

Egypt Takes Up Fight For Small Nations

DEMANDS BIG POWERS TAKE OUT TROOPS; STOP PRESSURE

UNITED NATIONS HALL, Flushing, N. Y. (UP) — Egypt today demanded that the Big Powers withdraw troops stationed in small countries and cease "related forms of external pressure" on the little nations.

Mohammed Hussein Heikal Pasha, Egyptian ambassador to the United Nations General Assembly, said his country considers the presence of foreign troops on the soil of any member state of the UN "a grave infringement on its sovereignty."

While ostensibly amide at Britain, the Egyptian's denunciation also was a slap at the presence of American forces in such places as China, Latin America and Iceland—an issue which Soviet Russia has threatened to raise in the Assembly this session.

A Soviet request for a discussion of the presence of Allied troops in countries other than the former enemy states is on the Assembly's tentative agenda.

He attributed what he called military pressure from the Big Powers to the absence of the UN's police force and submitted a proposal that the Assembly ask the Security Council to fix a date by which the military staff committee must complete its recommendations for establishing the world organization's power to suppress aggression.

It was learned that the United States has drafted a proposal for "more discreet" use of the veto power, especially by Soviet Russia.

GERMANS JAIL TEN IN EMBLING INVESTIGATIONS

FRANKFURT (UP) — German police jailed ten persons today, including a former lieutenant in the Nazi Storm Troopers, for questioning in the bombing of the denazification court building at Esslingen.

Authorities said those arrested were believed to have knowledge of the persons who crept along a shallow canal in Esslingen soon after 8 p.m. Sunday and planted the bomb on a window sill at the courthouse.

Explosives experts said the bombers apparently were the ones who hurled three bombs at denazification courts and military police headquarters in Stuttgart and near Backnang a week ago.

TRUMAN MESSAGE REJECTS ARAB KING'S CHARGES

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman in a message to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia today rejected the Arab ruler's recent charge that this government's stand on Palestine contradicted previous American policy.

Despite Saud's objections, the President reaffirmed his belief that at least 100,000 European Jews should be admitted to Palestine immediately.

On October 15 Saud expressed to Mr. Truman a fear that the Jews might use force and violence in aggressive schemes against neighboring Arab countries.

BIG CROWD FOR CHOIR PROGRAM

One of the largest crowds ever assembled in the Recreation Building in Ranger was present Sunday night for the performance of Dr. Wilford C. Bain's A Cappella choir from North Texas State College at Denton. Large crowds from surrounding towns joined Ranger people in attending.

Hall Walker, president of the Chamber of Commerce, one of the sponsoring organizations, presided at the opening of the meeting and introduced Dr. Bain, one of the southwest's most outstanding directors.

The spell bound audience and rounds of applause were testimony of the appreciation of the crowd for the two hour program of superb music.

Members of the choir were entertained in Ranger homes Sunday night and left Monday morning to continue on their concert tour which will take them as far as points in New Mexico.

The program was made possible through contributions from the following organizations: Elks Lodge, Lions Club, Rotary Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Child Welfare Club, Columbia Study Club, New Era Club, 1920 Club, American Association of University Women and the Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements for the building were made by Dr. G. C. Bassell and young ladies who served as ushers were voice pupils of Mrs. Homer Hearty, a former student under Dr. Bain and a former member of the A Cappella choir.

Radio Once Eva Braun's Owned By Kansas Couple

DALHART, Tex. (UP) — An all-metal radio believed to have belonged to Eva Braun, mistress of Adolph Hitler, now plays sweet music instead of war hymns for Mr. and Mrs. George M. White, formerly of Dalhart, in their Pratt, Kansas home.

The radio, an acquisition of the White's son, Merle, while attached to a headquarters train as special Diesel serviceman, is 18 inches high, three feet long, weighs about 75 pounds and is battleship gray-colored.

White discovered the radio in what had been Eva Braun's special car on Hitler's train. It had been knocked to the floor and was supposedly broken. High officials gave it to White.

The special train, once Hitler's, was "liberated" for use by Gen. Eisenhower, and is now being used by Gen. McNarney, U. S. commander in Germany.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP) —An inquisitive robin that was entombed in brick and mortar more than 50 years ago has been found perfectly preserved.

