San Antonio Flood Damage $8,000,000

Well... I Dunno, But...

You will see by the pictures in today's Times that a local girl, Miss Camilla Hunt, daughter of Mrs. Susan Hunt, rated a telephoto when she boarded a Braniff Airlines plane as hostess for the plane that is taking the Oklahoma University eleven to West Point for their game there.

Miss Hunt, an O.U. graduate, is senior hostess for the airlines and was chosen as one of the two hostesses to make the trip and to be an honored guest at the game and other festivities in connection with it.

The pictures of the departing team and Miss Hunt are NEA telephotos, a part of the Times regular features and a service that is used by newspapers all over the United States.

Frequently we've mentioned the successful livestock sales that are held each week at the Faircloth Sales Barn in the East edge of Ranger and the money that they bring into Ranger.

Heard Friday of one man who sold $10,000 worth of stock at the sale Thursday. Considerable folding money, we'd say.

Thursday night's game between Eastland and Ranger is getting the usual rehashing and no wonder. Some of the plays in that game were spectacular.

One that particularly got our eye was the lateral from Arterburn to Martinez that took place on our side of the field where the details of the play could be easily seen.

Arterburn was making a run for the clear with the ball but a Maverick was gaining on him. Seeing that he couldn't clear it, he lateraled to Martinez who struck out like a streak of lightning while Arterburn stayed behind to get the Maverick out of Martinez's way. And he did it too.

Ford was in there doing his share, too, and threw one Maverick for a big loss before he could move out of his tracks. The tackles, Carlin and Balch were crowding the Eastland eleven every time they snapped the ball. Hardy was getting his men and Griffin, calm as a spring morning, at center was snapping that ball on signal.

Incidentally, it was sure easy to lose Martinez. First you saw him and then you didn't but the first thing you know he emerges giving the impression that he had ducked between the legs of some Maverick.

Well, that Monday paper which we have been promising you will start Monday and for the first time since the outbreak of the war there'll be six papers a week.

That's just one more paper a week to fill up with news and when you know a bit of news, give the Times a ring. It takes news about your friends and what they're doing to make the paper interesting to you and the other fellow, too.

Naturally we want every bit of local news that can be had and also, naturally, it's impossible to make a personal contact with every person in the town, every day. You can help make your Ranger Daily Times more interesting by reporting news to the staff.

We didn't check this information to see, but somebody told us Saturday that of all the 9AA District games played this week-end Ranger was the only 9AA team to win their game.

All we could learn for sure was that Wichita Falls beat Breckenridge 19 to 6; Arlington Heights beat Mineral Wells 13 to 6 and Graham beat Stephenville 24 to 14. Brownwood was to have played Sweetwater and Weatherford was to have played Bonham. Cleo had an open date.

Makes Them Comfortable

Getting all set for an inflight snooze on the first cross-nation flight to a football game are Oklahoma University's full-back, J. L. Martin, right, and George Brewer, Sooner half-back, center, with the aid of Hostess Camilla Hunt former O.U. co-ed now senior hostess with Braniff Airlines. The O.U. football team and pep-squad are flying from Oklahoma City Airport to West Point's Stewart Field for their scheduled grid game in two planes chartered for the purpose. Miss Hunt is the daughter of Mrs. Susan Hunt of Ranger, Texas. (NEA Telephoto).

O. U. Football Team Gets Sendoff

As the Oklahoma University football team boarded one of two chartered planes at Oklahoma City Airport to be the first football team enroute to make use of planes to take them to the scene of gridiron battle, the O.U. pep organization, the Ruf-Neks look on as Jack Redbird, O.U. student from the Kiowa Indian tribe twirls his baton and leads victory cheers. At right a real Indian Princess, Pat Warren from the Mohawk Tribe adds her enthusiasm to the gathering. The Sooners are flying to West Point where they will meet the Army team at the Academy field.

King George II Cheered Upon Return to Greece

ATHENS (UP) — King George II returned to Athens through a three-mile lane of cheering Greeks today to resume the throne from which he was driven by the German army five years ago.

The king stepped from a launch onto the small cement New Phalaeon jetty to receive greetings from the Greek government.

Pony Only 22 Inches High
MOLINE, Ill. (UP) — Standing only a wobbly 22 inches, one of the smallest pony colts ever foaled in this region is learning his way around a shady enclosure at Jim's pony farm, just outside town.

Poets have found no words to rhyme with the words "silver" and "orange."

REPORTS ON MISSING AND DEAD UNCERTAIN

EXPECTS MEAT SHORTAGE TO EASE IN OCT.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Deputy OPA chief Geoffrey Baker predicted today the meat shortage will start to ease up in the latter part of October, but warned there may be some recurring shortages next spring.

