IMPROVEMENTS IN RURAL RADIO STUDIED BY FCC

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two agencies of the federal government are studying proposals that would provide increased and more suitable radio service to the Nation's rural listeners.

The Federal Communications Commission is considering a recommendation that radio stations serving rural areas be given greater transmitting power in order to reach a larger audience and provide clearer reception.

The Department of Agriculture in a report to the FCC said radio stations broadcasting to rural audiences should take into consideration the "likes and dislikes" of farmers in planning their daily program.

Both agencies were in agreement that there are large areas within the country which are not receiving an adequate number of radio signals nor programs suitable to the particular interests of the rural audience.

A recommendation that the FCC "consider ways to improve" rural radio service was made by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"The nation's farmers," O'Neal told the FCC, "probably more than any other large group are dependent upon radio for news having vital bearing upon their business."

However, he said, farmers "generally are of the opinion that the people in the large centers of population have had the favored treatment with respect to radio service."

"I believe," O'Neal continued, "that the Federal Communications Commission should consider ways to improve the radio service in the country's remote areas."

"It is my impression," he said, "that the use of higher power could be a great help."

O'Neal said that the nation's farmers also opposed plans to decrease the number of clear channels or long-wave radio stations, "the ones which are most appreciated by the farm audience."

grams such as comedians and popular singers.

Based on recommendations on a survey of rural listening habits and selections, the Department said only a small percentage of farm listeners cared for "soap operas," classical music, brass bands or dramatic plays.

The report also said that rural women listen to their radios more than rural men, that young women listen more than older ones and that reading a daily newspaper has no influence on radio listening.

The O'Neal and Department of Agriculture reports are two of a larger number that have been presented to the FCC regarding radio services to rural listeners. Similar suggestions were included in many of the others.

Study by the commission of the reports is expected to require several months after which it will announce what action it plans to take to assure farmers of increased and improved radio service.

Rotary Club Meeting Held On Wednesday

The Rotary Club meeting was held Wednesday at noon at the Gibson Hotel. Dr. G. C. Boswell presided at the meeting and recounted some of the experiences of the District meeting held in Amarillo, from which he just returned.

Rotarian Crouch was in charge of the program and presented two young women who gave an entertaining musical performance. Miss Glyn Castleberry sang several songs and was accompanied on the piano by Miss Gladstone Womack, both of Eastland.

Visitors at Wednesday's meeting were Bob Smith a former Ranger resident and T. D. Rice, a new resident in the city.

Housing Pinch Hits Church

CUMBERLAND HILL R. 1. — It stood for more than a century, the Baptist church here, as a place of worship for Cumberland Hill residents. Now the housing ridge is the last straw. The church is being converted into apartments and it won't be long now before the tenants move in.

NAVAL RESERVE RECRUITING PLAN OUTLINED

M. N. Fulgham, C. D. T., of the U. S. Navy recruiting office in Abilene was in Ranger Wednesday and stated that he will be in Ranger every Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock to interview prospective recruits. His headquarters will be at the Ranger postoffice.

While here Fulgham explained that greatly expanded program for recruiting Naval reserves has been outlined by the Navy and is open to men who have been discharged from the service of the Navy.

Following is the outline of the Naval reserve recruiting program: Peacetime U. S. Navy Reserves:

1. Word has just been received from the Navy Department that more than a million men are needed for the Naval reserve (inactive).
2. The new Naval reserve, will consist of a ready reserve to be maintained in a high state of training and available for immediate mobilization, and a study reserve to receive such training as can be accomplished on a voluntary basis.
3. The ready reserve and stand-by reserve, both of which will include air, surface and specialist components, will constitute 80% of the total of the U. S. Naval reserve forces.
4. Under the plans that have now been outlined, the ready reserve will have a maximum strength of 10,575 officers and 186,000 men. No limit will be placed on the size of the standby reserve.
5. Men discharged from the Naval service as USNR or USN-1 may enlist in the new reserve in the rating in which discharged and thus keep in contact with shipmates and the Navy.
6. The U. S. Navy recruiting office located at the Post Office building, in Abilene, Texas will gladly furnish full information to interested persons.

Predicts Nation To Have Balanced Budget In 1947

RALEIGH, N. C. (UP) — Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the House ways and means committee, today predicted a balanced budget for the nation in 1947 and a continued reduction in taxes "just as rapidly as possible."

Doughton, keynote speaker at North Carolina Democratic State Convention here, said that last year 12,000,000 low-income Americans were removed from federal tax rolls and rates were reduced on all individuals.

Truman, Roberts In Conference

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman invited former Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts to a White House conference today, presumably to discuss pending Supreme Court appointments.

Roberts resigned from the court last June.

The former justice spent about 20 minutes with the president, but would say nothing about his conference as he left the White House. To all questions, he replied, "No comment."

LIVER COMES HIGH

PLYMOUTH, Ind. (UP) — Glen Hooker, Argos, said he appreciated the thoughtfulness of the thief who took $10 worth of groceries from his automobile and left a package of liver in exchange, but that he thought the rate of exchange was a trifle high.

