UN Debate On Franco Ouster Begins

Well... I Dunno, But...

While roving around town the last week we have been impressed with the hundreds of strange people, pushing from store to store, with arms loaded with Christmas wrapped packages.

Some of them we recognize and can place in their respective towns but many others are complete strangers to us.

Several merchants have told us frankly that the flow of shoppers is the result of the paper published last Thursday which was distributed to all of the towns in the trade territory.

We think they are right and again today the paper will be carried and distributed to these towns.

Or maybe its the Christmas lights that have at last been turned on. Several people have called to our attention the fact that the "lights are on". Yep, and we're s'prised glad to see them.

Mrs. Henry Dreinhofer boasts the finest birthday present of all. Her infant son was born on her own birthday, Wednesday, December 11.

Henry was giving the young fellow's birth the double dip this morning. He not only had a big box of cigars but had along with it a big box of candy that he was passing to the ladies.

Galled to our attention today was the fact that a story appearing recently in the Times stated that the iron lung demonstration would be held in Ranger, December 10 and 11. It should have been January 10 and 11.

But that's one we'll have to put on somebody else. H. R. Hicks must have had some other one of his irons in the fire in mind when he told us about the demonstration.

Within the last three days 2.72 inches of rain have fallen compared with an inch and three tenths of being as much as fell in all of November and being 2.13 inches more than fell in October.

Temperatures haven't dropped much, as compared with the last 24 hours but the northwest wind this morning was pretty cutting.

The long awaited night is at hand and the local talent will be presented in a home talent show tonight at the Recreation building beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The event is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club and Rotary Club, for the purpose of raising funds for the livestock show barn at the Round-Up grounds.

Tickets will be 50c for adults and 25c for children.

Now just what some of the numbers are to be, is uncertain. At least they have been shrouded in mystery during the period of publicity, but inside whispering has it that they are to be good.

The program will present a variety of talent including music and dancing. The mystery man, Dr. PDQ is slated for an appearance and an ad appearing in this paper Wednesday hinted that the old boy is something of an intellectual with an ability to read the inner person.

Too, we understand that Jaycee themselves are cooking up a little act that promises to be a howl.

To be it all and all, it sounds like something that we wouldn't miss and we have an idea that the rest of the people will want to be there, too.

Army Gets 'Battlewagon'

Among new armored monsters being delivered to the U. S. Army is this new tank-type battlewagon, developed by Chrysler Corp. The 63-ton vehicle can be made ready for action in five minutes by backing up and ramming its spade trail into the ground to resist recoil. It's pictured with eight-inch rifle, through whose 35-foot, nine-inch barrel a 240-pound shell can be hurled 27 miles. The rifle is interchangeable with a 10-inch howitzer which shoots 360-pound shell 16 miles.

SOVIET SLASHES SPENDING TO SWELL WORKERS' POOL

MOSCOW (UP) — Russia has begun to slash its administrative spending and streamline its government.

The objective is two-fold: to reduce expenditures and, by combing out unneeded personnel, swell the number of workers available to industry, commerce and agriculture.

This intention, and its scope, was first outlined during the October meeting of the Supreme Soviet by Minister of Finance Arseni G. Zverev and echoed during the three-day session by other ministers and deputies.

"The ministries and administrative apparatus most economize most strictly in spending money on the administrative apparatus," Zverev said. "However, it still can be seen that non-productive expenses are made, especially for the upkeep of a swollen network of supply and selling offices, of various factory representations, etc."

"Serious attention must be given to the abolition of unnecessary institutions and organizations, to the correction of the structure and staffs and to the maximum economy in administrative expenses."

Within two weeks of Zverev's announcement, the dismissal of I. M. Slatin, vice minister of technical cultures for the entire USSR pointed up the sincerity of the intentions.

The Ministry of State Control's investigators had found that Slatin, instead of reducing his department's expenditures, had hired 46 more persons and, to prevent liquidation of unfilled posts, had promoted ten persons from low-paid to high-paid posts.

Seriousness of this crime was emphasized by Pravda's reference to it as "deceit of the state."

