Legal Action Against Lewis Pending

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Those deer hunters are still reporting on the kill, though this will likely be the last report until they get home in as much as they are coming in tonight.

Three more have been added to the bag with Lewis Godwin bringing down two and M. L. King adding another to make two for him. For wives of the hunters—we read somewhere the other day about a bunch of recipes for varying the use of venison. One of them was venison sausage.

We don't think we'd make a good court judge, particularly a judge of the kind of court where there aren't any jurors to decide the case. We have an idea that our heart would get the better of our judgement to the benefit of the lawless.

It'd be hard for us to hold fast to a judgement when a impatient youngster, hardly out of the cradle, it would seem, got next to our sympathy.

We heard part of a trial in city court the other day that touched that spot. Though the judge was exactly right in his decision—it had to be that way—we have an idea that he, too, found it hard in the case of at least one of the young men, to stand firmly by the law.

And if we're not mistaken, one of the pair is heading for real trouble. If the silliness of his attitude is not erased from his life.

There's nothing that relieves the ugliness of a town like shade trees and shrubs and flowers and we are glad to see the interest being shown in the current planting program.

We do hope that the word "current" can become permanent and that the planting idea will take such a hold that more and more of it will be done.

Personally, we'd like to see some vacant lots, particularly in downtown Ranger, cleaned up and beautified. Shrubs, once started, are very hardy, that is some of them and a little greenery would sure help the looks of some of those spots.

That word "clean up" brings to mind again, the constant clamor for a cleaner Ranger. The move has our vote and though on consideration it doesn't seem practical until a little later, much improvement could be made by the individual taking it upon himself to see that his own backyard is cleaned.

It was suggested Wednesday that Ranger needs an educational campaign on the subject to make the people cleanliness minded. It was brought to our attention, the indifference with which school children toss off trash on the sidewalks of the main street of the town just as if that street were a garbage can.

On the other hand, that same boy or girl that is so careless, probably would get a good tanning if he was as inconsiderate of his own home yard and mama's cleaned up house.

Don't guess a whipping post would be lawful, but some kind of legal rebuke should be used to bring it to the attention of the offenders that there's a proper place for trash.

And the kids aren't the only offenders. This you can tell by the empty cigarette packages, cigar tips and other tell-tale signs along the main street of Ranger.

Yes sir, we could use a little cleaning up.

We've never regarded ourselves as a superior critic of literature but for good reading and the best lesson in practical application of Christianity, The Miracle of The Bells, gets our vote.

If you can read it and not feel called upon to apply your Christianity daily, we've missed our guess. It also has a little lesson in race tolerance.

Half Million Dollar Blast

An explosion in a laundry in Greenville, South Carolina, left this mass of smouldering ruins for the firemen to work over, searching for victims of the blast. Official reports as to the number dead and injured have not been released, but it is thought the total number will be four dead and many injured. (NEA Telephoto).

ELKS LEADER TO SPEAK IN RANGER FRI.

H. K. Hicks, exalted ruler of the Ranger Elks Lodge, announced today that Floyd Ford of Dallas, president of the State Elks Association, will be in Ranger Friday afternoon to deliver the main address at the district meeting here.

The Texas North District of Elks Lodges will hold its session at the Ranger Club Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock and all local Elks are urged to attend.

The regular meeting of the Ranger Lodge will be Friday night as usual.

Hicks stated also that on Sunday, December 1, the annual memorial services will be held at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon with all officers taking their places in the session. The public is invited and urged to attend the memorial service.

PUBLIC WARNED ABOUT MAIL RULES VIOLATIONS

A. E. Crawley, Ranger postmaster, stated today that through the fact that many people have become careless with reference to mailing regulations the post office department has called to his attention some of these regulations and asked that they be more specifically observed.

In order that the public may be refreshed on mailing rules and regulations, Crawley has issued the following statement:

"The Post Office Department has rules and regulations governing all mail matter which exclude some articles from the mails, preparation of articles for mailing, addressing and prepayment of postage, all of which is the mailer's job.

First, it is the desire of the Post Office Department that prohibited matter be kept from the mails, and one of the best ways to accomplish this result is to let our patrons know what material is unmailable, which includes all articles not properly prepared for mailing.

