Churchill Sounds Alarm On Russian Stand

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Sombody suggested this week-end that our stock of excuses for the Bulldog defeats would soon run out. Maybe we have been making excuses for the boys, but frankly, we've been hunting for the reason for those defeats when at times the Bulldogs show such superb football playing.

It won't take any searching for an excuse for the defeat Monday. We might have won the game even if they hadn't thrown Arterburn out, but that point will stand some arguing. They threw Junior out right at the end of the first half and when the half ended Cisco was only one touchdown in the lead, and that Ranger passing machine was clicking with precision.

But win or lose, the decision that ousted Junior, at best, seems unfair. If he had been guilty of unnecessary roughness, it seems that a penalty and warning would have been sufficient for the first offense. Besides that, as long as we've been watching that boy play, we've never seen him stoop to anything unfair, or too rough.

Criticism of the officials, now, won't do any good, but in fairness to one of the best sports we've ever seen and one of the best little football players Ranger ever had, something in his defense is in order.

As one of the captains of the game, his loss was felt by the team, though nobody can accuse the rest of the boys of letting down on the job after Arterburn was out.

Despite the fact that Ranger's band is only about two months old, their performance at the game half Monday was a credit to the town and performed equally as well as the visiting band which is a much older band.

We think Mary Ann Metcalf has made some kind of record for whipping that band into shape in such a short time and they tell us that most of the band members have had to learn to play their band instruments, never having played them at all before the band was organized.

David Pickrell, three and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. David D. Pickrell, takes the cake for chonchance. Last week he had his first airplane ride and after taking a brief survey of the situation, settles himself back to look at a magazine.

Not so Mama Pickrell who went along in the Premier Oil Refining Company's big "Becherfaft". On her first airplane ride in about 15 years she was astounded at the smoothness and wonders of the new type plane. They made the trip to Abilene and back in 40 minutes and when they landed at the port it was with the smoothness of a great bird alighting. Mrs. Gwen Meacham, Mrs. Pickrell's sister, who is her guest, also made the trip.

Week-ends in Ranger are getting famous for the variety of the weather and last week-end was no exception. Rain, a norther, clear bright skies and the first freezing temperature of the season were some of the items.

From a high temperature of 31 Saturday it fell to a low of 32 during the 24 hours ending Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock and at 11:00 hour Monday morning the temperature was 37. Low for the period ending at 8:00 o'clock this morning was 37 and high for Monday was 58.

Minister Protests Atomic Cake

MISS WHEAT, MISS BROCK ARE FAVORED

In ceremonies at the half of the game between Cisco and Ranger Monday at the Bulldog stadium, Miss Patsy Wheat was introduced as the 1946 football sweetheart. She was driven onto the field in an automobile and her identity remained a secret until she stepped from the car and was presented to the crowd by the co-captains for the day, Worth Carlin and Junior Arterburn. She was presented a large bouquet of mums and led from the field by the captains.

Also adding color to the game Monday was the presentation of the band sweetheart, Miss Frances Brock. Miss Brock was presented a bouquet of mums by Band Director Mary Ann Metcalf and little Sarah Elizabeth Johnson, mascot of the band. Miss Brock marched with the band during the maneuvers at the half.

GI UNIVERSITY AIDS VET PROBLEM IN N.Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP)—New York State, taking unprecedented steps to answer the demands of thousands of education-seeking war veterans, took over wartime army and navy installations this fall and opened three emergency colleges. Some 5,500 students barred from already overcrowded regular colleges, are studying at the emergency institutions located at strategic points in the upstate area. Mohawk College was established at Utica, Sampson at the former naval training center near Geneva, and Champlain College at Plattsburgh.

Sampson, the last to be opened, has the largest number of students—more than 3,000—while Mohawk and Champlain have more than 1,200 each. By early 1947, however, the total figure is expected to be closer to 10,000.

More than 80 per cent of the students so far are veterans and their wives. Non-veterans, both men and women, are admitted on a day-student basis. The students come not only from New York but several eastern and midwestern states as well.

CISCO TAKES ANNUAL GAME FROM RANGER

Led by Don Johnson, Stanley Williams and Charles Pence, the Cisco Lobos took the big end of the score at the Cisco-Ranger game played here Monday when the game ended 38 to 12 in favor of Cisco.

Cisco scored its first touchdown in the first quarter after a series of Johnson to Pence and Johnson to Williams, passes and hand-off plays, set up the touchdown on the five yard line. Williams went around right end for the marker and Pence kicked the extra point. After a long Johnson to Pence pass, Pence was downed on the five by Williams of Ranger and this time Williams carried around end for another six points. Cleveland failed to kick the extra point.

