Molotov Flays British Trieste Policy

Well... I Dunno, But...

It's a good thing we've got the weather to talk about today, cause if there was anything else to write about today we didn't cross it.

We watch with much eagerness the temperatures to see what they are going to do as when they were hovering in the 95 to 104 brackets. For the past few days they've ranged from 60 to 91 but not much of the 91 kind.

Total rainfall at 1:30 o'clock Saturday was 2.49 inches and the rain laden clouds were still hanging around.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have received a type-written report from the manager, R. V. Galloway, outlining what has been done since he took the office June 1st.

Those that know Rip, didn't have to have the written statement to know that he's been busy but a glance at those long full pages would convince the skeptical.

Rip doesn't have to work to stir things up, they are just cast upon him and he works as hard and long as conscientiously as anyone we know.

Right now his biggest job is helping the city officials on the GI housing program and that's almost a night an day job.

So far as we can see there is absolutely no justification for the way prices are skyrocketing, and here the government is paying a great corps of men and women working for the OPA to keep 'em down.

That seems to add up to this, that while we are paying prices out of reason for everything we buy, we are at the same time paying taxes to keep those people in office when they can't do a thing about their jobs. It might be a soft job for some of 'em but we wonder if it's worth all of the fussing they take.

Anyway, we think the people are justified in the anger that they feel over the situation, when all they can do is stand and take it while a bunch of bureaucrats dish it out.

Boy, oh boy, but when some of those congressmen come up for reelection again the people will have a chance to get their revenge partially and we'd be betting that they take it.

Didn't hear of any Friday the Thirteenth casualties but if we were superstitious and believed in the Friday 13th deal, we'd swear that this was Friday the 13th. But the fact that everything has gone wrong today should prove to some of the fearful that it can happen any day, not just that odd affair known as Friday the 13th.

But if the superstitious knew that a black cat ran across our path the day before Friday, they would say, "There you are. I told you so."

Well, we've found one good use for the weather comment in this column. A friend on returning from a summer in Colorado, called to say that they had enjoyed getting the Times during the summer and they were always so interested in the weather comment. So, we basked in the cool of Colorado they could sympathize with us poor guys that were sweating under above 100 degree temperatures.

Among the things that always amuse us, are those people that get the idea that they are indispensable. Rarely have we seen it fail, that before too long they get taken down a notch. No matter how capable and efficient a person is, there's always somebody else who can take their place. They may not be so good as the other guy, but they can get the job done.

Nope we didn't have anyone person in mind. Just a roving thought.

Add in at price increases; just learned that OPA admits that other prices will be advanced because of the advancement granted by OPA on sugar. It's just a merry-go-round of jumping prices and OPA officials are beginning to figuratively hang their heads in shame.

Police Officer Slain In Gun Battle

When police officers Les Carmack and Ben Johnson, in Tulsa, Oklahoma, approached two youthful suspects in connection with the slaying of a merchant policeman in Seneca, Mo., a gun battle ensued in which Carmack was killed and Johnson seriously wounded. Left, (foreground)

Carmack is shown lying on the ground after the fatal shooting, while one of the suspects, James Nealy, 17, (background) is being held by police. Right, Nealy, who was shot in the foot and arm, is being dragged toward a police squad car. (NEA Photo).

SEA SNAIL, SQUID PRAISED AS DIET IN FLYING AGE

WASHINGTON (UP)—United States airline executives are going to sit down in New York one day into this month to one of the strangest meals ever served.

The menu will include raw salt-water snail meat, squid, alligator, armadillo, sandshark, sea pirlane, wild yams, sea pipes, cactus fruit, papaya, coconut meat and coconut juice.

Such foods as these, according to S/Sgt. Robert Weaver of the Army Air Transport Command, the host, would solve the world food shortage if people would overcome prejudice against them.

But Weaver's idea is NOT that the airlines should promote his theory by placing these foods on their menus, so you needn't worry about being served alligator steak or file of sandshark on your next trip.

The 28-year-old Richmond, Ind., expert on odd items of diet wants to demonstrate for commercial airline interests how Army Air Force pilots were trained to take their food where they found it in unfamiliar places during the war.

He figures that with international civil aviation extending over jungle, desert, Arctic and other unfriendly environments, pilots should be highly trained in survival procedures so they can care for their passengers if they should have to make forced landings.

Weaver reasons that a pilot has eaten more kinds of food than any other human. During the war he instructed Pacific-bound fliers in survival and did considerable rescue work in Burma.

His study and experience convince him that much of the food shortage in famine areas would be overcome if people would put down their local prejudices.

