

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Today is Mother's Day and a tribute will be paid to American mothers in many ways.

The theme of church services will be Mother, Mothers will wear flowers, representing the thoughtfulness of children. The custom has become so generally observed that America is Mother conscious on this day.

Put in Ranger there is a particularly lovely custom that was started more than ten years ago and which has become one of the most looked-forward-to events of the year. That is Ranger High School's Sub-Deb club Mother's Day tea.

For years now, each Mother's Day some member of the club and her mother have been hostesses along with other club members at a Sunday afternoon tea honoring mothers of club members. Originally only mothers of the club members and one or two guests for each member were invited but the affair has grown in scope and now is one of the largest social functions of the year.

For beauty and elegance, nothing surpasses these occasions and it is a sight to behold with lovely young girls attired in tea dresses presiding with the grace and charm of royalty.

The Sub-Deb Club was organized in 1933 by Annie Bell Neil, then teacher of English in the high school, and now Mrs. Claude Whittaker of Ft. Worth. Since 1937, Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick of the language department of high school and junior college, has been sponsor for the club. Only once in the history of the club has the Mother's Day tea been omitted and that was the first year of the war. But the demand for its continuance was so strong that it was resumed the next year.

It has become a tradition that is part of Mother's Day in Ranger. This year the president of the club, Miss Elaine Brazda, and her mother, Mrs. A. W. Brazda will have the tea at their home and will be assisted in entertaining by other club members and the sponsor.

Working people are still complaining about the fact that closing hours of Ranger stores do not allow them any time to shop. They say that if it's shorter hours that employes want why not take the time off of the opening hour and close later, thus giving the 8:00 to 5:00 o'clock working people thirty minutes to shop.

Some say that most working people work only forty hours a week and have the sixth day for shopping. Opponents answer that with the reply that they don't like to be regimented about their buying and after all there are times other than the day off when things have to be bought.

There must be some way that it could be worked out to the satisfaction of all.

The crime wave is touching Eastland county now and people had better adhere to police warnings to take every precaution against being burglarized. Police in Ranger, have recovered one stolen car and are on the search for another that was stolen in Ranger Wednesday night. Three Eastland business firms were burglarized sometime during Thursday night or early Friday morning.

The Dr. Pepper Bottling Company in Ranger was burglarized Thursday night.

Sometime ago Chief George Murphy warned the people of Ranger that sooner or later we'd get it and his warning is proving true. The police can't be everywhere all of the time and the co-operation of the people is necessary if loss by burglary is avoided.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today expressed their appreciation to a group of business men who have contributed use of their trucks for the moving of materials to the Round-Up grounds.

Those Jaycees really know how to beat the yankee dollar. A contractor offered to move the material for $250. So they scratch their heads a little while and then (Continued on page six)

FOUR RANGER BOYS ENLIST IN THE ARMY

In the past two weeks, four local boys have signed up with the Regular Army at the Eastland Recruiting Station. They have all been accepted and assigned.

Alton W. Walker, son of Hall Walker, and Bailey L. Woods, son of David B. Woods, enlisted for an eighteen month period and expressed that their intention was to finish their college degree with the government's help upon discharge from the service. Wesley and Bailey were both students at Ranger Junior College prior to their enlistment.

Richard E. Carmon, son of Johnnie L. Graham, was a radio mechanic and was eager to further his career in the Regular Army. He will receive excellent experience and training with the Signal Corps, which was his selection for a three year enlistment.

Neal F. Langford enlisted with his parents' consent since that is required with seventeen year olds. Langford gave pay and travel as his reason for enlisting in the Regular Army. He is the son of Bertha Alma Langford of Ranger.

The name for Piedmont, Wyo., was taken from the Italian language and means "foot of the mountains."

ASSAULT'S VICTORY MAY RAISE PARIMUTUEL QUESTION AGAIN

By CORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN (UP) — Assault's spectacular victory in the Kentucky Derby already has raised hopes of some Texas horse lovers that parimutuels may be returned to the state.

Such a possibility is being discussed in lobbies of the capital's hotels.

That a Texas-raised horse, with a Texas trainer should take the racing world's highest American prize seems incredible in face of Texas legislation.

Repeal of the parimutuel law in 1937 ended the Derby plans of the famous Waggoner Four D stables with their elaborate racing plant between Fort Worth and Dallas.

