Well...
I Dunno,
But...

As a booster for Ranger, Ethel Brooke Gilmore is tireless and through her efforts, Ranger is written up in PLANE NEWS a Washington, D. C., semi-monthly publication devoted to aeronautics.

Mrs. Gilmore clipped recent article from the Times concerning the Odessa-Dallas airlines service available to the citizens which was published in full and to which she added the following:

"Ranger is well-known to pilots, not because it was once the 'City of Flowing Gold,' but on account of the neon lighted derrick that stands at the entrance of Main St., and is the type of sign post that the Civil Aeronautics Administration has asked small and large towns to erect to aid airman spot the country they are flying over.

The Derrick is a thing of great beauty by night, visible for many miles. The uprights are lighted green and on top in large red neon lettering is the name of our town, Ranger."

And as Editor Clements of the Ft. Worth Press reminded us in his comment recently, "there's nothing like publicity."

Things have a strange way of coming home and about the oddest story along that line came to our attention this week.

Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin received a lovely old chest, mirror and table which had been in her girlhood home in Illinois, through a strange string of events. During her girlhood, a man by the name of Wadsworth worked for her father in Illinois. Years passed and the McLaughlins came to Ranger when the oil boom struck here. Not long afterward in came the Wadsworths and the acquaintance of years before was renewed. On visiting in the Wadsworth home, Mrs. McLaughlin discovered the identity of the pieces and the promise was made that they should be hers on the death of the owner.

In keeping with the promise of the late Mrs. Mattie Wadsworth, who died recently in Breckenridge, the pieces have been delivered and what a story they could tell if they could talk. Before coming to Texas, they traveled from Pennsylvania to California, back to Illinois and then to Texas. All this, following with their owners, various booms of the era.

Incidentally, Mrs. Wadsworth and Mrs. McLaughlin's mother, Mrs. Jessie W. Pickell, now of Tulsa, organized the Sorosis Club in Bridgeport, Illinois, which was the club that started federated women's clubs in the United States.

A Red Cross item which came to our attention on Wednesday drives home the desolate circumstances of peoples in war torn countries and the plenty of our land. Production workers are now leaving basting threads in relief garments because the war victims overseas are grateful even for these small bits of precious sewing thread.

This came to the attention of the public when a newspaper columnist pointed that the Red Cross window display of war relief garments had been sloppily done because of the basting threads still in the garments. He promptly got the reason from the Red Cross.

B. E. Garner is very busy and interested with the reconstruction of his Interstate Connellee theatre in Eastland. But all you have to do to shove him in the dumps is mention those "six elephants."

Eastland residents, proud of the legend of the stage shows that were brought to the Connellee years ago, are prone to prod Garner with stories of the past and the one they seem to like best is to remind him of the show in which six elephants were brought onto the Connellee stage, all at the same time. It's getting to be an old story with Garner, but one thing about it, no one has ever (Continued on page six)

Do You Know?

That the largest oil well in the Ranger Field was the T. P. Coal & Oil Company's G. E. Norwood No. 1, the initial flow being 11,000 barrels per day? The well was located about two miles north of Olden.

Railroad Negotiations Halted Again

Corpus Christi, Texas, Starts Cleanup Of City

Corpus Christi, the second city in Texas to feel the weight of a strange malady, starts to cleanup the city as a preventative measure. First on the list came garbage and refuse, which is usually dumped near the outskirts of the city. Here, a worker spreads oil on a pile of rubbish before he sets fire to it. Oil is used to insure its complete destruction when it is burned. (NEA Telephoto).

TWENTY-SEVEN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

RICHMOND, Va. (UP) — A chartered airliner, operating without any federal supervision whatever, crashed in dense woods five miles from Richmond today, killing 25 passengers and crew of two.

Most of the bodies were burned beyond recognition as the old two-engine C-47 transport, said to have been a bucket seat model such as the Army used during the war, caught fire after the impact had torn and twisted it to a ruined heap of metal.

The plane, owned by the Viking Airlines of Glendale, Cal., was reportedly enroute from Newark, N. J., to Miami, Fla., on a chartered flight.

The blackened and broken bodies could be reached only by tractor-drawn farm wagons that bulldozed their way across the soggy farmland, softened by days of intermittent rain.

