White Assured Of Senate Leadership

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

For change in week-end weather the norther beat the race with the rain and arrived Saturday morning along with a high north wind.

It turned out to be ideal football weather Saturday and we really had to restrain our inclination to just take off and go to a football game. Quite a few from Ranger were trekking off to games Saturday and no wonder with a Texas U.—T. C. U. game so close at hand.

R. E. Garner is getting all ready to receive Monte Hale, the cowboy from Texas who will make a personal appearance at the Arcadia theatre Tuesday night.

Garner has it all fixed up, he says, with the Grande Hotel to reserve a room each for Monte and his horse.

While Garner was joking, those of us who remember, might not be too surprised to see a horse riding up in the elevator, in as much as we were once housed in the Grande hotel with a steer. Of course, the steer got no farther than the lobby, but the steer's suite was more spacious than most rooms and had all the trimmings to make him comfortable.

Personally, we've never laid eyes on Monte, but they tell us that he's the oomph man of Hollywood and, no swooning now girls, he's a guitar thumping cowboy singer that's got the looks.

John Thurman who ranches southeast of Ranger was in town Saturday for the first time in a long time, having been crippled with a stiff arm and shoulder.

Despite his ill health, his disposition was as cheerful as ever and he was wise cracking as usual. A former mayor of Ranger, it's still home to him, and the Missus as he calls Mrs. Thurman.

The Bulldogs go to Stephenville Friday night for next to the last of the conference games. We've got two more chances to win a conference game and we're just a telling you, that we'll take down our sign if we don't win at least one of those games.

It's been rumored that there will be some shake-ups in the line-up for the Bulldogs. We've not been out to watch the boys work out but they tell us that the changes look good.

Personally we'd like to see James Martinez turned loose on a well blocked run. The way he tore off down the field in that Cisco game was a sight to see. Though we had already seen the red handkerchief go down, and knew that the touchdown wasn't any good, we still got a thrill out of the seat in that boy.

Here's a warning to mother with infant sons. You'd better watch out or some of these Ranger ward school scouts will be sneaking him out of the cradle for a football tryout.

Yes sir, they're almost robbing the cradle to get football team. Besides the regular ward school team, Coach Munnerlyn has worked up a less than-100-pound-mar team and has already scored a victory over Cisco.

Well, if the AA team didn't beat Cisco, that's three football victories we've won from 'em this year. Twice the Ward School team has beaten the Cisco Warders and then along come the Midgets Friday night and even out-do the Warders, winning from Cisco by 26 to 0.

If those youngsters can keep up that fighting spirit of the present we can look forward to some football victories one of these days.

RENT DECREE
WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Roy L. Thompson of the Price Control Board said today that some rent increases are justified at present but that rent control is out of the question.

MIDGET TEAM DEFEATS CISCO BY 26 TO 0

Ranger's Midget football team, these are the ward school boys weighing under 100 pounds, defeated the Cisco Midgets by a score of 26 to 0 in a game played at Cisco Friday night.

Harbin, wide substituting, picked off a Cisco pass and ran 15 yards for the first touchdown of the game. Hargraves, speedy right end scored the last score of the game when he also intercepted a Cisco pass and ran 25 yards for the touchdown.

In the second quarter Cunningham, right half and captain of the team went over center for a marker and Harbin went around left end for the other. Two extra points were scored.

Starting line-up for the game was, LE, Cantrell; LT, Wade; LG, Bush; C, Gray; RG, Patterson; RT, Huff; RE, Hargraves; FB, Johnson; RH, Cunningham; LH, Lester and QB, Thompson.

C. M. Munnerlyn is coach for the Midgets.

Building Grant To College Is Approved by FWA

Dr. G. C. Boswell received a telegram Friday from Senator Tom Connally stating that the Federal Works Administration had approved the grant of a surplus building to Ranger Junior College for a classroom building.

The grant also includes the equipment for the building and it is expected that the contract for delivery of the building and equipment will be signed this week.

Work on reconstruction of the building for use by the college is expected to get underway by the last week in November.

Vets Misinformed As To Work And Compensation

James M. Brown, Contact Representative in charge of the Eastland, Texas, Veterans Administration Contact Office, announced today that many veterans with service-connected disabilities had been given misinformation concerning the fact that the veteran is liable to suffer a reduction in his compensation if he takes a job and receives remuneration for it. This is untrue.

Any handicapped veteran with a service-connected disability may take a position and receive pay for it and still receive full benefits for his permanent disability. The basic statutes and regulations specifically provide that there shall be no reduction in the rate of compensation for individual success in overcoming the handicap of an injury.

