Betty Wolford has purchased the interest of Mrs. H. C. Henderson in the City Floral Company and is now sole proprietor and thoroughly enjoying her new venture.

And quite an artist she is, with her flower arrangements.

Heard of a man today who has been off on a business trip, saying that just an ordinary steak with any trimmings cost him $3.00. Must be the Black Market that the OPA can't control and leads one to the firm conclusion that we definitely have inflation.

The OPA keeps saying that extension of it, life is necessary to keep down inflation and all the time prices are going higher and higher. If this keeps up why have the expense of operation of the OPA?

Margaret Greenwood, former bookkeeper at the Times, writes that she has joined the staff of the Rogers, Arkansas, daily paper and is enjoying being in the newspaper game again. She also told of having been pledged to the exclusive Beta Sigma Phi sorority at the recent annual banquet.

Coach Jimmie Marshall says that his Bulldogs will be the best dressed team in the district next year. The reason, several hundreds of dollars have been spent to buy new equipment which will be here for the opening of the season next September.

Incidentally, he pointed out today that there will be eleven returning lettermen on the squad next year.

Last of football for this school year will be played at the Bulldog stadium tonight when the inter-squad game is staged with the Maroons and Whites battling for the victory.

Football fans can get a preview of the 1946 team by attending the game tonight.

May 12 is National Hospital Day and for the occasion James Metcalfe, author of the widely read feature, Portraits, has given permission for his poem Lady in White, to be printed in the newspapers of Texas.

The tribute to the nurse is reprinted here from Portraits, a daily feature in the Dallas Morning News and other leading newspapers.

LADY IN WHITE
She tends the needs and comforts of... A world with sickness fraught... And fosters peace and happiness... In feeling and in thought... Unselfishly she tries to soothe... And ease the slightest pain... And usher in the sunshine when... The skies begin to rain... And angel spreading mercy in... The darkness of the night... Restoring broken bodies with... A new and healing light... Returning strength to flesh fatigued... And to weary mind... She is the feet for all the lame... The eyes for all the blind... She is the albatross that guides... The storm-encircled ships... And she is every smile that parts... A youngster's pallid lips.

HAWAIIANS EYE COLONEL ROLE IN NEW ISLANDS

HONOLULU, T. H. (UP) — The success of wartime farming on South Pacific islands may well prove the opening wedge of a new era of economic expansion in which the Hawaiian islands hope to play a prominent part.

Farms established by the United States Foreign Economic Administration in Solomon and New Hebrides islands produced 13,000,000 pounds of foodstuffs in 1944 from 4,000 acres of land that had been tropical jungle before the war.

These successful farms, demonstrating the feasibility of raising the economic standards of island natives, foreshadow a vast program of development in the islands formerly held as Japanese mandates.

Administration of the islands by governmental agencies would call for extensive agricultural experimentation and the training of a new class of American "colonial" civil servants.

Hawaiian educators and businessmen foresee that the Hawaiian islands may become the training center for administrative personnel for the expansive island empire captured from the Japanese.

Nations that have in the past developed large colonial empires have depended upon civil servants who made careers of colonial administration. If trusteeship or control of the islands taken from Japan is entrusted to the United States island administration might become an important profession.

FARMERS BEAT CITY FOLK IN OWNING PLANES

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
DENVER (UP) — Urban Americans, who have long scoffed at their "hick" cousins in the country, can take a bow to the fast-growing clan of American flying farmers.

The flying bus is converting rural America to a sky-skirting mode of a greater rate than city dwellers.

This statement, assailing to the residents of the metropolis, comes from Charles A. Lowen, Colorado's assistant director of aeronautics. He's made a flying tour of the state and admits he's surprised at what he found.

"I was amazed on my trip to find most of the air-minded people of the state living on farms," Lowen said.

It's not hard to explain, though. A farmer just parks his plane in the barn, to the dismay of the horses and cows, and goes for a spin whenever he feels like it. There's no hangar rent to worry about, no trips to the airport.

"More than 1,000 farmers in eastern Colorado either have their own plane now or have ordered one," Lowen reported.

Pastures make good runways with a little dressing up. If the barn isn't a convenient place to keep the winged flivver, a hangar can be put up easily at one end of a field.

"Farmers," said Lowen, "have more use for a plane. It's a lot faster for emergency trips to the city."

Farmer-flyers can use a plane for routine traveling purposes, pleasure, and even farm work. Some more scientific crop growers are using their plane to spray fields or scatter seed.

Most of the air-minded farmers contacted by Lowen have small one and two-seater jobs. A few have two planes. "This isn't just a passing fad of the farmers," comments the Colorado aviation official. "It's just the first step toward large-scale flying by private individuals."