The pilot took off from the Richmond airport but 40 miles south of the city radioed the field control tower he was having engine trouble and was returning.

The weather was bad, and regular commercial airliners by that time had already messaged all pilots to bypass Richmond.

SELLERS FOR EXPANSION STATE HIGHWAY PATROL

EL PASO, May 16 — Attorney General Sellers revealed another plank in his gubernatorial platform here Wednesday night, when he told a group of supporters he will campaign for expansion of the State Highway Patrol as a means of cutting down the Texas traffic toll.

Declaring traffic accidents will cost Texas an estimated 3,000 lives, 100,000 injuries and $100,000,000 in economic loss this year, Sellers said he will advocate:

1. More driver's license examiners and a more rigid enforcement of the law requiring operators to have licenses.
 2. More (at least 200 additional) highway patrolmen to cover the 28,000 miles of highways in 254 counties.
 3. Department of Public Safety assistance in public school driving instruction courses.
- The Hopkins County candidate for governor said the present force of 80 license examiners is inadequate to properly care for applicants, and blamed the shortage for the fact that half the state's drivers were estimated to be unlicensed at the end of the war. The situation, frequently causes working men to lay off a

ROTC UNIT RECOMMENDED FOR RANGER

Dr. G. C. Boswell has announced that Ranger Junior College has been recommended for an R.O.T.C. unit and it is hoped that the recommendation will have been approved by fall.

Maj. R. L. Roberts of the Eighth Service Command in Dallas and Maj. C. R. Gibson of the 4th Army at San Antonio were at Ranger Wednesday and have made the recommendation.

Both men expressed themselves as being well pleased with the set up for a unit here. They inspected drill and maneuver grounds and the building where the office will be set up.

Although the course would be a junior college one, high school boys 14 and over are eligible for the class. Five hours instruction each week will be given and will take the place of the physical education course. Military credit for as much as three years can be earned.

If the unit is brought here it will be the only one in this section and approximately $22,000 worth of equipment will be furnished the unit. Boys will be furnished uniforms and rifles by the government.

day or more from their jobs in order to obtain licenses, he said.

"We ought to encourage drivers to comply with the law instead of making it difficult," he said. "The state itself may be to blame for some of the unsafe cars and drivers on the roads."

Sellers also termed as "obviously inadequate" the force of 250 patrolmen and 34 officers for the entire state, and said statistics show that regular patrolling of highways cuts down the number of accidents.

Sellers quoted Public Safety Director Homer Garrison as saying that regular patrolling of the Fort Worth - Dallas Pike reduced the number of traffic deaths from 34 in one year to eight the next year.

Eastland won first place in the "Small Town Improvement Contest" sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and the West, East and South Texas Chambers of Commerce, which began in April, 1945 and ended in April, 1946. The contest will last five years.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce also presented the Club with a prize. Mrs. Mame Roberts of Howe, was the State Chairman of the Small Town Improvement Contest.

Mrs. Horton "urges the citizens to take more interest than ever in keeping up appearances and improving, as we may be inspected at any time, and we will be on the spot."

DR. WIER, HEALTH OFFICER, ISSUES STATEMENT ON POLIO

In view of the concern felt at the present over the polio threat in Texas, Dr. A. K. Wier, Ranger city health officer has issued the following statement to the public.

"Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Stringent sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the house-fly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Suitable garbage containers should be kept covered. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to promote and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor swimming.

All swimming pools should, under rigid supervision, maintain

DATA BEING GATHERED FOR BOOK ON VETS

Fred Elsing, representative of the Universal Publishing Company in Dallas, is now in Ranger collecting data for a book on Eastland county service men and women of World War II.

The book will contain pictures of servicemen and women of the county along with information concerning them. Material will be collected at the Ranger Furniture Exchange and it is hoped that every service man and woman in the county can be included in the volume.

There is absolutely no cost attached to getting the picture and information in the book. The book has been approved by the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. It is a beautifully bound and compiled book and a historical record of value to the people of the county.

Elsing says that they are using every possible means of getting the material and has asked that the people of the town and county cooperate in taking pictures and information to the headquarters at the Ranger Furniture Exchange.

Elsing will be in the county from Thursday, May 16 to June 1 and hopes to have every service man and woman included in his data by that time.