Any veterans with disabilities having questions pertaining to this matter or any matters administered by the Veterans Administration, can have these questions answered by seeing Mr. A. D. Modisett when he comes to this city each Saturday morning from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon in the Post-Office.

Brown stressed that service-connected permanently disabled veterans will continue to receive their compensation.

Installments, Credit Control Off On Dec. 1

WASHINGTON—The government took credit controls off charge accounts and single payment loans today and eased restrictions on installment buying, all effective Dec. 1.

The board of governors of the Federal Reserve System revised wartime regulation w, limiting it to installment sales of major durable goods.

The relaxation order came in time to permit Christmas shoppers considerably more freedom in installment buying.

Picket Lines Patrol Dow Plant At Freeport, Tex.

FREEPORT, Tex. — Picket lines patrolled the big Dow Chemical Company plant today marking a breakdown in wage negotiations between the firm and an AFL union representing nearly 4,000 maintenance and operating employees.

Pickets were posted by the hoisting and portable engineers in protest of the negotiations collapse and, besides their own members, some 2,000 construction workers were expected to refuse to cross the lines.

SENATE GROUP STARTS BILBO HEARING DEC. 2

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate campaign investigating committee today voted unanimously to start public hearings at Jackson, Miss., Dec. 2 on charges that Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, D. Miss., fomented racial discrimination in the Mississippi Democratic primary last July.

Committee chairman Allen J. Ellender, D. La., said that only residents of Mississippi will be permitted to testify. He said persons making the charges against Bilbo, Bilbo himself and others he may wish to present will be permitted to testify.

Ellender said the hearing was ordered on the basis of sworn complaints filed with the committee by the Civil Rights Congress and testimony taken by four committee investigators who have been in Mississippi during the last few months.

Friends of Bilbo meantime said that he may not be well enough to attend the opening of the 80th Congress on Jan. 3.

FURTHER PLANS FOR PLANTING PROGRAM MADE

At a meeting of the memorial planting program committee held Friday afternoon at the home of the chairman, Mrs. J. Floyd Killingsworth, further plans for the program were made.

It is planned to have a sale booth in front of the Ghoslon Hotel on Saturday, November 30 and Saturday, December 7 to provide an opportunity for those who have not placed orders for shrubs or trees to do so. Mrs. C. A. Strong and Mrs. Verne Peterson were named as a committee to arrange and staff the booths.

Emblems of the program are being prepared and each who subscribes to the program will be given the emblem to wear.

As has been explained before the planting program is a move for the beautification of Texas and Texas highways and each county has selected trees and shrubs suitable for that area and on December 11 the peach trees will be planted in Ranger. Planting of the abelia shrub which was selected for Eastland county may be done at any time now.

The Strong and Peterson nurseries are ordering the peach trees and shrubs and they can be purchased through these agencies.

Members attending the committee meeting Friday afternoon were Mmes. David D. Pickrell, C. L. Jackson, Saule Perlestein, V. V. Cooper, Jr., Peterson, A. H. Powell Strong, H. C. Croom, Arlie Carver John Ducker and Killingsworth.

Streamlined Pig Better Eating

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—A new figure is being developed—long and sleek, with hardly any fat and it will make your mouth water, according to the Department of Agriculture.

The new shape won't get any billing in Hollywood, but the hog of the future will provide more roast loin of pork and better bacon, animal husbandry experts say on the basis of research being conducted by the department at Eastville, Md.

The new pig "shape" is being developed from the Landrace hog of Denmark. Breeders say they are being successful in eliminating two shortcomings of the breed—its tendency to be too lean and the fact its skin is too white and tender.

A greater proportion of the improved Landrace pig's weight is deposited in the high priced cuts—the ham, loin, bacon and shoulder butt, the department says.

FM Adapter Kit Designed To Eliminate Tube

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—Feeling the quickest way to build an audience for the new 88 to 108 megacycle FM stations, Geo. Driscoll has invented the "FM adapter kit."

Manager of the WHFM outlet in the city, Driscoll says the kit employs no tubes and will enable listeners to tune in many of the new channels on pre-war sets.

The adapter further will allow for reception should the Federal Communications Commission rule present low-band FM and FM transmitters off the air.

300 Boxes Of Soap Chips Wreck Store and Buyers

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Ten minutes after an Indianapolis grocer put 300 boxes of soap chips out to sell, his store was in shambles. Housewives who jammed the store broke a large show window.

