Well ...
I Dunno,
But ...

Whether or not Ranger gets a National Guard Unit will probably be decided tonight at a meeting to be held at the American Legion Hall at 8:00 o'clock.

The unit would mean a great deal to Ranger. It would bring a considerable payroll and eventually will have government built permanent headquarters.

The first requirement to be met is an enlistment of 55 men and that will have to be accomplished before any further steps can be taken. One drill will be held each week and that time is very little to give considering the benefits that the unit will bring to the town.

All veterans and others interested should make it a point to be at the meeting tonight and lend their support to the move.

Two brighteners of the week in state politics include:

(1) Complaint of newspapermen that no one thought to ask State Democratic Chairman Harry Seay of Dallas if he will vote for J. E. McDonald for Commissioner of Agriculture if McDonald wins the Democratic nomination in the primary elections.

(2) A girl visitor to Mrs. Crosby's restaurant in Villa Acuna across the Rio Grande from Del Rio, Texas, still remained a loyal supporter of the Senior United States Senator from Texas when she crossed the border. When the waiter asked her what she wanted to drink she replied, "A Tom Connally." She got a Tom Collins.

Ranger Elks who worked so hard to raise their quota of funds for crippled children's hospital at Ottine, will be glad to know that the city of Gonzales has given title to the forty acres of park land in connection with the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

In the past it had not received its due share of the funds gathered nationally to combat polio because of the legal aspect but now that the title has been cleared for the foundation it is free to go ahead with its important work.

To transfer the property it was necessary to hold an election. In the election there were but seven votes against the foundation.

Local Elks will tell you that they do more for charity work than any other organization and certainly the hospital is not the least of these and many will be benefited by its treatments.

Heard a softball fan complaining today about the conduct of children at the games, and it isn't any fun to go out to see the game and not only be disturbed by the children, but have them crawl all over you, too. We would suggest that as a remedy, that parents of children thus conducting themselves be sent a bill for the dry-cleaning job resulting from muddy footprints of the brats. Our guess is that it wouldn't take but one bill to stir the parents to action.

Floating Hangar To House Seaplanes

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A "floating hangar," believed to be the only one of its kind in the country, was installed at the Dravosburg seaplane base recently.

The $35,000 hangar, designed jointly by river and aviation men, will shelter 15 seaplanes and is large enough to accommodate any seaplane in operation today.

The hangar weighs 161 tons, but displaces only 11 inches of water. It is 125 feet long and 45 feet wide, and has an entrance 45 feet long and 15 feet high.

The barge consists of eight bulkheads sealed separately for extra protection against river mishaps. A complete repair shop will be included aboard the barge hangar.

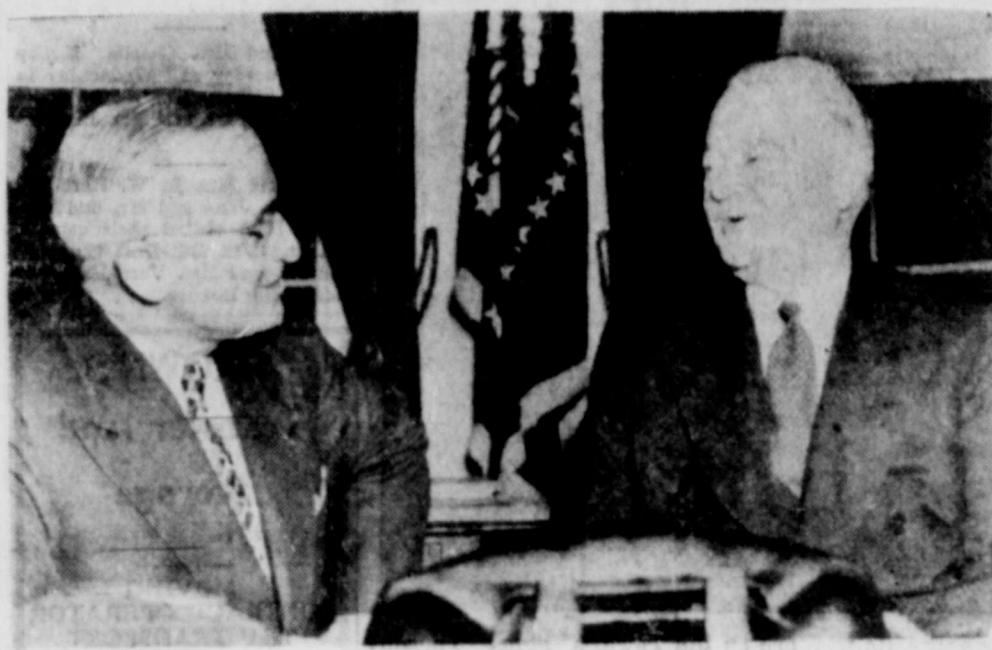

It was designed by Dr. R. D. Fenway, Pittsburgh dentist and owner-operator of the Dravosburg base, and Capt. J. L. H. Howard and Frank Silliman of the Gilman Barge and Construction Co., Brownville, Pa.