SEIZURE MAY COME WITHIN NEXT TWENTY FOUR HOURS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Federal seizure of the nation's railroads within the next 24 hours appeared likely today when labor management negotiations broke down again.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Civilian production administrator, John D. Small, today called for emergency legislation to outlaw strikes for six months.

Alvanley Johnson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said after a futile 45 minute conference with the carriers that the strike set for Monday "will come off as sure as shooting."

President Truman has said he would seize the lines to avert a crippling strike.

The strike has been set by Johnson's union and the Brotherhood of Trainmen headed by A. F. Whitney.

TRUMAN ASKS ARBITRATION IN COAL STRIKE

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman today asked the deadlocked miners and soft coal operators to submit their dispute to arbitration.

The president announced his request at a news conference after talking briefly with John L. Lewis, president of the mine union and Charles O'Neill, representing the operators.

They told him that their negotiations had collapsed and that further sessions would be "useless."

Mr. Truman said he then proposed arbitration and asked them to report back to him late this afternoon. The President said they left to discuss his proposal with their respective organizations.

Unusually serious and openly worried, Mr. Truman said the nation was in "desperate straits" because of the work stoppage in coal.

He proposed to the miners and the operators that each side submit their basic differences to an arbitrator, with the miners remaining at work during the period of arbitration—even after the present two-week truce expires May 25.

Those from Ranger attending were Bob Hansford and Carl Christian, both veterans of the war and Mrs. Hansford and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Sam McCleskey of Dallas.

Predicts Child Welfare Trend To Public Care

CHICAGO (UP) — A pronounced shift from private to public sponsorship of child welfare is predicted by the American Public Welfare Assn.

The trend toward public care the past decade, an association report said, when a 36 per cent increase in public care was made.

During the same period, the foster care of children by private agencies declined 18 per cent, the report said.

The association believes the trend is founded on two principles: 1. That the foundation of all child welfare is the preservation of family life. 2. That permanent government responsibility must be accepted

Bottle Cast Adrift Found 8 Years Later

SEATTLE (UP) — Ten years ago, 15-year-old Naoma Sheehan wrote a note and cast it off into the waters of Puget Sound in a pickle bottle.

Today, she has an answer to that note. It was written by a recently-discharged sailor who found her pickle bottle in May, 1944, on the beach of Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

Miss Sheehan, who is now Mrs. Naoma Hockinson, wrote on the note: "July 1, 1936, 7:30 p. m. Naoma Sheehan, 1411 N. 51st Street. Whoever finds this bottle, write me a letter."

W. A. Messersmith of Red Bluff Cal., recently discharged from the Navy, wrote to Mrs. Hockinson the other day, telling her that he was on the cruiser Reno when between operations in May, 1944, the ship put into the Marshall Islands for fuel and stores.

"I had a couple hours' liberty, so went down on the beach to collect shells. I picked up a pickle bottle to carry the shells, but because it was all covered with tar and too dirty to carry with me, I tossed it down."

"When it hit a stone, it broke and your note fell out."

Messersmith asked for an answer to his letter, and Mrs. Hockinson said she will write him soon.

"I cast away many bottles while the family was out camping when I was a little girl," she said, "but this is the first answer I have ever received."

It looks like a giant California redwood tree, but anyone who makes that guess is going 'way out on a limb. To see what the picture really shows, turn it on its left side. It's a springtime scene in Victoria Park, Kitchener, Ontario, taken by N. C. Schneider, local packhouse, executive and amateur photographer.

Arkansas—200 miles from the Gulf of Mexico and 600 miles from the Atlantic Ocean—has one of the largest oyster shell beds in the world near Forrest City. The shells are nearly 7,000,000 cubic yards in extent and furnish the raw materials for a profitable button factory.

FOR the bridal buffet, or for any other buffet where delicacy of flavor, beauty of appearance, and no strain on sugar are important, here's a fine new suggestion.

Pineapple and Cucumber Salad (Serves 6)

One envelope plain unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 1/4 cup hot water, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 3/4 cup pineapple syrup, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup crushed pineapple pieces, 1 cup chopped cucumber.

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add sugar, vinegar, pineapple syrup, lemon juice, and salt, and stir until dissolved. Cool, and, when nearly set, stir in pineapple and cucumber. Turn into mold that has been rinsed in cold water and chill.

