U.S. Seeks Meat For Troops From Britain

Well . . .
I Dunno,
But . . .

There are more differences of opinions on football games than any other thing in the world. After the game is over and the rehashing starts you can hear all sorts of interpretations of the event.

So it was about the Coleman-Ranger game last Friday night. Though we didn't see the game, we've heard the reasons why Ranger didn't win. One was that the Bulldogs were out-classed. Another fan felt the Bulldogs just didn't try. Some said that the officials let too much get by them, etc.

Whatever the reason the game was lost and the thing ahead is the most important now. That's the first conference game coming up next week when the Bulldogs meet Brownwood on the Bulldog field.

A number of the first string men were hurt in the Coleman game but with two weeks rest and chance to recuperate perhaps they can be back in good shape.

It would sure be a spirit builder if the boys could win that first conference game a week from this Friday.

Here's a couple of good stories handed us today.

The little old lady was struggling with a hot cup of coffee in a small-town railway station, trying to gulp it before the train pulled.

A cowboy, seated a couple of stools away, noted her plight, and seeing the guard trying to get the woman's attention, came to the rescue.

"Here, ma'am, take my cup of coffee. It's already sauced and bloomed."

For many years, Harvard's professor Charles Townsend Cope-land occupied a couple of dingy, cramped rooms on the top floor of Hollis Hall. His associates repeatedly urged him to move into more comfortable quarters, but he persistently refused.

"This is the only place in Cambridge where God alone is above me," the professor explained. "He's busy—but He's quiet."

The Bulldogs are really being wined and dined and a fine thing it is, too. The Sportsman's Club is planning a big banquet for them a week from Wednesday and Sunday, W. M. Ramsey, operator of the Paramount Coffee Shop had the first string of players for noon dinner. Next Sunday he'll have the next string and the next Sunday the next. The boys are ushered into the Cafe and told to order what they want. And they did according to reports.

For the banquet next week only 125 tickets besides those of the Bulldogs will be sold and the tickets will go on sale Friday. So if you plan to get you'd better be on hand to get that ticket.

J. D. Johnson is displaying a German radio which was brought to him by a returning serviceman. He can't tell how it works because there aren't any tubes for it, but he thinks he can manage to substitute some. He says it's the type of radio used by the German air force.

Wallace Sticks To Guns Against Sticking to Guns

WASHINGTON (UP)—Henry A. Wallace said today that both sides must "give" if Russia and the United States are to resolve their differences on world atomic control policy.

"Finding a way to live together in one world is much more important than sticking to our guns," the former vice president and ousted secretary of commerce said in a letter to the editor of the Washington Post.

Wallace, who was fired from the cabinet for publicly bucking the administration's firm-with-Russia policy, made it plain that he is continuing to plug his own case-up policy.

A half-pint of sour cream makes enough dressing for salad to serve six persons.

Bride Dies On Way To Altar

Rose De Fabrizio, 21, in veil, clings to the arm of her father as she enters the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel at Inwood, Long Island, New York. Preceding Rose and her father up the steps of the Church are the ring bearer, flowergirl and bridesmaids. Shortly after entering the Church, Rose collapsed while walking down the aisle toward the altar where her childhood sweetheart, John Mastantuono, 20, was waiting. Doctor said she died because happiness proved too great a strain on her heart. New York Daily News Copyright from (NEA Telephoto).

Two Colleges Offer Courses By Mail To Vets

Mr. A. D. Modisett, local Contact Representative from the Eastland VA Office, announced today that the North Texas State Teachers College in Denton and East Commerce have negotiated contracts with the Veterans Administration to offer correspondence courses.

Veterans also have their choice of 60 other schools in all sections of the country which offer courses by mail on both the high school and college level.

The VA Dallas Regional office reported 168 veterans currently enrolled in mail courses. Radio electronics, income tax law, accounting and air conditioning are the most popular.

A vet may enroll by obtaining a certificate of eligibility from any VA office and forwarding it to the approved school of his choice. For complete details, the veteran is urged to meet Mr. Modisett in the Postmaster's Office at the U. S. Post Office on Saturdays from 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. when he comes to this city on Itinerary Service.