Pravda editorialized that the government's economy plans were meeting with "inertness and bureaucratic resistance" on the part of some department heads who were "helping on more sectors, departments, administrations" and surrounding themselves with a mass of assistants, secretaries, typists.

"The swelling of the administrative apparatus... complicates the work of the apparatus itself and makes it clumsy and expensive," said Pravda.

It had pointed out earlier that "to increase the personnel of industry and the number of workers who are directly producing things of material value, it is necessary to try to decrease the personnel of service. This is one of the big reserves for multiplying the socialist work."

The newspaper cited as particularly bad examples the Commissariat of Post and Telegraph's retention for more than a year after the war of a strictly war-time department which ate up 2,500,000 rubles in unnecessary expenses, and the Moscow building trusts, which did not reduce their staff of 1,910 persons, although their allotted work was cut by half.

Strike Delays Declaring End Of World War II

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman said today that the recent soft coal strike had made it possible to declare World War II formally at an end now.

Mr. Truman told his news conference his study of the question of ending the war formally was proceeding as it had for some time. He said he thought if it had not been for recent strikes, he might have been able by now to have declared the war at an end.

R. R. HERRING SPEAKER AT ROTARY MEET

Dr. P. M. Kuykendall was in charge of the program at the meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday and presented Mayor Robert Ray Herring of Breckenridge who spoke on the labor situation.

Mayor Herring stated that it is a known fact that the miners unions and seamen's unions are more or less Communist and that four men within their ranks have been in Russia in the last 4 years studying methods of the Russians. He branched his talk out to indicated optimism over the prospects of industrial development in Texas and stated that it is the opinion of bankers that a recession in big business will be felt from about June 1947 through January 1948 but no general depression is anticipated for the near future.

Mr. Truman named Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming to head the new agency for housing. Fleming will continue to serve also as federal works administrator.

Consolidated into the new agency were the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, the Office of Price Administration, the Civilian Production Administration and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

Mr. Truman named Frank Creedon to succeed Wilson W. Wyatt as housing expediter. Wyatt resigned because he felt he was not getting enough White House support.

Mr. Truman declined to make any statement on housing pending a conference this afternoon, but he did discount reports that an increase in rent ceilings was in immediate prospect.

Blum Elected New Premier Of French Regime

PARIS — Leon Blum, 74, Socialist leader of France's pre-war popular front regime, today was elected premier of a prospective "crisis government" designed to guide the warring political parties time to put their tangled affairs in order.

The National Assembly gave Blum 575 of 590 votes cast. The remainder were scattered inconspicuously.

The election was a stopgap measure designed to meet the urgent need of a government which could handle increasingly grave domestic and international problems. France has had no government since Premier Georges Bidault resigned Nov. 28 to make way for reorganization in keeping with election returns.

Briefly the plot of the story evolves around a newsman who has been given the green light by the chief of police to clean up crime elements in the town. He manages to stir up such suspicion between the two crooked factions that they expose themselves and the town is redeemed.

Proceeds from the show will be used to purchase police uniforms for the force and is an annual affair through the courtesy of B. E. Garner, local manager of Interstate theatres.

Police Benefit Show Tickets Still On Sale

Tickets are still on sale for the police benefit show which will be shown at the Arcadia theatre Friday night beginning at 11:15 o'clock.

The picture booked for the show is entitled Traffic In Crime and was recently shown before the Department of Public Safety employees at Austin.

Falling Brick Wall Kills And Injures Many

NEW YORK — The brick wall of a flaming ice house crashed upon an adjoining tenement house here early today killing or injuring a majority of the 92 persons who lived in the six story building which residents said had been condemned "years ago."

While firemen and police emergency squads searched through debris in an effort to reach at least 30 persons still missing, a preliminary check showed eight dead, at least 25 injured. It appeared that almost all those still in the ruined brick building were injured or dead.

Republicans Get Support Against Closed Shop

WASHINGTON (UP) — Congressional Republicans won the support of an influential southern Democrat today for any campaign to outlaw the closed union shop and industry-wide bargaining.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D., Va., said the new Congress should abolish both "to prevent one-man control of the essentials of life."