1. Unmailable domestic matter—that is, matter which is not admissible to the United States mails for dispatch or delivery in the United States or in any of its possessions—includes:

2. All matter, illegibly, incorrectly, or insufficiently addressed.
3. Postage not prepaid.
4. Overweight or oversize.
5. Intoxicating beverages.
6. Inflammable matter such as matches, lighter fluid, and other articles likely to cause fire through absorption of moisture, or self-ignition through friction

Court Clerks Get Paid For Reading Such

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UP)—The circuit court clerk in Fayette county took a deep breath before he waded through the following portion of a motion filed with his office.

"Come now the plaintiffs and move the court to require the defendant, Charles C. Childs, to elect which of the alleged inconsistent defenses or causes of action set up in the original answer, counterclaim and cross-petition of the defendant, Charles C. Childs, as amended by his first and second amended counterclaim and cross-petition; that for an alleged trust, either express or implied, alleged in the original answer counterclaim and cross-petition of the defendant, Charles C. Childs, as amended by his first and second amended counterclaim and cross-petition, or that for an alleged agreement to devise, as alleged in the third amended counterclaim and cross-petition of the said defendant, Charles C. Childs."

LIONS GIVE 15 TREES TO AID PROGRAM

Fifteen pecan trees were added to the growing list of trees to be planted in the county-wide planting and beautification program today, when after an appeal from Lion Joe Dennis, the Ranger Lions club voted to contribute 15 trees and gave the PFA chapter and the sponsor, R. R. Thomas, Jr., $50 for the expense of planting the trees.

This makes a total of 27 trees contributed by the two men's clubs the Rotary club having donated 12 at their meeting Wednesday.

Dr. Ross Hodges was in charge of the program at the luncheon held at noon today in the Blue Room of the Gholson Hotel and presented Judge B. W. Patterson of Eastland who spoke on the prison statutes of the United States.

C. B. Rush, principal of Ranger High school, was a guest at the luncheon.

Bumper Crop Of Flowers Brings Sharp Price Drop

CHICAGO (UP)—Flower prices have dropped 10 to 15 per cent in the past three months, according to Hubert J. Wolfe, executive secretary of the Allied Florists' Association of Illinois.

However, he said they are not expected to drop any more, although they still are higher than before the war.

The principal reason for the price drop is that the crop is one of the best in years, Wolfe said.

New varieties of roses are being sold for the first time since the war he said. Of the approximately 24 varieties, Better Times accounts for about 60 per cent of the sales.

The famous American Beauty rose hasn't been sold for several years, Wolfe reported. Like all varieties of flowers, the strain finally lost its vigor after being marketed 30 years, or longer than any other variety ever sold commercially.

URGES FUND FOR CIO WAGE BOOST FIGHT

ATLANTIC CITY. —President Walter P. Reuther of the United Automobile Workers today urged the CIO convention to provide a "war chest of $12,000,000 M" to fight for new wage increases, but he failed to receive support from President Phillip Murray who said that "there is no threat of strikes in the offing."

Both spoke just prior to unanimous adoption of a resolution calling for substantial wage increases to offset a 25 per cent loss in take home pay since April, 1945, despite last winters pay boost.

"We are not running around this nation with a club in our hands intent upon beating the people into a state of submission," Murray said. Some delegates believed this was a reference to the coal walkout called by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, AFL.

Reuther had told the convention—"The CIO says to the Republican party, the reactionary Democrats in the south and the big wall street industrialists gang that we didn't fight the war to go back to a depression."

Uses For Tough Parts of Venison Are Suggested

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. —(UP)—Opening of deer season in Texas brings to wives of successful hunters the problem of using less tender cuts of venison.

Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, offers venison sausage with its variety of uses as a solution.

The shoulder, neck and lower portion of the ribs when boned make good sausage, says Miss Lawrence. Here are the directions:

Grind the meat, using three parts deer meat to one part of fresh pork fat. If a drier sausage is preferred, use four parts deer meat and one part of pork fat. Season with one and one-third cups of salt and three-fourths of a cup of black pepper to 50 pounds of meat. About three-eighths of a cup of sage may be added to the seasoning mixture. (Three-eighths of a cup equals one-fourth of a cup plus two tablespoons.)

