

DENVER, Col. (UP)—Fighting dust with dust may prove to be the cure for the dread silicosis disease, according to researchers at the University of Colorado School of Medicine. The school is attempting to relieve sufferers of silicosis by having them breathe air filled with aluminum dust.

Silicosis is a lung disease caused by breathing air contaminated by rock dust containing silica. Research indicates that the aluminum dust treatment relieves the symptoms of the disease although it may not cure it. University doctors say that more research will be necessary before they can be certain that the treatment has any definite curative or preventive effects.

Each day at Colorado General Hospital in Denver a group of men suffering from the disease lined up at the breathing valves along the side of a big dust box and for 20 minutes they breathe air filled with aluminum dust. The treatment must continue for 2 or 3 weeks and sometimes months to be effective.

X-ray pictures show that the treatment does not change the lungs, but the tiny aluminum dust particles coat the silica particles and prevent them from further damaging lung tissue.

After taking the treatment, sufferers of the disease can breathe more easily and are able to take moderate amounts of exercise.

Aluminum dusting treatment for silicosis was developed originally in Canada, but the dusting chamber used at Colorado General Hospital is an improved design by the Division of Industrial Hygiene of the Medical School.

The violin teacher predicted that the earth, like the moon, some day may lose its air and water by gravitational pull — unless science comes to the rescue. He also forecasts the moon may lose speed and come so close to the earth that it will explode. Then, he said, it would dress up our planet with a shimmering halo.

ERIE, Pa. (UP)—Sammy Kurtz, who lost his legs through enemy action in a prelude to World War II, fully intended to pay for the 1946 car he owns. But his grateful townsmen wouldn't let him.

Kurtz reported to the motor company recently with the money in his pocket for his new car, but the salesman wouldn't take it. A dozen Erie men, who preferred to remain anonymous, had pitched in to supply the Erie hero with the car.

A chief torpedoman, Kurtz still is stationed at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia, undergoing additional treatment to the stumps of the legs he lost.

He was injured when his destroyer, the famed and ill-fated Kearny, was torpedoed by a Nazi submarine 350 miles off the coast of Ireland in Oct. 17, 1941, almost two months before Pearl Harbor.

The Grin that Won a War

DON'T LET HIM LOSE IT NOW!

HE WENT INTO BATTLE with a smile and a wise crack... he took all the enemy could throw at him, and suffered in silence when wounded.

We can't let him lose that spirit now. During the endless months of impatient waiting to come home... during the monotonous tour of duty in the armies of occupation... or the long weeks of convalescing... that is when thoughts may weigh heavily on his mind.

We at home helped him keep his chin up. When he's back, proudly wearing the little gold eagle, emblem of an honorable discharge... will that grin fade? Will that happy-go-lucky smile change to bitterness as he tries to adapt himself to civilian life? The grin that won a global war can win a private one and the Red Cross stands ready to help wherever need for its counsel and guidance exists.

Through the long, grueling years of war the Red Cross reached across the sea and extended a friendly hand to our fighting forces... and those returning home can find in every local chapter the same spirit of helpfulness.