Workers dismantling the Congregational church in suburban North Evans found the bird, whose plumage was as brilliant in color and soft to the touch as though the bird still lived. The bird was found in a hole in the masonry.

In Old Days They Wove Cloth That Was Meant To Last

When he came to the United States he brought part of the hand-woven material with him. Weikert died two years ago. But the cloth made from his hemp still is used as a seat cover in the car belonging to his son Maurice.

Stone Turtles Sought In N. D.

BISMARCK, N.D. (UP) —The North Dakota Historical Society is looking for stone turtles. State Historian Russell Reid says some turtles carved of stone have been found in North Dakota and he thinks there may be more.

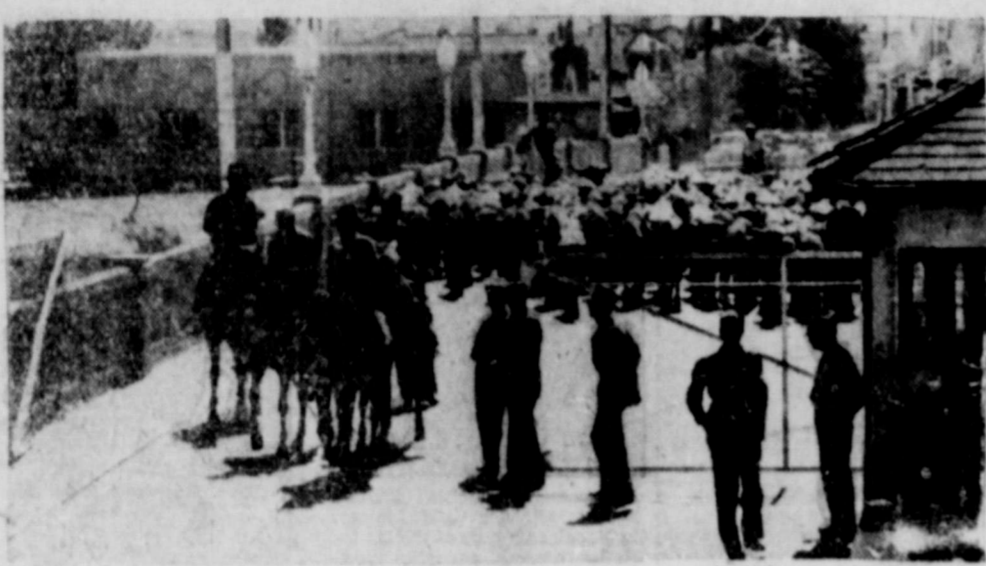

Reid says the turtles—and other boulder designs—apparently were made by the primitive Indians. Although their meaning or use has never been determined, he thinks they may have had religious or ceremonial significance.

Ranger Student Pledged to TSCW Literary Society

Special to The Ranger Times.

DENTON, Tex. — A pledge to the 11 literary and social clubs on the Texas State College for Women campus, 269 students have ended the informal initiation period and are now considered active members. Miss Betty Louise White of Ranger is included in the group.

During the period of initiation the "lowly pledges" soberly carried loaded suitcases, eggs, and brooms to class, measured the distance around the courthouse with peanuts and scrubbed the post-office steps with a toothbrush.

Purpose of these clubs is to stimulate interest in literature, art or music, promote social activities for members, and encourage the achievement of high scholastic standing.

Miss White, daughter of Mrs. Ven D. White, is a member of the Phi Omicron Club.

Deny Charges

WASHINGTON (UP) — The National Housing Agency today hit back at criticism by Sen. Owen Brewster, R. Me., saying there was no substantiation of the general charges made in what he described as a "long suppressed" report on wartime housing.

Well... I Dunno, But...

Doorbells in Ranger will begin peeling this week and when your rings be sure that you answer it and lend a patient ear. For it will likely be a Ranger Daily Times carrier wanting to sell you a subscription.

He'll be an eager salesman for he'll be after that new bicycle which D. H. Diek, circulation manager, is going to give the carrier that secures the most new subscriptions from now until November 16.

The contest opened today and will continue through the fifteenth. And you ought to see the bicycle that will be the prize. It's new and shiny and streamlined. Subscriptions to count must be at least for 20 days.

Help these boys, one of them at least, to win that bike by taking out your subscription.