The VA pays no subsistence for correspondence school work. The veteran is allowed his tuition fees, books and supplies to a maximum of $500. He does not exhaust his eligibility time as rapidly as in a full-time college course. The vet who studies correspondence courses for one year loses only three months entitlement.

The school collects its fees from the VA.

WOULD EASE DEMANDS ON HOME SUPPLY

WASHINGTON (UP)—The War Department announced today it is negotiating with the British for the loan of 20,000,000 pounds of beef until next Feb. 28, to feed American troops in the European and Pacific theaters.

The Army said negotiations are underway between the War Department and British representatives. The official announcement did not reveal the source of the meat, but Army officials said it was beef allocated to Britain by Argentina.

The Army said the meat would "relieve the precarious food situation for troops in the European and Pacific theaters" and lessen the call on the United States domestic meat sources.

The U. S. will repay the British "pound for pound" prior to next Feb. 29, the Army said.

Agriculture Department sources said the Army negotiations with Britain were started last Friday after efforts to obtain meat directly from Argentina failed.

Meanwhile, there were these other developments in the meat situation—

1. Sen. Theodore Francis Green, D., R. I., called on the governm't to seize meat stocks of packing houses to determine whether packers are hoarding meat while the public eats fish and eggs.
2. The OPA meat industry advisory committee met to decide whether it will ask Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson to remove price controls from meat.
3. The OPA beef industry advisory committee, a separate group, also met to discuss a decontrol petition.

OPA sources said a majority of the meat industry advisory committee favors decontrol.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Former Ranger Resident Married In Ceremony At Henderson Oct. 5

The First Christian Church in Henderson, Texas, was the scene Saturday, October 5, of the marriage of Miss Ethel Jeanne Denman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Denman of Henderson, formerly of Ranger, to Mr. Louis France Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howell P. Hale of Kilgore. Miss Denman is the granddaughter of Mrs. J. W. Hampton of Ranger.

The wedding took place at 7:00 in the evening with Rev. Howard C. Bennett officiating. Vows were exchanged in a double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with arrangements of white chrysanthemums. White candelabra holding the flower arrangement with satin ribbon bows and streamers. The chancel was outlined its full length with clusters of fern interspersed with white tapers. Potted palms and fern completed the altar arrangement. Family pews were marked with satin bows and streamers.

The tapers were lighted by Miss Geneva Mizell of Texarkana and Miss La Nelle Bassett. Mrs. Luther Stacy presented pre-nuptial music. Miss Margaret Nell Lokey sang "Because" and "To Each His Own" and Mrs. Stacy played Schubert's "Serenade" during the ceremony. The bridal party entered to the strains of the traditional wedding march.

Miss Ynez Cornelius, maid of honor, and Miss Priscilla Kern and Miss Dorothy Wylie, bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of ice blue brocade silk fashioned with sleek lines, front shirring, and slim-draped skirts. They wore powder blue curled ostrich tips in swept hair arrangements and carried shower bouquets of talsman roses arranged with blue and talsman satin ribbon.

Miss Judy Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hale of Kilgore, preceded the bride as flower girl. She also wore an ice blue brocade silk frock in full skirt, off-shoulder design. Her flower basket was covered with white satin and trimmed with a nosegay of talsman roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her frost white satin gown of original design was fashioned with a fitted bodice displaying side shirring and accented by a wide circular ruffle trimmed in Valenciennes lace which was attached to a silk yoke. Her fitted sleeves buttoned to the elbow with a row of tiny satin buttons and ended in petal points where the lace was repeated. Her full gathered skirt extended into a long train.

The bride's full length veil of imported illusion fell in three circular tiers from a Mary Stuart headdress of starched lace interwound with seed pearls and outlined with imported Lillies-of-the-Valley. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis arranged with both wide and narrow satin streamers tied with buds of the same flowers.

In place of the usual sixpence in her shoe, she wore a gold spangle in the tradition of the theatre which she later presented to her maid of honor. Her only jewelry was a single strand of heirloom pearls which belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Julia Cornelius, and were worn by her mother and two aunts in their weddings.