Pence kicked to Ranger with Arterburn receiving the ball on the 32 yard line. On a hide-out play Arterburn passed to Williams who carried the ball to the 2 yard line and Arterburn carried over standing up for Ranger's first touchdown. Frazier's kick failed to make the extra point.

With the ball in Cisco's hands, Johnson passed to King for a 25 yard gain. Williams went through center for a first down and Johnson carried around end to the three yard line. Williams again carried over for the touchdown. Pence failed to convert the extra point by a kick.

Cisco kicked to Ranger with Wright receiving the kick and returning the ball 18 yards. Ranger completed a series of short passes and then Arterburn tossed off a long one to Gray who received it right on the goal line and carried over. Again the extra point failed.

Ranger was penalized 15 yards and Arterburn ordered out of the game just before the end of the half but before Arterburn went out he had five out of eight attempted passes for a total of 125 yards.

In the third quarter Cisco went on a rampage for three more touchdowns with only one extra point earned. A long pass from Williams to Pence accounted for the first of the three scores and Cleveland dropped kicked the extra point.

The next two touchdowns were scored on Johnson to Williams passes. The Bulldogs held the Lobos to a scoreless fourth quarter.

Molotov Catches U.S., Britain Off Guard Again

NEW YORK — Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov's offer to meet American demands for inspection rights as a prerequisite to disarmament caught the United States and Great Britain by surprise today.

Again, as at the opening of the United Nations General Assembly when the Russians proposed general reduction of armaments, the Soviet Union has grabbed the ball and run with it. But the Americans and British were wondering whether Molotov's statement at the Armistice Day dinner of the Foreign Press Association last night was for propaganda purposes or could be taken at face value.

Letter Dated For 2021 Taken From Cornerstone

ABILENE, Tex. (UP)—A letter to members of the First Christian church of the year 2021 was among the valuable historical data contained in the small black "century box" which was taken from the cornerstone of the church recently.

Relating past accomplishments and expressing hopes for the future of the church, the letter written by W. J. Milburn, now of Dallas, recorded a summary of current events of the year 1921 to be read at the opening of the cornerstone at the end of a century.

Also taken from the cornerstone were lists of members of the Sunday School, Christian Endeavor, Ladies Aid and Missionary society, and Young Men's Bible class of 1921 which were placed in the brick vault in ceremonies held on Sunday, December 18, 1921.

A note of recommendation, written in artistic script, stated, "The Congregation of Disciples depositing this century box recommends that at the first opening, a quarter of a century hence the roll of the membership be reviewed and the history of the church be brought up to date" and accomplishments of the church be recorded for the use of the church membership at the final opening in 2021.

Vegetable Show Prices Boosted Upward to $700

PHARR, Tex. (UP)—The cash prizes to be awarded at the second annual Valley Vegetable show to be held here Jan. 10-11 have been boosted from $300 to about $700, it was announced recently by manager Walter Hurst of the chamber of commerce.

The show is sponsored annually by the Future Farmers of America chapter at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo school. This year's show will be held in the Lynn citrus packing plant about half way between Pharr and San Juan where about three times the room available in the Bear Den will be provided for exhibits.

Prizes in each class will be about the same but many classes have been added to the show. There will be prizes for the greatest head of cabbage, freak shaped vegetables and other special prizes.

Nine committees are working on plans for the show and the premium list is expected to be completed Nov. 12 by 45 members of the show committee and other officials.

Urges Democrats To Hold Policy Meeting Soon

WASHINGTON — Rep. Donald L. O'Toole, D., N.Y., today urged that Democratic members of Congress hold a policy and program meeting within the next few weeks.

In letters to Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and House Democratic leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, O'Toole said he had discussed his proposal with several House Democrats. All agreed that a meeting should be called, he said.

Men Claim Another Brain Victory Over The Women

WACO, Tex. (UP)—The men have won another round in their battle to see whether men or women are smarter.

Men predominated in the final tabulation of the dean's list for the last quarter at Baylor University. The list is composed of students who maintain an A average in all courses taken. With a total of 124 students having A averages, the women gained only 22 places. However, registration figures show men outnumbered the women, 3 to 1. Incidentally, freshmen headed the list with 45.

WALLACE GIVES SELF PAT ON BACK

NEW YORK — Henry A. Wallace said today that his pre-election swing across the continent had proved to him that "the people are greatly confused," and "are crying for leadership."