The world's best driver can wreck an unsafe car. Check your car for safety — lights, tires, brakes, windshield wiper, horn. One minor part may cause a major accident. Be sure your brakes are good to the last stop. — National Safety Council.

MRS. BROWN DIES; FUNERAL TO BE FRIDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Henrietta Elizabeth Brown of 334 N. Antonio will be conducted at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Morris Funeral Chapel in Ranger. Rev. David C. Ham, assisted by Rev. Wallace N. Dunson, will officiate. Interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Brown who had just arrived in Ranger with her daughter, Mrs. H. Elizabeth Bennett, died Wednesday May 1, in a Ranger hotel. She had been in poor health for a number of years.

A native of Mississippi, Mrs. Brown was born May 10, 1864 at Meridian and following the Civil War came to Texas with her family, settling in Cameron County. She was a member of the University Baptist church in Austin, and had been making her home in San Antonio with her daughter.

Survivors are the daughter, Mrs. Bennett, and two sons, Calvin Brown of Ranger and William G. Brown of Dallas; the following grandchildren, Raymond E. Brown Sgt. William H. Brown, Mrs. Roy Plumley all of Ranger, Mrs. Kenneth Ambrose of Big Spring, Calvin Earl Brown of Sherman, Robert Edward Brown of Memphis Tennessee, and Lt. Comdr. G. W. Brown, stationed in Guam. Nine great grandchildren also survive.

Honorary pallbearers will be R. A. Stehr of Dallas, H. A. Pagenkopf of San Antonio, James A. Fowler of Georgetown, Colonel Wesley Peacock of San Antonio, John H. Wright of Dallas, O. C. Needham of Ft. Worth and Dr. John Donovan of Austin.

Sailors Attend School Waiting For Atom Test

PEARL HARBOR, T. H. (UP) — The six-week postponement of the Bikini atom bomb tests is being utilized by hundreds of sailors whose ships were assigned to the project as a chance to improve their education in the Navy Pacific University.

The sailors are taking time out from preparations for the great experiment in nuclear physics to study such less glamorous subjects as typing, shorthand, auto-mechanics, English and American history.

The Navy has had to enlarge its teaching staff to handle the increased enrollment since President Truman announced postponement of the tests to July 1.

Matched Clubs To Go Into Mass Production

CINCINNATI (UP) — Golfers no longer need to tear out their hair when they wrap their pet niblick around a tree after scuffling six in a row—they can get one exactly like it.

A new machine built by the Cincinnati Milling Machine Co., for McGregor, Golf, Inc., turns out 15,000 matched irons a week — each one precisely like the rest.

The machine is technically known as a "broach," and was purchased on the advice of golfing star Byron Nelson, adviser to the company.

The 58-ton machine makes mass production of golf clubs on a precision basis possible for the first time. Although McGregor officials haven't said so, it probably will mean lower-priced clubs.

It will be installed in the firm's plant in Cincinnati, recently moved from Dayton, O.

Rangers Called To Strike-Bound Ft. Worth Plant

FORT WORTH (UP) — State rangers were called in to maintain order at Fort Worth at the strike-bound Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Company after telephone lines to the huge plant were disconnected four times in the last 56 hours.

BRECKENRIDGE PREPARES FOR LIONS MEET

BRECKENRIDGE, May 1 — Beginning late Saturday and reaching top crest Monday Breckenridge will be flooded with visitors this weekend in the greatest number of delegates seen here in years.

They will be present for the Lions district convention. D. T. Bowles, found in conference this morning working out final details said there will be between 450 and 500 attending the events planned, so many of those in charge are having a hard time planning to accommodate all.

First on the program will be a golf tournament next Sunday afternoon, the convention meeting to open at the City Hall Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Politics of the meeting will reach the boiling point Monday noon when luncheon programs will be furnished at the YMCA by the two towns offering candidates for district governor.

Reverie is offering Gracey and Ammons of Ft. Worth. Because of the size of the luncheon room upstairs most delegates will have to attend the Vernon program which will be in the YMCA gymnasium.

Election of officers and the matter of the next meeting place will come up Monday afternoon. Eugene Thompson, chairman of the housing committee, is asking that local home owners to agree to take two guests Sunday night.

At last report he needed rooms for 158, all hotel accommodations already having been taken. The convention will be climaxed by the governor's banquet Monday evening at the YMCA.

Hey, Detectives, Maybe A Dentist Can Help You

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — A dentist can tell by looking at your teeth what part of the country you live in.

At any rate, doctors who attended the 66th annual convention of the Texas State Dental Society agreed the condition of a man's molars were the best clue.

Decayed or missing teeth, they said, usually identify persons who live in highly industrialized areas, such as the northeast. Persons from the middle west or south, where minerals in the soil have not been depleted, usually have sound teeth, the dentist said.

Bob Feller Pitches No-Hit No-Run Game

CLEVELAND (UP) — Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' speedball artist who hurled a no-hit no-run game against the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium in New York City, rubs his fingers through the hair of his battery mate, catcher Frankie Hayes, who not only caught Feller perfectly, but also smacked a 9th inning home run to give the Indians a 1-0 victory. (NEA Telephoto).