Mr. Holt Hale, attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were another brother, Mr. M. A. Hale, Messrs. Walter Ray Watson, Jr., Sander Pilgreen, and Travis Hedge.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home following the ceremony. Clusters of silver wedding bells tied with white satin bows set the theme of the decorations.

The bride's table was laid with a white damask cloth and white tapers in crystal candelabra tied with satin streamers marked each end of the table. The three-tiered wedding cake stood on a mirror reflector accented by puffed white net with satin bows and was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Max Hale presided at the bride's cake and Mrs. Ralph Crim assisted in serving. Miss Geneva Mizell was in charge of the register.

For traveling, the bride wore an original three-piece suit of gray wool with white faille blouse and black calf accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. After a short honeymoon the couple will make their home in Kilgore.

Mrs. Hale is a graduate of Henderson High School and Texas State College for Women where she was a member of Pi Epsilon Delta and was active in the Speech Club, Round Table, College Theater and radio activities. She is well known in East Texas entertainment circles as the director of the Bohemian Club and personally performed in over three hundred shows for the entertainment of servicemen during the war. Following her graduation she was a member of the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes in New York, and appeared in the professional theatre in Montreal, Canada, and in Broadway shows in New York City.

Mr. Hale graduated from Kilgore High School, attended Kilgore Junior College where he was a member of Alpha Omega, and received his degree at North Texas State Teachers College. He served four years in the Army Air Corps and spent thirty-eight months in the Pacific.

Mrs. Louis F. Hale, pictured above, was Miss Jeanne Denman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Denman of Henderson. They are former residents of Ranger. She formerly appeared on the professional stage in Montreal and New York. Her grandmother is Mrs. J. W. Hampton of Ranger.

Recent Bride Is Honored Friday

As a compliment to Mrs. Elton Oakley, the former Miss Imogene Ledbetter, Mmes. O. R. Gilbert, T. C. Fambro, C. E. Sikes, C. A. Greenlee and T. G. Gilbert entertained with a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at the home of the former.

During the evening a number of friends called and presented the bride with a shower of lovely gifts and were served delicious refreshments by the hostesses.

Guests included Mmes. Oscar Okaley, Cletus Huckaby, T. C. Weaver, Will Daniels of Graham, T. D. Lauderdale, Dick Shaw, V. E. Cushionberry, E. L. Christenson, D. C. Greenlee, J. C. Thompson, H. C. Thompson, A. C. Thompson, Chester Hodges, W. D. Gray, F. A. Gray, R. P. Ledbetter, N. A. Richardson and Miss Bettye Greenlee.

Couple Back From Texas City Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Loper have returned from Texas City where they were married in a double ring ceremony at high noon Friday October 4. Mrs. Loper is the former Miss Martha Ann Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mitchell of Olden and Ranger.

The ceremony was performed in the home of Mr. Loper's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Graham with Rev. Roland P. Hood, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

The home was beautifully decorated with arrangements of white altheas and blue bells. The banister of the staircase down which the bride descended was entwined with bridal wreath dotted with white altheas.

Miss Chlotilde Loper, niece of the bridegroom, played the traditional processional, the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's recessional.

The bride who was given in marriage by Mr. Graham chose for her wedding a gray crepe wool suit with black accessories and a gray hat with veil. She carried a bouquet of tube roses centered with an orchid.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. L. E. Thomas of Owensboro, Ky. She wore a black wool gaberdine tunic dress with black feather hat.

Mr. S. H. Loper attended his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and held a wedding cake designed as a stair up which a miniature bridal couple ascended. The cake was embossed with birds and roses. Its base was surrounded by white jamine. Down the length of the table were white altheas and silver candelabra held white candles which lighted the table. Mrs. S. Thomas presided at the crystal punch bowl.

Mrs. Loper is a graduate of Ranger High School and attended the University of Louisville at Louisville, Ky. and North Texas State Teachers College at Denton.

The groom who is the son of Mrs. A. R. Loper of Texas City, is a graduate of Breckenridge High School and is now engaged in business in Ranger.

An added sparkle in glassware can be obtained if a few drops of ammonia and bluing are added to Wednesday for a visit in Houston warm soapsuds.