He said, however, that he would oppose the GOP tax reduction program until the budget is balanced through reduced federal spending. Some Republicans are talking of income tax cuts as high as 20 per cent.

No Trick at All CHICAGO (UP) — Burglars who couldn't open the 350-pound safe at the Broadway Chevrolet Co., weren't stumped. They stole a new half-ton truck, loaded the safe on it, and drove away.

NEW OFFICE SET UP TO OUST OTHERS

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman today set up the "Office of Temporary Controls" to take over the functions of most of the remaining federal war agencies, except for housing.

Mr. Truman named Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming to head the new agency. Fleming will continue to serve also as federal works administrator.

Consolidated into the new agency were the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, the Office of Price Administration, the Civilian Production Administration and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

TRIBUTE PAID WAR DEAD AT TREE SERVICE

In memorial services held Wednesday afternoon in the High School auditorium fitting tribute was paid to the men who gave their lives in World War II, when trees to be planted in their memory in Memorial park were dedicated to their purpose.

Dr. G. C. Boswell presided. Rev. David C. Ham who was master of ceremonies and who had been instrumental in arranging the program.

Mayor J. J. Kelly spoke on the tree planting program as a living memorial to those who died in the war and to others who fought in the war.

A prayer for a soldier was read by O. G. Lanier and Coy Sims sang My Buddy, favorite World War I song.

Rev. Ham read Kipling's Recessional and the roll call was read by Rev. Jasper C. Massegee. Rev. Claude P. Jones gave the dedicatory prayer after which taps were sounded.

A large crowd was present for the service which had been arranged by a committee in connection with the county-wide memorial planting program. Gold Star mothers and wives participated in the program.

NO ACREAGE CONTROL ON '47 PEANUTS

T. C. Wylie stated today that according to latest information received there will not be any peanut marketing quotas nor will there be any farm acreage allotments for peanuts in the year 1947.

This results from action taken by Congress in July, 1946 when the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 was amended. The action resulted from the fact that there is a shortage of high protein foods and feeds and fats and oils.

"This means", Wylie stated, "that anybody can plant any amount of peanuts that he wishes and there will be no price discrimination because of quotas as in the past." Wylie did say that indications are that peanuts will not bring as much per ton as for the past several years. At the present they are selling for $191.00 a ton as compared with $205.00 a ton in August. With seven months yet to go before the 1947 price will be established, Wylie explained, that there is quite a margin for allowing a further drop.

High School Cagers To Open Season Friday

Ranger High School cagers will open their season Friday night when they meet the Gorman team in a game at the Recreation building at 7:30 o'clock.

A double-header is scheduled with a game to be played between the A teams and one between the B teams.

Starters for Ranger will likely be Junior Arterburn, Don Ford, Jerry Gray, J. G. Wright and Howard Frazier, all of whom played on the team last year.

OPERATOR STRIKE

WASHINGTON (UP) — Some Washington telephone operators went on an unexpected strike today.

Administration Ducks Out On CIO Wage Report

WASHINGTON (UP) — The administration ducked for a neutral corner today in the controversy over a CIO-sponsored report claiming industry can raise wages 25 per cent without boosting prices.

Officials said the government would be only an interested observer until it could be ascertained whether the CIO wage drive would be settled peacefully through bargaining or erupt into another round of strikes in the steel, auto, or other important industries.

BRITAIN ASKS WORLD ARMS CONFERENCE

UNITED NATIONS HALL, Flushing, N. Y. — Great Britain urged today the calling of a world wide disarmament conference within the next six months to consider steps for scaling down world armaments and providing international safeguards for the atomic bomb.

A Canadian proposal that a special session of the UN General Assembly be summoned to consider specific disarmament proposals drafted by the Security Council was approved by the disarmament subcommittee by a 19 to 8 vote.

The proposal, if confirmed by the UN General Assembly, would constitute, in effect, a special United Nations disarmament conference.