If the sausage is to be kept for sometime, stuff it in a casing of muslin bag, Miss Lawrence suggests. She adds that the sausage may be smoked, depending on family preferences.

Ground venison may be used as any other ground meat . . . in meat loaf, with spaghetti or in chili, for instance. Sometimes even the choice cuts from an odd animal prove difficult to cook tender, and in this event they should be ground. In addition to adding seasoning, add some fat, too, the specialist advises, for venison usually contains insufficient fat.

That is sometimes a reason it remains tough after long cooking.

Deer season east of the Pecos river is from November 16-December 31. West of the Pecos it is November 19-January 4.

ITINERANT CIRCUS MEN HELD FOR THE COUNTY GRAND JURY

Two boys, 18 and 19 years of age, arrested on suspicion of having burglarized a residence on Highway 80, four miles west of Cisco last Saturday, are being held in the Eastland county jail awaiting the action of the County grand jury.

The boys, who signed statements made to Deputy Sheriff Clifford Hoard of Baird, were taken into custody when they attempted to sell a watch alleged to have been taken from the burglarized residence, to a filing station attendant at Baird.

The boys gave their homes as Alabama and said they had been hitchhiking for about two years following a circus.

CHINA BACKS U. S. TROOP PROPOSAL

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. —China today threw its support behind the United States proposal that United Nations members reveal the size of all their armed forces at home and abroad, and denied that the presence of U. S. forces in China had "caused friction."

Ambassador V. K. Wellington Koo was the first speaker before the political and security committee at the United Nations resumed debate on a Soviet proposal to reveal troop dispositions in friendly and former enemy countries.

The Chinese ambassador said that U. S. forces in China "have not interfered in internal affairs, and their presence has not caused any friction or misunderstanding between the forces and the Chinese people."

Koo's statement answered for China the charge by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that American and British troops were interfering in the internal affairs of friendly nations.

Location Of Downed Transport Is Uncertain

PARIS—U. S. Army Air Force officials today withdrew announcement they made a little earlier that a rescue plane had located the American transport which crashed landed in the Alps two days ago with 11 persons aboard.

An hour and a half after reporting that a C-47 circling the transport 45 miles west of Turin, USAAF officials said without immediate explanation that they must await further confirmation before they could be positive the downed plane had been found.

Wolves Better Shun Co-Eds Like These

CINCINNATI, O. (UP)—Co-eds at the University of Cincinnati are going to be tough to handle from now on.

Jim Baker, an ex-Marine, is teaching the weaker sex the gentle art of bending bones.

Baker, a former Marine judo champ, has classes in judo at U.C. every Monday.

Baker says women are good judo pupils. He explains that hips are important in judo—and he says that most women have them.

Lewis Remains Silent

WASHINGTON — The government today worked feverishly on legal action to punish John L. Lewis for failure to prevent the walkout of 400,000 soft coal miners.

Federal lawyers planned to present to Judge T. Alan Goldsborough shortly after lunch a formal request that the United Mine Workers AFL, president be held in contempt for defying the jurists injunction against the walkout.

The court after hearing the government's suggestions will decide whether contempt procedure against Lewis shall be civil or criminal.

Probabilities favored civil procedure in which a judge has unlimited power to impose sentences and fines for contempt.

BULLDOGS TO STEPHENVILLE FRIDAY NITE

The Bulldogs travel to Stephenville Friday night for one of the two remaining conference games of the season.

While Ranger is definitely in the district cellar, Stephenville only has one win and one tie to their credit and with a little shaking up of spirit plus some other changes, the Bulldogs could bring home the victory.

Coach Jimmie Marshall has made some changes in the team for starting and he stated that Worth Carlin's position at fullback is an improvement in the offensive of the team.

The starting line-up likely will be as follows: QB, Artreburn; FB, Carlin; RH, Williams; LH, Lanier; C, Heinen; Guards, Langley and Ford; Tackles, Crossley and Balch and ends, Frazier and MacDonald.

Survive 36 Hrs. In Air Bubble

MOSCOW (UP)—Two workers, Bolev and Dimichev, lived 36 hours in an air bubble formed in one of the tubes when a dredge capsized in a heavy storm near Kozomolsk on the Amur River.

Diver Andrei Fomenko finally reached the men, helped them into diving helmets and brought them to the surface.