The foods he will serve the airline officials, he says, are palatable, nutritious and high in caloric content. Reporters who sampled one of his meals can vouch for most items on the menu.

Weaver says he could produce a 13-course meal in any tropical area. With few exceptions, all animals are edible. Likewise plants, unless they are bitter, soapy or give a discolored juice; those are signs of poison. All fish in the open sea can be eaten. Poisonous types are found only close to shore.

Weaver has NO sympathy for the Florida town which offered a 50-cent bounty on armadillo, a prehistoric looking animal that gets into hen houses. In the first year 47,000 were turned in. This represents about 400,000 pounds of "good fine-grained meat" which was wasted instead of being canned to feed hungry people in other lands," Weaver said.

Tons of small coastal sharks known as sandsharks are thrown away every year because fishermen have no market for them. Yet they make "delicious steaks."

Sea purslane, a green bean-like vegetable with an excellent flavor, grows in more than half the world near coastal regions but is never eaten. The same is true of sea pipes, leafless coastal plants that can be eaten, raw like celery.

Weaver took a 450-mile three-month hike through Burma jungle searching for crash survivors and lived entirely off the land. Zootie monkey was the only objectionable food he encountered.

Army Captain Reports Yugoslav Attitude Hostile

PITTSBURGH (UP)—American visitors to Yugoslavia have received the same "hostile treatment" as the transport crews who were shot down in flames over the country, according to former pilot Wynne Sullivan.

Sullivan was discharged a captain in the Army Air Forces about the same time two United States transport planes were forced down over Yugoslavia.

He said he flew two Army colonels to Belgrade last March and spent 26 days there under "Gestapo-like" surveillance.

"We were trailed everywhere we went," he said. "We had to have a pass to cross the city line. People were afraid to talk to Americans because it placed them under suspicion. There was a death penalty for being caught with American money. We slept with our guns beside us."

South Sea Idyl Thing Of Past

CINCINNATI, O. (UP)—That South Sea Island paradise of the nineteenth century romanticists is gone, says Dr. John Wesley Coulter, University of Cincinnati professor of geography and authority on the Pacific islands.

Sweeping changes brought about by World War II are described by Dr. Coulter in the American geographical Society's Geographical Review.

Although South Sea Islanders have been influenced by Europeans and Americans for 150 years, the recent war in five years changed them more than in all time before, he points out.

"Whole villages were removed to make way for airplane fields and hangars," Dr. Coulter writes. "The economic life of the natives was transformed by an unprecedented influx of money paid out for souvenirs, laundry, and coconuts."

"Thousands of natives were recruited for labor battalions and received wages far above anything they had ever earned before. Natives trained as commandoes will not be content to fit themselves into the composure of village life under chiefs who stayed at home."

Expect Hurricane To Stay At Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Strong winds from the Atlantic hurricane will be felt on the east coast north of Cape Hatteras, N.C., but the storm center should remain at sea, the Miami weather bureau reported today.

OPA ADMITS FAILURE IN ANOTHER DEAL

WASHINGTON (UP)—OPA plumply acknowledged today that prices of canned and frozen fruit, ice cream and cake may go up because of the new two-cent-a-pound boost in sugar prices.

As if that weren't bad news enough, the agriculture department told housewives dairy products will be scarcer and prices higher throughout 1946 and early 1947.

The department said the prospective drop stemmed jointly from a normal seasonal slump plus an accelerated decline in dairy herds. The price decontrol board will decide Wednesday if ceilings on dairy products should be restored in view of recent increases.

Fire Destroys Resort Hotel

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UP)—Fire roared through the Great Northern Hotel early today and within 90 minutes destroyed the structure, a landmark of the resort city, where possibly 200 persons were guests for the night.

At least one person had died in the blaze, police said, and a legless Spanish-American war veteran and an infant were reported missing.

At least 20 persons were taken to the city hospital or the Army-Navy General Hospital, some with critical burns. Police were striving to check the hotels charred registers with known survivors to determine how many others might be missing.

C. of C. Directors To Meet at 7.30 Monday Night

The regular meeting of the directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce will be held at the C of C office Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Hall Walker, president, stated that in as much as the last meeting date fell on Labor Day the meeting was postponed and that there will be important matters to bring before the group.

It is urged that all directors attend the meeting.

SIX KILLED IN RIOT BOMBAY (UP)—Six persons were killed and 37 injured today in a sudden renewal of the Hindu-Muslim rioting that has wrecked the city for the past week.