BIG FOUR HIT ANOTHER SNAG OVER ITALY

PARIS (UP) — The Big Four foreign secretaries today ran into another deadlock — this time on the question of the Italian war criminals — and decided to simplify procedure in an effort to facilitate its business.

Members of the council frankly admitted that they were bogged down in disagreement and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was said to have told his colleagues that "we are getting no place."

Byrnes told the ministers the United States was willing to try any sort of procedure to break the deadlock.

One agreement was reached today on the disposition of the tiny Italian islands of Pelagos, a 500 island group in the Adriatic which Yugoslavia claimed.

The ministers agreed to give Pelagos to Yugoslavia with a provision for Italian fishing rights. Italy was allowed to retain Pianosa with a bar against fortifying it.

ARABS READY TO DEFEND THEIR RIGHTS

JERUSALEM (UP) — The Arab higher committee warned the British government today, a day after the Anglo-American commission recommended admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine, that the Arabs will defend themselves by every means against any encroachment on their rights.

An Arab warning of defense to the limit "pending a decision by the Arabs on organizing their forces to resume the national struggle" was given in a letter to Prime Minister Clement Attlee through the Palestine higher commission.

The warning came on the heels of an Arab higher committee adoption of a resolution to organize civil disobedience and mobilize Arab youth "for emergency service."

The "four-eyed fish" of Central and South America has eyes which are divided into two parts by a black horizontal band. The upper part of the eye is used for vision in air and the lower part for vision in water.

MINE STRIKE FORCES MORE INDUSTRIES TO SHUT DOWN

NEGOTIATIONS to prevent a threatened nation-wide railroad strike, broke down today as the United Mineworkers strike forced additional shutdowns and curtailments in industries running short of coal.

In another important labor development, the Briggs Manufacturing Company closed a Detroit auto body plant in a dispute with the United Automobile Workers Union — CIO.

A Chrysler Corporation spokesman said the Briggs shutdown would force closing down of the Plymouth division's final assembly line and its sheet metal and paint shops, idling 2,500 workers.

Violence occurred in two California strikes. Two aircraft machinists lodge pickets were injured during a brief skirmish between strikers and plant police at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. San Diego. Fleet fighting broke out at the Libby, McNeil and Libby plant at Sacramento when CIO pickets replicated an attempt by AFL workers to break through their picket lines.

The railroad negotiations, at Chicago, were terminated when representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Engineers walked out of a conference with railway management heads.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen, said the brotherhood would not meet with management again "unless the railroads make an offer and come to us."

Says Merger Would Strip Navy Of Authority

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of Navy James Forrestal told the Senate naval affairs committee that the top Navy post would be stripped of authority under President Truman's plan for merger of armed forces if it was revealed today.

Forrestal testified in secret before the committee yesterday. His prepared statement was made public.

It was learned today, however, that Forrestal was asked what functions the secretary of Navy would have under the plan. He replied that the secretary would be a "zero." He added that he couldn't conceive of any man who valued his time "taking the job."

Livestock Leader Predicts Severe Meat Shortage

WASHINGTON (UP) — A representative of Western Livestock Feeders today predicted the "worst meat shortage of any time in American history" would occur this summer.

Mark W. Pickett of Naperville, Ill., secretary of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders Association, said the only thing that can prevent the shortage is for the government to assure cattlemen it will remove price ceilings on meat and meat subsidies.

Mr. Pickett, mentioned in the above United Press story is a brother of Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin of Ranger and formerly of Eastland.

There are more than 50 species of oak trees in Texas.

There seems to be two schools of opinion on the matter of the 6:00 p. m. closing hour for stores in Ranger and since the publication of Wednesday's Times comments have been fluent both by telephone and by mail.

There are those who think that if the man who wants the people to know and signs his correspondence "from you know who" should register his objections in a different manner. They say that if he is an active member and a member in good standing of the organization which set the hour, that he should have been at the meeting when the action was taken and registered his complaint there.

It is the opinion of this school that it is bad business to lock the barn after the horses have escaped. Then in the mail came a reply to "Mr. From You Know Who", reflecting an entirely different tone as follows:

A new DO YOU KNOW?
Do you know that the 5 o'clock closing was instituted by the idle rich golf players? In other words the golf players are running the Retail Merchants Association. Or to express it another way, the poor working man who goes to work at 8 o'clock in the morning, before the stores open, and works until 5 in the evening, will be compelled to go to other towns to do his shopping. It all adds up that the working man must yield to the golf players. Did you know this?

Yours truly,
A new DO YOU KNOW?

It truly wasn't our intention to turn the "Personals" column of the Wednesday's Times into a missing persons bureau, but through another of those slips of the press, that's what happened.

Marjorie Maddocks is trying to locate a person by the name of Anna McFall and placed a classified ad in the Times to that effect. Through error the composing crew got the ad in the personals.

We can't decide whether the state editor of the Fort Worth Press is plugging for us or digging us. Each time he quotes us there's a note of sarcasm in his comments, but he usually ends by getting around to our side.