Department's Audit Appears On Anniversary

AUSTIN (UP) — By coincidence, State Auditor C. H. Cavness' audit of the State Comptroller's office was issued on the 100th anniversary of the founding of the office.

The report came out April 11, 1946. It was on April 11, 1846, that James Pinckney Henderson, first governor, signed the act establishing the Comptroller's Department.

In those days the Comptroller and two clerks made up the authorized staff. Nowadays the expanded department has more than enough work for 356 assistants to the comptroller.

Many interesting little bits of information are obtainable from the audit. For instance of all the county tax assessor-collectors, but 14 have furnished personal bond. Surety companies bond the others.

On the matter of bonds, the audit reveals that the gasoline tax law leaves a loophole for loss in event a major operator should go bankrupt. A check of 260 accounts revealed that approximately one-fourth accumulate tax due the state in excess of their bond. The over-amounts ranged from $20 to $900,000.

Daily accounting was recommended to cure this situation, but it will take a change in the law to do it.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. at the Cheaney Church of Christ for Joseph O. Snell, O. G. Lanier of Ranger officiated at the service and interment was in the Cook Cemetery with the Killingworth's Funeral Home in charge.

INTER-SQUAD GAME TO BE PLAYED TONITE

Promptly at 8:00 o'clock tonight the kick-off for the inter-squad Bulldog football game will take place and the battle will be on between the Maroons and the Whites.

Coach Warren is coaching the Maroon team and Coach Marshall is handling the Whites; and the two promise a good game to the fans. The game will be free to the public but a hat will be passed at the half and contributions will be added to the fund for the purchase of new equipment which has been ordered.

The Maroon Squad will be composed of Jerry Gray, Bob Deaton, Bob Balch, James Martinez, Bobby Williams, Junior Arterburn, Milton Alexander, Terry, Boney, Waddington, Sam Elder, Dean Elder, Howard Fraser, Keith Munnerlyn, Gene LaQuay, J. M. Bunch, Stiles, Paul Lewis, Patterson, Russell Edwards and Jimmie Heinen.

The Whites will have in their squad Richard Kelly, Jack Cole, Billie Griffin, Jimmie Crossley, Alvin Langley, O. G. Lanier, Worth Carlin, Bill Townsen, J. K. Wright, Paul MacDonaid, T. K. Hardy, Jimmie Lee, Russell, Hamilton, Cooper, Gay, Hamrick, Dickie Everett, Thomas Shirley, R. C. Smith and Keener.

British Loan Survives Another Major Test

WASHINGTON (UP) — The $3,750,000,000 British loan survived another major congressional test today when the Senate rejected an attempt to toss the measure to the House for prior consideration.

Encouraged administration leaders drove for Senate passage of the loan before adjournment tonight.

Baskin Presents Program At Club Meet Wednesday

H. L. Baskin was in charge of the program at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club held Wednesday in the blue room of the Ghobson Hotel.

Baskin presented Mrs. Homer Heatly who directed the college and high school girls chorus in singing Deep Purple, Whispering and Chinese Lullaby. Miss Helen McAnelly played excerpts from Rhapsody in Blue.

During the meeting, Dr. G. C. Boswell, president, presented the charter for Boy Scout Troop Number 61 to Mack Stirman, Rotary Scout committeeman. The troop is sponsored by the club and has been furnished with tents by the club. Thirteen Scouts from the troop attended the Camporal held at Ringling Lake near Eastland last weekend. Transportation to the camp was provided by A. J. Ratliff.

GM, Chrysler Planning Shut Down In 10 Days

DETROIT (UP) — General Motors Corporation and Chrysler Corporation followed the shutdown of Ford Motor company plants today by announcing they would close within 10 days because of the nationwide coal strike, the rail and freight embargo and parts shortages.

AAA Approval Necessary For Planting Aid

Emmett E. Powell, the county AAA Administrator, states that all producers who intend to carry out the practice of strip-cropping, the planting of field peas or any other practice under the 1946 Program—a prior approval must be obtained from the county committee before the practice is begun if payment is to be made by the AAA.

He also reminds again, that all reports of winter cover crops must be turned in to the AAA Office by May 15th, if payment is to be made under the 1946 Program.

The world's first college for the systematic education of dentists was the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, established in 1840.

PRESIDENT MAY TAKE OVER TO KEEP TRAINS OPERATING

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman said today he was contemplating government seizure of the railroads if necessary to keep them running.

At the same time the president said in regard to the coal strike—

1. It is slowly approaching the status of a strike against the government.

2. He is considering calling in John L. Lewis, head of the Mine Workers' Union, and the mine operators for a joint conference.