Sen. Houghton Brownlee, whose famous Escoba strain was favorably known on tracks all over the country, gave up in disgust, sold his breeding stock and turned his beautiful Burnet County ranch into raising Praha cattle. The famous Valinda Farms entries no longer were made and the Strube and George strings faded.

COLD WAVE BRINGS 43 DEGREE LOW

A cold wave that moved into Ranger on the heels of a rain, hail and wind storm Friday night topped temperatures 44 degrees from the 87 degree high for the 24 hour period ending at 8:00 a. m. Saturday.

Lowest temperature for the period was 43 degrees and at 3:50 Saturday afternoon the temperature had climbed only six degrees to hit 49.

Some damage was reported from hail which fell Friday night beginning about 9:15 and hail stones were very large. One stone which was reported to have crashed through a window was said to have been about the size of a hen egg.

Mrs. J. E. Bryan stated that two chairs on her front porch were blown across the porch and set down upright after the tumbling across the porch.

A total of .63 of an inch of rain fell in the storm Friday night bringing a total of 1.19 inches of rain in the last two days. A total of .56 of an inch fell early Friday morning.

URGE VETERANS BEWARE FARM BOOBY TRAPS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Government agriculture experts warn veterans with a yen for the soil to be careful of farm "booby traps."

They suggested that veterans without farming experience should spend at least a year on the farm picking up the skills and practices which spell the difference between a successful farmer and a failure.

More important, they said, the experience will enable the veteran to decide whether he misses the bright lights of the city. If he does decide to go ahead, he will be in a better position to make a wise purchase.

New York State alone, it was pointed out, has 50,000 abandoned farms which fall into the "booby trap" class because they will not support a farm family adequately. In most cases the soil has been exhausted or so badly eroded that it can not be reclaimed.

The government listed these "musts" for veterans planning to purchase a farm:

1. Talk it over first with the county agricultural agent and the county agricultural defense committee. They will help you avoid "booby trap" farms.
2. Be sure you have enough money to pay down, equip and operate a farm properly.
3. Don't buy a farm without farming experience.
4. Be sure your wife wants to live on a farm.
5. Don't pay more for a farm than it will be worth over a long period of years. Farm prices are abnormally high now and the veterans cannot count on them continuing indefinitely.
6. Don't buy a farm that is too small to support your family. Also make sure that it is available to good roads, telephone and electric lines, schools and markets.
7. Don't buy a farm unless both you and your wife are in good health.

Former Resident Dies Friday In Birmingham, Ala.

Word was received Saturday of the death of Mrs. W. B. Hasenfuss of Birmingham, Alabama, formerly of Ranger.

Mrs. Hasenfuss died Friday morning and the body is being sent to Ft. Worth where services will be held sometime Sunday or Monday.

Survivors are one son, Robert Hasenfuss of Birmingham, and a granddaughter, Nan Baker Hasenfuss of Big Spring. Nan Baker is also the granddaughter of Mrs. R. A. Jones of Ranger, her mother being the former Miss Audrey Jones.

TRUMAN SAYS ONE DEFENSE AGAINST BOMB

NEW YORK (UP) — President Truman told a Fordham University audience today that there is at least one defense against the atomic bomb—education.

The defense, he said, lies in mastering "the science of human relationships all over the world."

Mr. Truman spoke after receiving an honorary degree of doctor of laws in a traditional academic ceremony on the university campus.

The president's remarks were broadcast over the four major radio networks. He flew from Washington in the early afternoon for the ceremony here, and was to return immediately by plane to the nation's capital.

President Truman arrived at La Guardia Field aboard his airplane, the Sacred Cow, at 2:43 p. m. EDT today.

A motorcycle cavalcade of New York policemen roared out in the bright sunlight to escort the plane to its parking place at gate number 8.

Mr. Truman was greeted by New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer, Edward J. Flynn, democratic national committeeman, George Allen, director of the R.F.C., Sen. James Mead, D. N. Y., Father Gannon, president of Fordham University, James J. Lyons, Bronx borough president, Edward B. Laughlin, leader of Tammany Hall, Mrs. William H. Goode, national democratic committeewoman, and Frank V. Kelly, Kings county democratic leader.

Woman Knows Bible Chapters Word By Word

CROWN POINT, Ind. (UP) — Mrs. Florence M. Roberts not only reads the Bible, but she memorizes it.

She can recite, word for word, several books from the New Testament.

"I memorized the book of St. John," she said, "while my late husband, George Roberts, was ill. His condition necessitated a day and a night nurse. As no one could care for him but myself, I would turn to the Bible for help, guidance and a respite."

