Connally Asks Restrained Use Of Veto

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Came across something that might intrigue some of the deer hunters just ready to take off on hunts.

A Pennsylvania man, sighting a deer near his home and having no rifle handy took after the deer with a clothes line and three dogs. Finally the deer became exhausted and the man roped the deer with the line and led him home.

Alas, the 7-point buck was an out-of-season bag and the game warden made the man release the buck.

But that's an idea. For those who get the shakes with a gun, a lasso might eliminate the vibrations and assure the hunter a deer.

There's one type of person we always envy and that's the person that's all ready for Christmas when the time arrives. We don't recall a time ever when we had every thing done before the last minute on Christmas Eve.

If the kids had anything to do with it, Christmas shopping and all the wrapping would be done months in advance. Letters to Santa Claus are already trickling through and from the requests, it looks like the kids are not expecting the Little Ole Man to be poor this year.

And from the looks of the shops and stores, mamas and papas can't make excuses about shortages. Store window displays in Ranger are beginning to take on Christmas decorations and my, they're pretty and are displaying equally attractive merchandise.

Of course, there's that old Republican excuse that mamas and papas can use. However, most kids don't grasp what inflation means and when they see what they want in shop windows, there just aren't any excuses that can make them understand why Santa doesn't produce.

Whether the weather can weather another week-end without producing another freak display of that unpredictable item, began to look doubtful this afternoon.

For the past three week-ends, the weather has been typically Texas, all kinds and plenty of it. Each time it has ended in much cooler weather and then during the week the old high temperatures. We presume that one of these week-ends it will back up far enough to get a good shove into winter and then we'll have the same thing as we had this summer, only in reverse. This time it'll be the coldness and not the heat that'll bother us all.

But we'll keep you posted through our weather bureau.

Committee members have been working faithfully on Ranger's part in the county-wide planting program which is being sponsored by the state highway department and which is to culminate on December 11 when a mass planting of pecan trees and abelia plants will be staged.

One link is still missing in the chain and that is the need for volunteers to aid in digging holes for the trees and assisting in planting them. Many individuals are taking care of their own planting but where the trees are being planted by the committee as a part of the program volunteer service is needed in the planting.

As we have said before, it would be too bad if Ranger were the one link in the county that failed to materialize its plans for the planting, but you can't plant trees without first having holes dug and you can't get those done without somebody to do them. If there are those who will volunteer to aid in the program, it will be greatly appreciated and any offer of this type service may be made to Mrs. J. Floyd Killingsworth, chairman of the Ranger committee.

APPRAISER FOR GI HOUSING ATTENDS MEET

Calvin Brown has returned from Dallas where he attended the meeting Thursday of the Loan Guaranty Officers and Appraisers, an organization set up for assisting veterans in their housing problems.

Brown has been appointed appraiser for Ranger by the Veterans Administration, to appraise property which a veterans wishes to buy as a protection to the veteran.

The meeting was attended by high officials from over the state and from Washington, D. C.

According to Brown, when a veteran has made all arrangements for the purchase of property, including the loan, then it is the duty of the appraiser to estimate the value of the property as a protection to the purchaser.

Likewise, after a veteran has secured surplus materials for building, the appraiser must keep a check on the construction to see that the building meets specifications.

Wilson Guest of the Commercial State Bank was also at the meeting Thursday and remained today to attend the banking and lending discussions of that organization.

Truman, Cabinet Discuss Coal Crisis Today

WASHINGTON— President Truman's cabinet discussed the coal crisis today while the government waited to see if John L. Lewis would give the sign for a nationwide coal strike at midnight next Wednesday.

After President Truman's weekly cabinet session, Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson told reporters that the coal case was discussed in a "most general" way. Attorney General Tom Clark reported, however, that Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug had said there might be some action this afternoon.

Materials For GI Apartments Now Arriving

Surplus materials for the city's GI apartment houses are now arriving and construction of the building will get underway at once.

The building materials came from Camp Berkeley and the house will be reconstructed on the lots at the corner of Elm Street and South Marston Streets.

Local contractors have been engaged for hauling in the material and for reconstruction of the building. There will be four apartments in the house for renting to GIs when the structure is completed.

Funeral services for the deceased were conducted Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Scranton Baptist Church.