The president was openly worried about the coal situation, but preferred not to discuss it in any detail.

He had little positive information about the threatened railroad strike May 18 and what he planned to do about it, except to say in response to a question that he did have seizure under consideration if it took that to keep the railroads operating.

He was hit by numerous questions regarding coal and said in essence that—

He felt he had used his full powers in an effort to end the strike.

A survey is now in progress concerning what authority Mr. Truman might have to end the coal strike without the acquiescence of the Lewis.

When asked whether he thought the coal strike had reached the stage of a strike against the government, the president thoughtfully, seriously said the strike was slowly and steadily approaching that state.

CLEVELAND (UP) — Pres. A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said today in regard to President Truman's "contemplated" seizure of the railroads that "we want it clearly understood we will insist on our proposals for working rule changes regardless of who operates the roads."

SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS READYING FOR TOURIST BOOM

NEW YORK (UP) — South America is preparing for the gayest, most colorful and greatest tourist season it has ever had.

With all restrictions gone by the boards now that the war is over, the South American republics are making their plans for a record-breaking volume of tourists, principally from the United States.

As soon as pleasure travel to the South American countries gets under way, the boom will be under way.

Would Set Up Anti-Strike Legislation

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. James Eastland, D. Miss., today formally moved that the Senate take up immediately anti strike legislation.

Eastland declared the coal strike would result in "Malnutrition, bread lines, and even food riots."

Terminating John L. Lewis "a would be dictator," Eastland asked that the British loan be set aside for a few days pending consideration of anti-strike legislation.

PEACE—SEPARATE OR UNITED?

Officials in Washington have carefully let it be known that Secretary Byrnes will propose a separate peace settlement with Italy at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Paris unless Russia shows a disposition to abandon those tactics of delay and obstruction which so far have stalled all attempts at drawing up peace treaties.

This appears to be a reluctant and somewhat desperate preparation to build a fire under Mr. Molotov's chair and rouse him to action. Certainly, the United States does not want to conclude a separate treaty, nor is one desirable. The Allied agreement not to make a separate peace with the enemy may have expired with the enemy's surrender, but the reasons for the agreement are about as valid today as ever. Yet a threat of separate peace seems almost the only course left open.

Behind the present deadlock is a struggle between the British and what may safely be called the Russian empires. Russia has made safe her western borders by what amounts to separate treaties with Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, and Poland, where there are either Russian occupation troops or Russian-sponsored governments, or both. Now Russia wants a foothold in the Mediterranean.

This clashes with British policy and threatens the empire's lifeline. But, more than that, it contravenes some declarations of the United Nations Charter. Russia wants to move in on some of Italy's African colonies, while the Charter proposes UN trusteeship of such territories. Russia also wants to control the Dodecanese Islands, which Italy held. But the Greek-populated Dodecanese, under the Charter's principle of "self-determination of peoples," would almost certainly vote to return to Greece.

Russia also wants Trieste turned over to the Russian sponsored government in Yugoslavia. The other three foreign ministers want this airport gateway to Central Europe internationalized, and the city, with its Italian population, given to Italy.

Chiefly, however, Russia's tactics are a cause of present chaos, and her demands, if met, are a potential threat to future peace. Perhaps the present tactics are aimed at maintaining the unrest in which communism seems to grow and flourish. But whatever the reason, the results are dangerous.

So Mr. Byrnes is forced to adopt an attitude as recalled by Mr. Molotov. He probably doesn't enjoy his role but he will have to play it to the hilt.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Montana Senator Jim Murray's big blow-up with Chief Senator Bob Taft over the "socialistic" provisions of the National Health Insurance Bill is good publicity. The fight should now attract a lot more attention to Senate Labor Committee hearings on this Wagner-Murray-Dingell proposal than they would have drawn if everything had gone off in a dull, orderly manner. But when Big Jim blew his top, shook his fist, told Taft to keep quiet, threatened to have him thrown out of the room, and in general behaved like a con hand on a tear, he was doing his own cause no good.

You can differ as much as you like with Bob Taft's views. You can call him a Bourbon or worse. Still, when he raises objections to any piece of legislation on any grounds whatsoever, he has a right to be heard, and you have to defend him in that right. The objections to any bill ought to be given a full airing before the government is committed to travel any new roads.

The usual pattern of Taft's non-conformity to any new ideas is that he presents his views with vigor and at too great length. Then he gets voted down. There are exceptions. In some cases, Taft even goes so far as to co-operate and help produce good legislation.