"In November, 1938, I began to memorize the book of St. John, mainly to help me stay awake while on duty, and by the next February I had completed the task."

"Then I began to memorize the corresponding chapters in Mark and Luke, which I accomplished by March of the same year."

Mrs. Roberts' favorite Bible quotation is a verse from the Book of Proverbs:

"Trust the Lord with all thine heart and lean not on thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy path."

Texas Aids Government In Research

AUSTIN, Texas — Dr. Wilfred D. Webb, research assistant in the University of Texas Bureau of Municipal Research, returned this week from a two-months' stay in New Orleans, where he was one of five consultants who assisted the Bureau of Governmental Research prepare administrative revisions and charter changes for the city.

ITALIAN QUESTION BALKS MEET

PARIS (UP) — The foreign ministers conference bogged down again today in details of Italian reparations, but a tentative agreement on $100,000,000 for Russia remained intact.

The Big Four foreign ministers were reported trying to reach a full agreement on all parts of the Italian treaty draft except Trieste before tackling that thorny problem and the dispute over the date for a full dress peace conference.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes told the council he would accept Russia's $100,000,000 reparations claim provided it was paid from four sources — Italian assets abroad, surplus industrial equipment such as war factories, the few Italian merchant ships, and Italian Naval vessels.

Trieste and the peace conference were the two issues containing the biggest threat of a breakdown of the current meeting. The threat had eased considerably after a spurt of tentative agreements late yesterday.

Airport Needs Of Texas Told T. U. Report

AUSTIN, Texas — Texas needs an airport zoning act, a municipal and county planning act and a revision of the municipal subdivision control laws to reinstate extraterritorial control.

This is the conclusion drawn in a digest of the state's planning, zoning, housing, park and airport laws just published by the Bureau of Municipal Research of the University of Texas.

A restatement and extension of the planning and zoning laws by the state legislature also would be an "important contribution" to the continued development of local government in Texas, the Bureau said.

"The various state acts which collectively serve as the legal basis for planning and zoning by local units of government in Texas have been enacted by the Legislature from time to time in response to particular demands," the booklet pointed out. "They provide, at best, a sketchy basis for urban planning and almost no basis for county or joint city-county action."

Only legislation of a general nature is included in the booklet, Dr. Stuart A. MacCorkle, director of the Bureau explained. The publication is the first of its kind since 1938.

THIRTY PLAYERS IN BIG COLONIAL GOLF TOURNEY

FORT WORTH, — A field of around 30 players, carefully chosen not only for their achievements in past seasons but for their showing in 1946 competition, will see off here next Thursday, May 16, in the first $15,000 Colonial National invitation tournament.

It is a tournament in which any player could win without too much surprise. Past champions of almost every big tournament field, including the U. S. Open and Amateur, British Open and Amateur, Canadian Open, National PGA, Masters' Tam O'Shanter and many others will compete.

The original idea of the event was to have the 24 top professionals and 12 leading amateurs to make up 12 three-somes. As first event approaches, only five amateurs have accepted, three others may be on the list before play starts.

Twenty-four professionals have accepted. They will compete for first money of $3,000. The meet is unusual in that prize money will go to 20 of the 24 players. In addition, all of their expenses will be paid while at the club. Amateurs will receive suitable prizes.

Among the pros are 11 of the 13 top money winners of 1946. Hot Texas favorites are little Ben Hogan, leading money winner, Byron Nelson who is second and

TWENTY-EIGHT DIE IN CRASH OF BOMBERS

MUNSON, Fla. (UP) — Twenty-eight Navy airmen died in the flaming wreckage of two four-engine bombers when attacked by a Heinkel fighter while on a training maneuver, the Navy announced today.

The planes were engaged in a "fighter familiarization" phase of the flight training program when the accident occurred Friday, a statement from the Pensacola Naval Air Station, where the planes were based, said.

No names of the casualties were released pending notification of next of kin.

The maneuver on which the planes were flying called for the F4P to dive on the big PB4Y bombers, the Navy said.

SALES BARN HAS BIGGEST DAY IN LIFE

Figures which were checked Saturday indicated that the Faircloth Brothers Livestock Commission had the biggest sale in its history at the sales barn Thursday.

More than $27,000 worth of sales were reported with one buyer alone spending $8,000 for 150 head of livestock. Market prices were good and bidding was brisk.

A large number of out-of-town buyers attended the sale with some coming from as far away as Odessa.