SAYS TAX CUT WON'T HURT EFFICIENCY

WASHINGTON—Rep. John Taber, R. N. Y., said today that 1,000,000 federal employees could be dismissed and the federal budget reduced $9,000,000,000 "with out damaging the efficiency of the government."

Taber is slated to head the important house appropriations committee in the new Republican congress. He made his statement at a news conference.

His statement was made as opposition to immediate tax reductions began developing among some Republicans.

But GOP party leaders put it up to President Truman to fight or join a legislative program that includes a 20 per cent tax cut and curtailment of executive powers.

The Republican program for the GOP-controlled Congress which convenes Jan. 3 also includes labor legislation and reduced national defense appropriations.

The Republican program was outlined following separate meetings of the House and Senate steering committees yesterday.

Taber told questioners then that there would be big 1947 reductions in funds for the national housing agency and the civilian production administration. He said cuts in Army-Navy appropriations would be substantial but would not impair national defense.

FIVE FIRES IN SMALL TOWN BREAK OUT AT SAME TIME

MOBERLY, Mo. — Five fires in Highbee, Mo., nine miles southwest of here, at 3 a. m. today, caused damage estimated at $100,000 and destruction of a three-story building and sections of two other structures in the business district of the town of 900 people.

Romie Thornhill, city marshal, said the fires apparently were the work of arsonists' each of the five being started in the same manner by spreading a mixture of gasoline and oil over the back door of the establishments.

It appeared, Thornhill said, that the intention was to burn the entire town.

LION LEADER SPEAKER AT CLUB MEETING

R. E. Gracey of Roby, district governor of Lions International, paid his official visit to the Ranger Lions Club Thursday night and was the honored guest, along with wives of club members, at a banquet in the Blue Room of the Gholson Hotel.

Governor Gracey spoke on Freedom of Opportunity, spicing his talk with some inspirational suggestions. He stressed the fact that foreign born peoples coming to this country to become citizens make the most of the opportunities offered here while many natural born citizens are slower to accept these opportunities.

President J. A. Knox, presided at the meeting and introduced Joe Nuesse program chairman who presented a trio of musicians in a delightful program. The trio was composed of Mrs. David D. Pickrell, playing the viola, Miss Anne Matthews, violinist and Mrs. Dave Adams of Abilene, pianist.

WARNS SMALL NATIONS TO HALT FIGHT AGAINST BIG 5

L. A. K. E. SUCCESS, N. Y. — The United States in an apparent slap at Russia demanded today that the Five powers agree to use their United Nations veto power "only in the rare and exceptional cases" confronting the UN Security Council.

America's expected suggestions for appeasing the veto-hating small powers were submitted to the UN General Assembly's political security committee by Sen. Tom Connally, D. Texas.

While flatly opposing the small powers demand that the Big Powers veto be restricted or eliminated the United States called on Britain, Russia, France and China to agree on means of restricting the veto's use and preventing any of the major powers from using its special voting power "wifullly to obstruct the operation of the council."

Connally in effect told the small and medium-sized powers to abandon their fight to alter the veto formula and leave to the Big Five the task of softening its impact on the operations of the UN.

He made clear that his country believes only Russia has misused the veto. But left no doubt that the United States still guards the veto power as jealously as Russia and will not submit to any tinkering with the charter now.

Byrnes Ready To Admit Failure On Treaties

NEW YORK — Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is ready to admit failure to write Italian Balkan and Finnish peace treaties at this time if agreement with the Soviet Union on Trieste is not forthcoming within a few days, it was learned today.

He is prepared to defer indefinitely, if necessary, completion of the satellite treaties on which he has worked almost uninterruptedly for more than 14 months.

The Big Four talks on Trieste are at their decisive stage. Byrnes will not compromise on the basic issues now in dispute.

Farmers Putting Cotton Under Government Loans

WASHINGTON — Cotton farmers, evidently worried over the zig-zagging cotton market, put almost as much cotton under government loan last week as they had during the previous three months.

The agriculture department said the Commodity Credit Corp. last week made 1,298 loans covering 3,192 bales of cotton.

Texas is leading in the number of loans this year with 2,668 bales covered.

EDITORIALS By James Thrasher

A NEEDED WARNING

In the light of another threatened and particularly damaging coal strike, it was interesting to see that an editorial in the International Teamster, publication of the AFL Teamsters Union, had stated that "strikes have become a national menace."

"They must be curtailed," the editorial continued, "or the nation will sink into chaos and organized labor will perish."