Here are the names of the present carriers, Ray Green, Hall Green, Chester Parish, Bill Brzda, Mackie Hummell, Willis Rainwater, Johnny Gay, Johnny Barton and Alvin Thames.

Mrs. M. R. Newham here for the A Cappella choir concert Sunday night, told us that Mrs. Chester Rogers of Longview, formerly of Ranger, was recently elected general chairman for all the circles of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist church in Longview. The church has a membership of 7,000.

Quite a compliment but a lucky stroke for the circles, too. Mrs. Rogers formerly served as the president of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist church in Ranger.

*Much favorable comment was heard today on the program given here Sunday night by Dr. Bain's A Cappella choir from Denton.

That kind of program is good for a town and the people in it. "Music hath charms"; the old quotation goes and that was a charmed audience Sunday night with never a note until the last faint notes or the flourish of each number; had ended.

To us the parts that were hummed were the best and that first soprano had a hum that wouldn't quit. The baritone and tenor solos were well executed too. Well, we just plain liked it and we believe that everybody else did, too.

*More of that sort of entertainment could be used in Ranger. The money to bring the program here was raised by personal contributions from members of the organizations mentioned elsewhere in this edition and we're sure that every contributor would gladly do it again.

*Fans are beginning to make their plans to go to Mineral Wells Friday night to attend the Ranger-Mineral Wells game. Being as close as it is, Ranger should take quite a cheering section to the game and help put the spirit in the Bulldogs.

We're just not making any predictions on the outcome of that game, but as long as we have the good football, material that we have in that team we're gonna keep on hoping for a conference game victory.

Had several people add a sort of "amen" to the suggestion that Ranger's stadium should have a room for the visiting team to retire to during the half and for suiting out purposes.

One man even ventured the opinion that it should be a brick structure.

NEW DEFINITIONS

The problem of finding an accurate, American, 1946-model definition of "liberal" and "conservative" continues to bother a good many people.

That definition is simple, but perhaps not wholly satisfactory. It seems a trifle exclusive for so embracing a political label.

This viewpoint has it that the conservatives, who spent the postwar year in criticizing the liberals, are now on the spot. They have found it easy to blame everything on price control and government interference.

Mr. Grafton sees the shoe on the other foot, with the liberal government-control group taking pot shots at the conservative free-enterprisers.

This viewpoint is obviously correct in some of its observations. Of course it is easier to criticize than to perform. But is the theory of private enterprise so hazardous, untried and fraught with peril that the whole American business structure must quake in its boots at the prospect of conducting its affairs along traditional and generally successful lines?

But we do not think that an answer of yes is inevitable. There are black markets and shortages of food and housing under Russia's complete government control and the partial government control in Britain.

That record was not a creation of government control but of American productive capacity achieved under private enterprise, and American effort exerted with a united will.

We worked hard to win the war. Then we separate into quarrelsome groups. If all of us, liberal government controllers and conservative private-enterprisers, can recapture some of our wartime spirit there is little cause for fear.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Alarmed that so many people are casually accepting the idea that another depression, and no prosperity, is "just around the corner," leading American businessmen in the war-born Committee for Economic Development have decided to continue their organization in an effort to stay off the bust predicted to follow today's boom.

In moving against the next depression, which is now being so widely predicted, the big idea will be to keep high-level employment. This end, some 90 leading American industrialists making up the CED board of trustees met in Washington last week and staked out three principal areas for investigation.

MOST difficult is the field of labor-management relationship. The committee's study of this question is being based on the not-surprising conclusion that this relationship hasn't been good in the past, and that something should be done to improve it.

Second will be a study of wage-price relationships. The goal is to see how real wages can be raised in relation to purchasing power. The old idea that wages can be raised only if the amount of the raise is taken away from the consumer will be abandoned.

THIRD will be an inquiry into the government's fiscal and monetary policy. Today the government takes 40 out of 100 billion dollars national production. How the government spends this money has a decided effect on the national economy.

This leads to a study of how the government's tax policy affects business levels. CED made its tax policy recommendations two years ago and is sticking by its recommendation of that time.

Briefly, it is that the tax policy of government should be stabilized, instead of changed every year. With taxes set for a normal level of prosperity, government income should cover government expenses.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Australia has a new fistic idol, its first since the ill-fated Les Darcy. He is champion of the Antipodes, whom he beat for the world championship. Ted Thyne, Pacific Northwest and been authorized by Stadium Ltd. to close a match for Sidney for next February or March, which is the good old summertime down under.