The sales listed above were over and above a carload of two year old steers which was shipped to Sam Windham at Front Royal, Virginia.

ROUGH MEN, M. P.'S

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — The U. S. Employment Service here has passed along to other states the application of an anonymous veteran, a former member of the Army's military police.

His primary occupation, the applicant stated, is training lions and tigers. He also can eat glass and tacks "if necessary."

At the start of the war in 1939 the longest range of a plane was 1,500 miles, but soon after the occupation of Japan a B-29 Superfortress flew 8,198 miles non-stop from Guam to Washington.

Jimmy Demaret who is fourth. All are native Texans.

The rest of the pro field includes Sam Snead, third money winner, Tony Penna, Vic Cheze, Harry Todd, Herman Keiser, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Ed Dudley, Ellsworth Vines, Craig Wood, Jimmy Thomson, Harold Me Speden, Lawson Little, Henry Picard, George Scheiter, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Hines, Johnny Bulla, Dick Metz, Herman Barron Tom Hamilton and the home pro, Charley Akey.

Amateurs so far on the list include Lt. Carey Middlecoff, winner of the North-South last fall, Wilford Wehrle formerly of Racine, Wis., Bob Cochran of St. Louis, Reynolds Smith the former Walker Cup player from Dallas, and Royal Hogan, brother of Ben and winner of Colonial's lone place in the select field.

The field will play only 18 holes a day. Spectators will have every opportunity to see their favorites in action. Of the 1,000 season tickets available, only 200 remained unsold a week before play opens. These tickets are good for all practice rounds and the tournament proper. They are the only tickets that will admit to the clubhouse. They are $15 and can be obtained at tournament headquarters, 211 West Seventh St., Fort Worth.

GM SCRAPS PLANS TO CLOSE PLANTS ON MONDAY

The first nation-wide moves to heal industrial wounds of the coal strike came today when the Office of Defense Transportation cancelled its embargo on non-essential rail freight effective Monday and General Motors Corp. scrapped plans to shut down Monday.

Government negotiators were driving hard to effect permanent settlement of the strike before the end of a two week truce period.

Already the country is in the grip of the worst labor crisis since the sidown strikes of the last decade.

The two-week truce called by President John L. Lewis of the striking United Mine Workers—AFL—will prevent the collapse of essential industries.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Col. J. Monroe Johnson, defense transportation director, today suspended the ODT embargo on all non-essential rail freight shipments.

The suspension is effective at midnight tomorrow.

The embargo which became effective yesterday, banned the freight shipments—except for essential items such as perishable foods, coal and coke—on all coal-burning railroads.

Johnson also suspended an order which would have further reduced railroad passenger service next Wednesday.

Johnson said that a 25 per cent restriction in passenger service and "other restrictions as to special train and special cars which went into effect May 10 will remain effective."

TOP HONOR STUDENTS ARE NAMED

Miss Wanda Myrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myrick of Route 1, Ranger, has been named valedictorian of the senior class of Ranger high school, and Miss Frances Bankston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bankston, has been named salutatorian. Announcement of the honors was made Saturday by A. W. Ward, high school principal.

Miss Myrick had an average of 92.8 for the four years work and Miss Bankston had an average of 91.4 for the four years work.

Miss Elaine Brazda, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Brazda, was third on the list of honor graduates with an average for the four years of 88.8. Miss Leola Usery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Usery was fourth with an average of 88 and Lillian Kirk was fifth with an average of 87.5.

The grades were averaged by the use of actual grades on all courses for the four years and those on the committee to decide the honors were Warford, Dr. G. C. Boswell, Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick, Mrs. Hal Hunter and Mrs. George Robinson.

Of every 1,000 persons, 15.1 got married in 1942, making the highest rate ever recorded for the United States, according to the Census.

Where Big Four Wrestle With Peace Problems

Here is the historic Palace of the Luxembourg, facing Paris' famed Luxembourg Gardens, where foreign ministers of the Big Four endeavor to frame peace treaties that will put a formal end to World War II. Built in the early 17th century for Maria de Medici, wife of Henry IV, it housed the French senate from 1879 until the German occupation, served the Germans as Paris headquarters and was used by the Consultative Assembly of French provisional government after liberation.

Nearly 5,000,000 atomic bomb equivalents, protected thousands of tablets—the wartime substitute of C¹⁴ from malaria in tropical for quinine-based on chemicals—were used during the war, derived from the steel industry's has the advantage of an initial cost of only one-tenth that of radium.