This morning's Press contained the following in the editor's column:

"Editor Ruth Ducker of the Ranger Times, has this complaint: 'Here's the way a story was headed in a neighboring paper: Ranger Plans to bring in rodeo and expel rats.'"

"Ah, Editor Ducker, there is nothing like publicity. Even if Ranger expels rats, and of course, there are rats everywhere, it would mean a cleanup, yes, that's a good word. Cleanup the towns and cities of rats, but don't expel 'em. They might go to the next town."

If it's true that publicity is as important as Editor Clements thinks, the boy is really doing Ranger a big favor. Thank you, sir.

Work has started on the Ranger Round-Up grounds. A bulldozer was at work this morning clearing and leveling the grounds. The boys are really in earnest about their get project.

Mary Young's Beauty Shoppe is among the many business places in Ranger making changes of location and redecorating buildings.

The beauty shoppe has been moved to 324 Main street and into a building bright with a new coat of paint. The shop has been rearranged with new fixtures added and is as bright as a new dollar.

Do You Know?

That there is an unusual surface fault a short distance west of Eastland? Its oddity lies in the fact that the trend of the fault is parallel to the strike of the formation rather than in the direction of the dip.

POLITICS AND OPA

The stormy history of the OPA has come to a climax with a bill in the House of Representatives which, while it ostensibly extends OPA's life, actually prepares to destroy it.

OPA, dealing with vital matters which affect people's lives, livelihoods, and voting habits, could not fail to be conscious of pressure, in and out of government.

A fair appraisal of OPA's record can scarcely fail to turn up instances where the numerically minor group of industrialists has been squeezed harder than the millions who gain their living from agriculture and labor.

On the other hand, some manufacturers have blamed OPA for everything, meanwhile using their protestations as a cloak for some reprehensible practices.

As the quarrel between OPA and industry has gone on, the public has been subjected to exchanges of invective usually reserved for campaign speeches.

At times there has seemed to be a complete absence of good will on either side. Both industry and OPA leaders have spent altogether too much time in justifying their own positions, glossing over and ignoring their own mistakes.

We have heard too much about OPA's deep plot to destroy private enterprise and the profit system, and to drive their champions out of business.

Of course OPA has been unfair at times. Of course some industrialists have taken advantage of OPA legally, or defied it illegally. But few will say that we do not need intelligent price control in the present crisis.

The House bill just passed invites prices rises, wage rises, more bitterness, more strikes. And it comes at a time when inflation has already started.

It is right now that inflation must be beaten. There must first be some sane, sensible, non-partisan legislative repair work on OPA. That job is up to the Senate.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Long-range political prospects put Truman as Democratic candidate for re-election in 1948, with Henry Wallace as his running mate.

Wallace is regarded by his associates as "the healthiest man for his age in the country." He walks three miles to work every morning, and does it in 40 minutes.

On American Mercury Magazine's "Meet the Press" program, former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota was asked, "If you were President today, what would you do that isn't being done now?"

The Army estimates it will be down to its last 100,000 draftee fathers by July 1. It can't discharge fathers faster, unless it upsets the entire point system for priority discharges.

The Aluminum Company of America, now that it has been reduced from its "monopoly" to control over a mere 48 per cent of the industry, as a result of the sale of government-owned plants to Reynolds Metals and Kaiser, will ask for dismissal of the government's anti-trust suit that has been hanging over Alcoa's head for years.

For every cent per pound that raw cotton goes up, $45,000,000 has to be added to the nation's cotton goods and clothing bills.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAY, NEA Sports Editor

MICKEY OWEN jumped to the Mexican League reluctantly, it is revealed, when Branch Rickey told him that the major league club obtaining his contract would have to assume the debt that the Owens owed the Pasquel brothers in the way of bonuses.

Don Jorge Pasquel gave Mrs. Owens $7500 and a diamond ring in addition to the catcher's $12,500 for signing a five-year contract at $15,000 a year, according to an official of the Brooklyn club.

The sad part of it was, says this official, "that following Mickey's service in the Navy the Owens spent the bulk of the money advanced—as income tax and whatnot."

YET—from the standpoint of the interests of all major league owners—President Rickey for the second time bungled a Mexican situation. He mishandled the Luis Olmo case from the outset.

As would have paid big league magnates to straighten out the Owens' mess.

A satisfied athlete of Owen's stature would very definitely give the Mexican League a leg to stand on in making offers to disgruntled major leaguers. If the man from Missouri likes it, down yonder, he'll be a living invitation to others, and stars asking for more will yield a club over the moguls' heads and the Pasquel brothers' ire of spending money or are shen into the fold.

As was pointed out, when a hesitant Owens stood swaying on the order, National League owners would be written together and

Housing Shortage Has Lisbon Worried

LISBON (UP)—Lisbon is faced with a serious housing shortage which has become a major problem for the government.

People who live in low-rental dwellings have been affected more than others. The shortage is due to the influx of persons from the country and the demolition of old houses, as the preliminary step of a modernization program.