Several shoppers were cut and bruised, and police were called to calm the crowd. One of the injured shoppers held tightly to her box of soap chips while a doctor took two stitches in her cut knee.

FRENCH TRUCE OFFERED IN VETO FIGHT

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—France proposed a truce in the battle over the veto today after the Philippines presented a revolutionary proposal for revising the entire United Nations voting procedure to make the organization a "limited world government."

Ambassador Alexandre Parodi told the political and security committee that the views on the veto, expressed in three days of heated debate, should be assembled so all members could study them before deciding what action, if any, to take on the issue.

The other big powers were reported favorably inclined toward the French proposal. It would give them time for private discussions aimed at working out a compromise on use of the veto.

Meanwhile, he said, the committee should go on to the other items on its agenda—such controversial matters as Spain, the presence of foreign troops in non-emergency territories, and world disarmament.

3 Generations Observe Joint Wedding Day

ARLINGTON, Mass. (UP)—Three generations of one family celebrated wedding anniversaries on the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Kimball observed their 55th anniversary here; their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, marked their 30th anniversary at near Winchester, and a grand-daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Larrabee, received congratulations of their fifth anniversary at Binghamton, N.Y.

EDEN THROWS SUPPORT TO BEVIN POLICY

LONDON — Anthony Eden threw another factor into the tangled British political situation today when he declared his support of Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's policy as it is being carried out at the United Nations meeting in New York.

Eden, Bevin's predecessor as Foreign Secretary and No. 2 man in the Conservative party, told an audience at Newcastle that "it seems to me that the Foreign Secretary is pursuing the right course" at the United Nations session.

He defined Bevin's policy as "seeking to build up the authority of that organization and to strengthen the rule of law between nations—and that is surely the only policy for this country to pursue."

Eden himself was reported to have demanded a vote of confidence Monday when Commons debates an amendment by rebel laborites calling for a revision of Britain's foreign policy.

Price of Rayon Rises Rapidly

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department reported today that the price of rayon has been increasing much more rapidly than cotton prices since price controls were removed.

The cotton industry has expressed concern that the price of its product may become so high that cotton will lose out to its competitors in the textile field. Rayon is a main competitor.

Police Arrest Studio Marchers

HOLLYWOOD — Helmeted police charged a massed picket line at Columbia Studios today and arrested between 150 and 200 AFI Conference of Studio Union marchers who sang the "Star Spangled Banner" as they were hauled away to jail. There was no violence.

BUT FOUR WAY CONTEST DUE LEADERSHIP IN THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON — Sen. Wallace White, R. Me., was assured today of being the Senate majority leader in the new Republican Congress, but a four way contest developed for the majority leadership in the House.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., cleared the way for White to become Senate majority leader. Taft removed himself from the race and said White was his personal choice for the post.

In the House Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., became the fourth candidate for the post of majority leader. Other candidates are Reps. Charles Halleck of Indiana, and Clarence J. Brown and Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio.

With Dirksen in the race the GOP leadership contest may become as hot as the Democratic race threatens to be.

Among the Democrats there was growing evidence of a wide-open caucus battle unless Speaker Sam Rayburn consents to take the minority leadership job and he has said he will not.

In belief that Rayburn would be acceptable to all House Democrats, several of his colleagues have appealed to the Texan to reconsider and take the job.

Big Names On Investigation Hearing List

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House surplus property committee said today that former Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes and former Reconstruction Finance Chairman Jesse Jones will testify next week on government disposal of the "big inch" and "little inch" pipelines.

United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis also may appear before the committee, Council Hugh D. Wise told reporters. "We haven't found anything out that we're going after, but we want to know what policy the War Assets Administration is going to follow in disposing of the lines," Wise said.

Quick Cut In Income Taxes May Be Stalled

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Republican movement for economy-first threatened today to slow down plans for a quick personal income tax reduction shortly after Congress meets.

Any tax cut passed by the House may be held up in the Senate pending agreement on a program to cut expenditures covering the loss to the treasury.

Ford Workers Strike Averted

DETROIT — The threat of the first major strike at Ford Motor Company since the end of the war was averted today when the CIO auto workers announced that agreement had been reached with Ford on a prolonged dispute over health hazards.

ANOTHER PUSHOVER

It was significant that John L. Lewis, coach and star of the coal miners' team, didn't start his varsity against the government in their fall encounter.

Coach-star Lewis had every right to be confident as he came up to the big game in Washington.