While miners began leaving the coal pits of the nation in advance of the coal strike, John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers head, presents a lonely picture as he reads a paper in the Carlton Hotel in Washington, D.C. (NEA Telephoto).

Expect Consumer To Get More Sugar By April

WASHINGTON—Reliable government sources said today the basic sugar ration for consumers will be boosted by one third early next spring, probably in April.

At the same time, they said, industrial users such as soft drink and food manufacturers will get a comparable increase.

On the new basis, consumers would get a basic ration of 20 pounds of sugar a year instead of the present allotment.

PROSPECTS FOR POLITICAL HARMONY

It was not surprising that Republican congressmen gave a friendly reception to President Truman's offer of cooperation, his pledge of faith with faith, and his promise to meet good will with good will.

Their chief criticism has been of Mr. Truman as executor of President Roosevelt's legislative legacy, and even more so of Mr. Truman as the political ally of leftist liberals and of the powerful labor leaders who gave Mr. Roosevelt such strong support.

So the possibility of Capitol-White House harmony, which seems so hopeful right now, may hinge on a possible change of the President's attitudes and sympathies as a result of recent elections.

Mr. Truman committed himself to carry on the program and preserve the tradition of the Roosevelt Administration when he took office a year and a half ago.

Largely for that reason the labor leaders who supported Mr. Roosevelt have stuck to Mr. Truman. And Mr. Truman has stuck to them. For, until Nov. 5, those labor leaders—especially those connected with the PAC—headed a politically powerful group that he could not afford to offend.

So today Mr. Truman is largely free to withstand political pressure from a badly beaten PAC, if he is so inclined. He is largely free to propose legislation according to his own convictions with less regard for political expediency.

These are among the factors which will weigh heavily in determining Mr. Truman's choice of action. That choice will decide more than anything else whether we have a harmonious or discordant government from now until January, 1949.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Last summer a big Eastern advertising agency put out a full-page piece of copy in the slick-paper magazines, to the effect that everybody should feel sorry for the boss.

The president of this big steel company began at $8 a week. The head of that auto company started out as an office boy. But by dint of honest endeavor and application of his needle he rose to the top, where he now has responsibilities and troubles for which he got no overtime pay—just a lot of free kicking-around by one and all.

What all this suggests is not the usual Horatio Alger line that in this golden land of opportunity anyone can rise to the noble responsibilities of bossism. To reduce it to a complete absurdity, what this suggests is that there should be a union of bosses.

It could seek two bathrooms for every office, the one-hour week, 52 weeks vacation a year—at double time, of course. By way of social security, it could seek free education for all bosses up to age 30, retirement at full pay at age 31, with added old-age benefits at 62.

THIS isn't any crazier than some of the things that are actually coming up in labor negotiations now. A labor union in Washington presenting its demands for a new contract recently came in with a proposal for double-time pay during vacations.

The way they had it figured out was that when a man got a vacation, he usually went away from home. Since this added up to higher expenses all the way round, the worker ought to have more money in order to break even on his vacation.

Things Are Warming Up

CALL ME LIZ

by Rene Ryerson Mart

THE STORY: Red McFan, army pilot, comes home with a chestful of ribbons and a cocky swagger. His old boss offers him a chance to finish school and a part-time job.

Monday morning Red started to work in the laboratory. The first Elise knew about it was when Russel brought him in and said smilingly, "Well, here's your new helper."

"Just mornings," Russel explained. "Red is slated for a job in the new plant. We want him to work here and get in touch with what we're doing, while he's going to school."

"Oh, I see," Elise purposely busied herself at her work for a moment while she got herself in hand. She didn't think she was going to like working with Red McFan.

"I'm sure that will be all right," she said. "When do you start?" "Right now," Red said.

He hadn't, however, missed the look on her face when Russel broke the news to her. He waited until Russ was out of ear shot and said smartly, "I don't bite."

itself deeply on your mind. Try not just to remember the incident as you write about it, but try to relive it. Recapture the way you felt at the time.

He made two or three attempts to start writing and then he threw down his pen in disgust. He got up and walked back and forth across the room.

Suddenly something clicked in his mind. He could remember things to write about all right. Plenty of things without going back to his childhood.

He sat down and began to write. He wrote rapidly remembering the incident vividly. An early morning mission over Italy. A clear morning. Visibility unlimited.

