Well ... I Dunno, But ...

The Dallas Historical Society is seeking information on the history of Eastland county to be placed in the Hall of State as a permanent record and has asked that books on the county's history be forwarded to the society.

The same is being done for every county in the state and those with information either recorded or unrecorded about Eastland county should feel it an obligation to the county to provide the society with that information.

It would be too bad if this county were not represented in the collection, as rich with color as is the history of the county. Information should be sent to the Dallas Historical Society, Hall of State, Dallas, 1, Texas.

In the mail this morning: HERE'S A STORY WITH A MORAL!

A man struck a match to see if the gasoline tank was empty. It wasn't.

A man petted a strange bulldog on the head to see if it was friendly. It wasn't.

A man speeded up to see if he would beat the train to the crossing. He didn't.

A man touched an electric wire to see if it was charged. It was.

A man cut out his advertising to see if he could save money. He didn't.

Good moral, too! Then there's the Time's slogan, "Nothing but the mint can make money without advertising."

The weather prophet is all puffed up today. Reason—His prediction about the first north wind came true. He says, as you remember, the first fall cool period comes between the 9th and 11th of September.

Sure enough this morning a north wind was blowing with temperatures considerably lower than yesterday. The north wind was a little cast, but we guess we'll not argue the case with the prophet. Tuesday's heat got back to July and August levels with a maximum temperature for the day 95. Just one last dig before the cool winds came.

Much as we like a good football game, we lay no claim to being a football analyst but the sports editor of the Brownwood Bulletin has expressed his opinion on the district setup and here's what he has to say:

Brownwood and Stephenville are the only District 9-AA football teams that do not get into action this week. Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, Cisco, Weatherford and Ranger all swing into action against non-district foes.

Mineral Wells, the dark horse in the 9-AA picture, swings into play with the Hillsboro eleven on their home field. Coach T. W. Carpenter is expected to have a formidable outfit with a number of returning lettermen to bolster his title hopes at the Spa city.

Cisco Lobos, one of the top contenders of the 9-AA crown, will take to the road to meet the Cleburne Yellow Jackets. Cleburne nosed out the Lobos, 34-27, last year in one of the top offensive battles of the state.

Coach Harold Fischer, in his second year at Cisco High, is being talked by sportswriters over the state as having the team to watch in 9-AA. Cisco fans are counting heavily on the Lobos taking the title in the Oil Belt this year.

Weatherford, long the weak sister in 9-AA, may be in for a better season this fall. They meet the Masonic Home eleven from Fort Worth on Friday night at Weatherford. Coach Emmett Chapman has some burning lettermen that are due to make the Kangaroos much stronger this year.

Ranger Bulldogs, boasting one of their best teams in several years, tee off Friday night in their own backyard with DeLeon—Brownwood Bulletin.

All of the above games are Friday night except the Ranger-DeLeon game which is Thursday night.

SURVIVORS OF VETERANS TO BE ADVISED SEPT. 19

It was announced today that a representative of the social security office at Abilene will be in Ranger Thursday, September 19 and will be at the Retail Merchants Association office.

Special attention will be given to assisting survivors of veterans in working out their problems.

The following information concerning social security insurance for survivors has been issued:

The social security act amendments of 1946 make provisions for payments to the families of men who die—within three years of the date of discharge—from causes not connected with their military service. This law is to extend for four years after the date that congress or the president officially declares the war ended. Survivors are eligible regardless of whether the veteran had ever worked in employment covered by the social security act. They are not eligible if the serviceman or servicewoman died in service, or if any survivor is receiving a pension from the Veterans Administration as a result of the death.

In order for the survivors to be eligible for social security benefits under this law, the following conditions must be met:

1. The veteran must have been discharged or released from active service, under circumstances other than dishonorable, within four years and a day after the as yet officially unproclaimed end of World War II.

2. Veterans must have had at least 90 days of active service between September 16, 1940 and the official end of the war, or must have been discharged or released because of disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty.

3. The veteran must have died within three years of the date of his discharge or release from active service.

4. Payments under this law are not due if any survivor is qualified to receive compensation or pension from the Veterans Administration, National service life insurance is not considered as compensation or pension.