In addition to this solemn warning, the editorial affirmed the union's determination to stamp out wildcat strikes, and recalled that the international union could revoke local charters, and fine, suspend or expel individual participants in such strikes.

All that is wise and commendable, but there seem to be some differences within the AFL's great family of unions between precept and practice. New York City was tied up for two months by a general trucking strike, plus a parcel delivery strike which lasted nearly as long. The Teamsters international sanctioned neither of them. Yet there are no indications to date of any punitive action against the wildcat strikers.

Elsewhere in the AFL, carpenters and stagehands have thrown the motion picture industry into confusion by a jurisdictional strike which the leaders of the warring unions have seemed unable or unwilling to settle. And now the miners stand ready to walk off the job again if the government fails to meet John L. Lewis's demands.

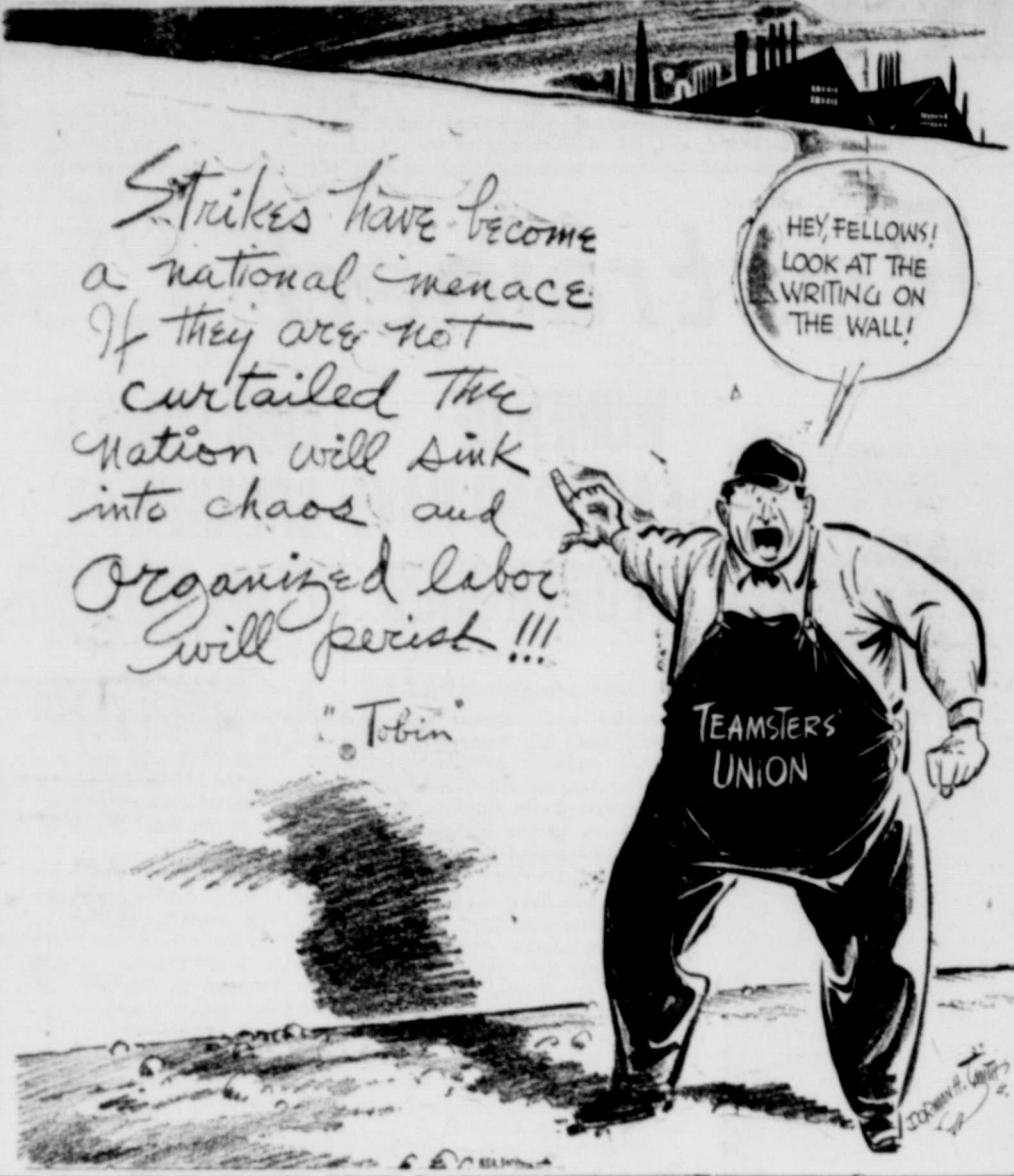

The International Teamster editorial apparently was written before election day, but its author was speaking prophetically when he called strikes "a national menace." For the vote on Nov. 5 gave unmistakable notice that the majority of voters agree with that estimate.