Thousands of families are sharing living quarters. Rents have risen sharply. Many houses are being rented for $40 to $100 and more a month, which is more than many middle-class workers are paid a month.

LEGAL DRAW-POKER CLUBS LIGHT UP TOWN'S MAIN STREET

GARDENA, Cal. (UP) — Swank "card rooms" that rival the palatial gambling casinos of Reno and Las Vegas pay most of the municipal taxes in this quite little town.

Their neon signs lighting up the main street like the Great White Way, the draw-poker palaces are legally operated under a State Supreme Court decision handed down June 27, 1935, and are licensed by the city.

Only draw poker is played at the elaborate establishments. Players pit their skill against each other. House operators merely furnish the necessary equipment and a pleasant meeting place for people who want to gamble.

The "house take" is limited to a small fee, averaging about 50 cents a person an hour, which is collected by pretty "chip girls" who arrange games between players who want to gamble for about the same limit.

Women incidentally comprise most of the six clubs' clientele, though the games are strictly of the ho-man variety. Limits are as low as $1, but pots often total thousands.

So long as the house does not bank the game or take a percentage of the money played, everything is within the law.

The California anti-gambling statute prohibits any "faro, monte, roulette, lanquet, rouge-et-noir, rondo, ran, fan-tan, stud-horse, p o k e r, seven-and-a-half, 21 hokey-poker, or any banking or percentage game."

Most cities and many towns have outlawed other gambling games, such as draw poker, by local ordinance. Farming towns usually permit "friendly" card games in the back rooms of pool halls.

Gardena has welcomed the draw-poker emporiums, and uses the big annual revenue from them to keep local taxes down and still have desired civic improvements.

Whether the benefits outweigh the evils attendant the city's principal industry is a matter of major dispute within the town itself.

"The low tax rate and other enjoyments made possible by the revenue from the card clubs are a decided advantage to the small home-owner," claimed Patrick Maclebbell, secretary-manager of the Gardena Valley Chamber of Commerce, in pointing out that the city's population has doubled in the past four years.

"We're going to close these places out," countered Dr. David Lee Mounts, pastor of the Methodist Church. "In our churches and schools we teach the principles of an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. And yet six draw-poker concerns are sipping the main part of our taxes."

"Income from the card rooms made it possible for Gardena to have the most modern equipment and efficient police and fire departments in the state, and provide playground facilities which the city could not otherwise afford," Lewis T. Guild, Jr., secretary-manager of the Gardena Taxpayers' Protective Assn., declared.

Home-owner Franklin Stewart said, "They're holding back good people from here."

Police Chief Elmo W. Field, who claimed to be neutral, pointed out that Gardena's juvenile delinquency is the lowest of any city of its size in the United States.

"It draws other vices with it," according to the Rev. S. M. Sidath.

Draw poker is not gambling, any way, Frank Irvin, operator of one of the clubs contended. "It's a game of skill and not of chance," he said.

400 Nebraskans Set For Annual Square Dances

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — In the spring in Lincoln, fancies generally turn to thoughts of square dancing and the annual festival scheduled for May 11, believed to be the only one of its kind in the country.

At least 400 local dancers, as well as enthusiasts from near-by towns, are expected to join in the fun this year. The celebration will be held on the largest floor in the city, the Nebraska University coliseum, but sponsors have warned spirited participants to shorten their steps and not prance beyond their allotted squares.

Seized by Titt

General Draja Mihailovitch, above, one-time Yugoslav national hero as a guerrilla leader during the early years of World War II, has been arrested by the Yugoslav army as a traitor. He was found hiding in a cave with 11 followers. He will be tried for allegedly collaborating with German occupation forces against Tito's Partisan armies.

are Lincoln men. Most of them were reared in the folk dance tradition and learned the intricate calls from their fathers. This year, they have increased the strain on their vocal cords by giving singing calls, such as the popular "Buffalo Gal."

The seven-piece orchestra also is a city aggregation. Mrs. N. H. Flood, pianist, hand-picked the drummer, fiddlers and saxophonists for their ability to keep exact time. Anyone who "jumps the beat" or tries a little syncopation automatically is disqualified.

The Nebraskans generally favor the free-and-easy informal cowboy dances, favorites of their forefathers. Some new England numbers, replete with bows and curlicues, also are done but they usually are considered too sedate for the Midwesterners.

Costumes are designed for comfort and match the breezy spirit of the dances. Even at rehearsals, men dressed in blue jeans and bright cowboy shirts — preferably red. None, however, sport the gaudy high-heeled boots.

Old-fashioned gingham and calico print long dresses, many of them studded from flower print bags, are the order of the day for women.

The annual festivals were started in 1941 by the Lincoln Council of Folk and Square Dance clubs, according to Master of Ceremonies Walter O. Ernst. The celebrations suffered relatively little from wartime restrictions and have become more popular each year.

The folk dance revival caught on here about seven years ago when a church group took it up. From the original five couples who danced in a basement, it has grown to more than 200 who meet twice a month at their 11 clubs.