The same classes of survivors are eligible for monthly or lump-sum payments under this law as under other provisions of the old-age and survivors insurance plan. This includes dependent children under 18 and the widow; adult children may receive a lump-sum if there is no widow or minor child; parents are eligible if the veteran was single. If no such relatives survive, payments may be made under certain conditions, to persons who pay burial expenses.

If the above requirements are met the nearest relatives should contact the social security administration IMMEDIATELY. This should be done now by families of veterans who have died after discharge—whether or not they have contacted the social security office before.

Applications for building homes number 18; for repair or remodel, 6 and for rent, 3, and the applications are still coming in.

The building program is being carried out under the government plan to give veterans priority on building materials salvaged from the war. City officials are cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in promoting the program in Ranger.

Asks $400,000 Indemnity For Plane Incident

WASHINGTON (UP)—A stiff bill for $400,000 in indemnity from Yugoslavia today underscored this government's determination to protect Americans abroad from high-handed treatment.

The State Department demanded the cash settlement from Yugoslavia as indemnity for the acts of Yugoslav aircraft in shooting down two unarmed American transport planes with the loss of five lives.

HISTORY OF THIS COUNTY BEING SOUGHT

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 11 (Sp.)—The Texana Reference Library in the Hall of State, Dallas, wants materials on the History of Eastland County, and officials of Dallas Historical Society are appealing to citizens of the county to help locate the needed items. "Copies of these books and pamphlets are in the hands of pioneer citizens and their descendants," Director Herbert Gambrell said, "but they are not to be found in bookstores. Placing them in this great shrine of Texas History for the use of the public, will not only be a permanent memorial to the donors, but a genuine service to those seeking accurate information about the county."

Biographical directories, book-lets on the histories of towns, churches, schools and other institutions, are also desired for the library, along with histories of the county itself. Special anniversary numbers of county newspapers are also wanted.

A special museum display of Texas County Histories is planned for the Hall of State during the State Fair of Texas in October. The Hall of State occupies the center of the Fair Park, and will be open daily, free of charge, to visitors.

In addition to items published during the past three years, the following older materials listed in 1943 by Dr. H. Bailey Carroll in his Bibliography of Texas County Histories, are particularly wanted to complete the Hall of State's collection:

"A Handbook of Reference Containing a Directory and Description and a Summary of Various Advantages of Eastland County, Texas," by Don H. Biggers, Eastland, 1889.

"Soil Survey of Eastland County," 1917.

One Slightly Injured In Car Wreck Tuesday

Mrs. W. L. Hennings of Eastland was slightly injured in an automobile collision near Cheaney about 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

She was taken to the West Texas Hospital where it was reported that she had suffered some broken ribs.

Others involved in the wreck but who were uninjured were Will Walmons of Rule, Texas and Melba Crain of Eastland.

Forces Merger Again Taken Up By Army, Navy

WASHINGTON (UP)— Army and navy officials were put back to work today on a plan for unification of the armed forces.

President Truman called top war and Navy Department officials to the White House yesterday for preliminary discussion of merger legislation to be presented to the next session of Congress.

Viennese Girls May Wed In 20 Years—Maybe

VIENNA (UP)—The average Viennese girl has a fair chance of finding a man—if she waits 20 years.

There is a shortage of men. Municipal figures show that of Vienna's population of 1,612,177 there are 958,501 women. That leaves 653,736 men—a ratio of one and one half dozen women to each male.

But the bureau shed a ray of hope for the women willing to wait a few decades. In May, 1946 births totaled 476 boys and only 395 girls.

"Things will be equalized, if this trend continues until 1946" the bureau said.

UNIVERSITY ARTISTS WIN RECOGNITION

AUSTIN, Tex.—National recognition came to the University of Texas department of art this year, through awards and purchases of work by artists on the staff. In addition to group shows, one-man shows and purchases by private collectors, the staff members also participated in jury selection and lectures.

Six staff members reported major sales during the past year. Donald Goodall, retiring chairman of the department, announced.