Baker said in a radio address that the bumper corn and wheat crops were making it easier for farmers to feed livestock and "there is good reason to expect improved supplies in both beef and pork, beginning with the latter part of October."

"Supplies should continue to be fairly good from then on through the first of the year," he said. "Through the spring of 1947 there will probably be little variations up and down, mainly seasonal in character."

Baker denounced charges that price controls were responsible for the current shortage, saying the cause was heavy marketing while controls were off. Actually, he said, meat controls should increase the supply since producers will have "predictable prices" in herds.

Old Marked Bill Racket Shows Up In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP) — The Amarillo Better Business Bureau reports an incident of an old marked bill racket which was worked on an Amarillo merchant.

The bureau says a man walked into a store and paid for merchandise with a $10 bill marked with a telephone number.

Then a woman came in. She paid with a $1 bill. When the clerk handed her the change, she protested that she had been given a $10, marked with a telephone number.

The clerk looked at his cash register. There was the bill, and he gave the woman nine more dollars.

Two New Dealers Urge Meeting Of The Big Three

CHICAGO (UP) — Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Harold L. Ickes, former members of the Roosevelt cabinet, called for a Truman-Stalin-Atllee conference today to hasten the end of "terrifying" talk about war.

They told a week-end conference of Liberals from 31 states they must help elect a "progressive" congress this fall to press for such a Big Three meeting.

License Plates Change Color
ALBANY, N.Y. (UP) — New York State's division of motor vehicles is bothered by license plates which change color.

Many plates have faded from the conventional deep yellow to a dark cream and can hardly be recognized as New York plates. They are made at Auburn prison and officials believe wartime material shortages and ersatz paints may be at the root of the trouble.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP) — The official toll in San Antonio's destructive flash flood was set at six known dead and at least six missing today as damage estimates in the city of the Alamo were revised upward to $8,000,000.

Hundreds driven from their homes when a tropical downpour turned the sleepy San Antonio River into a death trap were wading back today, checking damage and restoring ruin.

The main flood crest was spreading out south of San Antonio on its way to the Gulf of Mexico, 150 miles away, and officials said the major threat had ended.

Sheriff Owen Kilday, who earlier reported eight bodies had been found, said a final check by both police and sheriff's officers placed the known toll at only six. "The final toll will be much higher," the sheriff said. "We have definite reports of six missing and certainly dead, and other reports of the missing run up to 14."

Two of four military policemen who vanished during rescue work were found unharmed, the sheriff said. The others, last seen as their boat capsized in the angry flood, were being sought.

Police Commissioner P. L. Anderson set the damage total at $5,000,000 but Police Capt. Fred Littlepage estimated it at $5,000,000.

Military police and special officers still guarded against looting in hard hit West San Antonio as hundreds who spent the night at relief centers began streaming back through the mud. Health officers warned that drinking water should be boiled and all health precautions taken.

Small Warns of Possible Labor Shortage Soon

WASHINGTON (UP) — Industry was warned today it faces a shortage of labor by the end of the year.

"A longer work week, at overtime pay, will be necessary if we are to get a substantial increase in overall production," said John D. Small, Civilian Production Administrator.

Small told a news conference the labor pool has been exhausted. There will soon be a shortage of labor "clear across the board," he added.

Truman Tells Cadets He's Sure Of World Peace

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UP) — President Truman, nostalgic over his own failure to make the U. S. Military Academy years ago, told the nation's future Army officers that he was confident of "permanent peace" in the future world.

He urged the West Point cadets to prepare themselves for national leadership which he thought would prove as necessary in peace as in war.

Gone With the Thief
COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — A thief left a message for Mrs. Nancy BeVier when he looted her car. Two fishing rods and a camera were taken but in their place was a copy of "Gone with the Wind."

SEEKS HOUSING INFORMATION FROM VETS.

Mayor J. J. Kelly again requests that all Veterans of World War II who wish to build, repair or remodel a home, and who have not filled out a blank like the one appearing in another column of this paper, do so at once and mail or send it to the Mayor's Emergency Housing Committee in care of the Chamber of Commerce.

He states that the information he has is that within the next two or three months they will begin to stockpile the lumber at Camp Barkley for the GI housing program and that the committee is anxious for the Veterans of Ranger to have all the details worked out regarding the application and be ready to go after the material as soon as it is available.

A similar sale is now being held at Camp Howe, near Gainsville, and representatives from Ranger went there to find out first hand how the plan was working out and they bring back reports to the effect that Veterans are really benefiting from the program.

Closing Hour of Stores Changed To 5:30 O'Clock

It was announced today that at a meeting of the directors and members of the Retail Merchants Association held Saturday morning it was voted to make 5:30 o'clock the closing hour for Ranger stores.

The new closing hour will become effective October 1st. It was announced Thursday that the closing hour through the winter months would be 6:00 o'clock but the change in the hour was made Saturday.