American authoritative sources made clear that this country will fight any move for an immediate census of world armaments. This proposal, demanded by Russia, would enable international inspection agencies to visit this country to verify the extent of the U. S. A-bomb stockpile.

Drafting Tables Alloted Ranger Junior College

Dr. G. C. Boswell has been notified by the Federal Works Agency in Ft. Worth that Ranger Junior College is being alloted 16 drafting tables to be used in the mechanical drafting department.

It was stated that in the new classroom building to be constructed there will be a special drafting room and other materials have been requested from the agency.

A blue print room will also be included in the building with running water and extra lighting. Slide rules and instruments have been received for the department.

Says Bilbo Got War Job For Mississippi Co.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate war investigating committee today received evidence that Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, D. Miss., specifically recommended Belmont, Miss., company to construct a $2,639,983 army air base. The company got the contract.

The evidence developed as the committee opened hearings on charges that Bilbo received gratuities from contractors he helped obtain government contracts.

Pick A Plump Husband This Professor Urges

BOSTON (UP) — Lady, if he runs to fat, your best bet is to run after him.

That's the advice of Prof. Earnest Hooton, Harvard anthropologist, who believes fat men make the best husbands.

A male with avoidipus usually has an even disposition, a sense of relaxation and a love of mankind, says Hooton.

Hooton also warned womanhood that the "string-bean" type and the "bone and muscle" men are poor bargains in the matrimonial mart.

Russians also are digging for the radioactive ore at Altheide and Dessau.

RECALL OF AMBASSADORS FROM SPAIN IS ASKED FOR

UNITED NATIONS HALL, Flushing, N. Y. — The United Nations General Assembly started off a climactic triple plenary session today with a showdown debate on action designed to oust Generalissimo Francisco Franco as dictator of Spain.

Ambassador V. K. Wellington Koo, assembly vice president sitting in the chair in the absence of President Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, postponed until afternoon a discussion of the veto issue because of the scant attendance at the morning meeting.

When the Assembly convened 42 of the 54 delegations were represented, but there were scores of empty seats. Most of the leading delegates were at the disarmament subcommittee conference in a room a few steps from the Assembly chamber. Spaak was presiding over the disarmament meeting.

Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, supported by Yugoslavia and Venezuela, asked that debate on the Spanish issue be postponed.

His motion was voted down, 21 to 18, and debate started on a resolution adopted by the Assembly's political and security committee calling for UN members to recall their ambassadors and ministers from Madrid.

Then delegations scheduled speeches on the Spanish question, which had been thoroughly thrashed out for days in both the committee and a subcommittee before the compromise resolution debated today was adopted.

MOVING DAY FOR THE UN

The United Nations, like the first United States Congress and millions of subsequent United States tourists, has decided that New York City is a wonderful place to visit, but it would hate to live there.

New York is often accused of being heartless, but let not one suppose that the UN's departure will go unnoticed. New Yorkers are generally proud of the city—not only the natives, but the others, perhaps millions, who have long since shaken the dust of their native Kansas, Ireland, Michigan or Poland from their feet—and they probably feel slightly snubbed at the moment.

Their city, they will tell you, has everything—accessibility, conveniences, color, variety, culture and beauty. Why then, they will ask, was their city passed up for another?

Perhaps, as the UN committee said, the organization just needed more room. Perhaps it was because a Ukrainian delegate got shot in a holdup, or because Britain's Mr. Bevin was booed as resoundingly by a Polo Grounds crowd as he had been one of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who are regularly booed in those precincts.

But we are inclined to credit the UN's departure to the locations in which the delegates, by a particularly capricious chance, found themselves working. The Security Council met on the site of the former World of Tomorrow while the General Assembly convened at Lake Success. Perhaps there were too many disturbing memories in the one case, and a discouraging inability to live up to the name in the other.

It will be recalled that, in the world of day before yesterday, New York set up a world's fair on a parcel of reclaimed Long Island real estate. There visitors were supposed to get a glimpse of the shape of things to come.