When firm, unmold on salad greens and garnish with mayonnaise that has been mixed with an equal amount of whipped cream. Sprinkle with chopped candied cherries or fresh strawberries.

Corn en Casserole (Serves 8)

Two tablespoons chopped green pepper, 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 3 tablespoons butter or other fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 1/4 cups milk, 1 1/2 cups 40% bran flakes or

(In Accord With FEC Program)

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, corn flakes, whole wheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Toasted peanut butter and chopped bacon sandwiches, open-faced lettuce and tomato sandwiches, strawberries and sliced bananas, cream, tea, milk.

DINNER: Cold cuts, mashed potatoes, corn en casserole, green salad, pineapple, custard sauce or cream, coffee, milk.

2 cups corn flakes, 2 cups canned whole kernel corn, drained, 1 egg, well beaten.

Place green pepper, onion, and 2 tablespoons butter or other fat in saucepan and cook gently until tender. Add flour and seasonings and stir until smooth. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Crush 3/4 cup of the flakes; add with corn and egg to creamed mixture.

Turn into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole or 6 greased custard cups. Melt remaining 1 tablespoon butter or other fat and pour over remaining 3/4 cup flakes. Toss lightly to mix. Sprinkle over top of corn. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 minutes for casserole and about 20 minutes for custard cups.

SPECIAL cake flours are out for the time being. Fats and sugar are scarce.

But here's a recipe that solves that problem handsomely, using the new 80 per cent extraction flour.

Cardamon Layer Cake with Pastel Frosting

Two cardamon capsules, 2 cups enriched flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup fortified margarine, 3/4 cup sugar, 3/4 cup light corn syrup or light (delicately flavored) molasses, 2 eggs, separated, approximately 1 cup milk.

Remove the little black seeds from the cardamon capsules, then crush these seeds slightly (the easiest way to do this is to put the seeds between a bit of muslin or the edge of a clean tea towel and crush them with the broad handle of a knife).

Add to flour, baking powder, salt and sift together. Cream margarine; add sugar gradually, and add corn syrup. Beat well.

Add egg yolks one at a time, and beat until puffy with air. Then fold in quickly the sifted dry ingredients, alternately with the milk, about 1/4 of each at a time. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites last.

Grease and line with paper two 9-inch layer cake pans. Divide batter between the two pans. Bake in quick oven (375 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Cool and put together with pastel frosting or simply put the two layers together with generous spread of tart jelly, the sprinkle top lightly with powdered or confectioner's sugar.

Pastel Jelly Frosting. One-half cup jelly, dash salt, 1/2 teaspoon powdered alspice, 1 egg white, unbeaten.

Place jelly in small bowl and set over hot water. Add egg white, salt and beat with rotator; egg beater until jelly is lump-free. Remove from fire and continue beating until mixture is stiff enough to stand in peaks.

IS your Sunday dinner menu a problem? Then you'll welcome the advice of this column's old friend, Mrs. Frances Foley Gannon, Director of the Department of Markets, Consumers' Service of New York. She suggests these two menus and two recipes:

Dutch Potato Salad Four slices of bacon, chopped, 1 small onion, chopped, 1/4 cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons tomato juice, 3 tablespoons sugar, 3 cups diced cooked potatoes, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Fry bacon, add onion and brown lightly. Stir in vinegar, tomato juice, sugar, salt. Bring to a boil. Add potatoes and parsley; heat through and serve on salad greens. Serves 6.

Sunday Menu: Roast rolled lamb shoulder, browned rice, broccoli rabe, cabbage, celery, and raisin salad, prune whip pie, milk, coffee.

Prune Whip Pie with Graham Cracker Crust One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 3/4 cup hot prune juice, 1 cup cooked prune pulp, 2 tablespoons lemon juice,

DINNER: Boiled tongue or halibut, tomato sauce, buttered field greens (such as dandelion), parsley new potatoes, radishes and scallions, cardamon layer cake with pastel frosting, coffee, milk.

25 minutes. Cool and put together with pastel frosting or simply put the two layers together with generous spread of tart jelly, the sprinkle top lightly with powdered or confectioner's sugar.

Pastel Jelly Frosting. One-half cup jelly, dash salt, 1/2 teaspoon powdered alspice, 1 egg white, unbeaten.