DENIES RUMOR OF IMPENDING MEAT FAMINE

WASHINGTON (UP)—OPA Chief Paul A. Porter said today that reports of an impending "meat famine" were only "irresponsible rumors" and predicted the current shortage would last only for the next six weeks.

In late October, he said, there will be a "real spurt" in beef production which will continue until the end of the year. Beef supplies during the first few months of 1946, he added, will be as ample as they were in the early part of this year.

Pork also will begin to be more abundant by late October, Porter said, and from late October until the last of February "hog marketings should continue good."

He blamed the closing of a number of slaughtering plants on the "possibility" that some livestock is being held back on ranges and farms in hope of higher price ceilings—or decontrol of meat again. This policy is "very misguided," Porter declared.

Civilians Retain Army Uniforms

WASHINGTON (UP)—Add to reconversion tie-ups: The Army estimates that 1,000,000 civilians refuse to strip the military finery from the uniforms they're wearing.

This, the provost marshal general's office says, is illegal. It's all right for a man to put on army clothes. Maybe he bought them in a surplus property store. Maybe he's a discharged veteran still without a civilian wardrobe. But when a civilian wears a uniform that sports any military insignia—from brass buttons on up to gold braid—the uniform becomes illegal.

And it becomes illegal to the degree of six months in jail and a $300 fine. The army, however, understands the difficulty an ex-serviceman has acquiring a well-rounded civilian wardrobe. It has relaxed enforcement.

But, said Brig. Gen. B. M. Bryan, Army provost marshal general, many of those suspected of wearing khaki illegally "never packed a rifle."

Not only is the situation a headache for the military police force of 2,300 officers and men, he said, but also there is the matter of the Army's reputation.

It gives the Army a black eye, he said, when a civilian dressed like a serviceman commits a crime or misbehaves in public.

Farm Expert Advises Early Fall Plowing

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—Early fall plowing for wheat increases the yield, according to M. D. Appleman, agronomist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Appleman pointed out that experiments in Ohio, Kansas, Oklahoma, Indiana and Montana showed an increase of five to ten bushels an acre as a result of early plowing.

Early plowing controls weeds and provides a compact seed bed besides increasing the supply of nitrogen available in the fall, Appleman said.

Strike Continues Despite Return Of Some Men

NEW YORK (UP)—AFL seamen and longshoremen passed through picket lines of the national maritime union, CIO at several ports today, but the NMUS strike effectively continued the shipping tie-up at coastal ports.

Although the threat of violence hung over many ports and several cities reported the situation tense, there were no disturbances.

The value of farm buildings fell more than 20 per cent from 1930 to 1940.

Truman Denies Any Change In Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman said today that there has been no change in the United States foreign policy.

The President said there had been a "natural misunderstanding" of his answer to a press conference question Thursday regarding the foreign policy speech by Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace in New York.

"I did not intend to indicate that I approved the speech as constituting a statement of the foreign policy of this country," Mr. Truman said.

The President on Thursday said he had read in advance and approved the entire speech in which Wallace that night urged an ease up in our attitude toward Russia.

1-Eyed Motorist Seeks Jail As His Home Base

MONTEREY, Cal. (UP)—Emil Neumann, 24, who likes to drive, told police he wants to return to the state prison at Folsom—there's nothing for him on the outside.

Neumann, who confessed he stole a car one night last month and drove it around a few hours before abandoning it, told police after he was released from prison that he was unable to obtain a driver's license because he can see with only one eye.

Neumann said while he was in Folsom authorities there let him drive and, besides, he said, "they feed you and well, treat you nice and they're get everything there but a swimming pool."

Bicycle Built For Two Shelved In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UP)—The pillion bicycle one of the principal modes of transportation in Hong Kong since the end of the war, has bowed out of the picture.

Under an ordinance effective Sept. 1, the bicycle built for two is prohibited from the colony's streets. Starting at the same time, all rickshas and pedicabs must have a license.

The pillion bike, strictly a war time innovation, is simply a bicycle with an extra seat behind the pedaler, where passengers sit with their legs dangling on either side. There were approximately 2,000 of them in operation.

Trouble Comes Double For Unwary Driver

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (UP)—Trouble came double for Onni A. Isakson, 21, of Troy, N.Y., while driving his automobile through this seaside city.

Involved in a highway collision, Isakson stepped out to exchange credentials with the other motorist and was charged with driving so as to endanger.

The other motorist was James T. French, 60, of Newburyport, a state motor vehicle inspector.

Note: Don't Play FBI Man To FBI Man

STUBENVILLE, O. (UP)—When the stranger sat down next to Robert Murphy in a restaurant here and confided that he was an agent of the FBI, Murphy listened with interest.