But some of the world's nations weren't invited to be a part of the World of Tomorrow, others declined the invitation, and still others packed up and went home early. Those who remained strove, with a friendly but intense nature, to outdo one another in advertising their own particular charms, beauties and accomplishments. The World of Tomorrow, in that world of day before yesterday, definitely didn't promise to be One World.

As for Lake Success, it is enough to say that the Assembly, for all its accomplishments, didn't quite achieve a triumph of unanimity consistent with the promising title of its locale.

Dam Helps But Drainage System Has Other Faults

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (UP)—San Antonio residents are repeatedly reminded that Olmos Dam, constructed after the disastrous flood of 1921, has saved them from the terror of high water. But here are other aspects of the San Antonio water drainage system which are not so pleasant.

The dam held water back early in September after heavy downpours, but many streets were a wash from heavy rains and several lives were lost. Recently, an estimated four to five inch rain northwest of the city sent water rushing into the city. The flood backed up to a height of 18 1/2 feet behind the dam.

The Armistice Day weekend flash flood carried away a car in which three high school students were returning home. Gilbert Falbo, 160-pound Jefferson High School junior, rescued his date, 16 year old Kay Johnson, and a friend, J. C. Stroeck, 31. Falbo gained help while the pair clung to trees, later returned them to safety after the arrival of police.

Deputy sheriffs, who had set out warning flares over a basin area, were inclined to feel that some San Antonians had no gratitude. After waters had subsided deputies found that $72 worth of flares, 16 in number, had been required to private collections by acquisitive residents.

city greenhouses, surplus plants and bulbs are given to the city's residents on a first come, first served basis. The practice has gone on for years.

BRITISH NEWSPAPERS GETTING MORE PULP, PRINT SIX PAGES

By Frank Breese
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON (UP)—Most of Britain's newspapers are now 50 per cent bigger than at any time since the blitz, but they still are not quite as large as a small town American daily.

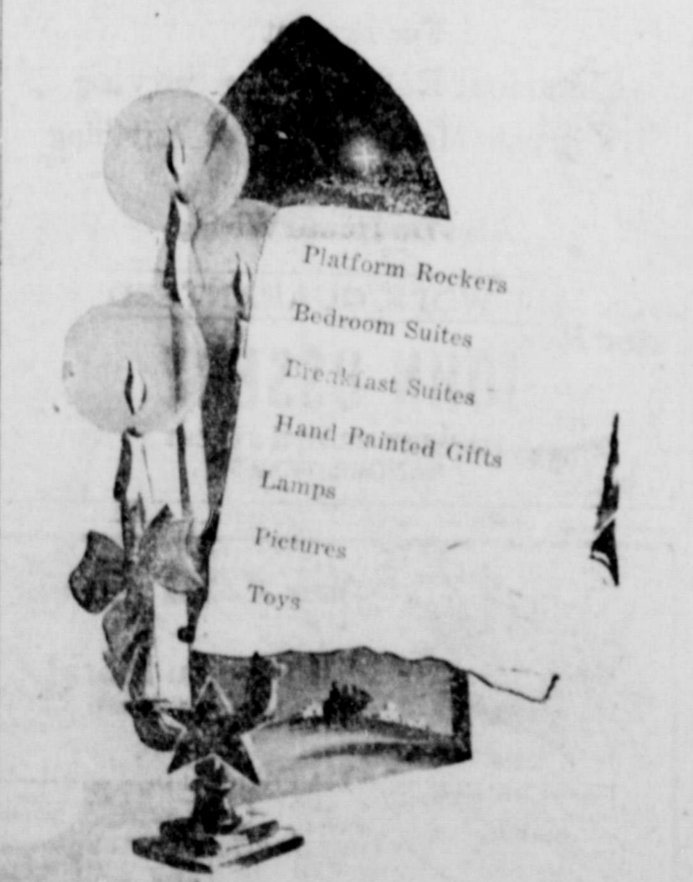

Under the increased newspaper ration authorized in September by the government, four penny papers were enabled to print six page editions three times a week and eight page tabloids went to 12 pages three times a week.