First of all, the United Mine Workers boss tackled Interior Secretary Krug and threw him for a loss.

In the second practice session Coach-star Lewis easily penetrated the opposition's defense when the government agreed to make an annual $100 vacation payment to miners.

So it may be safely assumed that the UMW leader reversed the big game with about as much fear as Notre Dame would feel in facing Slipper Rock Teachers.

Already Mr. Lewis has the best contract he ever negotiated. It was so full of new and expensive clauses that the operators took one look and then took their departure.

Now, of course, Mr. Lewis wants more. He wants a five-day, 40-hour week instead of the present six-day, 54-hour schedule—at the same money, of course.

If past history is an indication, he'll get it. And if past history is to be trusted a bit further, he'll demand a new contract with more favorable concessions than and if the resumes negotiations with the private operators.

Whether the mine operators will be able to keep on meeting Mr. Lewis' demands and still stay in business is a question. But there is less question that Mr. Lewis, by getting what he wants from the government, will start a whole new cycle of wage and other demands in other industries.

Thus John L. Lewis continues to bend the United States government and the national economy to his will.

ANTI-STRATFORDIANS SPLIT

By Robert Musel
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON (UP)—If William Shakespeare of Stratford-on-Avon did not write the poems and plays with which posterity has credited him—who did?

There are thousands of persons who believe whole-heartedly that he did not write them. But there unanimity ends. On the point of authorship this bloc of "anti-Stratfordians" splits into four main groups.

One society believes that Shakespeare was the nom de plume of Roger Manners, Earl of Rutland. They base their case mainly on the fact that Rutland was well educated, conversant with the source books of the Shakespeare plays, a Cambridge graduate and widely traveled. In other words, he could have written the classics had he also been a genius, but there is not much tending to prove that he was.

Another group plumps for Edward de Vere, 17th Earl of Oxford, because one of the sonnets uses the phrase "fore the canopy". Bearing the canopy at coronations is the hereditary privilege of the De Veres. The weakness of this case is that Oxford died in 1604 and the plays kept appearing for nineteen years thereafter.

Still another club boasts William Stanley, Earl of Derby. Derby did write some pretty verse and there is extant a letter describing him as busily composing comedies "for the players."

But the strongest, or at least the most voluminous, case is that made out by the flourishing Bacon Society for Sir Francis Bacon, Viscount St. Albans. This is the oldest and largest of the literary groups dedicated to proving that Stratford's Shakespeare was the benefactor of a colossal case of mistaken identity—an ignorant actor whose name coincided with the nom de plume chosen by the greatest writing genius who ever lived.

Because the Bacon theory has the largest number of adherents, many of them famous men and women, I asked Roderick L. Eagle insurance executive and author, to explain why they believed in a name is written on the way the name is written on the plays) and Bacon were the same man.

"There are literally thousands of reasons," Eagle said. "For example, we have traced over 2,000 parallel thoughts in Bacon's Essays and the Shakespearean works. Bacon's notebook in the British Museum has numerous new phrases which show up in the plays. It contains the greeting 'good dawning' which has been found only once since—in 'King Lear.'"

"In the sequence of historical plays the only one 'Shakespeare' missed was Henry VII. How odd that Bacon should have written a that Bacon should have written a. And that it should have taken up the story exactly where the plays left off. Bacon was the great genius of his day, described by contemporaries as 'taking all knowledge for his province.' He alone had the staggering vocabulary—21,000 words—found in the plays. Many of these were

If He Can Shave Balloon Then Student Is Barber

PITTSBURGH (UP)—In the old days a barber got his apprenticeship training by washing shaving mugs and combing hair for a year. Today the business is all science. At the Pennsylvania Institute of Barbering, the barbers of tomorrow are taught bacteriology, anatomy of the upper body, and scientific manipulation of the head and face muscles. The course lasts nine months for "the best barber training available."

The school "breaks in" student barbers on balloons. If a man can "shave" a balloon he is considered ready to start on human faces.

Many physically-handicapped war veterans are attending the school. They are provided with specially-designed movable stools which are attached to the ordinary chair.

Back-Stage Behind the Curtains
 ... in every organized business, large or small, there is a mass of preparation, work, skill, experience and expense before any thought can be given to profits from the finished product. For example, the cost of typing a 100-page abstract is a trifle compared to that of assembling, classifying and posting the records day after day in preparation for your next order. The abstract, therefore, can't be cheap like dirt, but always there is the element of safety and a saving in including it in every real estate transaction.