Three oils by Everett Spruce were purchased by the U. S. Department of State. They were "Turkey," "Canyon at Night," and "Landscape." One gouache, "Redbird," was also purchased by that department. Mr. Spruce won second prize for an oil painting exhibited at the Worcester Art Museum Exhibition of American Art.

Julius Woelz sold a gouache, "Stim Clearance," to the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts. Ward Lockwood sold an oil "Springtime in Rio Chiquito," to the permanent collection of the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, and "Magic of the Snow" to the art collection of Baker University, Wichita, Kan.

William McVey's stone and terra-cotta figures, "Torso" and "Mother and Child" were sold to private collectors. William Lester's oils and watercolors were purchased by the Dallas Public Schools, Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, Texas Technological College, Houston Museum Collection and the Virginia Biennial. His paintings were "Uprooted Stump," "Edge of Town," "Flowers," "Winter," and "Carter's Farm."

Charles Umlauf, sculptor, sold his pieces, "Crucifixion," "Head of Job," and "Oh Israel!" to collectors in San Antonio, Fort Worth and Chicago.

Henry N. Rasmussen lectured at Utah State Art Center, Salt Lake City, and is now at work on a textbook of creative design. Loren Moaley served as president of the Texas Fine Arts Association during the past year.

Scents Better Markets For U. S. In Europe

CHICAGO (UP)—American industry has an "unprecedented opportunity to expand its foreign markets in areas formerly dominated by European producers, T. Albert Potter, president of the Illinois Manufacturers Association said after a seven week trip on the continent.

Sweden and Switzerland are rapidly taking over the manufacturing formerly done in Germany he reported.

England, whose facilities have been disrupted by the war, has been slower than Sweden and Switzerland to enter the race for markets, Potter said.

U. S. Claims Against Italy $20,000,000,000

PARIS (UP)—The United States announced today that her part in the war against Italy cost $20,000,000,000 but renounced all reparations claims against Italy and served notice it had no intention of paying Italy's reparations bill.

United States Delegate Willard L. Thorpe told the Italian economic commission that the direct American war cost was $335,000,000,000 of which $20,000,000,000 could be allocated against Italy.

Meanwhile, Jefferson Caffery, another American delegate, attacked Bulgaria, denouncing her for "ruthless occupation and exploitation" of western Thrace and opposed a Bulgarian claim for cession of that territory to her by Greece.

Caffery expressed amazement to the Bulgarian political commission that Bulgaria, an enemy, should make a territorial claim against Greece—"one of the earliest, most steadfast, most courageous and self-sacrificing of our Allies in the war."

His statement was a continuation of the running battle of words here and before the United Nations Security Council over Greece between the east and west.

The Soviet Union is supporting Bulgaria's claim for western Thrace which would give her an outlet to the Aegean Sea.

Farm Lads Prefer Sewing To Sawing

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—Because of a typographical error in the program, what was scheduled to have been a boys' sawing contest at the Ohio State Fair turned out to be a sewing contest.

When advance announcements of the junior fair were made, it was planned to have a sewing contest for farm boys. But, through the error, the announcement called for a sewing contest.

The fair management received so many entries from farm boys that it was decided to conduct a needlework contest for these future farmers.

Strike In Italy Spreads

STUDENTS TELL STORIES OF TEXAS HISTORY

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas once had camels—and the president of the United States received a pair of socks knitted from thread woven from the camel's hair.

This historic information is recounted by James G. LaGoume Jr. of Ball High School, Galveston, in an article, "The Camel Experiment," which is featured in the current issue of the Junior Historian.

The young Texas history student gives an account of the bringing of camels to Texas, and tells of their final disposition.

The Junior Historian is published by and for Texas elementary and high school students, by the Texas State Historical Association, which has headquarters at the University of Texas.

Other stories are by Jack Frymire of Robert E. Lee High School Goose Creek; Rae Dugan of Paschal High School, Fort Worth; Julia Mae Kordick of Fredericksburg High School; Barbara Benson of Wichita Falls High School; Kenneth Nelson of Brackenridge High School, San Antonio.