Newspapers which had been compelled to restrict their circulation for 1-2 years now are permitted to print as many copies as their readers will buy.

Most papers immediately devoted their extra ration of space to features, sports and advertising.

MULTI-JET BOMBER MARKS POST-WAR AVIATION SPURT

INGLEWOOD, Cal. (UP) —

North American Aviation is rapidly completing a mammoth multi-jet bomber, the XB-45, which is expected to fly at the Muroc army air test base around the end of this year.

The company during the war produced the famed P-51 Mustang, long-range fighter, and the P-25 Mitchell, medium bomber, used in the first carrier-based raid on Tokyo. Now it also is producing two new jet fighter planes. They are the XFJ-1, expected to be the Navy's fastest plane and the XP-86, for the Army.

Design details on all these planes have been restricted information thus far, but as for the XB-45 it can be said the plane will dwarf the Douglas XB-43, this country's first jet bomber. A 400-mile-an-hour twin-jet experimental craft, the XB-43 was a conversion of Douglas' Mixmaster with an 800-mile range and a bomb capacity said to equal that of the Consolidated B-24 Liberator.

The company is working on a considerable production order of P-82's, long-range fighter escorts dubbed Twin Mustangs because they are essentially Mustangs with two fuselages. North American officials claim a top speed of 475 miles an hour for this plane, which carries two pilots.

Now working on a $170,000,000 military backlog, North American has stayed out of the commercial transport field thus far, but has introduced a new private plane, the four-passenger Navion, for which it has $7,500,000 worth of orders.

Being sold for $6,100 at the factory, the Navion cruises at 150 miles an hour and at that speed has a range of 550 miles. Company officials claim it can be operated as cheaply as some high-priced automobiles. The market so far consists largely of business executives, it was said.

The Navion has been named by some the Mustang's little brother because it somewhat resembles the powerful fighter and is being produced on the same assembly line. Production now is six daily, with hopes of reaching 15 soon.

North American, which began reconversion early dropped from a peak employment of 25,000 in October, 1943 to 9,984 last January, and has now climbed to 8,000.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beehive wood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. ## New Deal Loses Face In Cafes In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (UP) — The

New Deal is out in Cleveland—so far as cafe owners are concerned. In 1933 when FDR took office, there wasn't a single "New Deal Cafe" listed in city telephone books. The following year, three firms had taken the name.

By 1934, nine establishments were known as "New Deal," and the peak of the name's popularity was reached in 1935-36, when 10 cafes called themselves "New Deal."

In 1937, there were seven establishments; in 1938-39, there were only four. The number dwindled to three in 1940, and two in 1941-42.

857, of whom 1,512 are women. By mid-1947 the company hopes to employ 15,000, working largely on military orders. Shortages of various parts have prevented as rapid a postwar employment climb as had been expected.

Don't Be Sorry—Be Safe

... is good, sound advice well worth taking especially in those cases where heavy risks are involved. One of these risks is buying real estate without an abstract. Most buyers in these modern days don't take risks—they get an abstract. Add if the seller is about to convince you that his title is good and you don't need an abstract, better play safe. The abstract, among other things, reveals the condition of the title and is always worth far more than its cost.

U. S. Born GI Resents Being Called Alien

CINCINNATI, O. (UP)—Bob Graff, 21, who served more than two years in the army in the European theater, can't understand what Samuel Sobokin, the United States consul at Birmingham, England, means by calling him an alien.

Graff, who was born in Cincinnati and lived there until he went to the news when he sought permission to bring his English wife and nine-month-old daughter to Cincinnati.

Sobokin's letter informed him that:

"The child was born March 1, 1946, and therefore on that date you had not completed the required five years residence in the United States. (Service abroad in the U. S. Army being considered as residence in the U. S. after attaining the age of 16).

"It appears that your child Patricia Ann has no claim to American citizenship due to the fact that you did not have at the time she was born the requisite number of years' residence in the United States."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Grand American Tradition

The Cuppers had a grand old family reunion last week—for the first time since the war.