"Everywhere the thing—people—most wanted to hear about was foreign policy and peace. This was especially true of the university students and the women. Most of them did not know much about foreign policy but in their eyes I was a symbol of peace and therefore they liked me.

"And everywhere they cheered when I said, 'I have not taken back one word of what I said in my 'peace with Russia' speech at Madison Square Garden last Sept. 12.'"

It was that speech, in which Wallace took issue with the foreign policy of President Truman's administration, that led to his resignation as secretary of commerce.

The recent election, Wallace said, "has caused the whole world to look on the United States as a center of reaction."

Says Need For International Relief Passed

WASHINGTON—Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today the time has passed when it is necessary to have an elaborate international organization for relief.

He made the statement at a news conference when questioned about a statement by UNRRA Director General F. H. LaGuardia at Lake Success, N. Y., yesterday. LaGuardia proposed that the United Nations create an emergency food fund of $400,000,000 to tide war hit European countries over from the end of UNRRA operations January 1 through the 1947 harvest.

Businessmen Urged To Aid Policy Shaping

NEW YORK—American businessmen must take an active part in shaping this nation's foreign policies or face another "New Deal," Leo D. Welch, treasurer of Standard Oil Company, N. J., warned today at the 33rd National Foreign Trade Convention.

"If the United States is to assume the leading role in the world," he said, "its top flight businessmen cannot evade their share in the effort. That is the responsibility of business, unless it is going in for isolation, which could soon be followed by a new swing that would take up where the New Deal left off."

Says Decontrol To Aid Peace In Industry

WASHINGTON—Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small said today that under the new decontrol program the odds are in favor of industrial peace.

A lot will depend on how high prices go, Small said. If business uses restraint in price increases "we have a much better chance of getting through this than we will otherwise," Small said.

Present peak production and virtually full employment can continue if major labor disturbances are avoided, he said, "and with the lifting of price controls, I think we have a good chance of avoiding them."

Rogge Charges Clark With Inconsistency

WASHINGTON — O. J. O'Rourke today accused Attorney General Tom C. Clark of inconsistency in firing him from the justice department for his controversial speech telling of alleged Nazi efforts to sway U. S. elections.

Rogge, former special assistant to the Attorney General, charged that Clark did an about face by first assuring him complete freedom in the speech and then firing him for disclosing government secrets.

BERLIN — Soviet army troops reportedly were moving in to strengthen the guard around industrial plants in Russian-occupied Germany today following the within the past 12 days.

SAYS ARMIES TOO STRONG; CONTROL AREA MUCH TOO BIG

LONDON — Winston Churchill renewed his charge in Commons late today that Russian armies "based upon a despotic form of government are being maintained in Europe in vast strength and mostly on a war footing."

Speaking as leader of the opposition, Churchill said that "more than one-third of Europe is held under Russian control."

"The Soviet military frontier is on the Elbe, and it is impossible to forecast what the future and fate of France will be," he said.

Churchill said that the British and American armies in Europe meanwhile had "melted away as is inevitable in the case of governments resting upon the people."

"No fruition has yet attended peace negotiations, even about the smaller satellite enemy powers," he said.

Churchill said the opposition remained unanimous with the government in supporting the United Nations, even though that organization so far had not fulfilled its hopes.

Republicans Plan To Cut Armed Forces Allowance

WASHINGTON — Economy-minded Republicans figured today it will be necessary to make sharp cuts in appropriations for the armed forces to carry out their promises of lower taxes and a balanced budget.

The extent of the cut won't be determined until January, when President Truman submits his budget for the fiscal year 1947-48. But there is no doubt in the minds of Republican fiscal authorities that the Army and Navy will bear the brunt of the economy drive.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—The CIO Political Action Committee has published a book. It isn't a book, exactly. It's a loose-leaf binder that looks like a machinery salesman's catalogue, and it's called "Manual of Practical Political Action."

Edson

It is index-tabbed on the far side, and you can run your thumb down the chapter tabs till you come to something that looks like Jack Horner's plum, then dig in while yelling, "What a good boy am I!"

No foolin', this is the works. It reduces political pressure to the exact science of super-salesmanship. No more reliance on Old Glory, the Declaration of Independence, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Bunker Hill, San Juan Hill, hill of beans. They aren't mentioned once.

In their place are graphs, charts, forms, cartoons, picture stories, dramatic presentations, eye appeal, sex appeal. The whole thing is modern, streamlined, handier than a woman's purse and just as full of strange issues, keys, deodorants, small change, mirrors of public opinion, and assorted red smears, smells and whitenin'.