Venice under his left wing. As calm and serene down there that morning as if he were a million miles away. The dark Adriatic and the sun coming up over the mountains of Yugoslavia.

The break into the coast and the target. Test your guns. And now the flak, the little black flowers of death. Blossoming in the morning sky. Roll up and over and dive down. Down. Doing 450 miles an hour. Release bombs.

And then miraculously the open sky again. It expressed what he had seen and felt that morning. But it wasn't written according to good English form.

He could see the stiff old English prof going over it. Picking it to pieces. Marking the pages black with undercorrected errors.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

HONOLULU—(NEA)—Like all great fighters before him, Joe Louis is stagetruck.

His four-round exhibition with Cleo Everett, which featured the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the opening of Honolulu Stadium, was one of only two the champion will make before returning to New York to show himself about the Harlem restaurant bearing his name until Christmas.

Much against his wishes, manager Marshall Miles canceled a rich appointment in Mexico City because it conflicted with Louis' wife business and a six-week theatrical tour starting Dec. 26.

The tremendous success of his appearance in Honolulu made it perfectly clear to Louis that Miles has the correct slant when he argues that the champion could make many times as much money boxing exhibitions with one 25th of the work he will have to do as the star of a unit known as a package show, which includes a band and the Brown Bomber's straight man, Leonard Reed.

Following a whirl with a dance band and theatrical stands in Los Angeles and Seattle last December, Louis said never again. But the stage again proves too alluring.

Louis easily could earn 10 times more boxing an exhibition once a week than he can as an actor in the same period appearing five and six times nightly, which he has to do as a Thespian.

Louis' somber pan is to be smothered with grease paint once more against the advice of ex-Buffalo dairyman Miles. But it was no violent protest. Little Marshall will be back where he belongs.

CALL ME LIZ

by Rene Myerson Marst Copyright, 1946 NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Red McFar, army pilot, comes home with a chestful of ribbons and a cocky swagger. His old boss offers him a chance to teach school and a part-time job moonlighting, both of which he accepts. Miss Condon, the boss' son, is his closest friend. Miss is in love with Elise Verney, who disdains Red. Red is dismayed to learn that his new job means working under Elise. He ends his schoolwork abruptly.

was supposed to be getting. He told Jackie he could and would. His frown deepened when he hung up. He'd have to buy Jackie a corsage and rent a tuxedo. He hadn't the money to buy one—and probably couldn't buy one if he had the money. He'd been trying to buy other civilian clothes and so far hadn't had much luck.

RED jammed his hands into his pockets and stood staring disconsolately out the window. This school stuff was the bunk. What he wanted was a job. A real man's job. Something he could get his teeth into. And the feeling that he was getting ahead. A chance to get married if he wanted to.

AT the laboratory Elise and Red had declared a sort of unspoken truce. They worked together in silence for the most part, although Red still resented having to take orders from her. Occasionally, however, there would be the clash of open warfare.

He began to laugh. Get married? Who would be marry? There never had been any girl he'd been interested in for more than a date or two. But thinking of marriage and girls brought Jackie Spence to his mind. Not that he thought about her in a serious way. Not that little blonde fluff. But she was fun.

He looked at her. A pink mist of yards and yards of chiffon settled slowly about her silver slippers feet as she came to a stop before him. Red's eyes appreciatively took in the low neckline of the dress and white breast above it. Jackie stared at him—stared at his sport jacket and slacks with unbelieving eyes. "But Red, you have to dress. This is formal."

"I know, honey," Red said. "I couldn't find a tux anywhere. I looked all over town this afternoon."

"But your uniform—" Jackie wailed. "I wanted you to wear your uniform. You look so nice with all those ribbons on your coat." She'd been looking forward to showing him off, savoring the envious glances of sorority sisters.

"Hello—oh, hello, Red," she recognized his voice. "I've been trying to get hold of you. I'd like to see you call me up."

Red's face wore a frown. Society "Reds" weren't his long suit. "But after all why not? This was night of the higher education he recruited at some party. "No, thanks," he said. "I don't think I could stand the excitement of another evening with that Clark dame. Besides I have a date—I'm taking a kid up at State to a formal."

Which reminded him belatedly that he hadn't done anything yet about getting a tuxedo.