Big and little Cuppers came, by car and train, from as far west as Nebraska and as far east as Vermont. They crowded Dee and Jane's house, set up quarters in the barns, or stopped with neighbors—and a jollier gathering you couldn't have imagined!

I was asked to their final Saturday night supper, when they sang old songs, drank beer and cider, reminisced. Dark Cuppers and blonde ones—Vermont accents and Alabama draws—doctors and farmers... all with their differences of taste and politics, yet as close and harmonious in spirit as a group could be.

From where I sit, it's a great American tradition—not just family reunions, but the ability to get along as one harmonious family, regardless of differences of taste—whether it's taste for politics or farming, beer or cider.

11 STATES ENROLLED IN MOVE AGAINST CLOSED SHOP

CHICAGO (UP) — Voters' approval this month of constitutional amendments barring the closed shop in Arizona, Nebraska and South Dakota boosts to 11 the number of states in which union membership is regulated by statute, according to American Municipal Association.

Florida and Arkansas adopted amendments two years ago outlawing the closed shop. Alabama, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Oregon and Wisconsin have similar, less stringent, laws.

The new Arizona amendment specifies that "no person shall be denied the opportunity to obtain or retain employment because of nonmembership in a labor organization, nor shall the state or any subdivision thereof or any corporation, individual or association of any kind enter into any agreement which excludes any person from employment because of nonmembership in a labor organization."

The amendment approved Nov. 5 by Nebraska voters prohibits "denial of employment to any person because of membership or nonmembership" in a union.

The South Dakota closed shop amendment reinforces a state law of similar intent enacted by the 1945 legislature. The law makes persons responsible for closed shop practices subject to penalties of $300 fine and 90 days imprisonment.

Florida's law currently is being contested in the court. Arkansas' amendment does not of itself bar the closed shop, but enables the state legislature to enact such a statute. So far, the legislature has taken no action on the matter.

In Colorado, state law makes the closed shop illegal unless approved by a three-fourth majority of the collective bargaining unit in a state-supervised election. The closed shop is barred in Kansas except when authorized by a majority of the employees voting by secret ballot.

A two-thirds majority approval of employees is necessary to legalize closed shop in Wisconsin. Oregon's law provides maximum penalties for violators of $100 fine and six months in jail, and the Alabama and Louisiana laws specify simply that a worker need not join a union to keep his job.

Slot Machines De Family Wash In 30 Minutes

WACO, Tex. (UP) — Waco housewives are due for increased mechanization.

On Dec. 2 service began in the housewives' answer to the Automat—the Laundromat, which for 35 cents dropped in the slot will do a full-day's washing in 30 minutes.

Owners of the Laundromat, who will install 30 of the machines, said coins in the slot would produce automatically rinsed and cleaned clothes, whether lightly or heavily soiled, or of cotton, wool or synthetic fabrics.

Housewives will content themselves, meanwhile, in a lounge and their children, in a playroom. The machines have been provided a modern-styled, fluorescent-lighted room in which to perform their chores.

The only technical skill required of the housewife will be the setting of a dial for the type of clothes to be laundered and a twist on the starting switch. She

HUGE ARRAY OF STARS IN THRILL OF BRAZIL

The tropical tune-and-talent topper of them all! That's what movie fans are calling "The Thrill of Brazil," Columbia's lavish Latin American musical which comes to the Arcadia Theatre today.

Advance reports on the film have been praising the all-star cast of Evelyn Keyes, Keenan Wynn, Ann Miller, Allyn Joslyn, Tito Guizar, Veloz and Yolanda and Eric Madriguera and his orchestra as well as the outstanding production numbers which rate special attention for excitement and intricacy of design.

Veloz and Yolanda, famous dance team, created a stylized samba just for this film. And for another specialty, Janet Collins dances a Brazilian macumba to the savage beat of tom-toms. It's thrilling voodoo magic!

The music for these startling terpsichorean excursions was written by Allan Roberts and Doris Fisher. It runs through all the South American rhythms and embraces some hot licks of their own.