Midget-Car Owner Forgot The Anchor

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — It cost Harold Leuba, Lamson Business College instructor, $4 to learn that there is hazard as well as convenience in parking one of those new lantern automobiles.

Leuba parked his new two-cylinder car legally in downtown Phoenix, congratulating himself that the space he had found wouldn't have accommodated a model T Ford.

But along came a group of boys who, just for the fun of it, lifted it bodily, reparking it on the sidewalk. And then along came a policeman, who ordered it towed to the police garage.

The towing charge was $4.

12 OUT OF 13 IS WRONG WESTBROOK, Me. (UP) — After jimmying 12 of the 13 windows at Severy's garage, a burglar finally got in and stole $20. The only window he didn't touch was unlocked.

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 quarts a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste builds up in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pain, dizziness, and energy getting up rights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent urination, passage of scanty and burning urine, slow loss of weight, sleeping wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your doctor for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Physician's Diary Reveals Hitler Took Injections For Many Years

GREENCASTLE, Ind. (UP)—Worshippers of Adolf Hitler, who was regarded by his followers as anything from a Wagnerian hero to God, would be shattered by a look at the medical diary of his personal physician—Dr. Theodor Morell.

From confidential notations made over a period of eight years, Dr. Fuchrer emerges as a continual taker of assorted injections and vitamin pills; a sufferer from stomach aches brought on by attacks of bad temper, and a believer in the curative power of leeches. According to the diary, Adolf also once spilled some hair tonic in his left eye and many other such "unlegendary" acts befell the No. 1 Nazi.

These first hand facts about the German leader came to light recently through the translation of the medical papers of young Walter A. Sheets, Jr., senior at DePauw University. Sheets, whose home is in Canton, Ohio, came into possession of the documents when he was a corporal attached to the Allied Military Government in Germany.

Sheets was one of the many AMG detachments who were going about Germany picking up information that might prove useful to Allied occupation forces. Dr. Morell was found by Sheets in his own hospital as a "nervous" patient at Fayrwich—Gormain in Bavaria, some 30 kilometers from Berchtesgaden. He had been suffering a nervous breakdown since April 21, 1945, when his boss fired him as personal physician. Hitler had got the idea that Morell was involved in the plot by Reichleiter Martin Bormann and Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel to get him out of Berlin—at the time when the advancing Russians practically had the German capital surrounded.

As interpreter, Sheets learned from the ailing doctor that his confidential papers were in a wine crate sealed up in a cloister wall near Berchtesgaden. "I was the only member of the detachment who could read German," he said, so he decided to keep them as a war souvenir. However, G-2, Army Intelligence, also were interested in the papers. G-2 and the FBI worked over the documents for three months before returning them to the corporal.

The diary and documents Sheets found reveal a detailed account of the treatment Hitler received by Morell after he suffered burns, bruises and concussions in the bomb-plot explosion of July 20, 1944.

Dr. Morell was in the room with Hitler at German staff headquarters when Col. Klaus von Stauffenberg showed a briefcase full of explosives under the table toward the Fuehrer, then went out to "answer a phone call" and kept right on going, catching a plane for Berlin.

In the diary it describes how he sutured Hitler's wounds with penicillin, ordered an acetic acid compress for "greatly swollen right arm," bandaged the burned right hand, treated burns on Hitler's right leg and treated him for mental shock.

Prof. Hans Gruening of the DePauw German department, is preparing the papers for a presentation of them to the medical profession as a complete case history of Hitler. Prof. Gruening, whose home formerly was in Freiburg, near the Black Forest and who came to the United States in 1929, said Morell was a "rain man."

The Nazi doctor kept all the medals and decorations he received in among his papers. He also had numerous pictures of himself attired in the party regalia and many congratulatory letters that he had received from German film stars.

One of the entries in the diary, on July 14, 1944, was about hair tonic in the Fuehrer's eyes. Undoubtedly received from his celebrated drooping forelock, Adolf went to Morell for treatment. The treatment must have been successful, for two days later there appeared in the diary, "Patient A—'auge gut'" (eye good).

According to Prof. Gruening, "every time Hitler got bad news he had to have an injection." Patient A wasn't Dr. Morell's only famous charge, either. Mussolini, referred to as patient D, also was under his care at one time, Gruening said. Frau Goering was a patient, too, he added.

"From the notes I also gather that Dr. Morell was giving Hitler one brand of pills and Goering was taking another, and that they argued for two days as to which was the better pill," said Gruening. "It is all very illuminating and casts much light on the higher-up Nazis."

Chili Casserole
Two medium onions
1 can of tomato puree
1 can chili
Two small packages Fritos
Crated Parmesan cheese
Slice and fry onions slowly. When tender add tomato puree and simmer. Heat chili. Place a layer of Fritos in bottom of casserole, add a layer of chili. Continue this until casserole is almost full, making sure that the last layer placed in casserole is of chili. Then pour over chili the tomato-puree sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and bake slowly.

French Dressing
1 cup Wesson oil
1-2 cup vinegar
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
medium onion grated
1 button garlic cut
1 tsp. salt
Mix in order named. Shake before using.