PREDICT 3RD WORLD WAR

British Prisoner of War Camp, Zedelghem, Belgium (UP)—A high ranking German officer, a man who converted Hitler's dream of conquest into the roar of battle, claims another world war is inevitable.

Seventy years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, 30 families, led by a Jesuit priest, founded the present village of "Old" Albuquerque.

Hoover Reports To President Truman

Former President Herbert Hoover reports to President Truman on his findings concerning the world food situation. Hoover returned from South America June 19, completing the last lap of his three-month, 50,000-mile world tour. He is expected to make a formal report in four or five days. (NEA Telephoto).

ARMY LEAVINGS A LIFE-SAVER TO TOKYO ZOO

TOKYO (UP)—A daily purchase of 550 pounds of potato peel and kitchen leftovers from SCAP is proving a life-saver at Tokyo's biggest Ueno Zoo, where the animals are having a hard time trying to overcome the city's current food shortage.

The garbage is collected daily under an arrangement standing in effect since last November, Commissioner Tadamiuchi Koga of the zoo said and although not sufficient to feed all the animals, "they are expected to get along somehow" with food from other sources.

The zoo's team of Inner Mongolian camels were first to show signs of malnutrition with a diminution of their humps. Elder male of the pair, which is about 16 years old, is nearly humpless, while a four-year old female living in the same enclosure also hasn't much of a figure left.

"They are not likely to die and it is not likely they are suffering any pain," Koga said.

He attributed the humps going down to substitution of oats in their normal diet with potato peels from American billet kitchens.

Least to suffer from the food shortage are the 50-odd turtles at the zoo, which can go without food for long periods and can subsist on but a few sardines a day.

They are among the 110 varieties of animals at the zoo, including 156 mammals and 14 kinds of birds. Many of the dangerous beasts were killed during the air raids to prevent possible public danger.

Heaviest eaters among the animals are 30 giraffes, each of which consumes 20,000 calories per day from a menu consisting of 25 pounds of wheat bran, 30 pounds of potatoes, 35 pounds of onions and a generous proportion of dried grass. Occasionally they are fed buckets of milk from a nearby stable of cows.

As one measure to overcome the food shortage, officials of the zoological gardens are considering a treble increase in the present admission charge of 15 sen.

Over 50 P. C. of Surplus Plane Sales To Ex-GIs

WASHINGTON (UP)—Government sales reports showed today that veterans are flocking into the aerial transport business.

Of four principal types of transports sold by the War Assets Administration to date, ex-GIs have bought more than half. The ships apparently are going into service on the 300 non-scheduled lines that have sprung up since V-J Day. Established airlines also have been heavy buyers, the surplus property agency reported.

Veterans have bought 425 twin-engine Cessnas, approximately half the sales of this popular model to date, the agency said.

They have bought 140 one-engine Norseman ships, 90 per cent of total disposal; 150 two-motored C-54s, about 10 per cent of sales. By standards of original cost, the surplus transports come cheap. Prices range from $1,750 for the cheapest Cessnas to $100,000 for the best C-54s.

All told the government has disposed of 16,755 flyable airplanes. Primary trainers have been the most popular. Cub-type planes also have gone well. So-called tactical planes have been almost impossible to sell.

Though prices have been cut to the bone ($1,250 for a P-38), only 31 fighter planes have been sold. Other sales records on tactical planes: light bombers; 18; medium bombers, 20; big bombers, 5.

Tactical planes usually cannot be licensed for civilian flying.

LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH.—Cattle 600, calves 200. Slow, steady. Beef steers and yearlings scarce. Odd head beef cows 12.00-13.75. Good Okra; B. C. Eppler, Gorman; E. L. Martin, Ranger; O. B. Cargile, Rising Star; A. L. Stiles, Ranger; 13.50-15.50.

Most tracks change approximate odds on the tote board every 90 seconds, but Walter Johnson, mutuels manager, said the raceway can flash up the odds even more quickly than that whenever a horse gets a big play in the closing minutes before post time.

TOWN DOOMED BY DAM GETS SET FOR BOOM

DETROIT, Ore. (UP)—This sleepy little Oregon village, nestled high among the tall timbers of the Oregon Cascade Mountains in a few years will become a modern miniature Atlantis, under at least 40 feet of water.

Located at the confluence of the North Santiam and Breitenbush rivers 56 miles southeast of the state capital, Detroit lies in an area that will be flooded by the waters of a reservoir backed up behind the fifth largest dam in the nation.