These musical numbers include: "The Custom House," "Man Is Brother to a Mule" and the finale, "The Thrill of Brazil." Ann Miller is the solo star, assisted by Columbia's talented company of chorus boys and chorines.

There are also two background sambas and rhumbas written by Eric Madriguera, who appears in the film with his orchestra. They are: "Minute Samba" and "Mucho Dinero." Tito Guizar also sings "You Never Say Yes and You Never Say No" composed by Raphael Duchesne.

Competing for high honors in novelty are the colorful sets, the photography and the lighting. Everything was done in sharp and contrasting colors, principally black and white, so that although the film was not made in technicolor, it actually appears to have color.

Director S. Sylvan Simon, borrowed from M-G-M for this film, is a great believer in camera movement. Cameraman Charles Lawton estimated that 95 per cent of the shots were done by use of the crane. He also says that the truck on which the huge camera boom is set, traveled an average of 3 to 4 miles a day.

Sound engineer Jack Haynes also had his problems because of all this movement. In the filming of the picture, he used every mike-boom-man on the lot at one time or another. Some times there were 4 microphones used for the same shot. So fast was the action and camera movement, he said, several times he could scarcely get one mike closed and the next one open before the action was past it.

More dress extras were used consistently than in any film which has come off the Columbia lot for some time. Colorful backgrounds was one of the director's constant demands.

Brazilians, it appears, are particularly critical of Hollywood boners. Not only was a Brazilian adviser, Luis Oliveria, obtained to insure technical perfection, but the script and action were checked by members of the Brazilian Consulate in Los Angeles at the invitation of producer Sidney Biddell.

The job of drafting the screen play for the film was assigned to three of Hollywood's crack writers: Allen Rivkin, Harry Clark, and Devery Freeman.

It all seems to add up to a

The coal crisis and resultant rail embargo have spotlighted speculation on degree to which the nation's railroads are turning to oil and electricity as motive power. Chart above shows number of non-steam locomotives in service early this year on Class I railroads and the great contrast in the number of new ones ordered, as against new steam locomotives. However, railroads still use about 115,000,000 tons of coal annually—over a sixth of normal output.

That Was No Dinosaur, Just A Killer Whale

PAINESVILLE, O. (UP) — That was no pre-historic dinosaur, but only an ordinary killer whale found washed up on the shore near Homer, Alaska, Prof. Ivar Skarland has decided.

Richard Wynman, a student of geology at Cleveland College, read reports that a huge dinosaur, perhaps 1,000,000 years old, had been found preserved in glacial ice. He wrote to the University of Alaska for further information.

Skarland, professor of anthropology at the University of Alaska answered the query, spiking thoroughly the dinosaur rumor. "I investigated the animal in question and found it was an ordinary killer whale, an animal common in Alaskan waters. There was nothing pre-historic about it—in fact, it had been dead only a couple of months," Prof. Skarland wrote.

Records show that the largest whale ever landed weighed 234,999 pounds.

TOTAL DISABILITY INS. AVAILABLE FOR VETS

Veterans Administration today reminded veterans who have National Service Life Insurance they now may be insured against total disability.

Total disability income benefits authorized by recent legislation may be added to any plan NSLI upon application, proof of good health, and payment of an extra premium, A. D. Modisett, local contact representative, said.

Premium rates for the disability coverage range from 6 cents to 94 cents a month per $1,000 of insurance, depending on the insured's age and type of policy.

Disability benefits are at the rate of $5 a month for each $1,000 of insurance and are payable after the veteran has been totally disabled continuously for 6 months or more. The monthly benefits will continue to be paid as long as the insured remains totally disabled. However, the disability must commence before the veteran's 60th birthday.

One of the principal features of the new disability benefits, the VA announced, is that the face value of the veteran's policy will not be reduced by any disability payments that he might receive.

Veterans with service-connected disabilities less than total in degree are not prevented from taking advantage of the new provision, provided they apply for it before Jan. 1, 1950. In these cases, such disabilities are waived if they are the only bar to meeting the health requirements.

Veterans who wish to obtain full information regarding the new disability income feature should contact their nearest VA office.