HERE are two home-style but wonderful French recipes for low-cost meat. They come from the world-famous chef of the Ritz, Louis Diat, in the new "Louis Diat's Home Cook Book."

Beef Brains
(Cervelle de Boeuf)
Allow 1 brain for 2 to 3 people. Wash brains in cold water. Remove the membrane which covers them, if there is any. Leave in cold water for several hours, changing the water often.

Put brains in saucepan with enough cold water to cover, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 8 peppercorns, 1/2 onion, sliced, 1 small carrot, sliced, and a faggot made of 4 sprigs of parsley, a little thyme and a bay leaf.

Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 25 to 30 minutes. Remove from heat.

Leave brains in this cooking liquor until ready to prepare them for serving—never leave them unless covered with liquid.

Tripe a la Bordelaise
One pound tripe, parboiled and cut in large julienne, 2 medium onions, chopped, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 clove garlic, 3 tomatoes, peeled, seeded, and chopped (if available), 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1/2 cup tomato sauce (or 1 cup canned tomatoes), 1 cup

WHEN steaks, chops, and other fresh meats are scarce, use cold cuts for hot dishes. You'll be surprised how good they can be.

Scalloped Potatoes with Ham Sausage
Six medium-sized potatoes, thinly sliced, 1 to 2 onions, thinly sliced, 1/2 lb. minced ham sausage, cut into cubes, salt, pepper, 1/2 teaspoon curaway seeds, 1 cup hot milk, 2 tablespoons margarine.

Scrub raw potatoes, pare, and slice. Skin and slice the onions. Cut ham sausage into cubes.

Arrange in alternating layers in a baking dish, seasoning each layer with salt, pepper, and a few curaway seeds.

Pour hot milk over the top, then add hot water sufficient to rise just below surface of the top. Sprinkle crumbs over top.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) at least one hour, until potatoes are tender.

Bologna Creole
One or 2-lb. piece of bologna sausage.

Sauce: Three or 4 fresh tomatoes, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, 1 bay leaf, crushed, 1/2 lb. minced ham sausage, 1/2 teaspoon thyme and basil, mixed, 2 tablespoons fortified margarine, 1 onion, finely minced, 1 tablespoon lemon juice or wine.

Here are two delicious combinations:

Grape Soda
One-third cup unweetened grape juice, 1 tablespoon corn syrup or 1/2 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1 scoop lemon sherbet, sparkling water.

Combine grape juice and corn syrup in tall glass; mix well. If unweetened grape juice is used, omit corn syrup.

Add milk; blend. Add sherbet. Fill glass with sparkling water. Serves 1.

Gingermint Freeze
Two cups water, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup lime juice, 4 drops peppermint extract, green food coloring, 1 quart sparkling water, maraschino cherries and mint sprigs.

Combine water, ginger, and sugar; bring to boil, stirring constantly at the same time. Cool. Add lime juice, extract, and green coloring. Pour over ice in large pitcher.

Just before serving, add sparkling water. Put a maraschino cherry with mint sprig in each tall glass. Serves 6.

Prune Oat Whip
One and one-half cups cooked prunes (1 pound dried), 1/2 cup oatmeal, 1/4 cup milk or cream, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons sugar, 2 egg whites.

Remove pits from prunes; mash the pulp. Add cooked and cooled oatmeal, milk, cinnamon, and salt.

Beat egg whites until stiff; add the sugar gradually and continue beating until like marshmallow.

Fold into prune mixture. Chill thoroughly and serve plain or with whipped cream. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Apple Pudding
One and one-half cups milk, 1/2 cups cooked farina, 3 eggs, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup sliced apples, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon butter or margarine.

Scald milk and combine with cooked farina. Add beaten eggs, 1/4 cup sugar, and vanilla.

Pour farina mixture into greased casserole. Top with sliced apples. Combine two tablespoons sugar with nutmeg and sprinkle over apples. Dot with butter.

Set baking dish in pan of hot water and place in a moderate oven (350 to 375 degrees F.) for 50 to 60 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Helpful Hints for Better Refrigeration

- Don't place hot foods in your refrigerator. Let them cool first.
- Don't open the refrigerator door more often than necessary.
- Defrost frequently, at least once a week. Thick frost lowers efficiency.
- Leave space between refrigerator and wall to allow air to circulate.

SOMERSET MAUGHAM, 72, HOPES TO MAKE NO. 22 LAST WORK

Maugham, above, former British minister of defense, is now premier. He succeeded Juho Paasikivi, who resigned to become president.

NEW YORK (UP) — Somerset Maugham, 72, sat at a plain writing table in his hotel suite and wrote with a pen on ruled paper the novel which he hopes will be his last.

It has as yet no name, and is known only as "number 22" in the publishing circles which still are lining out reports of the famed "Of Human Bondage" which he wrote 34 years ago.

"I'm getting a little tired," the author said. "For years I've worked from 8:30 in the morning until 12:30 at night. I'm slowing up. My new schedule of writing starts about 9 and sometimes I quit before one. At long last, with this novel, the end is in sight."