Group Entertained At Dinner Party

As a compliment to her daughter, Miss Valerie Leonard, Mrs. J. H. Leonard entertained at her home Saturday evening with a dinner party at 6:00 o'clock.

The table was centered with an arrangement of fall flowers and places were marked by cards in a floral design. At each place was a large paper mum the center of which was filled with candy.

The four course dinner was served to the following, Misses Dorothy Penn, Norma Jean Heinen, Mary Gess, Mary Ohr, Billye Jeanne Crawley, Carolyn Ducker and Miss Leonard.

Social Workers Being Sought For VA Program

The Veterans Administration has begun recruiting a staff of social workers to carry out a broad program of case work among veterans and their families served by the Dallas Regional office, Manager Tom R. Rayburn has announced.

Miss Mary Martin Ramage has reported for duty as chief social worker with a background of 33 months duty as case consultant with the American Red Cross in the European Theater. Before her appointment with the Red Cross, Miss Ramage was a case worker for the Community Service Society in New York from 1937-1943.

The staff will include two case supervisors and 10 social workers, who will be under the general supervision of the Chief Medical Officer at the regional office. Social workers must offer one year's graduate work at an accredited school of social work to be approved.

Social workers will operate at the mental hygiene clinic at Lovell Field and in the field to assist claims, adjudication, legal and other divisions.

They will help families of veterans discharged from VA hospitals in carrying out treatment prescribed by physicians, and aid veterans with vocational handicaps in fitting themselves to their work. Adjustments in the home environment also will be studied to improve the veteran's welfare.

When a veteran is receiving treatment in a hospital, the case worker will serve as a liaison between the man and his family to relieve him of worries about their welfare. Surveys also will be made to support diagnosis and in claims for pensions and compensation. The workers will aid the VA legal staff, it was announced, by making

Over Size Shoes Ordered For Football Player

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UP)—The shoe punch, so distressing to 17 year old O. W. "Tiny" McKenzie of the Hardin College football team, is to be eased by a pair of custom-made No. 14 brogans.

When a luncheon club learned from Coach Thurmon Jones that McKenzie, 6 foot 4 inch lineman from Gainesville, Tex., needed shoes a size larger than could be found on the ready-to-wear market, an order was placed with a cobbler to make a pair large enough for comfort.

McKenzie, the coach said, is a semi-invalid while wearing the No. 13s.

 IS EXPECTED

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (UP)— Bernard M. Baruch, chief American delegate to the United Nations atomic energy commission, was expected to reply to Former Secretary of Commerce Henry A.
 Wallace's criticism of his atomic control plan tonight when the aged statesman receives the annual Freedom House award in New York City.

Baruch's advisers considered the Freedom House dinner an excellent occasion for him to reply to Wallace's most recent charge that he had caused an impasse between Russia and the Western Powers in the UN atomic commission because of his "stubborn and inflexible approach."

Baruch's address will be made a few hours after a meeting of the atomic commission's political committee which is expected to reject a Mexican plan for a compromise between Russia and the Western Powers on the control of atomic energy.

NUERNBERG (UP)—Her-

 holding information that will enable Nazism to revive within 10 or 20 years, the Nuernberg psychologist reported today.

Dr. Gustave Gilbert told the United Press that Goering is "pending his last days contemplating what he considers to be 'secret revenge on the Allies.'"

The psychologist reported that Goering has confided that he would "take some secrets to the grave with me."

The former commander of the German air force was described as feeling that his failure to tell all would permit Nazis to revive the Hitler legend and the accompanying intense Nationalism within 10 or 20 years.

The army lifted a corner of the curtain of secrecy over the Nuern-criminals were waiting out their last eight days. The glimpse inside

A LESSON TO REMEMBER
 Reddy Kilowatt is a great help to students. He lights the way to better grades... makes home work easier
 ... less tiring to the eyes.
 Tests have proved that the kind and amount of light affects the ability of students to learn. You can help your child make better grades and help conserve precious eyesight by providing enough light for easy seeing. These suggestions will help you:
 Be sure the lamp your child uses for reading and studying has a bulb large enough —at least 100 watts.
 Provide a wide shade that will spread the light over the study table.
 Be careful to keep any glare from an un-shaded bulb from striking the eyes.