Almy said the new machine may have considerable value for electronic research, and can be used in some laboratory studies of nuclear physics.

Three of the portable machines were built during the war. The first was made in 1943 and sent to England, while another went to the Naval research laboratory in Washington. One instrument is at the university.

The machine is almost twice as powerful as the world's first betatron built by Kerst which developed more than 2,000,000 volts energy. Kerst later built another betatron 10 times more powerful, and also designed a 100,000,000 volt instrument built elsewhere.

The university now is building a betatron which Kerst expects will be the world's largest, producing more than 250,000,000 volts. A building to house it is now under construction on the campus.

Completion of the machine was pressed by the university and state officials in hopes that the betatron may be useful in the fight against cancer. This hope, scientists said, is based on the belief that the machine's ray can be directed at a particular spot without destroying other tissues it may pass through.

NEW BETATRON DEVELOPED BY ILLINOIS U.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — A "baby" betatron, packing twice the cosmic wallop of the first machine built in 1940, was developed during the war at the University of Illinois.

Details of the secret wartime development, whose radiations equal those from three grams of radium at one-tenth the cost, have been revealed by university officials. The portable betatron, which produces an x-ray beam of 4,000,000 volts was perfected by Prof. Gerald M. Almy.

It is one of the two wartime betatron developments carried out at the university under the auspices of the Office of Scientific Development. The other x-ray producer was a push-button controlled 20,000,000 volt betatron for industrial uses.

Both instruments were perfected by Almy who headed betatron work at Illinois until Prof. Donald W. Kerst, youthful inventor of the betatron, was on leave while working on the atomic bomb.

"The 'baby' betatron may be useful in industry and science," Almy said. "It can be used in place of radium for taking x-rays, and

Mother Recovers From Childbirth In Record Time

Herbert D. Hinkle of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is justly proud of his newly born daughter, Pamela, who was just 12 hours and 15 minutes old when this picture was made. Mrs. Hinkle, who is preparing supper, was up and around just a half hour after the child was born. Mr. Hinkle, who delivered one of his other two children, was the only attendant at Pamela's birth. DREAM FARM COMES TRUE ON WRITER'S FAITH IN BOOK

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—Thirty miles northwest of here is a dream come true.

It is the 130 acres of farmland with the nine room white house and the big white barn. It represents 18 years of heart-break, work and torture—but it also represents peace, contentment and success.

The place belongs to Mary Jane Ward and her husband Edward Quayle. For the first writing Mary Jane Ward ever sold, she got $10. That was the beginning. The end is yet to come—but this year she has received more than $100,000 from her first success, "The Snake Pit," a Book-of-the-Month Selection and one of the most unusual books ever written.

The story is Mary Jane Ward's own. It is the tale of an author, depressed by failure, ridden with fear, who suffers a mental breakdown and spends almost two years in a sanitarium. Its title is taken from the hospital term for shock treatment.

"My agent turned the book down," Miss Ward said recently. "He said no one would buy it. But my husband had faith in it—and so did I."

The next time Miss Ward sent the manuscript out, it was sold. Random House bought it. Then success piled upon success—the book club bought rights to it, Hollywood decided to make a picture of it, foreign publishers started bidding for translation rights.

So Mary Jane Ward and her statistical husband bought their dream, the dream that began when the first $10 check came in.

"We were so very poor," Miss Ward related. "I wrote a recipe for meat loaf out of my head because we couldn't buy any meat loaf to try it out—but it won the newspaper prize. What a feast we had on the $10 prize—hamburger steak, and a party. It was that night, in the candlelight, that we vowed that when we got rich we'd buy a farm and raise our own steak and chops."

They've started with 25 cows, a thoroughbred bull, 100 hens, two litters of pigs and already they have three new-born calves.

Quayle runs the farm; Mary Jane Ward does the housework. "A writer," she said, "needs exercise."

New York City has made $825,000 available on loan to the New York Housing Authority to prepare sites for the temporary warhousing that it is bringing into the city.

Stone Hunters Seek Stylish Turquoise

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—The fashioned degree from New York and Hollywood that blue was the accessory color of the year had reverberations "way out on the lonely Nevada desert."

The style pace for blue sent semi-precious stone hunters scurrying over the desert, looking for blue stones for costume jewelry. W. M. Brown, president of the southern Nevada mineralogical society, said jewelry manufacturers want blue stones to match ensembles this year.

"So we're all digging for variscite and turquoise again" he said. The fashion for blue has boosted the price of turquoise to $100 a pound. A few years ago, it brought only a few cents.