116-Year-Old Pear Tree Lives
JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (UP) — A 116-year-old pear tree on the Ray Nevius farm near here this year again bore as heavy a crop of fruit as it has ever since a pioneer doctor, Ralph H. Van Pelt, brought it West with him from New Jersey.

Albie Booth, outstanding half-back on Yale's football teams of the 30s, was the first player to be dubbed the "Mighty Atom" by sportswriters.

Finally Arrive At Destination

Three of the 17 survivors of the Sabena airliner crash at Gander, Newfoundland finally reached their original destination, LaGuardia Field, aboard a British Overseas Airways plane. The trio, left to right, are Jeanne and Etienne Perier, son and daughter of Gilbert Perier, general manager of Sabena Airlines and Philippe Henricot, Perier's nephew. They are examining a shattered trumpet which Etienne rescued from the crash. (NEA Telephoto).

Floating Navy Hotel Brought Back From Wars

SAN DIEGO, Cal. (UP) — It may or may not, help the housing shortage here, but a new 700-bed hotel has arrived from Pearl Harbor.

The hotel came on the end of a towline attached to a navy command ship. It was called the APL 48 and was used to provide housing at island bases in the South Pacific.

The APL's—it means "auxiliary, personnel, labor"—were designed to provide quarters for workers preparing outlying bases and for men operating the bases. They are 250 feet long, and in addition to air conditioned living quarters, have recreation rooms, libraries, soda fountains, and almost everything else you'll find in a hotel.

FORMER RJC DEAN GOES TO NEW COLLEGE

Announcement has been made of the appointment of H. L. Roy Baskin, former dean of Ranger Junior College, to the position of registrar and head of the department of social science in the Ector County Junior College at Odessa.

Baskin resigned a $3,000.00 contract as teacher of mathematics in Kermit High school to accept the position at Odessa. He stated that it was with regret that he left the position at Kermit but the contract with the Ector County college was made in the early part of September and he had remained with the Kermit school through the month to allow ample time for securing another teacher for the position.

Baskin further stated that it is his opinion that the Kermit schools are well organized and equipped and financially able to meet the needs of the school in the future.

In speaking of his new position, Baskin said, "I shall be happy to work in the new Ector County Junior College of Odessa. Under the able leadership of Murray H. Fly, superintendent of schools and president of Odessa College, I predict the rapid growth of what promises to be one of the best junior colleges of the state. It will be my aim to make whatever contribution that I can toward the growth of Odessa College."

Registration is now in progress at the college and class work will begin as scheduled on Monday, September 30. Baskin finished his work at Kermit and has taken up his new duties.

For a number of years Baskin was associated with Ranger Junior College as dean and prior to that in Ranger High School. He has many friends here who will find much interest in his promotion.

FORD CREATES PLANNING AND CONTROL UNIT

Creation of a new Ford Motor Company organizational unit, to be known as the Planning and Control Division, and appointment of Lewis D. Crueso as director has been announced by Henry Ford II, company president.

The new unit takes its place among the major staff divisions of the company, functioning on the same level as the Industrial Relations, Engineering, Purchasing, Manufacturing, Sales and Advertising and Finance Division, Mr. Ford said.

The Planning and Control Division will consist of a Planning Office and a Controller's Office. It will include all components of the present Controller's Office.

Until he joined the Ford executive staff recently, Mr. Crueso was, for the preceding eight months, special assistant to Ernest R. Breech, now executive vice-president of the Ford Motor Company. Mr. Breech then was president of the Bendix Aviation Corporation.

Born in Mora, Minn., in 1895, Mr. Crueso graduated grade 11 in high schools in northern Wisconsin, where his future career was influenced by his association with the Forestry section of the Wisconsin Department of Conservation. Coming to Detroit in 1915, he obtained a job as timekeeper in the Fisher Body Company. At that time the Fisher Brothers were the largest users of hardwood lumber in the world.

Concurrently with his duties at Fisher he attended the University of Detroit, from which school he was graduated in 1920 with a M.C.S. degree in business administration.

Meanwhile, aided by his experience in lumber and logging he soon was promoted to chief cost accountant for Fisher, a position he held when the Fisher Company became a division of the General Motors Corporation.

In 1931 he was named divisional controller of the Fisher Body Division. He assisted in the overall conversion from wood to all-metal automobile bodies.

As assistant treasurer and divisional controller of Fisher, he was the chief financial officer of a General Motors. In that capacity he was in direct charge of a 11 Fisher division accounting as well as all contracts and price relationships. Fisher war contracts numbered more than 300 and were valued at nearly two and one-half billion dollars.

In addition to his other duties he was an officer in all Fisher subsidiaries and a member of the company's operation committee, in which capacity he devoted considerable time to post-war planning and expansion of the Fisher properties.