Boxing and wrestling are drawing big gates in Australia, writes Thyne, who was an accomplished grappler in his own right. Fresh from a sojourn down under, he calls Patrick the most accomplished boxer he has seen since the halcyon days of Benny Leonard, although he probably means Lew Tendler, for the record book shows Patrick to be a southpaw.

TACKLING a local boy in Sidney recently, Patrick drew 11,800 pounds, or $47,672. Thyne estimates that a championship engagement would do 100,000 pounds, or $404,000. They shouldn't have any difficulty landing Bob Montgomery or Ike Williams for that kind of money.

Thyne suspects Montgomery would be the superior attraction, which is something in the way of evidence that the New York edition of a championship means more in Australia than the NBA. But Williams is the more likely to make the trip. The young Trenton Negro has developed into quite a globe-trotter, shuffling down to Mexico City to dispose quickly of Juan Zurita and flying to Cardiff, Wales, to iron out Ronnie James in nine.

Despite Williams' punch on foreign soil, Thyne believes that at 135 pounds Patrick is the only

OIL MEN SCOFF AT IDEA UNITED STATES DEPLETED

By William H. Lander
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Exploration for new oilfields in the United States is actively under way.
 At the same time the industry is busy trying to find new uses for natural gas which in Texas is found in enormous quantities. Also most oil states are enforcing conservation measures.
 Here in the center of the "mid-continent" oil section, experienced oil men place no credence in the prediction of "calamity-howlers" who claim that all United States oil reserves will have disappeared by 1962.
 In a week's tour of the oil fields and refinery centers of Texas and Louisiana, this correspondent inquired into the origin of the prediction that all the oil in the United States would vanish in 15 years.
 The answer was that those who made the prediction have simply divided the amount of "proved reserves" in the United States—22,000,000,000 barrels, by the amount consumed yearly—1-1/2-2,000,000,000 barrels. The result is 14 2-3 years, so on that basis, they estimate the depletion.
 Oil men here said that such predictions fail to take into account the fact that more oil is being found all the time, and that conservation measures are becoming increasingly popular. In that connection, they point to the advantages of an increased use of natural gas, either by liquifying it, or by using it as fuel.
 Texas, which has been a big oil producing state since 1901, is now busy with further explorations. The fabulous King Ranch is being developed as an oil field. Louisiana also has long been producing oil, but new fields are being found there—on land, and under water in rivers, swamps and marsh. The same is true in other states with long-producing records. But new ones, such as Florida, Georgia, and Mississippi, are coming into the picture. And even on bleak Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, exploratory work is going on.
 Here in the rich mid-continent area, one learns the truth of the old adage that "oil is where you find it." In Galveston Bay, we saw drilling for oil, 40 feet under water—an operation which engineers told us was complicated, but nothing very much out of the ordinary, for at Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, they get oil 100 feet under water.

 At the town of Kilgore, Texas, we saw where a bank building had been torn down to make way for the digging of an oil well. We saw a well dug at an angle to get under a church. We saw oil wells on the right of way of railroads. In some bays of Louisiana, artificial islands have been built to keep the derricks and boilers on during operations. There already are two oil wells under the Mississippi River, drilled from the banks at an angle.
 The fact that oil might be under an ocean, bay, marsh, swamp, river or other inaccessible places does not deter the oil men from going after it.

CHURCHES URGE NEW APPROACH ON STRIKES

By A. M. Goul
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK (UP)—Strikes and religion do not have much in common as a general rule, but the churches of America are beginning to urge that labor, management and government be more logical in their approach to problems that have the three of them going around in circles and never finding a solution.

Both the Protestant churches of the United States—through the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America—and the Catholic church in its various publications and organizations, are trying to impress upon the individual, the corporation and the government that a continuing disruption of their relations is preventing the necessary stabilization of both the economic and spiritual needs of the country.

These needs are closely related, the council concludes after an exhaustive study of current labor-management conditions. The problem goes much further than full employment, the council believes, and there is a definite distinction between full employment and gain needs of the country.

In that concept, religion finds a sanction "for seeking this goal within the framework of wide individual freedom to choose occupation, residence and goods and services."