The vote showed clearly that the country is fed up with strikes that punish the public rather than management.

Oddly enough, it is the relatively conservative AFL, unencumbered with Communists and hence more popular with a great many non-union citizens, which is largely responsible for stirring up the public wrath. And if Mr. Lewis succeeds in bringing most of our national machinery to a halt with another "no contract, no work" strike, that wrath may turn into something really formidable.

It is no idle warning that the International Teamster has sounded. We hope that Mr. Lewis and other old-line union leaders, who have done so much for labor in the past, will read it and ponder it well. It would be tragic if these men, in their latter days, should sabotage the structure of organized labor by their arrogant, pompous, public-be-damned policies.

Veteran Makes DDT Lore Pay In Civilian Life

SPRING GREEN, Wis. (UP) — Joe Doyle is another returned GI who has turned army routine into a civilian career.

Doyle learned a lot in the army about the powers of DDT and the care with which it must be used. When he returned to Spring Green last winter he bought a small truck and necessary spraying equipment and began to sell his services as a DDT technician.

In the last six months Doyle has sprayed 226 barns to rid them of flies and other insects. His success led him to another project—the use of 2,4-D, a newly-developed weed killer. Now he's in the weed-killing business on a large scale. The average elevation in Oklahoma is 1,800 feet. The lowest point, 324 feet, is in the south-eastern corner; the highest, 4,978 feet, is in the state's panhandle.

ON AND OFF THE SQUARE

(By Special Correspondent)

EASTLAND, Nov. 13—Judge Geo. L. Davenport of the 91st district court was in Breckenridge Tuesday where he occupied the bench in the 90th district court in the trial of some cases in which the judge of that court was disqualified.

W. C. Hammons was exhibiting a pumpkin about town this morning which weighed 65 pounds and measured 33 inches in length. It was grown by Jesse Hale, who farms on rural route No. 1, Carborn in the Pleasant Valley community.

Jess Day, a member of one of Eastland County's pioneer families and who has been critically ill in a hospital at Cisco, is reported as being somewhat improved but not yet out of danger.

Earnest Jones and wife were here from Weatherford over the past week end. Jones, who is employed by the Texas Public Utilities, was recently transferred to Weatherford after having been connected with the Eastland plant for many years. Jones is a native of this county and one time served it as county clerk. He says he has run into a number of former Eastland citizens at Weatherford including R. K. Phillips, who is Weatherford postmaster, and Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Starnes. Rev. Starnes is pastor of the Weatherford Baptist church.

County Agricultural Agent, J. M. Cooper said today that the recent rains caused considerable damage to peanut hay over the County. The nuts, he said, were not materially damaged.

M. J. Smith, Gorman attorney and a former resident of Eastland, was transacting business in the capital today. Another attorney, Judge Eugene Langford of Cisco, was an Eastland visitor Tuesday.

The construction in Eastland of a plant for the Banner Creameries (O. D. Dillingham interests) which we understand was to have started within a few days, is reported held up on account of the lack of priorities on necessary materials. With the OPA out of existence, or at least virtually so, it is thought this construction may be started sooner than at first believed. The new plant is to be located on lots directly north of the Eastland City Hall at the corner of West Commerce and North Daugherty streets.

Hart Day and wife of Tulsa were here over the past week end to visit Mr. Day's brother, Jess Day, who is critically ill. Hart Day was born and reared in Eastland. He is a barber and has resided in Oklahoma for many years.

1918 Airmen Locate Jobs For 1946'ers

CHICAGO (UP)—A group of World War I pilots has set up an organization that is finding jobs for air corps men of World War II.

A year ago Nov. 1, the group, now prominent businessmen, bankers, lawyers and manufacturers in the city, incorporated the Air Service Placement Center, a non-profit organization to help discharged army and navy air force men.