Detroit city employees now work a straight 40-hour week and get 15 per cent more pay. Administrative and civil workers of Tacoma, Wash., also have been put on a five-day week.

TWO RANGER VETERANS GO BACK TO ARMY

Stacy L. Kim and George L. Campbell of Ranger were two of the first men in this area to join the U. S. Regular Army under a new policy which authorizes enlistment with rating on the basis of previous training and experience.

Kim was enlisted under his former MOS as a rifleman, one of nearly 400 classifications now open to ex-soldiers who were discharged on or after 12 May, 1945. He leaves immediately for active duty with the Army Air Forces. Campbell also chose the Air Force Corps for his branch of service and is returning as a Tec 5, which was his rank when discharged. His special military qualification is an ammunition worker and it entitled him to reenlist with Tec 5 as his permanent rank.

Capt. Wayne Hall, commanding officer of the Eastland U. S. Army Recruiting Station explained that many ratings are now open to former GIs up to staff and technical sergeant. Rank is determined by the length of time spent in any one of the classifications available, he said.

This policy does not conflict with the Army's offer to men who have been discharged within the past three months. Any veteran may still reenlist in the Regular Army, regardless of classification, and retain the rank held at the time of release. He must, however, act within three months after discharge.

The new regulation particularly benefits those men who have been out of the service for more than three months, as was the case of these two veterans. Kim was discharged January 3, 1946, and Campbell on December 8, 1945.

Pvt. Kim, an ex-student of Ranger High School, had over two years of service with the Infantry, and served overseas in the European theatre. He was decorated with the Distinguished Unit Badge, World War II Victory Medal, American Theatre Campaign Medal, EAME Campaign Medal with 3 Bronze Stars, and the Purple Heart.

Tec 5 Campbell, who was working as a carpenter in Ranger, had three years prior service with the Air Corps and was also in the ETO. His decorations included the World War II Victory Medal, American Theatre Campaign Medal, and the EAME Campaign Medal.

FISH TRAP LURES RATS
BAMBERG, S. C. (UP)— The world may soon beat a path to door of Bamberg's S. D. Bishop who built a better mousetrap but by accident.

What Bishop was really making was a fish trap. He left it overnight at the feed store where it is employed, baited and ready a tryout.

Next morning he found rats in the trap—and within a few days he caught 19 more.

The Lesson - Sermon also in-the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves

PUBLIC SCHOOL FLYING COURSE BEGUN IN WEST

COALINGA, Cal. (UP) — The first non-tuition public school aviation course in the Western United States has started at Coalinga Junior College, Earl Granham Smith, junior college co-ordinator, announced.
Smith, who organized the course said the four students enrolled were progressing rapidly. He emphasized that in pioneering public school education in flying, the local institution was not seeking to enter the field of commercial aviation training.
"This is the air age," Smith said. "The field of aviation is an important branch of knowledge, and school officials believe the new course will give students a broader intellectual outlook."
He expressed the belief that the training was of value to the community in that there was a pensioning need for "a body of citizens who have first-hand knowledge of a subject which will create serious future problems in regulation, city and county planning and economic development."
Jay Stanton, a former Army flier, was named instructor of the four student class. Students listed were John Heaton, Malcolm Apple, Robert Bruckner and Gordon Schweitzer, all of Coalinga.
Each will receive 10 hours of dual flying with the instructor and 30 hours of solo flying. Three units of college credits will be given for the 40 hours.
Smith said another three units would be given for 50 hours of ground school, which included fundamentals of meteorology, navigation, aerodynamics and civil air regulations.
In conjunction with the course is a Coalinga High School class in aviation mechanics, which includes four hours of dual flying.
Smith explained.
He said any regularly enrolled student could take the college course if he passed a physical examination required by the federal government for prospective air pilots and have proved by four hours of privately taken dual flight training that he was capable of training as a pilot.

REMEMBER
THIS SUNDAY

The heart of the home; the
solace of sorrow;
the joy of joys—
your Mother

THIS Sunday your Mother will want you with her. For this Sunday is Mother's Day
... a day when you can express to her your love. Let this day stand out in her memories. Give her some little gift that symbolizes your love and appreciation. Watch her smile, her eyes ... and you will know that she is thanking you, not for the gift alone, but for the moments of happiness you have brought into her life. And she'll be doubly happy to know that you have not forgotten
her. Remember your mother this Sunday.