PAGE one, under "How to Use This Manual," says, "This manual will be cumulative." That is, as new political action techniques are developed, supplements will be mailed out and you can insert them where they belong.

Why don't the Republicans and Democrats think up things like this? The idea of a loose-leaf political platform is certainly something the major parties could use.

They may laugh when you sit down at the political piano, but at this point it would probably be just as well to explain that the manual for this home laboratory course on "You Too Can Be a Politician," will cost you three dollars. The price of later lessons is not given.

UNDER the "Personnel" tab, the manual tells you how to run a card index file on everything—candidates, voting records, issues, voters—and how to make a map of your ward or precinct with a chart on the "socio-economic status of the population."

In addition to telling how to write speeches, it tells how to write ads, posters, pamphlets, radio scripts and plays, and buy advertising space and radio time, as well as what all the printing processes are.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The O'Donnell brothers in the Harvard backyard as the Crimson resumed football relationships with Holy Cross following a lapse of 11 years furnish material for a human interest story.

A lot of Harvard and Holy Cross men didn't like it when their father was dismissed as the Holy Cross coach.

When Cleo O'Donnell, Sr., an alumnus, took over at Holy Cross in 1919, the college had no more than 100 students and was more interested in its baseball teams than in football.

Harvard and Holy Cross hadn't met in seven years when O'Donnell cemented the link in 1920.

Then Holy Cross' big game, aside from the annual one with Boston College, was with Harvard.

Each fall the boys went to Cambridge and gave a good account of themselves while succeeding for the most part, only in making the game interesting and keeping the score close.

At right halfback on defense was his younger brother, Ken, a bit taller than Cleo at 5-11, but also weighing all of 135 pounds.

Following his inspirational play in 1942, Cleo was elected captain but the Marine Corps kept him out until now. A cracked rib limited his activities until Harvard bumped into the Crimson.

As a first lieutenant in the Army Air Force, Ken participated in several bombing missions over Europe before seeing considerable action on the 1945 variety.

With the help of the O'Donnell, and several young men with Fordham names, Harvard threatens to beat Yale and enjoy a perfect season for the first time since Fovr, D. Houghton's teams of 1912-13.

But Cleo O'Donnell, Sr. undoubtedly got the biggest kick out of seeing his sons turned out against Holy Cross.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Colorful ceremonies will mark the return of colors and standards of units of the Texas National Guard on Armistice Day.

Approximately 55 colors, standards and miscellaneous flags together with 107 unit guidons will be returned that afternoon at Camp Mabry here to those units which were inducted into the regular Army in Nov. 1940.

The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock with a 19-gun salute to Gov. Coke R. Stevenson who, as commander-in-chief of the guard units, will receive the colors from Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter, deputy commander of the 4th Army, representing the War Department.

Much has been said about the part Texans played in winning the war, and War Department records of National Guard units show that Texans and their units did much to distinguish themselves.

Among National Guard awards of the Congressional Medal of Honor, 16 were Texans, with seven going to the infantry, five to air force, two to cavalry and one each to the engineers and tank battalions.

Texas ranged first in awards for heroism in air battles, 12 Texans receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross, three the Distinguished Service Cross and four the Silver Star.

Fifteen Texans of the Fourth Marines were cited for decorations and commendations for heroism in the Philippines. Casualties in the 38th infantry

Texas cities and counties may be working too rapidly on their hospital plans for their own financial good.

The situation developed this week when a report was made to the state board of health on progress of the state hospital facility survey. The federal government under its hospital plan is not going to let a community have credit on money expended on a partly-completed hospital project in the matching program for hospital building.

If a started project is included in the federal program, the matching will be based on the part of the work remaining to be finished when the project gets its federal approval.

So the community that delays starting a building until the plan is completely worked out will be able to get more federal aid than the community that started out without waiting for federal aid.

The hospital program, in other words, reverses the old saying that the Lord helps those that help themselves.

However, there is no need to slow down on preparations. Being ready with plans when the time comes will be very important.

The Texas hospital survey probably will be completed about April 1.

To date the survey has been completed in 54 counties. All required data has been completed on about 316 hospitals. It has been found that 53 counties in the state are completely lacking in hospital facilities.

Early work of the survey has also brought out a problem for which the answer probably will have to be worked out by state agreements. That problem is one of supplying needed facilities along state borders.

In many places, the highway, rail and other connections make a hospital location in an adjoining state better for border a county than a hospital within the state. The federal set-up, however, calls for participation by states.

Also before Texas will be in a position to join in the federal program it will be necessary to set up a state system of licensing hospitals, and to create an official state hospital agency.