IT dawned on Red that Jackie's people probably had money as he waited for her in the living room of the sorority house. There was class all over the place. He noted, period furniture, long mirrors, shaded lamps. She wouldn't be staying in a place like this if they hadn't.

Jackie herself came tripping blithely into the room on the heels of his thought. A pink mist of yards and yards of chiffon settled slowly about her silver slippers feet as she came to a stop before him. Red's eyes appreciatively took in the low neckline of the dress and white breast above it.

Jackie stared at him—stared at his sport jacket and slacks with unbelieving eyes. "But Red, you have to dress. This is formal."

"I know, honey," Red said. "I couldn't find a tux anywhere. I looked all over town this afternoon."

"But your uniform—" Jackie wailed. "I wanted you to wear your uniform. You look so nice with all those ribbons on your coat." She'd been looking forward to showing him off, savoring the envious glances of sorority sisters.

Back-Stage Behind the Curtains
 . . . in every organized business, large or small, there is a mass of preparation, work, skill, experience and expense before any thought can be given to profits from the finished product. For example, the cost of typing a 100-page abstract is a trifle compared to that of assembling, classifying and posting the records day after day in preparation for your next order. The abstract, therefore, can't be cheap like dirt, but always there is the element of safety and a saving in including it in every real estate transaction.

Procedure For On-Job-Training Is Streamlined

James M. Brown, Sr., Contact Representative in charge of the Eastland Texas VA Contact Office, which has jurisdiction over the four-county area of Eastland, Shackelford, Callahan and Stephens, announced today that by making one form do the work of three, the VA has streamlined its procedure and shortened the time to get a veteran in job training or classroom.

Under the new procedure, no file is set up for the veteran until he actually begins work or starts to college. No identifying claims number, which serves the same purpose as his service serial number, is necessary until he actually has entered training.

In some cases, contact representatives may certify the veteran's eligibility if the original discharge certificate is presented.

The former serviceman's application, check sheet showing his length of service and certificate of eligibility have now been confined to a single form, the VA said.

The veteran attaches a certified or photostatic copy of his discharge to his application for training. This is handled by the registration division, which sends the veteran his certificate showing he is eligible for job training or school. These are endorsed by the employer or registrar of the school, returned to the VA, and the veteran is certified for subsistence.

The veteran also is notified by the enrollment section that documents are needed to establish dependency and entitle him to higher subsistence. Meanwhile, the veteran is set up to receive the subsistence he claimed and is given 60 days to send in supporting documents.

Men and women now entering training or education for the first time are given forms on which to report their earnings.

A. D. Modest, Contact Representative from the Eastland Contact Office, comes to Ranger each Saturday morning from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, at the Post Office, and is prepared to assist and advise veterans in making applications for educational benefits and any other benefits administered by the VA.

Famous Violinist To Appear At Hardin-Simmons

ABIENE, Tex. — The concert of Yehudi Menuhin, famous violinist with the "magic bow", at Hardin-Simmons university, Friday evening, November 29 at 8 o'clock is expected to attract music lovers from all towns in this vicinity. Tickets have been placed on sale at the Mackey Company in downtown Abilene and mail orders are being filled at the Hardin-Simmons business office. It was announced by E. W. Ledbetter chairman of the artist course committee.

Menuhin's program, which is designed to please music lovers of this area, will include the Sonata No. 9 in A Major, Opus 47 by Beethoven and the concerto in E Minor, Opus 64 by Mendelssohn and a group of numbers by other well-known composers.

Giving his first public concert at 7, Menuhin played the Mendelssohn concerto with the San Francisco symphony before an audience of 9,000. At 10, he made his Carnegie hall debut.

His success has been so outstanding that one critic wrote: "His magic bow is drawn across the heartstrings of humanity." Other great violinists fascinate their listeners but Menuhin inspires religious feelings in his audiences. There is the hushed atmosphere of the cathedral when he plays."

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UP)—There were shortages back in the good old days, too.

Bucknell University had a dearth of caps and gowns at its first graduation ceremony a century ago. As each graduate received his degree he retired quickly to an adjoining room, where the next candidate donned the same cap and gown.