He did that in framing the Wagner-Ellender-Taft long-range housing bill, admittedly one of the most progressive pieces of legislation to be written in this session of Congress.

TAFT also played a useful role in writing the Employment Act of 1946—originally known as the full employment bill. Murray might have had Taft's co-operation and the benefit of his criticisms, constructive or destructive. Logic and the course of time at these hearings might well have proven Taft completely wrong in his idea that the National Health Insurance Bill is "socialistic."

Nevertheless, Taft's withdrawal from committee hearings where an effort was being made to remedy this situation makes the mud he has thrown at the bill stick like a curse.

BUT this Taft-Murray sore-spot is something deeper than a mere exchange of flush-faced compliments by a couple of hot-headed politicians. The irritation of conservative vs. liberal, reactionary vs. radical, or whatever you want to call it, is coming to a head like boils all over the body politic.

The slowness with which Congress acts on many of the postwar measures now before it is due not so much to an inability to settle each specific issue as it is to failure to settle the underlying question of whether to take the country to the right or left in the next few crucial years.

The best chance to settle this conflict will come in the congressional elections in November, and in the primary and special elections which precede them. Every candidate in these elections should be clearly ticketed as a forward or a backward-looker. Then the voters can stand up and be counted to determine which way the legislators and the leasers should go.

ALUMINUM CAR PLATES

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Surplus sheet aluminum sold the state by a former war plant will be used for the remainder of the 1946 Nebraska license plates.

The 49,000 pounds of aluminum, which usually costs 22 cents a pound, was bought by the state for $2,900 at the six cents per pound price of steel. Officials estimated 20 per cent of the total purchased will be trimmed from the finished plates and sold as salvage at three cents a pound.

NAZI HOMELESS CHILDREN POSE PROBLEM TO U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The American military government officials in Germany have reported to the War Department that there are 50,000 illegitimate children in Berlin alone and a proportionate number throughout the country.

The Nazi desire for an increased birth rate and a resultant state sanction on illegitimacy was given as the cause. By law the Jugendamt (Welfare Department) is the legal guardian of every illegitimate child born in Germany, the report stated.

Most of these children are placed in foster homes or institutions when they cannot be given care by their mothers or by relatives. The child may be placed for adoption when the mother grants permission.

German child welfare authorities report to the military government officials that the whereabouts of many of the mothers is unknown and hence it is impossible to place their children for adoption. They have more requests for adoption than they have children who can be placed.

Under the Nazi system, all foster or adopted children were placed in homes of "reliable party members" irrespective of the welfare of the child. Military government authorities are reviewing the placements which were made prior to the occupation.

The child welfare and youth programs of the Nazi Reich collapsed with the capitulation of Germany. Occupation forces were faced with the problem of providing care for expectant and nursing mothers, indigent and working mothers, orphans, illegitimate homeless children, neglected and handicapped children and juvenile delinquents.

The report stated that child welfare departments in Germany are still inadequately staffed and not performing all the supervisory functions assigned to them.

The problem of homeless and unattached children has been extremely difficult, the report said. In the Frankfurt area alone the number of such children receiving care rose from an average of 17 new cases per week in September to 112 in October and is still high.

Child authorities are faced with the serious problem of caring for a large number of children evacuated during the war from areas subject to air attacks. Many of these children started homeward without assistance from welfare authorities when the war ended. Later they were found wandering from city to city in search of relatives.

Many of them, particularly young girls, have become delinquent. Police have been authorized to detain anyone under 21 years of age found loitering on the streets. Those who cannot be reunited with their families are placed in foster homes or institutions.

Juvenile delinquency has increased, particularly in the large cities like Berlin and Munich. Most of the crimes are theft, burglary and petty offenses like failure to work, and violation of the curfew. Sentences range from 10 to 30 days detention, and fines of 1,000 marks.

Two Elected To Sorority Posts

DENTON, Tex. (UP) — Miss Eunice Miller of Aubrey, a graduate of North Texas State College, and Miss Beulah Harris, assistant professor of physical education at the college, were elected national president and national province director, respectively, of Delta Psi Kappa, a scholarship organization for physical education majors and minors.

The election took place at a recent meeting of the organization held at St. Louis in conjunction with the National Physical Education Association.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with smearing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COMBINE cereals with meat and fish and step up the protein value of economy dishes.

Emergency Steak

One pound ground beef, 1/2 cup milk, 1 cup wheat flakes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped onion.
Combine all ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Place in shallow pan; pat into the shape of a T-bone steak—1 inch thick. Broil 8 to 15 minutes at 500 degrees F., turning once during the cooking. Makes 6 servings.