Place jelly in small bowl and set over hot water. Add egg white, salt and beat with rotator; egg beater until jelly is lump-free. Remove from fire and continue beating until mixture is stiff enough to stand in peaks.

(In Accord With FEC Program)

BREAKFAST: Stewed strawberries, ready-to-eat cereal, ham omelet, oatmeal muffins, butter or fortified margarine, jelly, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Roast chicken with watercrest stuffing, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes with browned cheese top, buttered asparagus, sliced tomatoes, prune whip pie with graham cracker crust, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Creamed chicken and mushrooms on rye toast, garden salad, home-canned fruit, gingerbread, tea, milk.

4 to 6 tablespoons sugar, 2 egg whites, 1/2 cup nuts, chopped, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add sugar, salt, and hot prune juice and stir until dissolved. Add prune pulp and lemon juice. Cool.

When mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into pie plate containing a graham cracker crust which is made by combining 1 1/4 cups finely crushed graham crackers, 1/4 cup melted fat, 3 tablespoons sugar (optional), 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Line a greased 8-inch pie tin with this mixture. After you have added prune whip, chill.

Washington State Leads In Pheasant Raising

SEATTLE (UP) — Available figures show the Washington state game department is raising and releasing more Chinese pheasants than any other game department in the United States. The department last year raised more than 42,000 birds and this year expects to top that mark by 15,000 or 20,000, Game Director Don W. Clarke said.

Success of the department's program is bringing an increasing number of requests from other departments for information concerning methods employed in this state, Clarke said.

The International City Managers Assn., reported that over 600 public works projects will be started by 369 small cities this year.

Railway Society Has Big Day On Trolleys
BOSTON (UP) — The first postwar tour of the Boston Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society was a whopping success. About 100 members showed up for the all-day trolley ride on the Boston Elevated Railway system.

In the morning they rode on one of the oldest cars—built in 1911. Then in the afternoon the members shifted to a streamlined model known as P.C.C. (presidential conference car)—air-conditioned and noiseless.

President of the chapter is Henry B. Brainerd of Wellesley. He wore the ancient uniform cap of the Seashore electric railway—a line that has long been out of existence. His wife, however, refused to go along on the air-conditioned car, giving up her seat to members of the Province, R. L. Hartford, Conn., and New Haven, Conn., chapters who came here just for the trip.