U. S. Army engineers in charge of the Detroit dam project estimate the structure will be completed in 1950 and by 1952 the reservoir is expected to be full.

But before the tiny logging community is flooded by the turbulent Santiam, it is destined to be overrun with humans. Imported construction workers will swell Detroit's existing population of 250 to an estimated 8,000.

Knowing their town is doomed does not disturb the villagers. In fact they seem quite contented with the situation. They are planning to cash in on the expected boom that will come with the money-spending laborers.

The villagers sit in the town tavern participating in what seems to be the favorite pastime—quaffing beer—and surmise on how they can best profit from this promise of new life.

Gamblers and con men and enterprising businessmen already are sizing up Detroit to see what the prospects will be. But these "intruders" are getting the cold shoulder among the townsfolk.

Mrs. Edna Mattson, who resembles Marjory Main of the movies, sums up the village sentiment this way: "If there's any money to be made here, why shouldn't Detroit people make it?"

Mrs. Mattson is co-operator of the Newport tavern. Only one person in the community believes business can't be much better. She is Mrs. G. R. Dickie, who operates the Detroit Hotel.

"The Army Engineers telephoned yesterday," she said. "They wanted five rooms. I had to turn them down. I'm full up."

All 10 rooms in the town's only hostelry were occupied.

Saratoga Installs New Tote Machine

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UP)—With a new counter tote machine installed, officials at the Saratoga Raceway said pari-mutuel bettors at the harness racing track will see changes in odds flashed electrically this summer as fast as at any major track in the country.

Most tracks change approximate odds on the tote board every 90 seconds, but Walter Johnson, mutuels manager, said the raceway can flash up the odds even more quickly than that whenever a horse gets a big play in the closing minutes before post time.

REVEALS TEXT OF TREATY ABOUT JAPAN

WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department today made public the text of a proposed four-power treaty under which the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union and China would pledge themselves to keep Japan demilitarized for 25 years.

The treaty would provide a system of quadripartite inspection to make certain that the disarmament and demilitarization provision of the treaty are carried out.

It calls for creation of a four-power commission of control.

The State Department disclosed that Great Britain and China already had acted favorably to Bryne's proposal on the Japanese disarmament treaty. There has been no response from the Soviet Union, although the draft was circulated more than two months ago.

The details of the proposed treaty on Japan are identical with those of the treaty proposed by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to keep Germany disarmed for 25 years. The German treaty has not been signed, and Russia has voiced objection to it.

Five Foot Co-Ed Fills Room With Riding Trophies

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—Horses have paid for a pretty Ohio State University co-ed's college education.

Jean Rittenour, tiny, 23-year-old Piquette, O. girl has ridden her horses in shows throughout Ohio and in several other states. The cups, blue ribbons and prize money have rolled in constantly since she began riding in earnest eight years ago.

A 19-year-old, mare, "Dare Me," has been the most consistent winner for Jean. "Dare Me" gave Jean her biggest thrill by winning the reserve championship jump at the Chicago Horse Show in 1945.

The pint-sized equestrienne—she's just five feet tall—never uses a whip. She has grown up with the horses on her father's 1,000-acre Pike county farm, and needs only a friendly pat or a few words to carry them to victory.

She began riding at the age of three. When she was nine, she had two weeks of instruction on show technique—the only riding lesson she has ever had—and went out to win her first event. This was 500 ribbons and innumerable trophies ago. Her cup fills her room at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

She expects to help her father on the farm this summer, then come back to Ohio State to start a riding program for the women's physical education department.

Cafe Owner Finds Answer to OPA Milk Price Jump

SWEETWATER, Tex. (UP)—OPA rulings cause a lot of reactions from all quarters. Now even wee bacteria have felt the pinch.

When the price of milk went up a cent, cafe owners found that no profit could be made if they sold it for a nickel a glass. One proprietor here marked that item off his menu and put a sign above his cafe cashier, reading:

"We don't sell sweet milk—the OPA clabbered it."

LIVE UP TO NAMES

CONCORD, Mass. (UP)—When triplet sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Sabone 21 years ago, they were named Primo, Secondo and Terzo—or, One, Two and Three.

When they were drafted for military service, they left home in one-two-three order.

And when they were discharged they returned home in the same order—first Primo, then Secondo, then Terzo.

Says Doctor's Degree Pays In Engineering

AUSTIN, Tex.—It pays to get a doctor's degree in engineering, Dean W. R. Woodrich, head of the University of Texas College of Engineering, pointed out today.

A survey of 200 manufacturing, utility and railroad companies just completed by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development shows that engineers with doctor's degrees make a beginning salary of $225 per month, and a high of $500. The average salary is $326.

Graduates with a bachelor's degree make a low of $150 per month and a high of $201, while those with at least three years experience make from $200 to $300 per month. Graduates with five years' experience and a bachelor's degree make from $250 to $402 per month.