In its efforts to arouse the churches of the country to devote more time to the problem of economics, and particularly labor troubles, the Council urges them "to encourage the intelligent application of religion to the problems whose solution in a democracy must have the support of an informed public opinion."

The Roman Catholic viewpoint in one phase of labor-management relations is discussed by the Rev. George G. Higgins of the National Catholic Welfare Conference in an article in the "Yardstick—Catholic Tests of a Social Order," on the validity of industry-wide bargaining.

After pointing out that many big businesses demand that negotiation of labor-management problems should be limited to the plant level, Father Higgins asked, "In having a national union, if the members of that union are confined on the plant level, what's the advantage of having the union?"

He commented that big business seems to be getting bigger, "and yet organized labor is told, with a straight face and show of friendliness, to prepare to get smaller—if not in the scope of its membership, at least in the range of its activities."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House
What this country needs is not a good 5-cent cigar; it's the return of good, old 5-cent hamburgers. Can you remember when you got a hamburger, slice of pickle, slice of onion, mustard and a bun—all for a nickel? Now you get a slice of wilted lettuce, a sliver of apologetic tomato, a smear of mayonnaise, a dab of meat, two parched pieces of bread and three soggy potato chips—and pay 30 cents!

Senator Taft of Ohio declares the trials of the German war criminals are a disgrace. He says they were under an ex post facto law—that we declared the law after the act and not before. Murder has always been against the law. That law does not need to be passed by legislatures nor engraved on parchment; the Almighty has written it in the conscience of man. No one had told Cain he should not kill his brother but Cain knew it was wrong and his maker branded him and sent him forth to wander, accursed, through the world. Nobody has ever objected to that as a wrongful punishment—that is, nobody until Senator Taft came along.

Shall we hang a man for the murder of one—and not hang those who were responsible, through concentration camps, slave labor and executions, for the murder of millions? A hunter popped pheasant on a hill; It made a great to do and then was still. It seems, when later on his game he spied It was his guide. And one dispatched a rabbit for his haul! That later proved to measure six feet tall. And, lest you think I'm handing you a myth. Its name was Smith. A cautious man espied a gleam of brown; Was it a deer, or Jones, a friend from town? And while he pondered at the Jones' potted him. river's brim. --Anonymous

Miraculous?

More than 30,000 pilgrims have traveled to the village of Vilar Chao, Portugal, to see Amelia Natividade, peasant girl reputed to be the subject of miracles. She recently claimed to have had a vision of the Virgin Mary and to have been cured of infirmities, events accompanied by the appearance of a cross mark on her forehead and left hand, as seen in photo. Although examined beforehand by clergy and her hands sealed by physicians, the stigmata are said to have reappeared.

Veterans Wanting Surpluses May Contact WAA Man

ABILENE, (Spl.) —Eastland County veterans of World War II interested in acquiring some of the vast stocks of surplus government property which War Assets Administration is now offering for sale should contact Doyle Smith, field representative of WAA, next Wednesday and Thursday, October 30 and 31 in Abilene.

Smith will be at the American Legion Hall, First and Cedar streets for the two days from 9 to 1 and 2 to 5 and will assist veterans who have not previously applied for certification to obtain the WAA certificate necessary to exercise their priority buying rights.

With a huge site sale scheduled to open at Camp Bowie sometime in November, veterans, by making application at this time, will be qualified to make purchases from the extensive offerings WAA will make at that time. Veterans will have the first five buying days at the Camp Bowie "site sale."

Two trips will be made to Abilene by representatives of the veterans division of this office, during November on Wednesday and Thursday, November 13 and 14 and again on Wednesday November 27.

Declaring that he couldn't wait for civic groups to decide on a suitable marker for President Truman's birthplace in Lamar, Mo., Constable Evert H. M. Mormons Buy Land Where Founder Lived In Penn.

MONTROSE, Pa. (U.P.)—Thirteen acres of land on which Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon faith, once lived have been purchased by Willard C. Wood and Willard Richardson, leaders in the Mormon church of Latter Day Saints.

It was on this land, one mile west of nearby Oakland Borough, that Smith claimed to have received Divine inspiration for founding his cult, which now has more than 1,000,000 followers in the U.S.