Golf Pros On Scooters Set Speed Record

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—Herb Bash, golf pro and owner of the Berwick Golf Club, and Assistant Pro Joe Rath claim a new course record—not in score but in speed.
 The two pros varied the usual three to four-hour tour of the 6,512-yard Berwick course by riding a motor scooter after each shot. Accompanied by five caddies in an automobile, they were timed in 51 minutes, 20 seconds.
 Rath had a three-over-par score of 75, and Bash a 76.

Former Butcher Sighs Over Five Cent Short Ribs

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Just to make you feel worse about high meat prices, Richard J. Marsden, who ran two Los Angeles butcher shops 35 years ago, can remember when they passed out liver and brains for free.
 Now a real estate man, Marsden likes to reminisce about the days when he would "whack off a piece of bologna" to keep little boys from fidgeting while their mothers shopped.
 "Bologna was 10 cents a pound then," he recalled.
 There also was a time that a gang of railroad men came into his shop and bought 20 pounds of short ribs—at five cents a pound—for a barbecue.

Paratroops Stay Together 'Til Time To Jump

SAN JOSE, Cal. (UP)—According to local Army recruiters, chances are that when two boys enlist they want to stick together. About every five minutes, one of them asks: "Are you sure we can stay together?"
 The question got a little wearing to T-Sgt. Wayne F. Amick. He'd heard it four times from two boys who were enlisting in the paratroops. The fifth time Amick cracked:
 "You can stay together all right—until you jump. But you'll have to use separate parachutes."

Japanese To Resume Cultured Pearling Again

KANAZAWA, Japan, (UP)—After five years of inactivity, the cultured pearl industry will again thrive in Nansao Bay.

The Japanese estimate that there are some 10,000,000 mother of pearl imbedded in the sandy bay, which will form the basis of overseas trade for the purchase of needed foodstuffs for Japan.

Raising pearls by artificial means was first begun by the Mikimoto Pearl Co., about 20 years ago. By the time of the outbreak of war the cultured pearl industry developed into a world-wide business.

Mikimoto proposes to increase their own cultured pearl beds by some 1,000,000 tubs under a program to enlarge the industry.

Ten thousand tubs are the equivalent of eight acres.

lath, who is more than a match for him, is meat for many a laugh. Produced by William Jacobs, "Never Say Goodbye" boasts a supporting cast that includes Luella Watson as Mrs. Hamilton, a meddling mother-in-law; S. Z. The film was directed by James V. Kern, who, along with I.A.I. Diamond, contributed the screen play. The original story was written by Ben and Norma Barzman and was adapted for the screen by Lewis R. Foster.

Growth And Care Of The Abelia

The abelia is one of the shrubs selected by the Eastland County Highway Beautification Committee of which Mrs. James Heiton is county chairman and Mrs. Jack Frost is chairman for Eastland, to be planted on the highways. It is a very hardy semi-evergreen and has a profusion of bell shaped late summer flowers varying in color from white to light pink. It will grow in most any soil, but does best in fairly rich soil. It will grow in either sun or shade.

Safest plantings are made from balled and burlaped stock, which is more expensive than the so-called bare root stock. In this locality however, very good results are had if the more reasonably priced bare root stock is planted after there has been a good hard freeze to drive the sap down. Bare rooted plants should be freshly dug, and, if shipped, should be wrapped in peat moss and moist excelsior. Plants should be soaked in water for several hours before planting, and after planting should have the tops cut back severely. It is not unusual for both balled and bare-root stock to lose leaves after transplanting.

Abelias may be planted throughout the dormant season—that is, from the time of the first hard freeze until the time when the spring growing season begins in March.

LANCASTER, O. (UP)—A project started nine years ago has been dedicated to the World War II dead of the city.

Eight hundred young pine trees were set out on a barren hillside east of Lancaster in 1937 by high school graduates to spell out the name "Lancaster" to identify the city to air travelers. The living sign is 400 feet wide.

That Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd above played a highly secret and important role in World War II was disclosed recently when Adm. Chester W. Nimitz presented him with his fourth citation a gold star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit. The famous polar hero disappeared from public notice in 1941 to engage in secret work in both Atlantic and Pacific theaters. This included making an overall strategic plan for the Pacific and secret reconnaissance on whose basis the first Guadalcanal offensive was launched.

Ousted Veteran And Wife Build Their Own Home

MEDFORD, Mass. (UP)—When a landlord told John Zynsky, an army veteran attending Tufts College, and his wife Evelyn that they would have to vacate their apartment they built their own home.