The gateway to Great Britain for most American tourists at Southampton will be equipped all modern travel facilities, replacing the 33 structures destroyed by bombing, as part of a $5,000,000 reconstruction plan, according to British Railways.

Gromyko and Baruch Attend Fight

As world concern mounted for the solution of the U. S.-Russian differences over atomic bomb control, the two men whose proposals clash with such ominous import, Bernard M. Baruch, left, and Andrei A. Gromyko, chatted affably, as pictured here, at the Louis-Conn fight in New York City. Baruch, American representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, only a few hours earlier had heard Gromyko propose a control plan calling for an international agreement requiring the U. S. to destroy its A-Bombs within 90 days after the adoption. Gromyko, Russian representative on the commission, insists on veto on the atom controls. (NEA Telephoto).

However, the daring attempt was said to have been skillfully conceived and intended to be carried out along with the other kidnappings. Six British officers have been kidnapped by the underground this week but one made his escape.

LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS AT LOWEST LEVEL

CHICAGO (UP)—The nation's food supplies suffered a new blow today as shipments of livestock to the big stockyards sank to the lowest level on agriculture department records.

The meat packers said there was no relief in sight from meatless dinner tables until July 1 at the earliest. The department of agriculture reported livestock receipts this week at the 12 major stockyards were the lowest on a 12-month basis.

MYSTERIOUS EXPLOSION ROCKS LOBBY AND BASEMENT

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—Eight persons were known to have been killed and "at least 20" others injured, many seriously, today when an unexplained explosion rocked the basement and ground floor of the 700-room Baker Hotel in downtown Dallas.

Chief Inspector of Police E. W. Evans said that three persons were dead and more than 20 injured, but that extent of injuries to those rushed to hospitals by every available ambulance in Dallas had not been determined.

The blast, which occurred at 11:00 a. m. did most of its damage to the basement, but blew out a large plate glass window in the ground floor coffee shop, giving rise to early reports that the coffee shop itself had borne the brunt of the explosion.

Two of the dead were believed to have been hotel employees, who were in the basement at the time—shift-changing time on the hotels working schedule.

Guests in the lobby of the hotel, one of the city's finest, were lifted off their feet by the explosion and the lobby was filled with debris, witnesses said.

Traffic Patrolman W. E. Fields, stationed at the intersection where the hotel is located, said that he heard one blast at 11:10 a. m. and heard the plate glass front of the coffee shop blow out.

He said when he reached the coffee shop "there were about 25 people in it, most of them just picking themselves up off the floor where they had been thrown by the force of the blast.

One of the dead was definitely identified as W. E. Cotton, hotel purchasing agent whose office was in the basement, where a 75 foot, four inch thick wall was demolished by the blast.

Another victim was tentatively identified as Mr. Hamm, the hotel engineer, while the other victims had not been identified.

Within an hour after the blast, the hotel had been ordered evacuated "for a few hours" while an inspection was made to determine if all floors would be safe for occupancy. Assistant Manager O. G. Durbin said.

Whether the plot to kidnap Barker misfired or was not carried out because of unforeseen difficulties was not known.

SAFETY HEADQUARTERS

GONE ARE THE GOOD OLD DAYS
... when your great grandfather boasted that he bought bananas at a dime a dozen and his farm from the State with only one deed in the chain of title. Today, that same title may have hundreds of transactions in the chain, and as it lengthens defects multiply and enlarge. The abstract is the only means yet devised that attempts to reveal these defects and places them in position for correction. That's why more and more people are demanding an abstract when they buy real estate.

No noise nuisance!

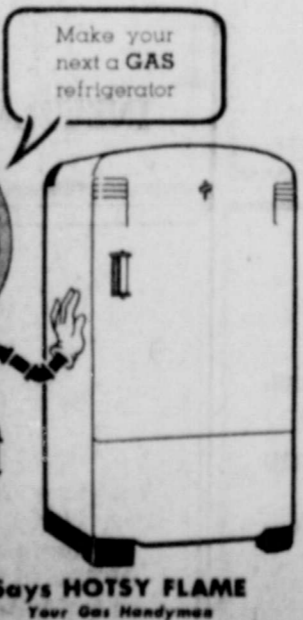

The Gas refrigerator stays silent because it freezes with no moving parts

Noise in a refrigerator is not only a nuisance—it may mean worn parts, loss of efficiency and higher operating costs as well.

The GAS refrigerator has no moving parts to wear out or get noisy—ever. Silent when you get it, it stays silent because of its basically different freezing system. A tiny gas flame takes the place of all moving parts, gives you permanent silence, long life and lasting economy.

If you are planning to buy a new refrigerator, it will pay you to wait for the silent GAS refrigerator—the refrigerator you hear about but never hear.