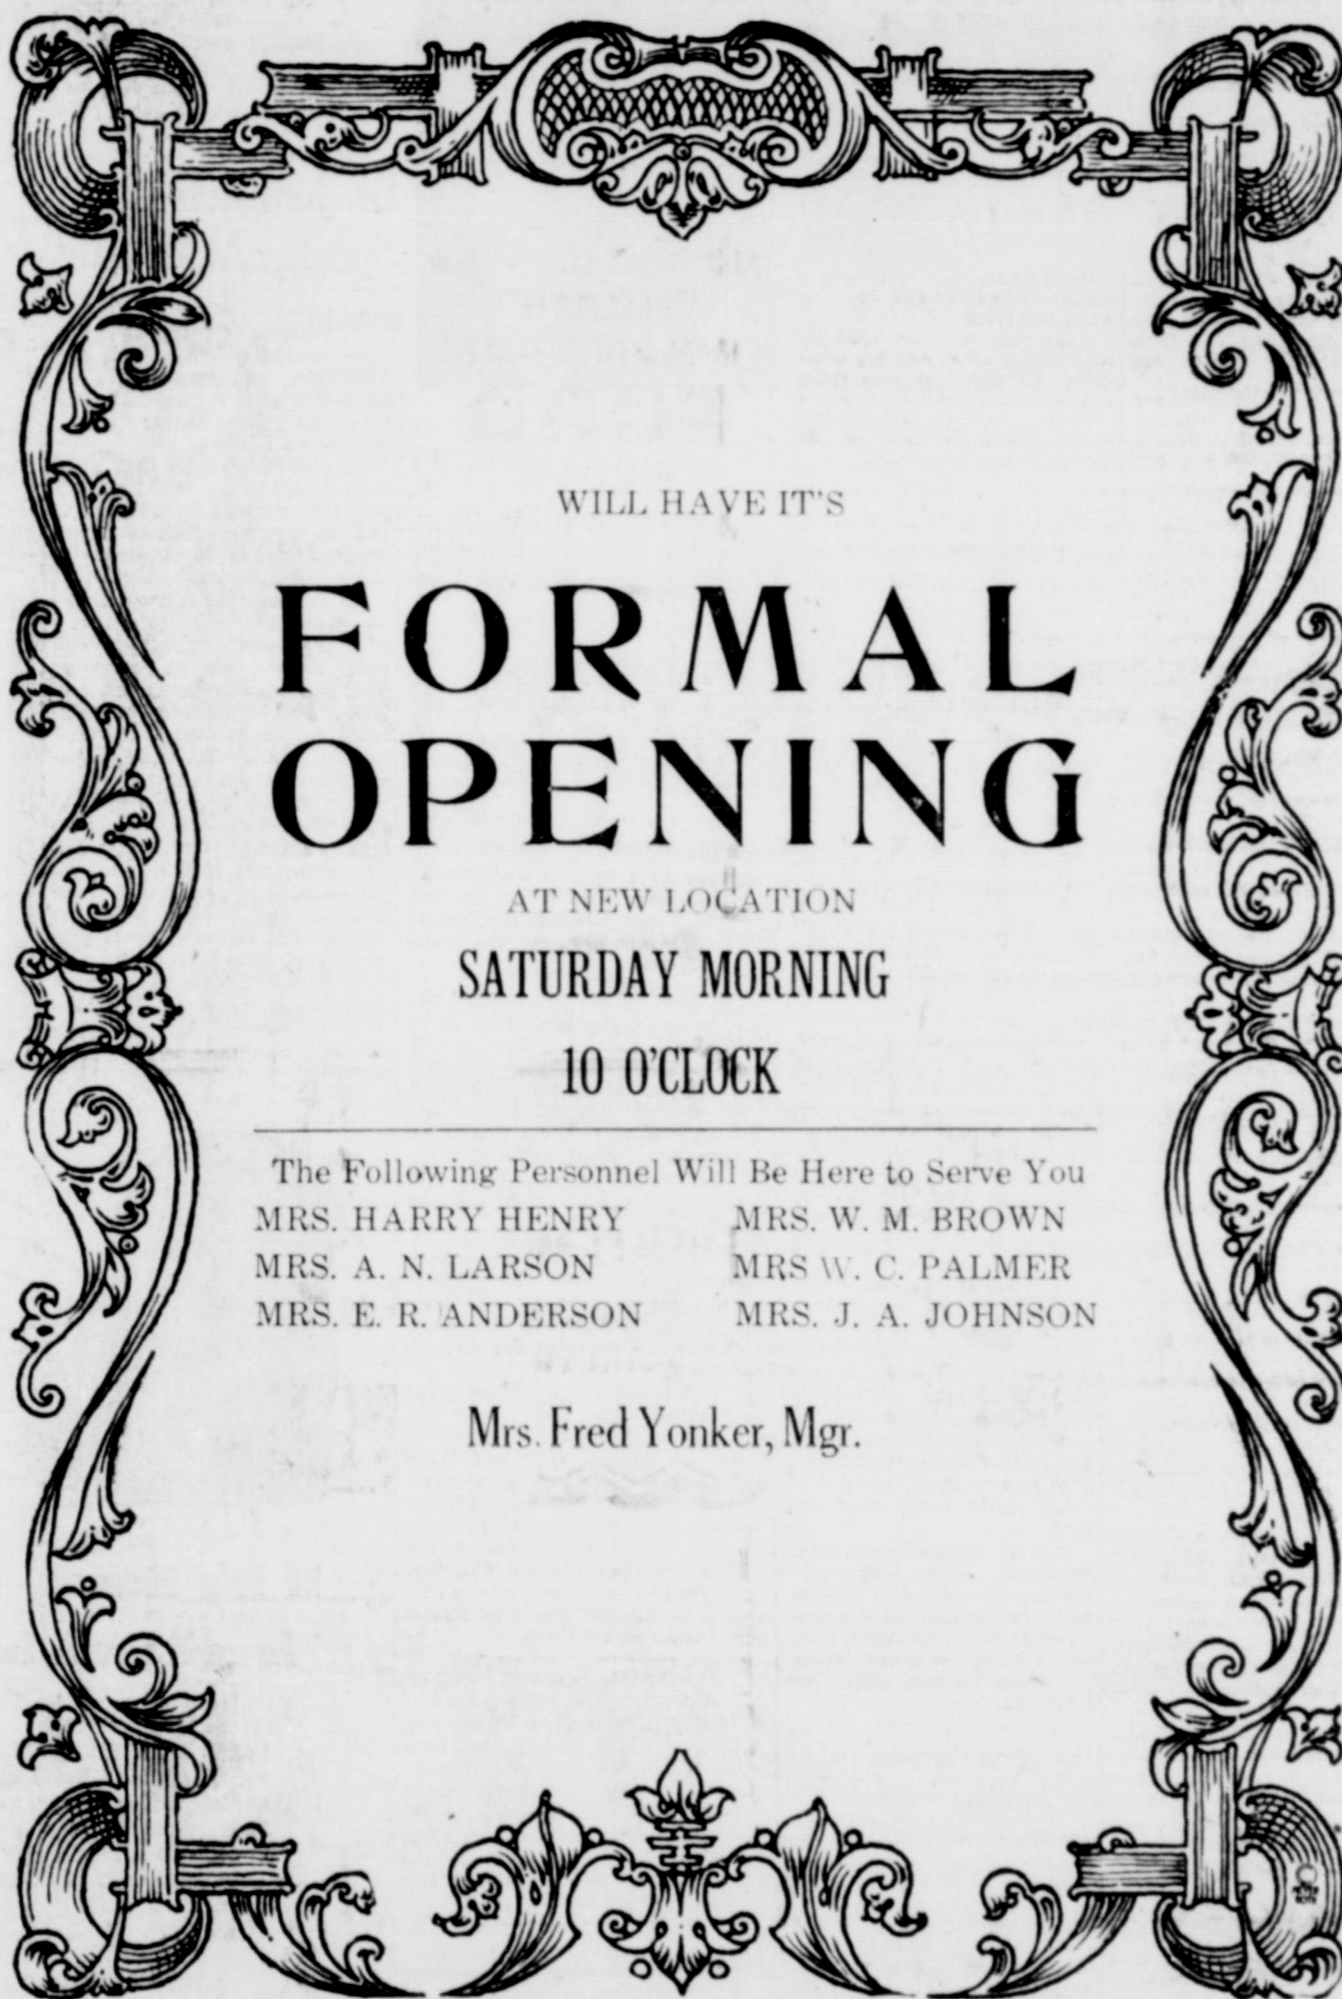

Unlike other big game species, antelope range the open prairies almost exclusively.

Texan Keeps Vigil By Daughter In Boston

Marion Ingram, farmer from Henrietta, Texas, visits with his seven-year-old daughter, Shirley, at Brigham Hospital in Boston, Mass. Shirley was stricken with a heart ailment which could not be cured at their home. Her father cashed all his assets and drove his truck to Boston with his wife, Shirley and two other children. He keeps a 24-hour vigil over the child by staying in his truck parked outside of the hospital. (NEA Telephoto).

sick child. Cases should be isolated for 14 days and adults, who work in food establishments should be particularly instructed in personal hygiene. Cases should be reported early and should be placed under the care of a licensed physician. For cases that are entitled to state aid, communications should be made to the Crippled Children's Division of the Texas State Department of Health. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches and theaters be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

Safety Suggestions for the Individual and Home

1. Avoid sudden chilling, such as would result from a plunge into extremely cold water.
2. Wash hands thoroughly before eating.
3. If possible, avoid tonsil and adenoid operations during epidemics.
4. Observe scrupulous cleanliness of the person; frequent bathing is advocated.
5. Immaculate clean clothes are important.
6. Oral hygiene with thorough brushing of the teeth and the use of a mild antiseptic mouth wash are recommended.
7. The nasal passage should be kept clean.
8. Dental defects should be corrected.
9. All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before using.
10. All foods should be protected from flies, larks, and insects.
11. In the home dishes should be washed in hot soapy water and rinsed in very hot clear water.
12. Sinks, bath tubs, and other plumbing fixtures should be scoured clean and rinsed with an antiseptic solution.
13. Bedding should be sunned and aired frequently.
14. Ridding the home of flies, rats and roaches.

He has made application for another building for the junior college. This time it's for an eight room house which will be made into a classroom building. The application hasn't been approved as yet, but we're betting on him and further more, we'll bet that if he has his way War Surplus will be out of business before too long.