When the stranger got up and questioned the restaurant manager, Murphy listened with even greater interest.

But when the stranger threatened to close the restaurant, Murphy took him to the nearest station house, where he identified himself as Robert J. Nichols, 28, Farmville, N. C., and was arrested for impersonation of an FBI officer.

It seems that Murphy was an FBI agent himself.

Shipments of Australian apples overseas this year have already reached a total of 2,000,000 bushels.

STRIKES OUT AT AUSTRALIA FOR STAND ON VETO POWER

PARIS (UP)—Soviet Minister V. M. Molotov made another bitter attack on Great Britain today when he charged that the proposed British statute for Trieste would in effect make it a colonial territory.

Molotov also denounced Australia for seeking to eliminate the veto power from the United Nations Security Council, saying the only nations who were insisting on that elimination were "those who are anxious to start a new war."

Meanwhile, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R. Mich., pledged full cooperation with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and said "we can only cooperate with one secretary of state at a time."

Without mentioning Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace's speech, Vandenberg said "rightly or wrongly, Paris is doubtful" of American unity in foreign policy today.

Byrnes and his advisers are hailing mad about the speech and what they consider President Truman's blundering endorsement of it, according to well informed sources.

Byrnes, Vandenberg and Sen. Tom Connally, D. Tex., were all represented as feeling that it was bad judgement.

Two Texas Men Charged With Bank Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY—The FBI announced today that charges had been filed against Joseph and Fred James Hixon, brothers living at Electra, Texas, in connection with the $33,000 robbery of Walters, Okla., National Bank.

One of the Hixons last night at his home but Chief Agent Bryce of the Okla. Division said he had which of the brothers.

Ex-Parachutist Get Movie

LONDON (UP)—who has returned following experiences of parachutist or commando activity has found a peace time place as stunt men for British films.

Capt. Jack Easton, Special Air Service parachutist who twice escaped after being captured during the war, is leader of the group. Former commando and parachutist men will work with veteran stunt men. Easton said he had no trouble in getting together a stunt team of 50 men.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UP)—Forced to make his rounds in a driving rain, a local letter carrier gratefully accepted an expensive, ivory handled umbrella that was lent him by a sympathetic housewife. But she never got it.

When the carrier returned to the post office, it was claimed by another postman, who had left it at the woman's house while performing the same rounds a year ago.

Of London's 701 churches, 624 were bombed during the war and 91 were totally destroyed, according to British Railways.

NAVY NEWS CENTER NOW AT GREAT LAKES

The Fleet Home Town News Center, which has operated at 844 North Rush street, Chicago, since April, 1945, was transferred to Great Lakes, Ill. today.

An outstanding project of the Navy's Public Information program, the Fleet Home Town News Center was established toward the end of World War II to service home town media with news concerning individual Navy men and women. In its new quarters at Great Lakes, the Navy news syndicate will continue its work of distributing items of interest about Naval personnel to those newspapers and local radio stations.

Organized and directed until recently by Lt. Cdr. Charles W. Payne, USNR, the News Center is now headed by Lt. Cdr. E. F. McDevitt, USNR, a veteran newspaperman. In the past 16 months more than a million and a half home town news and picture releases have been sent out by the Center, an average of over 100,000 per month.

Another of the News Center's activities is the distribution of news mats. Navy pictures of national interest are given nationwide circulation by the Center. Sent out in newsmat form to facilitate handling for the newspapers the pictures have been well received by editors throughout the country.

The Fleet Home Town News Center has been charged with the task of rebuilding the Navy's staff of Enlisted Naval Correspondents. Already it has instructed several classes of Navy men in the fundamentals of newswriting and news photography. Training of these Navy reporters will continue at Great Lakes.

by the department of public safety and who have been given prior special training to prepare them for teaching.

Sites for the institutes have been selected graphically, so that no teacher will have to travel more than 10 miles to attend.

Letters of invitation from Dr. L. A. Woods, department of education, have been sent to all high school administrators. All schools are invited to send representatives even though they are not planning to offer the course during the coming school term.

A survey reveals that a minimum of 286 high schools will offer courses in driver education and driver training.

The runoff primary system was adopted in Texas in 1918.

Rural mail carriers were authorized to receive and deliver registered mail on April 12, 1900.