UNIONS MAY WITHDRAW MEN SERVING ON WAGE BOARD

By United Press
Leaders of the nationwide maritime strike today urged the AFL and CIO to call a 24-hour walkout by all American workers if the Wage Stabilization Board refuses to reverse immediately the decision which touched off the shipping stoppage.

At the same time, AFL President William Green started polling the AFL Executive Council on the question of withdrawing AFL representatives from the board, an authoritative source said.

Meanwhile, three new walkouts (led 21,000 persons in Detroit automobile plants. The walkouts were not connected with the maritime strike.

The joint committee of AFL maritime unions sent a request for a national work stoppage to Green and CIO President Philip Murray. Green reportedly started polling the executive council after Walter Mason, AFL member of the WSB, said he would press for immediate reversal of the boards disapproval of a wage contract reached by shipowners and the two AFL seamen unions which struck seven days ago.

Board chairman Willard Wirtz, said, however, that a ruling might not come until tomorrow. Strike leaders have made it clear that the walkout will continue unless the board reverses its decision.

NONE TOO SOON

Resumption of drafting for the armed forces comes none too soon. Conscriptioin never should have been suspended

Too rapid demobilization, coupled with dilatory replacement, already have weakened all three of our fighting services to a degree that, in these unsettled days, is very disturbing.

A year ago we had the most powerful army in the world with the possible exception of Russia's, well-organized, well-trained, well-armed.

Even now we have the most powerful navy, in ships and weapons, that the world ever has known.

We have more and better fighters and bombers than any other nation could throw into the air.

We're not back, yet, to the impotence we suffered in 1916 and again in 1941. But that is chiefly because, with our worst efforts, we haven't managed to weaken ourselves as fast as we've tried to—and also because millions of our young men haven't been in civilian clothes so long that, in emergency, we couldn't pull them back once more.

We don't want war, of course. We didn't in 1916 or 1941. We don't expect war in the near future.

It is far from impossible that if we had been strong in 1916 and again in 1941 we should not have had wars then.

Is that war mongering? It was so called before World War I, which we couldn't avoid by sticking our heads in the sand.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Within the past few weeks the War Department has made a series of announcements on its hospital situation which at face value does not make sense.

First, it is announced the closing of Ashford General Hospital, formerly the old Greenbrier hotel at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Next, the War Department announced the closing of three more Army general hospitals, as of Sept. 30.

Finally, it announced that the Corps of Engineers had let contracts for seven new veterans' hospitals, at a cost of $8 million dollars.

This seems to be kicking the taxpayers around something awful, and maybe it is. Why build new vet hospitals when the Army general hospitals are being closed and sold as surplus?

MANY of the wartime general hospitals were of temporary construction. They are not fireproof. They are no good as permanent hospitals.

More-permanent wartime hospital facilities are being turned over to state and local governments.

DURING the war the Army built or acquired 80 general hospitals at a total cost of 248 million dollars. Twenty-three are still active. They represent an investment of 82 million dollars.

The Veterans' Administration has an $800-million-dollar hospital-building program. It will build 78 new hospitals at a cost of 771 million dollars.

PORTLAND, Ore.—(NEA)—Oregon State, Oregon, Washington and Washington State open the football season loaded for Bear, and I mean the Golden Bear of California, the Bruin of UCLA and the Southern California Trojan or anybody else who may happen to come along.

Washington was the only school in the Pacific northwest that maintained football throughout the war. The others were "way behind when they attempted come-backs last fall, which was exceedingly wild and woolly out here among the tall firs.

OREGON STATE launches the campaign as the favorite. Lon Stiner appears to have everything and then some.

Under a new coach, Phil Sarboe—pronounced Sarboe—Washington State had so many good kids last year that the Cougar finished second on the coast and despite ups and downs that were typical of the campaign, won the northwest championship.

Another is the 240-pound Arnold Weinstater, converted from end to fullback. If young Weinstater, who has a fine war record, lives up to what he showed in the spring he will be a phenomenon.

WASHINGTON has most of its promising last year's combination of freshmen plus a flock of lettermen returned from the service. One of the latter is Sam Robinson, who was just about the most formidable right half on the coast in 1943.

Divorce actions, the judge asserted, require most of his time, especially among young couples married during the war.