He was associated with the Fisher Brothers and later the Fisher Body Division of the General Motors Corporation for 32 years.

He is a former national vice-president of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

MONSIEUR BEUCAIRE YEAR'S TOP LAUGH FILM

Hope springs eternal laughter throughout the entire running time of Paramount's hilarious version of Booth Tarkington's "Monsieur Beaucaire," which opens today at the Arcadia Theatre. Meaning, of course, the one and only Bob Hope who shares stellar billing in the film with lovely Joan Caulfield. "Monsieur Beaucaire" is an expertly produced travesty on the Tarkington novel of French and Spanish court life in the 18th century. In a straight adaptation, the late matinee idol, Rudolph Valentino, once played the title role. The very thought of Hope in the same part, must have been enough to convince the studio that a satire of the story would make a marvelous vehicle for the country's top comedian.

Not the Same Beaucaire
And how right they were! Hope's "Beucaire" is a scream, a n d Tarkington readers will never recognize him. Screen writers Frank and Panama have changed him from a prince of royal blood who masquerades as a barber, to a barber who masquerades as a nobleman, France's deadliest swordsman and-most pursued lover.

Bob's barber is barbaric, a n d when he incurs the ire of King Louis XV, he flees to Spain to avoid losing his head. In that country, circumstances force him to continue the guise of the nobleman who aided his escape. He is received at the court of Spain, and there Bob waltzes through trying situations and varied romances with a bravado that is singularly Hope. He seems to refuse to believe it's the 18th century, and his burlesque of the royal pomp of that period is a riot of fun.

Joan Caulfield plays Hope's heartthrob, whose own heart longs to belong to Louis. Through some of Bob's clowning, she is exiled to Spain by the Queen. There Hope takes up the pursuit of her again, while she continues to pursue the aristocracy. The comedian finally wins her in a finale

Reiser's Injury May Hurt Dodgers

Pete Reiser, the racing Dodgers' hard luck kid, is carried off the field by teammates after fracturing his left leg. The loss of their expert base-stealer and hitter may be felt by the Bums in the remaining three games of the season. Reiser was hurt when he tried to slide back into first base as the Philadelphia pitcher, Charley Schanz tried to trap him off base in the game between the Phillies and Brooklyn at Brooklyn. (NEA Telephoto).

that provides the biggest of the many, many laughs in the picture.

Excellent Support
Patric Knowles as the Duc de Chandre, whose impersonation gets Hope into one hilarious scrape after another, plays the counterpart of the original Valentino role, slays the villains and wins the hand of the Princess Maria of Spain, played by Marjorie Reynolds.

Getting the Cart Before the Horse

... is the popular way of saying that we act before we think. It is a state of mind not confined to the ignorant, nor to the mentally ill, but to all classes of people, some at times, others at all times. For instance, we buy property without an abstract. We spend several thousand dollars for improvements. Along comes a buyer who thinks before he acts and offers to purchase but wants an abstract first. How about your title Mr. Seller? Can you deliver?

JAPS POLISH DEMOCRATIC CONSTITUTION

TOKYO (UP) — The house of peers is putting finishing touches on Japan's new democratic constitution, which takes the sovereignty from the Emperor and places it in the hands of the people, guarantees them broad individual rights and renounces war.

The upper house is expected momentarily to complete its work on the draft of the constitution, which already has been approved by the house of representatives.

The lower house changed wording to make it clear that sovereignty lies in the hands of the people. To article 1, which originally read, "The emperor shall be the symbol of state and unity of the people, deriving his position from the sovereign will of the people," the lower house added the words, "with whom the sovereignty lies."

Representative Frank Takizawa, Matsumoto, American-educated member of the house, told the United Press that the representatives used a "lot of horse sense and tried very hard to prepare a constitution for democratizing Japan."

Matsumoto said "the way the constitution now stands as passed by the lower house it is far more democratic than the trend presently digestible by the Japanese mind."

Except for performing certain functions of state on behalf of the people and with advice and approval of the cabinet and making appointments as designed by the diet, the emperor will have constitutional powers related to the government.

All Japanese except the communists stand solidly for retaining the emperor system on the grounds it is the sole rallying point for the Japanese people in a time of such dire stress and its abolition would be "too drastic and would lead to confusion."

The lower house also provided that hereditary estates of the imperial household shall belong to the state. However, the house agreed with the government that the emperor's "personal" property lay outside the scope of this provision.

One observer said that "the Japanese people are now realizing the folly of the war which was caused by the militarists. Maintenance of armed forces as well as other war potentials will never be authorized under the constitution. That means there will be no possibility of Japan starting another war."

"However, for security purposes Japan will have to depend upon international co-operation. We be-