Texas Hospital Association is said to have already prepared bills to submit to the state legislature on the topic.

Ed Riedel, business officer of the State Health Department, has compiled some statistics on the operation of the state rapid treatment centers that have been established as part of the campaign to wipe out venereal diseases.

The report shows 18,619 patients treated between July 1, 1945, and June 30, 1946. Most heavily patronized was the one at Waco which had 5,732 of the total number of patients. Least number was 483 at Mineral Wells. El Paso had 3,287, San Antonio, 5,647, Rocky Mount, 2,446 and Corpus Christi, 1,624.

Average cost per patient was $32.27, and the total patient days spent in the centers were 129,548. Cost per patient day was $4.63.

Reports From Vets On-The-Job Training Due

About one-half of the non-disabled veterans in the County of Eastland receiving subsistence for job training or attending school had filed a report of their quarterly earnings on the November 5 deadline, James M. Brown of the Eastland Contact Office announced today. Disabled veterans do not have to make this accounting.

Brown was informed by the Dallas Regional Office of the VA that unless these veterans make the required statements on printed forms which have been sent them with monthly checks since Sept. 1, they will be cut off the subsistence rolls.

Some veterans complained to the VA they either did not receive the blue printed slips with their checks, or had mislaid them. Brown said that the contact offices had been furnished with a supply of these report forms and that any veteran who desired one could obtain it at the Eastland County Office or from Mr. A. D. Medsatt, local Contact Representative who performs itinerant Service to Ranger each Saturday morning from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon in the Postoffice.

The reports of earnings are required of non-disabled veterans keeping with the law which does not allow a single veteran earning $175 or more each month, or a veteran with dependents whose income is $200 or more, any further subsistence from the government.

Between now and November 12 the registration and research section of the VA Regional office in Dallas will check earnings reports against a master list of veterans who have been receiving checks. Payments will be suspended if the veteran has not reported on his income and the ex-servicemen will be notified by letter. He will receive no further government checks until his report can be received and audited for re-adjustment of payments.

"The sooner the veteran makes his report, the sooner he will get back on the subsistence list," the VA Contact Representative said.

Back-Stage Behind the Curtains—
 ... in every organized business, large or small, there is a mass of preparation, work, skill, experience and expense before any thought can be given to profits from the finished product. For example, the cost of typing a 100-page abstract is a trifle compared to that of assembling, classifying and posting the records day after day in preparation for your next order. The abstract, therefore, can't be cheap like dirt, but always there is the element of safety and a saving in including it in every real estate transaction.

Pan-European Union Is For Free Continent

LONDON (UP)—The Pan-European Union, founded in 1922, is organizing a European congress "to prepare the groundwork for a free, peaceful and prosperous Europe" to be held in Geneva in April, 1947.

The organizers intend this congress to unite the political, economic and cultural authorities of Europe to determine practical means to prevent a permanent partition of the continent into spheres of influence, and to assure Europe's future within the framework of the United Nations. Chairmen of its committee of organization are Richard Coudenhove-Calergi, president of the Pan-European Union, and Fernando de los Rios, former foreign minister of the Spanish Republic.

In an announcement, the Union "hails with gratitude the moral support it received by Winston Churchill's Pan-European speech."

Progress on getting telephones to those waiting

Every day we're making progress on the big telephone job to bring service to the people who want it. New applicants keep the waiting list long, but as new equipment is placed in operation, we're able to put in telephones for those who have waited longest.

It's not a short or easy job, but we're hard at it. We are working at getting telephones for not a few persons or a few towns, but . . . for more than 230,000 persons . . . living in some 700 towns . . . in five states. . .

"Getting telephones" means making and shipping and installing switchboards and other telephone equipment, stringing wire and splicing cable, setting poles and placing conduit, and all the rest that adds up to a telephone system.

All over the United States people are waiting for telephones. Thus we get only our fair share of the new telephone equipment being made for all of the 48 states. Raw materials the factories work with—copper, lead, rubber, cotton—are just as scarce as many of the hard-to-get things you yourself need these days. That's why getting telephones in takes longer today than we like.

That isn't normal, and it won't last. One of these days we'll be putting in telephones again the day people want them installed. Everyone who wants a telephone will have one, and service will be better than ever.

Meanwhile, the best way we know to hurry that day along is to work harder than we once believed we could work—and make that badly needed telephone equipment faster than it has ever been made before. As you read this, 100,000 workers in telephone factories—an all-time high—are doing that. They are making telephone equipment in far greater volume than ever before. That's the best answer to a shortage that we know.