S. C. SIMONS

Simons Elected Manager of Gas, Oil Association

DALLAS, Tex. — Election of Charles E. Simons of Austin as vice-president and general manager of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association was announced today from association headquarters here by Fred W. Shield, president. Mr. Simons, who will assume his duties Jan. 1, succeeds the late George C. Gibbons.

For the past three and one-half years, Mr. Simons has been executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association. Previously he was editor of Texas Parade, a highway and travel magazine published by the Good Roads Association, and was the association's director of public relations. He directed the recent successful statewide campaign for adoption of the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment which gives Constitutional protection to motor vehicle registration fees and the gasoline tax, and prevents their diversion to non-road purposes. This amendment was approved by a vote of nearly four to one.

Mr. Simons is widely known in Texas newspaper and political circles. He formerly was a member of the Capitol staff of the Associated Press, and also worked for The Dallas News and the International News Service bureaus in Austin. His duties as a newspaperman and later with the Good Roads Association brought him into close contact with the oil industry and its problems.

He was secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee of Texas 1942-44, and was temporary and permanent secretary of the 1944 Democratic conventions in Austin and Dallas. He was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention the same year and supported the candidacy of President Truman for the vice-presidential nomination. Mr. Simons is a member of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association, an associate member of the Highway Research Board, the Texas Press Association and the Austin Rotary Club.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up rights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with astringent and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Civic League Has Meeting Wed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ranger Civic League was held Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce office.

An incomplete report on the membership drive was given by Mrs. L. E. Gray, treasurer and Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall, secretary. A total of 17 new members was reported with four more being added to the meeting.

Mrs. C. A. Strong gave a discussion on suggestions for planting at this time and Mrs. J. Floyd Killingsworth, Ranger chairman for the county-wide planting program, gave a report from that committee.

Members voted to move the place of meeting to the Blue Room of the Gholson hotel and the next regular meeting will be there on December 18.

Mrs. Mary Nichols was named chairman of a committee to select and present to the organization, suitable emblems. Other members of the committee are Mrs. D. G. Lanier and Mrs. Mark E. Huff.

VARIETY OF ITEMS OFFERED WAR VETERANS

FORT WORTH (Special) Nov. 21—Offering veterans of World War II the first "double barreled" buying opportunity since the disposal of surplus property started, War Assets Administration will throw open the doors of the Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot Monday morning, November 25 at 9 a.m.

With an inventory of approximately $2,500,000 worth of surplus war goods, the WAA will offer to veterans only the stock at the Fort Worth Q.M. Depot and in a separate sample room display all of the surplus goods of Camp Bowie at Brownwood, Texas.

This unique sales method, the first ever attempted in this region, will offer veterans their pick of property at two "sit e sales" at the one location and will result in placing in the hands of certified veterans quantities of textiles, including bath towels, sheets, wool blankets, hand soap, comforters, gloves, jackets and other clothing; hardware items and general products, such as razor blades, folding chairs, kitchen tables, sewing kits, kitchen equipment and other household items swell the list to be offered.

Harold S. Gish Chief, of the Veterans Division of WAA in Ft. Worth, today announced that a revolutionary new procedure of admitting veterans to the "site sale" would be in effect and that regardless of date of certification, veterans would be admitted to the sale on a "first come, first served" basis.

He pointed out that this would place all veterans on an equal basis in placing of orders for such items as may be in short supply. Gish further emphasized that there would be no certificates issued at the Ft. Worth Q.M. Depot and that veterans desiring certification should make application at the WAA regional certifying office, T&P building, Ft. Worth.

Veterans will have the first 5 buying days of the sale for exclusive selection and purchase, Nov. 25, 26, 27, 29 and Dec. 2. The sale will not be open Thanksgiving Day or Saturday and Sunday.

RFC, "Buying for small business, will purchase Dec. 3, state and local governments Dec. 4, non-profit institutions Dec. 5 while commercial dealers, both retail and wholesale, will have buying rights Dec. 6 and 9.

Planted Diamond, Dug Up, But It Didn't Grow Much

MUNICE, Ind. (UP)—Three-year old Tommy Bridges "planted" his mother's engagement ring in the backyard to see if it "grows more diamonds."

He didn't tell his mother where he planted it and she was unable to find it by industrious spading of the grounds.

Mrs. Bridges found her diamond later when she planted vegetables in the garden.