GROUND FORCES WINTER EQUIPMENT TEST IN ARCTIC—Winter's cold and snow, as illustrated here, will be a daily companion to 4,000 Army Ground Forces troops taking part in winter equipment tests to be held in Alaska and Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, between October 1 and April 30, 1947. Three separate task forces will determine the extent to which existing equipment will function and what new equipment is required for the ground team to fight under all winter conditions. Task forces "Williwaw" and "Frigid" are being assembled for early departure for Adak, Alaska, and Fairbanks, Alaska, while task force "Frost" already is at Camp McCoy. Left, equipped with heavy clothing to offset extremes of cold the pictured soldier is representative of 4,000 Ground Forces troops to test equipment in Alaska and at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin. DALLAS VA TO HANDLE VETS INSURANCE NEEDS

All World War II veterans living in Eastland County now will be given complete insurance service through the Dallas Branch Veterans Administration office. A. D. Modsett, contact representative, said insurance records of Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi veterans have begun moving to Dallas from New York in truck convoys. The more than 1,200,000 files will require a few days to be organized into an operating section. More than 700 insurance workers have been trained to tackle the huge volume of unanswered mail and unposted premium payments being received from New York.

The transfer means this, the contact representative said: Effective immediately, all correspondence from Eastland County veterans relating to insurance matters should be sent to Dallas instead of Washington. The address is Insurance Service; Veterans Administration; Branch Office No. 10; 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas.

Veterans also were asked to mail their insurance payments directly to Dallas instead of New York. The premiums should be either by personal check or money orders payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

All remittances should be properly identified with the sender's name, service serial number and policy number and should be marked for attention of the collections unit. Veterans were advised to mark claims for waiver of premiums because of disability for the attention of the Disability Insurance Claims Division. World War I veterans carrying government insurance are not affected by the change. They should continue payments to Washington.

Once on a current basis, the Dallas Branch Insurance Service will operate exactly the same as the home office of a life insurance company and will give service to veterans equal to that offered by any insurance company the VA said. Former servicemen who have allowed their insurance to lapse were urged to see their nearest VA office in Eastland, Texas, for re-instatement blanks, allowing them to make their contract valid again by payment of two monthly premiums. Complete information on G.I. Insurance, including new types of policies and broadened benefits, is available to all veterans through their nearest contact office in the Sinclair-Prairie Building or by writing the VA Regional Insurance Office, Love Field, Dallas, Texas.

Decentralization of the insurance program into 13 Branch Areas was ordered by Gen. Omar Bradley, Administrator of the VA to speed service to veterans.

The VA said that colleges with large veteran enrollment or veterans organizations needing complete information on the new insurance program would be furnished a speaker. Requests should be addressed to the Dallas Regional Office, attention of the Insurance Officer.

SCHEDULE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY REP. LISTED

A representative of the Abilene Social Security Administration Office will be at the following places soon for the purpose of assisting Eastland County residents with claims to be filed by survivors of World War II veterans who died after leaving the service: RANGER, Retail Merchants Association on Thursday, September 19, at 9:45 a.m.; EASTLAND, United States Employment Service on Thursday, September 19 at 1:00 p.m.; CISCO, Post Office on Friday, September 20 at 8:30 a.m. Other retirement and death claims under the Social Security Act will also be handled, according to the announcement made today by Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene office.

The 1946 Amendments to the Social Security Act provide for the payment of monthly benefits or lump-sum payments to qualified survivors of veterans who die within three years of their discharge and whose dependents are not qualified to receive compensation or pensions from the Veterans Administration. National Service Life Insurance is not considered as compensation or pension. These special social security payments may be made regardless of whether the veteran had ever been employed in work coming under social security.

In the case of such veterans who died before the enactment of the new Amendment, the measure provides for monthly benefits retroactive to the date of the veteran's death if the survivors file their claims with the nearest office of the Social Security Administration before midnight February 10, 1947. Of course, monthly benefits other than retroactive are payable on claims filed at any time by qualified persons.

In cases where survivors of veterans who qualify under the new Amendments have already filed claim for monthly benefits earned by the veteran under the old-age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Administration, it is possible that the provisions of the new measure will provide greater benefits than those earned by the veteran. These survivors are included in the immediate potential beneficiaries, Mr. Fisher said, and they should make application at once.

The same applies to survivors who have filed claim for lump-sum benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program on a qualified veteran's account. The new Amendment may make them eligible for monthly benefit payments, or it may increase the amount of the lump-sum benefit. In the latter case, they will receive the difference between the lump-sum they received and the larger amount they are eligible for under the Amendment, if they apply as soon as possible.

All persons wishing to make application under this law should call at the points listed as soon as possible after the time the representative will be there.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 15.

The Golden Text is: "Wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure" (Isiah 33:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures" (Psalms 36:8).

The Lesson - Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Things spiritual and eternal are substantial. Things material and temporal are insubstantial" (page 335).