Maugham, who looks nowhere near any kind of an end, said that he never did like to write novels, anyhow. He said he preferred his plays and short stories, "Of Human Bondage," he said, is too long for future generations to read; "Cakes and Ale," he thinks, is his best gift for posterity.

The British writer has lived in this country for six years during the war, but he hopes to return this spring to the Riviera and as soon as possible go on to India, where he last visited for material for "The Razor's Edge."

In the wise and holy men of India, the character in "The Razor's Edge" found an answer to life. Maugham admitted that he personally received a great thrill from what he called their "living faith," but he added ruefully that he feared their beliefs had too many inconsistencies in logic for him to adopt them. A rich man in more ways than one, Maugham estimates that he had made more than $3,000,000 from his writing, but he says he wants anyone suggesting that he write for money.

"I have not written one word that I didn't honestly want to," he said. The manuscript of "Of Human Bondage," now valued at $50,000 by dealers, was recently given by the author to the Congressional Library. It was enclosed in 16 cheap, imitation leather notebooks—the only notebooks he could afford when he wrote it. Like all his 21 books, his 24 plays, 150 short stories and seven volumes of essays, it was written by hand.

Boxer Sets Record — 11 Pups
GOSHEN, Ind. (UP) — Dr. C. E. Corran's boxer, Mitzie, was believed to have set a record for the boxer breed when she gave birth to 11 pups. The veterinary said two of the litter were being raised by hand as the flock was too much for Mitzie to handle unaided. One puppy died at birth.

HOTEL RAZED FOR TIMBER
ALLEGANY, N. Y. (UP) — The Park Hotel, a favorite stopping place a half-century ago for Western New York tourists, is being razed and its timbers will go into small homes for servicemen and their families in Bradford, Pa.

Anderson Bros. of Bradford bought the structure recently and will construct vet's homes.

WOMAN MAKES TEN $1000 MODELS OF WHODUNITS

LITTLETON, N. H. (UP) — Playing detective in an expensive game the way Mrs. Frances Glesner Lee of Littleton does it. Her Nutshell Studies of Unexplained Death already have cost her upwards of $10,000 and she says she has only begun.

The Nutshell Studies are model rooms, each representing the actual scene of an unexplained death at the moment the medical examiner and police walk in. The doll-like corpse is sprawled out on the floor, draped over a bathtub or stretched out on a bed. Each mystery is based on actual facts, and complicated by Mrs. Lee's own "red herring" clues.

She has finished 10 models and estimates that each cost her about $1,000 and took three months of her time. At least seven others are planned.

The first question she is asked by those who see her models is the inevitable, "Whodunnit?" She has to admit she doesn't know, and what's more she doesn't care. Her purpose in making the models was NOT to have mystery fans and solutions, but to have Harvard medical students dig out clues.

Accompanying each model is a printed card giving the case history of the death. The student must decide whether it was murder, suicide, accident or death from natural causes, and be able to support his contention with clues.

The idea was suggested by Dr. Alan R. Mortiz, a professor in the legal medicine department which Mrs. Lee founded at Harvard where the Nutshell Studies are used. Dr. Mortiz got tired waiting for "appropriate murders" to illustrate his lectures. Since he could not take his classes to the scene of the crime, he decided he needed some means of bringing the crime to the classroom.

That was where Mrs. Lee came in. Daughter of a former International Harvester Co. executive, the Chicago-born woman had been interested in models ever since she built her own doll houses.

She has a carpenter do the heavy work, but is her own architect, landscaper, gardener, painter, paperhanger, interior decorator, seamstress—and detective.

Working with a magnifying glass, she spares no pains to make her models realistic to the last detail. Once she spent three days trying to make a burn on an ironing board look convincing. She insists that every corpse be properly dressed—right down to the long underwear—even though such verisimilitude is lost on the casual observer.

Though she always has been keenly interested in murder, Mrs. Lee never reads a detective story or listens to one on the radio.

"I'm interested in the scientific side of detection," she explained, flashing the gold badge she wears as a captain in the New Hampshire state police. "With me it's more than just feminine curiosity."

Rise In Births To Up Demand For Clothing

CHICAGO (UP) — A medical statistician says clothing manufacturers in the future will have to "make adjustments" for the high, narrow hump World War II put in the nation's population chart.

This war gave the nation's birth rate "the sharpest rise in its recorded history," Dr. A. W. Hedrick, chief of Maryland state health department's bureau of vital statistics, told the Chicago City Club.

Hedrick said the birth rate increased 27 per cent from 1939 to 1944, but passed its peak more than a year ago.

"Nurseries and manufacturers of infant wear already have felt the impact and kindergartens are just beginning to feel it," he said. "This rising wave of population will pass to the higher grades year by year, creating a corresponding wave of needs for facilities, clothing and teaching personnel."

He said returning servicemen might boost the birth rate again in late 1946 and 1947, but that eventually it is expected to resume its long-time decline. For this reason, Hedrick said, governmental agencies and manufacturers should plan added facilities and production on "a flexible basis."

"The birth rate increased most in those portions of the population where it previously had been too low," he said, among the more prosperous and among the upper educational levels.