Vacation Bible School To Open Sunday Morning

Rev. Wallace N. Dunson, pastor of the First Methodist church, announced today that the church's Vacation Bible School will open Sunday morning at the 9:45 a. m. Sunday school and will continue through Sunday, May 26.

Weekly sessions will be held each week day afternoon from 4:00 to 5:30 o'clock at the church and all children of the church and others who are interested are invited to attend.

The school will be formally closed with Children's Day program at the evening service hour on May 26.

Rev. Dunson stated that a big attendance is expected at the school and asked the cooperation of the parents with the school program.

Dr. Johnston Is Speaker At Meeting

Dr. Warren Johnston was the guest speaker at the monthly all-fellowship meeting at the First Methodist church Wednesday night and spoke on the subject, "If I Were a Layman."

Dr. Johnston stated that if he were a layman he would not expect his minister to be perfect. That he would ask that he be understanding and sympathetic to all, favoring no one group.

He further said that as a layman he would not expect his minister to preach a great sermon every service, but to have comfort and instruction in his sermons. That his minister was educated that he would expect and that he also be the most neatly dressed man in town.

One of the largest crowds to attend one of the fellowship meetings was present Wednesday night. Preceding the talk, supper was served from a rectangular arrangement of banquet tables decorated with larkspur, sweet peas, carnations and daisies.

Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Johnston and Mr. and Mrs.

POI-EATERS LET OTHERS BATTLE OVER SHORTAGE

HONOLULU, T. H. (UP) The poi situation on Oahu is so bad it has territorial and federal officers in a state of confusion and Honoluluans of Hawaiian ancestry sleeping on the sidewalks.

When a local newspaper recently revealed that Hawaiian families were sleeping in line all night to get their daily rations of poi, consternation broke out. That is, it broke out among all concerned except the poi-eaters—no other dietary description adequately fits the Hawaiians, whose chief victuals since long before Captain Cook discovered the islands has been the gray, gooey substance made from taro roots.

It seems no one else knew poi was hard to get until the newspaper carried pictures of white families of Hawaiians bedded down on the sidewalks, so as to be on hand when the grocery stores opened. Poi supplies were disappearing from the stores early each day and a voluntary rationing program had been adopted by grocers.

Thereafter there was controversy.

The poi manufacturers said the territorial health laws were unnecessarily rigid. But George K. Akau, territorial food commissioner, said, "It is improbable that the poi law imposes such a hardship on manufacturers as to curtail production."

One newspaper editorial hinted that the blame lay with the OPA. Kleber R. Miller, OPA information executive, bounced right back.

"Until now we have had no intimation of dissatisfaction among manufacturers or distributors," he said. The 12-cent a pound ceiling price is higher than before the war, he pointed out.

No Ralph C. Elliott, agricultural economist at the University of Hawaii, chimed in to declare taro farmers are turning to other crops as a result of the tidal wave destruction and price restrictions.

A roundup of views by "old-timers" indicated the fault was all the manufacturers'. They held the prices down so long that farmers quit raising taro when the war created plenty of jobs for them to turn to the anonymous "old-timers."

Proof that the situation was bad came from Hilo, where E. E. Martin, member of the county board of supervisors, instructed a delegation headed for Washington to seek $50,000,000 federal aid for the victims of the tidal wave disaster of April 1, as follows:

"If you don't come back with the money, at least come back with some poi."

Meanwhile, the poi-eaters have stayed out of the controversy. They just continued to pack the whole family downtown each night to sleep in front of the grocery store.

Ordinarily, poi is served three different ways: one-finger poi, thick enough that one finger in the community bowl will bring forth a mouthful; two-finger poi, which is a little thinner, and three-finger poi, which non-Hawaiians spoon. The Hawaiians fear that if they spread it much further, spoons will be the only answer. To a Hawaiian that would be almost as bad as eating bread.

LINEMAN DOUSES FIRE
ALBANY, Ore. (UP) — It was a lucky thing for Tom Brown that Lineman M. J. Tyer, of a local power company, had his pole spurs along when Brown's house caught fire. Tyer, who is also a volunteer fire department captain, just climbed to the roof with the aid of his spurs and doused the fire with a garden hose.