Sentimental reasons prompted the purchase. It is likely a monument will be erected to commemorate the fact the Mormon prophet once lived there. In a nearby cemetery are the graves of Smith's infant son, and Isaac and Elizabeth Hale, his parents-in-law.

as area probably attracts more duck shooters than all the rest of the coast. Here great flights of ducks already have been seen heading for nearby marshy resting areas. Aransas Bay furnishes the best spring and redhead shooting on the coast. Guides have been busy here for months, setting out blinds and getting decoys in shape. Most of them are booked ahead for weeks.

The Laguna Madre Area, from Corpus Christi on down toward Port Isabel, is a vast expanse of water and shore line offering thousands of good hunting spots and sights for blinds. There are few guides in this area and the matter of water transportation becomes a problem.

Moving south-westward, the Bolivar Peninsula country with its many bays, bayous and marshlands, especially in Chambers county, provides some of the best goose shooting in America. Hunting around Galveston and East Bay is not so good because of industrial activity and to some extent, pollution. The old Slop Bowl country, between Galveston and Freeport, is still attractive to both ducks and geese and down the coast farther, around the Matagorda Bay area, is excellent bay shooting. Matagorda Island is a duck sanctuary, but most of the area is restricted to private hunters.

The Rockport area boasts of numerous clubs where the hunter can make reservations. This is mostly bay shooting with sprigs predominating although you will find some redheads, blue bills and teal also.

The Aransas Pass, Port Aransas area is a duck sanctuary, but most of the area is restricted to private hunters.

COAST EXPECTS HORDES OF DUCK HUNTERS NOV. 23

By Andy Anderson (Written for United Press) HOUSTON, Tex., (UP)—The biggest herd of hunters ever to march into Texas coastal blinds is expected to start a wild scramble for ducks on Nov. 23. It'll be every man for himself unless he has a private lake or access to bay blinds.

Reports from the duck factories in Canada bring ominous news of a reduced crop. Bag limits will be reduced, too, from 10 a day to seven with only 14 allowed in possession. And the hunting days are cut from last year's 80 to 45.

What will be the condition of the Texas Coast?

Most of the ducks coming down the Atlantic coast flyway head toward the Texas coast. Glimmer all the Mississippi flyway and you'll see that it, too, leads toward the Gulf coast and Texas. Ditto: Most of the ducks along the Mississippi eventually end up in Texas or Louisiana.

However, there's a new element in the distribution of Texas ducks. There are about 22 huge natural lakes scattered over the state, starting with Texas on the Texas-Oklahoma border. All of these lakes are in rich farming areas which means that thousands of ducks and geese which formerly flew on down the coast now camp out on these lakes unless unusually cold weather forces them farther south.

But in spite of everything, veteran duck guides are preparing for a good season. They point out 1946 brought the largest rice crop in years to the coastal marshlands. They fall to point out, however, that mechanical harvesters clean as area probably attracts more duck shooters than all the rest of the coast. Here great flights of ducks already have been seen heading for nearby marshy resting areas. Aransas Bay furnishes the best spring and redhead shooting on the coast. Guides have been busy here for months, setting out blinds and getting decoys in shape. Most of them are booked ahead for weeks.

WORTH HOTEL
IN THE HEART OF FORT WORTH'S THEATRE AND DOWNTOWN SHOPPING DISTRICT

The Laguna Madre Area, from Corpus Christi on down toward Port Isabel, is a vast expanse of water and shore line offering thousands of good hunting spots and sights for blinds. There are few guides in this area and the matter of water transportation becomes a problem.

Moving south-westward, the Bolivar Peninsula country with its many bays, bayous and marshlands, especially in Chambers county, provides some of the best goose shooting in America. Hunting around Galveston and East Bay is not so good because of industrial activity and to some extent, pollution. The old Slop Bowl country, between Galveston and Freeport, is still attractive to both ducks and geese and down the coast farther, around the Matagorda Bay area, is excellent bay shooting. Matagorda Island is a duck sanctuary, but most of the area is restricted to private hunters.

The Rockport area boasts of numerous clubs where the hunter can make reservations. This is mostly bay shooting with sprigs predominating although you will find some redheads, blue bills and teal also.

The Aransas Pass, Port Aransas area is a duck sanctuary, but most of the area is restricted to private hunters.