Since then more than 3,000 men have had counseling at the center. Reports here this morning that Judge Miller of Brownwood, recently elected to a position as Associate Justice on the local Court of Civil Appeals, was critically ill at his home in Brownwood.

and 70 per cent have been placed in jobs. Most of the jobs have been in sales work, although the center maintains close contact with the aviation industry to find opportunities for pilots.

Nearly two-thirds of the men have been directed to full or part time education through interviews and guidance at the center, the manager says.

Back-Stage Behind the Curtains—
 ... in every organized business, large or small, there is a mass of preparation, work, skill, experience and expense before any thought can be given to profits from the finished product. For example, the cost of typing a 100-page abstract is a trifle compared to that of assembling, classifying and posting the records day after day in preparation for your next order. The abstract, therefore, can't be cheap like dirt, but always there is the element of safety and a saving in including it in every real estate transaction.

EDITORIALS By James Thrasher

A NEEDED WARNING

In the light of another threatened and particularly damaging coal strike, it was interesting to see that an editorial in the International Teamster, publication of the AFL Teamsters Union, had stated that "strikes have become a national menace."

"They must be curtailed," the editorial continued, "or the nation will sink into chaos and organized labor will perish."

In addition to this solemn warning, the editorial affirmed the union's determination to stamp out wildcat strikes, and recalled that the international union could revoke local charters, and fine, suspend or expel individual participants in such strikes.

All that is wise and commendable, but there seem to be some differences within the AFL's great family of unions between precept and practice. New York City was tied up for two months by a general trucking strike, plus a parcel delivery strike which lasted nearly as long. The Teamsters international sanctioned neither of them. Yet there are no indications to date of any punitive action against the wildcat strikers.

Elsewhere in the AFL, carpenters and stagehands have thrown the motion picture industry into confusion by a jurisdictional strike which the leaders of the warring unions have seemed unable or unwilling to settle. And now the miners stand ready to walk off the job again if the government fails to meet John L. Lewis's demands.

The International Teamster editorial apparently was written before election day, but its author was speaking prophetically when he called strikes "a national menace." For the vote on Nov. 5 gave unmistakable notice that the majority of voters agree with that estimate.

The vote showed clearly that the country is fed up with strikes that punish the public rather than management.

Oddly enough, it is the relatively conservative AFL, unencumbered with Communists and hence more popular with a great many non-union citizens, which is largely responsible for stirring up the public wrath. And if Mr. Lewis succeeds in bringing most of our national machinery to a halt with another "no contract, no work" strike, that wrath may turn into something really formidable.

It is no idle warning that the International Teamster has sounded. We hope that Mr. Lewis and other old-line union leaders, who have done so much for labor in the past, will read it and ponder it well. It would be tragic if these men, in their latter days, should sabotage the structure of organized labor by their arrogant, pompous, public-be-damned policies.

At Least One of Them Can Read

Strikes have become a national menace. If they are not curtailed the nation will sink into chaos and organized labor will perish!!!

Veteran Makes DDT Lore Pay In Civilian Life

SPRING GREEN, Wis. (UP) — Joe Doyle is another returned GI who has turned army routine into a civilian career.

Doyle learned a lot in the army about the powers of DDT and the care with which it must be used. When he returned to Spring Green last winter he bought a small truck and necessary spraying equipment and began to sell his services as a DDT technician.

In the last six months Doyle has sprayed 226 barns to rid them of flies and other insects. His success led him to another project—the use of 2,4-D, a newly-developed weed killer. Now he's in the weed-killing business on a large scale.

WORN OUT FROM GETTING UP NIGHTS?

If you get up nights—have frequent desire to pass your water—yes, and have backache, due to excess acidity in the urine, be glad you're reading this.

Three generations ago Dr. Kilmer, a famous doctor, found hundreds of his patients with this trouble. So he made a medicine of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams. He called it "Swamp-Root." Millions of men and women have taken it—often with amazing results.

Swamp-Root goes right to work to flush out kidneys... increases flow of urine, helping relieve excess acidity... so the irritated bladder gets a good flushing out, too. Many report getting a good night's sleep after the first few doses. Caution: take as directed.

For free trial supply, send to Dept. R, Kilmer & Co., Inc., Box 1235, Stamford, Conn. Or—get full-sized bottle of Swamp-Root today at your druggist.