Tomato Meat Balls

One cup cold cooked farina, 1 pound ground beef, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 can condensed tomato soup, 1 cup water.
Mix farina, beef, slightly-beaten egg, and onion, season with salt and pepper. Shape lightly into balls. Brown in hot fat. Add tomato soup which has been mixed with the water. Simmer 15 to 20 minutes.
Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

Baked Fish Molds

Three cups corn flakes, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1/4 teaspoon salt.
Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

Warm Spring Days and Fresh Strawberry Pie

WARM spring days and fresh strawberry pie go together. Try this for a special occasion—such as a wedding announcement dinner.

Fresh Strawberry Pie

(Filling for one 9-inch pie shell)
One envelope plain unflavored gelatin, 1 1/4 cups cold water, 4 cups strawberries, 1 cup sugar.
Wash, stem, drain, and chop strawberries. Cook 1 cup of the berries with 1 cup water until soft. Strain and add the hot liquid to sugar, stirring constantly. Add gelatin which has been softened in 1/2 cup cold water.
Cool until mixture begins to thicken, and add remaining berries. Turn into crumb crust. Chill until firm.
Serve with whipped cream, if desired.

Soft Custard With Stewed Fruit

One cup (1/2 pound) dried fruit, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar or maple syrup, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tall can evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups), 1 cup boiling water, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract.
Stew fruit slowly with 2 cups water until tender. Press through a sieve. Beat eggs. Add sugar or syrup and salt. Beat well, then add milk. Stir in the boiling water.
Cook over boiling water, stirring frequently, until mixture coats spoon, about 5 minutes. Add vanilla. Serve over the fruit.
Yield: 6 servings.

Breakfast Program

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, oatmeal, cinnamon toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, baked fish molds, whole wheat rolls, sliced bananas and oranges, tea, milk.
DINNER: Tomato meat balls, mashed potatoes, asparagus, scallions and radishes, gingerbread, stewed fruit, coffee, milk.

Lobster Salad

One cup cooked lobster, cut in small chunks, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup diced green pepper, 3 tablespoons diced onion, 1/2 cup well-seasoned mayonnaise, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 head lettuce or curly endive, 2 hard-boiled eggs, sliced, 18 radishes, cut into roses.

Mix together the lobster, celery, green pepper, diced onion, mayonnaise, and lemon juice. Arrange the lettuce or curly endive in a two-quart heat-resistant glass utility dish. Place the lobster salad on top of the salad greens, and garnish with the slices of hard-boiled eggs and radish roses. Serve at once.
Makes 6 servings; double to serve 12.

Bride's Salad

One envelope plain unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1 cup hot canned pineapple juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup cold water, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/2 cup cold water.
Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

LOBSTER salad always is a festive dish. Why not use it this year for the main dish of the wedding buffet? It is not difficult to prepare, but it is handsome to look at, delicious, and luxurious enough to honor the new bride and groom.

Macaroni Salad

2 cups seasoned cooked macaroni, 1 cup uncooked diced carrots, 1 green pepper, 1 cup English peas, 1 cup stuffed olives, 2 stalks diced celery, 1 cup diced cheese, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, salt, pepper, onion salt and Worcestershire sauce.
Cook macaroni, drain water off and let cool. Mix with all other ingredients and serve on individual lettuce leaves with grated cheese and paprika sprinkled on top.
Garnish for Roast

We're doing all we can to serve people waiting for telephones

THE urgent job of getting telephone service to those waiting is going ahead. We are nearing a milestone: Soon everyone who needs only a telephone instrument itself to get service will have it. That shortage is about over.

In the first three months of this year we have installed 150,000 new telephones in the five states we serve. This is as many as we would have installed in six months of a normal year.

Although 170,000 new applicants for service during this time kept the waiting list long (223,000 in the Southwest as April began), we now are getting service faster to those waiting longest. A great many of the people waiting for service on V-J Day now have it.

Two big jobs remain:

- As quickly as we can get it, we are wiring the precision, intricate machinery that handles your calls at the exchange. This takes time and skill. We must do years of work in the next few months.
- In a great many places we also need outside cable and wire. We plan to have this in and ready when the new equipment in the telephone office is completed. Where we can, we are wiring homes in advance for telephones, ready to connect them the moment we are able.

Meanwhile, we are trying every way we know to squeeze in everyone we can with party lines, hooking more telephones to already loaded switchboards and dial equipment, putting disconnected lines back into service faster. If for a while telephone service is not always as fast as you'd like it, it is because of this crowding.

We repeat: The telephone company is doing all it can to provide service for waiting customers. We're looking forward to the day we get in touch with you to arrange the details of installing your telephone.
